first (z) justifies us by faith in his blood: and then purifies our hearts and Consciences towards God. Christ also is King of Peace, Prince of Peace, the true King of Salem. For, (1) He gives to all his Subjects (a) Peace above them, with God, yea though naturally they be inhabitants of Salem, Canaanites, Iebusites, &c. reconciling them to God. (2) He gives (b) peace within them, his peace in their hearts and Consciences passing all understanding. (3) He gives (c) peace round about them, with the whole Creation. The first Adam brake, divided, distracted all things: Christ the last Adam reunites, cements, and reconciles all things. And all powerfully as a King. Thus he prefigured Christs Kingly Office in the Notation of his Name. Partly, In his Royal Act, viz. bringing forth of Bread and Wine, for the refreshing of Abraham and his Army returning from the slaughter of the Kings. 2. His Priesthood, or the Priestly Office of Christ, was typified also in Melchizedek's other office, as he was Priest of the most High God. And this chiefly in two respects. viz. (1) In respect of the Eternity of his Priesthood, Heres no mention of the Birth or Death of Melchizedek's person; nor of the Beginning or End of his Priesthood: Hence Paul saith; (f) being made like unto the Son of God, he abideth a Priest continually. So Christ (g) as a Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek, Hath an Everlasting and unchangeable Priesthood; His Satisfaction and Intercession ever living for us. (2) In respect of the Acts, and therein the Dignity of his Priesthood. viz. 1. Blessing (h) Abraham, that had the Promises. Herein evidencing, that in his Priesthood he was greater then Abraham, and greater then the Levitical Priests of Abrahams race. For without all contradiction, the less is blessed of the better. Thus Christ our great High-Priest (i) blesseth us with all spiritual blessings in Heavenly things. 2. Receiving tithes of Abraham. For Abraham gave him the tenths of all; that is, (k) the tenth of the Spoyls: So Levi being then in Abraham's loyns, paid tithes in Abraham to Melchizedek. Melchizedeks order therefore far excelled the Order of Aaron. Abraham receiving Melchizedeks Spirituals, thought it equal he should reap his Temporals. Thus Christ the true Eternal Priest of Melchizedek's Order, (l) receives Tithes in his Ministers and Preachers of the Gospel, having ordained that they who preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel. This was the Mysterie intended in this type of Melchizedek.

(2) Now this carriage of Melchizedek tended to confirm Gods Covenant with Abraham, as he was a lively Type of both the Person and Office of Christ. viz. 1. Blessing Abraham with all blessings Spiritual and temporal, as Mediatory Priest of the most high God, As God had Covenanted that Abraham should be blessed: 2. Assuring Abraham of a royal Donation of Righteousness and Peace, from himself as the true Mediatory King of Righteousness and Prince of Peace; And presently after this, (m) Abraham's Faith was imputed imputed to him unto righteousnes, and God becomes Abraham's Shield and exceeding great reward; 3. Abiding a Mediatory Priest and King for ever, for the eternal happiness and Salvation of Abraham and his Seed (according to his Covenant) for evermore. Abraham beholding Melchizedek corporally, in him beheld Christ Spiritually, and the accomplishment of Gods Covenant in him. How notably therefore must this needs confirm the Covenant to him!

4. By his own Sacred and inviolable Oath. An Oath for Confirmation is one of the strongest bonds and tyes amongst men. God, to make his Covenant and Promise sure, not only spake it, but sware it: To his word, he added his Oath, when Abraham was now about to offer up his Isaac unto God at his special appointment. (n) And the Angel of the LORD called to Abraham out of Heaven the second time, and said; By my self have I sworn saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son: that in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy Seed as the stars of the Heaven, and as the Sand which is upon the Sea shore; and thy Seed shall possess the gate of his Enemies; And in thy Seed shall all the Nations of the Earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice. This Oath the Psalmist also mentions, saying; (o) Which Covenant he made with Abraham, and his Oath unto Isaac: —— God then Sware his Covenant, not only to Abraham, but also to Isaac. But when to Isaac? Answ. 1. This phrase, And his Oath unto Isaac, may be rendred (thinks (p) Kimchi) de Isaac, Of, or touching Isaac. That the sense may be, And his Oath touching Isaac. viz. touching the blessing of all the Families of the Earth in Abraham's Seed, Christ that should come of Isaac. But this Resolution satisfies not; Partly, Because the Hebrew word לִיִשְׂחָק To Isaac, cannot properly berendred, De Isaac: Partly, because here the Psalmist plainly mentions Gods Covenanting with three distinct generations successively, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. 2. We may better resolve, That Gods Oath was made to Isaac; Either at the same time when God sware to Abraham, (q) Isaac being present with Abraham at Gods Swearing, and the Oath being in some sort intended for both: Or Afterwards when God renewed his Covenant to Isaac, wherein he particularly promised him; (r) And I will perform the Oath which I sware unto Abraham thy Father. And this was virtually and equivalently an Oath to Isaac. This Oath had its principal accomplishment in (s) Jesus Christ, Abrahams primary Seed.

Now, that God added his own Oath for Confirmation of this Covenant, is testified by the Apostle, saying; (t) When God made Promise to Abraham, because he could sware by no greater, he sware by himself, Saying; Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. —— For, men verily swear by the greater, and an Oath for Confirmation is to them an End of all strife. Wherein God willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of Promise the immutability of his Counsel, (ἐμεσίτευσεν ὅρκῳ) he came-between by an Oath, (that is, he came between himself and Abraham with an Oath; Or, between the Promise Promise and performance he put an Oath; that is, He confirmed it by an Oath, as we translate it.) That by two immutable things, (viz. His Promise, and Oath) in which it was impossible for God to lye, we might have a strong Consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us. So then, Gods Oath is the other of the two Immutable things, In which God cannot possibly lye, and (u) wherein he never will repent, or change: whereby his Covenant and Promise is most firmly ratified.

5. By his solemn Symbolical Form of striking Covenant with Abraham. God renewing his Covenant with Abraham after Melchizedek had blessed him, (x) Promised him an heir out of his own bowels; and a numerous Seed like the stars: and to give him Canaan wherein he now was, to inherit it. Whereupon Abraham replyed: (y) Lord GOD, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it? Here Abraham desired some evident Confirmation, for Ensuring Gods Promise of Canaan to him. The Lord condescends to him: and (z) By a Solemn Significative Form or Rite, By sacrifices slain and divided (which was in imitation of this, afterwards used in Confirming Covenants,) he confirms his Covenant and Promises to Abraham and to his Seed. In this Solemnity, 1. God declares his Covenant in Expres terms: How, Abrahams Seed should sojourn and be afflicted in a land not theirs 400. years, and then (God judging that Nation) they should come out with great Substance, and in the fourth generation come again into the land of Canaan, and should possess it from the River of Egypt to the great River Euphrates. But Abraham should go to his fathers in peace, and be buried in a good old age. This the Sum of the Covenant which the Lord strake with Abraham that day. 2. God confirms his Covenant by a Solemn Rite of Covenanting, viz. By An heifer, a Shee-goat, and a Ram, all of three years old, divided in the midst, and the parts laid answerably one over against another, as also by a turtle Dove, and a young pigeon, undivided, but probably laid also one over against the other: by which Division, the divided, torn and afflicted state of Abrahams Seed, especially of Jesus Christ, seem to be implyed: and by the uniform answerableness of part to part, not only the re-union, reviving and Recovery of Abrahams Seed especially of Jesus Christ, but also the exact correspondence and agreement of the Covenanters minds one to another seems to be resembled: Between which parts of the Sacrifices Abraham saw a Furnace of Smoak, and a lamp of fire passing. (a) Calvin thinks, This Lamp of fire was in midst of the Smoaking furnace; two things contrary in appearance, the Darkness of smoak, and brightness of a Lamp; whence Abraham was instructed, & knew that at last light should arise out of darkness. To omit many curiosities and subtilties suggested by Interpreters, I shall propound what (in my judgement) seems the most clear, full and apposite sense intended by these two things, and their passing between the divided pieces of the Sacrifices. (1) By the Smoaking Furnace or Oven, seems to be represented Abraham's

For, ſometimes the Lord is deſcribed by Lamps: He (d) appeared on Mount Sinai at the giving of the Law with lightnings, called Lamps; Chriſt was ſeen (e) by Daniel and John, with his eyes like lamps and flames of fire. Sometimes again, the Deliverance and ſalvation of people is compared to burning lamps; (f) And the ſalvation thereof, as a Lamp that burneth. David thus alludeth; (g) Thou wilt ſave the afflicted people; but wilt bring down high-looks. For thou wilt light my Lamp: the LORD my God will enlighen my darkneſs. (3) By the paſſing of this Smoaking Furnace, and Burning Lamp betwixt theſe pieces, ſeems to be repreſented The mutual conſent of the Covenanters. viz. God on the one part, Abraham and his afflicted Seed on the other. For the Covenanting parties were wont to paſs between the parts of Sacrifices, divided, as joyntly incloſed in the Bowels of thoſe Sacrifices, to teſtifie their mutual Conſent. Whereby alſo they did imply an imprecation, that themſelves might be deſtroyed and cut in pieces like thoſe beaſts, if they ſhould perfidiouſly break and violate their Covenant. This Ceremony is clearly intimated in that of (h) Jeremiah: diligently peruſe that teſtimony.

1. By the Sacrament of Circumciſion. (q) When Abraham was now

99. years old, The Lord renewed his Covenant with him, 1. Enlarging it by divers eminent Additional Promises; and 2. Confirming it by Circumcision: Saying, (r) This is my Covenant which ye shall keep between me, and you, and thy Seed after thee; Every man-child among you shall be circumcised. And ye shall Circumcise the flesh of your fore-skin; and it shall be a Token of the Covenant betwixt me and you. And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, every man-child in your generations; he that is born in the House, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy Seed. He that is born in thy House, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be Circumcised: and my Covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting Covenant. And the uncircumcised man-child, whose flesh of his fore-skin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people: He hath broken my Covenant. Here is the solemn Institution, and first mention of Circumcision, long before Moses and the Law: and it continued in the Church till Christs Ascension, when he gave Commission to disciple all Nations, baptizing them, &c. Let me open briefly, 1. What Circumcision was. 2. How it Confirmed Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed.

(r) Gen. 17. 9. to 15.

(1) What Circumcision was. 1. In General, the Nature of Circumcision may be thus described; (s) Circumcision was the First initiating Ordinary Sacrament instituted by God, from Abraham till Christ: which, by cutting off the flesh of the fore-skin in the males of eight daies old, Confirmed Gods Covenant of Faith with Abraham and his Seed, assuring them of the Cutting off from their hearts the guilt and filth of sin through Christ the Promised Seed; of Gods accepting them as his Church and Covenant-people distinct from all other people, and of their inheritance in Canaan, yea in Heaven itself; obliging them to Faith; Obedience, Integrity, and being Gods Covenant-people. 2. More Particularly, The Nature of Circumcision may be set forth by the 1 Efficient, 2 Matter, 3 Form, and 4 End thereof.

(s) Circumcision described, and the description explained.

The Efficient, or Author of it, was God alone. Hence God cals it, (t) My Covenant. God alone the Author of the Covenant, hath authority to ordain Signs and Seals for Confirmation of his Covenant, and to institute the Ordinances of his own worship. The (u) time of this Institution was when Abraham was 99. years old, at renewing his Covenant with him and his Seed.

(t) Gen. 17. 9, 10. &c.

(u) Gen. 17. 1. &c.

The Matter of it, is twofold, as in all Sacraments. viz. 1. Outward and visible; The (x) Circumcision of the flesh of the fore-skin of the males at eight days old. The flesh of the Generative part. The females, originally descending from the Males, were reputed circumcised in the Males. 2. Inward and invisible; The (y) Circumcision of the heart by Jesus Christ the blessed Seed, cutting off the Filth and Guilt of Sin by Regeneration and Justification. This is Christs Circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the Sins of the flesh. These sins the Scripture cals the fore-skins of the Heart: and the putting them off, Circumcision cision in the Spirit. God would be the Prime Agent: his people must be Patients in this Heart-Circumcision. And being once fundamentally circumcised by God in Christ, they being acted by God, must afterwards act with God, for the perfecting of this inward Circumcision. The inward Heart-Circumcision is the Immediate Mysterie intended by Circumcision: But Mediately therein are also comprehended and implyed, All the Covenanted Benefits Promised on Gods part, to be made good to Abraham and his Seed; And All the Covenant-Duties imposed upon, or restipulated by them on their part towards God. The subjects receiving Circumcision, were; At present, Abraham and all the Males in his House, free or bond, of what age soever: Afterwards till Christ, all the Males of his Seed of eight daies old. They could not understand, or Apply by Faith, or Profess actually, the Covenant, Sacrament, or the Religion therein contained: yet God of the bounty of his Grace and Love, took not only Abraham, but all his Seed, infants as well as others, into Covenant with himself, as his people; and therefore will have them by Circumcision actually initiated, matriculated and admitted into Covenant-fellowship with himself and his people. The like is to be said, and upon the same or stronger grounds, of admitting the Infants of Gods Covenant-people to Baptism now under the New Testament. Here Infants are actually admitted by God to the Initiating Sacrament: and are never since Prohibited in all the Scripture, expresly, or by any sound Consequence, in Old or New Testament from the Initiating Sacrament; and therefore should now be Baptized as well as then Circumcised.

The Form of it is 1. Outward, Consisting in the Outward manner and Circumstances of administration. 2. Inward, Consisting in the Sacramental union or Relation betwixt the visible action, and the invisible mysterie thereby Represented, by vertue of Gods Institution, and assured to the Circumcised in the due use of Circumcision. This Sacramental Relation stood in three things; viz. 1. In Signifying, as a Sign or visible token. Hence its called, (z) The Sign of Circumcision. And, (a) The token or Sign of the Covenant. 2. In Sealing, as a Mark, Signet or Seal that confirms, distinguisheth, and makes Secret. Hence Circumcision was to Abraham (b) A Seal of the Righteousness of Faith which he had being uncircumcised. 3. In Exhibiting, performing and Convaying the Mysteries Signified and Sealed, as an Instrument, or Instrumental mean ordained for that end. Hence in this sense there is such Relation and Connexion betwixt the Covenant and Circumcision, that Circumcision is more then once called (c) The Covenant, in a Sacramental form of speaking. It assures so fully of all the Mysteries in the Covenant, as if it were the very Covenant it self.

The end of Circumcision, was excellent and Manifold. As, 1. To mind and admonish Abraham and all his ordinary Seed (d) of the Natural Guiltiness, uncleanness, corruption and Sinfulness of their Hearts Hearts and Natures, having need to be cut off and mortified: 2. To Signifie and Seal (a) the putting off the Body of the Sins of the flesh, through Sanctification & Justification by Jesus Christ that should descend of Abraham, a pure Seed, to bless all the believing Seed of Abraham. 3. To be an actual pledge of a (b) Covenant-State with God, in his visible Church, with his Covenant-people. 4. To be a (c) Distinctive Character betwixt Gods Covenant-people, and all other people in the world, who by way of indignity are stiled (d) The Uncircumcised. 5. To assure the Circumcised of all the Benefits of the Covenant promised by God. 6. To (e) Oblige the Circumcised to all Covenant-duties of Faith, obedience, &c. towards God according to Gods ordinances, during the continuance of Circumcision in the Church. Which obligation as to the Ceremony ceased with Circumcision at the death of Christ. 7. Finally, To be, in all these respects, (f) a Token of the Covenant, for ratification and confirmation thereof.

(a) How Circumcision confirmed Gods Covenant towards Abraham and his Seed. This may in great part be apprehended, by what hath been said already of the Nature of Circumcision. But I add, Circumcision confirmed the Covenant; Not Naturally by any Physical or Natural vertue, property, Quality or Operation thereof to that end: But Spiritually and Sacramentally, as a Sacramental pledge annexed positively by God to his Covenant for that purpose. (g) It shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin, and it shall be a Token of the Covenant between me and you. And in this Sacramental Sense it may be said to Confirm Gods Covenant to Abraham and his Seed.

More Generally, 1. As a Signe or (h) Token Signifying the Circumcision of the Heart, and all other benefits of the Covenant, implyed therein, or necessarily annexed thereunto. 2. As a (i) Seal ratifying and sensibly Sealing the same benefits to the Soul. 3. As an (k) Instrumental mean conveying them, as in a channel or Conduit-pipe, to the believer. And all this with respective reference to Gods Covenant-bounty, and their Covenant-Duty respectively. Now Circumcision, thus Signifying, Sealing and exhibiting Covenant-mercies, and obliging to Covenant-Duties, must needs Confirm the Covenant itself to them.

More Particularly, Circumcision Confirmed Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed sundry wales. viz. 1. As a Memorative Sign of Gods Covenant with them: they continually bearing about with them this mark and indelible Character of (l) Circumcision in their flesh for an Everlasting Covenant. 2. As an Instructive, or Teaching Sign, Informing them, (m) Of Mans Natural Malady, (n) the Impurity and uncleanness of mans Nature by Sin, which needed cutting off, and casting away. To this end the Generative part was to be Circumcised. (o) Of the Supernatural Remedy against Sin &c. by (p) Jesus Christ the blessed

As an Obligatory Sign, (y) Obliging and binding the Circumcised to all Covenant-Dutyes imposed upon them, viz. Faith, Obedience, Integrity, and being Gods Covenant-people, and all this, though to the effusion of their blood for him, whom they expected to shed all his blood for them, they having already in obedience to God begun to shed as it were the first-fruits of their blood in Circumcision.

2. By the Sacrament of the Passover. This Sacrament was instituted before the Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai, (z) a little before Israels departure out of Egypt, and was first celebrated on that very night when they went out of Egypt, at the End of 430 years to a day from Gods first Covenant and Promise to Abraham in Ur of the Chaldees. Therefore, though this Sacrament was Ordained in the daies of Moses, yet being Ordained before the Sinai-Covenant was made (a) about three moneths, it cannot belong to the Sinai-Covenant which was not then in being, but must needs be most properly annexed to Gods last Fœderal dispensation foregoing, which was Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed. So then the Passover was added for Confirming of Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed. Not that Abraham, or his more immediate Seed Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, &c. had any benefit at all by this Ordinance; they being dead and gone before its Institution: But his more remote and mediate Seed the children of Israel in Egypt, and all succeeding generations till Christ, had advantage thereby. For the Passover continued in use and force in the Jewish Church from the very night wherein the Israelites went out of Egypt, (b) till the night in which Jesus Christ was betrayed by Judas to be crucified, when Jesus Christ did eat his last Passover, and abrogated it immediately by Instituting the Lords Supper to succeed in its stead, as he had Instituted Baptism to succeed in stead of Circumcision. Here Consider, 1. The Nature of the Passover. 2. How the Passover confirmed Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed.

(1.) The Nature of the Paſsover may be deſcribed, 1. More Generally, thus; The Paſsover was the ſecond Ordinary fixed Sacrament, Inſtituted by God at Iſraels departure out of Egypt, to continue till the Death of Chriſt the true Paſsover: which (by killing a Lamb out of the flock of one years old perfect and without blemiſh, and ſprinkling his bloud upon the lintel and door-poſts of the Iſraelites houſes, and by Circumciſed perſons eating the fleſh thereof roaſted with fire with unleavened bread, and bitter herbs, in a poſture of haſte in the Evening of the fourteenth day of the Moneth Abib yearly, without breaking a bone thereof,) Confirmed Gods Covenant of Faith with Abraham and his Seed: aſſuring them, Of Gods paſsing-over the Houſes of the Iſraelites when the Egyptians ſhould be deſtroyed: of their deliverance on that very night out of the bitter Egyptian bondage, that they might go to poſſeſs their promiſed inheritance of Canaan; Of their ſpiritual deliverance from the moſt bitter bondage of Sin, Death and the Devil, by the bloud of Jeſus Chriſt, the true Paſchal Lamb without ſpot and blemiſh, taken out of the flock of Gods people Iſrael, who ſhould dye for his Elect on the evening of the fourteenth day of the ſame moneth in the evening of the world, without having one bone of his body broken, and be eaten of them by Faith with the unleavened bread of ſincerity and Truth. This large Deſcription is fully laid down in the (c) Inſtitution of the Paſsover; and thereby clearly proved in all the parts thereof. 2. More particularly, Herein note; 1. The Efficient cauſe, or Author of it. 2. The Matter of it. 3. The Form of it. 4. The End of it.

(c) Exod. 12. throughout.

The Efficient Cauſe or Author of the Paſsover was God; who Inſtituted it a little before his people Iſrael's Departure out of Egypt the Houſe of Bondage, and it was Celebrated firſt in the very Evening of their Departure. And ſo to be continued every year on the ſame day of the Moneth by Abraham's Seed till the Suffering and death of Chriſt the true Paſsover, and chief Promiſed Seed.

The Matter of the Paſsover Conſtituting it, was 1. Outward, The Lamb, with all the Additionals and Actions about it. 2. Inward, Chriſt Jeſus (d) The Lamb of God delivering not only his Iſrael from Egyptian bondage, but his Elect eſpecially from their bondage under Sin, &c. by his Death: that he might bring them through this troubleſome world to Heaven, as he brought his people through the wilderneſs to Canaan. This Sign, and Thing Signifyed, may thus be paralleled.

(d) Joh. 1. 29.

1. The Lamb muſt be taken out of the flock.	1. Chriſt the Lamb of God muſt be true man, taken from among men: from Gods flock, Iſrael. Joh. 1. 29. 14. Iſa. 53. 3. 7. Heb. 2. 14. 16.
2. The Lamb perfect and without	2. Chriſt without ſin, holy, without blemish, throughout.

3. The Lamb was slain and roasted with fire.

4. The Lamb was slain in the Evening, or between the two Evenings of the fourteenth day of Abib; that is, about three of the clock after noon before Sunset.

5. Not a bone of the Lamb broken.

6. The Lambs blood was sprinkled on the lintel and two side posts of the door, but not on the threshold.

7. The Lambs blood was sprinkled that the Lord might Pass-over, and spare their Houses from destruction,

8. The Lamb was to be eaten by every family.

9. The whole Lamb was to be Eaten, Head, Body and Furtenance.

10. The Lamb was eaten with unleavened bread.

11. And with bitter herbs.

12. The Lamb was eaten in haste, and [in the habit and posture of pilgrims and travellers; with their loyns harmless and undefiled. 1 Pet. 1. 19. Heb. 4. 15. Isa. 53. 9. Heb. 7. 26.

3. Christ suffered and dyed, enduring Gods scorching wrath for our sins. 1. Cor. 15. 3, 4. Isa. 53. 4, 5, 6, 7. Luke 22. 44.

4. Christ was betrayed in the Evening of the same day of the moneth and Dyed in the Evening of the next Day, about the ninth hour, our third hour, in the evening of the world, Mark 14. 17. 13. and 15. 34, 37. Heb. 9. 26.

5. Not a bone of Christ was broken, Joh. 19. 33, 36.

6. Christs blood is sprinkled upon our hearts and Consciences, and his Obedience imputed to us. But his blood must not be trodden under foot, Heb. 9. 14. and 12. 24. Rom. 5. 18, 19. Heb. 10, 29.

7. Christ Dyed, to deliver us from Sin, Death, and him that had the power of Death, the Devil, Rom. 4. 25. Heb. 9. 26. Rev. 1. 5. Heb. 2. 14, 15.

8. Christ is to be Eaten and applyed by faith particularly by all the Elect, Rom. 1. 17. Joh. 6. 35, 51, 53, to 59.

9. Whole Christ undivided is to be applyed for our full Communion with him, 1 Cor. 1. 13. 30. Gal. 2. 20.

10. Christ must be Eaten, and his Feast Kept, with unleavened bread of Sincerity and Truth, 1 Cor. 5. 7, 8.

11. And with bitter Repentance, and bearing his Cross, Mark 1. 15. Math. 10. 38. Luke 9. 23.

12. Christ must be eaten by Faith of his Elect, as Pilgrims on Earth, pressing forward, and hastening loyns girt, ſhooes on their feet, ſtaves in their hands.

13. In eating of the Lamb, they were by conference to declare one to another their deliverance out of Egypt, the occaſion thereof; ſo inſtructing to thankfulneſs, Exod. 12. 26, 27.

haſtening to a better Countrey in Heaven, Heb. 11. 13, 16. 1 Pet. 2. 11. 2 Pet. 3. 11, 12.

13. In applying and eating Chriſt by Faith, we ſhould not only remember what Chriſt hath done for us in redeeming us from Sin and wrath by his death, as in the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25, 26. but alſo declare it to others, to incite them with our ſelves unto thankfulneſs.

14. No perſons uncircumciſed in fleſh muſt eat of the Paſsover, Exod. 12. 43. 48. No ſtrangers to the Covenant.

14. No perſons uncircumciſed in heart can eat Jeſus Chriſt by Faith, the true paſsover, Joh. 10. 26. and 1. 11, 12, 13.

The Form of the Paſsover was twofold, viz. 1. Inward. viz. that Sacramental union and Relation betwixt the Signs and thing Signifyed, according to the Lords Inſtitution. 2. Outward. viz. that Outward Manner of Celebrating the Paſsover in all the Actions and Circumſtances thereof, moſt of which have been already mentioned. Only note, that there were, 1. Some Actions and Circumſtances Peculiar to the firſt Paſsover in Egypt, 2. Some Actions and circumſtances common to all ſucceeding Sacraments. It would be too tedious to particularize them. The judicious eye will eaſily obſerve them.

The End of the Paſsover was manifold. As, 1. To be a token and Means of (c) preſerving and ſaving of all the Families of Iſrael from Gods revenge and deſtruction, when all the firſt-born in every family of the Egyptians ſhould be deſtroyed with the Peſtilence. 2. To be a laſting (f) Memorial, from age to age, of the Lords delivering of his people Iſrael out of Egypt, by a mighty hand, according to his faithful Covenant and Promiſes to Abraham, to a very day. 3. To be a Mark, and (g) Character of diſtinction, betwixt Gods Iſrael and the Egyptians at the firſt Inſtitution; and (h) betwixt Gods Covenant-people, and all Strangers to his Covenant in all after adminiſtrations. 4. To be a bond and tye to ſacred publique Aſſemblies, obliging the people of Iſrael ſolemnly to obſerve them (i) In the firſt day there ſhall be an holy Convocation, and in the ſeventh day an holy Convocation to you, &c. 5. To be a Sacrament of their Nouriſhment, growth and progreſs in Faith, Love and Obedience. Therefore it was (k) Eaten, and that in a travelling Poſture. But in Circumciſion there was no Eating or Nouriſhment. 6. To be a Singular and lively Type (l) of Jeſus Chriſt, the true Paſsover, to be Sacrificed for his people, in in fulneſs of time, in the end of the world, to ſave them from the wrath of God due for their ſins. 7. To be a ſtrong ([m]) Confirmation of Gods Covenant of Faith made with Abraham and his Seed, in that the promiſe of bringing forth his Seed out of bondage and ſervitude after 430 years was that night accompliſhed, that the Paſſover was firſt celebrated.

(m) Gen. 12. 3. with Gal. 3. 17. & Gen. 15. 13, 14. & Exod. 12. 41.

This in brief was the Nature of the Paſſover.

(2) How the Paſſover Confirmed Gods Covenant made with Abraham and his Seed, is next to be conſidered. And this it did divers ways, As a Sign, Seal, and Inſtrumental mean of Conveyance of Covenanted Benefits, by vertue of Sacramental union and Relation betwixt them, as was noted in Circumciſion. More particularly it Confirmed this Covenant, 1. As a Demonſtrative and inſtructing Sign, teaching Abraham's Seed two things; viz. ([1]) That, now the ([n]) time of their Egyptian ſervitude was expired, and that very night they were all to be fully ſet free. To indigitate this to them, the Paſſover was ordained to be firſt celebrated on that very night, ([2]) That, now they ſhould go towards Canaan to enjoy it for an everlaſting poſſeſſion. And both theſe, ([o]) according to Gods Covenant with Abraham. 2. As a Diſtinctive Sign; ([p]) Diſtinguiſhing betwixt Abraham's bleſſed Seed to be preſerved, and the Egyptians curſed Seed to be deſtroyed. 3. As a Memorative Sign, becoming a memorial ([q]) of Iſraels wonderful deliverance out of Egypt, not only to the preſent, but alſo to all the future Generations of Abraham's Seed: as God had promiſed to Abraham long before. 4. As a Repreſentative Sign, Typifying and ſhadowing out ([r]) the death of Jeſus Chriſt; the Lamb of God, the true Paſſover, which ſhould be Sacrificed in the Evening of the world, for the Salvation of his people from the wrath of God for evermore. By ([ſ]) whoſe death the Covenant or Teſtament of God hath its principal eſtabliſhment.

Thus by the two Ordinary ſtanding Sacraments, Circumciſion and the Paſſover, Gods Covenant to Abraham and his Seed was Confirmed.

7. By the four extraordinary Itinerant Sacraments, viz. 1. The cloudy and fierie Pillar, 2. The Red-Sea, 3. Mannah from Heaven, 4. Water out of the Rock. I call theſe Extraordinary, and Itinerant, or Journey Sacraments, becauſe they were all Miracles and not of ordinary uſe, but only in that extraordinary condition of Iſrael in the Wilderneſs, as they were in their Journey towards the land of Promiſe. The cloudy and fiery pillar was in uſe from their going out of Egypt till they came to Canaan. The Red-Sea was paſſed thorough only once; Mannah continued from the time that all their Proviſion of bread which they brought out of Egypt was ſpent, till they came to eat of the old corn of Canaan; and water out of the Rock was continued to them from the Rock Horeb, till they came to the borders of Canaan. And all theſe were Set on foot before the Sinai-

Covenant, and giving of the Law. And all of them Sacraments, signifying and representing Sacred spiritual mysteries. The two First Answered notably both to Circumcision under the Old Testament, and to Baptism under the New: The two last answered To their Passover, and to our Lords-Supper. (r) All our Fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the Sea: and were all baptized by Moses in the Cloud and in the Sea: And did all eat the same spiritual meat, and did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them, and that Rock was Christ. All of them were singular Miracles. Israel even lived, and was maintained, by Miracles, from Egypt till they came to Canaan: Especially by these seven Miracles in the Wilderness, viz. These four Sacraments, Their (u) Healing by the brazen Serpent, (x) Their feet not Swelling, Their Rayment not waxing old, for forty years together.

View we here a little, 1. The Nature of these four extraordinary Sacraments. 2. Their Confirmation of Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed.

(1) The Nature of them, may be briefly thus laid open, from Scripture;

The cloudy and fiery Pillar is the first of them; and this is (y) first mentioned when Israel had gone two days journeys, and were come to Etham, in the edge of the Wilderness. 1. The Author of it, was peculiarly the LORD; Hence its called, (z) His Cloud. The Minister of it, Moses: They were baptized by Moses in the cloud. 2. The Matter of it, was Extraordinary and Miraculous. For it (a) was a cloud by Day: and a Fire by night. And sometimes one Side of it was a dark cloud, the other side a bright light, at the same time: As when it came between the Camps of the Israelites, and of the Egyptians. 3. The Form of it was Unusual, viz. like a Pillar. Hence, called (b) a Pillar of fire and cloud. Probably this Pillar was of a Pyramidal form, Narrow towards the top, but broad towards the bottom, that it might cover the whole Camp of Israel, and fully enlighten the whole Camp in the night Season. For it is said, (c) He spread a Cloud for a Covering, and fire to enlighten the night. Both the Cloud and fire were spread abroad: and yet still a Pillar. 4. The Posture and Motion of it was Miraculous. It was not driven, as other clouds, to and fro with the wind, but (d) moved in a staid course before Israel night and day: and probably was very neer unto them, not suspended up on high; hence they are said to be (e) baptized in the cloud. And when the Tabernacle was erected, it (f) hung over the Tabernacle more especially, when they were to Go, or rested on the Tabernacle, when they were to rest. 5. The End and use of it was various, and mysterious, viz. (1.) To Guide (2.) and conduct the Israelites night and day, in the way wherein they were to go, through the Wilderness, to the Promised Land of Canaan. The Pillar, Pillar went before them to lead them all along: when it moved, night or day, they moved; when it rested, they rested; what way it turned or twined, they turned. And in the night Season it enlightned their paths, as well as Directed their Motions. After the Tabernacle was erected, (h) the Resting of the pillar upon the Tabernacle commanded their Rest; the taking of it up from the Tabernacle directed their Motion. (i) To guard and Protect them in their journey from injuries; viz. Partly, from the violence of their Enemies, Pharaoh and the Egyptian Armies pursuing them to destroy them, below. Therefore (k) the Pillar that went before Israel, came behind them, interposing betwixt the Israelites and Egyptians, being light to those, but darkness to these. Partly, from the scorching Heat of the Sun above, in the dry and parching Wilderness, that the camp of Israel should not faint and be dissolved with the fervent heat. Therefore God (l) spread a cloud for a Covering. (l) To demonstrate Gods special and peculiar presence with them for their Direction and protection in their journey. This Moses intimateth in his Prayer; (l) They have heard that thou LORD art among this people, that thou LORD art seen face to face, and that thy cloud standeth over them, and that thou goest before them, by day time in a pillar of a cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night. Assoon (m) as the Tabernacle was erected, the Pillar descended upon the Tabernacle, denoting his special presence there, to direct and protect his Tabernacle. (n) To be a Mean wherein sometimes God did speak his will and pleasure to his people. (n) He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar. To Moses he directed his speech; (o) appearing in the pillar of the cloud, standing over the door of the Tabernacle. The Lord often spake to them in a cloud, or out of a cloud. He expressed himself more darkly and obscurely under the Old Testament, but now (p) with open face under the New Testament. (q) To signifie the same thing for Substance to them, that Baptism doth now to us. viz. washing from Sin, and Salvation from the wrath of God, and from the destructive malice of our Spiritual Enemies. (q) Baptism Signifies this Spiritual washing, and Salvation. And they (r) were Baptized in the cloud, and in the Sea: not dipt nor plunged in either, yet probably sprinkled with some drops of both. To denote their Spiritual washing from Sin by Christ, and their Salvation from the heat of Gods wrath, and from the rage of their spiritual Pharaoh and all their enemies by his blood. (6.) To Typifie Jesus Christ unto them in divers regards: viz. 1. In his Person; The Pillar (t) consisted of cloud and fire, a bright and a dark part: So Christs Person (u) consisted of Divinity and Humanity; that Glorious, this cloudy and obscure. As the Lord (x) dwelt in the Pillar: So (x) the fulness of the Godhead dwelt in Christ bodily, or personally. 2. In his Direction and Guidance; The Pillar guided them through the Wilderness to Canaan: So Jesus Christ is (y) the only way to the Father; No man cometh to the Father but by him.

The Prophet foretelling Christs Protection and Salvation of his Church, hath respect to this Pillar, (e) And the LORD will create upon every dwelling place of Mount Sion, and upon her Assemblies, A cloud and smoak by Day, And the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the Glory shall be a defence. Heb. A Covering, or Canopy over it. 4. In his presence with his Church; The Pillar was still present with Israel, went along with them, and the Lord in the Pillar: So Christ is (f) still present with his Churches and Ministers, is in the midst of the Golden Candlesticks, the Churches; and (g) God in Christ is also present with them. 2. The Red-Sea, and Israels safe passing thorough it to escape the fury of Pharaoh's Army, is the Second Extraordinary Sacrament. The History of it is described by Moses. The Mysterie of it is intimated by Paul, saying; (i) They were all baptized by Moses, in the Cloud and in the Sea.

(h) Exod. 14. 15. to the end.
(i) 1 Cor. 10. 1, 2.

The History of it represents it a wonderful Miracle. As, 1. That the Sea should not be frozen, but divided into parts. 2. That it should be divided at Moses lifting up his rod over the Sea. 3. That being divided, Israel should pass thorough the midst of it upon dry-ground, the waters being a wall to them on the right hand and on the left. 4. That at the stretching of Moses hand over the Sea, it should return to its strength, and drown all the Egyptians: The same Sea being Israels Castle and Refuge, but the Egyptians grave.

The Mysterie hereof was excellent, being answerable to Baptism: (k) They were Baptized in the Sea. 1. The Red-Sea saved Israel from temporal destruction and Death: So (l) Baptism signifies our Salvation from Eternal destruction and Death by the blood and merit of Jesus Christ. 2. Israel was saved by the Red-Sea, by first entring into it, as into a Grave, wherein they were in a sort buried; and by ascending afterwards out of it, Rising again as it were out of a Grave: So Baptism signifies our Salvation (m) by being buried with Christ, that we might dye to sin; and by being raised again with Christ, to walk in newness of life. 3. The same Red-Sea that saved Israel, destroyed their Enemies the Egyptians: So the same (n) Death and blood of Christ signified by Baptism, which saves his Elect, destroys all their Enemies. 4. The Red-Sea (o) washed them, probably by drops thereof dashed and sprinkled upon upon them: So the blood of Christ signified by Baptism, (p) washeth and cleanseth from sin and dead works, being sprinkled upon the Conscience. 5. The Red-Sea divided, and therein the Egyptians drowned, became Israels high-way to the Earthly Canaan: So Christs blood divided and separated from his body, represented by Baptism, and thereby our spiritual enemies destroyed, (q) becomes the Elects High-way into the Heavenly Canaan. 6. The Red-Sea in all these regards Typified Christ obscurely: Baptism in all proportionable respects signifies Christ more clearly. 7. The Red-Sea in all former regards Confirmed Gods Covenant to Abraham and his Seed, demonstrating that no enemies, dangers or Impediments whatsoever should hinder them from the promised land; but, notwithstanding all, his promises should be accomplished: So Baptism assures us in Christs blood of the Sureness of Gods New Covenant, according to which we shall against all impediments come safe to the promised Paradise. Thus of the Red-Sea.

3. Mannah was their third extraordinary Sacrament. Note, 1. The History of it. 2. The Mysterie intended in it.

The History of it, is related by Moses. (r) When Israel was now thorough the Red-Sea, and their provisions of bread brought out of Egypt spent, they murmur for bread, as ready to dye for hunger in the Wilderness. Hereupon God (f) Rained Mannah upon them from Heaven for bread, till they came to Canaan, to feed them all along their journey. This Mannah differed much from the Mannah used in Physick.

(f) Exod. 16. 33. Josh. 5. 12.

The Mysterie of it, our Saviour Reveals, (t) whilst he expounds it of himself, that he is the true Bread that came down from Heaven: The Apostle also intimates it, saying; (u) They did all eat of the same Spiritual meat. It was not only Corporal food to nourish their bodies; but also Spiritual food, as a Sacrament of Christ crucified, for nourishing of their Souls. See the Mysterie of it in this ensuing Parallel. 1. Mannah (x) came down from Heaven, from the airy Heavens, out of the clouds; Hence called the Corn of Heaven, and Angels food: Jesus Christ (y) came down out of Heaven, even out of the Highest Heavens of Heavens, from his holy Father. 2. Mannah (z) was round, small, and white like coriander Seed, but full of vertue: So Christ is (a) perfect, and pure, (roundness is a figure of perfection, whiteness an embleme of purity,) and small in his own and others eyes, (b) meek and lowly of heart, counted (c) a worm and not a man, &c. yet (d) full of grace and truth, and all spiritual efficacy. 3. Mannah was (e) given to be food for Israel in the Wilderness till they came to the promised Earthly Canaan: Jesus Christ was sent down from Heaven from the Father, to be (f) bread of life, living food for his Church all along their passage through the Wilderness of this world, till they come to possess the promised Heavenly Canaan. But with this difference; They (g) that did eat Mannah hungred and thirsted again, again, and dyed: but they that eat Chriſt ſhall never totally and finally hunger, nor thirſt, nor dye. 4. Mannah (h) was ſweet and pleaſant to the taſte, like freſh oyl, and like wafers made with Honey: So Chriſt is (i) moſt ſweet and deliciouſly pleaſant to the ſpiritual taſte of his Church and people, that have their ſenſes exerciſed to diſcern betwixt good and evill. 5. Mannah was (k) prepared by baking, &c. to be bread for Iſrael: So Jeſus Chriſt was prepared by ſufferings and Death to be bread of life for his Elect. (l) The bread that I will give, is my fleſh that I will give for the life of the world. 6. Mannah (m) fell round about the Camp of Iſrael daily, and was nowhere elſe to be found: So Jeſus Chriſt is nowhere elſe to be found (n) but in and about the Camp of his Church; all other people are Chriſtleſs; but to his Church he Communicates himſelf continually. 7. Mannah was rained down (o) ſufficiently for all Iſrael, though many hundreds of thouſands, and every perſon of whatſoever age, ſex, Quality or Condition had his proportion: So Jeſus Chriſt is a (p) full proviſion for his whole Church, and ſhe is compleat in him, every member having his proportionable meaſure of his grace, his equal meaſure of his righteouſneſs. 8. Mannah muſt be (q) all eaten every day, and none reſerved till the morrow; for then it bred worms and putrified: So Jeſus Chriſt muſt be actually (r) eaten and applyed by Faith for ſpiritual nouriſhment, without which a bare profeſſion of Chriſt will but prove prejudicial; to them that apply him by faith, he is precious; but to them that apply him not, a rock of offence, and the ſavour of Death. 9. Mannah (s) was not to be found on the Sabbath day; and when they came to the land of reſt, Canaan, it quite ceaſed: So Jeſus Chriſt (t) will ceaſe to Communicate himſelf to his Church in ſuch Ordinances and diſpenſations as he doth now, when his Church ſhall be brought to the Celeſtial Canaan their Eternal reſt, and ſhall keep their everlaſting Sabbath with him in glory; then Chriſt ſhall give up the Kingdom to the Father, and God ſhall immediately be all in all. 10. The (u) Sample of Mannah reſerved in the Golden pot in the Holy of Holies did not corrupt or putrifie at all: So Jeſus Chriſt the hidden Mannah, being ſet in the true Holy of Holies, Heaven it ſelf, (x) is ſubject no more to any ſuffering or Death, but is alive for evermore.

4. Water out of the Rock, was their fourth extraordinary Sacrament. Herein alſo Conſider, 1. The Hiſtory. 2. The Myſterie.

The Hiſtory, thus. Iſrael being furniſhed with bread to ſatisfie hunger, (y) yet wanted water to quench their thirſt in their Wilderneſs-way to Canaan, and therefore murmured: God thereupon tells Moſes, that he would ſtand upon the rock in Horeb, and Moſes with his rod ſhould ſmite the Rock, and water ſhould come out for the people to drink, and it did ſo.

(y) Exod. 17. 2. to 8.

The Myſterie of this was great and excellent. For, Paul ſaith;

(z) 1 Cor. 10. 4.

(z) They did all drink the same spiritual drink, for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them, and that Rock was Christ. View it in this parallel. 1. The well-head, the fountain of these waters, was a Rock, An High Rock, A firm strong Rock, A dry flinty Rock: So Christ, (a) the well-head of all Spiritual blessings, is, An high Rock over all Creatures, and above all dangers; A strong (b) Rock, whereon his Church is built, that the gates of hell shall not prevail against it, and whereupon, as on (c) a Rock of offence, his Enemies shall be dashed in pieces; And a dry Rock, unlikely in the Eye of the world to yield waters of life and Salvation, being as (d) a Root out of a dry ground, having no form, comliness, or desirable beauty. 2. The Rock yielded plenty of waters for all Israel in the dry and parching wilderness, both for cooling and quenching their thirst, and for cleansing their Garments and bodies: So Jesus Christ (e) yields great plenty of his Spirit, Graces, Righteousness, comforts and Spiritual blessings, for his whole Church, throughout this afflicting and barren wilderness of this world, fully to quench and satisfie all the panting and thirsty desires of his people, and to wash away all their sinful impurities. 3. The Rock yielded no water till it was smitten with Moses Rod: So Christ yields not the waters of life and Salvation to his Elect, but (f) as he is smitten by sufferings and death for their sins; the Curse of the Law, the rod of Moses, was laid upon him, that so the blessing of Abraham might come upon them. 4. Not so much Moses his smiting the Rock, as his smiting it at Gods Command, and the Lords presence and power upon the Rock, was that which brought water out of the Rock: So, not so much Christs sufferings, being smitten by the Law, as being smitten (g) according to Gods appointment, and through the presence and power of Divine Grace, sends forth streams of Salvation for his Israel, which become effectual to eternal life. 5. The Rock which yielded waters to Israel, followed Israel, and supplyed them with water not only for that present, but all along the wilderness till they came to Canaan: So Jesus Christ, that (h) followed Israel, and was long after to be revealed in fulness of time, supplies his Church with waters of life so long as they are in the wilderness of this world, till they come to Heaven, so that they shall never totally and finally thirst, or spiritually and eternally dye; the water which he gives them being a well, yea Rivers of waters within them, in their bowels, springing up to eternal life.

Thus of the Nature of these four extraordinary Itinerant Sacraments.

(2) Their Confirmation of Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed may be now more familiarly apprehended. They Confirmed not this Covenant to Abraham in his own person, nor to his more immediate Seed, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, &c. in their persons: for they were dead and buried, before these Sacraments had being. But they Confirmed it, to their more Remote Seed, which were actually delivered out of Egypt, and after sojourned in the wilderness. For, then it was that these four Sacraments were Instituted by the Lord.

Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, these Sacraments Confirmed divers waies; viz.

1. As they Consummated the Redemption of Abraham's Seed out of Egyptian bondage, and the Egyptians destruction. God in his (i) Covenant with Abraham had promised this deliverance to his Seed after 400 years, and withal, this judgement upon the Egyptians. The Israelites were not compleatly delivered, when they marched out of Egypt: nor the Egyptians compleatly destroyed, when their first-born were slain with the Pestilence. For (k) Pharaoh with all his charets, and horsemen, and army, when they had buried their first-born, pursued after Israel, and extreamly distressed them before Piahiroth, viz. the Mouth of the Mountains, by the Red-Sea, where they had no way of escape: The Red-Sea being before them, the Egyptians behind them, Mountains on each hand. Then the LORD by two of these Sacraments, The Pillar and Sea, compleated Israels deliverance, but the Egyptians Destruction. By the pillar (l) he protected Israel, from them, that they came not neer them: And by the Sea, (m) He saved Israel making it an high-way for his Ransomed to pass through; but drowned all the Egyptians following them: making the Sea their Grave, so that they saw them again no more for ever, but only dead upon the shore. Hereby therefore this Covenant was wonderfully ratified: in that the miraculous pillar shall protect, and the divided Sea shall save his Israel, but devour the Egyptians, for the full compleating of his Covenant-Promises.

2. As they removed impediments to the Performance of Gods Covenant and promises to Abraham and his seed; taking them out of the way, that the Covenant might take place. One eminent clause of Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, was; That (n) The Land of Canaan should be given to him and his Seed for an everlasting possession; under which the Eternal inheritance of Heaven was typified and promised. Now when Israel was brought out of Egypt, and were Marching towards Canaan, there were many impediments and difficulties tending to cross, retard and hinder their journey thither, whether we Consider, The Neer way to Canaan, or The way about through the wilderness. I. The neer way to Canaan (o) was through the Land of the Philistins, a strong and warlike Nation: God would not lead them that way, lest the people should see war, and be discouraged. II. The way about through the wilderness had also many Lets and impediments, rendring their passage either impossible, or extreamly difficult: As, the Crossing of the Red-Sea; The uncouthness of the way without Guide,

(n) Gen. 12. 7. & 13, 14, 15. & 15. 18, 19, 20, 21. & 17. 8.

Guide, direction, or inhabitant; The Parching heat of the Sun, enough to make them faint and dye, the wilderneſs being without Harbour or Shelter; The barrenneſs and dryneſs of the wilderneſs, wherein there was neither earing nor harveſt, no food to eat, nor ſcarce any water at all to drink for ſo many hundreds of thouſands: theſe were great impediments, and without removal of them they could never have come to Canaan. All theſe impediments the Lord took out of the way, all theſe Difficulties he facilitated, by theſe four extraordinary Sacraments. 1. By the Pillar of cloud and fire, he not only covered and ſheltred them from the violent Heat of Heaven, but alſo guided them in their way they ſhould go both night and day. 2. By the dividing of the Red-Sea into parts, he removed the impaſſableneſs of the Sea, as well as the danger of the Egyptian Hoſt. 3. By Mannah rained down about their Camps, he gave them Bread to the full for forty years together, though the wilderneſs yielded neither bread nor Corn. 4. By water out of the Rock, he gave them drink throughout the dry and parched deſert, ſo that they were ſtill ſupplyed with a ſtream of water, ſo that neither the fervent Heat of the Sun, nor want of Guidance in the wilderneſs, nor the many waters of the Red-Sea, nor any extremity of Hunger or Thirſt, nor all together, ſhall keep Iſrael out of Canaan, nor Gods Covenant from accompliſhment. Now in removing theſe difficulties and Hinderances to Covenant-performance, theſe four Sacraments did experimentally confirm the infallibility of the Covenant to Abraham's Seed. There was not a year, not a moneth, not a day, for fourty years together, wherein God did not, by all, or ſome of theſe, plainly aſſure them, that Gods Covenant was Sure, Canaan was theirs, and nothing ſhould prevent their promiſed Enjoyment of it in its Seaſon.

3. As they harmoniouſly anſwered the Ordinary fixed Sacraments both of Old, and New Teſtament, viz. Circumciſion and the Paſsover, Baptiſm and the Lords Supper. (1) The cloudy fiery Pillar and Red-Sea had Analogy and proportion with Circumciſion, and Baptiſm. To Baptiſm; For, Iſrael is ſaid to be (p) Baptized in the Cloud, and in the Sea: To Circumciſion alſo conſequentially, becauſe (q) Baptiſm ſucceeded in ſtead of Circumciſion. And all of them were Initiating Sacraments, the firſt Sacraments in Order: yea All of them ſignified the ſame thing for Subſtance, viz. The putting away of the ſinful filth and corruption of the fleſh by the blood and Spirit of Chriſt. (2) The Mannah, and water out of the Rock, had ſweet Analogy with the Paſchal Supper, and The Lords Supper. All of them being Second Sacraments; All of them Nouriſhing Sacraments, tending to growth and progreſs; All of them ſignifying the ſame Spiritual Nouriſhment of the Soul by the body and blood of Chriſt crucified. Having therefore ſuch correſpondence to theſe fixed and Ordinary Sacraments, which which evidently (r) confirmed Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, they also in this sense were Confirmations of the same Covenant.

(r) Rom. 4. 11. Gen. 17 11. 13

4. As they Mysteriously Typified Jesus Christ and his Death. The Pillar, Sea, Mannah and water out of the Rock, were all of them notable Types of Christ crucified, as I have already evidenced. And in this respect they singularly confirmed this Covenant, for as much as Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed(f) was grounded, stablished, and ratified upon, and by Christ crucified. And so I pass to the last way of Gods Confirming this Covenant. viz.

(f) Gal 3.16, 17. Heb. 9. 15,16,17,18. &c.

8. By the Sufferings and Death of Jesus Christ, Implyed and Typifyed observably in this Fœderal Administration, and that many waies. For clearing this, Consider, 1. That the sufferings and Death of Jesus Christ were many waies Implyed, Typifyed and represented in this Expressure of Gods Covenant. 2. That by these sufferings and Death of Christ thus represented, this Covenant was Eminently confirmed.

(1) The Former of these, viz. That The sufferings and Death of Christ, were many waies intimated and adumbrated in this Fœderal Dispensation, may be cleared by Induction of Particulars. As,

1. In the Promises of the Covenant. viz. 1. In the Promises of (t) Blessing all the families of the Earth in Abrahams Seed. This had its accomplishment in Christ, (u) who became a Curse for us upon the Cross, that the blessing of Abraham might come upon the Gentiles, &c. 2. In the Promise of (x) multiplying his Seed as the stars of Heaven, dust of the Earth, and sands of the Sea-shore. This had its chief accomplishment in Christ: who by his Sufferings and death hath begotten a Spiritual Seed, believing in him, and turning to him; and that a very numerous Seed, like the (y) innumerable drops of Deaw from the womb of the morning, (z) when thou shalt make his Soul an offering for sin, he shall see his Seed. —— (a) A Seed shall serve him, it shall be accounnted to the LORD for a Generation. —— All the ends of the world shall remember, and turn unto the LORD, and all the kindreds of the Nations shall worship before thee. This is spoken of, as the fruit of Christs passion there prophetically and pathetically described. 3. In the Promise of making his Seed victorious, (b) possessing the Gates of their Enemies. This was chiefly fulfilled in Jesus Christ, (as Zacharias testifieth,) we being by Christ (c) delivered out of the hands of our Enemies. What Enemies? Sin, Death, the Devil, &c. And how doth Christ deliver us from these spiritual Enemies, and make us victoriously possess their gates? By his sufferings and Death peculiarly. Being (d) made a Sacrifice for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh: (e) By Death, he destroyed him that had the power of Death, that is the Devil: (f) He spoyled Principalities and powers, triumphing triumphing over them openly on the Croſs. 4. In his Promiſe of (s) giving to Abrahams Seed Canaan for an inheritance and land of reſt, into which they were brought by the typical Jeſus. This is chiefly fulfilled in the true Jeſus. (h) who by his own blood entred in once into the Holy place, even Heaven itſelf, that better Countrey, that Heavenly Reſt: having alſo obtained for us boldneſs to enter into the holieſt by the blood of Jeſus, By a new and living way which he hath conſecrated for us, through the veyl, that is to ſay, His fleſh. Canaan was but a Type of Heaven: and Joſhua a type of Jeſus: and Joſhua's bringing them into Canaan, a type of Jeſus his bringing Abraham's Seed into Heaven, which he did by his blood and Death Meritoriouſly. 5. In his Great Promiſe of being a God to Abraham and to his Seed by an Everlaſting Covenant. the Lord becomes a God in Covenant to none but in Jeſus Chriſt, and through his Death, ſatisfying Gods Juſtice for their ſin, and reconciling them to God. When we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son. Contrariwiſe, (i) they that are without Chriſt, are without God in the world.

2. In the Solemn Rite, and Form of Covenanting. viz. By killing of Sacrifices; Dividing them in twain, and the Covenanters in a ſort paſsing between the parts thereof; under the reſemblances of a ſmoaking furnace, and a burning Lamp. The more immediate intent of theſe Solemnities, probably was (as (r) Calvin, and (o) Ainſworth are of opinion) to ſhew, and ſhadow out the future Condition of Abraham's Seed before they ſhould inherit Canaan; they ſhould be as it were ſlain and cut in pieces by afflictions, like thoſe Sacrifices: The Egyptians like thoſe fowls, ſhould light and prey upon them; But as thoſe parts were laid to anſwer one another, capable of being cloſed together again: ſo his diſtracted Seed ſhould at laſt be revived, and reſtored and cloſed together again, &c. The more Mediate and chief intention of theſe things ſeems to be, for Confirmation of Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, by (p) paſſing between ſlain and divided Sacrifices, that they might more holily Coaleſce and be joyned together, being as it were together included in the Sacrifices: which (in my judgement) hath principal reſpect to the torments, rending and death of Chriſt, the Sacrifice of Sacrifices, Abrahams primary Seed, whereby Gods Covenant is ratified irrevocably to Abraham's Seed for Heaven and Salvation. All ſlain Sacrifices, appointed by God, being Types of Chriſt crucified and ſlain.

3. In all the Sacraments Ordinary and extraordinary annexed to this Expreſſure of Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed. The Covenant of Faith in every gradual diſcovery of it, repreſents Chriſt and him as ſuffering and Dying, either expreſly or implicitly. So all the Sacraments annexed to the Covenant primarily lead us to Chriſt and his Death, with the benefits thereof. Chriſt, as ſuffering and Dying for the ſins of his elect, is the very Marrow and Myſterie of all theſe Covenants and Sacraments. In

In Circumcision, blood was shed; foreshadowing Christs shedding his blood for his people, In part, in his Circumcision; In full, in his following sufferings and cruel Death.

In this Passover the Lamb was slain, its blood shed and sprinkled upon the doors of Israelites, its flesh roasted with fire, &c. lively typifying Christ, the Lamb of God, our true Passover Sacrificed for us by death, whose blood was shed that it might be sprinkled upon us for justification and Salvation, whose flesh was as it were roasted and scorched with the fire of Gods wrath for our sins, that he might be bread and nourishment of life for our Souls.

In the Pillar of Cloud and Sea Israel was Baptized: which foretypifyed the spiritual Baptism and washing of their Souls from sin by the blood of Jesus Christ shed for that purpose.

In the Mannah that came down from Heaven, was typified Christ coming down from Heaven as the true bread of God. And he became such bread, (q) by giving his flesh for the life of the world. (q) Ioh. 6. 51.

Finally, In the Water out of the smitten Rock, for quenching his peoples thirst in the wilderness, and washing their bodies and rayment, was shadowed out the streams of blood gushing out of the Rock Christ smitten with sufferings and Death, for quenching his peoples Spiritual thirst, and cleansing their Spirirual filthiness from their Souls and Consciences.

4. In Abraham's (r) Resolved Sacrificing of his Son, his only Son, his beloved Son, Isaac for a Burnt-offering to God, and real offering up the Ram in his stead, was remarkably typifyed (s) Gods incomparable and infinite Love to the world in giving his own Son, his only Son, the dear son of his love in whom his soul was delighted, Jesus Christ, to be sacrificed by bitter sufferings and Death for the sins of his elect, that, believing in him they might not perish, but have everlasting life. Thus the first thing is evident, That the Sufferings and Death of Christ were many waies implyed and adumbrated in this Fœderal administration.

(2) The Latter of these, viz. That by these sufferings and Death of Christ thus represented, this Covenant was eminently confirmed; may be thus evinced.

1. Because, This Covenant is said to be (t) fore-confirmed of God (εἰς Χριστὸν) towards Christ; or unto Christ. That is, so as to have primary respect and tendency to Christ, the chief Seed of Abraham, and establishment in him as Mediator, Surety and foundation of the Covenant; By whose Death (u) as Testator this Covenant should at last be ratified: By whose merit intervening these Covenant-benefits and blessings should be obtained: And by faith in whom these Covenant-mercies should be actually applyed to all Abraham's Seed in Christ. The sufferings and death of Christ being so frequently and notably intimated in this Fœderal dispensation, for this end especially, that thereby this Covenant might receive stronger establishment and Confirmation.

(u) Heb. 9. 15, 16, 17, 18.

2. Becauſe If the Ordinary and extraordinary Sacraments were annexed to this Covenant for confirmation thereof, much more the ſufferings and Death of Chriſt ſignified and ſhadowed out therein as the marrow thereof, muſt needs Confirm the ſame. For theſe Sacraments had no ſpiritual virtue, efficacy or uſe at all for Confirming the Covenant, or Covenanters; but only in relation to, and in Connexion with, Jeſus Chriſt and his ſufferings therein ſignified and Sealed.

(x) 2 Cor. 1. 20. 3. Becauſe, All the Covenants and (x) Promiſes of God are yea and Amen in Chriſt Crucified. They have their Truth, Eſtabliſhment & Accompliſhment in Chriſt, as the Root and Center of them all. But with this difference; (y) Covenants of Promiſe (of which this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed was one eminent branch,) were yea and Amen in Chriſt only as Promiſed, and to come afterwards: The New Covenant, is yea and Amen in Chriſt, as Performed actually exhibited in the fleſh already.

(y) Eph. 2. 12.

Thus Chriſts blood did virtually work, long before it was actually ſhed. And this is one ſenſe, in which Chriſt is ſaid to (z) be ſlain from the foundation of the world: viz. In regard of the virtue, force and efficacy of his Death in many regards from the foundation of the world.

(z) Rev. 13. 8.

III. Why God thus many waies Confirmed his Covenant to Abraham and his Seed; comes next to be conſidered. And this the LORD did,

1. Of the rich bounty of his Grace to Abraham and his Seed. His free-Grace is moſt liberal and bountiful: Therefore he not only (a) Gave his Covenant to Abraham, to declare his free-grace in beſtowing what Abraham could not deſerve; but he alſo (b) eſtabliſhed and Confirmed his Covenant given, to teſtifie the ſuperabundant Bounty of his free-Grace, making his Covenant ſtrong and ſure which he had given him.

(a) Gen. 17. 2.
(b) Gen. 17. 7, 19, 21. Gal 3. 17.

2. Becauſe the LORD intended this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, (c) for an Everlaſting Covenant, (d) to him and to his Seed for ever. (e) How and in what ſenſe this Covenant, and the Covenant inheritance therein promiſed, is for ever, I have formerly explained, towards the beginning of this Chapter. Now, God intending this for an Everlaſting Covenant, to be of uſe and advantage to Abraham's Seed to the worlds End; therefore he hath (f) eſtabliſhed it ſtrongly, and confirmed it immovably. He hath made it a marble-Monument; he hath ſet it upon a ſure and unſhaken baſe. This is a Covenant that hath foundations: Every Confirmation is a foundation; Gods Promiſes are a foundation; Gods Oath is a foundation, &c. and all becauſe this Covenant is to ſtand long, to continue for ever. If a man pitch a Tent, he doth it ſlightly without foundation, becauſe it is to be ſhortly taken down again and removed: but if he build an Houſe, he maks it ſtrong and ſure, laies the foundation firm and deep, becauſe it is to continue. If a man make any contract or bargain for a few daies, or a few years only, he takes no extraordinary care for Sureneſs; but if he be to purchaſe an inheritance to him and his heirs for ever, he makes all as ſure as he can, by Deeds, Seals, Livery and Seizin, Fines, Recoveries, Enrolments, &c. Thus the Lord deals in the preſent Caſe of his Covenant; He makes all ſure, becauſe it is to continue for ever.

3. That by all theſe Confirmations (g) God might more abundantly ſhew unto the heirs of Promiſe the immutability of his Counſel. Gods holy Counſel and Contrivance of the eternal happineſs of Abraham and his Seed in Jeſus Chriſt by Faith, in his eternal purpoſe and Decree, is the great myſterie of this Covenant: Herein the LORD is from all eternity fully determined and unalterably reſolved. And that all the true Seed of Abraham, true believers, whether Jews or Gentiles, who are the heirs of Promiſe, might in due time perceive the fixed reſolvedneſs and immutability of Gods pleaſure and counſel herein; he hath added all theſe Confirmations to his Covenant as well as his Oath. And this Reaſon the Apoſtle laies down, (h) when God made promiſe to Abraham, becauſe he could ſwear by no greater, he ſware by himſelf, Saying, Surely, bleſſing I will bleſs thee, and multiplying, I will multiply thee. —— wherein God willing more abundantly to ſhew unto the heirs of promiſe the immutability of his Counſel, Confirmed it by an Oath. Or, interpoſed himſelf by an Oath. As if God had ſaid; Abraham, I am fully reſolved of this my Covenant, nothing ſhall alter or change my eternal purpoſe and Counſel, therein; I have decreed it unalterably before the world began: therefore I have thus and thus eſtabliſhed it; Do thou and thy Seed build upon it, and reſt upon it for ever.

4. That by Such Strengthening, ſtabliſhing, & Confirming this Covenant, the comfort of all true believers, heirs of promiſe, might be ſtrengthned, ſtabliſhed and confirmed in the Covenant. This Reaſon alſo the Apoſtle adds; (i) That by two immutable things (viz. Gods Promiſe and Oath, ver. 13.) in which it was impoſſible for God to lye, we might have a ſtrong Conſolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the Hope ſet before us; which hope we have as an anker of the ſoul, both ſure and ſtedfaſt, and which entreth into that within the vail, whither the fore-runner is for us entred, Jeſus, &c. A moſt ſweet Text: wherein, to my preſent purpoſe, note: 1. That, theſe words have reference particularly and expreſly to Gods Covenant with Abraham, and his Confirmation thereof, ver. 13, 14 &c. 2. That, here are mentioned two waies which God took for confirming his Covenant with Abraham, viz. His Promiſe, His Oath, by himſelf, ver. 13, 14, 15, 16, 17. Both which are amplified by their two excellent Properties tending to ſtrongeſt Confirmation of the Covenant thereby; viz. (i) Immutability; they are both unchangeable; That by two immutable things. (ii) Infallibility, they can neither of them deceive us, for which it is impoſſible for God to lye. 3. That, the end or reaſon of this

(i) Heb. 6. 18, 19.

Confirmation of this Covenant, by Promise and Oath, was, that his Covenant-people might have strong Consolation, ἰσχυρὰν παράκλησιν, firm, strong, prevalent, consolation. They have strong discomforts to wrastle against, viz. 1. Many and Strong Sins within them; 2. The dreadful and strong wrath of God above them; 3. The strong and deadly curse of the Law against them, thundering out Death as the due wages of every sin; 4. Many and strong Enemies and Temptations round about them, the flesh with all its lusts, the world with all its flatteries and frowns by afflictions and persecutions, the Devil with all infernal principalities, powers, and spiritual wickednesses in high-places, &c. Therefore they had need to have strong Consolations against all these strong discomforts; their comforts had need to be as heart of Oak, as Armour of proof, they had need to be well-grounded, strongly compacted, deeply rooted, and mighty through God, that they may prevail against all comers, against all these discomforts, which would quickly dash and swallow up weak and feeble Consolations. The God of all comfort therefore, being tender of his peoples Consolation, Hath both made this Covenant with them in Christ, for their Comfort, and hath made this Covenant strong by many Confirmations, for the establishing of their hearts with strong Consolations. 4. That, the persons for whom God intended this strong Covenant-Consolation, are the heirs of promise, vers. 17. viz. First, believing Jews; Then, believing Gentiles. These heirs of Promise are described by their Faith and Hope, whereby they become actual partakers of this strong Consolation, by flying to the Promises hoped for, and by casting this sure and stedfast anker of the Soul, Hope, into that within the vail, the Holy of Holies, even Heaven it self, into which Jesus the forerunner is entred to prepare it for them. Thus their souls ride at anker safely, in the Sea of this world, by expecting Heaven through Jesus Christ according to this confirmed Covenant.

IV. Inferences hence; Hath God thus established and Confirmed his Covenant to Abraham and his Seed? Then,

1. Gods tender Care and Love to Abraham and his Seed is eminently declared in this Covenant. Wherein? 1. Partly, In his Gracious Condescension and stooping so low to Abraham and his Seed, as to deal with them and manifest his good-will to them touching their eternal happiness, in such a familiar Covenant-way. For, there's infinite distance and disproportion betwixt God and them: and yet they meet together in one blessed Covenant. 2. Partly, In that he hath given them such a rich and full Covenant, repleniſhed with variety of Highest blessings, not only for this world, but especially for the world to come. 3. Partly, In that he hath many ways so strongly established and Confirmed this Covenant, and all the Blessings therein, to them: so as he hath left no place for their disputing or doubting about the performance thereof. He Covenanted venanted with them freely: He Covenanted with them fully: he Covenanted with them firmly. O what Care and love of God shines forth herein! What Praise, thankfulness and love were due from Abraham and all his Seed to this God! And if we be the true Seed of Abraham, heirs of promise by Faith, what shall we render to the Lord for all these his benefits?

2. Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed is most firm and Sure: and all the Covenanted-blessings therein are most secure unto them. Why? They are so immoveably established and Confirmed. God hath abundantly established them; 1. By his immutable Promises Propounded, Repeated, In part fulfilled, in which it is impossible for God to lye: 2. By Abrahams entry upon and survey of Canaan. 3. By the Type of Melchizedek. 4. By his own immutable and Sacred Oath, wherein it is impossible for God to lye or repent: 5. By the ensuing Solemnity of Covenanting, striking this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, by Sacrifices slain and divided, and passing between the parts thereof: 6. By Ordinary visible Sacraments, Circumcision and the Passover; which were constant sensible Seals of the Great Charter till the Coming of Jesus Christ: 7. By extraordinary Sacraments in the Wilderness, The Pillar of cloud and fire, The Red-Sea divided into parts, Mannah from Heaven, and Water out of the Rock; three of which they had daily before their eyes for forty years together, to assure them that God remembred this Covenant, and was in fulfilling it every day, and that they did see and taste the vertue and Goodness thereof continually: 8. By the very suffering and Death of Christ the cheif promised Seed, as adumbrated, typified and intimated many ways in this Covenant-administration, to come to pass afterwards for the full ratification of this Covenant. By all these ways God hath Confirmed it, and made it invincibly sure. A Sure Rock, whereupon to rest and repose the wearied Soul; A Sure Refuge, whereunto to fly for succour and safety in all spiritual danger and difficulties whatsoever; A Sure Charter of Grace, which shall not be overthrown, whereby the Eternal inheritance may be confidently claimed and expected.

Consider well, O all ye Seed of Abraham; 1. This Covenant is Surer then all humane Laws, Covenants or Constitutions whatsoever. Surer then all the Laws of Medes and Persians, which alter not; Surer then any mans Will or Testament, though confirmed by the Testators death: Surer then all the Grants, Charters, Acts, or Ordinances of Princes or Potentates, though confirmed by Promise, Seal or Oath. Why? Because these are but confirmed by mortal and mutable men: but this is established by the immortal and immutable God. If (k) mans Covenant, when once Confirmed, be sure: then Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, thus often confirmed, must needs be most sure. 2. This Covenant is Surer then the surest foundations of Heaven and Earth, and and of the whole Creation. (l) The Mountains shall depart, and the hills shall be removed, yea (m) Heaven and Earth shall pass away, but this Covenant shall not pass away or be removed. For though he hath laid the foundations of the world very sure, yet he hath not stablished them upon his Oath: but he hath established this Covenant upon his inviolable Oath, yea upon the blood of Jesus Christ. 3. This Covenant is Surer then can be overthrown or made of none effect. For, what shall overthrow it? (1) Not the Law; for (n) this Covenant was confirmed in Christ 430 years before the Law was given, and the first Covenant stands. (2) Not the Sin of Abraham, or his Seed; for this Covenant hath provided (o) a blessedness both for Abraham and his Seed, one eminent branch whereof is Remission of their sins and justification of their persons. (3) Not the Justice of God, nor the Curse due for sin; For, in this Covenant Gods blessing is assured in Christ, who (p) became a curse to redeem us from the Curse, that so the blessing of Abraham might come upon us. (4) Not any Enemies to us, or to this Covenant, flesh, world, or Satan; for, herein God hath taken order that Abraham's Seed (q) shall possess the gates of their Enemies, especially of these their spiritual enemies. Over all whom they shall at last be more then Conquerours. (5) Not any Creature, or created power, present or future; for the Creator of Heaven and Earth, God blessed for ever, hath all these ways Confirmed it, and what he hath confirmed, no creature can reverse or disanul.

3. Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed is Perpetual. Being unalterably firm and sure, it must needs be perpetual. Hence its called, (r) An Everlasting Covenant. And it's said; (s) He hath remembred his Covenant for ever: the word which he commanded to a thousand generations, which Covenant he made with Abraham, and his Oath unto Isaac; and confirmed the same unto Jacob for a Law, and to Israel for an everlasting Covenant, &c. And in this accomplishment hereof in Christ, its said; (t) He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his Mercy, As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham and his Seed for ever. This Covenant then was not for a short Season, but for perpetuity. 1. Something in it was only for a peculiar time; as, (u) the gathering of Abraham to his fathers in a good old age in peace. 2. Some things in it were only for a long time, after which they were to have an end; as, the Temporalities therein promised, (x) inheritance of Canaan, &c. together with that form and manner of visible administration, to particular families, by mutable Sacraments, &c. 3. But some things in it were perpetual and for ever; as, all the Substantials of the Covenant of a Spiritual and Celestial nature, touching Grace in this, and Glory in the world to come. These things do all concern us, as well as Abraham, and will still concern all believers to the worlds end. Herein therefore let us still exercise our selves, To know this Covenant thoroughly, To discover our portion and interest therein clearly clearly, And to comfort our ſelves therewith continually. The ſubſequent Out-breakings of the Covenant may ſurpaſs this Diſcovery, but ſhall not diſanul it: As in the day-time the glorious Sun doth not extinguiſh and put out the inferiour light of Moon and ſtars, but only out-ſhine them.

4. This Covenant-Expreſſure far Surpaſſed both the former to Adam and Noah, not only in Fulneſs and clearneſs, but alſo in Eſtabliſhment and Confirmation. The firſt Covenant-diſcovery was eſtabliſhed, by (y) A General and dark Promiſe, and by the Death of thoſe Sacrifices, with the skins whereof Adam and Eve were clothed. The ſecond was eſtabliſhed (z) as hath been ſhowed by Promiſes, by Salvation in the Ark by water, by the Rain-bow, and Gods Oath. But this third Diſcovery of the Covenant was ratified more abundantly, as hath been evidenced. Thus the Grace of God diſcovers it ſelf daily more and more fully: as the Sun ſhines brighter and brighter till it be perfect day. As the Capacity of Gods people increaſed for Receiving, ſo the bounty of God increaſed in Revealing, the myſteries of Salvation unto them.

5. They that doubt or ſtagger at this Covenant or the Promiſed bleſſings thereof, through unbelief, do not duly Conſider Gods eſtabliſhment and Confirmation of it to Abraham and his Seed. In it ſelf Gods Covenant needs no Confirmation; his bare word is as ſtrong as his Oath: but to us it needs Confirmation; therefore God hath confirmed it ſo variouſly and ſo ſtrongly (a) by immutable things, wherein it is impoſſible for God to lye. But we forget theſe confirmations, we do not deeply enough Conſider them: therefore we tremble, doubt, and heſitate about the performance of promiſed Bleſſings, whether ever we ſhall have the bleſſing of Abraham come upon us in donation of the Spirit, Sanctification, Adoption, Juſtification, &c. whether ever we ſhall poſſeſs the gates of our Spiritual Enemies and overcome them; whether ever we ſhall come to inherit the Heavenly Canaan and eternal reſt; whether ever we ſhall be ſo happy, as to have the Lord for our ſhield, exceeding great reward, and our God in Covenant. Oh we faithleſs and fooliſh people! can we believe an honeſt man upon his naked word and promiſe, eſpecially upon his ſerious Oath: and ſhall we not believe this Covenant upon the Word and Oath and many Confirmations of the true and living God? Set judgement in his place, and how can we doubt, having all theſe aſſurances?

(a) Heb. 6. 18, 19, 20.

6. Abraham and his Seed are not wholly without ſpiritual weakneſs and infirmity of faith, that needed ſuch Confirmation of Gods Covenant unto them. The Lord would never have thus confirmed this Covenant, had there not been need. Gods Covenant in it ſelf is ſtrong, it needs no confirmation at all: Gods bare word and promiſe is immutably ſtrong and ſure. Abraham and his Seed therefore needed all this Confirmation. How ſhould they need it, it, but from their weakneſs and infirmity, diſpoſing them to doubt, inclining them to ſtagger? Their Faith and Graces were excellent, but not gradually perfect, therefore attended with infirmity and weakneſs proportionably. But the Covenant being confirmed to Abraham, he (b) can believe the Promiſe without diſpute, without ſtaggering, yea againſt hope. If Abraham and his Seed had their infirmities of Faith, wonder not that we have weakneſſes therein: If they needed hereupon confirmation of Gods Covenant, and were helped thereby, think not ſtrange that we ſhould need the ſame eſtabliſhment for our advantage.

(b) Rom. 4. 16, to the end.

7. Finally, Let all Abrahams true Seed delightfully embrace this eſtabliſhed Covenant for their compleat ſpiritual eſtabliſhment. God hath purpoſely thus eſtabliſhed and confirmed it, that it might ſtabliſh and confirm them. Hither let them flye for ſtrength, againſt all their Spiritual weakneſſes: for ſettlement, againſt all their ſpiritual unſetledneſs. O ye faithful obedient and upright Seed of Abraham, mind and meditate much upon this Confirmed and moſt Sure Covenant, ſet your hearts upon it deliberately, and veiw it exactly on every ſide: How full it is, for Subſtance; How ſure, for eſtabliſhment; And then let it wholly ſettle, ſtrengthen, ſtabliſh you. More particularly,

(1.) Hereby ſtabliſh your Faith and aſſurance in all the Promiſes of this Covenant. Know them, in their full latitude and compaſs: Aſſent to them, as infallibly true and ſure in themſelves: Apply them, and appropriate them to your ſelves, (c) be perſwaded of them, and embrace them, as your own certain and unqueſtionable portion. Hath the Lord thus and thus confirmed them: and do you ſtill doubt, tremble, and ſtagger at them through unbelief? If Gods immutable Promiſe and Oath will not ſtabliſh the aſſurance of thy Faith herein, yet let the typified Death and ſufferings of Chriſt do it, eſpecially ſeeing all the Types are now fulfilled in his Death: Come with Thomas, and put thy finger into the print of the nayls in his hands and feet, and thruſt thine hand into his peirced ſide, and be no longer faithleſs but believing. Say every one of you, like him; My Covenant; my Promiſes; my promiſed bleſsings of the Spirit, Sanctification, Adoption, Juſtification, &c. my victory over all my ſpiritual Enemies, My true heavenly Canaan and eternal reſt; The Lord is my ſhield, my exceeding great reward, and my God for evermore.

(c) Heb. 11. 13.

(2.) Hereby eſtabliſh your Hope in reference to all future Covenant-Mercies, not yet fulfilled. The Covenant is made ſure, much of it is already accompliſhed, and at length all ſhall be fulfilled, it ſhall not lye: Therefore expect and wait for them, caſt (d) the anker of hope ſure and ſtedfaſt within the vail, and tarry Gods leiſure; hope in this eſtabliſhed Covenant will never make you aſhamed.

(d) Heb. 6. 18, 19.

(3.) Hereby eſtabliſh your Courage and Patience in enduring all intervening difficulties and afflictions before the full accompliſhment of the the Promised blessings of this Covenant. Ye have need of Courage, to hold up the heart under troubles; (e) ye have need of Patience, to hold out unto the End; ye have need of both, that after ye have done and endured the will of God, ye may receive the promise. For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Abraham himself met with divers difficulties after this Covenant was made, but he strengthened his Courage and patience to undergo them, knowing the Covenant was sure: (f) And so after he had patiently endured, he obtained the Promise. The Seed of Abraham, after this Covenant was made, did pass through much hardness, many reproaches, and distresses, both in Egypt, and in the Wilderness, before the Covenant was fulfilled in that one clause touching Canaan: But at last Canaan was theirs, and they inherited the Promise. You also shall meet with many Temptations, straits, tribulations, and Persecutions in the Egypt and Wilderness of this world, before you shall inherit the promised heavenly Canaan. But remember that, notwithstanding all interposing discouragements, the Covenant is immoveably sure; be therefore couragious and patient, for at length you shall certainly obtain. Let certainty of final and full obtaining, make you wade through whole floods of difficulties and Seas of perplexities. (g) Give diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end: That ye be not sloathful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the Promises. Shall the Apprentice patiently undergo an hard seven years service, in hope of an uncertain freedom at the end? Shall the Merchant run so many desperate hazzards and adventures by Sea for divers years together, in hopes of an uncertain Gain? And will not you be content patiently to endure many tribulations and Persecutions, in hopes of a certain inheritance in heaven according to this Covenant?

(4) Hereby strengthen and establish your Spirit of Prayer and of Praises to God, in reference to all Blessings within this Covenant. 1. Strengthen your hearts and groans in Prayers for all or any Mercies within this Covenant, by these Confirmations of the Covenant. As Aaron and Hur (h) held up Moses hands, that they were steady, when he prayed: So let these ratifications of the Covenant be thy Aaron and Hur to stablish and hold up thy heart and hands when thou prayest. Our spirits are apt to flag and faint in Prayer, but let these pillars prop them up. This use Moses made of Gods Oath to Abraham, in his Prayer for Israel when they had trespassed in Aarons idolatrous Calf, and prevailed; (i) Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel thy servants, to whom thou swarest by thine own self, &c. So let us pray for the blessing of Abraham, for the eternal rest, &c. saying, Remember thy Covenant, thy Promises, thy Oath, and all thy Confirmations of thy Covenant to Abraham, &c. This enables our Faith to wrastle with God. 2. Strengthen your hearts also unto all enlarged thankfulness and Praiſes to God for every accompliſhment of this Covenant in any branch thereof, eſpecially for performing Chriſt; in that hereby God declares his fidelity in his eſtabliſhed Covenant. Thus David bleſſes God for all paſſages of Providence to Abraham's Seed in Egypt and the Wilderneſs. (5) Hereby, Finally, Stabliſh you your Comforts in all. Comfort and chear up your hearts, In the intereſt you have by Faith in this Covenant and all the Covenanted Mercies at preſent, In the expectation you have by Hope of the full accompliſhment of this Covenant for future, Notwithſtanding all the preſſures and ſufferings which by Courage and Patience you may in the mean time poſſibly undergo: And all, becauſe God hath thus ſtrongly enſured his Covenant to you. Why hath God thus Confirmed his Covenant, but to confirm your Conſolation? (m) God willing more abundantly to ſhew unto the heirs of Promiſe the immutability of his Counſel, confirmed it by an Oath: That by two immutable things, in which it was impoſsible for God to lye, we might have a ſtrong Conſolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope ſet before us. That our Comfort might be ſtrong and ſure, he hath purpoſely made his Covennant ſtrong and ſure. Therefore in all our faintings, diſcouragements, deſpondencies, dejections, let's have recourſe to this Covenant; and let the fulneſs and firmneſs thereof be the reviving Cordials of our oppreſſed Spirits.

Aphorism V.

The End, or intended Scope, of Gods Making and eſtabliſhing this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed in Chriſt, was, Ultimately, His own Glory; Subordinately, the true Happineſs of Abraham and his Seed, Jewiſh and Gentiliſh, both in this and the world to come. This Aphoriſm I explain as followeth.

I. The

1. The Ultimate end or Principal Scope of God in this Covenant, was, The displaying and shewing forth of his own Glory. Gods Glory is most deer to himself: and is the chief end of all his works of Decree, Creation, or Providence. (n) For, of him, and through him, and to him are all things; to whom be glory for ever; Amen. Of him, As the First efficient: To him, as the last End. And therefore this Eminent and peculiar work of his Covenant with Abraham must needs be peculiarly intended for his glory: and this divers waies. viz. For the Glory, 1. Of his free-Grace. 2. Of his bounteous Goodness. 3. Of his wise Providence. 4. Of his Great Power. 5. Of his Constant Faithfulness.

(n) Rom. 11. 36.

1. For the Glory of his Free Grace. The Apostle speaking of this Covenant, saith, (o) Therefore it is of Faith, that it might be by Grace, to the end the Promise might be sure to all the Seed. This Covenant was wholly founded upon free-Grace, wholly composed and made up of free-Grace. For (p) when God did chuse Abraham, and call him in Ur of the Caldees, and there first made this Covenant with him, Abraham, (q) was an idolater and an ungodly person; therefore could not deserve any thing at all from God, but wrath and Death. Yet even then when he was impious and idolatrous, the Lord of his own meer motion and inclination, according to the meer good-pleasure of his own will, did effectually call Abraham and make a Covenant with him. Herein he displaid the riches of his free-Grace.

II. For the Glory of his bounteous Goodness, in his abundant Mercy and loving-kindness. Gods goodness shines forth in his Mercy, and loving-kindness: and his Glory in them all. Now in this Covenant God hath proclaimed before all the world the glory of his goodness, mercy, and loving-kindness, most abundantly, viz. 1. In Condescending to deal with Abraham in a familiar Covenant-way: Though betwixt himself and Abraham there was infinite disproportion. 2. In Comprizing not only Abraham, but (r) all his faithful Seed both of Jews, and Gentiles, as Subfœderates, with Abraham in this Covenant. 3. In Concorporating both Abraham and his Seed (r) with Jesus Christ, as one joynt-fœderate party therein with God: accounting all his Seed as one Christ; That thus in Christ they might fully be enabled to perform their part of the Covenant, who of themselves could do nothing. 4. In Accumulating such heape of blessings and mercies upon them, in the manifold Promises of this Covenant: Assuring them, both what God would do for them, and what God would be to them. 5. Finally, In Confirming this Covenant to Abraham and to his Seed so many waies, above all possibility of abolition or alteration. Herein the glory of his mercy and loving-kindness was exceeding glorious. Hence Moses said to Israel, (t) Only the LORD had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their Seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day. And Micah ſtiles the Subſtance of this Covenant (u) The Mercy to Abraham, ſworn to our fathers from the daies of old. And in reference to Chriſt incarnate Abrahams chief bleſſed ſeed, Mary herſelf ſaid; (x) He hath holpen his ſervant Iſrael, in remembrance of his Mercy, as he ſpoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to his Seed for ever. Zacharias alſo to the ſame effect ſaid; (y) He hath raiſed up an horn of Salvation for us, in the houſe of his ſervant David; —— To perform the Mercy promiſed to our Fathers, and to remember his Holy Covenant, the Oath which he ſware to our Father Abraham, &c. So that the Scripture renders the love and mercy of God in this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed moſt eminently illuſtrious.

III. For the Glory of his wiſe Providence. God hath glorioufly exalted and magnified the wiſdom and care of his Providence in this expreſſure of his Covenant, and that divers waies. 1. By fore-ſeeing and foretelling to Abraham, when he made Covenant with him, many future Events concerning this Covenant long before they came to paſs. He exactly knew whatſoever he intended to do with Abraham and his Seed to the end of the world: and therefore he glorified himſelf by acquainting Abraham with it aforehand. As, (z) He told Abraham (a) of his Seed, and multiplying the ſame, 30. years before Iſaac was born. (2) He told him (a) of his Seeds ſojourning and ſervile Condition in a land not theirs 400 years beforehand, (which began at the birth of Iſaac the promiſed Seed) after which God would judge that Nation which ſhould afflict them, but bring them out with great Subſtance, and in the fourth Generation bring them into Canaan: All which he exactly fulfilled. (3) He foretold him (b) of his eminent and Primary Seed Jeſus Chriſt, in whom all the Families of the earth ſhould be bleſſed, about 1841 years before Chriſt was born: which in fulneſs of time was accordingly accompliſhed. 2. By ſuſtaining and Preſerving Abraham and his Seed from ruine, both when they were few in number, and when they were greatly multiplyed (c) When they were very few, and ſtrangers paſſing from one Nation to another, he ſuffered no man to do them wrong, yea he reproved Kings for their ſakes. When they began to multiply greatly, how carefully did he provide for them? (1) In the ſeven years famine, they were ſuſtained in Egypt by Joſeph, (d) a man purpoſely ſent before to preſerve them alive in that extremity; (2) In the Egyptian oppreſſions upon them, after Joſephs Death, they were kept from deſtruction; yea, (e) the more they were oppreſſed, the more they grew, till at laſt they went out of Egypt with an high hand; (3) In the wilderneſs (wherein was neither food nor rayment, earing nor harveſt, Phyſitian nor medicine) he, for 40 years together, furniſhed them plentifully, with health: ſo that (f) their foot did not ſwell, and the bitings of the fiery ſerpents were (g) healed by the brazen ſerpent: with food, by (h) Mannah from Heaven, and water out of the Rock; and with rayment; for during all that time (i) their rayment waxed not old upon them.

3. By

3. By so Ordering, disposing and over-Ruling all passages, and occurrents (though never so strange, improbable, and seemingly contrary, both to one another, and to the welfare of Abraham's Seed) that (k) they did all work together for their good, and towards the actual accomplishment of Gods Covenant with Abraham. As; (1) The great Famine in Canaan necessitated them to go into Egypt for sustenance: (2) Jacobs peculiar love to Joseph, his brethrens hatred thereupon, their casting him into a pit and after selling him to the Ishmaelites who also sold him to Potiphar in Egypt: Josephs integrity there, his unjust imprisonment, his Interpretation of the Dreams of Pharaohs Butler and Baker in prison, and of Pharaoh's Dreams afterwards touching the seven years plenty and seven years famine: his advancement thereupon to be next to Pharaoh Lord over all the Land of Egypt: all these made Ioseph in Egypt the Harbinger for Abraham's Seed there in the famine. (3) Provisions in Egypt made them willing to sojourn there. (4) Their after-oppressions in Egypt, not only prepared heavy judgements from God upon the Egyptians, but inclined also the hearts of the Israelites (when Gods time came) willingly to depart out of Egypt; so that Egypt was judged, and Israel brought forth with great substance, (l) according to Gods Covenant with Abraham. (5) Their want of way Guidance and shelter from heat in the wilderness, occasioned the pillar of cloud and fire. Their great strait at the Red-Sea, by reason of the Egyptians army pursuing them, occasioned that great work of God, the Dividing of the Red-Sea, into parts, for Israels full deliverance, and the Egyptians utter destruction. Their Hunger, thirst, and other pressing wants in the wilderness were advantagious opportunities for Gods providence, whereupon he extraordinarily provided for them, Bread from Heaven, and Water out of the Rock, till they came to the borders of Canaan. Oh, Through how many windings and turnings, Mercies and Miseries, Straits and Enlargements, Facilities and Difficulties, Ordinary and Extraordinary, by land and water, in Egypt, wilderness and Canaan, did God bring to pass his Covenant and promises for the Glory of his singular Providence!

IV. For the Glory of his Great Power. The Almighty God hath wonderfully made bare, to the view of Israel and of all the world, the Glorious Arm of his power, in bringing this Covenant and the Promises thereof to pass. 1. How glorious his power, in (m) increasing his afflicted people in Egypt from 70 persons who came into Egypt, to 603550 males of 20 years old and upward, able to go out to war, besides Levites, in the second year after they came out of Egypt. 2. How glorious his power, in all his signs and wonders wrought in Egypt by Moses and Aaron: and in bringing his people forth of Egypt with a mighty hand and an out-stretched arm! 3. How glorious his power, in dividing the Red-Sea, drying it up, leading his people through the depths as through the wilderness, and afterwards drowning therein Pharaoh and all the Egyptian Army!

For, (saith the Church to God,) (p) they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine Arm, and the light of thy Countenance, because thou hadst a favour unto them.

V. The Glory of his Constant Faithfulness, Truth, and Righteousness, hath been eminently demonstrated in this performing promise and keeping Covenant with Abraham and his Seed. For, 1. All the blessings of his Covenant promised to Abraham and his Seed, were every one performed; not one of them failed, but all came to pass. 2. His Covenant-blessings he performed to them punctually and precisely in the times which himself had fore-mentioned. As in the birth of Isaac, (q) at the set time; In the delivering of Israel out of Egypt, (r) at the end of 430 years to a day; In bringing them into Canaan (s) in the fourth Generation, in Eleazer, &c. 3. No interposing difficulties or seeming impossibilities betwixt Promise and Performance could hinder his performance. Therefore where these difficulties and impediments are catalogued on purpose, betwixt Promise and Performance: Before them its said, (t) He hath remembred his Covenant for ever, &c. And after them, For he remembred his holy Promise and Abraham his servant. Showing that his truth and faithfulness in his Covenant was the foundation and end of his removing all lets and impediments out of his Covenants way. 4. No (u) Sins and Provocations of Israel did hinder the Covenants accomplishment: his faithfulness prevailing against their many and horrid iniquities. 5. No length of time could tire out his truth and faithfulness to Abraham and his Seed, but at last it took effect. As, In performing Isaac (x) after 30 years; In performing deliverance out of Egypt, and the inheritance of Canaan (y) after 400 years: In performing Jesus Christ (z) after 1840 years: And at last he will proportionably with like faithfulness perform the Heavenly Canaan at the end of the world compleatly to all the true Seed of Abraham. What a glory and honour is this to Gods truth and faithfulness!

Thus Gods Glory is the Ultimate end of this Covenant.

II. The Subordinate End, and less Principal Scope of God in this Covenant, was, For advancing the true happiness of Abraham and his Seed, Jewish and Gentilish, both in this world, and in the world to come. This is evident: 1. Partly, In that the blessedness or Happiness of Abraham, and of all the families of the earth, in him and his Seed, (a) is Promised in Gods

Gods very first revealing of this Covenant to Abraham. 2. Partly, In that this happiness was (b) often afterwards mentioned in Repetition of this Covenant and Promises. 3. Partly, In that the New Testament (c) interprets this happiness to be primarily accomplished in Christ the Seed of Seeds blessing both Jews and Gentiles many waies, according to this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed. 4. Partly, In that (d) the Gospel (that is, the glad tidings of Sinners Salvation by Jesus Christ) was preached to Abraham: in Gods making this Covenant with him. And the Gospel brings all Happiness and Blessings in its bosom to all that do receive it. Thus its clear, That the advancing of the Happiness of Abraham and his Seed, was intended by God in this Covenant.

Of this Happiness of Abraham and his Seed, scoped at in this Covenant, there are (besides others) these Branches especially therein Revealed. All which branches tend to compleat their Happiness. As,

I. Redemption, (e) by Christ the Seed of Abraham, from the Curse of the Law, and from all our Enemies.

II. Participation of the (f) promised Spirit of God.

III. Conversion (g) from Sin, and Satan, unto God.

IV. Adoption (h) into Gods family.

V. Justification (i) through Faith.

VI. Covenant-Relation (k) to, and Communion with God.

VII. Glorification (l) in the highest Heavens for evermore.

Touching all these branches of happiness, and divers others, I have spoken something (m) formerly: and in reference to most of them shall here add no more, As being rather Implyed then expressed in this Covenant.

(m) See Aphoris. III. of this chap. in the 1. branch, viz. Divine benediction.

But for as much as Justification of Abraham by Faith is here in this Covenant Dispensation, First of all Revealed, and plainly Expressed; and is such an Eminent Covenant-blessing, whereupon the Comfort of Believers doth depend; and is to many very hard to be understood: I shall here endeavour more fully to clear it; By opening that eminent Testimony, (n) Abraham believed in the LORD, and he counted (or imputed) it to him for righteousness. The Apostle alledging this, renders it passively; (o) Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. He alledgeth the Sense, rather then the Grammatical signification of the words. To the Letter the Hebrew is thus to be translated exactly; He believed in the LORD, and he-imputed-that to him righteousness. That is; The Lord, in whom he believed, imputed that believing to him for righteousness. Thus the (p) Interlinear Bible translates it. And thus Cevalerius judgeth it ought to be rendred actively to the word: (q) Et imputavit illud ei justitiam; vel, in justitiam. And he imputed that to him righteousness; or, unto righteousness. For the Hebrew word here חשבה jachshebehu, beha, He-imputed-that, is Active, not Paſsive. This is the (r) firſt place in all the Bible, wherein Believing, or Faith, and Imputation of it to righteouſneſs, is expreſly mentioned. And both in reference to Abraham, the Father of all Believers. Rom. 4. 11, 12, 16. And therefore, for the Opening of this Text, and clearing of Juſtification by Faith therein ſo notably declared (which is one of the Grand ſpiritual Bleſsings and Benefits aſſured by God to Abraham in this Covenant of Faith,) I ſhall with all poſsible brevity and perſpicuity diſcuſs theſe enſuing Queſtions. viz. 1. What is meant by Believing in the LORD? 2. What is meant by Juſtice, or Righteouſneſs? 3. What is meant by Counting, or Imputing? 4. What it was which the Lord Imputed to Abraham for Righteouſneſs: and How it was ſo imputed to him? 5. Whether Abraham was not in ſome ſenſe Juſtified by Works and Obedience, as well as by Faith: And how the Apoſtle James is to be underſtood in that particular? 6. Whether all Abraham's believing Seed both of Jews and Gentiles were not to be Juſtified in the ſame way that Abraham was? 7. Finally, (as a reſult from the whole) wherein the nature of that Juſtification conſiſts, which is Revealed in the Covenant of Faith from age to age?

Queſt. I. what is meant by, Believing in the LORD? והאמן ביהוה veheemin bahovah: And he believed in the LORD. Here I ſhall ſpeak, 1. Of the word Believe 2. Of the phraſe, believing in the LORD. 3. Of the thing it ſelf, viz. Faith, in a Theological way.

(s) Fr. Gomar. in Oper. Part. 3. Diſp. 33.

1. The word האמין Heemin, He Believed, is derived (s) from אמן Aman. To confirm or ſtrengthen, or ſtay, Exod. 17. 12. and properly it ſignifies, He-ſteadily-believed, He-firmly-believed. He was perſwaded that Gods promiſe was firm, and ſure, and conſtant. It is a lively motion or perſwaſion of the heart, firmly reſting on things ſpoken: its oppoſed to fainting of the heart. As it is ſaid of Jacob when he heard the tidings of Joſephs being alive, that (t) his Heart fainted, for he believed them not: but when he ſaw the wagons, his Spirit revived. David ſaid: (u) I had fainted, unleſs I had believed to ſee the goodneſs of the LORD, &c. Faith props and ſtaies up the heart againſt doubting and fainting: being an heart-reviving perſwaſion.

(t) Gen. 45. 25, 26, 27.
(u) Pſal. 27. 13.

2. The phraſe of, Believed in the LORD, according to the opinion of ſome, doth alwaies and in its own Nature denote the truſt and affiance of the heart: and ſo diſtinguiſheth true juſtifying Faith from the Faith of hypocrites, which is but a believing of God. It being one thing, Credere Deo, to believe Gods word as true; another, Credere in Deum, to have affiance in God, and reſt upon him. Learned Mercerus and others note, that this Hebrew word for believing joyned with ל, notes only to believe God: but joyned with ב as here, ſignifies more emphatically a truſt and reſting upon upon him. Auguſtin (x) obſerves the diſtinction of Credere Deo, and Credere in Deum. Which diſtinction ſince hath obtained in the ſchools, (y) after the Maſter of the Sentences. But all things well weighed, I am rather of their judgement, who think that this Diſtinction doth not alwaies hold, nor is it intrinſecal to the Nature of the Hebrew or Greek phraſe: but rather theſe phraſes of Believing God, and Believing in God, are to be diſtinguiſhed and interpreted according to the Circumſtances of the text, and the Subject ſpoken of; As thoſe acute and learned men, (z) Mercerus, (a) Rivet, and (b) Gomarus have well obſerved. For 1. Paul alledging this place of Moſes, He believed in the LORD, ſaith (c) Abraham believed God. And yet here Abraham did not barely Aſſent to God and to his Promiſe as true: but Truſted in it with affiance aud recumbency. And our Saviour promiſeth eternal life to him that believes God. (d) He that believeth him that ſent me (πιστεύων τῷ πέμψαντί με) hath everlaſting life. So that ſometimes, believing God, denotes true juſtifying and ſaving Faith. 2. Sometimes on the other hand, believing in God, or in Chriſt, denotes a Faith falſe and counterfeit, ſuch as may be in carnal perſons and hypocrites. As, (e) Many believed in his name, (ἐπίστευσαν εἰς τὸ ὄνομα αὐτοῦ,) beholding the ſigns which he did, but Jeſus did not commit himſelf unto them, becauſe he knew all men. Chriſt would not truſt himſelf with them; therefore their faith was not true. And, (f) Among the chief Rulers many believed on him, (ἐπίστευσαν εἰς αὐτὸν) but becauſe of the Phariſees they did not confeſs him, leſt they ſhould be put out of the ſynagogue. For they loved the praiſe of men, more then the praiſe of God. And therefore moſt probably their Faith was not unfeigned, but falſe and hypocritical.

3. As touching Faith itſelf, Its not my intent to Treat of the whole Nature of Faith at large, but only of (g) Saving and (h) Juſtifying Faith, and of that ſo far only as may ſerve to clear Abraham's Juſtification by Faith. To this effect, I ſhall thus deſcribe Juſtifying Faith. viz.

Juſtifying Faith is a ſaving Grace wrought in the Hearts of the Elect at their Regeneration by Gods Spirit and word, whereby they not only know, Aſſent to, and apply to themſelves the Promiſes, Goſpel and Doctrine of Jeſus Chriſt for Gods glory in their Juſtification and Salvation; but alſo whereby they afterwards walk as becometh juſtified perſons.

I confirm and explain this Deſcription as followeth.

Firſt, The general Nature of it. It's A Saving Grace. A Grace becauſe it is a gratious habit, or ſupernatural virtue, given of God. A ſaving Grace: becauſe it is the Inſtrumental mean of Salvation to them that have it. (i) ——By grace are ye ſaved through Faith, and that not of yourſelves; it is the gift of God. (k) ——Of them that believe to the ſaving of the Soul (l) ——He that believeth, ſhall be ſaved.

Secondly, The efficient Cauſe of Faith is twofold. 1. Principal; Gods Spirit. (m) Faith is one of the fruits of the Spirit. 2. Inſtrumental; Gods Word. (n) Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God. The time or Seaſon when Gods Spirit and Word work Faith in any, is at their Regeneration: Then Faith with all other holy Habits of Sanctification are inſtilled and infuſed into the Soul. (o) —— To them that believe in his Name: which were born, not of bloods, nor of the will of the fleſh, nor of the will of man, but of God: The manner how the Spirit and Word work Faith, is a Subject too large here to be inſiſted upon.

Thirdly, The Subject recipient wherein it is poperly and peculiarly ſeated, is, The Hearts of Gods Elect. For, (p) with the Heart man believeth unto righteouſneſs. And here by (Heart) I underſtand the whole rational Soul, which is the adequate Subject of Faith. For, Faith is not to be ſeated only in the Underſtanding, as ſome; nor only in the Will, as others are of opinion: but in both. In the Underſtanding, as it is a Knowledge of, and Aſſent unto the truth of the Promiſe: In the will, as it is an Affiance, Confidence, or Truſt in the Promiſe. As will further appear in Conſidering theſe Acts of Faith afterwards. Yet Faith is not ſeated in any Hearts, but only in the Hearts of Gods Elect. (q) All men have not Faith. (r) —— As many as were ordained to eternal life, believed. (s) —— God hath choſen you to ſalvation, through Sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth. (t) —— ye believe not, becauſe ye are not of my Sheep. Hence Faith is ſtiled, by way of appropriation, (u) The Faith of Gods Elect: becauſe proper and peculiar to them only.

Fourthly, The Object, or Matter of this Faith, is, Generally, (x) the whole Word of God contained in the Scriptures; Particularly, The Promiſes, Goſpel and Doctrine of Jeſus Chriſt. The Promiſe; (y) Repent and be baptized every one of you in the Name of Jeſus Chriſt, for the remiſſion of ſins. —— For the Promiſe is to you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. The Goſpel; (z) Repent ye, and believe the Goſpel. —— The Goſpel is the power of God unto ſalvation to every one that believeth. This Promiſe and Goſpel is That Doctrine of God (a) touching the Perſon, Attributes, Offices and Benefis of Jeſus Chriſt. The Sum whereof is, That Jeſus the Son of the Virgin Mary is (b) the Chriſt, the Son of God, (c) The perfect and only Saviour of all true believers. Hence, this peculiar object of Faith is ſtiled (d) Faith, (e) The law of Faith, (f) The word of Faith, &c. And on the other hand, Faith in reference to this peculiar object, is called (g) The Faith of the Goſpel, (h) Faith of Jeſus Chriſt, (i) The faith of the Son of God. Here therefore Juſtifying Faith is deſcribed, not by its General Object, the Word of God: But by its Particular Object, The Promises, Gospel and Doctrine of Jesus Christ for Justification and Salvation. For, its the Particular Faith, that hath respect to this Particular Object, with a Particular Assent to it, and Application of it, as concerning us, that justifies.

Hereupon we justly reject the Popish Opinion as erroneous, Asserting, (k) That Justifying Faith is only a General Assent to the Word of God in General, as true; without any particularizing either of the Object of Faith, or of the Assent thereunto, in reference to a mans own particular interest therein: And not without just cause. For, 1. Saving and justifying Faith is set forth in Scripture under such expressions, as note a particular tendency to Christ, and peculiar applying and appropriating of him to the believer. As (l) Coming to him, (m) Receiving of Christ, (n) Eating his flesh and drinking his blood, (o) Having of the Son, &c. 2. Abraham the Father of all believers was justified; (not by a General Faith, assenting to Gods Word as true in General, but) by a Particular Faith. For, (p) he believed in the LORD, that he should be the Father of Many Nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be. Herein his Faith was Particular, Partly, in regard of the Object; viz. His fatherhood to many Nations promised, wherein he peculiarly and principally had respect to Christ his chief Seed; in whom the Nations should become his Seed, and be blessed. Partly, in regard of the Act of Faith. He believed in the LORD; which here notes, not only Assent, but also Particular Application of it to himself by affiance, trust, Confidence, recumbency, &c. in the Lord. (q) And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness. Wherefore? Because he so particularly acted his Faith upon that particular object or Promise chiefly intending Christ. And Consequently All Abraham's Seed must be justified by the like particular Faith in Christ. And so the Apostle infers; (r) Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him: but for ours also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him who raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead, who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification. 3. If A meet Assent to Gods Word as true by a General Faith, be sufficient to Justification; then Hypocrites, Reprobates, yea the very Devils may be justified: for they have such a General Faith, assenting to the Word of God as true. But such can never be justified.

Fifthly, The Final Cause, or End of this Faith, whereunto it tends, and at which it aims, is, Gods Glory in the Sinners Justification and Salvation. 1. The chief and Ultimate End of faith, and of all the Graces of the Spirit of Christ, is, the Glory of God the Redeemer. Which Glory God brings to himself wonderfully, whilst he manifests the vertue (t) of his Free-grace, Mercy, Love, Truth, Righteousness, Power, &c. in bestowing Christ, Righteousness, happiness, by Faith, upon the blind, dead, unbelieving Enemies of God, according cording to his Covenant in Christ: And believers (t) acknowledge this Glory to be Gods due, whilst they celebrate and shew forth these vertues of God both in words and deeds flowing from grateful hearts. 2. The Secondary and Subordinate end of Faith, is, (u) The Sinners Justification, and Salvation. Whereof a working Faith (x) is the Organ or Instrument: not by it self, or by it's own imbred force or efficacy, (As it is with Instruments of Nature and Art;) Nor by its own merit (for it is due to God; and, by reason of the reliques of sin, (y) imperfect;) But, by accident of Grace, and of the Divine Promise, and of the power of (z) the Spirit of God. But of this more, in Quest. 4. & 7. hereafter.

Sixthly, and Lastly, The Acts of Faith, in order to these Ends, are divers. Some Direct: Some Reflexive. Those Faith puts forth towards Objects without it self, as it were directly forwards: By These Faith returns upon it self, looks back upon it self, and sees it self believing.

Direct Acts of Faith, are either 1. The First: Or 2. Those that arise from the first.

(1) The First or Primary Direct Acts of Faith, are chiefly these; Knowing, Assenting, Applying.

1. Knowing. Faith cannot be without Knowledge: yea, Faith is Knowledge. (a) By his Knowledge shall my righteous servant justifie many. —— (b) This is life eternal to know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent. (c) —— By Faith we know (νοοῦμεν) that the worlds were created. (d) —— I know that my Redeemer liveth. Saving Faith is a Knowledge, not naturally derived from or built upon principles of humane Reason; but supernaturally bred in the mind by illumination of the Spirit and Revelation of the Gospel. Hereby we know not every Divine mysterie revealed perfectly; but only so far we know the Objects revealed as is necessary for Salvation. Hence Faith is compared to an Eye. It's the Eagle's-Eye of the Soul. Hereby Moses (e) saw him that was invisible: (f) Abraham saw Christs day, and was glad: and we (g) look upon the true brazen Serpent Jesus Christ lifted up upon the Cross, for spiritual Healing. Gross ignorance and blindness in spirituals cannot consist with true saving Faith.

2. Assenting, or Consenting. Faith having supernatural Knowledge of things revealed in the Gospel, judges them to be true: Consents or Assents to the truth and certainty of them; for the Authority, verity and fidelity of God revealing them. This is (h) Receiving the witness of God touching his Son, which is greater then the witness of men. This is called, (i) Believing the Record that God gave of his Son. viz. That God hath given to us eternal life: and this life is in his Son. And, (k) Receiving Christs Testimony from the Father. Hereupon He that Assents to things revealed, is said, (l) To set to his Seal, that God is true: And he that Assents not, that believes not, is said, (m) To make God a Lyar, because he believes believes not the Record that God gave of his Son. For clearing this Aſſenting Act. See the notion about (n) Aſſent here in the Margin.

(n) The Aſſent of the mind hath three degrees. The firſt is when the mind hath ſome, though weak, inclination and propenſion to aſſent to a thing propounded, perhaps moved by ſome ſlight ſign, or by apprehenſion of poſſible Truth. Some call this Suſpicion; more fitly perhaps, Conjecture.

The ſecond is, when the Aſſent is more ſtable, and reſolute; yet not without fear, that the contrary may be true. This is called Opinion.

The third and higheſt, is a perfect and peremptory acknowledgement, that the thing propounded is of certain and infallible Truth. Of this laſt ſort is the Aſſent that Faith yields. Now this certain and perfect Aſſent is of four ſorts, according to a fourfold Means ſwaying the mind. The firſt is, That which is cauſed by Senſe. As when the mind acknowledgeth a thing for truth, becauſe it hath received perfect intelligence from the ſight, hearing, &c. or other ſenſes not hindred or deceived. The ſecond is, That which is cauſed out of the clear light and evidence of the thing, without Arguments of any kind to perſwade it. As in principles clear of themſelves, and that need no demonſtration or evidence, but their own light to convince. As that, Omne totum maius eſt ſua parte. The third is, That which is cauſed by certain diſcourſe, and demonſtrative Arguments; which they call Science. The laſt is, That which is procured by the Authority and credit of him that propounds a thing to be received for Truth; which Authority (being without exception) breeds Perſwaſion as firm as any can be raiſed by Argument, Senſe, or if there be any other means more forcible with the mind to perſwade. And of this laſt ſort is Faith. Dr. Will. Sclater in his Expoſ. on Rom. 4. 3.

In theſe words this Learned Author hath very ſatisfactorily cleared the Nature and Degrees of Aſſent; and therein hath given Faith's Aſſent its due. And therefore I have tranſcribed them.

3. Applying. Faith having aſſented to the Promiſes and Doctrine of Chriſt as True and ſure in themſelves; enables the ſoul to ſtep a degree further, viz. To apply them, accept them, cloſe with them, reſt and ſtay upon them, &c. as thoſe that are, and will be true and good to us, even unto us in particular. This is the Appropriating act of Faith, whereby we make things promiſed, our own. Hereby we take Livery and Seizin of them; and bring them home into our own boſom. Hereby we begin to lay claim to the Promiſes and tenders of Chriſt, as having a Right to them and intereſt in them: Perſwading our ſelves that Chriſt will be Redemption, Righteouſneſs, Sanctification, Salvation and All unto us. This Applying Act of Faith is ſet forth in Scripture under ſeveral Names and Notions: which may ſomewhat further open the true Nature of it to us. Eſpecially it is ſtiled, 1. An embracing of the Promiſes. (o) Theſe all dyed in faith, —— and embraced the promiſes; ἀσπασάμενοι, (p) properly ſignifies, they lovingly embraced, they eagerly-apprehended. And thence ſignifies to Salute, which uſually was done with loving embracings. Some think its an Alluſion to Mariners who after a long voyage, gladly ſalute the ſhore. Faith it claſps about the promiſes, and hugs them as dear enjoyments. 2. A Perſwaſion of the Promiſes; viz. of their truth, certainty, and goodneſs. πεισθέντες, (q) And were perſwaded of them. The Apoſtle ſtiles it πληροφορίαν Perſwaſion, or Confident-perſwaſion, it's rendered Confidence. (r) In whom we have acceſs with Confidence by the Faith of him. This confident-perſwaſion, he makes an act, or effect of Faith. (s) I am perſwaded, that neither Death, &c. 3. Coming to Chriſt. (t) He that comes to me ſhall never hunger, and he that believes in me ſhall never thirſt. Faith is the feet of the Soul, whereby whereby we approach to him. 4. Receiving of Chriſt. (u) But as many as Received (ἔλαβον) him, to them gave he power, &c. —— to them that believe on his Name. Faith is the hand whereby we receive Chriſt (x) into our hearts to dwell there. 5. Eating (y) of Chriſts fleſh, and drinking his blood. viz. Feeding upon Chriſt crucified; ſo that we are ſpiritually incorporated, united, and as it were aſſimilated to him, as food is to the body. 6. Having of the Son. (z) He that hath the Son hath life: he that hath not the Son hath not life. Faith poſſeſſes and enjoys Chriſt. 7. Truſt, Confidence, Affiance in the Lord, or in his Word and Promiſes. The Hebrew uſeth three words for this Truſt, and all very Emphatical. viz. אמן (a) Aman, which ſignifies properly A firm and ſtable truſt: and its oppoſed to fainting, as was noted. And בטח (b) Batach, which properly imports, To truſt, to confide, firmly-to-lean-upon, and thereupon To be ſecure, confidence breeding Security. And its oppoſed to doubting and fear. As (c) Pagnin and Mecerus obſerve. And חסה chaſah, (d) Properly To fly or betake one ſelf to any one under whoſe protection he may be ſafe, as chickens under the wing of the Hen. Thence, To truſt, to have confidence, to fly to for ſafety. As, (e) Bleſſed are all they that truſt in him, (or, fly to him for ſafety,) viz. to Chriſt. The Greek alſo uſeth three notable words for this Truſt, viz. (f) πεποίθησις i. e. Perſwaſion, Confident-perſwaſion. In whom we have acceſs, with Confidence (εν πεποιθήσει) by the Faith of him. And παῤῥησία, which properly ſignifies liberty of ſpeech: A free ſpeech concealing nothing. Thence, truſt, confidence, boldneſs, &c. (g) In whom we have boldneſs and acceſs —— (h) Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, (παῤῥησίαν ἔχομεν) we have confidence towards God. And πληροφορία, which is rendered, Full-perſwaſion, (i) And being fully perſwaded, that what he had promiſed, he was able alſo to perform. But it properly ſignifies A full-carrying-out, viz. of the Soul or Heart to the Object believed without doubt or heſitancy. Metaphorically this Truſt in the Lord, is Sometimes ſtiled, Rolling on the Lord, (k) He Rolled on the LORD, that is, he truſted in him. An alluſion to a man overburdened, who rolls his burden to another, commits it to a ſtronger ſhoulder. Sometimes Reſting, Staying or Leaning upon The Lord, as a weak or weary man leans upon his ſtaffe: (for thence the Metaphor is taken.) (l) —— Let him truſt in the Name of the LORD, and ſtay (or lean) upon his God. Believing, is a ſpiritual Leaning, Reſting, Relying or recumbency upon the Lord and his Promiſes. Oh, this Truſting Act of Faith is a Noble and glorious Act. 8. The (m) Subſiſtence of things hoped for. ἐλπιζομένων ὑπόστασις. Not the phyſical or real ſubſiſtence of them without us: but their mental ſubſiſtence in the underſtanding, and fiducial in the heart of the believer. For (n) Faith (as Parens well noteth) makes it's objects as it were really to exiſt or ſubſiſt in our minds and hearts. Faith ſets them as preſent

Finally, Faith in regard of its Applying faculty is ſtiled (o) The evidence of things not ſeen. ἔλεγχος, notes properly, A Convincing Evidence, or demonſtration, whereby not only the mind is convincingly brought to a certain aſſent, but alſo the heart to a certain and ſure truſt. And all this in reference to things not ſeen; whether, Paſt, Preſent, or Future. But Hope looks only to things future.

Theſe are the three Primary Acts of true Juſtifying and Saving Faith. viz. Knowing, Aſſenting, and Applying. The two former are Subjectively Seated in the Underſtanding: The laſt in the Will. Nor need that ſeem ſtrange, (as judicious (p) Rivet obſerveth;) For Faith may be attributed to the Underſtanding by way of Diſpoſition: which is abſolved in the Will by Fiducial Apprehenſion. Or we may ſay, the Heart, Or Soul, is the Subject of Faith, wherein it acts all theſe waies. Whether Faith, as Aſſenting, or as Applying, or as both Aſſenting, and Applying, be Juſtifying Faith? is much diſputed by (q) ſome. For my own part, I do not ſee any Cogent Reaſon, why any of theſe three Acts ſhould be excluded from Juſtifying, which they ſeem to accompliſh joyntly and in ſubordination to one another. And Scripture aſcribes Juſtification and Salvation to them all. viz. To the Knowing act of Faith; (r) By his knowledge ſhall my righteous ſervant juſtify many. (ſ) ---This is life eternal, to know thee the only true God, and Jeſus Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent. To the Aſſenting act; (t) That is the word of Faith which we preach, That if thou ſhalt confeſs with thy mouth the Lord Ieſus, and ſhalt believe in thine heart, that God raiſed him from the dead, thou ſhalt be ſaved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteouſneſs, and with the mouth Confeſſion is made unto Salvation. To the Applying act; (u) For if by one mans offence, death reigned by one: much more they which receive (there's the applying act of faith) abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteouſneſs, ſhall reign in life by one, Ieſus Chriſt. But herein the Applying Act of Faith ſeems to have the preheminence above both the other, as to the points of Juſtification and Salvation: foraſmuch as it alone formally knits us to Chriſt, and compleats our union to him, which is the foundation of all our Communion with him in his righteouſneſs and all other his benefits. The other two Acts only diſpoſing and Preparing us to this union. Thus of Faith's Primary Acts.

(p) Nec valet aliquid, Argumentum πολυθρύλλητον, contra doctrinam illam fidei, quia una & eadem virtus eſſet in duobus ſubjectis, nempe Intellectu & voluntate. (2) Those Acts of Faith that arise from the three first, Or The Secondary Acts of Faith, whereby we walk as justified persons, after our Knowing, Assenting to, and Accepting Christ in the Gospel, are divers. Observable are these especially; viz.

1. Retaining Christ in the heart. Faith is not only as an hand to Receive Christ; but also as an Arme to embrace and hold him fast. Having received Christ into the Heart, it retains Christ still in the Heart. (x) That Christ may dwell in your hearts by Faith. The believing heart, is Christs Home and Habitation. Dwelling, implies his continued and constant abode therein. They are more (y) rooted and built up in him day by day, and stablished in the Faith.

(x) Eph. 3. 17.

(y) Col. 2. 6, 7.

2. Purifying the Heart. In the Synod at Ierusalem, occasioned by some that urged the necessity of Circumcision and of Keeping the Law unto Salvation, Peter declares from his own Experience, How God accepted the Gentiles though uncircumcised, giving them them the Holy Ghost upon his Preaching, as well as formerly to the Jews: (z) and (saith he) he put no difference betwixt us and them, purifying their hearts by Faith. And consequently there was no need to impose Legal Ceremonies upon them: God accepting them savingly without them. Now, Faith Purifies the Heart, Partly, from the guilt of Sin; As it instrumentally (a) receives Christs righteousness. This is the purity of Justification. Partly, from the inherent filth, spot and power of Sin; as it is a part of Sanctification, (b) conflicting against corruption, and by degrees working it out; As the pure wine or honey works out the dross and dregs.

(a) Rom. 5. 17. & 3. 24, 25, 26.

(b) Gal. 5. 17.

3. Refreshing the Soul with peace and joy. With Peace, in that we are now reconciled to God in the blood of Christ, remaining no longer Enemies. With joy; In that we have hope of glory and salvation by Christ. (c) Therefore being justified by Faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Iesus Christ. —— and rejoyce in Hope of the glory of God. To this effect is that Prayer of the Apostle; (d) Now the God of Hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing. Faith Calms the Conscience, and Comforts the Heart.

(c) Rom. 5. 1, 2.

(d) Rom. 15. 13.

4. Breaking forth into good works. Saving Faith is not a Workless, but a Working Faith: fruitful in good worke. This is clear in (e) those Faithful ones catalogued by the Apostle, whose Faith evidenced itself notably in obedience and good works. And elsewhere Paul saith; (f) The work of Faith, the labour of love, the patience of Hope. True: Faith alone justifieth: but justifying Faith is not alone. It is still attended inseparably with good works as the proper fruit of faith. Hence, Iames is positive, (g) That Faith without works is dead, as the body is dead without the Soul.

(e) Heb. 11. throughout.

(f) 1 Thes. 1. 3.

(g) Iam. 2. 17, 20, 26.

5. Working by Love. Faith is working: and it works not servily, slavishly, mercinarily, &c. but sweetly, cheerfully, in all its works. (h) In Iesus Christ neither Circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but Faith which worketh by Love. Faith stirs up love mightily:

(h) Gal. 5. 6.

ly: and by love excited it acts sweetly, pleasantly towards all Gods commands;(i) And his Commands are never grievous to love.

6. Quickning and enlivening the Soul. Faith is the life of a Christian. (k) The just shall live by his Faith. Thus Paul lived; (l) I live, yet not I, but Christ in me. And the life that I now live in the flesh, I live by the Faith of the Son of God. The Soul is the Life of the Body: Faith is the Life of the Soul: Christ and the Promise the Life of Faith. By Faith we not only Live unto Christ as the End of our Faith: but we also live upon Christ, as the Author and finisher of our Faith. We live upon Christ throughout the whole Course of Christianity. We are stupid, dull, and dead in heavenly motions, further then Christ and Faith act us, and Quicken us: but by them we live vitam verè vitalem, a life truly vital and comfortable. Especially this life of Faith is seen in frequent Sufferings and Pangs of Death. Then Faith keeps the Soul from dying and fainting through despondency and despair. The Lord propounded this Act of living by Faith, to the godly Jews, as their support and comfort against their long Captivity in Babylon for 70 years together, out of which they should then certainly be delivered. But mean-while (n) the just should live by his Faith. Job (o) lived by his Faith, in the deep gulph of all those miseries into which he was implunged. The three Jews (p) lived by their faith, against all Nebuchadnezzars threats, and all possible terrours of the fiery furnace. Daniel (q) lived by his Faith, even in the Lyons Den. Those Believers in the days of the Maccabees (r) lived by their Faith in all the variety and extremity of Cruelties that were heaped upon them by the wicked world. Paul (s) lived by his Faith in his many sufferings, perils, and hazzards of Death. And since his dayes what a cloud, yea what a sky of believers mentioned in Ecclesiasticall Historics, have in all ages lived by their Faith most sweetly and gloriously, in bonds, in prisons, in tortures, in flames and most cruel death, breathing out their (t) Living speeches, in dying state!

7. Finally, Conquering all our Spiritual Enemies. Faith in Christ is a most triumphant Conquerour. It fetches Courage and strength continually from Christ, and prevails. 1. Faith subdues the Flesh, within, 1. whilst it (u) purifies the heart, and enables to (x) purify our selves even as God is pure. 2. Faith Conquers the world without, whilst it enables the believer, To deny the worlds Ensnaring Smiles of Prosperity on the right hand, and To despise the worlds amazing frowns of Adversity on the left hand. (y) Whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. Faith raiseth the Soul above all the hopes and Fears of the world. 3. Faith Overcomes the Devil himself and all the power of darkness. By (z) Faith we resist him: and he flies. By (a) the shield of Faith we repel and Quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. At last Faith will put all our foes to flight: and having done all shall triumphantly keep the Field, yea receive the Crown.

These are the Secondary Acts of Faith, flowing from the former. By these we walk as becomes justified persons: after we have known, assented to, and applyed Iesus Christ in the Promises and Gospel, for Justification and Salvation. Thus of Faith's Direct Act.

The Reflect Act of Faith, is Faith's Reflection or looking-back, or Returning in upon itself, whereby it sees or discerns itself believing. As the understanding reflects upon itself, and knows that it understands. (b) Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments. To know Christ, is the Direct Act: To know that we know him, is the Reflect Act. Paul said, (c) I know whom I have believed, or Trusted. To believe, or trust Christ, is the Direct act. To know whom he had believed, is the reflect act, whereby he not only discerned the Object, but also his own Act of believing exercised about it. Now Faith looks back upon itself, and discerns itself to believe by a twofold light, viz. Partly by the light of the word, discovering what true Faith is, and what are the Acts, Properties, Characters or evidences thereof. Partly by the light of Conscience, Evidencing it's own Experiences of Faith conform and suitable to the word; whereupon Faith concludes that it doth believe. And this is Assurance of Evidence: and that not of the Object, but of the Subject. And it is chiefly concluded upon, by discourse and Reasoning (faith being a discursive Grace) in a Practical way. Thus, They that Know, Assent to, and apply the Promises, Gospel and Doctrine of Christ for Justification and Salvation, walking afterwards as justifyed persons, Retaining Christ in the Heart, &c. they have true Faith. But I do so; I Know, Assent, and Apply the Promises, Gospel, and Doctrine of Christ, &c. Therefore I believe. The Proposition in this Discourse is still taken from Scripture: The Assumption from Experience: The Conclusion results from both. Thus of the I. Question.

Quest. II. What is here meant by Justice, or Righteousness? (d) —— And he counted that to him Righteousness. Righteousness is, 1. Divine, and Uncreated: One of the infinite (e) Perfections and Attributes of Gods essence. This is not here spoken of. 2. Humane, and created. Such as Humane Nature is capable of. This is here intended. For Opening whereof, briefly note, 1. The Description of it. 2. The Distribution of it.

Righteousness created may be thus described. Righteousness is (f) A perfect Conformity to, and Agreement with the will and Law of God. Gods will is Primitively, essentially and infinitely righteous: yea righteousness itself. He wills not any thing a posteriori as we do, because it is righteous: but things are righteous, a priori, because he wills them. He is so righteous therefore, That his will and Law must needs be the Rule, Measure and pattern of all Derivative, created and finite Righteousness, in the whole world. What (g) deviates, warps from this Rule, is Unrighteous.

Righteousness

Righteouſneſs, or Juſtice thus Deſcribed, may be Diſtributed (as to our preſent purpoſe) into theſe two ſorts eſpecially. viz. 1. A particular Righteouſneſs of Fact. 2. An univerſal Righteouſneſs of Perſon.

1. The particular Righteouſneſs of Fact, Iuſtitia Facti, is that Righteouſneſs which is aſcribed to any Fact, or work done, whereby ſuch Fact, or work is accounted Righteous, and accepted by God as done righteouſly. And this Righteouſneſs of Fact hath place in Actions, 1. Extraordinary: 2. Ordinary.

1. In Actions Extraordinary. As in that Heroick (h) Act of Phine has the Prieſt, who in his zeal for his God ſlew Zimri and Cozbi with a Javelin for their uncleanneſs. Which Fact was ſo accepted by God from that pious Prieſt, that he Commends his zeal highly, ſtaies the plague that was upon Iſrael preſently, and Promiſes him and his Seed the Covenant of an everlaſting Prieſthood. And therefore ſaith the Pſalmiſt; (i) Then ſtood up Phineha's, and executed judgement, and ſo the Plague was ſtayed. And that was counted unto him for righteouſneſs unto all generations for evermore. Here he ſpeaks not of that univerſal Righteouſneſs whereby his perſon was juſtified, (as (k) Rivet well obſerves:) but of the righteouſneſs of that Particular Fact, which (if God had not approved it) might have been reputed unjuſt; becauſe he, being a Prieſt, and not a political Magiſtrate, executed judgement, which did not properly belong to his office: This according to ſtrictneſs of Ordinary Rules, was unjuſt: but God approved the Fact, and all after-generations thereupon applaud it, and acknowledge it righteous, though done without ordinary warrant and Authority. As (l) Ainſworth, (m) Calvin, (n) Simeon de Muis, &c. intimate. And this ſeems to be the intent of the Pſalmiſt.

2. In Actions Ordinary. As, when righteous perſons do works of righteouſneſs in faith and integrity of heart, though thoſe works cannot endure the exact trial of the Law, nor can juſtifie their perſons before God, much infirmity and imperfection cleaving to them: yet God is ſo well-pleaſed with them of his free-Grace, that he accounts them to the doers as righteous actions through Chriſt, and covers their imperfections by his perfect merit and interceſſion. Thus God (o) counted and accepted Abel's works as righteous: condemning Cain's as wicked. To this effect Moſes ſaid; (p) And it ſhall be our righteouſneſs, if we obſerve to do all theſe Commandments, before the LORD our God, as he hath commanded us: And elſewhere: (q) In any caſe thou ſhalt deliver him the pledge again when the Sun goeth down, that he may ſleep in his own rayment, and bleſs thee: and it ſhall be righteouſneſs unto thee before the LORD thy God. that is, The Lord ſhall accept and account this as a righteous Act in thee.

Now here in Abraham's caſe we are not to underſtand A Particular ticular righteousness of Fact: either Extraordinary, or Ordinary. For, Such Righteousness, though of Gods free-Grace and acceptance in Christ it justifie the Action, yet it justifies not the Person.

2. The universal righteousness of Person, Justitia Personæ, is that Righteousness whereby a mans Person (not this, or that individual act) is justified before God, in regard of his universal and perfect Conformity to the will and Law of God; and this Righteousness, though in the (r) General Notion and Substance thereof, it be one and the same: yet in regard of the Particular Circumstances thereof, is chiefly twofold. viz. Legal; and Evangelical. Of Works: and of Faith. Inherent in us: and Imputed to us.

(r) The Righteousness of the Law and of the Gospel are not two several kinds of Righteousness, but the same in regard of the Matter and Substance thereof; Only they differ in the Subject and manner of Application. The Righteousness of works is that Holiness and Obedience which is inherent in our own persons, and performed by our selves; The righteousness of Faith is the same Holiness and Obedience inherent in the person of Christ, and performed by him, but embraced by our Faith, and accepted by God as done in our stead, and for our benefit. Mr. William Pemble in his Treat. of Justification. Sect. 1. (hap. 1.

That it is no other righteousness, then what the Law prescribes for Substance, whereof in justification we are made partakers, that one place in Rom. 9. 32 is clear. Where, the Apostle giving a reason why the Iews that followed the Law of righteousness, &c.. W. Sclater on Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8. p. 51.

1. Legal righteousness of works inherent in us, is our exact and perfect Conformity to the will and Law of God in all things. And this righteousness is either, 1. Active, or 2. Passive. 1. Active; when Perfect and perpetual Personal Obedience is performed to the whole Law. Such as so perform, are perfectly righteous according to the Law or Covenant of works: but such as fail in the least particular, are cursed. (s) Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the Law to do them. (t) Adam, and we all in him, in Innocency, had perfect ability to perform this Righteousness: and was in his person created with exact integrity and Conformity to Gods Law. 2. Passive; when full Satisfaction is given in every point to the justice of God for the breach of the Law, by enduring the utmost penalties which the rigour of the Law could possibly exact for such delinquency. Such an one as shall so satisfie the Law fully by suffering, is Legally a righteous person: as well as he that fulfils the Law by doing. The Nature of penal Laws, will easily evince this. 1. Partly, In that the will of the Law-giver is satisfyed by compleat enduring the Penalty. He Primarily intended Active fulfilling of his Law by Obedience: but Secondarily, Passive enduring the Penalty in case of disobedience, should give him Satisfaction. Else to what end did he impose any limited Penalty? 2. Partly, In that the Law-givers Honour or Benefit is advanced as much by Passive Enduring the penalty of the Law, as by Active fulfilling of the Law. Forasmuch as the Penalty, if wisely imposed, is every way adequate and equivalent to the Obedience. If therefore Adam and his Posterity had persisted still in their Perfect Active Obedience

(s) Gal. 3. 10.

(t) Gen 1. 26, 27. with Eccl. 7. 29.

Obedience to the Law: Or after their fall could fully have endured the Penalty of the Law, and not have been ſwallowed up with it, they had been counted righteous. (u) For if there had been a Law given that would have given life, verily righteouſneſs ſhould have been by the Law. But (x) the Law could not do it, being weak through our fleſh. For we can neither perform the Duty of it, Actively; Nor fully Satisfie the Penalty of it, Paſsively.

(u) Gal. 3. 21.

(x) Rom. 8. 3.

2. Evangelical Righteouſneſs of Faith in Chriſt imputed to us, is That Exact conformity of Chriſt and his Obedience Active and Paſsive to the Law of God, which of free grace is Imputed to us by Faith for righteouſneſs, and is as fully accounted ours by God, as if it were inherent in us. This Righteouſneſs is inherent in Chriſt, and performed by him in our ſtead, and ſo accepted by God: And it is only made ours by Gods gracious Imputation through Faith. Hereby we are as compleatly juſtified before God, as if we had exactly perſevered in our primitive integrity, and had never ſinned. In this Evangelical righteouſneſs two things are to be conſidered, viz. 1. The Matter of our Righteouſneſs or Juſtification. That is, Chriſt and his righteouſneſs or Obedience. He is (y) The LORD our Righteouſneſs. He is (z) made of God to us Righteouſneſs. (a) —— By the Righteouſneſs of this one, the free gift came upon all men unto juſtification of life. —— By the Obedience of this one ſhall many be made righteous. 2. The Condition, thing, or Inſtrumental Mean required on our part unto Juſtification and righteouſneſs, is true Faith. (b) The righteouſneſs of God without the Law is manifeſted, being witneſſed by the Law and the Prophets. Even the righteouſneſs of God which is by Faith of Jeſus Chriſt, unto all and upon all them that believe. Hence this Evangelical righteouſneſs is called (c) the righteouſneſs of Faith. Theſe two are diligently and diſtinctly to be obſerved; For, our Juſtification is aſcribed to them both; and not only (d) Righteouſneſs is ſaid to be imputed, but alſo (e) Faith is ſaid to be Imputed for righteouſneſs. Now here in Abraham's caſe That Righteouſneſs which was Imputed to him, and ſhall be imputed to all his believing Seed, was not Legal, but Evangelical Righteouſneſs. As hereafter will more fully appear.

Queſt. III. What is meant by Counting, or Imputing? (f) And he counted that, (or imputed that) to him righteouſneſs. The Hebrew word חשב uſed here, and afterwards oft elſewhere in the Old Teſtament, The (g) Apoſtle Renders, by the Greek word λογίζεται, Both theſe words have a very large and manifold Signification, both in Old and New Teſtament. As, 1. To think, Gen. 50. 20. and often Rom. 2. 3. 2. To Reaſon, Argue, or Diſpute, Pſal. 73. 16. Mark 11. 31. or to conclude upon diſpute, Rom. 3. 28. 3. To repute, account, reckon, adjudge, &c. Pſal. 44. 22. Rom. 8. 36. & 6. 11. & 8. 18. Reſult of all. 4. To impute, Attribute to, aſcribe to, charge upon, &c. 2 Sam. 19. 19, 20. Pſal. 32. 2. & 106. 31. Rom. 4. 3. &c. Theſe are ſome principal ſignifications of the words. Conſider we now the thing itſelf ſignified by theſe words, as it moſt concerns the matter in hand. And this, 1. More Generally, 2. More Particularly.

1. More Generally, To impute (as learned (h) Rivet hath well noted) is to tranſcribe, transfer, tranſlate, or put over, the Cauſe of any thing, upon any one, or to aſcribe it unto him. And this, whether it be truly his, or not his, and that either for Good, or Evil. To impute then is To aſcribe a matter Good, or Evil, or the Cauſe thereof, to any one, which is in him, or not in him.

(h) imputare enim ſignificat, vel. agnoſcere id quod in unoquoq; vere eſt, eius eſſe, illiq; tribuere; vel ei tribuere quod tamen ejus non eſt, ſive in bonum ſive in malum. Eſt enim in genere alicuj us rei cauſam in aliquem tranſcribere, vel transferre, aut ei aſcribere. Sic Ulpianus in lege. 1. parag. item quæritur. De Separat. Sibi imputent quo minus idoneum fidejuſſorem acceperint, id eſt, aſcribant & tribuant. Item apud Iurlic. Imputare ſignificat acceptum ſeu expenſum ferre, Vt imputare ſibi debet, qui credulus fuit. Lege 1. §. Dolum. ff. De eo per quem factum. Priori modo quo alicui imputatur quod in eo vere eſt, imputantur peccata, & imputatur Stultitia, Job 42. Altero Paulus ad Philem. vult ſibi Imputari factum Oneſimi, &c. Andr. Rivet. in Gen. 15. Exercitat. 83.

2. More Particularly, Imputation is twofold. viz. 1. Of that which is evil. 2. Of that which is Good; to any one.

1. Imputation of that which is evil to any one, is done two waies. 1. Juſtly, and Legally. When the Evil imputed or aſcribed to any one, or the Cauſe thereof, are indeed in the Subject or perſon in one regard or another unto whom they are imputed. Thus impious and Sacrilegious blood, was by Moſes Law to be imputed to him that impiouſly and ſacrilegiouſly ſhould intrude into the Prieſts office, and kill Sacrifice anywhere, in, or out of the Camp, and not at the door of the Tabernacle. (i) Blood ſhall be imputed unto that man, he hath ſhed blood: Say ſome; (k) He ſhall be reputed as guilty as worthy of Death, as if he had killed a man. But that acute Gomarus ſeems better to interpret it; (l) Blood ſhall be imputed. viz. not the unjuſt ſlaughter of a man: but the impious, prophane and ſacrilegious ſlaughter of a beaſt. And the following expoſition confirms this interpretation; He hath ſhed blood. viz. the blood of a beaſt Sacrilegiouſly, himſelf being no prieſt; and prophanely, in a prophane place. Thus, Shimei, that had been guilty of much iniquity againſt King David, ſupplicates to him, (m) Not to impute iniquity to him, &c. Thus all Adam's Poſterity (n) Sinning in him in his Fall, have that iniquity charged upon them, as well as upon Adam, and all dyed with him. Thus, Debt is imputed to the Surety, as well as to the Principal, becauſe hee hath undertaken to pay it. As Paul for Oneſimus; (o) If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee any thing, impute that to mee. I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it. And in this ſenſe, (p) Chriſt was made ſin for us; (q) ——— and the iniquities of us all were laid upon him. viz. They were all imputed to him, and he was by puniſhment reſponſible to God for them them as if they had been his own: because he willingly became our Surety. 2, Unjustly, illegally, or undeservedly; when a fault is imputed to a person innocent thereof, and punishment is inflicted upon him that hath neither offended in his own person, nor hath undertaken any Suretyship for the offendor. Thus Judah (r) accounted, adjudged, (its the same word which elsewhere is rendered, Imputed) thought his daughter in Law Tamar (sitting disguised by the way side, so that he knew her not) to be an whore: but she was not an whore, till at that time he made her one. Thus when Hannah with a troubled and sorrowful spirit poured out her soul to God, (s) Eli seeing her lips move, but hearing no voice, accounted her drunk, imputed drunkenness to her, (its the same Hebrew word); but unjustly, undeservedly. Thus Naboth (t) had blasphemy unjustly laid to his charge, by two false witnesses: for which he, though innocent, was stoned to Death. Thus David the Type of Christ, (u) was accounted unjust, when he restored that which he took not away. And Jesus Christ the Antitype was condemned as a blasphemer, for (x) acknowledging himself to be the Son of God: but most unjustly; for he was the Son of God indeed, yea in some sense, (y) the only Son of God.

(2) Imputation of that which is Good, is done chiefly three ways; viz. 1. Of Injustice; When Righteousness of Person or Action, is imputed to an Unjust Person or to an unjust fact: So that the unrighteous is justified, and acquitted contrary to Law and Equity. God pronounces a Wo upon them, (z) Which justifie the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him. (a) —— He that saith unto the wicked, thou art righteous; him shall the people curse. Nations shall abhor him. (b) —— He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the LORD. 2. Of Iustice, Right, or Debt; when that is imputed or reckoned to one which is his right, his due. As when righteousness is imputed to Persons or Actions that indeed are righteous. In this sense the Apostle saith, (c) To him that worketh, is the Reward not reckoned, (or, imputed) of Grace, but of debt. 3. Of Grace; The Apostle plainly intimates, There's an (d) Imputation, or Reckoning to one, of Grace, as well as of debt. Now this Imputation of Grace, is, when righteousness is imputed of meer grace, not at all of debt, to them that in themselves are unrighteous, and they (though guilty) are acquitted: yet not contrary to justice, but upon just and equitable Considerations. Thus Christ having by his obedience fulfilled the Law, and fully satisfied Gods justice for the sins of his Elect, his (e) obedience and righteousness are through faith imputed to them, and thereby they justifi'd. This Imputation of Grace, is (f) the Imputation intended in the Justification of Abraham: and so proportionably in the justifying of all his Seed. Now there are three things that Scripture intimates to be Imputed of Grace to Abraham and his Seed, to Justification, Juſtification, viz. (f) Righteouſneſs. (g) Even as David alſo deſcribeth the bleſſedneſs of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteouſneſs without works. And again; (h) —— That righteouſneſs might be imputed to them alſo: that is, to the faithful Seed of Abraham among the Gentiles, as well as among the Iews. What righteouſneſs? Their own inherent, or acted Righteouſneſs? Then they ſhould be juſtified by works: and might have whereof to glory. Therefore it muſt needs be Chriſts righteouſneſs that is imputed to them. He is (i) The LORD our righteouſneſs. He (k) is made of God Righteouſneſs to us. (2) Obedience of Chriſt, is a ſecond thing which the Scripture implicitly intimates to be imputed to juſtification. Doth not that phraſe imply ſo much? (l) As by one man's Diſobedience many were made Sinners: So by the Obedience of one ſhall many be made righteous. How? but by imputation of that Obedience. Many were made Sinners by imputation of the firſt Adam's diſobedience to them: So, many ſhall be made righteous by imputation of the ſecond Adam's Obedience to them. (3) Faith in Chriſt, is the third thing which is ſaid to be Imputed to juſtification. (m) Faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteouſneſs. (n) —Now it was not written for his ſake alone, that it was imputed to him: but for ours alſo to whom it ſhall be imputed, if we believe on him that raiſed up Ieſus our Lord from the dead. Theſe are the three things which are Imputed of free Grace for juſtification: The Imputation of Faith being hardeſt of them all to be underſtood. And this (o) Imputation of Grace is mentioned by Paul ten ſeveral times in one chapter. But enough of the third Queſtion.

Queſt. IV. What it was which the Lord imputed to Abraham for righteouſneſs: and How that was ſo imputed to him? Anſw Here are two Queſtions joyned together, becauſe dependent one upon the other. I ſhall ſpeak to them diſtinctly and ſeverally; Showing 1. What was Imputed, &c. 2. How it was Imputed.

1. What was imputed to Abraham for righteouſneſs? Anſw. Abrahams Faith, or Believing was imputed, or reckoned to him for righteouſneſs. This is clear, 1. From the plain ſenſe of that text; (p) Abraham believed in the LORD, and he imputed that to him righteouſneſs. He imputed that. What? That his believing in the LORD; The words will bear no other ſenſe, without forcing them. 2. From the Apoſtles allegation and interpretation of this text: who expreſly affirms; (q) His faith is Counted for righteouſneſs. And again; (r) —— We ſay, that Faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteouſneſs. Abraham's believing then was the thing which was imputed or counted to him for righteouſneſs. What believing, or Faith? The Habit, or the Act? If the Act: then what Act? and whether was not Abraham a juſtified perſon before that time that this Teſtimony was given of him? Here are divers doubts. I ſhall endevour to reſolve and clear them in theſe few poſitions or aſſertions. viz.

1. Not

1. Not the Habit of Faith, but the Act of Faith, was imputed to him for righteousness. For Moses directly mentioneth the Act; (s) He believed in the LORD. Which phrase denotes plainly the Acting and Exercising of his Faith, had: not barely his having of Faith.

(s) Gen. 15. 6.

2. Not only the Assenting Act of his Faith, whereby he Consented to the Promise of God as true, was imputed to him for righteousness, (as some think:) but the Knowing, Assenting, and Applying Acts of Faith joyntly together. For, (t) He believed in the LORD; that is, He knew the Promises revealed: He Assented to the Promise known, as true: And he Apply'd to himself with Affiance and trust, the promise Assented to. In this particular case of Abraham, believing in the LORD denotes his affiance, confidence, or Trust in him: And trust still presupposeth Knowledge and Assent.

(t) Gen. 15. 6.

3. This his (u) believing in the LORD, which here was imputed to him for righteousness, had (in that Promise, So shall thy Seed be,) peculiar and principal respect to his Eminent Seed Jesus Christ, in whom Abrahams Seed should so be multiplyed both among Jews and Gentiles, and spiritually blessed.

(u) Gen. 15. 6. with Rom. 4. 16. to the end.

4. Finally, Though this be the first time that Gods Counting or Imputing of Abraham's believing for righteousness, is mentioned: yet doubtless even before this time he was a true Believer, and Consequently a justified person. For, when at first God called Abraham from Chaldea to Canaan, he called him also effectually from Idols to the living God, and made him a true believer. (x) By Faith Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. Therefore having true justifying Faith then, and acting it, he questionless was then justified. And here a long time after his First Call, his believing is imputed to him for righteousness. So that Abraham was justified before: and now justified again. How can this be? Here, 1. Papists (y) say, (according to their fond distinction of First and Second Justification) that this place is not to be understood of his first Justification, whereby of impious he was made just; but of his second Justification, whereby of Just he is made more just. But this opinion of theirs is bottom'd upon a false supposition, that Justification and Sanctification are one and the same, and admit of degrees: whereas they are utterly different. And though Sanctification admits of degrees, and may be increased: yet Justification admits of none in it self. 2. Some say, These words have reference to Abraham's first justification, though mentioned upon this occasion. As if the sense were, Abraham believed with that faith which at first was imputed to him for righteousness, and which imbraced not only this next promise, but also all promises fore-going. 3. But what inconvenience will it be to say with others, (z) That every believing in the Lord according to his Promises of Christ, is imputed to righteousness?

(x) Heb. 11. 8. with Gen. 12. 1, &c.

(y) Estius in Epist. ad Roman. c. 4.

(z) Andr. Rivet. in Exercitat 83. ad Gen. 15. p. 403, 404.

For, though Justification be in a moment, and the effect of it be never wholly lost in the justified: yet the sense and apprehension of that justification had need often to be renewed for the comfort of the justified, which sense is by Faith; and thereupon Faith may be said to be imputed to righteousness, upon every such apprehension, though twice, thrice, ten times, ten thousand times over. For Faith, and the apprehension of it, hath its ebbings and flowings. Besides, the Saints invincible infirmities, and too frequent lapses, put faith upon many sad plunges, and dim their Evidences for justification. Yet are there not Many justifications, or more then one: but Many effects of one and the same justification, or rather of one and the same Faith which is imputed unto righteousness.

II. How was believing imputed to Abraham for righteousness? Answ. This is (in my judgement) the most knotty, subtile, and intricate Question of all other about this Fundamental Article of Justification: yet most necessary to be enquired into, and rightly understood, both 1. for Obtaining of the right Sense of Scripture; 2. for the more full improving of our Comfort in this grand point of justification; and 3. for the better avoiding of the Popish, Socinian, and Arminian Errours thereabouts. Here therefore those Opinions and Interpretations which are unsound, shall be briefly propounded and refelled: and afterwards that which is sound, and agreeable to Scripture, explained and asserted. Here are chiefly four Interpetations considerable.

1. The First Interpretation is of those who say, and that more grosly, 1. That Faith is counted or imputed for righteousness, or Faith justifieth as An Efficient and Meritorious Cause: As if the merit and worth of the Habit or Act of Faith, impetrated and deserved justification at Gods hands, and had the force of a proper efficient cause meritoriously to procure it. And this is the opinion of Rome; As (*) Bellarmine expresseth it: That Faith justifies not Relatively, as it apprehends by believing what God offers by promising, viz. Christs righteousness; but formally, by way of Cause, Dignity, or Merit, impetrating, deserving, meriting, and after its manner inchoating Justification. See his own words.

But

But this Popiſh opinion we utterly reject, as quite contrary to Scripture, upon theſe and like Conſiderations, viz.

1. Becauſe, Nothing can merit or deſerve juſtification from God, as a debt due of juſtice; but that which is abſolutely and exactly perfect, according to the Law of juſtice. For, that which is imperfect, and comes ſhort of what is due, deſerves no Remunerative, but rather a Punitive Recompence. Now (b) Faith and all the Acts thereof are, as all other graces, Imperfect, and only Growing on to perfection: and mixed with many infirmities, doubts, ſtaggerings, &c. which infirmities had need to be covered with Chriſts righteouſneſs, and waſhed away with his blood: otherwiſe they were enough (c) to deſerve eternal Death. A (d) ſervant (as our Saviour intimates) when he hath done what his Maſter commanded him, deſerves not ſo much as thanks from his Maſter: So likewiſe ye, when ye ſhall have done all thoſe things which are commanded you, (in all which, the beſt many ways fall ſhort,) ſay, we are unprofitable ſervants: we have done that which was our duty to do. Let us firſt pay our due debt which we owe to God; before we dream of meriting from God. We can merit Damnation, but no Salvation. (e) Our goodneſs and righteouſneſs may profit men: cannot at all profit God. (f) Who hath firſt given to him? and it ſhall be recompenced to him again. Should the Lord exactly obſerve the beſt ſervices of his beſt ſervants, how much matter of condemnation might he find in them! David himſelf prays, (g) Enter not into judgement with thy ſervant: for in thy ſight ſhall no man living be juſtified. (h) If thou LORD ſhouldſt mark iniquity, O Lord who ſhould ſtand? How fondly therefore doth Bellarmine aſcribe Meriting unto Faith, with his mincing terms, and ſuo quadam modo's? He would fain have Faith to merit righteouſneſs: if he well knew how. Herein he deals worſe then that rotten Council of Trent, (which Papiſts prefer before the very Bible.) For it ſaith; (i) We are therefore ſaid to be juſtified freely, becauſe nothing of thoſe things which go before juſtification, whether Faith, or works, doth deſerve (or merit) the grace of juſtification, &c.

2. Becauſe, Juſtification, in reſpect of any thing at all in man, is of Meer divine Grace in Chriſt. God is not moved or inclined, by any thing at all in man: or for the dignity, worth, or vertue thereof, to juſtifie man: but meerly by his own free grace, and Chriſts perfect obedience. (k) For all have ſinned, and come ſhort of the glory of God. Being juſtified freely by his Grace, through the redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt. Now Gods free favour and grace in Chriſt, and Mans merit, cannot conſiſt together in the point of juſtification.

(k) Rom. 3. 23 24.

3. Becauſe, If juſtification be merited by Faith, and belong to it as a Reward of debt, Then this plainly destroys the Apostles difference betwixt The Worker and The Believer in the manner of obtaining righteousness; viz. that the perfect Worker hath righteousness paid to him as of debt: but the believer hath righteousness freely given him as of grace. But certainly the Apostle could not mistake in propounding that difference. (l) Now to him that worketh, is the Reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt: But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. And therefore Faith can never merit or deserve justification from God, being herein opposed to working and meriting.

(l) Rom. 4. 4, 5.

4. Because, Could man merit, or in any sense deserve righteousness at Gods hands by Faith's force, or efficacy, or working; Then a man should be justified by working, and have matter of boasting and glorying in himself. But God hath purposely so contrived our Justification by Faith (m) without works, that all matter and colour of Self-boasting, or Self-glorying might utterly be excluded for ever. (n) God is the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus. Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what Law? Of Works? Nay; but by the Law of Faith. And this is after applyed to Abraham's case; (o) For if Abraham were justified by works, he had whereof to Glory, But not before God, that is, But he hath not any thing whereof to glory, at least before God. Therefore he was not justified by works.

5. Finally, Bellarmines Arguments are as weak, as his opinion is fond, which he would maintain by them. I will not trouble my self with particular Confuting of them; But refer the Reader to them (p) that have done it already.

2. The second Interpretation is, of others, who declare their Opinion here more smoothly and cunningly, to this Effect. viz. That the very Act of Faith, that is, the τὸ credere, is imputed for righteousness, and that in a proper sense, not Metonymically. And that Christ and his righteousness, or Obedience, are not imputed for righteousness, nor can be so imputed. For, whatsoever is imputed unto, or for righteousness, that same thing is not that very righteousness strictly and rigidly taken. But Christs righteousness which he performed by obeying his father, is that very righteousness strictly and rigidly taken. Therefore it is not imputed for righteousness. And this is (q) Arminius his opinion in express terms, who fancies Imputation only to signifie A Gracious estimation of something to one, which it is not. As if a debtor owing 100 Florens, shall pay 10. and his creditour forgives him the rest; saying, I impute this to thee as paid, I will require no more of thee. So that, with him, Imputation signifying in it self only A Gracious estimation, doth oth ſt ill imply the Imperfection of that which is imputed. This Senſe of (Imputation) he borrowed from that wretched Heretick Socinus. Arminius broached this his Opinion with great craft and ſubtilty; at firſt moſt Covertly, afterwards more Openly. (r) Conradus Vorſtius, (s) Peter Bertius, (t) Epiſcopius, and the Reſt of the Remonſtrants go the ſame way.

(q) Let the judicious Reader exactly compare these places in Arminius his writings together. viz. Epist. ad Hypolyt. a Coll. p. 772. 773. ——Disput. pub. xix Sect. 7. ——Declaratio Sententiæ. p. 102. ——Respons. ad xxxi. Articul. Art. 4. p. 137. Edit. 1631.

(r) Vorſt. Antibel. Pag. 106. —— Et Comment. in Epiſt. ad Rom. 4 3,4. (s) Pet. Bert. in Collat. cum Sib. Lubber. (t) Epiſcop. in Theſ. de juſtificatione.

In brief, their opinion doth clearly amount to thus much; That the righteouſneſs or Obedience of Chriſt is not Imputed for righteouſneſs: but the very Act of believing, the πιστευειν is in a proper ſenſe, not Metonymically imputed for righteouſneſs. Not that it is that very exact and perfect righteouſneſs according to the rigour and ſeverity of Gods judgement, and his Law: but that it is graciouſly accepted and eſteemed in ſtead of perfect righteouſneſs, and ſo imputed for righteouſneſs, through the Mercy of God, and obedience, oblation and merit of Chriſt, the cauſes of that Imputation.

Now this Arminian Opinion, about the Manner of Gods Imputing Faith unto righteouſneſs, we reject as very unſound and erroneous; And that upon theſe enſuing Conſiderations, and ſuch like. viz. Becauſe,

1. Hereby, The Imputation of Chriſt, of his righteouſneſs, and of his Obedience, for our juſtification, is plainly and groſsly denyed; contrary to the Scriptures. There are three ſorts of phraſes or expreſſions in Scripture, which duly conſidered, may clear The imputation of Chriſts righteouſneſs and Obedience for our juſtification.

(1) Such Scriptures as teſtifie, That Righteouſneſs is imputed. As, (u) Abraham received the ſign of Circumciſion a Seal of the righteouſneſs of the Faith which he had yet being uncircumciſed: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumciſed; That Righteouſneſs might be imputed to them alſo. What Righteouſneſs? The Righteouſneſs of Faith, as its ſtiled in the beginning of the verſe. This righteouſneſs of Faith was to be imputed to all believing Gentiles alſo, though uncircumciſed. Why, Alſo? It relates to Abraham. The ſenſe is; That righteouſneſs of faith might be imputed to them alſo, as well as it was imputed to Abraham. So then, The righteouſneſs of Faith was imputed to Abraham: as well as faith imputed to him for righteouſneſs. But what's this righteouſneſs of Faith? (x) Not our own righteouſneſs which is of the Law: but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt, the righteouſneſs which is of God by Faith. Another Scripture is yet more clear; (y) David deſcribeth the bleſſedneſs of the man unto whom God imputeth righteouſneſs without works. Here righteouſneſs without works is imputed to Davids bleſſed man. I demand therefore, what righteouſneſs this is? And to what end it is imputed? 1. The righteouſneſs which is here ſaid to be imputed, muſt either be our own, inherent in us and wrought by us: Or anothers, inherent in, and wrought by another. Our own it cannot be; for, our own righteouſneſs is (z) a righteouſneſs of the law, a righteouſneſs of works:

works: but this is here ſtiled Righteouſneſs without works; viz. without works in reſpect of us, but not in reſpect of Chriſt. It is therefore Another's righteouſneſs. Whoſe? Can any be once imagined but Chriſts? Chriſts righteouſneſs then is that righteouſneſs which is here ſaid to be imputed. 2. To what End now is Chriſts righteouſneſs imputed to any? Is it not for juſtification? Can any other End be rationally excogitated? For, imputation of Chriſts righteouſneſs to us, what is it elſe but Gods gracious reckoning or accounting Chriſts righteouſneſs to be ours? and is not this our juſtification, That Chriſts righteouſneſs is ours?

(2) Such Scriptures as teſtifie That Chriſt is our Righteouſneſs. As, (a) This is his name whereby he ſhall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. Its a Propheſieof Chriſt, promiſing him to be the Churches Righteouſneſs. And the Apoſtle ſaith; (b) Of him are ye in Chriſt Jeſus, who of God is made unto us Wiſdom and Righteouſneſs, and Sanctification, and Redemption. So then, Jeſus Chriſt as mediator is made of God Righteouſneſs to us; that is, the Matter of our righteouſneſs and juſtification before God. And beſides Chriſt and his Obedience, we find nothing in all the Scriptures ſaid to be made Righteouſneſs to us of God. Not Faith, nor Works, nor any thing beſides Chriſt, is made Righteouſneſs. Chriſt alone is the matter of our Righteouſneſs; As God alone is the Author of our Righteouſneſs. But how hath God made Chriſt the matter of our Righteouſneſs? chiefly four waies, viz. 1. By his Decree, eternally (c) ordaining him thereunto. 2 By his Promiſe, from the Fall till the fulneſs of time, aſſuring his People that he ſhould be (d) their Righteouſneſs. 3. By his Exhibition in fulneſs of time, when Chriſt came into the world to fulfil all righteouſneſs by his Obedience, (e) which he Compleatly effected. 4. By Actual application of Chriſt and his Obedience in due time to his Elect upon their effectual Calling: by his gratious Imputation of his righteouſneſs to them; As he did to theſe (f) called Corinthians. Chriſt may be made Righteouſneſs for us, by Decree, Promiſe and Exhibition: But cannot properly be ſaid to be made Righteouſneſs to us, except only by Actual Application of Chriſt to us as Righteouſneſs. And Chriſt is not on Gods part applyed to us as Righteouſneſs, but only by Imputation. Chriſt therefore is our Righteouſneſs, made of God righteouſneſs to us: that is, God imputes Chriſt to us as our Righteouſneſs.

(3) Such Scriptures as witneſs, That by Chriſt, and by his Obedience, we are made righteous, yea the Righteouſneſs of God; and that in ſuch ſort as Chriſt was made Sin for us, and as we were made Sinners by Adam's diſobedience. (g) As by one man's diſobedience many were made Sinners: So by the Obedience of one ſhall many be made righteous. Here's a Parallel, 1. Betwixt two Perſons, viz. The firſt Adam, and the Second Adam Chriſt: two univerſal perſons, in reference reference to their respective Posterities, Natural and Spiritual. 2. Betwixt the Carriage and Deportment of these two Adams towards God; viz. The first Adam's Disobedience; The Second Adam's Obedience. 3. Betwixt the Effects and Consequents of their Carriage. By the First Adam's Disobedience many that is, all his meer Natural Seed were made Sinners: By the Second Adam's Obedience, many (that is, All his elect Spiritual Seed,) shall be made righteous. 4. Betwixt the Manner how these several Consequents of their Carriages are derived to their Many, their respective Seeds. As Adam's disobedience made his Many, Sinners: so Christs Obedience shall make his many, righteous. But, How, or in what manner were many made Sinners by Adam's disobedience? If we accurately observe the Apostles intent and Scope in this Chapter, he so speaks as to let us know, Many were made Sinners by Adam's disobedience: Not Actually: For so they made themselves Sinners by (h) acting their Original corruption, and all do not Sin (i) actually who yet are made Sinners by Adam's disobedience, and thereupon liable to Death. Not Habitually, or Originally: For, So they are made Sinners, that is, defiled with Original Corruption of Nature, by (k) Propagation and natural Generation. And here the Apostle intends their being made Sinners, before they were made or had actual being, and consequently before Original sin could be upon them, or Actual sin be by them: viz. (l) by Adam's one Offence, (as the words may well be translated.) How was that? But only Imputatively, or by Gods just Imputation of that one offence of Adam to all his posterity; who at that time were all but as one Person in Adam, and all as one Party together with Adam in the First Covenant of works with God. For God Covenanted with Adam and all his Natural Seed in him (as (m) formerly I have shewed;) and they all made but one Party: He standing, they stood; he Sinning, they Sinned. His Sin was imputed to them. Even so, Many, that is, All Christs Elect Seed; (who (n) together with Christ make also but one Fœderate Part, As God the other,) shall be made righteous by Christs Obedience: that is, Imputatively. His obedience shall be imputed to them for righteousness or justification. So that this Text, intentively considered, doth notably Evince The Imputation of Christs Obedience to us for righteousness or justification. Take another pregnant Text, (o) He hath made him to be Sin for us, who knew no Sin: that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. Whence it is evident, That as Christ was made Sin for us, So we are made the righteousness of God in him. How was that? Christ was made Sin for us: Not by Inhesion; no sin did ever inhere or stick to Christs person. He was holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from Sinners. (q) A Lamb without spot and blemish. Nor by Perpetration; He (r) did no evil, no guile was in his mouth. Thus, he knew no sin, but by Imputation; Christ willingly became Surety for his Elect; therefore God put and charged charged all their debts and Sins upon Christ, He imputed all their Sin to him to his Condemnation, He was reckoned as a Sinner, and punished as a Sinner. Even So we are made the righteousneß of God in him, Even perfect righteousnes, such as God will find no fault with, but fully accept. How? Not by Inherence of it in us; Nor by Performance of it by us; But by Imputation of Christs righteousnes to us; Christs righteousnes is the Righteousneß of God: This alone God hath devised, This only God will accept for Sinners justification, And this also is the righteousnes of him who is God. So then, Christs righteousnes is imputed to us to make us the righteousnes of God: that is, Christs Righteousnes is imputed to us for perfect justification before God.

Whilst therefore Arminius and his party deny the Imputation of Christ, of his righteousnes, or of his Obedience, to us for righteousnes and justification, they go contrary to the Scriptures, and do greatly err.

2. By this Opinion, They derogate too much from Christ and his righteousneß, and arrogate too much to Faith in this point of our Justification. For, they meerly deny Christ and his obedience to be the Object of justification or divine Imputation: & assert Faith to be that Object. Thus (f) Arminius plainly. And what is this, but to make Faith the Matter of our righteousnes: and not Christ Or his Obedience? yea under pretence of Faith's gracious acceptation in and for Christ, to exclude and thrust Christ quite out from the Matter of our justification: As if Christs righteousnes were not our righteousnes, but only the procuring or Meritorious cause, why God graciously imputes Faith to us for righteousnes? This is to strip Christ of his glory: and to invest Faith therewith. This is to make Christ subordinate to Faith, and not Faith Subordinate to Christ, in our Justification. This is to set the servant above the Lord, and not the Lord above the Servant. This is to prefer an imperfect Faith, before the perfect Saviour of Sinners, the All-perfect Son of God.

(f) Hoc autem culpant nonnulli, quod ipsum fidei actum, id est, τὸ crédere, dico imputari in justitiam, idq; proprio sensu, non Metonymice. Fateor sane præeunte mihi Apostolo, cap. 4. Epist. ad Rom. & sæpius istam phrasin usurpante. At quod inde concludunt, nempe sic Christum ejusque justitiam à justificatione nostra excludi, tamque dignitati fidei nostræ tribui, minime concedo deduci ex mea sententia posse. Vox enim imputandi significat fidem non esse ipsam justitiam, sed gratiose pro justitia haberi; quo ipso omnis dignitas à fide aufertur, nisi quæ est per gratiosam dignationem Dei. Gratiosa autem illa dignatio & æstimatio non est extra Christum, sed respectu Christi, in Christo, & propter Christum, quem constituit Deus placamentum per fidem in sanguine ipsius. Dico igitur fidem imputari nobis in justitiam, propter Christum & justitiam ejus. In qua Enunciatione, fides est objectum imputationis, Christus vero & obedientia ejus Causa justificationis Impetratoria seu Meritoria: Qui Christus cum obedientia sua objectum est fidei nostræ, at non objectum justificationis seu imputationis divinæ, quasi Deus Christum ejusq; justitiam nobis imputet in justitiam, quod fieri nequit, cum Obedientia Christi sit ipsissima justitia secundum severissimum rigorem legis sumpta. Non nego autem Christi obedientiam nobis imputari, id est pro nobis & nostro bono præstitam censeri, imo hoc ipsum, quod Deus nostro bono & pro nobis justitiam Christi præstitam esse censet, causa est, cur Deus fidem nostram, quæ Christum ejusq; justitiam habet pro objecto & fundamento, nobis in justitiam imputet, nosque fide, ex fide per fidem justificet. Armin. in Epist. ad Hippolytum à collibus, pag. 272, 273. Edit. 1630.

3. This

3. This Opinion is bottomed upon a false foundation, viz. the mistaken sense and meaning of the word, Impute. Imputation or, To impute (thinks (t) Arminius) still implies the imperfection, of the thing which is imputed: which imperfection notwithstanding is perfectly supplyed, gratuita acceptatione, by gracious acceptance. As, when the payment of 10. Florens is accepted gratuitously for a debt of 100 Florens, and imputed by the creditor to the debtor for perfect payment, though in it self imperfect. And he adds, that its hard to prove that the word (impute) is taken in any other sense. Hereupon, he asserts, Imputation of Faith, which is imperfect in it self, for perfect righteousness, and that in a proper sense: and consequently denies the Imputation of Christs righteousness to us for righteousness, because it is that very perfect righteousness.

(t) ac Arm. in Respons. ad XXXI. Artic. Art. 4. & in Epist. ad Hippol. p. 772, 773. ut videre est in verbis supra citatis.

But against this idle Conceit, about the sense of the word, Impute; Consider well. 1. That, The word (Impute) in Scripture is applyed to that which is Perfect: Or The thing imputed is Perfect. As (u) To him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. The reward imputed to the worker, is a Perfect Reward, an Exact Reward: otherwise the Perfect worker is not justly dealt with. Again; (x) God imputeth Righteousness without works. That is, Christs righteousness to us for justification; As I have formerly shewed. And is not Christs righteousness perfect? (y) Arminius himself dare not deny it. To impute therefore doth not still imply the imperfection of the thing imputed. And though Faith, which is imperfect, be said to be imputed for righteousness: yet Faith there is not to be taken properly, but Metonymically, (as many learned authors judge) for the Object believed and apprehended by Faith, Christ and his righteousness, as after we shall See. 2. That, Gracious or Gratuitous Imputation doth ofttimes imply an Imperfection; Not in the thing imputed, but in the person or the thing whereunto it is imputed. As in the case which Arminius puts: If payment of 100. Florens be imputed to him that hath paid but 10 Florens, The payment is perfect; but because that is imputed to him which he hath not performed, he is imperfect. So the righteousness which is imputed to us, is perfect, otherwise it could not justifie us in the sight of God: but Gods imputation of another's, viz. Christs righteousness to us, argues our imperfection. And upon this Consideration learned (z) Rivet justly rejects Arminius his Sense of the word, Impute. 3. That, Arminius borrowed this Sense which he puts upon the word (Impute) not from Scripture at all: in any proper use thereof, as is clear by the former instances; Nor from any such special signification, that either the Hebrw חשב or the Greek λογίζεσθαι, or the Latine Imputare, To impute, have of themselves, or are used in by any learned Authors, or Lexicographers: (As that learned and acute ([a])Gomarus hath well observed, whose own words, because they are very full and apposite, I have here recited in the margin:) But from these two blasphemous Hereticks, Michael Servetus, and Faustus Socinus; and from them was by him again obtruded upon the world, (as ([b]) Rivet notes.) Socinus violently maintained this groundless Sense of Imputation, that thereby he might destroy the Necessity of Christs Satisfaction: And Arminius maintains it, that thereby he might destroy the imputation of Christs obedience and righteousness to us for justification. By the evil Original, and Intent of this Opinion, Every one may judge of the vileness of the Opinion it self.

Etenim illud omnino dissentaneum est à verbis & mente Apostoli, falsisque nititur vocis Imputandi significatione. Nam neq; Hebræa vox qua utitur Moses חשב; neq; Græca qua Paulus etiam interpretatur, λογίζεσθαι; imo neq; Latina, Imputare (ut bonorum authorum usus, & lexicographorum explicatio, demonstrat) eam habet per se significationem specialem: Sed Generatim, Reputare, æstimare, adjudicare, adscribere, seu attribuere, significat, sive vere id fiat, sive secus. Nec ullus è Scripturis Sacris locus, aut ex probis authoribus linguarum hactenus allatus est, qui contrarium probet, &c. *Fran. Gomarus in Analyt. Explicat. Epist. ad Roman. c. 4. pag. 18, 19. 4. God doth not in a proper Sense impute any thing to any one for perfect righteousness, but what is perfect righteousness: and therefore, unless they will grant that Faith is indeed perfect righteousness, they must deny Faith in a proper sense to be imputed for righteousness. The Argument may be thus formed; Whatsoever God imputes in a proper sense for perfect righteousness, that is perfect righteousness. This is clear; For, ([c]) The judgement of God is according to truth. Nor can God be ignorant of any thing, or be deceived with any thing. Therefore he accounts nothing compleat and perfect, but what indeed is so. Man oft-times judges of things as they seem to be, and so may impute integrity to an hypocrite, &c. but God alwaies judges of things as indeed they are. He in a proper sense imputes righteousness to us for perfect righteousness, and it is perfect righteousness. Otherwise God should err and be deceived in his imputation.

But Faith is not perfect righteousness. This Arminius grants, that Faith is not that exact righteousness, which will answer perfectly to the rigour of Gods Law, and abide the severity of his justice.

Therefore God doth not in a proper sense impute Faith for perfect righteousness.

If here it be Replyed, That God hath a Judgement of Justice, and

and a Judgement of Mercy. By his judgement of Justice he judgeth nothing to be perfect righteousness, but what is perfect righteousness in itself. But by his judgement of Mercy and Grace he judgeth and imputeth that to us for perfect righteousness, which in itself is imperfect, viz. Faith. To this I answer; 1. By way of Concession; That God judgeth Sometimes by a judgement of exact justice; As, when he accounts Christs obedience and righteousness to be accurately compleat and perfect in itself, according to the utmost rigour of Law and justice: Sometimes he judgeth by a judgement of free Grace and rich mercy; As, when he judgeth us righteous; or (d) justifieth us freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ. I grant he judgeth, By a judgement of Justice, and by a judgement of Mercy. 2. By way of Exception; Against that misapplication of this Distinction of Gods judging. That God by his judgement of justice judgeth nothing to be perfect righteousness, but what is perfect: but by his judgement of mercy he counteth that for perfect righteousness which is not perfect, viz. Faith. What's this but in effect to say; Gods judgement of justice is according to truth, but his judgement of mercy is contrary to truth? What? Are Gods Mercy and Truth at variance, and opposite, whilst his Justice and Truth agree? 3. By way of Explanation; God judgeth according to justice, when he judgeth Christs righteousness to be perfect, for it is so: God judgeth according to mercy; Not when he judgeth a Sinner to be perfectly righteous, for a righteousness which is not perfect; for this were against both truth and justice; but when he judgeth him perfectly righteous, for a righteousness which is exactly perfect, yet not his own, but another's. viz. Christs. In such judgement, Mercy and Truth are met together. Truth, in that the Sinner is accounted perfectly righteous for a righteousness truly perfect: Mercy, in that he accounteth that perfect righteousness to be the Sinner's through Faith, though it be not properly his own, but Christs. This is Gods judgement of Mercy according to Scripture. But this distinction thus explained, doth not justifie, but condemn Arminius his Gracious imputation of Faith for perfect righteousness in a proper Sense.

(d) Rom. 3. 24, 25.

5. If the [b] credere, The Act of believing, be graciously imputed to us in a proper sense, for perfect righteousness: then we are justified by a work of our own, and have matter of boasting and glorying in our selves: but we are not justifyed by any work of our own, nor have any matter of boasting in ourselves in that regard.

Therefore the [r] credere, the Act of believing, is not in a proper Sense imputed to us for righteousness.

The Minor, or Assumption, is plain by Scripture, in both the branches of it. viz. 1. That we are not justified by any work of our own. This the Apostle proves by many Arguments. Partly, Because Nor Jew nor Gentile can perfectly do the works of the Law, (e) but all the world is become guilty before God: therefore by the deeds of the Law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight. Partly, because cause (f) God hath set up another way of sinners righteousness and justification, viz. By Faith in Christ without works. Partly, because Abraham himself (g) was not justified by works but by Faith. His believing without working, was counted to him for righteousness. Partly, because David (h) describes mans blessedness to consist in imputation of righteousness without works. 2. That we have (i) no matter of boasting in our selves in reference to our justification, because we are justified by Faith without works. Yea, upon this account, even (k) Abraham himself had no matter of glorying before God. And if any in the world could glory in works, much more Abraham.

(f) Rom. 3. 21. to 29.
(g) Rom. 4 1. to 6.
(h) Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8.
(i) Rom. 3. 27, 28.
(k) Rom. 4. 1, 2, 3.

The Consequence of the Major, or Proposition, is also firm. viz. That If the το credere, The act of believing be in a proper sense imputed to us for righteousness, then we are justified by a work of our own, and have matter of Self-boasting. For, The Act of believing is through Gods assistance, a work of our own, and that in a proper Sense: Although the Habit or Grace of Faith, be (l) not of our selves, but of God, originally, as his free gift. Our Natural Acts or Works of understanding, will, &c. they are put forth by the help of Gods Common Providence and Naturall assistance, yet are they properly ours. So our Supernatural Acts and Works of Faith, &c. are put forth by help of Gods Special assistance, through his Spirit and Grace, yet are they in like sort properly ours. It cannot properly be said, God believes in us, and we believe not; but properly, we believe through the help of God. How often doth Scripture ascribe the (m) Act or work of believing to believers themselves, as their own act or work! Object. But Christ saith; (n) This is the work of God: that ye believe on him whom he hath sent. Therefore Believing seems to be Gods work in his people. So that not they, but God believes in them. Answ. 1. Believing is here not only called the Work of God, but is also properly ascribed to believers as their Act and work, that ye believe on him, &c. But it could not properly be said, that, not they, but God in them believes on Christ. 2. Believing on Christ is here stiled, The work of God, that is, The primary, Eminent, and most excellent work of God, κατ' ἐξοχὴν. Not that this place intends to shew, that Faith is the choice work which God works in us, or by us: but rather (as judicious (o) Calvin hath well noted) that Faith in Christ is the great, the chief work which God requires of us, and accepts from us; and through this all others are accepted in Christ. For here Christ opposeth this one Work of Faith, to all other works about which they enquired in the former verse, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

Now

Now if the Act of Believing be (as hath been shewed) in a proper Sense a work of our own: we may clearly conclude, The Act of believing being in a proper Sense imputed to us for righteousness, we are justified by a work of our own, and thereupon have matter of boasting and glorying in our selves. Both which absurdities are directly contrary to the Scripture, yet cannot be avoided, if this Opinion of Arminius stand.

6. If the τὸ credere, the act of believing be in a proper sense graciously imputed to us for perfect Righteousness: 1. Then we are properly justified by two perfect righteousnesses, in two several Subjects, viz. The one inherent in Christ, his perfect righteousness and obedience; the other inherent in us, Faith or the act of believing. The Consequence of this Proposition is plain. For Arminius and his party say, That Faith, or the act of believing which is inherent in us, God graciously imputes to us for perfect righteousness: This is one perfect righteousness whereby we are justified, inherent in us. But the Scriptures teach us on the other hand, (as hath been proved,) That Christs Righteousness and Obedience, God imputes to us for perfect righteousness: This is another perfect righteousness whereby we are justified, inherent in Christ. Christ is (p) The LORD our Righteousness. (q) —— Christ is of God made to us Righteousness. (r) —— God imputeth righteousness without works. (s) —— Being justified freely by his Grace, through the Redemption that is in Christ Jesus. (t) —— Being now justified by his blood. (u) —— As by one mans disobedience many were made Sinners: So by the Obedience of one shall many be made righteous. (x) —— He hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. So then, according to this Opinion, we must be justified by two perfect righteousnesses imputed to us: Partly by Christs obedience, Partly by Faith, both as the Matter of our Righteousness.

(p) Ier. 23. 6.
(q) 1 Cor. 1. 30.
(r) Rom 4. 6. 11.
(s) Rom. 3. 24.
(t) Rom. 5. 9.
(u) Rom. 5. 19.
(x) 2. Cor. 5. 21.

But we cannot properly be justified by two perfect righteousnesses, the one in Christ, the other in our selves; for Christs Obedience, and for our own faith also. For, if we be perfectly justified before God by Christs Obedience: what need is there of imputing our own Faith, for perfect righteousness: That which is perfect needs no addition. And if we be perfectly justified before God by imputation of our own Faith for perfect righteousness: what need is there of the imputation of Christs Righteousness? One of these must recede as needless; either imputation of Faith, or imputation of Christs righteousness must needs be useless. Arminians considering that these absurdities would inevitably follow upon this opinion, and that these two perfect righteousnesses cannot stand together both of them to be imputed to our justification; have in plain terms denyed the imputation of Christ righteousness and obedience to us for righteousness, and for colour thereof have imposed a false sense upon the word Impute. This I have before discovered and refuted. They wave Christs perfect obedience, and cleave to their own imperfect Faith, as the matter ter of their righteouſneſs: But we cleave wholly to Chriſts perfect righteouſneſs and obedience, not at all to our imperfect and weak Faith, as the matter of our juſtification.

Therefore, the πιστευειν credere, the act of believing cannot in a proper ſenſe be graciouſly imputed to us for perfect righteouſneſs.

7. Finally, This Arminian opinion about the imputation of the πιστευειν credere, the Act of Faith in a proper ſenſe for righteouſneſs, is a cunning and plauſible way for introducing and uſhering in the Popiſh Doctrine of Juſtification. (As indeed the whole frame of Arminianiſm, is a plain bridge, and ſmooth path to Papiſm: nor were it any great difficulty to evidence the ſame, in all the particular points of Faith which they hold againſt the Orthodox Proteſtants.) Now this their Doctrine of Gods gracious imputation of the Act of believing to us for perfect righteouſneſs, doth notably ſymbolize with, and gradually lead unto, the Doctrine of Popiſh Juſtification. For,

(1) Both (y) Arminius and (z) Bellarmine deny the Imputation of Chriſts righteouſneſs to us for juſtification.

(2) Arminius ſaith; (a) That the πιστευειν credere the Act of believing is in a proper ſenſe graciouſly imputed for righteouſneſs, and not Metonymically; and that the Act of believing is the object of imputation; that is, by Gods gratuitous acceptation the perfect matter of our juſtification. The Jeſuite Bellarmine notably agrees with him for Subſtance, ſpeaking of that text; To him that believeth on him that juſtifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteouſneſs; where (ſaith he) (b) Faith it ſelf is counted Righteouſneſs; and by this, Faith doth not apprehend the righteouſneſs of Chriſt, but faith it ſelf in Chriſt is Righteouſneſs: and if it be lively Faith, and perfect by love, it ſhall be perfect righteouſneſs: but if not, it ſhall at leaſt be imperfect and inchoate righteouſneſs. Both Arminius and Bellarmine make faith the Subſtance or Matter of our righteouſneſs. Herein they ſhake hands.

(b) Fidem eſſe Initium juſtitiæ, ac per hoc eſſe cauſam formalem inchoatam juſtificationis. Id inprimis docet Apoſtolus ad Roman. quarto, cum dicit; credenti in eum qui juſtificat impium, reputatur Fides ejus ad juſtitiam. Ubi ipſa fides cenſetur eſſe Juſtitia; ac per hoc non apprehendit fides juſtitiam Chriſti, ſed ipſa Fides in Chriſtum eſt juſtitia. Et ſiquidem ſit fides viva, & perfecta per charitatem, erit perfecta juſtitia: ſin minus, erit ſaltem imperfecta inchoataq; juſtitia. *Rob. Bellarm. de Juſtificat. lib. 1. cap. 17 H. Tom. 4. Edit. (c) Armin. quo ſupr.
(d) Rob. Bellarmin. de Juſtificat. lib. 1. c. 16 per tot. præcipuè vero vid. in F. & C. Tom. 4.

(3) Arminius ſaith, (c) that the πιστευειν credere, the act of Faith is in a proper ſenſe imputed for righteouſneſs. And Bellarmine contends, (d) that we are juſtified by Faith, not as it is an inſtrument apprehending Chriſts righteouſneſs, but as it is an act or work in it ſelf: becauſe if it apprehend righteouſneſs at all, it apprehends it as it is an Action and an operation. And he argues thus; Doth that phraſe (without the deeds of the Law) exclude all works, and all law; or only ſome ſort of works and laws? If it wholly exclude all works and every law; then alſo it muſt exclude Faith it ſelf. For the Act of Faith is a certain work, and that an excellent work. This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath ſent, Joh. 6. 29. Here then then Arminius and Bellarmine well agree about the Manner how Faith justifieth; not as it is an instrument, but as it is an act and work.

(4) Arminius thinks, (e) that Christs obedience performed for us, is the Cause why God graciously imputes to us our Faith for righteousnes, which Faith hath Christ and his obedience for its object and foundation. What can he intend by this, but that Christ by his obedience hath merited and obtained, that our imperfect Faith in him should be imputed and esteemed to us for perfect righteousnes? This Arminius saith, but proves not, nor can prove it: therefore we reject it, as his meer Dictate. In like sort Bellarmine saith, (f) That Christs works have merited with God, not only that we should obtain salvation, but also that we should obtain it by our own merits. Or (which is the same) they have merited for us, not only eternal Salvation, but also the vertue of Meriting; ——— and at last he adds, that the reason of this meriting wholly depends upon Grace. By all this it may appear, How neer this Opinion of Arminius comes to gross Popery. Indeed Arminianism is no better then polished and refined Popery, or sublimated Antichristianism.

(e) Armin. in Epist. ad Hippolyt.

Upon these and the like Considerations we reject as erroneous and dangerous the Arminian opinion of Gods imputing Faith, the act of believing in a proper sense for righteousnes.

3. The Third Interpretation is theirs, who come somewhat neerer to the Truth then both the former, who thus declare their Judgement; (g) That Faith, as a Condition of the Covenant performed by us, justifieth, or is imputed to us for righteousnes. Thus they explain themselves; Righteousnes or justification hath its connexion with Faith, by an order that God hath been pleased to set down in the Covenant of Grace; which is this, That whosoever shall believe in Christ, shall be justified and saved. This Condition now performed on our parts, justification is ours, and we are as righteous in Gods esteem, as if we had all the righteousnes of the Law performed by our selves.

(g) Thus D. Will. Sclater recites their Opinion, in his Exposition on Rom. 4. ver. 3, 4, 5. pag 26.

To this Interpretation I answer briefly; 1. By Granting, That Faith is indeed a Condition of the Covenant of God with man since the Fall, and that so eminent a Condition, as the Covenant may thereupon be most properly denominated, The Covenant of Faith, in opposition to The Covenant of Works: As I have (h) formerly manifested. And, That faith is a most necessary Condition of Justification, without which no man can be justified in the sight of God. These things I grant as true. 2. By Denying, That Faith, (i) as a Condition of the Covenant, performed by us, justifieth; or is imputed to us for righteousnes. Faith which is the Condition of the Covenant justifieth us; but justifies not as the condition of the Cove- nant performed by us. Now this I deny; Partly, Becauſe to be juſtified by Faith as a Covenant-Condition performed by us, is to be juſtified by a work of our own, wherein we may have matter of boaſting. But ſuch juſtification Scripture admits not, (k) which in the point of juſtification directly oppoſes believing to working, and thereupon excludes all boaſting and glorying in our ſelves. Partly, Becauſe, If Faith juſtifie us preciſely in this reſpect as it is a Covenant-Condition, then (l) conſequently whatſoever elſe beſides Faith be a Covenant-Condition muſt alſo juſtifie us as well as Faith. That which belongs to one thing as a Covenant-Condition, belongs to every Covenant-Condition. Conſequently, (m) Repentance, Obedience, (n) Uprightneſs, &c. which are required as Covenant-Conditions alſo, may juſtifie us as well as Faith. And if that be granted, How can we maintain that Doctrine of the Reformed Churches, That Sole Faith juſtifieth? or that Doctrine of Saint Paul, (o) That A man is juſtified by Faith without the deeds of the Law; And (p) To him that worketh not, but believeth ——, his faith is counted for righteouſneſs; And, (q) God imputeth righteouſneſs without works? Hence, we may See, that ſuch Proteſtant writers, who ſay, Faith juſtifies us as a Covenant-Condition performed by us, do not ſo ſafely and Cautiouſly expreſs themſelves herein.

4. The Fourth and laſt Interpretation, and indeed the beſt and ſoundeſt of all, is theirs; who, waving all the former Interpretations as unſafe and Unſcriptural, do hold, That Faith is imputed for righteouſneſs, As it is an Organ, Inſtrument, or Inſtrumental Cauſe, Receiving and apprehending, by the help of the Spirit, Chriſts Righteouſneſs offered in the Goſpel. And, inaſmuch as Faith alone is the peculiar and only Inſtrument for Receiving and applying Chriſts Righteouſneſs, That therefore we are juſtified before God by Faith alone, without the works of the Law.

This Interpretation of the Manner, How faith juſtifieth, or is imputed for righteouſneſs, may, for the greater clearneſs and diſtinctneſs, be expreſſed in three branches. 1. Negatively; That Faith juſtifieth not, or, is not imputed for righteouſneſs, any of theſe ways. viz. (1) Not as a Meritorious Cauſe, which, for the worth or dignity of its Habit or Act, can demerit or deſerve, in any ſenſe, remiſſion of ſins or juſtification, from God. Nor as The Formal Cauſe, or Subſtance of our righteouſneſs. Nor as A Preparation to, or Inchoation of our righteouſneſs before God: which are the Popiſh Opinions. (2) Not in regard of the πιστευειν credere, or Act of believing graciouſly imputed by God for Chriſt and his obedience ſake for the perfect righteouſneſs of the Law, though in it ſelf it be imperfect. Which is the Arminian opinion. (3) Not as it is a Covenant-Condition performed by us. Which is the opinion of ſome others. The unſoundneſs of which Opinions I have already diſcovered. 2. Affirmatively; That Faith or Believing juſtifieth, or is imputed for righteouſneſs, in reſpect of its Office

whereunto it is appointed by the Covenant of Faith or Goſpel, viz. As it is a ſupernatural Organ, Inſtrument, Inſtrumental cauſe or Mean, through the help of Gods Spirit, Receiving, Apprehending, Applying Chriſt, his righteouſneſs and obedience tendered in the Goſpel or Covenant of Faith moſt graciouſly. 3. Excluſively; That Faith alone in this ſenſe, without works, is imputed for righteouſneſs: for aſmuch as Faith alone is that ſupernatural Inſtrument Receiving Chriſt and his righteouſneſs. Faith alone juſtifieth: though juſtifying Faith is not alone. In this Senſe (r) Sole Faith's Juſtification, is ſtrenuouſly confirmed by ſix Arguments by Dr. Prideaux, againſt Papiſts, Socinians, Arminians.

(r) Joan. Prideaux in Lect. V. de Juſtificatione. Let the judicious Reader diligently conſult him.

And this is the Direct and unanimous Interpretation of the truly Reformed Churches, about this Queſtion, How Faith is imputed: As may appear both 1. By their Publique Confeſſions: and 2. By their learned Orthodox writers. Wherein this Senſe is aſſerted, Sometimes more darkly, Sometimes more clearly. Sic manca esset justitia quæ fructulum Salutis nobis conferret. Nos quidem nihil tale imaginamur, Sed propriè loquendo Deum unum justificare dicimus: Deinde hoc idem transferimus ad Christum, quia datus est nobis in justitiam. Fidem vero quasi vasi conferimus, quia nisi exinaniti ad expetendam Christi gratiam aperto animæ ore accedimus, non sumus Christi capaces. ——— Inscitè ergo Fidem, quæ Instrumentum est duntaxat percipiendæ Justitiæ, dico miscericum Christo, qui materialis est Causa, tantiq; beneficii author simul & Minister. Institut. l. 3. cap. 11. Sect. 7. 5. Of Zac. Ursine. Fide justificamur, ut Causa Instrumentali: qua quasi manu Justitiam Christi nobis imputatam apprehendimus. 8. Of Dr. W. Sclater. Who after a more large Discussion about this point, thus Concludes; The Sum of all is this; Sith Faith is accepted to Justification, Neither in respect of the Worth of it, to procure it; Nor yet as being The Form of Righteousnes; Nor as A Preparation; Nor as A Condition; It remains that it Justifieth instrumentally only, or because it apprehends that for which we are justified, namely, The merit and righteousness of Christ. In his Exposit. on Rom. 4. 3, 4. 5. p. 28. Lond. 1650.

9. Of Mr. W. Perkins, that famous light of Cambridge; who did more good to the Church of God with one hand, then many learned men have done with both; The Second point to be considered, is: How Faith is a Means to justifie? I Answer thus. Faith doth not justifie as it is an excellent work of God in us: for then all vertues might be means of justification, as well as Faith. It doth not justifie as it is an excellent virtue itself: because it is imperfect and mingled with unbelief. It doth not justifie as a means to prepare and dispose us to our justification: for, so soon as we begin to believe in Christ, we are justified without any disposition or preparation between Faith and justification. (Chrysost. Hom. in Rom. Quam primum homo crediderit, confestim simul justificatus est) Lastly, it doth not justifie as it contains in it all other vertues and good works, as the Kernel contains the tree with all its branches: for then should it be a part, yea the principal part of our justice; whereas S. Paul distinguisheth justice and Faith, Saying that our righteousness is of God upon Faith; and not for Faith, but by Faith. Now then Faith justifies as it is an Instrument or Hand to apprehend or receive the benefits of Christ for ours; and this apprehension is made, when we do indeed believe Christ and his benefits to be ours. And, lest any should imagine, that the very action of Faith in apprehending Christ justifieth; we are to understand, that Faith doth not apprehend by power from itself; but by vertue of the Covenant. If a man believe the Kingdom of France to be his, it is not therefore his; yet if he believe Christ and the Kingdom of Heaven by Christ to be his, it is his indeed: Not simply because he believes, but because he believes upon Commandment and Promise. For in the Tenour of the Covenant God promiseth to impute the Obedience of Christ unto us for our righteousness, if we believe. In his Treat. Christ the true and perfect Gain, pag. 662. vol. 1. Lond. 1616. See also, His Grain of Mustardseed. Expos. of 3d Conclus. p. 641. vol. 1. His Com. on Gal. pag. 209. D. —— & p. 228. C. —— & p. 236. D.

10. Of Mr. Will. Pemble in his Treat. of Justification, Section 2. Chap. 1. pag. 159. Lond. 1635. The Sentence of the Reformed Churches touching this point, Consisteth of two branches. First, That a Sinner is justified by Faith, not properly as it is a Quality or action, which by its own dignity or merit deserves at Gods hands remission of Sins, Or is by Gods favourable acceptance taken for the whole and perfect righteousness of the Law, which is otherwise required of a Sinner; but only in relation to the object of it, the righteousness of Christ which it embraceth and resteth upon. Secondly, That a Sinner is justified by Faith in opposition to the Righteousness of works in the fulfilling of the Law: whereby now no man can be justified.

11. Of Mr. John Forbs at Middleburg; Now we come to speak of the third point, that is, Concerning the things which are said to be imputed to us in the work of our Justification; and these be two, according to the two gifts that God giveth us to this end, that we may be righteous. The First is Faith, which is the Supernatural Instrument given us of God, to apprehend our righteousness. The second is the righteousness itself apprehended by Faith, that is, Christ crucified, or his blood shed for us. For although the Lord hath given us Faith, and Christ Jesus his Son; yet albeit we have them, we have them not as our own, but by the imputation of God. So that Gods gift maketh possession; but his imputation maketh our right in propriety, in the thing possessed, &c. So that in his judgement Faith is imputed as the Instrument of our justification. In his Treat. of Justification. Chap. 31. pag. 168. Middleburg. 1616.

12. Lastly, Of that Godly learned and judicious Mr. Jo. Ball; Faith is not imputed for righteousness, in respect of the worth or dignity of Faith either in Habit or Act; But in respect of its Office whereunto it is ordained in the Covenant of Grace, as it doth embrace Christ, and thereby we are made partakers of his free and willing and perfect obedience to the Command of Grace. Faith is accounted for righteousness in regard of the object, and is a cause of that Justification which is of Grace. A cause, I say, not a bare Condition, without which the thing cannot be; but a Cause, not Meritorious or material, but Instrumental only, receiving Christ promised and offered in the word of Grace, &c. In his Treat. of the Covenant of Grace. Chap. 6. pag. 66, 67. &c. Lond. 1645.

And, That Faith is imputed to us for (or, as some had rather render it, unto) righteousness, only as an Instrumental cause of Justification, is the unanimous and concurrent sense of all the Confessions and Learned writers of the Reformed Churches, that I have seen. Herein they all agree. Although I find them explaining this their sense several waies; but all for substance tending to one and the same purpose: viz. To clear how Faith is imputed Instrumentally unto righteousness. Here therefore. 1. I shall prove by certain Arguments, That Faith is imputed unto righteousness, only as an Instrument. In which all consent. 2. I shall lay down their different explanations of this thing.

1. That Faith is imputed for (or, unto) righteousness only as an Instrument, Instrumental cause, or Instrumental mean, whereby we receive, apprehend and apply Christ and his righteousness to our selves for our justification: may thus appear, viz. First;

First, Because where Scripture ascribes Justification to Faith, it still useth such phrases, as denote Faith's justifying us, as an Instrumental cause, not as a Meritorious, Material, or Formal cause of our Righteousness. Hence we are said to be justified, (t) ἐκ πίστεως, or ἐπὶ τῇ πίστει, fide, by Faith; (u) ἐκ πίστεως, ex fide, of Faith: (which phrase if it import Faith's efficiency in justification, it denotes not any Principal efficiency, for that belongs to God only; but an Instrumental efficiency, and that properly appertains to Faith;) and (x) διὰ τῆς πίστεως, or διὰ πίστιν, per fidem, Through Faith. All which phrases imply only The Instrumentalness or Instrumental Causality of Faith to justification. But it is never said, we are justified, διὰ τὴν πίστιν, propter fidem, For Faith: as importing the Meritoriousness, materiality, or formality of Faith, in justification. Ergo, Justification being ascribed to Faith only as an Instrument, Faith is imputed only Instrumentally unto Justification.

Secondly, Because, The office and use of Faith in Justification consists peculiarly in Receiving, accepting, apprehending or applying Christ and his righteousness unto us, as Scriptures evidence. (y) But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, to them that believe on his name. Here note. 1. That Christ is the peculiar object of Faith. 2. That Faith makes Christ ours, and gives us actual interest in him, by Receiving him. Faith is that Receptive Instrument, mean, or hand, whereby we accept and embrace Christ. 3. That upon our Receiving Christ by Faith, he gives us power or prerogative (ἐξουσίαν) to be the sons of God, the Priviledge or prerogative of adoption. Consequently the Priviledge of Justification (z) which inseparably accompanies vocation and Adoption in all the children of Abraham and heirs of God. See this yet more clearly in that pregnant text: (a) If by one man's offence, death reigned by one; much more they which RECEIVE abundance of Grace, and of the gift of Righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. That is, They who, (b) by Faith Receive abundance of Grace, and of the gift of righteousness, (viz. of the Righteousness of Christ freely given) shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. (viz. shall reign in Life of Sanctification, Justification and Glorification by one Jesus Christ, over Sin, guilt and condemnation.) Faith's office then in order to reigning in life by justification, is, to Receive abundance of Christs righteousness freely given, and graciously imputed. Answerable to this phrase is that; (c) The Gentiles have Received righteousness, even the righteousness which is of Faith. And (d) To turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of Sins, and inheritance among them which are Sanctified, by Faith that is in me. So that, Forgiveness of Sins, that is, Justification, is received by Faith in Christ. The comma is to be put after (Sanctified,) that the phrase (by Faith,) may have reference to (receiving forgiveness of sins, &c.) as (e) Beza hath well noted against Erasmus out of the ancient Copies. Hence from this office office and use of Faith in justification to Receive Christs righteousness, Faith is compared in Scripture, To an Hand, (f) whereby we Receive Christ, as the gift of God, and (g) put on Christ as our garment of righteousness; To an Eye, whereby we (h) look upon Christ crucified, the true Brazen Serpent for Spiritual healing, as Israel in the wilderness looked up unto the typical brazen Serpent for corporal healing. To a Mouth, whereby we receive Christ as the living bread, (i) Eat his flesh, and drink his blood, for life spiritual and eternal, as we receive food and eat it for life corporal and temporal. The hand, eye, mouth, are organs or Instruments natural, whereby the body receives benefits Corporal: so faith is the Instrument supernatural, whereby the Soul receives Christ and his righteousness, those benefits Spiritual. And therefore in this Sense alone faith justifies, or is imputed unto righteousness, as it is an Instrument Receiving Christ and his righteousness for our own; As an hand putting on Christ, not as the robe of righteousness put on; As an eye seeing Christ for healing, not as the Healing Serpent seen; As a mouth receiving and eating Christ the living bread, not as the living bread of the Soul Received and eaten. And all this is only Organically, or Instrumentally.

Thirdly; Because, Faith in such manner justifies us, or is imputed to us for righteousness, as it tends to Christs blood, righteousness and obedience, the meritorious and material cause of our righteousness; (k) Being justified freely by his grace, through the Redemption that is in Jesus Christ; whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through Faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God, &c. (l) That I may be found in him, not having mine own righteousness which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Christ, the righteousness of God by Faith. But Faith tends not to Christs blood, righteousness and obedience any other way then as an Instrument, or Instrumental mean, apprehending and applying them as the Meritorious cause and matter of our righteousness. As the Scriptures both in this and the two former Reasons evidence. Ergo, Faith is imputed unto righteousness only as an Instrument thereof. We are (m) justified by Christs blood, meritoriously; we are justified by Faith in his blood, instrumentally.

Fourthly; Because, Faith in such sort justifies us as it hath respect to the Promises of life and righteousness by Christ. Thus (n) Abraham's Faith believing the Promises of God through Christ, was imputed to him for righteousness. But Faith hath respect to the Promises of Christ and life by him only as an Instrument (o) apprehending, embracing and applying them to the Soul in particular, as those testimonies touching Abraham may evince. Ergo.

Fifthly, Because, Faith in such sort onely must justifie, or be imputed unto righteousness, as may advance the Glory of Gods grace therein, and exclude all self-boasting. And therefore God hath pur-purpoſely ſo contrived our juſtification by Faith, (p) that herein the glory of his free-grace may ſhine forth moſt clearly, but all our boaſting and glorying in our ſelves might utterly vaniſh.

(p) Rom. 3. 24, 27. & 4. 16.

But Faith's juſtifying us, or being imputed to us unto righteouſneſs, Inſtrumentally, is the chief, the only way to advance Gods free Grace, and to exclude all ſelf-boaſting and glorying, which according to all other ſenſes and explanations, is in ſome reſpect or other ſtill left unto men. For this way we diſrobe and ſtrip our ſelves of all worth, excellency and dignity, and ſet our ſelves before the Lord, as poor, empty, naked and nothing in ourſelves in reference to juſtification: yea we denude and evacuate even our very faith itſelf of all appearance of worth or dignity in Habit or Act, in reference to the procuring or impetrating of juſtification, or being accounted our perfect righteouſneſs before God, and we preſent it herein before God as an Empty hand, or as an empty veſſel, as Calvin (q) compares it.) that brings nothing at all to God, or to Chriſt, but (r) onely receives this bleſſed free almes of righteouſneſs from them. Thus Faith is neither Meritorious cauſe, nor Matter, nor Part of our righteouſneſs at all before God: but onely a meer Receiving inſtrument ſupernaturally given us of God for this end. This, this exalts the Glory of Gods free Grace, the Glory of Chriſts perfect merit and righteouſneſs; and Leaves the creature without all colour and ſhadow of ſelf-boaſting and glorying. Therefore if in any ſenſe Faith be imputed unto righteouſneſs, it muſt be in this ſenſe, as it is a Supernatural Inſtrument of the Soule.

(q) Atqui Fides nihil addeum affert; quin potius hominem vacuum & inopem ſiſtit coram Deo, ut Chriſto ejuſq; gratia impleatur. Quare paſſivum eſt opus (ut ita loquar) cui nulla poteſt rependi merces; nec aliam confert homini juſtitiam, niſi quam à Chriſto recipit. Joh. Calvin. in Evangel. ſecund. Joan 6. 29. vid. & Inſtitut. l. 3. c. 11. §. 7.

(r) Fides nihil Deo dat, ſed accipit tantum; at opera ſunt veluti ſacrificia εὐχαριστικὰ quæ nos Deo offerimus. Fides enim Organum eſt, & veluti manus animæ, qua ſuſcipimus Dei beneficia. Ioan. Cameron. Prælect. in Matth. 16. pag. 48. in fol. Genev. 1642.

Sixthly, Becauſe, Faith So and in ſuch ſenſe muſt juſtify us, or be imputed to us for righteouſneſs, as may quiet and comfort our Hearts and Conſciences towards God through Chriſt. This is plain, Inaſmuch as the Calming and Comforting of our Conſciences towards God, is a ſpecial benefit and priviledge flowing from and intended by Juſtification by Faith; (t) Therefore being juſtifyed by Faith, wee have peace with God through our Lord Ieſus Chriſt. By whom alſo we have acceſs by faith into the Grace wherein we ſtand, and rejoyce in hope of the glory of God, &c. Till a man be juſtified by Faith, his Sins pardoned, and his perſon accepted as righteous, the Soul can have no true peace with God: becauſe till then a man lies under the wrath of God, as a ſin-revenging judge; under the Curſe of the Law, as a broken Covenant, ſpeaking nothing but Death: under the accuſation and terrours of his own Conſcience, (if awakened) as the very præludium's and harbingers of Hell. And who can ſufficiently imagine what Horrours, agonies, Convulſions, Diſtractions, Fears, and deſpairs, do tear in pieces pieces and ſwallow up ſuch a Soul! But when God ſo lifts up the light of his Countenance upon the Soul, as to pardon his ſins and juſtifie him through faith in Chriſt, oh what an happy alteration follows! then its warfare is accompliſhed, then the broken bones are healed and rejoyce; then the dark midnight of all the former ſorrows is turned into a day-break of joy: then the Tempeſt is ſtilled, and the ſoul ſurrounded with a ſweet calm of Peace, and reconcilement with God.

But Faith quiets and comforts our hearts and Conſciences towards God in Chriſt, by being imputed to us for righteouſneſs, only as the Inſtrumental mean thereof. This is clear alſo; For, 1. The imputation of Faith for righteouſneſs, as the Meritorious Cauſe thereof in any ſort deſerving it, or as the formal Cauſe of our righteouſneſs, or as any part of our righteouſneſs, in the Popiſh ſenſe, leaves the Soul utterly without peace or Comfort, to horrour and deſpair. Becauſe the perfecteſt Faith is (t) imperfect, and therefore can merit nothing at all from God; nor be any other then an imperfect righteouſneſs, which can neither endure the rigour of Gods law, nor the ſeverity of his juſtice. 2. And the Imputation of the τὸ credere, of the very act of believing in a proper ſenſe for righteouſneſs, upon pretence that God graciouſly accepts it, through Chriſt, for perfect righteouſneſs, though it be in itſelf imperfect, in the Arminian ſenſe, leaves the ſoul alſo quite deſtitute of comfort and ſolid peace with God in Chriſt: becauſe it excludes Chriſts perfect righteouſneſs from being imputed to us for juſtification, wherein alone the Conſcience can fully acquieſce; and it ſets up an imperfect Faith, for the matter of perfect righteouſneſs, without any proof of Scripture, yea contrary thereunto, and to the truth and juſtice of God therein. 3. The imputation, finally, of Faith for righteouſneſs preciſely as a Covenant-Condition, to be performed by us, doth not quiet and comfort the Conſcience towards God: Becauſe this ſenſe brings in all other Covenant-Conditions required of us to have equal influence with Faith in juſtification, whereas Scripture ſtill aſcribes it to (u) Faith without works, and in oppoſition to working. And nothing repugnant to the word of God, can conduce to our true peace with God. 4. But Faith being imputed unto righteouſneſs, only as an Inſtrument receiving Chriſt and his righteouſneſs, moſt abundantly comforts the heart, and quiets the Conſcience towards God: Partly, In that it leads us out of our ſelves to ſuch a righteouſneſs for our juſtification, as is every way abſolute, perfect and compleat, without the leaſt defect or inſufficiency, viz. (x) the righteouſneſs of Jeſus Chriſt, which is the Righteouſneſs of God. Upon this the Soul may ſecurely and fully reſt without ſcruple or perplexity, as able to juſtifie it to the uttermoſt. Partly, In that on our part

(y) A naked and bare Receiving of Chriſt and his righteouſneſs by the Souls empty hand of Faith, ſufficeth to our juſtification. A bare Receiving of Chriſt and his righteouſneſs by the inſtrument or hand of Faith, juſtifieth: whether it be by a ſtrong, or by a weak Faith that Chriſt is received, ſo he be truly Received, he juſtifieth; Chriſt and his righteouſneſs being ſtill the ſame when received, in what meaſure ſoever they be received: As the alms given him is of the ſame benefit and advantage to the Receiver, ſo be it be received: whether the hand that receives it be weak or ſtrong, ſhaking or ſteady. A rich jewel loſeth not the leaſt grain of its worth and value, though it be taken with the weakeſt hand. Oh how comfortable is this conſideration even to them of weakeſt Faith!

(y) Faith doth not juſtify in reſpect of itſelf, becauſe it is an action or vertue; or becauſe it is ſtrong, lively and perfect; but in reſpect of the Object thereof, namely Chriſt crucified, whom Faith apprehendeth, as he is ſet forth unto us in the word and Sacraments. It is Chriſt that is the author and matter of our juſtice, and it is he that applyeth the ſame unto us; As for faith in us, it is but an inſtrument to apprehend that which Chriſt for his part offereth and giveth. Therefore if Faith err not in his proper object, but follow the promiſe of God, though it do but weakly apprehend, or at the leaſt cauſe a man only to endeavour and deſire to apprehend, it is true Faith, and juſtifieth. Though our apprehenſion be neceſſary; yet our Salvation ſtands rather in this, That God apprehends us for his own, then that we apprehend him for ours, Phil. 3 verſe 12. And rather in this, That we are known of him, then that we know him. Gal. 4. 9. Mr. W. Perkins in his Grain of Muſtard-ſeed. Expoſ. of Concluſ. III. pag. 641. vol. 1. Lond. 1626.

Seventhly, Becauſe Faith cannot bee imputed to us for righteouſneſs in any other ſort then as it is An Inſtrument Receiving and applying Chriſts righteouſneſs. This will appear upon a ſufficient Enumeration: Faith cannot be Imputed, 1. Either as the Principal Efficient cauſe of juſtification; for that is only God: 2. Or as the Impulſive or moving Cauſe of juſtification: for the Inward Impulſive is only Gods own free-Grace; The Outward Impulſive is Only the ſatisfactory and meritorious Obedience of Jeſus Chriſt: 3. Or as the Meritorious Cauſe of our juſtification in any degree from God; for, Chriſt and his compleat obedience is the ſole Meritorious cauſe of our Righteouſneſs, by fulfilling the Law, and ſatifying divine juſtice to the uttermoſt, &c.: 4. Or as the Subſtance and Matter of our righteouſneſs in whole or in part before God, either in regard of Habit or Act, juſtly ſo accounted, or graciouſly ſo accepted for perfect righteouſneſs: for Chriſt and his perfect righteouſneſs is the only Subſtance and matter of our righteouſneſs: Not Faith, but (z) Chriſt being made of God righteouſneſs to us: in whoſe righteouſneſs alone (a) we ſhall be able to hold up our heads at Chriſts appearing. Nor is it honour but great indignity offered to Gods grace, to ſay that thereby God will graciouſly accept our imperfect faith for perfect righteouſneſs, through Chriſts obedience, for that ſets Gods Grace againſt his Truth, and impoſeth upon Chriſt beyond any warrant of Scripture. 5. Or as the Formal cauſe of our juſtification: for that is only Gods gracious Imputation of Chriſts righteouſneſs to us through Faith. 6. Or as the Final cauſe of our juſtification, for the end of our righteouſneſs is, ſubordinately our life, ultimately mately Gods glory. And besides these what other way can be imagined how Faith should be imputed for righteousness, except as it is an Instrumental cause thereof?

Therefore it remains, that seeing Faith is Imputed unto righteousness, it is imputed only as the Instrument thereof.

2. The different explanations of orthodox writers. How Faith is thus Imputed unto righteousness, as an Instrument apprehending Christ and his righteousness, come next to be considered. And they explain themselves three several waies, scoping still at the same thing for substance, viz. That Faith justifies, or is imputed unto Righteousness only as an Instrument apprehending Christs righteousness.

The First and most usual explanation is thus; Faith is imputed unto righteousness: that is, Faith taken Improperly and Metonymically for the thing believed, for Christ and his righteousness apprehended by Faith, (by a Metonymie of the Adjunct for its Object,) is imputed for righteousness. As hope is sometimes put for the thing hoped for in Scripture; (b) For the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain: that is, for the hoped for Resurrection. So here they take Faith to be put for the thing believed: Pro fide quæ creditur, non pro fide qua creditur. For the object of Faith believed, not for the grace or act of believing. (c) And they say, That, (d) faith is imputed for righteousness, Not primarily and by itself, as a Quality properly, or as a motion, action or passion, or as a good work of excellent worth, as if it were Righteousness, or any part of it, or instead of righteousness by Gods account and estimation; But Secondarily and according to some other thing, namely as a Manner, Mean and Instrument, as it were an eye and hand, whereby we become partakers of Christ and his righteousness; and therefore Relatively or Correlatively, in regard of its object, Jesus, his righteousness and the Promise of Grace, Phil. 3.9. And most go this way, as may appear by the Confessions of Churches, and Testimonies of learned writers formerly alleadged. Now this explanation amounts to no more then thus much, That Faith, viz. the Object believed and apprehended by Faith alone, —— Christ, his righteousness and obedience, is imputed to us for righteousness, or for justification.

The second explanation is thus; Faith is imputed for righteousness; that is, Faith taken, not in an improper and Metonymical sense for the Object believed, but in a proper sense for the Grace believing, is said to be imputed unto righteousness, not as the Subject Matter of Justification, (for that is Christs righteousness which becomes ours by Faith; our Faith being an imperfect vertue, and the action of it is imperfect also,) but as an Instrumental Cause, which through the power of the holy Spirit apprehends Christs righteousness. So Rom. 10. 10. it's said, with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, but with the mouth Confession is made unto Salvation. In which phrase the end and effect of Faith is denoted. And this is the sense of that learned and acute

(c) Gomarus, (who thus far allows Arminius to have spoken right, in contending that Faith herein should be taken properly, and not improperly for Christs righteousness; but his reason for confirming this opinion drawn from the mistaken sense of the word Impute, he condemns as false.) Now that Faith is to be taken properly, (c) both in that passage in Genesis, and in that parallel place to the Romanes alleadging it, he confirms by divers Reasons. As, 1. Because, in that phrase, Abraham believed God, and that was counted unto him for righteousness, the Pronoun hoc, that, cannot be taken otherwise then the word fore-going to which it is referred, and in place whereof it is for elegancy sake put according to the nature of a Pronoun. But Abrahams believing is taken properly. 2. Because, We are not to recede from a proper signification to an improper and unusual in Scripture, unless necessity or truth of Scripture, or circumstances of the place require it, as is without Controversie. But in this sentence of Paul, neither the truth thereof, nor circumstances of the place require it: because that attribute, was imputed to him for righteousness, doth not require this: for the assertion is true, though the proper signification of the Subject, viz. of Faith, be kept. If it be objected, That if Faith in a proper sense be imputed for righteousness, then Faith is our righteousness before God. He Answers, It follows not; But only, that Faith is a Cause, that is, An Instrumental cause, which of God was imputed to Abraham for righteousness, that is, by which he was justified. For to impute faith to one for righteousness, is nothing else but to justifie him by Faith: As the series of this chapter shows, that those two denote the same thing; and Paul speaks promiscuously of these two. 3. Because, If in this proposition (Faith is imputed unto righteousness) any Trope should be admitted, it might more conveniently be placed in the Predicate, viz. in the word Righteousness, then in the Subject, viz. Faith, that the sense might be, Faith is imputed for righteousness, that is, for a Cause of Righteousness, viz Instrumental; by a Metonymie of the Effect for the Efficient. As such a Trope is frequent in Predicates. Thus Gods command given to Christ, for preaching the Gospel, is called Everlasting life; His Commandement is life everlasting, Joh. 12. 50. And the Gospel is called The Word of life, that is, Enlivening, or the Efficient Instrumental cause of life, Phil. 2. 16. And Christ is stiled The Resurrection and the life, Joh. 11. 25. because he of himself is the cause of them both. So, To know God and Christ is eternal life, Joh 17. 3. that is, The efficient cause of life. Thus also Faith may be accounted the Efficient Cause of righteousness, viz. the Instrumental efficient.

The third Explanation, and most unusual, stands thus; Faith is imputed unto righteousness, that is, Faith (in a proper sense) is imputed to us as our own, to the intent that the righteousness of Christ, which by it we possess, might be our own also. Christs obedience is righteousness in it self: but imputation of (the (g) gift of God) Faith to to us, as ours, makes the obedience of Christ possessed by Faith, to be righteousness unto us. And this is the sense of (h) Mr. Joh. Forbes once Pastor of the English Church at Middleburgh. He first labours to Clear and Manifest this sense; Secondly, to Confirm it.

(g) phil. 1. 8.

(h) Jo. Forbes in his Treatise of Justification. ch. 31. p. 169. to 174.

He Manifests this upon these Considerations. 1. That, unto our justification we must first have righteousness in our possession, for God justifies no man that hath not righteousness. To justifie the wicked, being abominable to God, Prov. 17. 15. Isa. 5. 23. 2. That, there is but one of these two righteousnesses to be had and possessed, before God justifie us, viz. Our own righteousness, or the righteousness of God, Phil. 3. 9. Scriptures know no third righteousness. 3. That, our own righteousness (before we possess it) is contained in the Law; the righteousness of God is contained in Christ, Phil. 3. 9. 4. That, As the righteousness contained in the Law is obtained by our own Working, and that by our own strength; so Gods righteousness contained in Christ is obtained by believing, and (i) that not of our selves, it is the gift of God. Whereupon, As the righteousness of the Law is called a mans own, because he attains it by that which is his own, viz. by working, of his own Natural power: So the righteousness of Christ, is said to be God's, and not a mans own, because he can never attain it by any thing in himself naturally, but only by that supernatural Mean and Instrument given him of God, viz. Faith. So then, the mean whereby we possess Gods righteousness, is Faith only. And because Faith is not our own, therefore the righteousness that we possess by it, cannot be ours, untill both be made ours. And this is only done and performed by the Lords gracious imputation of both, that is, Faith, and the righteousness of Christ possessed by Faith. God therefore having Supernaturally given us Faith, whereby we have and possess Christs righteousness; He first imputes Faith to us, as our own; and then he imputes Christs righteousness to us as our own, being instrumentally apprehended by our own Faith. And this is the Cause why the Holy Scripture doth oftner describe the manner and form of our justification, under the phrase of the Imputation of Faith, then under the phrase of Imputation of righteousness, Because the right that is made us unto Faith in Christ, maketh us to have right unto Christ himself, as our righteousness, and all blessings in him, which by Faith we possess.

(i) Ephes. 2. 8.

He further Confirms this sense, Partly, From that phrase which the Spirit of God useth in describing the Form of our Justification, viz. (k) To him that believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is imputed (εἰς δικαιοσύνην) unto righteousness, wherein the Greek word (εἰς) should not be translated (for righteousness) as commonly it is rendered; for, so it darkens the sense, and gives occasion to that errour of some, who think that the very act of believing is imputed for righteousness, viz. in stead, and for the very matter of our righteousness. But it should be translated (unto righteousness), as declaring declaring the end whereunto faith is imputed, viz. that the obedience of Christ apprehended by Faith, may be righteousnes unto the apprehender. For Faith and believing ever implyes the possession of Christ and his obedience in our hearts; and the imputation of Faith unto righteousnes, is the thing that makes Christ possessed by Faith, to be our righteousnes. Lastly, by that sentence of the Apostle (1) with the Heart it is believed unto righteousnes, and with the mouth it is confessed unto Salvation. Where the Greek word (εἰς) which is translated (unto,) cannot be rendered (for,) without darkening, if not perverting, the true meaning of the phrase. For we are said to believe with the heart unto righteousnes, in the same sense wherein we are said to confess with the mouth unto salvation. But we confess to this end, that we may attain Salvation, confession being the way and mean thereunto, and without which salvation is not to be attained; Luk. 9. 26. Matth. 10. Luk. 12. So we believe to this end, that we may be justified by Faith, as the only instrumental mean for attaining justification, Gal. 2. 16. Now there is no reason why Faith should be said to be imputed unto righteousnes in any other sense, as concerning the word (unto) then we are said to believe unto righteousnes: but in all reason the Greek (εἰς unto) must in both these phrases be taken in one and the same sense, that is, As we believe with the Heart to this end, that we might by Faith (as the only meet instrument, and only convenient and effectual mean to apprehend and possess,) attain to the possession of the righteousnes of God in Christ: Even so the Lord our God imputeth Faith to us as our own, to this end that the righteousnes which we possess by it, may make us righteous before him, or be righteousnes to us in his sight.

(k) Rom. 4. 5.

(1) Rom. 10. 10.

Thus this sentence rightly understood, gives no advantage, Either to the Papists to prove that by works we are justified, because Faith is no work of ours, neither yet is the Matter, but the Mean only of our righteousnes: Or yet unto others, who make the very act of our believing to be our Righteousnes, for it is not the act of believing, but the thing purchased and possessed by the act of believing which is our righteousnes before God. But rather doth evidently Convince both these Opinions of Manifest Errour.

These are the three chief Explanations of Orthodox Writers, which I find, Touching the Manner of Faiths being Imputed unto righteousnes, as it is an Instrument apprehending Christ and his Righteousnes. I honour the Reverend and learned Authors of them all. Let the godly judicious take their choice. They all Scope at the same thing, viz. Justification by Faith as a supernatural Instrument. Every of them is safe, and consistent with the Analogy of Faith. Yet if the two last explanations may be joyned together, (as I think they well may) I should much incline thereunto.

Thus of the fourth and most intricate Question.

Quest.

Quest. V. Whether Abraham was not in some sense justified by works and obedience, as well as by Faith: And how the Apostle James is to be understood in that particular? The occasion of this Question is, the seeming difference betwixt Paul and James, about Abraham's Justification. For, Paul alleadging these words of Moses, affirms thence (m) that Abraham was justified by Faith without works. But James saith that (n) Abraham was justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the Altar, &c. How then can these two be reconciled? or How was Abraham Justified by Works?

(m) Rom. 4. 1,2,3,4,5 ub Gen. 15 6.
(n) Jam. 2. 21. to 25.

Answ. Many Solutions are by writers offered herein: Let us view them briefly, and examine what is spoken most solidly.

1. Some have thought this knot indissoluble, and that herein Paul and James cannot be reconciled: and probable, upon this account, the Divine Authority of S. James his Epistle was anciently questioned, as (o) Hieronyme, and (p) Eusebius intimate, though after in process of time it obtained authority: yet some after writers have called it into Question, as Luther, Erasmus and others: though now it be on all sides Received as Canonical. But to reject James his Epistle because of this seeming opposition to Paul, is a (q) Remedy worse then the Malady; not an Unsying, but a cutting off the Knot; not an Expounding, but a Confounding of Scripture.

2. Some say, That, according to Paul, Abraham was justified in his first justification (whereby of unjust and impious he was made just and holy) by faith without works, viz. without works from strength of Nature, &c. But, according to James, Abraham was justified (viz. in his second Justification, whereby of just he is made more just) not only by Faith, but by works also, namely by works arising not from nature, but from grace, which are meritorious. Thus the Papists.

But This Reconciliation is most corrupt and erroneous. For, 1. Hereby they make Justification and Sanctification to be both one thing: and confound, what Scripture distinguisheth clearly. A gross errour. 2. There's no such thing as A First and Second Justification in their sense. Justification is by God perfected at once; though our sense and apprehension of it be perfected by degrees. 3. Suppose there were such a first and second Justification, yet it would not as they apply it, serve at all to reconcile Paul and James, as if Paul spake of the first, James of the second. For, Paul speaks of the second Justification of Abraham, he being a believer, and consequently justified before: and James speaks of the first Justification in the instance of Rahab. 4. Not only (r) works of Nature done before faith, but also (s) works of grace done after faith, are excluded from justification of Abraham and others.

(r) Rom 4 2, 3, 4, 5
(s) Gal. 2, 16. Rom. 4 6.

3. Some would thus reconcile them, That, Paul speaks only of Abraham's Justification before God, causally, which was by faith alone (as an instrumental Cause) without works: But James speaks of his justification before men only, Declaratively; And that was done by

Abra

Abraham's works, which declared and manifested him to the world to be a just man and a true believer, when he offered up his son Isaac, &c.

But (though it may be admitted as a true distinction in it self, that Faith Causally justifies us before God, and works justifie us declaratively before men, yet) this seems not fully to reach the meaning of Iames here. 1. Because, That work of Abraham, in offering up Isaac, by which he is said to be justified, was secret from all mens view and knowledge. Only Isaac was present, who knew not Abraham's mind in that act, but by the Event. 2. Because, There's no outward imperate act or work, which a child of God can do, but an hypocrite may imitate it. And can such acts, wherein Hypocrites go as far as true believers, justifie them before men? 3. Because, (t) Iames here speaks of justification both by Faith and works. But Faith cannot declare us just before men, though works could. God only can judge of our Faith: Man cannot charitably be perswaded of Faith, but by works.

(t) Iam. 2. 21, 22, 23, 24.

4. Some, seeing these inconveniences, deny that the word (Justifie) is used in any other sense by James, then by Paul: But they say, in that passage of James, (u) Was not Abraham our father justified by works? There's a Metonymie of the Effect for the Cause, in the word (Works.) viz. Works, the effect, being put for the cause of those works. So that Abraham was not justified by a vain shew of Faith, by a workless Faith, which Iames so much condemnes; but by a true faith that justifies it self by works, that (x) works by love. This interpretation, for the substance of it, agrees well with the Scope of Iames, whose intent in this chapter is, not to show How or wherewith we are justified, or whether Faith, or Works, or both, justifie us; But rather to show what manner of Faith that is whereby we must be justified, viz. a lively working fruit-bearing faith. And thus though the passages of Paul and Iames be divers, yet are they not opposite nor contrary. But because this Metonymie is very harsh, and somewhat unusual in Scripture, this Reconciliation doth not so fully satisfie.

(u) Iam. 2. 21.

(x) Gal. 5. 6.

5. Some endeavour to reconcile Paul and James by a Distinction of Justification by works, Thus. Justification by works, is either from them as from the Causes, or as from the Effects and Signs of Justification and Faith. Justification by works as the Causes of Justification, is that according to the Rigor of the Law by which Adam and his posterity were to be justified in innocency under the Covenant of works, viz. by a perfect and perpetual personal obedience. This perfect Justification by works, as causes, Paul now excludes by Faith, and Iames speaks not of it. Justification by works as by Effects and Signs of Justification, and Faith, is that according to the lenity of the Gospel, when justified persons, First, In this life, not only externally before men, but also internally before God, demonstrate themselves to be inherently just, and this by their inchoate choate righteousnes accepted through Christs intercession. Heb. 13. 21. 1 Pet. 2. 5. As God said of Abraham, Now I know that thou feares me, Gen. 22. 12. Secondly, In the life to come, when they shall be declared just at the last day, from the works of righteousnes inchoate on Earth, as from fruits and testimonies of true Faith and justification. This reason and signification of justification is expressed, Matth. 12. 36. By thy words thou shalt be justified; and Matth. 25. 35. This justification by works, as Effects and Signs, Iames requires. For he shows how a lively Faith and inchoate inherent righteousnes may be known; viz. not by a naked profession of Faith destitute of good works: but by good works, as the Tree by the fruit. And this is the sense of that learned (y) Gomarus.

(y) Fran Gomarus in Analyt. Explicat. ad Rom. 4. Oper. Part. 2.

6. Fmully, Others more fully Reconcile Paul and James, by distinguishing of Faith, and by declaring the true Scope and intent of James in this Paragraph, Iam. 2. 14. to the end of the chapter. Faith is of two sorts, viz. 1. A (z) Faith unfeigned, having true (a) life in it, and working by love in all acts of Christian obedience. 2. A Faith feigned and Counterfeit, consisting either in a Meer outward profession of Faith, as the Faith of (b) Simon Magus; or in a meer naked assent to some points of Truth, as the (c) Faith of Devils; or in some hypocritical fruits, signs and shows of Faith for a Season, as the (d) Faith of Temporaries (resembled by the stony or rocky ground) which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away. This feigned false Faith is liveless, workless, fruitless, and consequently altogether vain and worthless. Now the plain Scope of Iames is, To prove, That this Faith which brings not forth true fruits, true good works, is a vain dead useless Faith, as to the point of justifying or saving any one. That this is the Intent of Iames is clear three ways. 1. From the Proposition which he lays down, and propounds to prove. 2. From his proofs of the Proposition. 3. From the Conclusion which he infers upon those proofs.

1. His Proposition is this for Substance; That, Faith, or A profession of Faith, without works, is utterly unprofitable as to Salvation. This is laid down in a double interrogation, and hath the force of a strong Negation. (e) What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say (that is, profes outwardly before others, or think inwardly in his own heart,) he hath faith, and hath not works? Can Faith save him? that is, Can such a Faith, that brings not forth good works of Love and Obedience, save him? No, it cannot save him, its wholly useless.

(e) Iam. 2. 14.

2. His Proofs or Confirmation of this Propositon are divers and very observable. Faith which brings not forth Good works, is unprofitable, can save no man; 1. Because, The most excellent Show or Profession of Brotherly love, without suitable works, is dead and useless, vers. 15, 16, 17. For, there's a proportionable similitude and resemblance betwixt the Graces of Gods Spirit in this this regard. As a workleſs Love is a Counterfeit, vain and unprofitable love: ſo a workleſs Faith is a Counterfeit, vain and unprofitable Faith. 2. Becauſe, It is impoſſible for any man to demonſtrate or evidence the truth of his Faith without works: which yet may be done by works. This Argument is laid down dialogue-wiſe, betwixt A true Chriſtian and an Hypocrite. ver. 18. True Faith will ſhew it ſelf by works, as the tree ſhews it ſelf by fruits, Life by the pulſe, fire by heat, &c. That Faith which cannot thus be manifeſted, is falſe and uſeleſs. 3. Becauſe, A workleſs Faith, though it aſſent to the Truth of the Articles of Religion, yet being a meer Aſſent and no more, is no better then the very faith of Devils, who believe as much. But the faith of Devils is falſe, uſeleſs, and can never ſave them, ver. 19. 4. Becauſe, The Faith of Abraham (the father of the faithful) whereby he was juſtified before God, was not a dead faith without works, but a living faith, bringing forth works: and Conſequently ſuch muſt be the juſtifying faith of All Abraham's believing Seed; otherwiſe it will be dead and vain. This Argument he inſiſts much upon, as very Conſiderable. And herein, (1.) He Reſumes the main Propoſition formerly propounded, viz. That Faith without works is dead and unprofitable, ver. 20. (2.) He (by way of interrogation) Aſſerts, or Affirms, That Abraham was juſtified by works, in his offering of Iſaac upon the Altar, ver. 21. That is, By this eminent work he gave a notable experiment of his true juſtifying faith. As Chriſt is ſaid to be (f) juſtified in the Spirit: that is, he gave an experiment of himſelf, who he was by the power of his Spirit, of his Godhead. To whom gave Abraham this Experiment? not only or chiefly to man, but to God that tryed him, who upon that his tryal ſaid, (g) Now I know that thou feareſt God, ſeeing thou haſt not withheld thy ſon, thy only ſon from me. (3.) He explains his Aſſertion of Abraham's being juſtified by works in his offering of Iſaac, ſaying; Seeſt thou How Faith wrought with his works, and by works was Faith made perfect? ver. 22. that is, (h) By Faith Abraham when he was tryed offered up Iſaac. Faith enabled him to this great work, Faith carryed him on herein from the beginning to the end of the work: But for his Faith this had never been done; Faith did all. And by works was Faith perfected; that is, not Eſſentially or Cauſally, as any Cauſe or Concauſe co-operating with his Faith in the point of his Juſtification; for Abraham's Faith was perfect, and had done many excellent exploits long before, yea had juſtified Abraham perfectly before God many years before his offering up of Iſaac: But (i) Evidentially, or Declaratively, this Act perfectly evidenced before the Lord the truth of his Faith; Or (as Cameron thinks) Subjectively, works were the Subject wherein his Faith exerciſed and put forth it ſelf, and manifeſted its perfection. As (k) Chriſts power was perfected in Pauls weakneſs, viz. as in the Subject wherein Chriſts power discovers and evidences its perfection and sufficiency. So that when James said, Abraham was justified by works when he had offered up Isaac, His meaning was, that he was justified by works only à posteriori, as effects and fruits of Faith and justification; but by Faith, à priori, causally, which produced such works, and was evidentially and experimentally perfected of them. (4.) He Confirms his Assertion thus explained, (viz. That Abraham was justified by works as fruits, effects and evidences of Justifying Faith,) Partly, In that (l) hereby the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed to him for righteousness. How was this Scripture fulfilled by Abrahams offering up of Isaac, when the Tenor and Series of the History shews, that Scripture was fulfilled many years before Isaac was Offered up, or born? Answ. This Scripture (m) was properly fulfilled, in the self-same moment when Abraham believed, Rom. 4. 10. But that Accomplishment was illustrated and declared afterwards, by this excellent work of Faith, Heb. 11. 17. Partly, In that Abraham was honorifically entituled, The friend of God. Which dignity is cast on none but such as have true Faith, evidencing itself by works, verse 23. (5.) He concludes from this instance of Abraham, That by works a man is justified, and not by Faith only, verse 24. By works as an effect, by Faith as a cause of Justification. 5. Because, not only Eminent Abraham, but also Rahab the Harlot, a Gentilish Proselyte, was justified (viz. declared, demonstrated, manifested to be justified) by works, In receiving the Spyes, and sending them out another way, verse 25. So that both Jew and Gentile must be justified by a Faith that brings forth works; by works as the effects, by Faith as the Cause of Justification.

3. His Conclusion inferred from his Proposition thus Confirmed, is this; For as the body without the spirit is dead, So faith without works is dead also. Altogether useless and unprofitable to salvation. verse 26.

And this seems to be the clear intent of James, and the plain order of his Argumentation in this Context, without all forcing the text, or harsh Metonymies. Learned (n) Cameron inclines most to this, as the best way of reconciling James and Paul. (o) Mr. Pemble comes somewhat neer it, but grates upon that harsh Metonymie taking works for a working Faith. May I freely speak my own thoughts herein, The Reconciliation will be most full and compleat, if we put these two last waies, viz. This of Cameron, and that of (p) Gomarus together: And so there shall remain no discord at all, but sweet Harmony and Concord betwixt these two blessed Apostles. For, 1. Paul speaks of a true lively Faith as justifying; James excludes the false dead workless Faith from justifying, 2. Paul shews whereby we are justified, viz. by Faith; James shews what manner of Faith it must be, viz. a lively working Faith, whereby we are justified: 3. Paul proves that we are justified by faith, without works works as Causes of Justification; James proves that we are justified by works also as effects and consequents upon justification, and not by faith only: 4. Paul maintains that Faith alone justifies; James maintains that justifying Faith is not alone in the justified person, but produceth good works: 5. Paul intends our justification à priori, causally, and instrumentally, by Faith without works: James intends our Justification à posteriori, Declaratively and demonstratively by works the fruits of faith: 6. Paul evinceth that faith alone justifies our persons, but James evidenceth that works are requisite to justifie our Faith. So that the Doctrine of Paul and James is unisone: most harmoniously agreeing one with the other, even wherein they seem most of all to disagree.

In Pauls sense Abraham was justified by Faith only: In James his sense he was justified by works also. Thus of the fifth Question.

Quest. VI. Whether all Abrahams believing Seed both of Jews and Gentiles were not to be justified in the same way and manner that Abraham was? Answ. Yes. All Abraham's Seed must be justified in one and the self-same way, as Abraham himself was. For,

1. The Testimony of Scripture is clear for it, both in the Causal Justification à priori by Faith, and evidential Justification à posteriori by works. Of causal Justification, Paul saith, (q) Faith was imputed to him (viz. to Abraham) unto righteousness. Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him: But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him who raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead, who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification. And of evidential Justification, James saith, (r) was not Abraham our Father justified by works, &c? And thence he makes a general deduction for like justification in all that shall be justified, ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not Faith only.

(q) Rom. 4. 22, 23, 24, 25.

(r) Jam. 2. 20. to 25.

2. The Analogy of their Spiritual Relation infers it. Abraham is (s) made their Spiritual Father: And all believers of Jews and Gentiles, his Spiritual children. Therefore as the great believer, and the father of believers (t) was justified: so proportionably must all his Spiritual children be justified, being heirs of the same righteousness by Faith.

(t) Rom 4. 9, 10, 11, 12, 16, 17.

3. The Identity and Sameness of Gods Covenant proves it. For, Since the Fall of Adam and the breach of the Covenant of works thereby, God hath still in all ages (as I have formerly proved) dealt with his Church by A Covenant of Faith, sometimes more obscurely, sometimes more clearly, but still one and the same Covenant for substance both before and after Christ, though under several Administrations. And this Covenant of Faith tendered to the Church only one way of Justification in all ages, viz. Instrumentally by Faith in Christ, Evidentially by the fruits of Faith, good-works. (u) The righteousness of God without the Law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and Prophets. Even the righteousness of God, which is by Faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference, for all have sinned and come short of the Glory of God. —— It is one God which shall justifie the Circumcision by Faith, and Uncircumcision through Faith. Do we then make void the Law through Faith? God forbid. Yea, we establish the Law. How do we stablish the Law through Faith: that is, through the Doctrine of Justification by Faith? Answ. Two waies, viz. 1. Principally, By teaching that the exact performance of the Law is of such consequence, and necessity, That the Sinners Surety Jesus Christ must be fully conform and obedient to it Actively and Passively, that so he and his obedience might be the Sinners perfect righteousness by imputation through Faith. The Law must be fulfilled one way or other, either in our own Persons, or in Christs person as our Surety; otherwise we can never be justified. This stablisheth the Law: whilst our justification is ultimately resolved into the exact fulfilling of the Law, in our own, or Christs person. 2. Secondarily, By teaching that persons justified by faith in Christs perfect Obedience, must yet have a sincere respect to the whole Law by upright inchoate Obedience: Partly, to testifie their gratitude to God: Partly, to demonstrate the truth of their justified state and justifying Faith that so (x) works by love.

(x) Gal. 5. 6.

(y) 1 Tim. 2. 5.

4 The (y) Sameness of the Mediator of the Covenant Jesus Christ evinceth, that all Abraham's Seed must be justified in such manner as Abraham was. For the Mediator of the Covenant Jesus Christ alone, is, through his perfect Obedience, the Meritorious cause, and the very matter of our righteousness. (z) We are justified by his blood. (a) —— All have Sinned and come short of the glory of God. Being justified freely by his grace, through the Redemption that is in Jesus Christ. (b) —— Neither is there salvation in any other. Nor is there any other ordinary way of enjoying Christ and his righteousness on our part, but by faith alone. Now (c) Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, and to day, and for ever. The same for Substance as to Sinners Salvation, before, under, and after the Law: though under different manifestations. He is the only Old-Testament-Saviour, and the only New-Testament-Saviour. He is one and the same justified of Abraham and all his Seed, yea and of all his Elect before Abraham, by his own Obedience through Faith. Therefore both Abraham and all his Seed Jewish and Gentilish must be justified in one and the same way.

(b) Act. 4. 11, 12.

(c) Heb. 13. 8.

5. Finally, The Sinfulness of all mankind through the Fall confirms this. For (d) all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God. Therefore they cannot be justified causally by Doing, but by believing. A Third way of Justification Scripture knows not. Consequently all Abrahams Seed must be justified in the same way that Abraham was.

(d) Rom. 3. 20, 21, 22, 23.

This

This being So: 1. How constant is God to his own mysterious and gracious way of justifying and saving Sinners by faith in Christ, from Adam to the end of the world! 2. How vertuous and influential Christs obedience and blood that could justifie Gods elect as well before as after his coming! 3. What union and communion hath the Lord established among all believers both before, under, and after the Law: in that they all should believe on one and the same Christ, and all be justified by believing on him! There's their Union and Communion both with Christ and with one another. 4. How Happy the meanest true child of Abraham, in that he shall be justified in the self-same way that even Abraham himself was, viz. by Faith in Jesus Christ! The same blood of Christ that cleansed Abraham, shall wash off thy spots; the same robe of Christs righteousness that cloathed Abraham, shall cloath thy Soul; The same Faith for kind which was imputed to Abraham unto righteousness, shall be imputed to thee unto justification. Thus of the sixth Question.

Quest. VII. Finally, Wherein doth the Nature of that Justification of man before God consist, which from age to age is Revealed in the Covenant of Faith? This may briefly be dispatched as a Result in great part, from former particulars.

For clearing of this (e) Primary and most necessary point of Christian Religion, wherein our very life and Comfort is so singularly bound up; I offer this brief Description of Justification, to be explained and Confirmed as followeth. viz.

Justification is Gods judicial Act, most (f) gracious and (g) just, whereby he (h) pardoneth all the sins of his (i) Elect, in themselves (k) unjust and liable to the curse of the Law, but by (l) Faith possessed of Christ and his righteousness; And (m) accounteth their persons righteous in his sight: Not (n) for any thing wrought in them, or done by them, but only (o) for the perfect Righteousness, and Obedience of Christ imputed to them by God, and received by (p) Faith alone, in order to Gods (q) glory, and their (r) eternal Salvation.

For further Explanation and Confirmation of this Description, Consider, 1. The sense of the word, Justification. 2. The Proper Subject of Justification, to whom this Eminent privilege is vouchsafed. 3. The Causes of Justification.

I. Justification,

I. Justification, signifies, The making of one just, or righteous; if we precisely consider the Etymologie of the word. And this Grammatical Notation of the word we may grant to (f) Bellarmine and the Papists, who violently contend for it in this point: provided we expound this Making just, or Righteous, Not by infusion of Habitual inherent righteousness, which is properly Sanctification; But by Imputation of Christs righteousness through Faith, which is properly Justification. Thus God justifying the ungodly, makes him righteous, Rom. 4. 5. And yet that passage of Bellarmine is to be marked elsewhere, who saith: (t) Herein these Grammatical, rather then Theological Teachers do much err, that they derive the signification of words rather from Etymologie, then from the Common use of Scriptures and good Authors. He will fetch the sense of words from Etymologies when they will serve his turn: but when they make against him, he will reject them.

But if we observe exactly the Common use of this word Justifie, or Justification in Scripture, It never signifies making a man just by infused righteousness, in all the Scripture, (as that accurate (u) Gomarus hath well observed *) but either, 1. To judge or accounnt one just and righteous, as Psal. 143. 2. Luke 18. 14. Rom. 4. 5. 1 Cor. 6. 11. Math. 11. 19. with Luke 19. 35. Or, 2. To Declare, Shew, or Manifest one to be righteous. By a Metonymie of the effect. As, 1 Tim. 3. 16. Jam. 2. 24, 25. Rev. 22. 11. Math. 23. 38. with Luke 16. 15. Exod. 33. 7. 1 Kings 8. 32. Or, 3. To free, deliver, set at liberty, rescue from an adversary, &c. By a Metaphor drawn from the similitude and manner of absolving the guilty. As, Ier. 3. 11. Ezek. 15. 51, 52. and Dan. 8. 14. Rom. 6. 7. with 1 Pet. 4. 1. In this threefold sense the word, Justifie or Justification, is stilled in the whole Scripture, if every place where it is mentioned be intentively weighed. Which makes strongly against the Popish sense of Justification by righteousness infused.

Justification then imports A making righteous: Not by Infusion of habitual and inherent righteousness into any one; But (according to Scripture-sense) either by Judging and accounting righteous, Or by Declaring and Manifesting righteous, Or by freeing, delivering, and setting at liberty, as righteous. And thus much for the Notation of the word, and the Scripture use of it.

II. The Proper Subject of Justification, is two waies Considered; viz. 1. As Mediate and Remote, that is, Gods Elect, though in themselves unjust, and obnoxious thereby to the curse of the Law. (x) Whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified. All they, and they alone, shall be justified in time, who were elected and predestinate to adoption, justification and eternal life before all time. These Elect, though by nature and in themselves ungodly before their calling, yet after their calling God justifies. Hence, God is said, (y) To justifie the the ungodly. That is not them that are, and remain ungodly and uncalled still; but those that in themselves, and before their calling were ungodly. This the Remote Subject. 2. As Immediate and most Nier: that is, Gods effectually Called ones, that Actually believe in Jesus Christ. (a) Whom he called, them he also justified. Gods Elect must be called unto union with Christ by Faith, before they can have Communion with Christ in his righteousnes, or in any other his saving benefits. (b) He that hath the son, hath life: but he that hath not the son, hath not life. Should God justifie the ungodly, remaining such actually uncalled, he should do an abominable act of injustice, which God infinitely abhors, who is infinitely righteous, and can do no unrighteousnes.

This will better appear, if we heedfully consider the manner of the Lords proceedings in Justification of his Elect. Which seems to be thus; 1. He effectually (b) calls his elect, in due time, out of darknes into his Marvellous light, New creating them according to his own image, instilling habitual grace, Faith, Repentance, Love, &c. into the soul from Christ by his spirit. And herein (c) Christ lays hold upon them, apprehends them, takes possession of them, and of ungodly makes them Godly: who in this first work are meer Patients. 2. Having wrought Faith in them by effectual Calling, he actuates and quickens that Faith (d) as a supernatural Hand or Instrument to receive Christ as their Head and Saviour; So that accepting Christ offered in the Gospel, they are united to him, made one with him, (e) as members of his body, branches in this vine, &c. And herein we re-embrace and lay hold upon Christ. Acti agimus: Being acted by Christ, we act together with Christ. 3. Having union to Christ by Faith, we (f) have also Communion with Christ in his righteousnes, obedience, life, and all his benefits. Christ being ours, all that's Christ's becomes ours by Faith also. And thus by Faith we are seized and actually possessed of Christ and his righteousnes. 4. Being in Actual possession of Christ and his righteousnes by Faith, God (g) imputes this Faith (though (h) his own supernatural gift, and Spiritual Instrument) to us, as our own, unto righteousnes: to the end, that Christ, his obedience and righteousnes possessed by Faith, may be righteousnes to us, and so be imputed to us, as our righteousnes, as hath been explained. 5. Christs righteousnes and Perfect Obedience Active and Passive, being thus imputed to us through Faith, and made ours: (i) All our sins are fully remitted, as if they had never been: and our (k) Persons are graciously accepted by God, and accounted perfectly righteous, yea the righteousnes of God in Christ. And this seems to be the clearest and safest Notion of Gods proceeding in the Justification of his Elect, for avoiding all inconveniences; and the most agreeable to the Scriptures.

III. The Causes of our Justification are four. viz. 1. The Efficient. 2. The matter. 3. The Form. 4. The End.

1. The efficient Cause of Justification is twofold: viz. 1. Principal. 2. Instrumental.

(1.) The Principal efficient of Justification is (l) God alone. For, 1. God alone hath the right of Justifying us; being the only Supreme (m) Lord, and (n) Law-giver, and (o) Judge and chief (p) Creditor, whom we have offended, and to whom we are indebted by our sins; therefore he alone can pardon our sins and clear our debts, which are against him. 2. God alone, (q) hath provided and made Jesus Christ to be the Meritorious Cause, and the very Matter of our righteousness before God: by his perfect Obedience to the Law both Active and passive. Infinitely (r) accepting him therein. 3. God alone, doth actually (s) unite his elect unto Jesus Christ by Faith wrought in them through their effectual calling, whereby they have Communion with Christ in his righteousness, are actually justified, and accounted the righteousness of God. Yea God the (t) Father, (u) Son, and (x) Holy Ghost justifie, as the efficient Causes and Authors of our Justification. But according to the peculiar order of their Subsisting, and acting, The Father, in the Son, by the Spirit justifies: So that the Action of Justification is attributed more peculiarly to the Father, The merit of it to the Son, The Application of that merit and obsignation thereof to the Holy Spirit. This, as all other works of the Trinity without, are undivided, and Common to the whole Trinity, but differently. The Impulsive or Moving Cause Inclining God to Justifie his Elect, is Inward, and Outward. 1. Inward, Causa movens interna, (y) the meer mercy and free grace of God, according to the good pleasure of his will. (z) He blots out their iniquities for his own sake. Not from their works or faith, or any thing at all in them, as a Motive, is he inclined to justifie them: but from his own free favour, he fetches all Arguments and Motives from the bosome of his own love. 2. Outward, Causa movens externa, or meritorious Cause, is the Perfect (a) Obedience, righteousness and Satisfaction of Jesus Christ our Mediator, whereby he became our (b) Ransom and Propitiation for our sins, wherein he was (c) an odour of a sweet smell to God. Most abundantly well-pleasing to him.

(2.) The Instrumentall efficient of Justification, is twofold. viz. 1. Mediate, more Remote, and Outward: The tender of the Gospel, and Promise, and of Christ therein, by the preaching thereof. Hence the Gospel is called, (d) the power of God unto salvation, wherein the righteousness of God is revealed from faith to Faith; and (e) the word of Reconciliation. And the Preachers thereof are called hence, (f) מצדיקי הרבים Justifiers of many: having (g) the Keyes committed to them for binding and loosing, for remitting and retaining of sins on earth: and are said to (h) save. 2. Immediate, more neer and Inward: the supernatural Organ, Instrument, or Hand of Faith, receiving Christ, his Obedience and righteousness, offered in the Gospel, and promises for justification.

cation. And hence we are ſaid to be juſtified, (i) of faith, (k) by faith, (l) through faith: and to (m) believe unto Juſtification: and (n) Faith is ſaid to be imputed unto righteouſneſs: Not as the Meritorious Cauſe or part of it, Nor as an act graciouſly accepted through Chriſt for perfect righteouſneſs, Nor as a Condition of the Covenant to be performed by us, but only as an Inſtrumental Cauſe or mean ſupernatural whereby we receive and apply Chriſts righteouſneſs, as hath formerly been proved at large.

2. The Material Cauſe or Matter and Subſtance of our Juſtification, may be Conſidered, 1. Negatively, what it is not. 2. Affirmatively what it is.

Negatively, The Matter or Subſtance of our righteouſneſs and Juſtification, is not any thing wrought in us, or done by us, as it is generally expreſſed in the deſcription of Juſtification. More particularly, the matter of our Juſtification, is; 1. Not any Habitual inherent righteonſneſs infuſed into us. For, that's the matter of our Sanctification, not of our Juſtification; and it is alſo imperfect. 2. Not any works of the Law, Legal (o) works of our own, done before Faith and effectual calling. For works truly good and pleaſing to God, none (p) can do in a carnal Chriſtleſs condition. 3. Not any (q) Evangelical works done after Faith, as works of Repentance, Love, New-obedience, &c. Which Papiſts make the matter of our Juſtification. For, Neither, (r) Abraham himſelf, the father of the faithful, was ſo juſtified; Nor (s) David the man after Gods own heart; Nor (t) Paul himſelf that choſen veſſel, once caught up into the third Heavens, though he was conſcious to himſelf of nothing; No, (u) nor any fleſh living. 4. Not Faith itſelf, is, or can be the matter of our righteouſneſs, either in the Popiſh ſenſe by way of merit, or in the Arminian ſenſe by way of gratuitous acceptation: As hath formerly been proved. Yea Faith itſelf, and all Evangelical works after Faith, are imperfect, and accompanied in the beſt with many infirmities: and therefore themſelves had need to be juſtified, and their imperfections covered: ſo far are they from being matter of juſtification to us, that they deſerve rather to be matter of Condemnation.

Affirmatively, The only Matter of our Righteouſneſs and juſtification before God, is, the Perfect (x) Righteouſneſs and compleat Obedience of Jeſus Chriſt taken in their full latitude. Chriſts Righteouſneſs is, 1. Habitual and original, viz. The Spotleſs purity of his Nature, being (y) the Holy one of God, A Lamb without ſpot, &c. this is oppoſite to our Original unrighteouſneſs. 2. Actual, viz. the perfect and perpetual (z) righteouſneſs of his life: oppoſite to all our Actual unrighteouſneſs. This Actual righteouſneſs Chriſt expreſſed, (a) Actively, in acting, doing, and (b) performing to the full, the whole Law of God throughout his whole life, without the leaſt ſinful failing in any regard. (a) Passively, in enduring and undergoing (b) deep Humiliation, manifold sorrows and afflictions, yea the cursed Death upon the Cross, for all the sins of all his Elect. By this righteousness Jesus Christ hath, as our Mediatour and Surety, compleatly (c) fulfilled the Law, that broken Covenant of works, fully (d) satisfied Divine Justice offended, and hath Meritoriously obtained for his Elect, Remission (e) of all their sins and punishments due for them, And (f) Acceptation of their persons as perfectly righteous before Gods tribunal. (m) Heb. 7. 2,3.

3. The Form, or Formal Cause of Justification,

Is not, 1. Faith in the Popish sense, who count Faith the inchoate form and true righteousness, but to be perfected by Love. 2. Nor Faith in the Arminian or Socinian sense, who make Faith or the act of believing, the whole Form of our righteousness, not in it self, but through Gods gratuitous acceptation for and through Christs merit. All which have been in effect formerly confuted.

But is, Gods Gratuitous (o) Imputation of Christs perfect righteousness and obedience through Faith unto Justification: as hath been formerly explained. For Hereby alone Christs righteousness is made ours for justification before the tribunal of God.

(o) Rom.4.6, 11. & 5. 19. 2 Cor.5. 21. Rom.4.3,5,9, 22,23, 24. Gen.15.6.

4. The Final Cause or End of our Justification, is twofold, viz. 1. Primary and ultimate. 2. Secondary and Subordinate thereunto.

(1) The Ultimate End is the Singular Manifestation of Gods Glory herein, viz. 1. The Glory of his (p) justice and truth. In that his son shall rather be (q) made Sin for us, then Sin shall go unavenged. And, in that whosoever believes in this Son of God, shall according to Gods Covenant and Promises undoubtedly receive justification from God. 2. The Glory of his free (r) Grace and rich (s) mercy, in that he hath provided such compleat righteousness of Christ for us; and imputes it through faith so freely to us, who of our selves are altogether faithless, workless, and worthless.

(2) The

(2) The Subordinate End, is our Eternal life and glory. Hence its ſtiled (t) Juſtification of life. And it's ſaid, (u) whom he hath juſtified, them he hath alſo glorified.

(t) Rom. 5. 18
(u) Rom. 8. 30.

Thus I have inſiſted ſomewhat more fully upon this neceſſary, intricate, and fundamental point; viz. Juſtification by Faith; becauſe this is the very firſt expreſs Mention thereof in the whole Scriptures, which we have in this Fœderal expreſſure to Abraham and his Seed; and becauſe the New Teſtament makes more uſe of this Teſtimony touching Abrahams Juſtification by Faith, and imputed righteouſneſs, then of any other in all the Old Teſtament.

Hitherto of the Final Cauſe, or End of this Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, viz. ultimately Gods glory: Subordinately, the true Happineſs of Abraham and his Seed, Jewiſh and Gentiliſh, both in this and in the world to come.

And thus, in order to the Clearing of this Excellent Diſpenſation of Gods Covenant, I have unfolded in ſeveral diſtinct Aphoriſms, 1. The Nature of Gods Covenant with Abraham, that it was a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt. 2. The Fœderate Parties, viz. God on the one part, Abraham and his Seed on the other. 3. The Matter and Subſtance of this Covenant, viz. Bleſſings promiſed by God, and Duties reſtipulated by Abraham and his Seed. 4. The Form of the Covenant, viz. Inward, In the Fœderates mutual and reciprocal obligation: Outward, In the manner of Adminiſtration, eſpecially in the Confirmation thereof by God. 5. The End of this Covenant, viz. Gods Glory, and the true Happineſs of Abraham and his Seed.

APHORISM VI.

NOw, for cloſing up of this Fœderal Diſcourſe the more pertinently and profitably, I offer theſe enſuing Inferences from the whole, by way of Corollary, comprized in this Aphoriſm, clearly reſulting from the fore-going Aphoriſms and their Explanations, viz.

Hence, From all that hath been ſaid, 1. This Covenant's Properties, or Perfections; 2. Additional Excellencies; 3. Agreement with, and Diſagreement from the former Covenants; 4. Gods infinite wiſdom therein; 5. Abraham's great advantage thereupon; 6. The peculiar Happineſs of Abraham and his Seed thereby; 7. The ſameneſs of the Goſpel, of the Meſsiah, and of Salvation by Faith in him, in thoſe former, former, as well as in these latter ages of the world, are, in this Federal Dispensation, most eminently observable. These Inferences I explain particularly, as followeth. viz.

Inference. I.

I. Hence, The Properties or Perfections of this Covenant are observable. And they are especially these. This Covenant of God with Abraham and his Seed, is, 1. Evangelical. 2. Holy. 3. Gracious. 4. Merciful. 5. Mandatory. 6. Sure. 7. Comfortable. 8. Everlasting.

1. Evangelical. Its not a Legal Covenant of works, as the First Covenant with Adam in Innocency was: but an Evangelical Covenant of Faith, in Christ, the Blesser of all Abraham's believing Seed. Consider it deliberately, and you shall find it All pure Gospel throughout. For, 1. The very first Revealing of this Covenant to Abraham, is stiled the Preaching of the Gospel to Abraham. (x) The Scripture foreseeing that God would justifie the Heathen through faith, preached before the Gospel to Abraham, saying, In thee shall all Nations be blessed. In thee: that is, In thy Seed Christ, as (y) after it is usually expounded. Now what is the Gospel but (z) the Good Word of God, or the glad tidings of lapsed Sinners Salvation by Jesus Christ? 2. The Fœderates herein with God, are Abraham and his Seed; not (a) Seeds, but Seed; that is Christ. viz. God Covenanted primarily with Christ; and Secondarily, with all Abraham's Seed in Christ; yea with all Abraham's true Seed as one with Christ, or as one Christ. 3. All the Promised Mercies in effect herein, do principally imply Spiritual Gospel Benefits. As, Multiplying Abraham's Seed; the great increase and enlargement of the Church in Christ: Blessing Abraham and all the Nations of the Earth in his Seed; the blessing of believers with all Spiritual blessings in Heavenly things in Christ: His Seeds possessing the Gates of their Enemies; the victoriousness of the faithful over all their Spiritual enemies by Christ: His Seeds inheriting Canaan; Believers inheriting of Heaven, &c. 4. All the Restipulated Conditions of the Covenant required from Abraham and his Seed, are pure Evangelical Duties. As, Faith, (which was imputed to Abraham unto righteousness,) walking before God in obedience, Integrity, and Being to God as his Covenant-people. 5. All the Sacraments, Ordinary, and Extraordinary, annexed to this Covenant for its Confirmation, were Evangelical Sacraments; In that they all fore-signified Christ, and Spiritual benefits by him: as hath been fully showed already. 6. This Covenant is said to be (b) fore-confirmed εἰς Χριστὸν, towards Christ. viz. with tendency to Christ, as the End and Scope of this Covenant. 7. When Christ was actually exhibited to the world in humane flesh, it is said to be done by God (c) in ([c]) in Pursuance and Performance of his Covenant and Oath to Abraham. This Covenant then had its chief accomplishment in Christ. They then that can find no Gospel in the Old Testament, sufficiently bewray their ignorance both of the Old Testament and the New.

2. Holy Zacharias in his propheſying ſtiles it An Holy Covenant, ([d]) To remember his Holy Covenant: The Oath which he ſware to our Father Abraham: And David Synechdochically calls it ([e]) His Holy Promiſe; For he remembred his Holy Promiſe; (Heb. The Word of his holineſs,) and Abraham his ſervant. This Covenant (as may appear by what hath been formerly ſaid) is Holy in divers reſpects. For, 1. The Author of it, ([f]) is the Holy, Holy, Holy LORD God. It's His Covenant: of his meer Contrivance and eſtabliſhment. 2. The Fœderate Parties to it are Holy. viz. The Holy God, Promiſing: Abraham (now actually ([g]) called with an Holy Calling) and his Seed, which is Chriſt, reſtipulating. And Chriſt is Holy both in his own Perſon, ([h]) being The Holy one of God, That Holy thing born of the Virgin Mary; Holy, harmleſs, undefiled, ſeparate from Sinners. And alſo in his Myſtical body and members, which are conform to their Head ([i]) An holy Nation, waſhed, ſanctified, &c. All Abrahams true Seed are Holy to the Lord, and holy in the Lord. 3. The Mercies and Bleſſings Promiſed therein are Holy. As, under the Divine Benediction, ([k]) The Holy Spirit of God, Converſion, Juſtification, &c. under the inheritance of Canaan, ([l]) Heaven it ſelf, the Holy of Holies; yea the Lord promiſeth his own Holy ſelf to be their Shield, exceeding great reward, and Covenant God; there's no droſs, no impurity in any of them. 4. The Fœderate Duties conditioned are Holy. As ([m]) Holy Faith, Obedience, integrity, &c. all flowing from the holy Spirit of God. 5. The manifold eſtabliſhment and Sanction of this Covenant is holy. Sanctum fœdus, quaſi Sancitum: It is Auguſtines notion of the word. Gods Holy Promiſe, Sacred Oath, Sacraments, or holy Myſteries, &c. were the Confirmations thereof. 6. The End and intent of this Covenant was Holy; viz. That Abrahams Seed might be an holy and peculiar people to the Lord, and ([n]) being without fear, delivered from the hands of their Enemies, might ſerve him in holineſs and righteouſneſs before him all the days of their lives.

3. Gracious. The meer riches of Gods free Grace inclined the Lord to condeſcend to Abraham at firſt in this Covenant-way. Abraham was naturally ungodly and idolatrous, as hath been ſhowed: there were therefore no motives in him at all. And of meer Grace God called him effectually; and Qualified him with faith, obedience, integrity, &c. for Covenant Communion with God proportionably.

4. Merciful. Mercy in God is that Perfection of his Nature, whereby he is diſpoſed to lay to heart and to relieve the miſery of his Creatures, eſpecially of his elect. Such Divine mercy ſhines forth gloriously in this Covenant to Abraham and his Seed, the Elect of God, that were naturally overwhelmed in Sin and misery. Hence the Matter and Substance of this Covenant is stiled Mercy: (o) Thou wilt perform the Truth to Jacob, and the Mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old. What Mercy? Pardoning Mercy; Thou wilt subdue our iniquities, thou wilt cast all their sins (their spiritual enemies) into the depths of the Sea, as sometimes Pharaoh and the Egyptians, their corporal enemies, into the bottom of the Red-Sea. And both according to Gods Covenant: those corporal, being a type of these and other spiritual enemies to be subdued. Why Truth to Jacob, and Mercy to Abraham? Because this Covenant-administration beginning to Abraham, Mercy did show it self more eminently to Abraham: but being continued and carried on in gradual performances to Jacob and Israel, his truth and faithfulness appeared more eminently to Jacob. Mercy makes the Covenant: Truth makes it good. Again in the New Testament; (p) To perform the Mercy promised to our Fathers, and to remember his holy Covenant: the Oath which he sware to our father Abraham. This Covenant is all Mercy: wholly made up of mercy. viz. Redeeming Mercy, Converting Mercy, Sanctifying Mercy, Adopting Mercy, Justifying and pardoning Mercy, Comforting Mercy, Saving and glorifying Mercy in the celestial and true Canaan.

ouſly

(o) Mic. 7. 19,20. Luk. 1.72.

(p) Luk. 1. 72, 73.

5. Mandatory as well as Promissory. Here are Matters of Command in this Covenant, as well as matters of Promise. There's such infinite distance betwixt God and his Covenant-people, that they cannot capitulate with God, as man with man, upon what terms they please; but they must accept what Covenant-terms God shall please to offer. God, of his soveraignty and supremacy, enjoyns and imposes what Covenants and Conditions he thinks good. This is the great difference betwixt Gods Covenanting with us, and our Covenanting with one another. This Covenant is Mandatory in two respects; viz. 1. More Properly, In respect of the Duties and Conditions therein imposed upon Abraham and his Seed; As, Faith, Obedience, Perfectness, Circumcision, The Passover, &c. these things God commanded them to perform. 2. More Improperly, In respect of the Promises and promised blessings, which for the greater certainty, Sureness, and stability are said to be commanded, and to be confirmed for a Law. (q) He hath remembred his Covenant for ever: the word which he commanded to a thousand generations, which Covenant he made with Abraham, and his Oath unto Isaac: And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a Law, and to Israel for an Everlasting Covenant. Saying, To thee will I give the land of Canaan, the line of your inheritance. This branch of the Covenant, (being Synechdochically put for all the other Covenanted Mercies,) this Promise, is the only thing here stiled The word commanded, a Law confirmed, an Oath, an everlasting Covenant. Like phrase is elsewhere used; (r) For there the LORD hath

(q) Psal. 105. 8,9,10,11.

(r) Ps. 133.3.

hath commanded (that is, appointed, setled, effectually sent) the blessing, Life unto eternity. Thus this Covenant is Mandatory, a Command of God.

6. Sure, firm, inviolable, immutable, unalterable. This Covenant is (r) Sure to all the Seed of Abraham, both Jewish and Gentilish. It is hereupon stiled Gods (s) Truth to Jacob. It must needs be most irrevocably Sure, every way. For, 1. Free-Grace is the fountain and root of it, whence it originally springs. It takes its first rise from God himself, and the meer good-pleasure of his will. It's not bottomed originally upon any thing at all in the mutable creature, but only upon the immutable Creator, God blessed for ever. (t) Therefore it is of Faith, that it might be by Grace, to the end the Promise might be sure to all the Seed, &c. Free-grace is a most sure foundation. The creatures Goodness perswaded not to it: the creatures badness dissuaded not from it. 2. Faith in Christ, is the Condition of it: and that makes (u) the promise sure to all the Seed. For faith (w) is not of our selves, but of God, as the Efficient: and it terminates not on any thing in our selves, but only upon God, as the object and end. Faith takes a man wholly off his own foundation, carries him wholly out of himself, to rest upon God in Christ alone for Justification and Salvation. Had the Covenant-Condition been the works which we had done, the Covenant could never have been Sure to us: Mans best works since the fall being sinful, imperfect, unconstant. 3. God hath established and confirmed this Covenant most strongly and unexceptionably; 1. By his Promises; 2. By Abrahams entry upon Canaan; 3. By the type of Melchizedeck; 4. By his Oath, an (x) immutable thing, wherein it is impossible for God to lye; 5. By Passing between divided Sacrifices; 6. By his two Ordinary Sacraments, Circumcision and The Passover; 7. By his four extraordinary Sacraments; and 8. By the Sufferings and Death of Christ Implyed and Typified divers ways in this Fœderal administration. So that now there's no place left for doubting or Scruple about this Covenant's Sureness; Nor is there any thing in the world that can overthrow it.

7. Comfortable. This Covenant is (z) strongly Comfortable to all the faithful Seed of Abraham. And it is therefore Comfortable, 1. Because, all the other Properties thereof are strong foundations of Comfort. 2. Because, the Substance and Matter thereof promised on Gods part is wholly Cordial; especially if we look into the Spirituality thereof. 3. Because, The Scope and End of this Covenant is most comfortable. Gods Glory, and the Happiness of Abraham and his Seed. Weigh all things deliberately; what can thy discomforts be in the whole world, against which this Covenant yeelds not abundant Consolation? See before, in the fourth Reason, why God so confirmed this Covenant.

(z) Heb. 6. 18.

8. Perpetual. This Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, was not for a few Generations only, and then an end: but in some respects respects it is extended (b) to a thousand generations, to all Generations, even for ever. (c) An everlasting Covenant. It concerns us, especially in all the spirituality of it: as well as Abraham, Isaac and Iacob; and was made with us in Christ, as well as with them. Therefore we should study this Covenant diligently, that we may therein find out all our own precious Concernments. But of this Covenants (d) Perpetuity, formerly.

INFERENCE. II.

II. HEnce, The Additional Excellencies of this federal Dispensation, are divers beyond those of the two former Dispensations, from Adam to Noah, and from Noah to Abraham. Those two were but as the Covenants Day-break: this is as the Covenants Sun-rise. Gods bounty is still growing and increasing upon his people. Now the Additionals to this fœderal period, are especially these, viz.

1. Many Eminent Gospel-Mercies promised. In the first Period, God (e) promised, to put enmity betwixt the woman and the Serpent, and betwixt their respective Seeds, and the womans Seed should bruise the Serpents Head. In the second Period, God Promised, To (f) save Noah and his family with a Seed of the Creatures, when the whole world besides should be drowned in the Flood; (g) To preserve the Creature from any more such general destruction by waters, or otherwise, till the end of the world; and To continue the Natural revolution of times and seasons, &c. But in this third Period the Lord hath revealed and superadded many more full and clear Gospel-Promises, both 1. Of what God will do for Abraham and his Seed; and 2. Of what he will be to them: as hath been evidenced in many Particulars.

(e) Gen. 3. 15.
(f) Gen. 6. 17. to 22.
(g) Gen. 8. 21, 22. & 9. 9, 10.

2. Singular Gospel-Duties, Required and Restipulated. In the first Period, (h) Conflicting against the Serpent, is darkly and implicitly required. In the second Period, (i) Making and entring into the Ark for safety is prescribed. What dim and obscure things were these to spell the Gospel-duties out of? But in this third Period, The Lord (k) requires from Abraham and his Seed, Faith, Walking before him in Obedience, Integrity, and being his Covenant-people. With what surpassing fulness and clearness are they instructed hereby in Evangelical Practises?

(i) Gen. 6. 14. &c. & 7. 1. &c.
(k) Gen. 15. 6. & 17. 1, 2, 7.

3. Manifold inviolable Establishments and Confirmations of this Covenant. As,

(1) By many precious Promises both of temporals and spirituals in Christ, not only Propounded, and Repeated, but also in part fulfilled. Not one of which are expressed in the two former Dispensations.

(2) By (l) Abraham's entry upon Canaan promised: as it were taking livery and seisin thereof.

(l) Gen. 12. 5, 6, &c.

(3) By

(3) By the ([m]) Type of Melchizedek; never mentioned before.

(4) By Gods expreſs and inviolable ([n]) Oath. But in the firſt Period, there was no Oath of God at all: and in the ſecond, No Oath expreſſed, but only very obſcurely implyed, as the ([o]) Prophet interprets it.

(5) By Gods Solemnity of ſtriking-Covenant with Abraham by ([p]) Sacrifices divided, and paſsing between the parts. But in the two former Periods there was no ſuch ſolemnity at all.

(6) By two Ordinary Sacraments, ([q]) Circumciſion and the ([r]) Paſsover. That, for their ſolemn Initiation into the viſible Church: This, for their further nouriſhment, growth and confirmation in the Church of Chriſt. But in the Firſt Covenant-Period there was no Sacrament expreſly inſtituted, onely ([ſ]) offering of Sacrifices is implyed: And in the ſecond Period, only ([t]) the Rain-bow is ordained for a Token of the Covenant, which was much more imperfect and obſcure then Circumciſion and the Paſſover.

(7) By four extraordinary Sacraments, viz. ([u]) The fiery-cloudy Pillar, and Red-Sea wherein Iſrael was baptized; the ſame for ſubſtance with their Circumciſion, and our Baptiſm: Mannah from Heaven, and water out of the Rock, Iſraels ſpiritual meat and drink; the ſame for ſubſtance with their Paſsover, and our Lords-Supper. But in the two former Covenant-Periods, there was none of theſe four Sacraments, nor any thing equivalent thereunto.

(8) Finally, By the ſufferings and death of Jeſus Chriſt, many ways very remarkably Implyed and Typified in this Covenant, (as hath been ([x]) ſhewed.) Chriſts ſufferings and death Performed, did inalterably confirm the ([y]) New-Covenant: Chriſts ſufferings and death Promiſed, did proportionably confirm the Covenants of Promiſe. But in the two former Covenants how hard is it to trace out or diſcover the leaſt prints or foot-ſteps of Chriſts ſufferings and death, as a Promiſſory or Typical ratification of theſe Diſpenſations! The ([z]) Bruiſing of the Heel of the Seed of the woman, by the Serpent, did very darkly imply the ſufferings and death of Chriſt, the womans eminent Seed, as one way of his ([a]) bruiſing the Serpents head, and deſtroying both death and the devil. The ([b]) water which bare up the Ark, whereby Noah and his family were ſaved from drowning, did very obſcurely typifie the blood-ſhed and ſufferings of Chriſt, whereby believers in the Ark of his Church ſhould be ſaved from Gods wrath and damning. The ([c]) Sacrifices alſo of ſlain beaſts under both thoſe diſpenſations, did intimate and typifie the death of Chriſt, the Sacrifice of ſacrifices for their ſins: but more darkly, and implicitly, foraſmuch as they were not required, that we read, by any expreſs inſtitution; yet doubtleſs (God ([d]) accepting them) they were a worſhip of him according to his will. In theſe Additional Excellencies this Covenant-Diſcovery to Abraham far ſurpaſſed the two former diſcoveries.

Inference III.

III. Hence, This Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, agrees with, and differs from the two former Dispensations in divers regards. This Agreement and Disagreement betwixt them, not only results from the former Aphorisms explained, but also is more obviously observable from both the former Inferences: and exceedingly illustrates the glory of this Covenant.

1. This Covenant agrees with the two former.

1. In the Common Nature and kinde of Covenant. All three being Evangelical, not Legal: Covenants of Faith, not of Works, as that before the Fall was. And all of them are (e) Covenants of Promise, in reference to Christ promised to be revealed afterwards.

(e) Eph. 2. 12.

2. In the Efficient, and Impulsive Cause. The same God was Author and Principal efficient cause of all these three Covenants, He alone Revealed them and established them: And all, from no other Inward Impulsive or moving cause, then his own meer grace, and the good pleasure of his will; From no other Outward Impulsive or Motive, then Jesus Christ and his merit.

3. In the General Consideration of Foederates, or Parties to these Covenants. For, in them all three, God blessed for ever is the Party Covenanting: Christ and his Seed are the Party Restipulating. After the Fall no Person, Family or Nation in the world being in a capacity out of Christ, to close in Covenant with God, or to be accepted of him: The distance betwixt God and them is so infinite; The Enmity so irreconcileable, and All acceptable Performance of Covenant duties on their part so absolutely impossible, without Jesus Christ.

4. In the substance of the Mercy Promised, and of the Condition required and restipulated. The substance of the Mercy Promised in all these three Fœderal Dispensations, was the Salvation, Life and Happiness of lapsed sinners in Iesus Christ. All promised or Covenanted benefits in them are clearly reducible to this one. This the Center, and Scope of them all. The substance of the Condition or Duty required and restipulated in them all, was Faith. Faith, to embrace the Covenant and Promise, In the Promise Christ, and in Christ Happiness from God, was of necessity required explicitely or implicitely in them all, as the only supernatural instrumental mean of Application.

5. In the substance of justification by Faith Revealed. They all three reveal this one way of sinners Justification by Faith; and no other. Under the first Covenant-period, (f) Abel obtained testimony by Faith that he was righteous: And Enoch by Faith so pleased God, that God translated him, that he should not see Death. Under the second Period, (g) Noah by Faith (being warned of God) prepared an Ark to the saving of his House, and became heir of the righteousness which is by Faith.

(f) Heb. 11. 4, 5, 6.

(g) Heb. 11. 7.

Faith. And under this third Period, (h) Abraham believed in the LORD, and that was imputed to him unto righteousness. So that in them all there's revealed only one and the same way of Sinners Justification, viz. By Faith alone. (h) Gen. 15.6.

6. In the Community of their establishment. As God revealed them all three, so he established them all in one regard or another. They were all setled, founded, and established upon Christ, in one regard or another.

7. Finally, They all agree, In the General sameness of End. The Ultimate or last end of them all being Gods glory, in his infinite Wisdom, Free-grace, Rich Mercy, Loving-kindness, Long-suffering, Faithfulness, Justice, &c. shining forth therein. The subordinate or secondary End of them all being Sinners Salvation and Happiness in Jesus Christ.

2. This Covenant differs and disagrees from the two former Fœderal Dispensations,

1. In the gradual perfection thereof. This being more Compleat and clear in its Promises and Administration then both the former. The first Covenant was but as the dark Day-break or Day-dawning of the Gospel, touching lapsed sinners salvation: The second as the darksom light of the morning after the Day-dawning, much darkness being mixed with the little light: But this third was as the Sun-rise of the Gospel and Sinners happiness.

2. In the Peculiar consideration of the Author or Efficient. One and the same God was Author of all these Covenants: but differently. Of the first Covenant, as a (i) Destroyer of the Serpent by Christ, by which Serpent mankinde was ruined: Of the second Covenant, as A (k) Preserver of an Elect remnant from destruction, when the whole world besides was drowned in the general Flood: But of this third Covenant, As a God Al-sufficient, fully able of himself to furnish Abraham and his Seed with all Happiness, either with or without the creature, both in this and in the world to come. (l) I am God al-sufficient, walk before me and be perfect: and I will make my Covenant between me and thee. (i) Gen 3.15. (k) Gen. 6.18, 19, 20. (l) Gen. 17. 1, 2.

3. In the Particular notion of the Fœderates, or Confœderates with God. Jesus Christ the Mediator and his Elect Seed are the Fœderate parties with God in them all: But with some difference in every one of them. In the first Covenant, as (m) the Seed of the woman, the mother of the Old world: In the second Covenant, as (n) the Seed of Noah, the Father of the second world: But in this third Covenant, as (o) the Seed of Abraham the father of all the Faithful whether Jews or Gentiles to the end of the world. So that, in the two first Covenants, God dealt with two Families, which were to be the roots of all mankinde in two whole worlds; and so the Promise of Christ was more General and imperfect, that he should descend of Mankinde: But in this third Covenant God dealt with the particular Family of Abraham, singled out from among all the Families of the earth peculiarly (m) Gen. 3.15. (n) Gen. 6.18. o) Gen. 17. 7. Gal. 3.16. Rom. 4.11, 12, 16.

culiarly and distinctively, which was to be by Gods Ordinance the Radical Family of all believers in time to come, and of which Christ should descend according to the flesh: and so the Promise of Christ was more Particular and Perfect, being limited and restrained peculiarly to Abraham's family, that he should descend of Abraham.

4. In the individual Matters Promised, and Restipulated. The Particular Mercies Promised in the two first Covenants, were very few and obscure; As (p) The enmity of the two Seeds, The bruising of the Serpents Head by the womans Seed, The (q) saving Noah and his Family in the Ark from the Flood, The Continuance of the universal course of the Creation, with security never to be any more generally destroyed by a Flood, &c. under the letter of which Promises divers Spiritual Mysteries were comprized: The Particular Duties restipulated in these two Covenants were implicitely (r) Faith, and offering Sacrifices; Explicitely, conflicting with the Serpent, Making and entring into the Ark. But in this third Covenant, what multitude of both Temporal and Spiritual Mercies, and those of the Highest Excellency, are Promised? And what latitude of Covenant Duties are required and restipulated? (s) See the former Enumerations, and Explanations of particulars.

5. In the Manner of Revealing Justification by Faith; that Eminent Article of Faith, and foundation of our Comfort. In the two former Covenants this point is revealed only Implicitly, and by obscure Consequence: the light of the New Testament especially clearing and evidencing this unto us. But in this third Covenant this Mysterie is First of all revealed Expressly and Plainly: (t) Abraham believed in the LORD, and he counted (or imputed) that to him unto righteousness.

(t) Gen. 15. 6.

6. In the Peculiar manner of Confirmation. The First Promise or Covenant was very probably confirmed (u) by killing of some beasts for Sacrifices, with the skins of which beasts Adam and Eve were clothed: but this is only a probability, by consequence implyed, not expressed. The second Covenant was confirmed somewhat more plainly; viz. Explicitly by the (x) Rain-bow in the clouds, as a Token of the Covenant, never to drown the world again with a flood. Implicitly, (y) by the Oath of God, which the Prophet teaches us was implyed in Gods Covenanting with Noah. But this third Covenant was Plainly and expressly (z) Confirmed, 1. By Gods Promises propounded, Repeated, and in part fulfilled; 2. By Gods Sacred inviolable Oath; 3. By the Fœderal Solemnity of Killing and dividing Sacrifices, and passing between the parts; 4. By the two Ordinary Sacraments; 5. By the four extraordinary Sacraments; And 6. By many eminent intimations, and adumbrations of the Sufferings and Death of Jesus Christ, &c. Herein therefore the Lord hath laid a more full clear and strong foundation for his peoples Comfort, then in both the former.

7. In

7. In the Particularity of Ends. In the First Covenant, God particularly propounded his own Glory (a) in lapsed mans recovery by the womans Seed, from the mischief of the Serpent and his Seed. In the second Covenant, God particularly intended his own Glory, in (b) Saving an Elect remnant of mankind in the Ark by water, from being overwhelmed in the Common destruction sent upon the world of the ungodly. But in this third Covenant, God particularly designed to glorifie himself more illustriously, in (c) making Abraham and all the Nations of the world, that should believe, Happy and blessed in Christ the chief Seed of Abraham, both in this and in the world to come; in subduing especially all their Spiritual enemies under them; in bringing them into the everlasting possession of the Heavenly Canaan at last; and in being their Covenant-God for evermore.

Inference IV.

IV. Hence, The (d) wonderful wisdom of God in the several Periods of his Covenant-Dispensations, and their gradual out-breakings is very observable. He Revealed not his Covenant of Faith in Christ for Sinners Recovery, all at once, as he could easily have done: but by little, and little, in certain degrees, and several seasons (divers considerable pauses, intervals, and Distances of time intervening,) still more and more fully, firmly, and clearly. This is evident in these three Covenant-discoveries; every one surpassing other, the subsequent still far transcending all that went before. How wisely therefore hath the Lord dealt herein! For,

(d) See much more to this effect, in the manner of this Covenants Dispensation More Generally, and More Particularly in this Chapter, Aphorism V.

1. Hereby he hath made known the beautiful Order of his proceedings. Order is a comely and beautiful thing; Confusion and disorder as deformed. God, that requires (e) all things in his Church to be done decently and in order, doth himself all things in the best and most perfect Order. He is (f) a God of order. He created the world at first, (g) in a most orderly proceeding, from the less perfect, to the more perfect Creatures, and that in six distinct daies: He could have made all in one day, in one Moment, but he intended the glory of Order. So he New-creates the lapsed world in a most orderly proceeding, from a more imperfect to a more perfect Revealing of Sinners Recovery by Jesus Christ in the several Periods of his Covenant. In that, he shewed the glorious Order of Nature: In this, the more glorious order of Grace.

(e) 1 Cor. 14. 40.

(f) 1 Cor. 14 33.

(g) Gen. 1. throughout.

2. Hereby, He hath more lively and emphatically displayed to mankind the Mysterie of Christ, and of Sinners Recovery by him. Christ was too rich and glorious a Treasure to be shewed fully and wholly all at once to lapsed Sinners: therefore in his Covenants he Reveals him by degrees, every Covenant-Period discovering Christ with further Additionals then the former, whereupon the worth and excellency, lency of Christ was set off with more replendent lustre, and illustrious glory.

3. Hereby, He hath familiarly condescended to the state and Condition of his Church. His Church hath her Non-age, and her Full-age; her Minority, and her Maturity, &c. and accordingly she is less or more capable of Spiritual things. Her Infancy was from Adam to Moses; Her growing age, from Moses till Christs Incarnation; Her full age, after Christs coming now under the New testament. Proportionably God revealed his Covenant to her; To the infant-Church he only gave the Milk of that first Promise, of the Seed of the woman; and after, as her Capacity was enlarged and grew, he still augmented his Covenant-Discoveries to her. God revealed, not what he could reveal; but what she could receive.

4. Hereby, He hath more notably raised up his peoples Desire after Christ, who is (h) the desire of all Nations: alluring them by frequent tastes of Christ, and increased discoveries of his sweetness, to thirst and long after him more and more in full enjoyment. Every new discovery of Christ, renewing a fresh desire after him.

(h) Hag. 2. 7.

In all this, the wisdom of God is very Conspicuous.

Inference V.

V. Hence, How highly was Abraham advanced by admission into this Covenant with God, beyond his former un-covenant Condition! What Abraham was before God took him into Covenant with himself, (i) hath been already evidenced. What he became after this Covenant, How far Abraham excelled Abraham, how far he surpassed himself in regard of his former Covenantless Condition, will now appear by this Ensuing Parallel. viz.

(i) In this Chap. Aphorism 1. Propos. 1.

1. In his un-covenant condition, he was Uncalled, Carnal, (k) Ungodly, and Idolatrous: But In his Covenant-condition he became effectually Called, Spiritual, Godly, and a Pure worshipper of God in Faith and obedience with integrity.

(k) Rom. 4. 5. with Josh. 24. 2.

2. Then, he was not a believer: Now, he became (l) a Father of all believers.

(l) Rom. 4. 11, 12, 16.

3. Then, his name was Ab-ram, An-high-Father: Now, His name became (k) Ab-ra-ham, An-high-Father-of-a-multitude.

(k) Gen. 17. 5.

4. Then, he had no Promise from God: Now, he obtained (l) many precious Promises, in the Covenants of Promise, and those many waies confirmed.

(l) Heb. 11. 17.

5. Then, he had not obtained Mercy: Now he obtained many Mercies both Temporal and Spiritual of highest consequence, (m) That the Lord would be his God, That Christ should descend of him according to the flesh, in whom all Nations of the earth should be blessed, &c.

(m) Gen. 17. & 12. & 15. & 22.

6. Then,

6. Then he had no Seed, nor Heir: (n) Now Isaac is given him for an Heir, God assuring him that in him his Seed should be as the Stars of Heaven, dust of the earth, and sands by the Seashore.

(n) Gen. 15. 2. & 21. 2, 3.

7. Then he had no inheritance, except some small pittance in Caldea. Now, he became (o) Heir of the world, and for assurance thereof, the Land of Canaan, the glory of all lands, a land flowing with milk and honey, situate in the midst of the world, is by promise setled upon him and his Seed after him, for an everlasting inheritance.

Inference VI.

VI. HEnce, Abraham and his Seed are made the only happy people in the world, for all future time and succeeding ages. Before Abraham there were many Holy and Happy People through Faith in Christ, as Adam, Eve, Abel, Enoch, Noah, Melchizedek, &c. But after Abraham no people Jewish or Gentilish shall be happy but in Abraham and his Seed, but in union to Christ his Eminent Seed by Faith, and insition into Abraham's family; For all true blessedness is peculiarly limited and appropriated to Abraham's Seed; (p) And in thy Seed shall all the Nations of the earth be blessed. What ever be their wants, weaknesses, Enemies, afflictions, persecutions, temptations, or conditions in this world, yet being by faith in Christ the true children of Abraham, they are the Happiest of all people in the world, yea the only Happy people: The Covenant, The Mercies of the Covenant, the Mediator of the Covenant, The God of the Covenant being theirs only. Contrariwise all forreiners to Abraham's family, all unbelievers in the world (be their outward Condition never so rich, great, prosperous, flourishing and visibly glorious on earth,) are most miserable wretches, (q) being without Christ, strangers from the Covenants of Promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. How should all that would be happy, strive to become Abrahams true Spiritual Seed! How should all that would know whether they be happy, search whether they be the true Seed of Abraham in Christ or no! (r) Directions for that, and Discoveries for this, have been formerly disclosed.

Inference VII.

VII. HEnce finally, The same Gospel was preached, The same blessed Messiah was in that Gospel Revealed, and the same Justification and Salvation of sinners by Faith in that Messiah was tendered, in those former, as well as in these latter ages of the world. For in this Covenant, (s) The Gospel was preached to Abraham, the Messiah was Promised to him as his Seed according to the flesh, And (t) Faith was imputed imputed to him unto righteousness. The self-same Evangelical blessings for substance, that we have, he had; yea and Noah, and Adam had the same before him: but all of them beheld, and had these things far more imperfectly, darkly and obscurely, then we now. So that, though now we have a New Testament; yet we have not a New Gospel, or a New Christ, or a New way of Justification, but the same that was from the beginning, ever since the fall of Adam. Hence, The Gospel is stiled, (u) The Everlasting Gospel; (x) Jesus Christ the Messiah is said to be yesterday, and to day, and for ever, the same: And the fathers of old are said to obtain a good report through faith, and to dye in Faith. They then, That fancy to themselves, That the Fathers of old, or elders towards the beginning of the world, were fed only with the Husks of Temporal Promises: or, That they entred not into Heaven till Christs ascension thither; or, that there is no Gospel in the Bible, but only in the Books of the New Testament; or, that the Saints of old had another Kind of Justification and Salvation, then the Saints since Christ: do sufficiently discover themselves to be meer Infants in apprehending Gods saving Dispensations, and through ignorance great strangers to the Holy Scriptures. The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, is our God: Their Messiah, is our Christ: Their Gospel, is our Gospel: Their Covenant, is our Covenant, (only our Covenant-Charter is more cleared, enlarged, and explained:) Their way of Justification and Salvation, is our way of Justification and Salvation: And at last both they, and we, and all the faithful in all ages, shall together make up one compleat body of Christ, and be ever with the Lord in full immediate vision and fruition of him with ineffable ravishments to all eternity.

(s) Gal 3. 8. with Gen. 12. 2, 3.

(t) Gen. 15. 6.

of the SINAI-COVENANT.

An Introduction to this Covenant-explanation.

THE fourth observable Period of Time, Wherein the LORD was pleased to Renew with much Augmentation the Covenant of Faith, in reference to CHRIST PROMISED for sinners Salvation, was, from Moses till Christ himself. viz. From about the 80th year of Moses, when he received the Law from God on Mount Sinai, which was in An. 2508. from the worlds Creation, or thereabouts: till the Death of JESUS CHRIST, (whereby he antiquated, abrogated and finished the Old-Testament-Administration, Instituting and Authorizing the New-Testament-Dispensation) which fell out in An. 3952. from the worlds Creation, or thereabouts, as some make the Computation. So that this Interval, or Period of time was very long; viz. for 1444. years space, or thereabouts. Here by way of Introduction to the whole, I shall briefly set forth, 1. The Bounds and time of this Sinai-Covenant-Administration. 2. The Excellency of it. 3. The Particulars to be insisted upon.

I. I am induced thus to circumscribe this Covenant-Administration within these Bounds and Terms; viz. The Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai, and the Death of Jesus Christ; upon these considerations. 1. Because, The Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai, was evidently the Beginning of this Distinct Covenant-Expressure. Gods Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, as in Private Families, extending it self hitherto, as hath been manifested already: But now first on Mount Sinai God began to deal with Abraham's Seed as in a higher capacity; viz. in the notion of a Commonwealth. Yet, this Foederal Dispensation doth not blot out or extinguish the Discoveries of Gods Covenant of Faith in the three former Periods: but only out-shine them, and swallow them up by its greater Perfection, as the Sun by day drowns and outshines the Moon and Stars by his surpassing glory. 2. Because, Though betwixt the giving of the Law, and the Death of Christ, there intervene Two other observable Covenant-Discoveries; The one, To David with peculiar reference to the Kingdom; The other, To the Captive Iews in Babylon with special respect to their Release and Restauration, (both which I intend to explain as Distinct Covenant-Expressures;) Notwithstanding, this Covenant-Administration at Sinai continued still in an un-interrupted Course and force till the Death of Christ, and was not superseded by any intervening Covenant Renewed. 3. Because, Jesus Christ (a) was made under the Law, and (b) submitted himself under this Sinai-Covenant-Administration, till his Death: And then, antiquating this Old-Covenant, he brought in his New Covenant or Testament in its stead, as the most perfect Fœderal Dispensation of all, to continue in its surpassing splendor till Christs second coming.

(a) Gal. 4.4. Phil. 2.7,8.
(b) Luk. 2. 21, 22, 23, 24. Ioh. 5.1. & 7. 10. Mat. 26. 18, 19.

Now that Old Covenant was Abrogated, and this New Covenant Erected in its stead, 1. More Incompleatly, and 2. More Compleatly.

(1) More Incompleatly, by way of inchoation, before Christs Death. And this, Partly, By the (c) Ministry of Christs Harbinger, Iohn the Baptist, who was sent of God, preaching, and Baptizing with water: That, both by his Preaching and Baptism he might manifest the now incarnate Messiah to Israel, and as it were point at him with the finger, saying; Behold, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world. Among others, Iohn having baptized Iesus himself, he saw the Heavens opened, and the Spirit of God in form of a Dove descending and remaining upon him, and he heard the voice from Heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son in whom I am well-pleased; hereupon Iohn seeing and hearing this, bare Record, That this is the Son of God. Partly, By the Ministry of Iesus Christ himself, and of his disciples, for the space of about three years and an half before his Death. Christ, By his Doctrine frequently (d) declared himself to be the Promised Messiah, the only true Christ, that was now actually come into the world to save sinners: and this was the substance of the New Covenant. And by his (e) Divine Miracles, he confirmed the infallible truth of his Doctrine. His Disciples also (f) Preached Christ now exhibited, confirming their Doctrine by Miracles through Christs power and authority. And they (g) Baptized them that believed. Thus the Doctrine of the New Covenant touching Christ exhibited began to be preached, and the Initiating Sacrament of the New Covenant, Baptism with water, began to be dispensed before Christs Death, whereby the ministration of the Old Testament began to vanish away: But these were only præludium's, and more incompleat beginnings of the abolition of the Old, and institution of the New Testament; and all these were as yet limited and restrained only to the people of the Iewish Nation.

(c) Mar. 1. 1. to 12. with Ioh. 1. 6. to 35. & 3. 26. to the end.
(d) Ioh. 3. 14. to 22 & 4. 25, 26. & 5. 25, 26. &c. & 6. 32, 33. to the end.
(e) Ioh. 5. 36.
(f) Mat. 10. 5. to the end.
(g) Ioh. 4. 1, 2.

(2) More compleatly, by way of Consummation, at and neer upon Christs Death, The Old Testament Ministration was plenarily Abrogated, gated; and the New Testament substituted in its stead. For, 1. Now the New Testament was unalterably ratified and confirmed (h) by Christs own blood and death, as Mediator, Surety and Testator thereof: 2. Now the (i) Sacrament of the Passover was abrogated; and the LORD's-Supper, as The Memorial of Christs body broken, and of Christs blood of the New Testament shed for many for remission of sins, is Instituted, To shew forth Christs Death already past until his second Coming: 3. Now, and not till now, Christ said, (k) It is finished, that is, The Great work of his Elect's Redemption, in expiating sin, appeasing Gods wrath, removing the curse, bringing in eternal righteousnels, &c. by Christs death and blood, was now finished; and all the Levitical services and Sacrifices, dark Types of this Sacrifice, were now fulfilled and abolished; there being no further need of shadows, the body being already come: 4. Now, and not till now, (l) The veil of the Temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; Intimating, not only the Abrogation of all the Legal Ceremonies and Old-Testament Types, Services, &c. but also the Consecration of a new and living way for us into the true Holyest of Holies, Heaven it self, by the blood of our true eternal Priest Christ Jesus, through the veil of his own flesh rent and crucified for us: 5. Now, Christ risen from the Dead, before his Ascension, (m) Enlarged his Apostles Commission for Dispensing the New Testament, and the Sacraments thereof, Baptism and the Lords-Supper, to all Nations, promising to be with them and their Successors to the end of the world: 6. Now, he (n) Led all our Spiritual Captivity it self Captive in his Ascending into Heaven, And gave gifts to men, viz. The New-Testament officers, Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors and Teachers, for his Church: 7. Now, finally, he (o) poured forth his Spirit most plentifully upon his officers and members according to the fore-promised bounty of his New-Testament Dispensations. Therefore upon all these Considerations it is evident, That the Ministration of the Sinai-Covenant, or Old Testament, expired and determined most compleatly at Christs Death: The New Covenant then beginning more fully to suceeed. So that the Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai, and the Death of Jesus Christ, are the Bounds of this Sinai-Covenant Administration.

II. Now, As the Period of time, allotted by God for this Sinai-Covenant Administration, was very long; so the Fœderal excellencies, Providential passages and occurrents, Revolutions of the Condition and affairs of the Church of God therein were very famous and illustrious. For, In this Interval and Compass of time,

1. Gods glorious (p) Law was given on Mount Sinai, to the children of Israel, the Seed of Abraham: viz. The Law Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial.

2. This Law was by a Solemn Sanction (q) established as a Covenant betwixt God and Israel, Moses being the Typical Mediatour thereof.

3. The Ark of God (r) was made, wherein were the two Tables of the Covenant kept; which, being a peculiar and primary Token of Gods presence with Israel, was stiled by way of excellency, (f) The Glory. And the two Tables of the Covenant therein contained were called Metonymically, (t) The Covenants, as some are of opinion.

4. The (u) service of God, viz. The Ceremonial and Typical Service of God under the Levitical Priesthood, was Instituted by God.

5. The (x) Promises, viz. The great accession and abundant Addition of Promises, were now annexed to this fœderal Dispensation, more then to all the former Covenants.

6. The Word and (y) Oracles of God, even all the Books of the Old Testament, Moses and the Prophets, were actually written and recorded by (z) inspiration of the Holy-ghost: And those written-Oracles committed of-trust to the custody of the Jews. They only were Gods Library-keepers: The Keepers of Gods Sacred Rolls.

7. The (a) Adoption of the people Israel, to be Gods peculiar people above all the people of the world, was now declared. And they (b) actually possessed of the promised Canaan.

8. The LORD moulded his People into a (c) Common-wealth of Israel, giving them Political statutes, viz. the Judicial Laws, for the Government thereof. And Israel was Constituted a National (d) Church in the Wilderness.

9. The Solemn Place of Gods publique worship was three several times erected. viz. The (e) Tabernacle in the Wilderness, by Moses; The (f) First Temple at Jerusalem by King Solomon; And the (g) latter Temple at Jerusalem, after their return from Babylonish Captivity, by Zerubbabel. (h) The glory of this latter House far surpassing the glory of the former, not in stateliness of Structure, but in Eminency of use, Jesus Christ himself honouring this House with his own blessed presence.

10. Finally, (not to mention other things,) In this Interval or space of time, of the Seed of Abraham, as Concerning the flesh, (i) the Promised Seed of Seeds, The Desire of all Nations, Jesus Christ came, who is over all God blessed for ever. Amen.

In this Space of time, wherein the Sinai-Covenant remained of force, all these observable occurrents came to pass; whereby Gods Fœderal dispensation in this Period became most eminently renowned, and the Seed of Abraham the only happy people of all the people in the world during that Administration.

Therefore this Sinai-Covenant-Dispensation, far surpassing all the former Covenants, deservedly challengeth our most diligent intentive and accurate Consideration. And as the Lord Herein advanceth his Dispensation: so have we need proportionably to advance and raise up our Contemplation, to an higher pitch then heretofore.

III. For the more clear unfolding of the Mysterie of this Covenant-Expressure, I shall principally insist upon these Particulars: Treating,

1. Of the Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai to the people of Israel.
2. Of this Giving of the Law to Israel on Mount Sinai as A Covenant, not of works, but of Faith.
3. Of the Confœderates, or Fœderate Parties to this Sinai-Covenant.
4. Of the Mater or Substance of this Sinai-Covenant.
5. Of the Form of this Sinai-Covenant.
6. Of the Scope and End of this Sinai-Covenant.
7. Of certain General Corollaries or Inferences resulting from the whole.

Within these limits I shall confine my ensuing Discourse touching this Sinai-Covenant's Dispensation; reducing all that shall be spoken, to these seven Heads; and representing them in so many distinct Aphorisms, for Brevity and Perspicuity sake, viz.

Aphorism I.

1. Of Gods giving of the Law by Moses to Israel on Mount Sinai.

The LORD God, having brought his people Israel out of Egypt, into the Wilderness, to go to possess the promised land of Canaan, gave the Law to Israel by Moses on Mount Sinai 430 years precisely after his Promise to Abraham.

This Aphorism I premise here in the First place, as a Preparatory Preface and Introduction to all the Rest: without which they cannot be so clearly and solidly, either explained or understood. And for the better unfolding of this Aphorism, I propound these particular Questions to be discussed and cleared. viz.

1. How it may be evinced, That the LORD God, having brought his people Israel out of Egypt, into the Wilderness, to go to possess the promised Canaan, did give the Law to Israel by Moses on Mount Sinai, 430 years after his Promise to Abraham?
2. What Law that was, which he so gave to Israel on Mount Sinai?
3. How God gave this Law then to Israel?
4. Why God gave his Law to Israel at that time?
5. Whether Gods people had not this Law before that time?
6. Whether the Law given on Mount Sinai, was not the same with the Law of Nature written in Adam's heart before the Fall; and in some measure remaining still in mans heart since the Fall?

7. Whe-

7. Whether the Law of God given by Moſes on Mount Sinai to Iſrael, be abrogated to us now under the New Teſtament or no? And how far it concerns or obligeth us, if not abrogated?

8. What Particular Inferences may hence offer themſelves unto us?

In explicating of theſe Queſtions, moſt of the Material Doubts about the Law given on Mount Sinai, in the General, will receive illuſtration and Satisfaction.

Queſtion I.

I. Queſt. How it may be evinced, That the Lord, having brought his people Iſrael out of Egypt into the Wilderneſs to go to poſſeſs the promiſed Canaan, did give the Law to Iſrael by Moſes on Mount Sinai, 430 years after his Promiſe to Abraham?

Anſw. This may be evinced clearly in theſe particular poſitions, by many Teſtimonies both of Old and New Teſtament, viz.

1. The LORD God brought his people Iſrael out of Egypt, that they might go to poſſeſs the promiſed Canaan. Until they came into, and whilſt they were in Egyptian bondage and ſervitude, they were not actually capable of poſſeſſing Canaan: therefore they muſt firſt be brought into, and then brought out of Egypt, that they might after be brought into Canaan. For; 1. When God promiſed Canaan to Abraham and his Seed, he told him; that (k) his Seed muſt firſt ſojourn and be afflicted in a land not theirs 400 years; and then God would judge that Nation, and they ſhould come out with great ſubſtance; and after this they ſhould come into Canaan in the fourth Generation. 2. And when God came down to perform this promiſe, he told Moſes; (l) That he came to deliver them out of Egypt, that ſo they might go to take poſſeſsion of Canaan according to Gods Oath and promiſe. 3. The Law it ſelf given on Mount Sinai evidenceth, (m) That God brought his people out of Egypt, to give them the land of Canaan: Comparing the Preface to the Law, and the fifth Commandment together. 4. Hereby the Lord intended a Spiritual Myſterie, viz. That man muſt be firſt brought out of the Egypt of his carnal ſtate, ere he can go towards the heavenly Canaan.

2. The LORD having brought his people Iſrael out of Egypt, brought them into the Wilderneſs. He (n) would not lead them the neereſt way through the Philiſtines land, but conducted them about through the Wilderneſs of Sinai; this muſt be their High-way to Canaan. Hence Iſrael is called; (o) The Church in the Wilderneſs. God made this Wilderneſs his peoples way to Canaan; 1. That ſo they (p) might eſcape wars with the Philiſtines, whereby they would otherwiſe have been diſcouraged. 2. That hereby (q) God might allure Pharaoh and the Egyptians to purſue Iſrael, that ſo he might get himſelf Honour upon them, by drowning them all at once in the Red-Sea for their cruelty to his people Iſrael. 3. That God (r) might

(s) might in the Wilderness eminently glorifie his wisdom, providence, power, faithfulness, goodness, loving-kindness, patience, &c. towards his people Israel for forty years together. 4. That by their hardship in the Wilderness he might prepare them for war with the Canaanites, and dispose them to endure hardness as good Souldiers. 5. That, the Wilderness might be as a foyl to set off Canaan with the greater lustre to them: and their wants and miseries in the Desart might so much the more commend the enjoyments and mercies in the promised inheritance. How welcome is health after tiring Sickness; ease after tormenting pain; Liberty after servitude and Captivity; Canaan after the desolate Wilderness; yea and Heaven it self after Earth's troubles and perplexities! 6. That, As Egypt was a Type of our Natural miserable Condition under the bondage of Sin, Satan, &c. while we are destitute of Redemption by Christ; And as Canaan was a Type of the Eternal Rest of Gods people in Heaven: So the Wilderness might be a figure of this present world, thorough which we must pass to heaven; and of the unsetled condition, wants, afflictions, Temptations, dangers, and many miseries incident to Gods people therein. Gods Covenant, Sacraments, Ordinances, and Presence with his people, being Israels greatest comfort in the Wilderness; and our greatest comfort in this world.

3. The LORD having brought his people Israel into the Wilderness, (t) Gave them his Law by Moses on Mount Sinai. The Lord was the Author of it, the great Law-giver. Moses was the Instrumental mean which God made use of betwixt himself and Israel in the giving of the Law: for, Moses carryed the two Tables of the Law, written by God twice, to the people, and himself wrote the Ceremonial and Judicial Laws in a Book for Israel; Hence it's said, (t) The Law was given by Moses. The place of this great Transaction betwixt God and Israel in giving the Law, was Mount Sinai: God descending to the top of the Mount in the sight of Israel, and the people standing below at the skirt of the Mount. All this is clear by the (u) Historical Narration of Gods giving the Law, and the Repetition thereof.

4. The Lord God gave his Law to Israel 430 years after his Promise to Abraham: viz. after his First Promise to Abraham in Ur of the Chaldees. This is plain, by comparing (x) the Testimony of Moses, Steven, and of Paul together. This 430 years we may thus compute; The 430 years (y) ended precisely at Israels deliverance out of Egypt to a day. The Seed of Abraham sojourned in Canaan, and Egypt, &c. (z) 400 years: from the birth of Isaac (when his Seed began to sojourn, and Abraham (a) was now 100 years old,) till Israels departure out of Egypt, being 400 years. Abraham (b) came first into Canaan to survay it, when he was 75 years old: So that from this his coming into Canaan, till the birth of Isaac, when Abraham was 100 years old, is 25 years. Hence by Consequence, from the First Promise, till Abrahams first coming ing to Canaan, (which was while Abraham dwelt in (c) Charran) must needs be 5 years. All which in the whole make up 430 years. Now after those 430 years were expired, (d) In the third Month, or New Moon (which was the first Day of the Month, the Hebrews accounting their Months by the course of the Moon,) after Israel came out of Egypt, they came and camped before Mount Sinai. This was their twelfth Station, or Encamping. This was about 45 days from their coming out of Egypt: one Day was taken up with Entercourse betwixt God and Moses there; three days the people were to prepare themselves for receiving of the Law. The next day the Law was given, viz. On the 50th day after the Passover. Whereupon some make this Parallel; On the 50th day after the First Passover, The fiery Law was given on Mount Sinai: On the 50th day after Christs last Passover, yea after Christ our true Passover was sacrificed for us, viz. on the Feast of Pentecost, The Spirit (e) in form of fiery cloven tongues, for preaching the Gospel to all Nations, was given at Jerusalem.

Thus the אמת, or Truth, of the first Question is evinced in all the several branches of it.

Question II.

II. Quest. What Law that was which God gave to Israel on Mount Sinai?

Answ. For the more clear resolving of this Question, I shall briefly handle; 1. The Notation of the word or name Law, used in Scriptures. 2. The various Acceptations of the word. 3. The Distribution or Division of Gods Law given to Moses and Israel at Mount Sinai, into its several Sorts or Kinds.

I. Of the Notation of the word, LAW. 1. That LAW, which the Lord gave on Mount Sinai, is expressed by many Denominations in the Hebrew text: but the most usual and eminent name is תורה (f) Thorah, ordinarily rendred, Law. But the signification of this word is of larger extent and more comprehensive then our word Law: It may be translated, (g) Doctrine, Instruction, Institution, Constitution, Disposition, &c. cast forth, or cast abroad by any. For, it ariseth from the Root ירה Jarah, To cast, To cast forth, or to fling abroad, viz. 1. To cast forth stones, arrows, darts, or any other thing of like Nature. 2. To cast forth Rain and showers in moistning drops, for watering and refreshing the Earth. 3. Hereupon Metaphorically it signifies, To cast-forth Doctrine and Instruction like Dew or Rain, which makes the ignorant fruitful and flourishing in knowledge, understanding, &c. as the Earth is made fruitful and flourishing by (h) showers. So that according to this last signification, (and that in the Conjugation Hiphil,) it signifies to Teach, Instruct, Show, Admonish, &c. Hereupon תורה Thorah, notes An Instruction, Doctrine, Direction, Shewing, &c. which is notably done by a Law. Gerhard (i) alludes to all these three significations of of the Root, and thinks תורה may comprehend them all, as being A Scope or mark to level and aim at; A watering, as it were, of the mind to make it fruitful in underſtanding; And as a Doctrine or Inſtruction eſpecially. Gods Law, is Gods Doctrine or Inſtruction. Ainſworth (k) renders this Hebrew word, Doctrinal: An orderly manner of Inſtruction, An Inſtitution, or Diſpoſition. Torah implying both Doctrine, and An orderly Diſpoſition of the ſame. Therefore where one Prophet relating Davids words, ſaith, The Law of man, 2 Sam. 7. 19. Another ſaith, The orderly eſtate (or courſe) of man. 1 Chron. 17. 17. The holy-ghoſt in Greek calleth it Nomos, A Law, Heb. 8. 10. from Jer. 31. 33. This name is moſt commonly aſcribed to the precepts given by Moſes at Mount Sinai, Deut. 33. 4 Mal. 4 4. Joh. 1. 17 & 7. 19. So he. 2. The Greek word Νμος in the New Teſtament, The (l) Law was given by Moſes; —— is from νεμειν, To Diſtribute: becauſe (as Tully (m) notes) it gives to every one his own, Diſtributes to every one his Due. 3. The Latine name Lex, (whence our Engliſh word, Law, ſeems to be derived,) is ſo called, either, A Legendo, from Reading, becauſe Laws uſe to be publiquely read that they may be known and obſerved; Or, Ab eligendo, from electing, or chooſing, becauſe therein is ſhewed a choyce of things to be deſired or declined, done or left undone; Or, A ligando, from obliging, binding, tying, &c. becauſe Laws bind to Obedience, and are the bond of Society. Scripture ſets forth Gods Laws under the Metaphoricall expreſsions of Bonds, Cords, Yoke, &c. But enough of the Grammatical Notation of the word.

II. Of the various Theological Acceptations of the word LAW. This word Law, is of various ſignifications in the Scriptures of Old and New Teſtament. It ſhall ſuffice to point out ſome of the more principal and uſual Acceptations and uſes of the word. It is uſed 1. More Improperly, and 2. More Properly.

1. More Improperly, the word (Law) denotes, 1. The force, ſtrength, or Power of any thing. As, The force and ſtrength of ſin is called, (n) The Law of ſin; The Law of the members. The force and ſtrength of Grace is ſtyled, (o) The Law of the mind. The ſtrength and power of Death is called, The Law of Death. All theſe in a Metaphorical Alluſion to a Law, that hath a kind of impulſive or compulſive force or power over them that are under it. 2. The Right, Authority, Rule, or Dominion that one hath over another. Thus the Right, Rule, or Authority which the Husband hath to and over his wife, is called, (p) The Law of the Husband. 3. The Manner, order, courſe, or condition of any thing. Thus David acknowledging Gods familiarity to him in dealing with him by way of Covenant, ſaith; (q) And this is the Law (תורת) Of man, O Lord, God; that is, herein thou haſt dealt familiarly with me, as one man with another. Hence, in the parallel place in the Chronicles it is thus expreſſed; (r) And thou haſt reſpected me according to the condition (כתור) of a man man of excellency, O LORD God. תורה signifying, Term, Rank, Order, Condition, Way, or Manner of any thing.

2. More Properly, (Law) is used for any Ordination of a Superiour that hath power and authority over others as inferiours, prescribing or prohibiting any thing to be done, promising rewards to the Obedient, threatning punishment to the disobedient. And in this sense it is used,

(1) For the Law of man, viz. Humane (f) Edicts, Decrees, Ordinances, Constitutions, &c. good or bad, Civil or Sacred. But the Hebrew useth other words for mans laws.

(2) For the Law of God. And thus the Hebrew תורה, and the Greek Νομος, Law, are put for divers things. viz.

Generally, For any, or all Divine Doctrine or Instruction, revealed and made known by God. Thus, the whole word of God is frequently stiled, (t) The Law of God; or, The Law of the LORD. Thus, the Doctrine of the Gospel is called, The Law; (u) The Law shall go forth of Sion, and the word of God from Jerusalem. Thus the Doctrine of Justification and Salvation by Faith, is called, (x) The Law of Faith. Thus, the Command of Love so frequently and earnestly urged by Christ, (as Mat. 5. 44. & 7. 12. & 22. 36. Joh. 15. 12.) is by way of emphasis called, (y) The Law of Christ.

Particularly, The Law of God denotes,

1. Sometimes, The Law of Nature; consisting in certain Principles of Religion, Righteousness, and Temperance, at first Concreated in man, and naturally engraven in his heart in innocency: some (z) imperfect sparkles or reliques whereof remain even in hearts of Pagans, who have not Gods written Law.

2. Sometimes, The Records of Gods written Law, the Books of Scripture; The sacred Books being Holy Records and Instruments wherein Gods will and pleasure is fully and sufficiently comprized in order to Mans Salvation. And in this sense it is put, 1. For the Books of the Old Testament; any of them, even the Psalms and Prophets being called the Law. (a) Is it not written in your Law, I have said ye are gods? —— (b) That the word might be fulfilled that is written in their Law, They hated me without a cause. Thus the Book of Psalms is called Law. (c) In the Law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people, &c. Thus the Book of Isaiah is called Law. Yea the (d) Apostle alleadging sentences both out of Psalms and Isaiah joyntly, cals them the Law. 2. For the Pentateuch, or five Books of Moses. viz. when the word Law is contradistinguished from the Psalms and Prophets, or from the Prophets alone. As, (e) All things must be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms concerning me. Again, (f) All the Prophets, and the Law, prophesied until John. (g) —— The righteousness of God is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets. 3. For any one of these five Books of Moses distinctly.

Thus Genesis is called (h) the Law: Exodus is called (i) the Law: Leviticus, the (k) Law: Numbers, (l) the Law: Deuteronomie, (m) the Law. Thus the word Law, is given to the Books of the Old Testament.

3. Sometimes, The Law of God given by Moses, or to Moses, for Israel on Mount Sinai. (n) The LORD came from Sinai, — from his right hand went a fiery Law for them, (Heb. A Law of fire.) — Moses commanded us a Law. So, when God called Moses up into the Mount, he said; (o) I will give thee Tables of stone, and a Law, and Commandements, which I have written, that thou maist teach them. Hence it's called the Law of Moses, because God used him as an Instrument and Mean in giving of it; (p) Remember ye the Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, the Statutes, and Judgements. Now here it is diligently to be observed, that the word LAW, as used for Gods Law given to Moses for Israel on Mount Sinai, is taken, 1. More Largely, 2. More Strictly; and 3. Most strictly. 1. More largely and generally, for the whole Dispensation of all sorts of Commandments, Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial, given and promulged on Mount Sinai. For (q) all these three sorts of Laws were given from God to Moses on Mount Sinai, and by Moses to Israel: And all these are sometimes intended and expressed under the word Law. As in that noted Preface prefixed to the Repetition of the Law; (r) And this is the LAW, which Moses set before the sons of Israel. These are the Testimonies, and the Statutes, and the Judgements which Moses spake unto the sons of Israel after they came forth out of Egypt. This is, He meaneth, (saith (t) Ainsworth well) That which hereafter followeth. So this belongeth to the next chapter where the Repetition of the Laws beginneth. Gods Law is here branched out into Testimonies, viz. The Moral Law, testified by God to Israel: Statutes, viz. The Ceremonial Law: and Judgements, viz. The Judicial Law. And they are all comprized under that one word, Law: as the Genus to them all. 2. More strictly, and specially for the Moral Law, or ten Commandements, taken complexively with the Preface prefixed, and the promises interwoven therein; (u) as God spake them on Mount Sinai out of the midst of the fire to Israel, and afterwards wrote them, and gave them to Moses. In this sense, God said to Moses; (u) I will give thee Tables of stone, and a Law, and Commandments, which I have written. Now God wrote only the Decalogue, or Moral Law. In this sense the word Law is used in Malachy, (x) for the Moral Law, as contradistinct from Statutes and Judgements. Notwithstanding, The Ceremonial Laws may all be referred to the first Table, The Judicial Laws to the second Table of the Moral Law, as explications thereof to that people of Israel.

(n) Deut. 33. 2, 4. (o) Exod. 24. 12. (p) Mal. 4. 4. (q) Compare Exod. ch. 20. 1. to 18. with all that follows till ch. 32. 1. (r) Deut. 4. 44, 45. (t) H. Ainsw. in Annot. on Deut. 4. 44. (u) Exod. 24. 12. (x) Mal. 4. 4.

The Law in these two Senses, was given to Israel, as (y) a Covenant: what manner of Covenant, shall hereafter be in due time declared. 3. Most strictly, and restrainedly, the word [Law] is taken for The Law abstracted from Moses Administration of it, and precisely considered as An abstracted Rule of righteousness, holding forth life meerly upon terms of perfect and perpetual personal Obedience, and denouncing Death and the curse upon every one, and that without mercy, in case of the least contrary failing. And in this sense the Apostle takes the word [Law] in his dispute about Justification by Faith, and not by the works of the Law: opposing Law, to Gospel and to Grace; Works, to Faith; and Justification by works, to Justification by Faith. As, (z) The Gospel was preached to Abraham, In thee shall all Nations be blessed. So then they which be of Faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham. For as many as are of the works of the Law, are under the curse: for it is written, (a) Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the Law to do them. But that no man is justified by the Law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, (b) the just shall live by faith. And the Law is not of faith: but, (c) the man that doth them, shall live in them. Christ hath redeemed us from the Curse of the Law, being made a Curse for us. And to the like effect he elsewhere opposeth (d) The Law of works, to the Law of Faith: and being under the Law, to being under Grace. (e) Sin shall not have dominion over you, for ye are not under the Law, but under Grace. In these, and like passages, the word LAW is considered in this most restrictive sense, as abstracted and separated from all other additionals in Moses administration of it. And in this strictest sense, The Law is materially and for Substance the same with the Covenant of works written in Adam's heart in innocency: which now can justifie none, (f) because none can perfectly keep it; but condemns all mankind whilst they remain in their carnal lapsed state in the first Adam, because in him they brake it, and have not fled to Christ the last Adam for remedy, whose perfect fulfilling of the Law embraced by Faith should be their life and righteousness. In this last sense, (g) Luther (as I judge) considered the Law, as it stands in opposition to the Gospel, when in the point of justification he speaks so detractingly of the Law. Legal Justitiaries in the Apostles times looking too much at the Law of Moses in this last notion, sought to be justified by the works of the Law: herein mistaking utterly Gods way and end in giving the Law by Moses; for the Law was not given in this sense by Moses at all, as after will appear. And the Antinomians of our times not duly considering this, have as much under-valued the Law, as those legal-Justitiaries did over-value it. But by this Distinct notion of the word LAW, when applyed to the Law of Moses duly improved, the foundation of the Antinomian errours will be easily overthrown, and some Doubts or Difficulties in the Apostles speeches about the Law will be evidently cleared.

These are the principal Acceptations of the word LAW, and most usual in Scriptures. But as to the present Question, we are here to take it in the last sense, as denoting Gods Law given to Moses on Mount Sinai, and by Moses to Israel. What Law this was, will appear in the next branch more particularly.

III. Of the Distribution or Division of Gods Law given to Moses and to Israel on Mount Sinai. Gods Law given to Moses and Israel on Mount Sinai, is, in respect of the Subject-Matter therein contained, most usually divided into three sorts; viz. Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial. Or, if we rather affect a Dichotomy, into two sorts; viz. 1. Perpetual, of obligatory force and power for ever, as The Moral Law, contained in ten Commandments. 2. Temporary, of obligatory power and force only for a certain time, and then determinable: and this concerning, (1.) The Worship and Service of God, as The Ceremonial Law; (2.) The Civil State and Politie of the Jews, as The Judicial Law. Both which were to determine and expire after the death of Christ: Christ being the Substance or Body of those shadows, the accomplishment of those Ceremonies; and the Common-wealth of the Jews not long after Christs death being utterly dissolved. The word [Moral,] in the general Notation of it, is That which appertaineth to Manners, directeth and obligeth about Manners, &c. and in that latitude it is applicable both to the Ceremonial and Judicial Laws, which are in some sense commanded in the Moral Law, though they be not perpetual but temporary only; But in this Distinction, by the word [Moral] I understand such Laws touching Manners as are alwayes binding, and therein are opposed to Ceremonial and Judicial Laws, binding only for a a time. And in this sense we may receive this Distinction without Scruple. For further clearing it, I shall shew, 1. That this common Distinction hath its foundation in Scripture. 2. What the Nature of these three sorts of Laws was. 3. That they were all delivered by God to Moses on Mount Sinai for Israel.

1. That this Distinction of Gods Law into Moral, Ceremonial and Judicial, is founded on Scripture; is evident. 1. By Testimonies of Moses, frequently enumerating these three branches. As; (k) The LORD spake unto you out of the midst of the fire, ——— and he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten Commandments, (Heb. ten words;) and he wrote them upon two Tables of stone. And the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes, and judgements, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it. Here, By ten words (or ten brief Sentences by way of Command, Properly Ten sayings, as the Hebr. signifies,) understand, the Moral Law summarily comprized in the ten Commandments. By Statutes, The Ceremonial Law: and by Judgements, the Judicial or Politick Law. And these are here expresly distinguished, both by variety of Denominations; and and by difference of dispensation, The Moral Law being written by God, but not the Ceremonial and Judicial. Sometimes they are expressed, by (i) Commandements, Statutes, and Judgements. Sometimes, by (k) Laws, Statutes, and Judgements; These are the Statutes and Iudgements and Laws, which the LORD made between him and the children of Israel, in Mount Sinai, by the hand of Moses. Sometimes by (l) Testimonies, Statutes, and Judgements. All to the same effect for Substance, denoting the Moral, Ceremonial, and Iudicial Laws. 2. By the Testimony of Malachi; (m) Remember ye the Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, the statutes, and judgements. Here's law, statutes, and judgements: as formerly. 3. By the Testimony of Paul. (n) Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth The Adoption, and The Glory, And the Covenants (or Testaments), and the Giving of the Law, and The service of God, and The Promises. To omit vain curiosities in interpreting these particulars, this sense of them seems to me most genuine. The Glory, viz. The Ark of God, elsewhere called (o) The Glory: The Covenants, viz. The Two Tables of the Covenant, which were put into that Ark, and there reserved; Here's The Moral Law: The giving of the Law, viz. The constituting of Judicial and Political Laws for that Common-wealth. The Service of God; viz. That manner of Gods service and worship which was prescribed in the Ceremonial Law for that people till Christ should come in the flesh. I leave it to the judgement of discreet minds, whether this be not the true intent of the Apostle. And if so, then here's the Law distinguished into these three sorts.

2. What the Nature of these three sorts of Laws was. To unfold their Nature particularly and individually, would require a vast volume of it self: It shall suffice, as to my present purpose, to give only a small taste of these three Laws more Generally.

THE MORAL LAW hath the singular preheminence above both the other, in many regards. 1. That alone being (p) uttered by the voyce of God to all Israel from Mount Sinai. 2. That alone being twice written in Tables of stone by the finger of God. viz. First, In (q) Tables of Gods own preparing, which were broken, and never put into the Ark. Secondly, In (r) Tables of Moses his preparing; which were not broken, but reserved in the Ark. 3. That alone being the Base and foundation of the other two; which reductively are referred to the Moral Law, as particular Additions thereunto, and explanations thereof, for the condition and continuance of the Jewish Church and Common-wealth. But the Ceremonial and Iudicial Laws are in no sense the foundation of the Moral Law. For, as (t) one well observes, The Ceremonial and Iudicial Laws are nothing else but special Appendixes to the Moral Law; Riveless derived from the fountain of Piety and Equity; Special Ordinances peculiarly concerning the Jewish Church and Common-wealth.

——The Ceremonial Laws are the Exerciſes of the Firſt Table, determining the worſhip of God preſcribed in the Firſt Table by external Circumſtances. The Judicial Laws are the exerciſes of the Second Table, determining in like ſort righteouſneſs towards men preſcribed in the Second Table by outward Circumſtances: yea upon this Moral Law hang all the Law and the Prophets (t). 4. That alone being, in all the branches of it, conform and anſwerable to the Law of Nature written in Adam's heart at his Creation. The Ceremonial Law being meerly Poſitive, and inſtituted: Revealing only Gods inſtituted worſhip, and Typifying only ſupernatural Myſteries in Chriſt Jeſus. And the Judicial Law being only of poſitive Inſtitution for that Common-wealth of the Jews, and obliging formally as ſuch no other Common-wealth in the world thereunto, though the Matter of ſome Judicials, ſo far as bottomed upon Moral principles and foundations, may alſo analogically oblige other godly and Chriſtian Common-wealths. 5. That alone being of perpetual force and power to all the Churches of God in all ſucceeding ages both under Old and New Teſtament. For, the Ceremonial Laws vaniſhed at Chriſts Death, having received their accompliſhment in him: And the Judicials expired at the diſſolution of the Jewiſh Common-wealth. In theſe, and like reſpects, the Moral Law far excels the Ceremonial and Judicial.

The Moral Law hath divers Denominations. It is called; 1. The (u) Law, or A Law. By way of eminency: as being the Law of Laws. 2. The Law of the LORD, or The Law of God. (x) I will put my Law in their inward parts. From the principal Author and Law-giver thereof. 3. The (y) Law of Moſes. From the Inſtrument uſed by the LORD in giving it. 4. A (z) fierie Law; Heb. A fire of Law. From the manner of Gods promulging it, out of the midſt of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkneß, with a great voice. 5. The Commandment, or Precept; (a) Now theſe are the Commandment, the Statutes, and the Judgements. Commandment, or Precept, in the ſingular number: for Commandments, in the plural, by an Enallage of the number. Or, becauſe all the Commandments are compriſed in that one great Commandment, viz. Love. 6. Words. (b) Becauſe God ſpake and uttered them with a great voice, in the hearing of all Iſrael. 7. Ten words, (c) (we render it, Ten Commandments,) that is, Ten brief Commanding Sentences, touching ten diſtinct ſorts of Duties. 8. The (d) Teſtimony of the LORD. Partly, becauſe it Teſtifieth, as a Record, what is Gods will, and the myſterie of his Counſels, Ioh. 5. 39. Partly, becauſe of the Earneſt teſtification, conteſtation and charge given by God and his Prophets concerning the obſervance of it, as Deut. 31. 28. & 32. 4. Pſal. 81. 9. 2 King. 17. 15. Neh. 9. 29, 30. 9. Gods (e) Covenant. Becauſe it was delivered on Mount Sinai in the notion and formality of a Covenant, and was one of the eminent Diſpenſations of Gods Covenant of Faith, as after ſhall appear in its due place. 10. Covenants. Tables wherein this Covenant was written, &c. These and like Denominations tend something to clear the Nature of this Moral Law.

The Moral Law, and the Nature thereof, will further receive much light from A Due Distribution thereof into its several heads and Branches. Now there are three sorts of Divisions or Distributions of the Law, observable and useful to this End; viz. 1. Into two Tables. 2. Into Ten words, or ten Commandments. 3. Into Rules of Love To God, and To man. The First of these ariseth from the Subject containing the Law, viz. The two Tables of stone wherein God wrote this Law twice with his own finger. The second, from the Summary Heads or kinds of Arguments contained in the Law, which are evidently ten. The third, from the Scope and end of the Law, which is Love: and from the mutual connexion or dependance of those duties or Acts of love, to or upon one another.

First, The Law is divided into Two Tables. This Distribution hath Gods own authority for it. The LORD himself divided his Law into two General branches, (g) by writing it in two distinct Tables of stone, once, and again: The one Table containing duties to God, as A Table of Holiness; The other Table containing duties to man, as A Table of Righteousness. The Lord could as easily have written his whole Law upon one Table, but he would distinguish his Laws into two General Heads according to their two sorts of Objects, God and Man.

(g) Deut. 4. 13.

Secondly, The Law is Divided into Ten words. (h) And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, עשרת הדברים Hashereth Haddebarim. Ten words: and he wrote them upon two Tables of stone. This Distribution also is of Divine Authority. By, Ten words, understand not only ten individual words and no more; but (as the Heb. phrase may well be interpreted) Ten sayings, or Ten speeches. viz. Ten commanding Sayings, comprized in Ten distinct compendious sentences, Aphorisms, or periods; touching ten distinct matters or Duties. Hence in Greek they are called, The Decalogue. These ten Commandments were written in the Two Tables. But how many were written in the one, how many in the other, is controverted. Here I find chiefly three Opinions. 1. The Jews refer five to one Table, and five to another, adding the fifth Commandment to the first Table, because Superiours and Rulers are called Gods, Psal. 82. 6. But this ground is weak; For, inferiours are also comprehended in this fifth Commandment, and they are not stiled Gods. Besides this fifth Commandment immediately respects man, not God: Now our (i) Saviour refers all the Commandments immediately respecting God, to the love of God; and all the Commandments immediately respecting man, to the love of our neighbour; therefore doubtless God the wise Law-giver did so distinguish them in the two Tables.

(h) Deut. 4. 13.

(i) Luk. 10. 27, 28. Mat. 22. 36, 37, 38, 39.

2. The

2. The Papiſts (k) refer but three Commandments to the Firſt Table, making the Firſt and Second Commandment all one, through the Subtilty of Satan, that the making and worſhipping of any images except images of God, may ſeem the leſs palpably to be condemned; and they add ſeven to the Second Table, dividing the laſt Commandment into two that they may make up the number ten. And (l) Gerhard notes, That all Lutherans who ſincerely follow the Auguſtane Confeſſion and Luthers Catechiſm, embrace this Diviſion. Now this Diviſion, (though it diſtinctly rancks all the Commandments touching Holineſs, to one Table, and all the Commandments touching Righteouſneſs to the other, yet) is liable to very juſt exception. For, it Conjoyns the Firſt and Second Commandments into one, which are of quite different ſenſe and intention; and it Divides the laſt Commandment into two, both which have the ſame Scope and Meaning. Both of them ſeem to bragg that this alſo was (m) Auguſtines judgement. I grant, it was Auguſtines judgement; but his ground for it, (viz. the inſinuating hereby the Trinity of Perſons in the Godhead,) ſaith Dr. Andrews, (n) was very weak: ſaith Zanchy, (o) was childiſh. 3. The Orthodox Proteſtant writers embrace the beſt Diſtribution; referring the four firſt Commandments touching Religion and holineſs towards God, to the Firſt Table; the ſix laſt touching Righteouſneſs towards man, to the ſecond Table. (1.) Hereby they avoid all the inconveniences of the former Diviſions. (2.) Hereby they do moſt properly rank all the Commandments touching Religion to the firſt Table, and all the Commandments touching righteouſneſs to the ſecond. (3.) Hereby the firſt and great Commandment of loving God is rightly ordered, before the ſecond of loving man: this being ſubordinate to that, and depending thereupon.

Thirdly, The Law is divided, in reference to the Matter and Scope of it, (p) which is love) into two great Commandments; viz. The Firſt, To Love the Lord our God with all our heart, Soul, Mind and might. The Second, To love our neighbour as our ſelves. This is our (q) Bleſſed Saviour's Diſtribution: therefore of Divine Authority alſo. Love to God comprizeth all the Duties of Religion towards God, in the firſt Table: Love to our neighbour comprehending all Duties of Righteouſneſs towards man, in the ſecond Table. Under theſe two General Heads, we may thus ranck all the ten Commandments, according to this enſuing (r) Scheme. viz.

I. Love to God, comprizing all Duties of Religion, Piety, Holiness, or of the worship of God, which are prescribed in the I Table, and condemning all contrary sins, wherein the Lord teacheth

  - 1. In his Solemn or set worship, whether Publique or Private, viz. That this true God JEHOVAH wil be worshipped only by such means, and in such manner, as himself hath appointed in his Word. — Com. II.
  - 2. In our whole Course of life: viz. That in all things, throughout the same, we sanctifie and glorifie his Name: that is, every thing whereby he makes himself known, as man is known by his name. — Com. III.
- 3. When and at what special times; the LORD our God is to be more solemnly worshipped, viz. On his Sabbath days, which are to be devoted, and Sanctified to Gods worship and service peculiarly: under the New Testament, as well as under the Old. — Com. IIII.

II. Love to our neighbour, comprizing all Duties of Sobriety, equity and righteousness, which are prescribed in the II. Table, and condemning all opposite vices. These Duties and vices are,

- 1. Of more Peculiar concernment to Persons, as in Relation of Superiours, Equals, and Inferiours; and that in all sorts of Societies, Political, Ecclesiastical, Domestical. — Com. V.
- 2 Of more General and Common concernment to all persons. Here Vices are forbidden, wch

  - 2. Go before the Wil's deliberate and actual consent; as Concupiscence, or the first Motions of the heart, against our neighbours good in any respect. — Com. X.

Thus

Thus the Matter and End of the whole Moral Law joyntly, and of every of the ten Commandments severally is so far discovered in a More General way, as to let us see, 1. How (f) holy, just, and good the Law is; 2. How (t) Spiritual, and heavenly it is; 3. How (u) soul-searching, heart-penetrating, and Convincing it is; 4. How (x) large, comprehensive, and compleat it is, reaching to all sorts, sexes and degrees of persons, regulating all sorts and degrees of actions, words, thoughts and imaginations, and condemning all sinful failings in them all together, with all the Circumstances and aggravations thereof. Thus of the Moral Law.

THE CEREMONIAL LAW, was added by God as an Appendix to his Moral Law, and Regulated the people of the Iews, or the Iewish Church in the Outward Exercise of the acts of Piety, Religion, and Divine Worship, prescribed in the Commandments of the First Table. It was never imposed upon the Gentiles: but only upon the Iews, and that chiefly from Moses till Christ. The LORD imposed his Ceremonial Law upon the Church of the Iews; 1. That the Iews, (then Gods peculiar people in the whole world,) might be hereby (y) preserved and withheld from the idolatrous and superstitious worship of the Gentiles; God's instituted Ceremonial worship so abundantly taking them up, and filling their hands. 2. That they might (z) hereby be particularly directed how to serve and worship God aright; and might be (a) prevented from Contriving and devising a worship of God after their own inventions. 3. That (b) the Church in her minority might be nurtured up under these Tutors and Governours till maturity in Christ. 4. That he might in these Typical Ceremonies familiarly (though under a veil) represent as in a glass the Person and Office of Christ that was to come in our flesh, according to Gods Promises and Covenants, for Sinners recovery. Hence, The Law is said to (c) have a shadow of good things to come: but the body is of Christ. And, (d) The Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by Faith. 5. That God might instruct both Iews and us, That God will be worshipped, not only with the Soul and (e) Spirit, inwardly and invisibly; but also with the body outwardly and visibly. According to that of the Apostle; (f) ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your Spirit, which are Gods. 6. That Hereby, as by a Partition-wall, God might distinguish clearly his own peculiar people the Iews, from all other people of the world destitute of this way of Divine worship. Hence its called, (g) The middle Wall of Partition between Jews and Gentiles.

This Ceremonial Law hath various Denominations. 1. The Old Testament in Hebrew cals these Laws most usually (h) חקים Chukkim, or חקות Chukkoth, that is, Decrees, Constitutions, Prescripts, &c. from חקק signifying to imprint the form or image of any thing: as Ceremonies were images, types and representations of Christ. The

(h) Deut. 4. 1, 13, 14. & 6. 1.

Septuagint sometimes renders this word, (i) δικαιώματα, Justifications; not that the observance of these Ceremonies was Israels righteousness before God, but as types of Christ our righteousness: Sometimes, (k) προστάγματα, Ordinances, Constitutions, &c. Sometimes (l) νόμιμα, A legal-Statute: Sometimes (m) νόμος, A Law: Sometimes ἐντολὴ (n) A Precept, &c. 2. The New Testament in Greek stiles these Ceremonial Laws, (o) τῆς λατρείας, The Service; by way of Emphasis, viz. The Service of God. For herein God had delineated the way and manner of his worship and service. And (p) σκιὰ τῶν μελλόντων, shadows of things to come: because they typified and shadowed out the future mysteries of Christ. And (q) ἀσθενῆ καὶ πτωχὰ στοιχεῖα, Weak and beggarly Elements, or Infirm and poor Rudiments: because they were as the A B C or first Elements of learning, to the Church during her Minority; weak and beggarly in Comparison of the more effectual and rich way of the New Testament; especially they were weak and beggarly after Christs coming, when men ran back again to them from Christ. And (r) τὴν ἔχθραν, τὸν νόμον τῶν ἐντολῶν ἐν δόγμασι, The Enmity, even the Law of Commandments in Ordinances: because the Ceremonial Law consisted in a multitude of positive Commandments and instituted Ordinances; and differencing the Jews from the Gentiles, was a Matter of Enmity betwixt them, so that they did not coalesce and incorporate into one Church till Christs Death, whereby this Enmity of the Ceremonies was destroyed &c.

3. The Latin word Ceremony, or Ceremonial, (whereby we usually denominate and distinguish this from the Moral and Judicial Law,) is of doubtful Original. Some deriving it from the old word (s) Cerus, signifying as much as Sanctus, Holy: Some, from (t) Ceres a town by Rome, which (as Polidore Virgil relates out of Livy) when Rome was taken and possessed by the French, did courteously receive and constantly retain their Sacred things brought thither, till the Country was again recovered by Camillus; which act the Romans took so kindly, that afterwards from Ceres, they called all things belonging to Religion, Ceremonies; as (u) Valer. Maximus also testifies: Some, à (x) Carendo, from Wanting, because Religion wanting them, cannot well be exercised. These and like different Conjectures render the pedigree of this word Ceremonie, uncertain: Nor need we here stand much upon the Criticism of the word, so long as we rightly apprehend the thing intended by it; viz. By Ceremonial Laws, such Laws as prescribed the outward form and manner of Gods worship to the Jews, distinct from Morals and Judicials given by Moses.

Ceremonial Laws admit of many Distributions or Divisions; especially they may, according to their Matter and use, be more generally divided and ranked, as in this ensuing Scheme, viz. THE Ceremonial Law was The Law of Commandments consisting in Ordinances, Ephes. 2. 15. Which Ordinances were, 1. Of More Publique; 2. Of More Private Concernment.

This was the Ceremonial Law, (y) The Law of Commandments in Ordinances: And these the Chief Sorts of those Ordinances, whereunto the rest may be easily reduced. In these things (z) The Service of God by the Church of the Jews consisted till the coming of Christ, the Substance of these shadows, (a) by a better and more perfect Tabernacle: whence we may easily See, 1. That, the way of Gods worship and Service enjoyned to the Jews was very chargeable, tedious and troublesome; An (b) intangling yoke of bondage, (c) A yoke which they were not able to bear; 2. That, their Service and worship of God was more Carnal and Corporal, according to the dulness and incapacity of that people, the Church then being (d) under these Tutors and Governours, because under age; 3. That, The way of Religion was then very dark under types and shadows: under (e) all these shadows, good things to come in and by Christ, were veyled and dimly represented, which the faithful Jews did, though obscurely, apprehend for their Salvation: 4. That (f) God hath provided better things for his Church under the New Testament, wherein we are happier then the Jews. Thus much of the Ceremonial Law.

THE JUDICIAL LAW, was added by God as an Appendix to his Moral Law, and Regulated the People of the Jews (as now to be digested and formed into a Body Politique, Civil-State, or Common-wealth,) in the exercise of all Acts of Equity, Righteousness, and Sobriety, towards themselves and one another, prescribed in the Commandments of the second Table especially: notwithstanding some of them also had reference to Acts of Piety and Religion in the first Table, with Civil mulcts punishing offences, &c. contrary thereunto. The LORD himself was the Supream Monarch, King, Judge, Ruler, Governour, and Law-giver of this Common-wealth peculiarly. He formed them into a Common-wealth; He gave them the best Political Laws that ever any Common-wealth had; He from time to time set Rulers and Governours of several sorts over them. Their Political Constitution was Monarchical, Aristocratical, and Democratical: and therefore most prudently and perfectly composed. 1. Monarchical, In that God would still have it Governed by (g) One, as Supream; viz. First by Moses, then by Joshuah, then by Judges, then by Kings, then by Princes and Governours after the Captivity: The raising up and erecting of which Supream Rulers, God reserved still to himself as Supream over all. 2. Aristocratical, In that seventy (h) chief, wise, understanding, and known men among their tribes were as Princes set over them as assistants to the Supream Governour, Moses, &c. 3. Democratical, In that these chief Heads were (i) chosen by the people themselves out of every Tribe. This was the form of their Politie; the best form, and most excellently composed, for preventing of Anarchy, Popular Confusions and Divisions, Arbitrariness, and Tyranny.

These Judicial Laws are stiled, 1. Most usually (k) משפטים Mishphatim, Judgements; because they were the wise and Righteous Determinations or Judgements of God for their Common-wealth, and were to be a standing Rule for all their Judgements, Sentences and proceedings in their Civil Courts of Judicature. So the Greek cals them, τὰ κρίματα, or κρίσεις, Judgements. 2. Sometimes (l) עדות Hhhedouth, Testimonies; —— And made a Covenant before the LORD, to walk after the LORD, and to keep his Commandments and his Testimonies and Statutes, with all his heart, and with all his Soul. So called, because these Judicials were Testifications of Gods will and pleasure, how he would have that Common-wealth guided, and their Judicial proceedings ordered. 3. Sometimes (m) ἡ νομοθεσία, The Legislation, or Giving-of-the-Law: which (being in this Enumeration of Jewish priviledges contradistinct from The Covenants, viz. The two Tables of Covenant, containing the Moral Law; and from The Service of God, directed in the Ceremonial Law,) seems plainly and particularly to intend the Judicial Law, and not Generally the giving of the whole Law.

Judicial Laws may variously be Divided or Distributed; viz. 1. According to the Extent of Right; into Laws concerning Persons, Things or Actions. 2. According to the four Ranks and Relations of persons or People in every well-ordered Common-wealth; viz. 1. Rulers and Subjects; 2. Subjects and Subjects; 3. Family Relations; viz. betwixt Husband and Wife, Parents and Children, Masters and Servants; 4. Subjects and Forreiners. Thus that clear and learned (n) Zanchy marshals all the Judicials. But these two ways of Dividing the Judicials seem too narrow and not adequate to them: forasmuch as there are divers Judicials that have reference to offences against the first Table, though most of them concern the second Table. 3. According to the ten Commandments contained in both Tables. God hath made the Civil Magistrate (custodem utriusq; Tabulæ) keeper and guardian of both the Tables: having commanded him to inflict Civil mulcts and penalties upon transgressors of the first, as well as of the second Table. Thus that excellent and judicious (o) Calvin, distributing the Matter of those four Books of Moses, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomie, into Historical and Doctrinal; Harmoniously refers all the Doctrinals therein to one Body, viz. All the Ceremonials and Judicials to the ten Commandments of the Moral Law, for the more clear explaining and understanding of them. To which (for brevity sake) I refer the learned Reader, as being a very useful and advantagious work. (p) Gerhard also refers the Judicials to the ten Commandments: but herein wrongs his references, in that he follows the corrupt Popish Distribution of the ten Commandments fore-rejected.

Now the LORD imposed not these Judicials upon the Gentiles, but only upon the Iews during the continuance of their Commonwealth. Nor are Christian Common-wealths now under the New Testament formally under those Laws or obliged by them, further then the Moral ground and equity thereof bindeth analogically. God gave these Judicial Laws to the Jews, 1. That, He might hereby let them See, that Himself immediately was their King, their Judge, their Law-giver: and they immediately his Subjects and people, having no other Supream-Magistrate, whether King, Judge, or Law-giver over them besides God alone, when these Laws were first given. 2. That, there might be the form of a well-ordered Common-wealth in Israel; wherein vice might be suppressed, vertue encouraged; Necessary Political Union and Communion established for their mutual strengthening, Defence, Support and Comfort; that they might live like men, not beasts; like religious men, not Pagans. 3. That, they might perceive how much God approves of Government, Order, Publique peace, Honesty, Righteousness, Distinction of things, &c. and how much he abhors Anarchy, Confusion, Tyranny, Barbarousness, Injustice, &c. 4. That, they might know how great a Rewarder God was of all Piety and Righteousness, and how severe an Avenger of all Sin and wickedness. 5. That, In this well-constituted and well-regulated Common-wealth, The Church and Ordinances of God might have quiet, safe and comfortable Subsistence. Common-wealths are the Churches and Gospels receptacles: without the Good composure and government whereof, the Church cannot long be, or not be well. 6. That, God might proportionably instruct all Christian Magistrates under the New Testament, to Govern their Subjects by wise and righteous Laws, made known unto the people: and not arbitrarily, by their own meer will and pleasure. The wisdom and equity of whose Laws will notably appear, by comparing them in some due analogy with these o. God himself, which were the most wise, full and righteous Political Laws that ever were contrived. Thus of the Iudicial Law.

Thus, What the Nature of these three sorts of Laws was, is more Generally explained.

3. That all these three Sorts of Laws were delivered by God to Moses on Mount Sinai for Israel, may thus be evinced. viz. 1. By the Series and Order of the History. For, (q) The LORD descended to the top of Mount Sinai, and with an audible voice promulged the Moral Law in the Hearing of all Israel. After this he declared to Moses, for Israel, (r) The Substance of Ceremonial and Iudicial Laws, that he might teach them and set them before Israel. The Moral Law God wrote in two Tables of Stone, and (s) gave them to Moses in the Mount to bring them to the people, when he had made an end of communing with him; This and The other Laws (t) Moses wrote in a Book, for the peoples Instruction, and that at Gods appointment. And towards the close of the Book called Leviticus, (wherein the History of Gods giving of the Law is continued, which was

And, —— (x) Theſe are the Commandments, which the LORD commanded Moſes, for the children of Iſrael, in Mount Sinai, which are the laſt words in Leviticus. 2. By the Repetition of the Laws in Deuteronomie. The Preface prefixed to the Repetition clears this, ſaying; (y) This is the Law which Moſes ſet before the children of Iſrael; theſe are the Teſtimonies, and the Statutes, and the Judgements, which Moſes ſpake unto the children of Iſrael, after they came forth out of Egypt. Law; that's the Genus: Teſtimonies, Statutes, and Judgements; viz. Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials; theſe are the Species, or three ſorts of Laws. Alſo the (z) Laws themſelves, after repeated, are both Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials: therefore God gave all theſe three ſorts by Moſes on Mount Sinai for Iſrael. 3. By the forecited Teſtimony of Malachy, wherein theſe three ſorts of Laws are ſaid to be commanded to Moſes in Horeb for all Iſrael. Thus it is plain, What Law that was which God gave by Moſes to Iſrael at Mount Sinai, viz. The Law Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial: Though primarily and ſingularly the Moral Law, as having ſpecial preheminence before the reſt in many regards, and whereunto they are to be reduced; Secondarily the Ceremonial Law, as next in dignity; Thirdly the Judicial Law.

III. Queſt. How, or in what manner God gave this Law to Iſrael?

Anſw. Gods way and manner of Giving the Law is very obſervable, and myſterious. It tends exceedingly to ſet forth 1. The infinite Glory of the Law-giver; 2. The excellent dignity of the Law, eſpecially the Moral Law; 3. The Nature and Scope of this Promulgation of the Law, viz. That it might be a Covenant betwixt God and Iſrael; not of Works, but of Faith; 4. The Evangelical Myſterie of Chriſt, and Sinners Salvation by him, darkly under a veil made known in this promulgation both of Morals and Ceremonials. Therefore according to the plain Series and order of the Hiſtory, (our beſt guide in this particular) I ſhall repreſent to you Gods proceedings and way in giving his Law to Iſrael, that ſo we may make the right uſe thereof which God intended. Now theſe eight particulars are the things which are herein eſpecially to be noted. viz.

1. Gods (b) Preface and Introduction to the giving of the Law, (that Covenant of the ten Commandments) which he commanded Moſes to declare to Iſrael, when (c) they were now brought unto himſelf, and encamping before the Mount Sinai.

ple, for hearing and receiving the Law from God on Mount Sinai.

3. Gods (c) Promulgation of the Law and Covenant of the ten Commandements (immediately after all this Preparation) to all Israel from Mount Sinai, in a most admirable and observable Manner.

4. Israels extream (f) fear and terrour, by reason of Gods mighty voyce and dreadful Promulgation of the Law, so that they removed and stood afar off: and being utterly unable to hear the voice of God any more Immediately, they desired that God would speak to them Mediately by Moses as a Mediatour. Which request the Lord highly approved and condescended to, as leading them on to Jesus Christ the only true Mediatour betwixt God and Sinners.

5. Gods (g) speaking to Moses out of the thick Darkness on Mount Sinai, at the same time (after he had accepted Israels request about a Mediatour) Some Additionals to his Law and Covenant of the ten Commandments, which Additionals were 1 Moral, 2 Ceremonial, and 3 Judicial.

6. The solemn (h) Ratification or Establishment of these three sorts of Laws, Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial (thus promulged and published) as a COVENANT or Testament betwixt God and Israel: which seems to have been done, Partly on the same day that the ten Commandments were promulged; Partly in the Morning following.

8. Gods gracious (k) Renewing of this Law and Covenant with that ingrateful backsliding idolatrous Covenant-breaking people, but now repenting of that their wickedness.

These Particulars duly opened, will notably set forth Gods way and Manner of giving his Law at Mount Sinai. But the further opening and explanation of them I shall refer till I come to speak of the (l) Form of this Sinai Covenant: which will be a more fit and proper place for that purpose.

Thus of Question III. How and in what Manner God gave his Law to Israel on Sinai by Moses.

IV. Quest. Why God gave his Law to Israel at that time?

Answ. Many Causes or Reasons there were why the Lord gave to Israel his Law, and at that time especially. As,

1. Gods singular favour, love, compassion, and goodness to that people of Israel more then to all other people in the world. He loved them, (m) because he would love them; such his freeness of Love: and because he would keep the Oath which he had sworn to their fathers; such his faithfulness of Love. From this his infinite and peculiar favour to them, he vouchsafed them alone this great priviledge of his Law and Covenant above all people, for their peculiar good. This Priviledge of his favour both (n) Moses, (o) David, and

2. Before this time that Iſrael was brought out of Egypt, they were not in a fit Capacity for this Law of God as given on Mount Sinai. For, 1. Before they went into Egypt, they were very few in number, Not a ſufficient number for a body Politique, but only a large (r) family of ſeventy perſons that went down into Egypt. Therefore in that ſtate they were unfit for receiving Gods Judgements or Political Laws, for guiding of a Civil Politie. 2. While they were in Egypt, they grew ſo numerous, to (s) above 600000 warriours, beſides all others, that they were of quantity ſufficient for a Common-wealth: notwithſtanding during that time they were not a free people, but only ſtrangers and (t) forreiners in a ſtrange land under the Paganiſh government of Egypt, and in great ſervitude; and therefore not in a Capacity to exerciſe Gods judgements and Laws as a free Nation. God therefore did firſt ſet them free: and then publiſh his Laws and Judgements to them.

3. When Iſrael was brought out of Egypt to Mount Sinai, to go on towards the poſſeſſion of the promiſed Canaan, they were fit both in regard of their numerouſneſs and freedom to be digeſted and moulded into a Common-wealth or Body Politique, that they might live orderly and peaceably when they ſhould be planted in Canaan. God therefore as Supream Law-giver and King to that people, gives them Laws, and faſhions them into a Common-wealth, his own Common-wealth, which hereupon (u) ſome ſtile Θεοκρατία, A Theocracy, or Divine Government. Theſe Laws being Divine, were indiſpenſable; men could not diſpenſe with them, as they may with their own Laws.

(2) That, The Law might be a clear and full discoverer of Sin, in Israel, and in all. It is plain, that long before the Law was published on Mount Sinai, there was much sin in the world, and in Gods own people: but they were not so rouzed and awakened to a sense and sight of Sin, till the Law was given. For, (c) until the Law sin was in the world, (viz. from Adam till Moses, for death the wages of sin reigned from Adam to Moses): but sin is not imputed, when there is no Law. By whom was not sin imputed till the giving of the Law? Did not God impute it to Sinners? Yes. His (d) Cursing of Cain, (e) Drowning the Old world, (f) Consuming Sodome with fire and Brimstone, (g) Turning Lot's wife into a Pillar of Salt, (h) Plaguing of Abimelechs house for Abraham's wife, Destroying of Egypt (i) with ten grievous plagues, and at last (k) drowning Pharaoh and all his hoast in the Red Sea; All these were infallible demonstrations that God did impute sin to men from Adam to Moses before the Law. Did not man impute Sin to others, and himself before the Law? It will be hard to say man did not impute sin at all. For whilst men did (l) accuse and condemn one another for ungodliness or unrighteousness; and were (m) least smitten as Conscious, for their own sins: in some degree they imputed sin to others and to themselves, from the glimmerings of the Law of Nature remaining in them. But comparatively this was as it were no imputing of Sin at all to themselves or others, the Law of Nature being almost wholly obliterated, little difference being put betwixt good and evill, most men grew secure and senseless of sin, and of the sinfulness thereof. They could discern the outward gross acts of Sin: but not the inward lust of the heart. God therefore gave his Law to awaken men out of their security, to detect the sinfulness of Sin to the uttermost, in all its outward and inward acts, and aggravations, that so man despairing in himself, might go out of himself for a Remedy. Hence its said, (n) By the Law is the knowledge of Sin. And, (o) The Law entred, that the offence might abound. And Paul saith; (p) I had not known sin but by the Law: for I had not known lust, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not Covet. And elsewhere; (q) Wherefore then serveth the Law? It was added because of Transgression, till the Seed should come to whom the promise was made. It was added (r) to discover transgression, and so to prepare men the more for Christs coming who should take away sin. The Law discovers Sin, 1. By the exactness of its Precepts, which (s) none can possibly reach; 2. By the severity of its Threats and Curses, which no (t) Sinner in himself can endure or avoid; 3. By the many (u) Levitical Sacrifices and washings, wherein was a continued remembrance of Sin, which stood in need of purging away by Christs blood unto Justification, and by Christs Spirit unto Sanctification. Thus the Law was added to awaken the Secure and slumbering Conscience, and to discover sin abundantly to the Sinner.

(3) That, By this Law Israel Gods peculiar people might be kept from Sin discovered: and especially from the Sins of Egypt, whence they were now newly delivered; and from the Sins of Canaan, whither they were going to possess it according to Gods Covenant and Promises. Israel was an holy Nation, Holiness to the Lord: that therefore they might not be polluted with the sinful defilements of other Nations, the Lord gives them this Law, as an holy boundary, to keep them in, (x) I am the LORD your God. After the doings of the Land of Egypt wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: And after the doings of the Land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do; neither shall ye walk in their Ordinances. Ye shall do my judgements, and keep mine Ordinances, to walk therein: I am the LORD your God. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgements: which if a man do, he shall live in them; I am the LORD.

(4) That, By the Law, as a Prison, the people of Israel, The Church, might be Confined within the bounds of Faith: and by it as a Schoolmaster they might be brought unto Jesus Christ. This end and use of the Law the Apostle doth plainly assert; (y) —— Before Faith, we were kept under the Law, shut-up unto the Faith which should afterwards be revealed. Wherefore the Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by Faith. Here the end and use of the Law is set forth under a double Metaphor, viz. Of a Prison, and Of a Schoolmaster. 1. The Law was as a Prison, to confine them within certain bounds, even the bounds of Faith. (z) We were kept-as-in-garison under the Law, shut up unto the Faith which should afterwards be revealed. By [Faith] here I understand, objectively, The Doctrine of Faith, and of life and justification thereby. This Faith is said to be afterwards revealed, viz. at Christs coming, under the New Testament: Not absolutely and exclusively, as if the Doctrine of Justification by Faith were not at all revealed before; for, it was revealed to David, Moses, Abraham, Noah, &c. but Comparatively, it was revealed to them before, more imperfectly and obscurely in comparison to the New Testament-Revelation thereof. Now, under the Law, the Church was shut-up-as-in-garison unto this faith: not shut-out from the Faith, but shut-up unto the Faith. Under the Law they did partake of Faith in some measure: and by the Law (as (a) Calvin well notes) they were not driven from Faith, but were kept in, that they should not wander without the bounds of Faith. And as the Scripture, especially the Law concluded all under sin and the curse: So the same Law in opposition and remedy of this sin and curse shut them up and confined them to Faith, to the Doctrine of Justification by Faith in Christ alone; Partly, by driving them out of themselves for a Remedy, there being nothing in themselves but matter of sin and Condemnation; Partly, By painting out Christ, and his perfect Righteousness, for their justification, especially in the Ceremonial Law under many Types. For by Law here I understand Moses whole administration. Thus the Law confined them within the bounds of Faith; that they should not seek for justification, and life, by their own inherent righteousness, or by works, or by any other way, then only by Faith in Christ Jesus. And this sense of this phrase, in my judgement seems of all other most proper, clear and genuine. 2. The Law was as a Schoolmaster also to direct them unto Christ. The Church of the Jews being in minority and childhood, was put to school, nurtured under the severe and servile discipline of the Law: but all in order to, and in expectance of Christ that was to be revealed. This was an eminent end of the Law. (b) Wherefore the Law was our schoolmaster unto Christ. (εἰς χριστὸν,) that we might be justified by Faith. There are two acts whereby a Schoolmaster makes his Schollars good proficients; Correction for faults, and Instruction in their lessons. The Law, this Spiritual Schoolmaster puts forth also these two Acts upon its Schollars: (1) Correcting them for their faults and sins, discovered and condemned under severe curses, by the Moral Law; (2) Instructing them to repair to Christ for pardon and healing of these sins, by the Ceremonial Law. (c) But after that Faith is come, we are no longer under a Schoolmaster. For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

(5) That, by the Law, (viz. The whole Ministery of Moses) the (d) Church in her minority and childhood, might be trained up, according to her child-like Capacity and condition, as under tutors and governors, till her riper age in Christ. A child, though Heir of all, by right: yet is under tutors in a servile state, as a servant in Condition; till the time appointed of the Father: So the Church, though heir of all priviledges Evangelical, by right: yet was kept in much servitude and bondage under the Law, the Elements of the world, this her State and Condition; but when Christ came, she is redeemed from this servile administration, and set in a more free filial condition, receiving more plentifully the adoption of sons, a Priviledge peculiarly reserved for the manifestation of Christ in the flesh, who is our Redeemer and only Author of our freedom.

(6) That, The Law thus dispensed by Moses might be a Covenant, yea a Covenant of Faith to Israel: As hath been already intimated in part, and afterwards in the next Aphorism will be manifested more fully. And this was a Discovery of the Covenant of Faith more clear and full, then all those that went before.

(7) That, The Law might be a Rule of life and obedience to all Israel and their Seed in regard of Holiness, Righteousness and Temperance, both in the wilderness and in Canaan: that so God might keep Covenant and mercy with them, might bless them, give them Canaan and all promised Blessings; and they might be admired for a wise people by all the Nations. Not that their walking according to this Rule could be any Inward Impulsive, or Outward Meritorious Thus of Queſt. IV. Why God gave his Law to Iſrael, and why at that time?

V. Queſt. Whether Gods People had not the Law before this time that God publiſhed it from Mount Sinai?

Anſw. As God ſince the Creation of mankind, was never without his Church on Earth: So Gods Church was never without his Law to guide her in his waies. For clearing this Conſider,

1. That, The Law of God is an eternal Rule of Holineſs and Righteouſneſs. And this Rule was eternally in the mind and will of God even before the foundation of the world was laid. The Law published, being nothing else but a Representation, Type, Character or Counter-pane of that holy and righteous mind and will of God.

2. That, The Law of God was in mans first Creation (who was (k) created in Gods own image) ingraven upon his heart: con-natural to him, and con-created with him. This is clear, for that even since the fall of man, whereby Gods image was so shattered and obliterated, the very Pagans, (l) who have not the written Law, do by nature the things contained in the Law, which shews the work of the Law written in their hearts. If the work of the Law by nature remain imperfectly written in the heart of Pagans: then at first Creation it was perfectly written for Substance in the heart of Adam.

3. That, The expres special Commandment given to Adam touching the not eating of the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge, was (as (m) Tertullian stiles it) a Mother-Commandment that virtually had in the womb thereof all the Commandments of the Moral Law. For had he loved God and Man as he ought, (which is the Sum of the Moral Law) he had not dishonoured, distrusted, and disobeyed God; he had not dishonoured, murdered and undone himself and mankind by eating that forbidden fruit.

4. That, From Adam till Moses they had the Substance of the Moral Law in the Church of God. They had it not written, nor in two Tables, nor in that order or formality of ten words, as it was given on Mount Sinai: but they had the Materiality and Substance of it, Partly remaining in the hearts of men, not totally defaced by the fall; Partly, revealed to the Patriarchs from God, and by them professed, preached and taught to their posterity after them in their several Generations. This will best appear by Induction of Particulars, that they had the substance of all the ten Commandments, viz. I. The First Commandment. For, They had the Lord for (n) their God; The God of Abraham, The God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. They Knew him, They believed in him, they feared him, They loved him, &c. as their only God. They walked with God. II. The second Commandment. For, they worshipped the Lord outwardly by Sacrifices, as (o) Abel, (p) Noah, (q) Abraham, and other Patriarchs. They (r) called upon the Name of the Lord. They preached Gods word, as (s) Enoch, (t) Noah, &c. They had Gods (u) Sacraments dispensed among them, Circumcision and The Passover. And that their worship of God might be more acceptable to him, they purged away Idols and false worship, as (x) Jacob out of his family. III. The third Commandment. For, they had an holy and reverent use of Gods name; and (y) particularly of Prayer, Oaths, Vows, &c. which are part of his name. IV. The fourth Commandment. For, (z) The Sabbath was sanctified by God from the very beginning, when God had ended his Creating of the world. And the Sabbath (a) was observed by Israel before the Law was given Exod. 16. 23: to morr: is y^e rest of y^e holy Sabb: &c: on on Mount Sinai. V. The fifth Commandment. For, Inferiours honoured their Superiours; as (b) Sem and Japhet their Father Noah, (c) Isaac, his Father Abraham; Abrahams (d) servant his Master, &c. And Superiours did on their part perform their duties to inferiours; (e) Noah blessed his sons; and (f) Jacob his posterity. (g) Abraham commanded his children and household after him to keep the way of the Lord, Provided a fit marriage for Isaac his Son, and carefully disposed his state to his children, &c. VI. The sixth Commandment. For, (h) Blood was forbidden to be eaten, for this among other Reasons, To teach men to avoid and abhor bloodiness and cruelty one to another. God also expressly telling Noah; Surely the blood of your lives will I require: At the hand of every beast will I require it; and at the hand of man, at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man. Whoso sheddeth mans blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man. Thus God (i) required the blood of Abel, at the hand of his brother Cain, telling him that his blood did cry to him from the ground for vengeance. So God cursed Cain, and set a mark upon him. VII. The seventh Commandment. For, The purity and chastity of Marriage is intimated, in (k) Gods joyning together one man and one woman as one flesh, in the first Institution of Marriage. And this Argument our Saviour especially urged against Polygamy. Lamech (l) is noted to be the first Polygamist, that had two wives at once: which was a warping from the first Institution. The sons of God in the Church, (m) are taxed for desiring and taking to wives, because they were fair, the daughters of men, out of the Church: and this their lust is mentioned as one Cause of the Flood. The LORD (n) plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrahams wife, who was taken into Pharaoh's house, though not defiled. And in like sort he (o) dealt with Abimelech, for the like fact. The Sodomites for their lust (p) are smitten with blindness at Lots door, and afterwards four Cities of the five destroyed with fire and brimstone from heaven. Dina defiled by Shechem, is said (q) to be dealt with as an harlot: and he is said to work folly in Israel in lying with Jacobs daughter, which thing ought not to be done. Onan (r) by his uncleanness displeased the Lord, that he slew him. Tamar (s) is destined to be burnt for her uncleanness: Adultery seems in those times to be punished with Death. Reuben for his incest (t) is deprived of his priviledge of Primogeniture. VIII. The eighth Commandment. For, God so abhorred idleness the nourisher of theft, rapine, &c. that (u) even in innocency he sets man to dress and keep the Garden of Eden: and after the fall (x) laid it upon him, that in the sweat of his brows he should eat bread. This is accounted one of the sins for which the old world was drowned, that (y) the earth was filled with violence, injury and oppression. Laban (z) deceitfully and unjustly changed Jacobs wages ten times: therefore God gave Labans cattel unto Jacob. IX. The ninth Commandment. For, Cain (a) lying ing to God touching his brother Abel, whom he had murdered, is severely reproved and punished by God. Abraham (b) averring Sarah to be his Sister, and concealing that she was his wife, had like to have prostituted her chastity, if the Lord had not wonderfully prevented. Labans (c) deceiving of Jacob with Leah instead of Rachel, is sharply reproved by Jacob. The (d) Lye of Jacobs sons touching their brother Joseph, as if he were torn in pieces, is recorded among other their injuries done to Joseph. X. The tenth Commandment also they had for Substance. For, The sons of God are taxed for their (e) desire after the daughters of men. Lots wife is (f) turned into a pillar of Salt for her looking back from a hankering earthly desire after Sodom and her outward enjoyments there. And this was a fundamental cause of the flood, (g) That every imagination of the thoughts of mens hearts were only evil continually.

(d) Gen. 35.
(e) Gen. 6. 2, 3.
(f) Gen. 19.
(g) Gen 6. 5. &c.

By all this we may clearly See, That the Church of God long before Moses had the Moral Law, the ten Commandments for Substance and Materiality, though not in that Formality wherein it was given on Sinai. And that the Law was not only Moses's; but also Jacobs, Abrahams, Noah's, Enoch's, Adam's before Moses: and in like sort it was Davids, The Prophets's, Christ's and his Apostles's after Moses. This highly commends the Perpetuity of the Moral Law: As also the Necessity and utility thereof continually in the Church of God in all ages; for Discovery, Prevention and Suppression of Sin, for Direction and incitation to all sorts of Duties of Holiness and righteousness, &c. They therefore that cry down this Law and its use in the Church, do oppose Gods way and dealing with his Church thereby in all ages, and the great benefit of the Church thereupon.

VI. Quest. Whether the Law given on Mount Sinai, was not the same with the Law of Nature written in Adam's heart before the Fall, and in some measure remaining still in man's heart since the Fall?

Answ. The Identity or sameness of the Law of Nature written in Adam's heart with the Law given on Mount Sinai, is by some taken for granted: but by others this is counted a very questionable point. But may we not most safely and satisfactorily resolve with a Distinction? viz.

1. According to the General Sum and Substance of the Moral Law, it seems to be the same with the Law of Nature written in Adam's heart in innocency. For, 1. The (h) Gentiles, that have not the Moral Law, written, do by Nature the things contained in the Law for Substance, which shows the work of the Law written in their hearts. The imperfect reliques of the Law of Nature remaining in them, put them upon doing the work of the Moral Law: therefore for Sum and Substance the Moral Law and Law of Nature are the same, thus producing one and the same effect for Substance. 2. The general Sum and Substance of the Moral Law, is, (i) To love God over all with all the heart, soul, mind and might; And to love our neighbours as our selves; doing to them as we would would they ſhould do to us. And the Law of Nature required this: yea the decayed light of Nature even in Pagans teacheth thus much, as is evident by the writings of many Heathens, Ariſtotle, Plato, Seneca, Cicero, Cato, &c. 3. God Created man at firſt (k) upright, and (l) in his own image. Gods image eſpecially and ſummarily conſiſts in (m) Holineſs and Righteouſneſs: with theſe Adam was principled, and in theſe the Law of Nature was contained. And theſe are the Sum of the Moral Law: Holineſs is the ſum of the firſt Table: Righteouſneſs the Sum of the ſecond. 4. The ſame Law for Subſtance which the firſt Adam brake, to the ruine of all his Natural poſterity: Did Chriſt the laſt Adam perfectly keep and fulfil, enduring the curſe and penalty thereof, to the Recovery of his Elected Supernatural poſterity: Otherwiſe the Remedy had not been full, proper, and pertinent to the Malady. But the firſt Adam brake the Law of Nature, in violating that (n) poſitive Law about the forbidden fruit: And Chriſt the laſt Adam (o) kept the charge, and endured the curſe of the Moral Law, Death: therefore the Moral Law, and Law of Nature were the ſame, for Sum and Subſtance.

(h) Rom. 2. 14, 15.
(i) Math. 22. 36. to 41. & 7. 12.

2. According to the Particulars and Circumſtances of the Moral Law, it hath divers, and thoſe conſiderable differences from the Law of Nature imprinted on Adam's heart in his Creation. For,

(1) The Moral Law is more Comprehenſive; having in it More Particulars required and forbidden, then the Law of Nature either had, or needed to have. The Moral Law comprizeth in it all that was in the Law of Nature: but the Law of Nature had not in it all that is in the Moral Law. 1. The firſt Commandment requireth our having the Lord alone for our God in Chriſt by Faith, walking before him in all Evangelical obedience: and to that end, our Repenting of every ſin, oppoſite to this having the Lord for our God. But the Law of Nature could require none of theſe things with reference to Chriſt as Mediator: there being in innocency no need of a Mediator. 2. The ſecond Commandment comprizeth in it the whole Inſtituted worſhip of God, both under Old and New Teſtament: requiring that from time to time his people ſhould worſhip him according to his revealed will. So that all the Ceremonial Law under the Old Teſtament, principally typifying Chriſt to come afterwards; and all the Evangelical ordinances of worſhip under the New Teſtament, tendering Chriſt as come already, are contained in the ſecond Commandment: and all contrary offences forbidden. But neither Ceremonial Laws, Nor New Teſtament-Ordinances, Nor any thing of Chriſt, was contained in the Law of Nature. 3. The fourth Commandment requires the Sanctification of the Sabbath day: and particularly determines, as to the Jews under the Old Teſtament, that Sabbath to be every ſeventh Day. But the Law of Nature can hardly be conceived to require the Sanctification of every ſeventh day as an holy Sabbath to God. For what could there be in Nature to determine determine upon the ſeventh day, rather then upon any other of the ſix daies? How can it be infallibly evinced that God Sanctified the ſeventh day before mans fall: and not rather after mans fall? And ſeeing the Sabbath is to be ſanctified eſpecially by the ſolemn Acts of worſhip, according to the Ordinances of the Old Teſtament before Chriſt, and according to the Ordinances of the New Teſtament ſince Chriſt, How could the Law of Nature inſtruct in theſe acts of Sabbath-Sanctifying, which had their whole tendency to Chriſt? 4. The ſecond Table comprized the body of thoſe Judgements or Judicial Laws, impoſed on the Common-wealth of Iſrael. The Law of Nature could not reach to theſe poſitive Laws. 5. The tenth Commandment diſcovers luſt to be ſin, even the firſt motions or inclinations of the heart againſt our neighbours good, though not deliberately aſſented to by the will. But did, or doth the Law of Nature make this particular diſcovery? Do heathens diſcover Concupiſcence to be ſin by the Law of Nature? Paul had the Law of Nature, yet ſaith, (p) he had not known luſt to be ſin, unleſs the Law had ſaid, thou ſhalt not Covet. Thus the Moral Law in the Particulars comprized therein ſurpaſſeth the Law of Nature.

(p) Rom. 7. 7.

(2) The Moral Law was given as a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt the Mediator, revealing Juſtification and Happineſs by Faith in Chriſt, as hath been already ſhewed, and will after more appear: But the Law of Nature was given to Adam as a Covenant of Works, revealing to him Juſtification and happineſs by his own works and perfect fulfilling of the Law. So that in their end and ſcope they differ as far as two diſtinct Kinds of Covenants one from another.

(3.) The Moral Law given on Sinai binds only the Iews under the Old Teſtament, and Chriſtians under the New Teſtament, to whom it comes and is revealed: But the Law of Nature is of Univerſal obligation, binding all mankind, being ingraven in the heart of Adam the Root of all man kind, the imperfect reliques whereof remain ſtill in all mankind; the Penalty alſo of this broken Covenant of works, Death, lying fully upon all mankind, Pagans and others, till they embrace the Covenant of Faith and Chriſt therein as the only al-ſufficient Remedy.

(4) The Moral Law given on Mount Sinai impoſeth a further bond upon all them that have it, then the Law of Nature. The Law of Nature binds to obedience: but the Moral Law comprizing in it the Law of Nature, binds more ſtrongly, is as a double bond. The Law of Nature binds to obey God the Creator: The Moral Law binds to obey God not only as Creator, but as Redeemer alſo. So that the Sins of Iews before Chriſt, or of Chriſtians ſince Chriſt, againſt the Moral Law, are far more haynous and inexcuſable, then the Sins of Pagans againſt the Law of Nature, eſpecially conſidering that theſe have but a very dark and imperfect Rule of the Law of Nature, but thoſe have a very clear and compleat Rule of the Moral Law.

(5) The

(5.) The Moral Law was given on Mount Sinai with many remarkable Circumstances attending the same, as these eight formerly mentioned: But the Law of Nature was given into Adam's heart without any such Circumstances.

VII. Question. Whether the Law of God given by Moses on Mount Sinai to Israel, be abrogated to us now under the New Testament or no? And how far it concerns or obligeth us, if not abrogated?

Answ. This Question hath two branches, viz. The one about the Abrogation or Obligation of the Law of Moses as to us Christians under the New Testament; The other about the Use of the Law, so far as not abrogated. The Resolution of this latter depends upon the clearing of the former. This double Question is very Necessary to be handled. 1. For, the right understanding of many Scriptures: 2. For the Discovery both of Christians duty, and Liberty; that they may know how far they are tyed, and how far they are freed; 3. For setting forth the worth and usefulness of the Law; 4. And for refelling the Antinomian error, endeavouring totally to abolish the Law given by Moses on Mount Sinai, as of no use at all, for Matter or Form, to Christians now under the New Testament. And yet it is a Knotty and difficult Question: and learned men have rendered it the more intricate, by their cross disputes about it: Papists opposing Papists, and Protestants opposing Protestants therein. That I may more clearly and briefly resolve this Question in both the branches of it, I shall digest my Answer thereunto into certain distinct Positions, as followeth. viz.

I. Position. The Judgements, or Judicial Laws which God gave on Mount Sinai by Moses to Israel, were peculiarly given to them as a Body Politique or Commonwealth erected and constituted by God himself, and expired at the dissolution of that Jewish Politie, obliging no other state or Commonwealth besides that of the Jews, (q) further then the Natural or Moral equity of the matter thereof may extend and oblige. As (r) divers Scriptures compared together intimate unto us.

II. Position. The (s) Statutes, or Ceremonial Laws touching the Outward worship and (t) service of God, which God gave on Mount Sinai by Moses to Israel as to an (u) Infant Church under age, were intended peculiarly to that Church, and no other: and obliged that Church only till the Death of Jesus Christ, when the Old Testament Administration expired, and no further: as hath formerly been intimated. So that, (x) not only all Christian Churches, but even the Jewish Church since Christ, are free from that yoke of bondage, enjoying the Spiritual liberty of the New Testament. For, 1. The Ceremonial Laws were intended of God, and (y) imposed on Israel only till the time of Reformation: viz. the time of the New Testament. 2. The Ceremonial Laws consisted of many vanishing ing ſhadows, and Typical Ordinances: Partly, Typifying or Preſiguring, (z) The Perſon, office and benefits of Jeſus Chriſt our Redeemer, the Soul and Subſtance of thoſe ſhadows; Partly ſhadowing out certain (a) Moral Duties implyed and inſtructed by thoſe ceremonies. Therefore in the Nature of the thing, the Ceremonial Law was alwaies vaniſhing and perishing: and Chriſt the body being come, is actually abolished and abrogated, having fully attained its End and uſe. 3. The New Covenant adminiſtration obtaining its uſe and force in the Church, hath (b) antiquated the Old Teſtament diſpenſation, great part whereof conſiſted in the Ceremonial Laws. 4. To maintain and uſe the (c) Ceremonial Law now ſince the Coming of Chriſt the body of it, were to deny and diſclaim Chriſts Coming in the fleſh as already paſt, and to fall from Grace under the bondage of Law, that Chriſt ſhould profit them nothing, and become of none effect unto them.

III. Poſition. The Moral Law, or the ten Commandments given of God on Mount Sinai to Iſrael, In ſome ſenſe is abrogated now under the new Teſtament, And in ſome ſenſe is not abrogated but remains ſtill of force. The difficulty and diſputes are chiefly here, about the Moral Law. All may be Reduced eſpecially to three Opinions, viz. 1. Some hold, that the Moral Law, as given by Moſes, is abrogated, and doth not now oblige Chriſtians under the New Teſtament, as Moſaical. They that are for this Opinion, go two waies. 1) One ſort hold that the Moral Law given by Moſes is totally and abſolutely abrogated, as of no uſe at all (no not the very Matter of it) to Chriſtians and believers. And to this extremity the (d) Antinomians do at laſt come, to deny the Mandatory power of the Law, and all good works therein required: like the blaſphemous Manichees of old who rejected the Old Teſtament and the whole Law as given by another then the good God. 2) Another ſort, directly oppoſing and condemning the looſe Antinomian Tenets, yet maintain that the Moral Law as given by Moſes belongs not to us Chriſtians, but only ſo far as it is Conſentaneous to the Law of Nature, and is Confirmed by Chriſt our King. Not only ſome (e) Popiſh writers as Dominicus a Soto, Suarez, Medina, &c. but alſo divers learned and ſound Proteſtants are for this opinion. As (f) Zanchius, Muſculus, &c. 2. Some are of Opinion (as that (g) learned Rivet ſhows) That the Moral Law, [quatenus a Moſe data eſt, Chriſtianos obligare,] As given by Moſes doth oblige Chriſtians, in regard of the Preceptive Authority and Command which God then put upon it. And divers grounds are offered for confirming of this opinion recited there by him. Bellarmine (j) embraceth this Opinion, upon like grounds. Pareus (k) seems somewhat to favour this way. Mr. Anth. Burges (l) in his useful Lectures in vindication of the Moral Law, States this Question to this effect, Confirming it by divers Arguments. 3. Some take, as it were, a Middle way betwixt these two Opinions: holding that the Moral Law given on Mount Sinai in some sense may be said to be Abrogated, and in some sense to be still Obligatory, even to Christians under the New Testament. And they explain themselves by several Distinctions in stating the Question, Consenting in part to both these Opinions, but fully to neither. Rivet (m) declares himself to this effect; So (n) Pareus, (o) Perkins, (p) Calvin, Our (q) Confession of Faith, and many others.

Now for the clearing of this Position in this Diversity of Opinions, That in some sense the Moral Law is abrogated, in some sense it remains still obligatory; I shall chiefly do three things. viz. 1. Premise certain Distinctions for finding out the true state of the Question. 2. Shew in what Sense or respects the Moral Law is now abrogated. 3. Declare in what Sense it is still Obligatory under the New Testament.

1. For finding out the true State of the Question, it is to be Considered, That the Moral Law is not purely and meerly Declarative, or purely Preceptive, but both. I. The Moral Law is Partly Declarative: viz. Declaring and expresly signifying what the Law of Nature was, which at first was engraven on mans heart, but by the fall was miserably obliterated. The Moral Law promulged on Mount Sinai revived the Law of Nature, that it might be clearly seen and read of all men: but over and besides this, comprized divers other Additionals, as formerly hath been intimated. II. The Moral Law is Partly Constitutive and Preceptive; viz. by vertue of that Outward Precept in the Promulgation, inducing a New and further Obligation upon the Conscience, besides that which the Natural inscription of the Law imposed upon mens hearts. The Natural inscription of the Law in the heart did oblige; but this solemn and outward Publication of it did add a further Obligation. Idolatry, Blasphemy, Murder, &c. were hainous, as against the Law of Nature; but double hainous, as also against the Law published on Mount Sinai. The Moral Law as Preceptive, obligeth two waies; viz. 1. More Generally, ratione Materiæ, in regard of the Matter and Substance of it, which (as hath been evidenced) is the same with the Law of Nature: and therefore obligeth as generally and largely as the Law of Nature. 2. More Specially and peculiarly, ratione Ministerii, in regard of Moses his Administration, which hath been at large opened in Question III. Which Administration of his being peculiar to the Jews, did peculiarly oblige the Jews only.

Again, When it is said, The Moral Law, Quatenus, or ut, as given by Moses, as confirmed and explained by the Prophets, and as written in the Old Testament, doth oblige even us Christians; we are to know, That the word, Quatenus, ut, or As, may be taken (saith (e) Rivet) Reduplicatively, or Relatively. 1. Reduplicatively; As if it did bind, because it is of Moses. But in this sense, every thing of Moses should oblige; Ceremonials and Judicials, as well as Morals. For A Quatenus ad Omne valet Consequentia. But this is most false. 2. Relatively; As when that Law is said to oblige, which is of Moses. There's a great difference betwixt, Quia ex Mose: & Quæ ex Mose, which is of Moses: and Because it is of Moses.

(e) And. Rivet. in Explic. Decal. ad Ex. 20. 2. Q. An Lex Decalogi ad nos pertineat?

These things premised; In my judgement, The state of the Question is not Whether the Moral Law oblige us Christians, As, or because given by Moses (as Rivet (f) speaks) Reduplicatively? for then all Moses Laws Ceremonial, Judicial, &c. should bind also: But, Whether that Moral Law doth oblige us, which was given by Moses, Relatively? Again; The Question is not, Whether the Moral Law given by Moses doth bind us Christians, as it is purely Declarative of the Law of Nature? For, this is so clear that none can rationally deny it; The meer Declaration of the Law of Nature being rather Doctrine, then Precept: and Divine Doctrine always obligeth, being still the same. But the Question is, Whether the Moral Law given by Moses, binds us Christians now under the New Testament, as it is Constitutive and Preceptive? This seems to be the very point in Question: and the true state of the Controversie. For Resolution hereof, I further adde;

(f) And. Rivet. in Explicat. Decalog. ad Ex. 20. 2. Q. An Lex Decalogi ad nos pertineat?

2. The Moral Law given by Moses on Mount Sinai is abrogated now under the New Testament in this sense, and in these respects following: viz. 1. As it was part of that (g) dark and Servile Nurture under which God educated and trained up his Infant-Church of the Jews. The Church of the Jews from Moses till Christ was in her Infancy, Minority, or Under-age; during this time God dealt with the Church as with a Child, brought her up under the Law Moral and Ceremonial, as under Tutors and Governours, more darkly, imperfectly and servilely. The Law was promulged to them in a cloud and thick darkness, with a veil upon the face of Moses: as also with extraordinary terribleness, to Israel. This the darkness and dreadfulness of the Law; which filled them with slavish fear, servitude, and a spirit of bondage, (h) Mount Sinai, which is Hagar, gendereth unto bondage. And in this state they were trained up darkly and slavishly, till their full full age at the coming of Christ. Hence, The Ceremonial Law is called by Peter, (x) a yoke which neither they nor their fathers were able to bear: And by Paul, (y) A yoke of bondage. And forasmuch as all the Ceremonials were reducible to the second Commandment: so far the Moral Law was part of this yoke of bondage, besides other discoveries of fear, and bondage in the Moral Law it self and the promulgation of it. From this bondage Christ coming (z) Redeemed them, that they might receive the adoption of sons. 2. As it was a (a) Ward or Prison, keeping the Jews under, and shutting them up unto the Faith, which should afterwards be revealed. It confined them within bounds, that they should not wander away from the Doctrine of Faith which should more fully be revealed at the coming of Christ. How, hath been (b) formerly explained. How long; the Apostle intimates, Before the faith came (c). Herein the Law was as the wals of the Red Sea to Israel, shutting them in, that they could not march to the right hand or left, but straight forwards towards the Promised inheritance. 3. As it was with the Ceremonial Law, a Schoolmaster (d) to the Infant-Church of the Jews, bringing them (as hath already been explained) unto Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. But (saith Paul) after that faith is come, we are no longer under a Schoolmaster. So then this peculiar Schoolmaster's office of the Law to the Jews is ceased: whereby it Partly Discovered their (e) Transgressions to them more clearly; till Christ the Promised Seed should come, that should both discover Sin more fully, and heal sin discovered; Partly kept the Jews from sin discovered, (f) both from the Egyptian sins whence they came, and from the Canaanites Sins whither they were Going; Partly, Carryed them on in an expectance of Christ afterwards to be revealed for taking Sin away. As such a Schoolmaster it ceased to the Jews. 4. As the Moral Law was the Old Covenant, the Old Testament, or Part of the Old Testament-Administration meerly Mosaical, peculiar to those times, and appropriate to the Church of the Jews, tending to Christ only as Promised, and afterwards to be performed: Having, A Typical Mediatour, Moses; Some typical Promises, as of Canaan, &c. Some typical or Positive Precepts, intended but to continue till Christ, as that Positive Part of the second Commandment that required the Ceremonial worship, typical Priesthood, &c. under the Old Testament, and that Positive part of the fourth Commandment that limited Gods Sabbath to the seventh Day; A Typical Sanction by the blood of Slain beasts, &c. In such regards the Moral Law so far as it was part of that Old Covenant Administration, so far it is (g) antiquated and abolished by the New Covenant or New Testament brought in and established by Jesus Christ at his Death.

In this Sense, and in these respects, the Moral Law is not obligatory to us Christians now under the New Testament, but abrogated. This may further be confirmed by these Arguments, viz.

First, The Moral Law, As part of Gods Servile Nurture to his Church under age, As a Prison shutting up his Church to the Faith that should after

For, No Law can oblige any perſon, beyond the Law-givers intent of obligation. And (h) Chriſt in fulneſs of time redeemed both Jews and Chriſtian Gentiles from under the Law in this ſenſe, that they might receive the Adoption of ſons according to the New Teſtament. So that now the Laws of Moſes both Moral and Ceremonial ceaſe to be Tutors and Governours (i) to the Church, being of full age: (k) ceaſe to ſhut them up unto the faith that ſhould after be revealed, it being revealed already: ceaſe to be their (l) Schoolmaſter, becauſe Faith is come; and Chriſt the object of Faith is come: And ceaſe ſo far as (m) an Old Teſtament-Adminiſtration touching Chriſt promiſed, the New Teſtament being eſtabliſhed by Chriſt already actually performed, &c. So far as the Moral Law had theſe uſes and intentions: ſo far it is now abrogated both to Jews and Chriſtians; theſe uſes ceaſing, and theſe ends being fulfilled.

Secondly, Should the Moral Law promulged on Mount Sinai remain ſtill in full force every way, and not be abrogated in theſe reſpects forementioned, Many intolerable abſurdities would thereupon enſue, For, 1. Then, The very Letter of the Preface, [I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of bondage,] ſhould be literally true touching Chriſtians as well as Jews: but that cannot be: for Chriſtians literally and properly were never in Egypt, nor in bondage there; nor literally ever brought thence by God. Though myſtically their Natural ſtate in ſin was ſhadowed out by their Egyptian bondage: and their redemption from ſin and miſery figured by their redemption out of Egypt. And, though ſome ſay, Chriſtians being made one people with the Jews, may in them be ſaid to be in Egypt, and to be delivered thence as well as the Jews: yet this reacheth not to the Letter. 2. Then, The Poſitive part of the ſecond Commandment, touching Gods worſhip then by Ceremonial obſervances: and the Poſitive part of the fourth Commandment, touching the ſeventh day Sabbath, as ſtrongly obligeth us Chriſtians now, as the Jews then, which is utterly contrary (n) to the New Teſtament Doctrine and Practice. 3. Then, The Promiſe of Canaan in Commandment 5. ſhould literally belong to Chriſtians now, as well as heretofore to the Jews. But the Apoſtle intimates the contrary: For, alleadging this firſt Commandment with Promiſe, He doth not recite the Promiſe particularly as there expreſſed, (o) That thy days may be long in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee: Or as recited in Deuteronomie, That thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee in the Land which the LORD thy God giveth thee: But he only recites it in more general terms, (p) That it may be well with thee, and thou mayst live long on the Earth. Hereby intimating to us, That this Promise, in the former particularity, belonged only to the Jews, but in this generality, to us Christians also. 4. Then, The terrible promulgation of the Law on Sinai should belong to us Christians under the New Testament, as well as to the Jews under the Old Testament. But the Apostle tels the Christian Hebrews, (q) Ye are not come to Mount Sinai, &c. but to Mount Sion, &c. And this more fully reacheth the Christian Gentiles. 5. Then, Moses the (r) typical Mediatour betwixt God and the Jews, should also be a typical Mediatour betwixt God and all Christians whatsoever. 6. Then, The typical (s) Sanction of this Covenant by the blood of Sacrifices, belongs to us Christians now, as well as to the Jews of old, &c. But these absurdities cannot be granted: as being utterly repugnant both to the Nature of the New Testament, and to the Condition of Christians under it. Therefore in these forementioned respects the Moral Law must needs be abrogated to Christians now under the New Testament.

As for those Arguments which (t) Zanchy brings to prove, That the Moral Law, as given by Moses, is wholly abrogated to us Christians; they prove not the thing, forasmuch as they do not overthrow the use and force of the Law in reference to Christians particularly, but only in reference to Gentiles more generally, which is not the thing in Question. For, this is the Sum of his Arguments, viz. 1. The Moral Law was promulged only to the Jews, not to Gentiles. 2. Moses, by whom the Law was given, was sent only to the Israelites, not to the Gentiles, Deut. 4. 1. to 9. & 5. 1, &c. 3. Only the Israelites were chastized with heavy judgements for transgressing this Law: Gentiles being punished for sinning against the Law of Nature only. 4. The Promise added to the Law belonged only to Israel, not to the Gentiles. 5. The Gentiles are convinced of sin by the Law of Nature only: The Jews by the Law of Moses, Rom. c. 1. & 2. & 3. 6. The Jews only were by this Law bound to keep the seventh day for a Sabbath: not the Gentiles. These are all his Arguments produced. And they prove well, That the Moral Law given by Moses, was not obligatory to Gentiles out of the Church, that came not to the knowledge of that Law, but only to the Jews in the Church: whereas the true state of the Question is, Whether the Moral Law given by Moses obligeth us Christians within the Church of the New Testament? So that they reach not the very hinge of the Controversie.

3. The Moral Law given by Moses on Mount Sinai is not abrogated now under the New Testament, in this sense and in these respects following, viz. 1. It is not abrogated as it is purely Declarative of the Law of Nature. (u) Zanchy that contends for the utter abrogation of the Moral Law as given by Moses, yet grants it is still of force so far as it agrees with the Law of Nature. And it agrees fully with the Law of Nature for Sum and Substance, (x) as I have already proved. And thus far it binds not only all Christian Jews and Gentiles, but all Pagans that shall come to the knowledge of it. Thus being the Law of Nature revived, It clearly Discovers the Holy and Righteous Nature of God; It detects the sinfulness of Sin, and the Curse Due thereupon; It shows the Perfect path of Holiness and Righteousness, and consequently (y) that all the world is become guilty before God, because they come short of it, &c.

(y) Rom. 3. 9. to 20.

2. It is not abrogated, as it is Constitutive and Preceptive, In regard of the Matter and Substance of it. But in regard of the Mandatory or Commanding part thereof it still obligeth; not only by a Natural, but also by a Divine Obligation: not only as printed in mans heart at first by God as Creator, but as published on Mount Sinai, and imposed on Israel by God as Redeemer. And this latter strengthens the former obligation. It still, even under the New Testament, remains in force, as a Rule both for Direction and Probation of an Holy, righteous and sober life, and that by vertue of Gods Promulgation of it upon Mount Sinai.

3. Nor is it absolutely and utterly abrogated ratione Ministerii, in regard of the Administration of it then by Moses. I say, not absolutely and utterly abrogated: for, herein I would be warily and heedfully understood. I thus explain my meaning. In Moses Ministry or Administration of the Moral Law; (z) Something was peculiar to the Old Testament, and appropriate to the Jews precisely. As, Part of the Preface according to the very letter; which brought thee out of the Land of Egypt, out of the House of bondage: Part of the second Commandment, so far as Positive, requiring the Ceremonial worship under the Old Testament: Part of the fourth Commandment, so far as Positive, determining the Sabbath to the seventh Day, till the coming of Christ: The Promise annexed to the fifth Commandment, That thy days may be long in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee; which immediately and literally had reference to the promised land of Canaan, whither God was now conducting them: And divers other Circumstantials in giving of the Law, fore-mentioned. Now in regard of these things in the Administration of it, the Moral Law is utterly abrogated to us under the New Testament. To count the Law still Obligatory in these respects; were, to continue the Old Testament still; To disclaim the New Testament, and to deny the coming of Christ in the flesh. (a) Something in Moses Ministration of the Moral Law was Answerable to the New Testament, In mystical Signification, Or in Analogy or equitable proportion. As; Part of the Preface; Which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of servants; Egypts bondage mystically signifying and typifying Mans natural bondage under Sin, Satan, &c. and Deliverance out of Egypt by Moses and Aaron, Our Redemption from Sin, &c. by Jesus Christ, as our Prophet, Priest, and King. Long life in the land of Canaan, annexed by Promise to the fifth Commandment, Analogically intimating our long life

on Earth, and Typically signifying our endless life in Heaven the true Canaan. In the fourth Commandment, One day in seven, and particularly the seventh day is appointed for the Sabbath under the Old Testament, in memory of Gods finishing the Creation, and resting from all his works: Analogically, One day in seven, and particularly the first day is appointed for the Lords-Day Sabbath under the New Testament, in memory of Christs finishing the Redemption when he rose from the dead, and of his entring into his Rest. The Bondage, fear and terrour of the Law under which Israel was nurtured, shut up, and schooled, til the Faith should be revealed and Christ should come: may seem analogically to imply the use of the Law and its terrours even under the New Testament to prepare carnal men for Christ. In these and like particulars, though the Letter of Moses Ministration be annulled, yet the Mysterie and Analogy may have some equitable tye upon us now under the New Testament. (3) Something, finally, in Moses Ministry of the Moral Law is so generally Evangelical, that it extends both to the Old and New Testament; both of them being Evangelical, though different administrations. As; Part of the Preface; I am the LORD, thy God. The Promise and Threatning annexed to the second Commandment. And the Threatning added to the third Commandment. These were not in the Law of Nature, but are in Moses Administration of the Moral Law: and yet they equally concern the Jews before Christ, and all converted Gentiles since Christ. So that in some sense the Moral Law published on Mount Sinai obligeth still even under the New Testament, not only as Declarative of the Law of Nature; Nor only as Preceptive in the Matter and Substance of it, and that from authority and vertue of Gods Promulgation; But also in some respect and reference to Moses Administration of it.

That, In this sense, and in these respects the Moral Law given on Mount Sinai is obligatory and of force even now under the New Testament, may be further evinced by these Arguments. viz.

First, Because the Law of Nature is of perpetual force and Obligation to all mankind. It was concreated in and with Mans Nature, and by the fall (z) was not totally obliterated out of mans Nature: and therefore so long as Mans Nature continues, so long the obligation of the Law of Nature upon man will continue, whether among Jews, Christians or Pagans, under Old or New Testament. Consequently, the Moral Law, which for Sum and Substance is the same with the Law of Nature, so far as it is Declarative of the Law of Nature, remains obligatory now under the New Testament to all that come to the knowledge of it.

(z) Rom. 2, 14, 15.

Secondly, Because Moses and the Prophets at large Explain, Confirm, and urge the Moral Law given on Mount Sinai, and this for the use of the Church under the New Testament as well as under the Old. All the Books of the Old Testament, so far as they treate of matters Moral, are wholly taken up in explaining, and urging the Moral

Law. And this they did, not only with reference to the Jews then, but alſo to us Chriſtians now. This is evident, 1. More Generally, in that it is ſaid (a) Whatſoever things were written aforetime, (viz. in the whole Old Teſtament before Chriſts time,) were fore-written for our learning. And again, (b) All Scripture is inſpired of God, and is profitable for Doctrine, for Reproof, for Correction, for Inſtruction in righteouſneſs that the man of God may be perfect, throughly furniſhed unto all good works. Therefore all the writings of Moſes and the Prophets, and particularly their explanations and preſſings of the Moral Law, were for our inſtruction now under the New Teſtament, as well as for the Jews of old. And for compleating and throughfurniſhing of the Man of God, the Miniſters of the New Teſtament, to all good works: both how to perform them themſelves, and how to preach them to others. And what good works do Old or New Teſtament urge, which are not contained in the Moral Law? 2. More Particularly, this will appear in many inſtances. Take a few, for a taſte; Moſes (c) ſtories Iſraels many breaches of the Moral Law, by their inordinate and diſcontented Luſtings after evil things, viz. Idolatry, Fornication, Tempting God and Chriſt, Murmuring, &c. not only with reference to the Jews under the Old Teſtament, but alſo to the Chriſtians under the New Teſtament. Now all theſe things happened unto them for enſamples, and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come; ſaith Paul to the Corinthians. Again, Moſes (d) expounding the eighth Commandment, chargeth that none oppreſs or defraud the labourer of his hire, ſaying, (e) Thou ſhalt not muzzle the mouth of the Oxe that treadeth out the Corn. This was written not for Jews only, but for Chriſtians alſo. Hence Paul (f) proves the Honour of maintenance to be due to Miniſters of the New Teſtament, for their labouring in the Word and Doctrine. And elſewhere, from this very text of Moſes, he preſſeth the Duty of maintaining the Miniſters of the New Teſtament, (g) as written for our ſakes to this end, For it is written in the Law of Moſes, Thou ſhalt not muzzle the mouth of the Oxe that treadeth out the Corn. Doth God take care for oxen? Or ſaith he it altogether for our ſakes? for our ſakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth, ſhould plow in hope: and he that threſheth in hope, ſhould be partaker of his hope. If we have ſowen unto you ſpiritual things, is it a great thing if we ſhall reap your carnal things? The Prophet Jeremie (h) mentioning the Law and Covenant given on Mount Sinai, but broken by Iſrael, propheſieth that this Law ſhall be better kept in the days of the New Teſtament, when the Law ſhall be written by God, not in two Tables of ſtone, but in two Spiritual Tables, the mind and heart. Iſaiah and Micah (i) propheſying of the Converſion of the Gentiles after Chriſt, tell us that the Inſtrumental means whereby this ſhall be wrought, ſhall be the Law and Word of God going forth of Sion to that end. For out of Sion ſhall go forth the Law, and the Word of the LORD from Jeruſalem: to teach them his ways, that they may may walk in his paths. The Law then was intended for a Rule of life, not only to the Jews that Received it first from Sinai, but to the Gentiles also that should receive it from Sion. This, both Moses and the Prophets intimate to us, in their explaining and urging the Law, even in order to us under the New Testament. Therefore either we must cry down all Moses and the Prophets explications of, and exhortations to the Moral Law, and so lay waste the Old Testament, which were prodigious madness: or we must hence confess the Moral Law remains obligatory to us under the New Testament.

Thirdly, Because Our blessed Saviour Jesus Christ did not abrogate the Moral Law given on Mount Sinai, but fulfill it; and Commanded his Disciples to walk according to it. This is plain by his own words, (k) Think not that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil, &c. In this Chapter our Saviours intent is, rightly to expound the Commandments of the Moral Law, which the Pharisees and Scribes had corrupted by their false glosses, and to press the observance of them upon all his disciples according to their true sense and meaning, which he doth by many prevalent Arguments. And therefore they that have an Opinion, That in this Chapter Christ did abrogate the Moral Law, as given of God, and therefore as given of himself who is God, by Moses; and did thereupon Confirm them again by his own Authority as Mediatour, so adding a new Sanction to them; As if he had said, The Moral Law shall no longer oblige you as given of God by Moses on Mount Sinai, but as now given by me, &c. they, I say, that have such opinion, quite mistake Christs Scope and Intention here, and go upon a false supposition. For, Christ here doth not effect A New Law, Nor add a New Sanction to the Old Law, as if the Old Sanction by Gods authority were annulled, but only interpret the Old Law, and vindicate it from corrupt glosses and misinterpretations.

(k) Mat. 5. 17, 18, 19, &c.

Fourthly, Because the Apostles of Christ earnestly press the observance of the Law upon Christians under the New Testament: and this oft-times by Arguments drawn from the Law it self, and from the Old Testament. Paul urging brotherly Love, tels the Romans, that (l) Love is the fulfilling of the Law: and he proves it, by instancing in divers Commandments of the Moral Law, which are briefly comprehended in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self. And charging children to (m) Honour their father and mother: he presseth it with an Argument drawn from the Promise annexed to the fifth Commandment in the Moral Law. So that both the fifth Commandment, and the Promise annexed thereto, belong to Christians as well as Jews. James also urgeth the Law upon Christians, not only from the Matter of it, but especially from the Author of it, God; and from the Authority of the Scripture of Moses in the Old Testament; (n) If ye fulfill the royal Law, according to the Scripture, thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self, ye do well. —— For whosoever shall keep the whole Law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. For he that said,

(m) Eph. 6. 1, 2, 3.

(n) Iam. 2. 8, 10, 11, 12.

Do not commit Adultery, ſaid alſo, Do not kill. Were the Commandments of the Moral Law abrogated to us under the New Teſtament, the Apoſtles Arguments from the Old Teſtament for performance of them were invalid. But the Apoſtles thus arguing, do clearly evidence the obligatory force, both of the Old Teſtament, and of the Moral Law therein recorded, upon us Chriſtians.

Fifthly, Becauſe under the New Teſtament the Moral Law hath an analogical uſe and office of keeping men in bondage, till they come to Chriſt: ſo preparing them for Chriſt. Thus, when Peter charged (o) murder upon his hearers, they were pricked in their hearts, and cryed, Men and brethren, what ſhall we do? Afterwards they were Converted, and believed in Chriſt. Thus, Paul (p) was (in his own opinion) alive once without the Law: but when the Law came, ſin revived, and he dyed. Sin was more fully diſcovered to be alive, and himſelf to be dead and miſerable. Hereby he was prepared for Chriſt. As therefore the Moral Law had its uſe upon the Jews to keep them in bondage, and as a Schoolmaſter to ſcourge them with fear and terrour to Chriſt: So it hath a like proportionable uſe now under the New Teſtament, to humble and terrifie the Sinner in himſelf, that he may go out of himſelf to Chriſt. Firſt (q) the Spirit of bondage: then the Spirit of Adoption. And therefore it is of force ſtill.

(o) Act. 2. 36, 37, &c.

(p) Rom. 7. 9, &c.

(q) Rom. 8. 15.

Sixthly, The Matter and Duty of the Moral Law for Subſtance is of a Perpetual Nature and Neceſſity under the New Teſtament as well as Old: therefore the Law it ſelf is perpetual, and ſtill obligatory. Is it not of perpetual neceſſity, To have the true God, and no other; To worſhip this true God according to his own holy will; To uſe his Name reverently; To Sanctifie his Sabbath; To honour Father and Mother? &c. Is it not of perpetual neceſſity to avoid Idolatry, Blaſphemy, Murder, Adultery, Theft, &c. under the New Teſtament as well as under the Old? Can we with any colour or probability imagine that God made theſe ſins unlawful by his Moral Law only till Chriſt ſhould come: and then they ſhould become unlawful by another Law? How incongruous is a temporary Law for a perpetual Duty? Sacrifices and ceremonial worſhip were temporary Duties, therefore a temporary Law; the Ceremonial Law was ſufficient for them: But the perpetual duty of the Moral Law, argues the perpetuity of the Law.

Seventhly, Becauſe Thoſe things in the Moral Law given on Mount Sinai, which ſeem moſt peculiarly appropriate to the Jews, do in ſome ſenſe concern us Chriſtians: As the Preface, fourth Commandment, and fifth Commandment. 1. The Preface hath three Arguments in it moving to the Obſervance of the whole Law: The Law-giver is The LORD, Thy God, and Iſraels Redeemer from Egypt. The two firſt equally concern Jews and Chriſtians: The third literally concerned Iſrael, myſtically and typically alſo concerned us. And ſome think, that foraſmuch as believing Gentiles are added to, and accounted Abraham's Seed: In that notion they may be ſaid in a ſort literally to be brought brought out of Egypt. 2. The fourth Commandment, In the substance of it, Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy, equally concerns both Jews and Gentiles converted to the Faith. In the Explanation and accommodation following, It literally concerned the Jews only to observe the 7th day for their Sabbath; but Analogically concerns even us Christians, intimating we are to keep one day in seven for the Sabbath under the New Testament; But Christs Resurrection on the first Day particularly determined the time. 3. As for the Promise annexed to the fifth Commandment, Though it literally intended Canaan promised to Israel: yet typically it intended Heaven, and analogically any other part of the Earth, where Gods people, heirs of the world, should dwell, as the (r) Repetition of the Law and the Apostles (s) allegation of the Promise do in part intimate; And thus concerns us Christians now as well as Jews of old.

(r) Deut. 5. 16.
(s) Eph. 6. 1, 2, 3.

Eighthly and lastly, Because, If the Moral Law given by Moses at Mount Sinai be now abrogated, that comes to pass, either because God in his promulging of it did intend it to be of force only for some determinate time, and then revoked it; Or because Christ hath expresly antiquated and abolished it. What other way can be excogitated? But neither of these can be granted, 1. Not the First; For where hath God limited the time of the Moral Law? Or when did he revoke and repael the same? And how absurd were it to impute this to God; I will have you to observe and keep the Natural precepts which I have commanded you in my Law, till such a time, till Christ shall come: but after that, I will not have you to keep them because they are my precepts, but because Nature so requires! 2. Nor the second; For Christ expresly testifies touching the Moral Law, (t) that he came not to destroy it, but to fulfil it. And therefore vindicating it from corrupt and false interpretations, he presseth the observation of it by many cogent and prevalent Arguments.

(t) Matth. 5. 17, &c.

And thus I have cleared this intricate point, In what sense or respects The Moral Law given by God on Mount Sinai is now abrogated, or remains still obligatory under the New Testament.

IV. Position. The Moral Law given of God on Mount Sinai, so far as not abrogated, is of Manifold excellent and necessary use now under the New Testament. And this, 1. More Generally: 2. More specially and peculiarly.

1. The more General and Common use of The Moral Law to all Sorts and degrees of persons that shall come to the knowledge of it, now under the New Testament, may be expressed Negatively and Affirmatively.

Negatively, The Moral Law given on Mount Sinai is not now under the New Testament of use to any person whatsoever, as a Covenant of works tendering Justification, life or Happiness by mans own working or Doing. For, 1. It was not given on Mount Sinai to the Jews themselves under the Old Testament as a Covenant of Works, but as a Covenant of Faith: Much less can it be a Covenant of Works to Christians or Gentiles under the New Testament, although in that the matter of the Covenant of works, yet it had the Form of the Covenant of Faith. 2. Since mans fall in the first Adam; No man can have any (u) benefit by a Covenant of works, as such: because through Sin, all are (x) utterly unable perfectly to keep it. Hence the Law of works cannot give life to any, or justifie any. 3. If should any man be justified since the fall by the Covenant of Works, or by the Moral Law as a Covenant of Works: Then the Covenant of Faith in Christ, and justification by Faith, and Christ as a Mediator and as Righteousness for Sinners, should be all in vain.

to

(u) Gal. 3. 21, 22.
(x) Rom. 8. 3.

Affirmatively: The Moral Law given on Mount Sinai is of General and Common use to all that shall come to the Knowledge of it, whether they be Carnal or Spiritual, Unregenerate or Regenerate, these seven ways, viz.

(1) To represent immediately to the open view of all, its own excellent and exact Perfections. How (y) Holy, Just, and Good it is. How Wise, Pure, Spiritual, Heart-searching, Extensive, and Comprehensive it is: Requiring all sorts, degrees and Circumstances of Duty, towards God and Man: Prohibiting all sorts, degrees Circumstances and aggravations of sin against God, man, or ones own self. As David said, (z) I have seen an end of all Perfection: but thy Law is exceeding broad: As the Sun by his own light immediately represents the excellency and perfection of his own beauty and glory to all the world.

(y) Rom. 7. 12, 14. Psal. 19. 7, &c.
(z) Psal. 119. 96.

(2) To evince That God is, and what manner of God he is that was the Giver of this Law. This Law being the exactest and Perfectest of all Laws, imports the supream exactness and Perfection of the Law-giver, above men or Angels. Consequently, 1. That God is, who gave this Law: it being beyond meer created ability. 2. That this God is Most Wise, Most Holy, Most Righteous, Most Perfect, Most Powerful, Most Excellent, Most Glorious, &c. who gave this Law, having imprinted the lively image of these his Properties upon this Law. Laws discover the Natures of Law-givers. No Law like this Law: no Law-giver like this Law-giver.

(3) To Evidence That the (a) Obligation of Duty imposed upon man by the Moral Law given on Mount Sinai, is exceeding great, and utterly transcending his own utmost ability. For, this Moral Law contained in it, the Matter and Substance of the Law of Nature, the Covenant of works, requiring (b) perfect and perpetual personal obedience of every one. Such obedience, before the fall, man was able to perform: but since the fall, is utterly disabled. The Moral Law therefore being given since the fall, discovers both the greatness of mans Duty, and the impossibility of his performance: And Consequently the (c) impossibility of life and justification by his own Legal works.

(a) Jam. 2. 8. 10, 11. Rom. 7. 15, 16.
(b) Gal. 3. 10.
(c) Rom. 8. 3. Gal. 3. 21, 22.

(4) To Discover clearly to all the sinfulness of their Sin, and greatness of their misery thereupon. This flows from the former. For, the

Law

Law requiring such perfection of Duty, doth Consequently detect the Sinners great imperfection, Sin, and misery, because he cannot reach up unto that Duty exactly. Failing ([d]) in the least point, he breaks the whole golden chain of the Law: and involves himself under Gods wrath and curse. ([e]) Now we know that whatsoever things the Law saith, it saith to them that are under the Law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. Therefore by the deeds of the Law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the Law is the Knowledge of sin. Again; ([f]) The Law entred that sin might abound. The Law makes sin to abound, Partly, by detecting that abundance of sin that is in mankind, which before the Law discover it, lies hid, and is not thought or known to be. ([g]) I had not known sin (saith Paul) but by the Law: for I had not known lust, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not Covet. To this effect it is said elswhere, ([h]) Wherefore then serveth the Law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come, to whom the Promise was made. Why was the Law added because of transgressions? both to discover them, and to suppress them. 2. Partly, By irritating, exasperating and provoking sin through restraint; as the dam or stop put to a flood makes the waters swell more vehemently, or as obstructions in the body make the distempered humours rage more violently. The Law detects sin Directly: but irritates Sin detected accidentally, and occasionally. ([i]) But sin taking occasion by the Commandment, wrought in me all manner of Concupiscence, for without the Law sin was dead. The Law having thus made sin to abound, thereupon it makes mans misery to abound in his own apprehension: for through sin he perceives himself to be under the wrath of God, curse of the Law, and therefore in himself Spiritually dead and undone. ([k]) —The Law worketh wrath: for where no Law is, there is no transgression. ([l]) — Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the Law to do them. Hereupon Paul saith, ([m]) I was alive without the Law once; but when the Commandment came sin revived, and I dyed, &c. That is, I thought my self to be alive, and in good state: but the Law made me see I was an undone dead soul by reason of sin, &c. The Law is of use to detect sin and misery both to the Unregenerate, and Regenerate: But differently. To the Unregenerate, that they may be convinced of the Reign and curse of sin upon them, whilst they are in the first Adam: To the Regenerate, that they may be the more apprehensive of the Residence and rebellion of the remains of sin in them, and their Spiritual troubles thereupon, though they are in Christ the last Adam: To the unregenerate, in order to their first humiliation and Conversion: To the Regenerate, in order to their further Humiliation and Sanctification, &c.

(3) To compel and force men, upon the former Discovery of sin and misery, to make out of themselves unto Christ for Righteousness and happiness. This flows from the former; The Law discovers man's sin and and miſery: and thereupon brings him to deſpair in himſelf, and to ſeek out a Remedy in Chriſt the Mediator. 1. The Law diſcovers ſin directly: but drives unto Chriſt indirectly, and conſequentially: foraſmuch as man can find no life or foundation of hope in himſelf or in any thing ſhort of Jeſus Chriſt. (n) Is the Law then againſt the Promiſes of God? God forbid. For if there had been a Law given that could have given life, verily righteouſneſs ſhould have been by the Law. But the Scripture (eſpecially the Moral Law) hath concluded all under Sin, that the Promiſe by Faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe. That paſſage of Paul is Obſervable to this purpoſe; (o) Chriſt is the end of the Law for righteouſneſs to every one that believeth. How is Chriſt the end of the Law? 1. Chriſt is the End, that is, The Scope and intent of giving the Moral Law. For the Moral Law requires a perfect obedience, (which it knows is now impoſſible,) Promiſing life thereupon, (p) The man that doth them ſhall live in them; but threatning (q) the Curſe upon the leaſt failing. Hereupon the Sinner muſt be forced to fly to Chriſt in whom alone perfect obedience is to be had, or he muſt eternally periſh. 2. Chriſt is the end of the Law, that is, The Perfective, not the Deſtructive end of the Moral Law. He is the Complement and perfection of it, foraſmuch as he alone compleatly hath fulfilled it. So that (as (r) Auguſtine hath it) Chriſt is finis Perficiens, non interficiens, the compleating, not the corrupting end of the Law, and this for righteouſneſs to every believer. That is, that every believer, Jew or Gentile, embracing Chriſt by Faith, may have Chriſts perfect obedience and fulfilling of the Law, for his righteouſneſs to juſtification, as fully as if himſelf had perfectly kept the whole Law in his own perſon. Thus the aim and intent of the Law is to lead men on to Chriſt, and this was a primary end of giving the Moral Law on Mount Sinai. And the Law doth not only force Carnal men (that are within Gods election) out of themſelves unto Chriſt at firſt: but alſo doth drive believers cloſer and neerer to Chriſt day by day, upon renewed diſcoveries of their Sin and Miſery by the Law. This Paul (s) acknowledgeth in himſelf even in his regenerate Condition, that the Law did ſo diſcover his ſin and Miſery to him, that it made him have freſh recourſe to Jeſus Chriſt, for relief and comfort. O wretched man that I am, who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death! I thank God through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

And this is the more General or Common use of the Moral Law.

2. The More special and Peculiar use of the Moral Law, is, 1. To Carnal and unregenerate persons; 2. To Spiritual and Regenerate Persons; peculiarly.

1. Unto Carnal and Unregenerate persons, remaining yet in their Natural lapsed condition in the First Adam; The Moral Law is of use,

(1) To Convince them clearly of the sinfulness of their present Natural Condition and Conversation. The Moral Law doth this, Partly, As Declarative of the Law of Nature: Partly as Preceptive. The Apostle speaks notably to this effect, saying: ([d]) The Scripture (especially the Moral Law) hath concluded all under sin: viz. Declareth and convinceth all men by Nature since the fall to be under sin: under the full reign and dominion of it, &c. And: ([e]) The Law entred that sin might abound. And: ([f]) by the Law is the knowledge of sin. And having recited the Corruptions and sinfulness of all men by Nature, from divers Scriptures of the Old Testament explaining the Moral Law, he adds: ([g]) Now we know that what soever things the Law saith, it saith to them that are under the Law, (that is, to all Carnal men,) that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. The Moral Law convinceth the unregenerate of his present sinful State, of sins absolute and compleat dominion over him, and of Sins extream ſinfulneſs in him peculiarly, ſo as in no regenerate perſon. And therefore in this ſenſe it ſo Convinceth the unregenerate of ſin; as it doth not, nor can convince the regenerate, who are by Chriſt delivered from the State and Dominion of Sin.

(2) To terrifie, curſe and condemn them for their Sinfulneſs, thus convincingly diſcovered to them: forasmuch as they have not accepted Chriſt by Faith as a Remedy againſt ſin, and the Laws terrour, Curſe and Condemnation for Sin. For, every Carnal man, whilſt he remains in his natural lapſed ſtate in the firſt Adam, remains alſo under the obligation, curſe and penalty of the Firſt Covenant, the Covenant of works, which he brake in Adam: becauſe he hath not accepted Gods Remedy againſt Sin and the Curſe, Chriſt according to the Covenant of Faith. (h) For as many as are of the works of the Law are under the Curſe: for it is written, Curſed is every one that continueth not in all things that are written in the Book of the Law to do them. And who are of the works of the Law? Not only they who profeſſedly ſeek to be juſtified in whole or in part before God by the works of the Law: But they alſo that content themſelves in their lapſed natural Condition in the firſt Adam under the broken Covenant of works, having never fled for Refuge to Chriſt the laſt Adam under the Covenant of Faith. And this is the very Condition of every Unregenerate man. To like effect the Apoſtle ſaith elſewhere, (i) The Law is not made for a righteous man: but for the Lawleſs and diſobedient, for the ungodly and for ſinners, for unholy and prophane, &c. That is, The Law in ſome ſort was given for an unrighteous, unregenerate man, as it was not given for a righteous and regenerate man. How is that? Thus, 1. Unregenerate mens ſins (k) were the occaſion of giving the Law on Mount Sinai. 2. The Law is put, laid or Impoſed on the Unregenerate as a burden and grievance. He could wiſh there were no Law to Croſs his ſins, and corruptions, &c. The Law in its Reſtraining, Terrifying, Maledictory, and Damnatory force is made for the unregenerate. Thus, and in theſe reſpects, The Moral Law was not made for the righteous and regenerate. Thus alſo that paſſage may be underſtood; (l) The ſtrength of ſin is the Law. That is, by vertue of the Law forbidding ſin under pain of Death and the Curſe, Death, Curſe, and Condemnation come upon the unregenerate: But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. That is, Us regenerate in Chriſt. So then the Law is the ſtrength of ſin to the unregenerate out of Chriſt, not to the Regenerate in Chriſt.

(3) To drive them utterly out of themſelves unto Chriſt for righteouſneſs and happineſs. This is a Conſequent uſe of the Moral Law from both the former. For Carnal man being clearly convinced of his own extream ſinfulneſs, And thereupon Terrified, Curſed and Condemned by the Law; muſt needs be taken off his own bottom, and despair in himself in regard of justification or Salvation as in, or from himself; and Consequently fly out of himself for Justification and life in Jesus Christ alone. This use the Moral Law as well as the Ceremonial had to the Jews, Considered according to the Old Testament Dispensation, (m) The Law was their Schoolmaster to bring them to Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a Schoolmaster. That is, The Jew was no longer under the Moral and Ceremonial Law, as their Schoolmaster leading to Christ: Christ being come, and faith clearly come with Christ. Notwithstanding in some sort, and in some proportion, the Moral Law may be still said to be a Carnal man's Schoolmaster unto Christ: viz. As the Moral and Ceremonial Law, was a Schoolmaster to that Carnal people the Jews, leading them to Christ that should afterwards be actually revealed for them and their justification by faith: So the Moral Law analogically is a Schoolmaster to Carnal men, driving them out of themselves to Christ for life and righteousness. For, (n) The Scripture (this chiefly intends The Moral Law) hath concluded all under Sin, That the Promise by Faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe. Thus (o) the Law is not against the Promise, but for the promise, and in order to it. And this universal expression reacheth Gentiles, as well as Jews: And therefore the Law's concluding all under sin, makes way for the application of the Promise in Christ by faith to all that shall believe. This use of the Moral Law to carnal persons, is confirmed by much experience of the Church in all ages, even to this day. Gods ordinary method in Conversion being, First, to Convince, Terrifie, Curse, Condemn and Humble the Sinner, that he may have no Confidence in the flesh, which is especially done by the Moral Law, or by some Exposition or Confirmation thereof: And then to draw and allure them to Christ by the Promises. First to (p) wound: then to heal them. First to make them feel they are in prison: then to set them at liberty. First to give them the (q) Spirit of bondage to fear: then the Spirit of Adoption to cry Abba Father. And this is the sense of godly experienced (r) writers unanimously.

(4) To leave them utterly inexcusable, both before God and their own Consciences, if they accept not the only Remedy against sin discovered, against Death, Curse and Condemnation denounced, viz. Jesus Christ, by Faith. For if the (s) works of the Creation, and the (t) Law of Nature, shall be sufficient to leave the Pagans without excuse (who have not the Moral Law written) in the day of judgement: How much more shall the Moral Law written leave all

—(5) To Restrain (u) from Outward acts of sin and wickedness, and in a sort to constrain to outward acts of obedience towards God and man, within the Church, Even for the benefit of Humane society therein. Calvin thinks the Apostle properly toucheth at this, saying (x) the Law is not given for a righteous man, &c. Unless the Law of Nature had some such work upon (y) Pagans out of the Church, they could not live together in Civil Society without devouring and being devoured one of another: (z) And unless the Moral Law had some such work of Restraint and Constraint upon professed believers and Christians, though carnal and unregenerate men, in the Church; there were no living for Gods sincere and faithful Servants among them without ruine and destruction. Thus the Moral Law is of great avail (as Calvin also notes) unto Humane Society even amongst professed Christians.

Instit.* 2, 7. §. 10.

2. Unto Spiritual and Regenerate persons, implanted into Jesus Christ the last Adam, the Moral Law is also of singular and Special use. I. Not, 1. To justifie or condemn them, as a Covenant of Works. For, it was not given on Mount Sinai as a Covenant of works, but as a Covenant of Faith. And they being justified by Faith in Christ, (a) there's no condemnation to them. 2. Nor, to irritate, provoke and occasionally to increase sin in them, by being wholly contrary to them. For the Moral Law is not at all contrary to the Regenerate, as Regenerate: Being written in their hearts by the Spirit of Christ. Therefore the Law of God and their Regenerate principles, do joyntly contend against Corruption: not irritating it, but ruining it. 3. Nor, To keep them in a servile state of bondage, as a Tutor, Governor, Schoolmaster, Prison, or Old-Testament-Administration. For thus far the rule of the Moral Law is ceased at Christs death: The Church and all Regenerate persons being under the New Testament Dispensation, and set at liberty from all such legal bondage and servitude by Christ. 4. Nor, To exact perfect obedience of them rigorously to the uttermost. For the Lord in Christ (b) accepts regenerate persons upright inchoate obedience, though incompleat, and attended with many infirmities: Covering all their frailties and imperfections with Christs perfect righteousness. II. But, The Moral Law remains still of peculiar use unto the regenerate in divers regards, Besides wherein it is useful to them in common with others. viz.

(b) 1 Pet. 2, 4, 5.

(1) To inform them more and more fully of the most holy and Righteous Nature of their God: and what Holiness and Righteousness he expects

expects in and from them, in Conformity to himself. The Moral Law discovers to all sorts the Holy and just Nature of God, that they may know it: but the Regenerate more intentively looking into, and exercising themselves in, this Law continually, do thereby dayly grow up into further acquaintance with the Lord and his ways beyond all other People, As did David, (q) Oh how love I thy Law! It is my meditation all the day. Thou through thy Commandments hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are ever with me. I have more understanding then all my teachers; for thy Testimonies are my Meditation. I understand more then the ancients: because I keep thy precepts. And the more they know what the Nature of God is: the more they know what their Nature and ways should be; How holy, and righteous. Because the LORD hath said; (r) Be ye holy: for I am Holy. As children they are more and more to aspire unto full Conformity to their Heavenly Father, in all Holiness, Righteousness, Wisdom, &c. both of Person and Conversation: according to his perfect Law.

(2) To perfect their discovery of Sin daily: That they may more fully prize Jesus Christ their Saviour from Sin, and be more perfectly rooted and built up in him. (s) By the Law is the Knowledge of Sin, to all sorts; but differently. To the unregenerate the Law makes known the Compleat reign of sin over them, and the Curse of sin upon them, that they may be driven out of the first Adam to Christ, the last Adam by Conversion: To the Regenerate the Law makes known the Rebellion of the Reliques of sin in them, with their daily frailties and faylings, that they may more closely be endeared unto Christ by progress in Sanctification and Communion with him. Thus Paul (t) having laid down his own experiments in reference to the Regenerate and unregenerate part within himself, and particularly that he found another Law in his members rebelling against the Law of his mind; he laments his Condition, O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from this body of Death! whereupon he flies to Christ, clasping faster hold of him; I thank God through Jesus Christ my Lord. And a little after; (u) There is therefore now no Condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus; who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the Law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the Law of Sin and Death.

(3) To shew unto them How much they are obliged to Jesus Christ their Mediatour and Surety for his Obeying the Command, and Enduring the curse of the Law, fully for their sakes. The Duty of the Law is so exact, that since the Fall no ordinary meer Seed of Adam can perform it: And the Curse due for not keeping and performing of the Law is so heavy, that no meer man can endure it. Jesus Christ therefore, for the happiness of his Elect, takes upon him to Do all the Duty, and undergo all the Curse of the Law in his own Person being God-man: that his (x) Obedience might, by imputation, be their Obedience, and their righteousness, and their Redemption from the Curse.

This

This Active and Paſſive obedience of Chriſt hath herein done that for his Elect, which neither they could do for themſelves, nor any meer Creature in the whole world could do for them: even compleatly fulfilled this perfect Law. By this Law therefore Regenerate perſons may eaſily compute what Chriſt hath Done, and endured for them: And how infinitely they thereupon ſtand indebted unto Chriſt; as Paul, upon ſuch Conſideration of the Law, (y) acknowledged in his own Perſon.

(4) To incite and quicken them as a ſpur to all thankful Obedience towards God for Ieſus Chriſt. Every bleſſing cals for thankfulneſs from us; becauſe wholly of free grace and beyond all deſert: Great bleſſings challenge great thankfulneſs. What gratitude then in heart, word and deed, is due to God, for our Redemption from the curſe of the Law by the Death of Chriſt that Bleſſing of bleſſings? The Apoſtle prayd Earneſtly for his Coloſsians; (z) that they might be ſtrengthened with all might, &c. Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light: who hath delivered us from the power of darkneſs, and hath tranſlated us into the Kingdom of his dear Son; In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveneſs of Sins. Bleſſed Zacharias praiſing the Lord for Chriſt and his Redemption, ſhows that this was Gods intention therein, (a) That we being delivered out of the hands of our Enemies might ſerve him without fear, in holineſs and righteouſneſs before him all the days of our life. That, as Jeſus Chriſt was really obedient to the Law, even to death for us: ſo we might be really thankful in all holy and righteous obedience according to the Law throughout our whole lives for him. Hath Chriſt kept the Moral Law and endured the Curſe with ſuch compleat Obedience for our ſakes: and ſhall not we thankfully endeavour to perform inchoate Obedience to the ſame Law in, and for Chriſt? ſhall Chriſt be obedient to the Law actively and paſſively for us in all legal exactneſs: and ſhall not we be actively obedient to the Law in thankfulneſs to him in all Evangelical uprightneſs?

(5) To Direct their Hearts into the fervent and ſincere Love of God and Man more and more with delight. The true Love of God and man is a myſterie, hard to be found out and practiſed aright. The Lord alone can lead us into it, and make us increaſe in it. Hence the Apoſtle prays; (b) The Lord direct your hearts into the love of God. And; (c) The Lord make you to increaſe and abound in love one towards another, and towards all men, even as we do towards you. Now the Lord directs us into, and increaſeth us in Love to God and man, by his Spirit, which is a Spirit of Love, breeding and cheriſhing this Grace in us: and by his Word and Law, peculiarly aiming and ſcoping at Love to God and man; (d) Now the end of the Commandment (viz. of the Law (Moral) is Love out of a pure heart, and of a good Conſcience and faith unfaigned. The more a godly man meditates and exerciſeth himſelf in this Law of God, the more he ſhall be inſtructed in this blessed Love with comfort and delight, which is the Sum of the Law, and End of the Law.

(6) To be a Constant Rule of life and obedience. True Obedience in Holiness and Righteousness springs from sincere Love (e) acted by Faith. This Holiness and Righteousness towards God and man, is Commanded and Directed in the Moral Law: as both our (f) Blessed Saviour, and his (g) Apostles often intimate. Hereupon, The Law of God is also so highly commended by David, who made it (h) A lamp to his feet, and a light to his paths, his Counsellour in his pilgrimage, &c. In all Acts of Holiness towards God, of righteousness towards man, and sobriety and temperance towards a mans self, what other Rule have we to steer our Course by, but the Holy Scriptures; and in the Holy Scriptures what Rule but the Moral Law, Propounded by Moses from God, and expounded by Moses and all the Prophets, by Christ and all his Apostles, both in the Books of the Old and New Testament? This is the perfect unerring Rule of walking with God, and Communion with him: All others are Lesbian, crooked, at best imperfect Rules unto us. This discovers our wanderings out of the way, brings us into the way again, and guides us in the way being brought into it.

(7) To evidence to the regenerate themselves the Truth of their Holiness, Righteousness and Sobriety, that Law written in their Minds and Hearts, answerable to this Moral Law of God written in Tables of stone. The Moral Law is a Touchstone to try the truth of Regenerate Persons spiritual estate and condition: As well as a Rule to direct their Practice and Conversation. God hath (i) Covenanted in his New Testament to put his Law into his peoples minds, and write it in their hearts. The New Testament then brings a law into the Heart within, answerable to the Law in the Scripture without: As Indenture answers to Indenture, tally to tally, wax to the Seal, or One face in a glass to another. And this inward Law of Holiness and Righteousness is then true and sincere, when it answers in every part, though not in every degree, to the Outward Law. Then we are indeed (k) Gods workmanship, created in Christ unto good works, which God hath ordained that we should walk in them. Then we are inwardly, and not only outwardly, in a true New-Covenant-State. Then we have the witness of our Regeneration within our selves. Then we may Hear, Read and Meditate upon the Moral Law with Comfort and Delight, as did David, and delight to walk therein Continually: finding this (l) Law in our hearts, in the midst of our bowels.

And this is the more General and more Special use of the Moral Law now under the New Testament in the Church of God.

Thus much for opening those seven Questions touching the Law published on Mount Sinai to Israel. Now come we to the 8th and last thing propounded; viz. The Corollaries or Inferences resulting from the whole.

VIII. In-

VIII. Inferences flowing from this Aphoriſm thus explained, are divers, and of conſequence. As, Did God thus Give his Law to Iſrael on Mount Sinai? &c. Then,

I. God ſingularly manifeſted the Glory of his own Perfections, and highly Magnified the Goodneſs of his Diſpenſations to Iſrael, in Giving them his Law on Mount Sinai.

1. The glory of his own Perfections and excellencies God ſingularly manifeſted in giving the Law on Mount Sinai. Eſpecially the Glory of his, 1. Supream Majeſty and Soveraignty over all; 2. Wiſdom; 3. Holineſs; 4. Juſtice; As hath been already diſcovered in the Manner of Gods giving his Law, Q. III. and in the Inferences thereupon; 5. His Omnipotency; that could Create ſuch Thunder and Lightnings, ſuch Blackneſs and Darkneſs, and Tempeſt, ſuch a Cloud, and ſuch a devouring fire, Mount Sinai being all on a Smoke, and burning up with a fire to the heart of Heaven, that could ſend forth ſuch Sound of a Trumpet, that could utter ſuch a voice of words, ſo great a voice, as all Iſrael trembled and ſtood afar off, Moſes himſelf did exceedingly fear and quake, and the very dead Mountain did tremble and ſhake; 6. His Spiritualneſs; that the LORD is not like the idol-gods of the Heathens, wood and ſtone, gold and ſilver, the works of mens hands, droſſie Earthy bodies that may be Eaten up with worms or Conſumed in the fire: but he is a perfect Spirit, promulging a moſt Spiritual and heavenly Law for ſpiritual worſhip, reaching to the moſt inward heart, ſoul and ſpirit of man, to the thoughts, imaginations of the thoughts, and to the very firſt actings and ſtirrings of the Heart before Conſent; 7. His Eternity; that hath promulged ſuch a Law as for Matter and Subſtance is Eternal, obliging from the beginning to the end of the world, yea it ſhall have its full accompliſhment in Heaven, when Holineſs, Righteouſneſs and Love ſhall be compleat in the Saints in the higheſt degree. (m) The righteouſneſs of thy teſtimonies is everlaſting. (n) —— Concerning thy Teſtimonies, I have known of old, that thou haſt founded them for ever. (o) —— Thy Word is true from the begining: and every one of thy righteous judgements endureth for ever. Now an Eternal Law beyond all poſſibility of repeal doth notably evince an Eternal Law-giver.

2. The goodneſs of Gods diſpenſation to Iſrael, in giving his Law to them on Mount Sinai, as hath been explained, God exceedingly magnified. This is evident, by the Teſtimony of (p) Moſes, and the (q) Prophets in the Old Teſtament, declaring that Gods Law thus given them was not a vain, but a great Matter; their life and Happineſs did depend upon it, and God had not dealt ſo with any other Nation in the whole world, and by the Teſtimony of (r) Chriſt and his (ſ) Apoſtles in the New Teſtament, Highly commending the Law given, Truly expounding the ſenſe and ſcope of it, and greatly extolling the Jews Prerogative herein beyond the Priviledge of the Gentiles. More Particularly the Lord Magnified his great Goodneſs neſs to Iſrael, three ways; I. In Giving them his Moral Law. For, 1. Hereby, God made his excellent Nature, Properties, and Will, to be eminently known of them. 2. Hereby, God made Iſraels (t) ſinfulneſs and miſery clearly known unto themſelves. 3. Hereby, Iſrael was (u) reſtrained and kept from Sin. 4. Hereby, Iſrael was (x) ſhut up and Confined within the bounds of Faith, that they ſhould not expect righteouſneſs and life any other way, then only by faith in Chriſt, which ſhould at Chriſts coming be more fully revealed: The fulfilling of the Law being impoſſible, and the Curſe inevitable to themſelves. 5. Hereby, The Infant-Church of Iſrael was in part (y) Tutor'd and Govern'd during her Minority, in preparation for, and expectation of Chriſt promiſed. 6. Hereby, Iſrael had a perfect Rule of Life, for all Holineſs, Righteouſneſs and Temperance: And an exact Touch-ſtone for tryal of the Integrity both of their Inward Conſtitution, and Outward Converſation, in Church, in State; in Publique, in Private Capacity. 7. Hereby, Iſrael had a more Perfect Covenant with God in Chriſt, then all fore-going ages or Periods of the Church ever enjoyd: and a more Perfect Direction for expreſſing their thankfulneſs to God for his Covenant and all Covenant-bleſsings whatſoever. II. In Giving them his Ceremonial Law, Annexed to the Moral. For, 1. Hereby, Iſrael was of a Family-Church advanced to the Political Conſtitution of a National-Church. And is ſtiled, (z) The Church in the Wilderneſs. 2. Hereby, The Pure, Holy, Juſt, and Merciful Nature of the Lord their God is diſcovered: requiring ſuch ceremonial purifications, waſhings, cleanſings, Sacrifices, Satisfactions, &c. and promiſing ſuch pardons, acceptance, &c. 3. Hereby, Their ſinfulneſs and miſery were notably preached to them every year, yea every day in the Blood and Death of the Sacrifices and offerings for Sin. Theſe were as a (a) Continual arraignment of Iſrael at Gods bar, as extreamly guilty of Death and Damnation. 4. Hereby, Chriſt was evidently ſet forth unto Iſrael as the only Remedy againſt Sin and Death. Chriſt being the Subſtance of all the Sacrifices: The Center of all the Ceremonies: The Truth of all the Types. 5. Hereby, The Firſt Table of the Moral Law, The Table of Holineſs was notably expounded: And the whole publique Worſhip and Service of God fully deſcribed to Iſrael in all the Parts of it, that they might knowingly act what was pleaſing to God in matters of Religion. 6. Hereby, Iſrael's hands were ſo filled with imployment in the externals of his worſhip, full of outward beauty and Glory, that they were ſingularly preſerved from the ſeducing idolatries of the Nations whereunto they were by nature extreamly addicted. 7. Hereby, Finally as by a Partition-Wall, Gods people Iſrael were ſeparated and diſtinguiſhed from all other people in the world, As Gods peculiar Treaſure and Inheritance. III. In giving them his Judicial Law, as an Appendix to his Moral, God magnifies alſo his goodneſs unto Iſrael. For, 1. Hereby, The Commonwealth of Iſrael was divinely Conſtituted, even by God himſelf. Hence, by ſome called A Theocracy, or A The-Archy: becauſe God himſelf did immediately Conſtitute and Govern them. And his Political Conſtitution is moſt exquiſite and excellent. 2. Hereby, Their Common-wealth was moſt juſtly Governed: without folly, Oppreſsion or Tyranny, wherewith the Laws of other Common-wealths too much abound. 3. Hereby, The ſecond Table of the Moral Law, The Table of righteouſneſs, was excellently expounded to them. 4. Hereby, Impiety againſt God, and Iniquity againſt man was notably ſuppreſſed by juſt and equal Penalties. 5. Hereby, That Common-wealth and the Government thereof was ſupported; (b) till Shiloh came, to whom the gathering of the people ſhould be; till Chriſt came that ſhould be the King and Head of his Church both of Jews and Gentiles till the end of the world, in whoſe Spiritual Government that Political Government ſhould be ſwallowed up for ever.

(b) Gen. 49. 10.

II. The fall of Adam and of all mankind in him did miſerably deface and obliterate the Law of Nature. For, The Moral Law was promulged for declaring and reviving thereof more clearly and convincingly: this was one Cauſe of its promulgation. Sin makes havock of all excellencies and happy enjoyments: of the happineſs of Heaven to lapſed Angels; of the happineſs of Paradiſe to lapſed man, Sin caſt man out of Paradiſe, and Paradiſe out of man: Sin diſrob'd man of Gods Image, dimmed the light, and defaced the Law of Nature ſo extreamly in him, that very few and ſmall ſparks thereof remained. So much only remained as to leave man inexcuſable, and be ſufficient to damn him; though wholly inſufficient to ſave him. God therefore publiſhed his Moral Law, which for Sum and Subſtance is the ſame with the Law of Nature, that the expunged Law of Nature might be perfectly reſtored: that ſo man might more clearly See, whence he was fallen; whereunto he ſhould re-aſpire; and what legal perfection in man, or in his Surety, was neceſſary to his Juſtification and Salvation. The Fall had ſo expunged this Law of Nature: That till God deſcended on Mount Sinai to reveal his Moral Law, it was not perfectly to be found among all the ſons of men.

III. The Fathers and Church before Moſes had a much more imperfect Rule of Religion and Righteouſneſs, then the Fathers and Church had afterwards under Moſes. A Rule of Religion and Righteouſneſs they had before Moſes; Partly, The imperfect Reliques of the Law of Nature: Partly, Some few divine Revelations. And hereby they were Directed, 1. In ſome Morals, as, In Walking with God, Prayer to God, Faith, Fear, Love, and Obedience to God, &c. 2. In ſome Ceremonials, as erecting Altars, ſlaying and offering Sacrifices, &c. 3. Tea in ſome Judicials, as Puniſhing Whoredome with Death. (c) Bring her forth and let her be burnt, ſaid Judah of Thamar, though himſelf had committed inceſt with her being diſguiſed, &c. But yet thoſe Divine Revelations were very few and and ſparingly vouchſafed; and the Light or Law of Nature was extreamly imperfect and obſcure: whereas under Moſes God fully revived and declared the Subſtance and Matter of the Law of Nature, and gave Iſrael a Compleat and Perfect Rule of Religion and Righteouſneſs, not only by voyce, but alſo by writing, for the greater Certainty thereof both to that preſent and all future ages of the Church.

Herein we may note, 1. The wiſdom and order of Gods diſpenſations, beginning with more imperfect, and proceeding to the More Perfect Diſcoveries of his will touching Religion and Righteouſneſs: according to the proportion of his peoples capacities. 2. The growth and increaſe of his Churches Priviledges and happineſs from age to age. Before Moſes, there was little noiſe or notice of Religion in the world: But under Moſes it grew famous, eminent and flouriſhing. 3. The ſurpaſſing obligation of the Church and people of God under and after Moſes, more then ever before him after the fall, to all poſſible thankfulneſs unto the Lord for his enlarged Benefits in giving the Law unto them.

IV. As the Church of God is the chief of all Societies on Earth; So the Laws of this Society are the chief of all Laws. They were Gods own Laws on Mount Sinai: therefore the choyceſt of all Laws. The Moral, Ceremonial and Judicial Laws whilſt of force in the Jewiſh Church, ([d]) far excelled the Laws of all Nations and people from Moſes till Chriſt. The Moral Laws continuing of perpetual force in the Gentiliſh Churches alſo, as hath been explained, ſurpaſs the Laws of all Nations and Societies in the world. And this,

([e]) Exod. 20. 1, &c.

2. In their Manner of Diſpenſation and Promulgation, as hath been evidenced in eight particulars. Never was there ſuch a Solemnity of Law-giving from the beginning of the world to this day: nor ſhall be to the end.

3. In their Matter and Subſtance. No Laws ſo ([f]) Holy, Juſt, Good. None ſo ([g]) full and Comprehenſive: ſo ([h]) Spiritual and Heavenly: ſo wiſe and unerring: So cutting and Heart-peircing, &c. and accompliſhed with ſuch Properties and Perfections. How did David ([i]) Admire them, Affect them, Extol them!

4. In their End and Uſe, as hath been already declared. No laws in the world ſo uſeful, and of ſuch high intentions.

As therefore the Jewiſh Church had great and manifold cauſe to bleſs God for his Moral, Ceremonial and Judicial Laws, from Moſes till Chriſt: So the Churches of the Gentiles have like Cauſe of magnifyng God for his Moral Laws to the end of the world.

V. Gods Church and Covenant-people must be a Composed, Regular, Orderly people, guided and governed by the exactest Laws. To this purpose God gave his Law on Mount Sinai to Israel; Not only that they might Hear it, Know it, Profess it, Talk of it, &c. but specially that they might be wholly guided and ordered by it, in heart and life, in thoughts, words and works, both towards God and towards man. And the Moral Law was intended for this purpose to the Israel of God among the Gentiles also. Christians under the New Testament must not live as they list, in Carnality, Looseness, Licentiousness, &c. but holily, righteously, soberly, conscientiously, unblameably, &c. according to this everlasting Law of God.

Be exhorted therefore all ye that sincerely fear, love, and believe in the Lord, to walk in the Law of the Lord blameless, to order your thoughts, words and actions sincerely according to this unerring Rule, to persevere and continue herein with great delight at all times. Let this be (k) A light to your feet, and a lamp to your paths. Let this be your (l) Councellour and Song in your pilgrimage. Let this be the (m) voice behind you, saying; This is the way, walk in it, when you are turning to the right hand, or to the left. What this Law Condemns as sinful, decline it: what this Commands as Duty, perform and pursue it. (n) Meditate herein day and night, Addict and give your selves wholly hereunto. And lest any should say or think, That I should exhort Legally, and you Act Legally, not Evangelically, in this Matter: Let me here lay before you, 1. Evangelical Directions for Christians right observing, doing and walking in the Moral Law. 2. Evangelical Grounds or Motives inciting thereunto.

Gospel-Directions for Christians right Observing, Performing and Walking according to the Moral Law;

1. Observe and keep the Moral Law with a right judgement and understanding touching it, and the observance of it in all things. A misdeeming judgement herein, misleads a mans obedience to the Law, and renders it unacceptable to God. Miß-Obedience offends God as well as Disobedience. Errour in the judgement, works obliquity in the Action. Many have done much about the Moral Law, but having a false judgement and Notion of the Law, and about the Doing of it, have lost all that they have wrought: As Pharisees that looked only at the Letter of Law, Papists that look for justification by the deeds of the Law, carnal men that rest in the work done, &c. Particularly beware of these Misapprehensions; 1. Judge not the whole and entire obedience to the Moral Law to consist only in performing the bare outward letter of the Commandment. This was the Pharisees errour: which our Saviour (o) abundantly refutes and reproves. 2. Think not there is in any meer man since the fall a full ability perfectly to perform and keep the Moral Law. Though (p) Bellarmine earnestly contends for it. For; The Law is (q) weak through the flesh: that is, The Law hath not strength to justifie us, by reason of our flesh that cannot keep it. (r) — In many things we sin all. And, (s) He that shall keep the whole Law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. 3. Look not upon the Moral Law as a Covenant of Works, which will justifie and give life by the deeds thereof: Neither rest upon any deeds thereof for that end. For, The Moral Law, was not given on Mount Sinai as a Covenant of works, but of Faith; as shall after appear. And the best works even of regenerate persons have so much iniquity and infirmity adhering to them, that they are matter rather of Condemnation, then of Justification. 4. In observing and doing the Moral Law, look not upon it as The Old Testament, or as Part of the Old Testament-dispensation, having reference to Christ that should come afterwards. For in the precise notion and formality (as hath been showed,) it is not now obligatory to us Christians. We are not bound to Ceremonial worship by the second Commandment, nor to the seventh-day Sabbath by the fourth, as the Jews were bound. So far it obligeth us, and is to be observed by us, as it is consistent with the New Testament.

2. Observe and do the Moral Law from true Gospel-principles: without which it can never be done rightly and acceptably. Such as are the Principles and Habits whereby we act, such are the acts put forth by them. Carnal Principles and Abilities produce only Carnal Acts. Sanctified Spiritual abilities bring forth Spiritual Acts. Let your obedience to the Moral Law flow, 1. From (t) the New-Covenant-Law written in the Minde and Heart. When there's a (u) Law within, harmoniously answering to the Law without, How sweetly and sincerely is the Law performed? 2. From Divine supernatural abilities of wel-doing created in them through Christ; (x) Without Christ we can do nothing: in (y) Christ we can do all things. (z) For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. Till we act from this divine working and Creation, all we do are but dead works. 3. From sincere Love; (a) Love is the fulfilling of the Law. Our Saviour teacheth us, (b) That the first and great Commandment, or the Sum of the first Table is, To Love the LORD our God with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our mind and with all our might: And the second, viz. The Sum of the second Table, is, To love our neighbour as ourselves. Every right act of Duty towards God or man, flows from true Love. Hence, Paul saith, (n) The end of the Commandment is Love, out of a pure heart and good Conscience and Faith unfeigned. As obedience must arise out of love: so love must arise from these three roots. And such Love is The End of the Commandment; The Perfective End, the Scope and intended end which the Commandment aims at. Every duty is easie and delightful to love. (o) This is love that we keep his Commandments: and his Commandments are not grievous.

3. Observe

3. Observe the Moral Law with alacrity and delight of Soul. In all our obedience God loves willingness, readiness, chearfulness. It was Christs (p) meat to do the will of him that sent him, and to finish his work. Job (q) went not back from the Commandment of his lips, but esteemed the words of his mouth more then his necessary food. Paul (r) delighted in the Law in his inner man. David, how transcendently were all his affections elevated to and transported with the (s) Law of God! how did he abound in expressions, yea how did he as it were want words to set forth his ravisht desires to, and delight in, the Law of God! And all Christs true people are a (t) willing people: as to Faith, so to obedience.

4. Keep and observe the Moral Law as an Evangelical Rule of Life, guiding the thoughts, words and actions of believers in all the duties of Holiness, Righteousness, and Sobriety, as well under the New Testament, as the Old. The Moral Law was Promulged on Mount Sinai as a Gospel-Rule of Life: being given there, not as a Covenant of works, but as a Covenant of Faith, as hath been already evidenced in part, and hereafter will more fully appear. And it was in this Notion, in all ages Confirmed, expounded and urged, by the Prophets, by our blessed Saviour, and his Apostles, from time to time. Therefore being our Evangelical Rule of Life, pressed upon Gods Covenant-people both under Old and New Testament: it is (so far as not peculiarly limited to the Old Testament) an Everlasting Rule, and Part of (u) the Everlasting Gospel. And in this Notion we are still to observe the Moral Law. And in so doing we shall not warp from Christ, but walk after him; we shall not overthrow, but establish the Gospel; we shall not exclude, but exercise Faith: we shall not fall from, but persevere in Grace. Now the Moral Law as a Gospel-Rule may be kept and performed two waies, viz. By Faith, and by Love. 1. By Faith applying and appropriating Christs perfect obedience thereunto to our selves in particular. For Christs obedience being ours by Faith, we perfectly fulfil the Law in him, his blood and sufferings washing away all our imperfections and failing therein. Hence, (x) To keep the Law (said Luther,) is to have Christ the keeper of the Law by Faith. ——By Faith we fulfil the Law compendiously. —And again, (y) Gods Precepts are sweet, when we can read them, not only in the Books, but also in the wounds of our sweetest Saviour. By Love; Partly beginning to have sincere respect to the Law in this life. Inchoate Love, expressing inchoate obedience. Partly, compleating the fulfilling of it in the life to come. Compleat love acting in compleat obedience in Heaven: Every Saint becoming a perfect Living Law to himself for ever.

5. Observe the Moral Law entirely and universally. The whole Law with the whole Heart. 1. Keep the whole Law with sincere respect to every Commandment therein, as in the sight of God. This is to keep the Law with integrity of the Object. As God hath extended his Precepts:

Precepts: So we are to extend our Performances. For, (1) The same God, (2) that said, Thou shalt not kill, &c. said also, Thou shalt have no other Gods before me; Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; Remember the Sabbath-day to keep it holy, &c. If therefore we keep any of these Commandments because they are the Lord's: we must consequently keep every Commandment. (1) Hereby the Integrity and upright ness of our obedience wil be evidenced (2) Then shall we not be ashamed, when we have respect to all his Commandments. Though an upright heart may come short in the gradual Performance of every Commandment, yet hath he an universal respect unto all the Commandments. (3) To indent, omit, pick and chuse, what Commandments we will keep, what not, argues an hypocritical and unsound heart: And that the Commandments are not kept because they are God's, but because of some other collateral and indirect respects. Ahab could do (b) somethings, Herod did (c) many things, but still they had their Reservations and exceptions. (4) The sincere servants of God intend, and endeavour the observance of all God's Precepts, one as well as another. Caleb and Joshuah (d) followed the LORD fully: Heb. fulfilled after the LORD. David (e) had respect to all Gods Commandments: not departing from any of them all his daies, save in the Matter of Uriah the Hittite. Zachariah and Elizabeth (f) were both righteous before God, walking in all the Commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. Paul (g) exercised himself herein, to have alwaies a Conscience void of offence towards God and towards men. (5) Integrity of obedience to all Gods Commandments is most acceptable to God. How doth the Holy Ghost commend it in David, in Zachariah and Elizabeth! How did God reward it in (h) Caleb and Joshuah, for this Cause granting them only of that generation the great priviledge of coming into the promised Canaan! 2. Keep the whole Law with the whole heart. Let the united Stream of all the faculties and affections of soul and heart bend to the observance of it. This is to keep the Law with integrity of the subject. (1) This is often required; (i) Thou shalt love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. This is the first and great Commandment. (viz. The Sum of the first Table.) And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self. The Lord calls for whole-hearted, not half-hearted Obedience. (2) Hypocrites may reach to this; only sincere ones can reach to that. (k) With my whole heart have I sought thee, (said David:) O let me not wander from thy Commandments. (3) Such are a blessed people; (l) Blessed are they that keep his Testimonies: that seek him with the whole heart. Such hearts are undivided in obedience, therefore act strongly towards the Law of God, and are perfect with him. A divided heart, an heart and an heart, is a false unsound heart.

6. Observe and keep the Moral Law in the Spirituality of it. Paul saith (m) The Law is Spiritual. It reacheth not only to the body and outward outward Acts: but to the soul heart and Spirit, and the most inward acts thereof, (n) as our Saviour teacheth. It prescribes Soul-duties, Spirit-duties, &c. forbids Heart-iniquities, Spirit-Sins. Therefore to walk in the Law of the Lord, as especially to minde the Spirituality of it. The first and most acceptable worship of God, is the Spirit-worship. Inward Spirit-duties towards God and man are the most immediate and excellent acts and results of Grace in the Spirit: Inward Spirit-sins are the first, most immediate and dangerous fruits of original Corruption in the Soul, having the venom and poyson of the old man, most immediately and strongly infused into them. Oh therefore (o) keep thy heart with all keeping, for out of it are the issues of life, or death. Let this Spiritual Law guide thine heart and Spirit in all their inward Spiritual Motions and actions towards God and man. (p) Delight in the Law of God in thine inward man.

7. Keep and observe the Moral Law in Testification of real filial thankfulness to God for Jesus Christ the end of the Law, for our Redemption by him, and for the effectual Application of this Redemption unto us. We are not to keep the Law that we thereby may have Christ, Redemption, Vocation, Sanctification, Justification, Adoption, &c. But because we are Redeemed, Called, Sanctified, Justified, Adopted, &c. therefore we keep the Law. Hereby we express our real gratitude for these greatest benefits For this end (q) Christ was in fulness of time revealed, according to his Covenant, Promise, and Oath of old, That we being delivered out of the hands of our Enemies without fear, might serve him in Holiness and Righteousness before him all the daies of our life. Moses therefore (r) having reckoned up Gods great favours to Israel in bringing them into Egypt, multiplying them in Egypt, delivering them and redeeming them out of Egypt, (A Type of their Redemption by Christ) and in his gracious dealings with them after that deliverance: in reference to all this presseth upon Israel the observance of Gods Commandments as a due Testimony of their gratitude for all. (s) And now Israel, what doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all his wayes, and to love him, and to serve the LORD thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, To keep the Commandments of the Lord and his Statutes, &c. (t) —— Thy fathers went down into Egypt with seventy persons, and now the LORD thy God hath made thee as the Stars in Heaven for multitude. Therefore thou shalt love the LORD thy God, and keep his Charge, and his Statutes, and his Judgements, and his Commandments alway. Luther said well, (u) A man is not made just by doing just things: but being made just, he doth just things. A man keeps not the Law, that he may have Christ and his benefits: but because he hath Christ & his benefits, he keeps the Law, in token of his real gratitude.

8. Finally

8. Finally, Keep and observe the Moral Law continually. For 1. God hath not given it for this or that particular age or time, but (x) He hath stablished it for ever; therefore it is to be observed for ever. 2. This (y) constant perpetual obedience thereunto God frequently calls for. 3 Christ hath therefore redeemed us, (z) that we might serve the Lord in holiness and righteousness before him all the daies of our life. And Holiness and Righteousness comprehend all the duties of the Moral Law. Christs Redemption of us is (a) an everlasting mercy: therefore our obedience should be a perpetual Duty. 4. The godly and sincere do persevere and continue in their Obedience to Gods Law. As David; (b) —— I have inclined mine heart to perform thy Statutes alway, even unto the end. —— My Soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgements at all times. —— So shall I keep thy Law continually: for ever and ever. Thus (c) Christs meat was to do the will of him that sent him, and to finish his work. 5. The (d) ungodly and hypocrites keep not the Law of God at all, or not alway.

Gospel-Grounds, or Motives, inciting to this Evangelical observance of the Moral Law.

1. Jesus (e) Christ, and his (f) Apostles in the New Testament frequently and strongly enjoyn the observance of the Moral Law. To cast off obedience thereto, will not be to cast off only the Authority of Moses and the Prophets under the Old Testament: but also of Jesus Christ and his Apostles under the New Testament.

2. Jesus Christ and his Apostles kept and observed the Moral Law diligently. Christ was (g) made under the Law, and fulfilled it exactly in doing the Duty of it, and enduring the curse of it for us. His whole life was (h) without sin: therefore his whole life was an observance of the Moral Law. His (i) Apostles also (as Christ testified) kept Gods word, manifested to them by Christ; therefore they kept his Law. Paul was (k) not without Law to God, but under the Law to Christ: though he seemed to be as without Law, that he might gain them that were without Law. Now (l) we are to follow Christ, and to walk as he walked: who is the chief Pattern of all Obedience. And we are to (m) follow the Apostles, as they follow Christ.

3. Christ destroyed not the Law given by Moses, nor set up any New Law, or any New Duty that for Substance was not prescribed in the Moral Law: but only fulfilled and expounded the Old Law (n) imposing the old Duties thereof upon his Disciples. This may be cleared upon these few following Considerations; For,

(n) Mat. 5. 17. &c.

(1) Christ professeth, he (o) came not to destroy the Law or the Prophets, but to fulfil. And he adds; For, verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the Law, till all be fulfilled. Here Christ, 1. Declares the end of his Coming into the world in regard of the Law and Prophets; Negatively, gatively, Not to destroy them: Affirmatively, But to fulfil. 2. Confirms this from the everlasting Nature of the Law, which shall continue till heaven and earth pass, viz. till the end of the world. By [Law] here Christ seems especially to intend the Moral Law, (expounded much by the Prophets:) as appears, (p) by the next verse, and by his after-expositions of (q) divers Moral Laws. Now Christ fulfils the Moral Law many waies in his own person, viz. Doctrinally, in teaching the true sense, and pressing the Duty of the Law. Practically, Both in his Active performance of the Duty of it, And in his Passive undergoing the Curse and Penalty of it for our sakes. In this place some think he hath a special eye to his Doctrinal fulfilling of it, because he (r) opposeth teaching of the Law to the breaking of it. And consequently that he came not to preach down the Law or the Duties thereof, but to preach them up, and explain them truly, that they might see the true sense extent and spirituality of them.

(o) Math. 5. 17, 18.

(2) Christ declares, that (s) whosoever shall break the least of these Commandments, and teach men so, shall be least in the Kingdom of Heaven (i. e. He shall be excluded the Kingdom of Heaven:) But whosoever shall do, and teach them, shall be great in the Kingdom of Heaven. He doth not say; who so shall do and teach New duties of a New Law: but whosoever shall do and teach these Commandments, these old Laws and duties. And he further adds, (t) except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness (not of the Moral Law, but) of the Scribes and Pharisees (who corruptly expounded the Moral Law, resting in the bare outward Letter, not reaching up to the Spirit thereof) ye shall in no case enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

(s) Math. 5. 19.

(3) The Moral Law is so (u) perfect, that in regard of Moral duties of Holiness and Righteousness, as nothing ought, so nothing could be added thereto: no more excellent way could be prescribed. (x) I have seen an end of all perfection: but thy Commandment is exceeding broad. Broader, Compleater, Fuller then all visible Perfection. This compleatness of the Moral Law will easily appear, if we seriously Consider The Extensiveness and Intensiveness of it. 1. The Extensiveness of the Law is such, that there can be imagined no Moral duty for kinde, but what is required in it: nor any kind of Contrary Sin, but what is forbidden in it. All Duties of Holiness towards God, All duties of Righteousness towards man, All duties of Sobriety towards a mans own self: and all sorts of sins opposite to these, together with all furtherances to those Duties, or Sins, are fully comprized in this Moral Law. 2. The Intensiveness of this Law is such, that all these Duties are required, and all contrary sins forbidden, to the uttermost. It calls not only for true love to God, but for extensive love to God, (y) with all the heart, all the soul, all the minde, all the might: Not only for true love to our neighbour, but for intensive love; To love our neighbour as our self. The like understand proportionably of all other Duties, comprized under Love.

All

All Duties are urged to the higheſt degree, with all their Amplifications: All ſins are condemned to the leaſt and loweſt degree, with all their aggravations. And therefore the Law being thus exquiſitely perfect, there could be no addition thereto. Chriſt impoſed no new Law, or Duties: but expounded the old, Chriſt only opened and unfolded this Sacred Roll of the Law: that the beauty, glory and ſpiritualneſs of it might more evidently appear.

Object. 1. But Chriſt hath given new Commands, Appointing his Apoſtles and Miniſters, (z) To Baptize with water, and (a) to Adminiſter the Lords Supper, &c. Anſw. 1. Chriſt hath appointed no New Moral Commandments or Duties, Though he hath appointed a New way of outward and Poſitive worſhip under the New Teſtament, which was not under the Old. Now Sacraments are not compleatly Moral duties, but Poſitive worſhip. 2. The Scope of the ſecond Commandment, being to teach and command us in the general, To worſhip the only true God according to his own will: This Commandment, as it comprized the whole Ceremonial Old-Teſtament worſhip while it was Gods will to continue it; So it comprehends the whole New-Teſtament worſhip which ſince Chriſt God wills to ſucceed, and antiquate the former. And in this Senſe New-Teſtament Sacraments, and way of worſhip are required in the Moral Law, and not a New Duty.

(z) Mat. 28. 19.

(a) 1 Cor. 11. 23, &c. Mat. 26. 26; to 31.

Object. 2. But Chriſt ſeems to have impoſed New Moral Duties, which are not commanded in the Moral Law, as Faith, Repentance, Love, &c. And Chriſt himſelf cals Love a New Commandment; (b) A New Commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another, as I have loved you, that ye alſo love one another. Anſw. 1. All theſe and like Spiritual Duties are required in the Moral Law. For, How can we have the Lord to be our God, but in Chriſt? And that cannot be without Faith in him through Chriſt, and without repentance from Dead works. We cannot intenſively have both God and ſin at once. Abraham, Noah, Enoch, Abel, had Faith in God under weaker and more imperfect Fœderal-diſpenſations: And ſhall not the Sinai-Covenant require Faith, which was a far more perfect Adminiſtration? 2. Love to our neighbour, or brother, is as ſtrongly commanded for ſubſtance under the Old Teſtament as under the New: (c) Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thy ſelf, what brotherly love can be expreſſed more intenſively? This therefore was an Old Commandment, and an Old Duty. 3. Chriſt cals this his Command of brotherly Love a New-Commandment; 1. Either in regard of his renewing of this Old Commandment. 2. Or in reſpect of his New manner of urging it from his own example: Love ye one another, as I have loved you. 3. Or in regard of the excellency of it. Excellent things are called New things. 4. Or in regard of the Perpetuity of it, becauſe it ſhould be always freſh and new, never waxing old. And thus the Covenant is called New. This (d) Command of brotherly Love John alſo cals both both an Old Commandment and a New: An old, for the Substance of it, being prescribed in the Law; A new, for Christs renewing it, and their New receiving it, under the true and more clear light of the Gospel; As I have (e) elsewhere intimated.

(e) In my Key of the Bible, on 1 Joh. 2.7,8, &c.

4. The New-Testament-Doctrine of Faith, that is, Of Justification by faith, doth not disanul, but establish the Moral Law. And if so, the Doctrine and Practise of Obedience to the Moral Law are not Anti-Evangelical, nor inconsistent with the Covenant of Faith. Now that it is so, The Apostle is very clear; (f) Do we then make void the Law, through Faith? God forbid: yea we establish the Law. In these words, the Apostle having proved justification by faith only without the deeds of the Law, prevents an Objection that might thus arise. Object. If we be justified by faith only without the deeds of the Law, then the Law is utterly made void. Answ. 1. He denyes the Consequence, with horrour, God forbid. 2. He asserts the Contrary. We are so far from antiquating the Law by the Doctrine of justification by Faith, that we rather establish it. How is the Law established by Faith?

(f) Rom. 3. 31;

The Law is established by the Doctrine of Faith (to omit diversity of Opinions,) especially these two ways. 1. In the truth of it, The Law threatned death and curse to every transgression. This truth is established as irrevocable, whilst Christ is (g) made under the Law for us, became a Curse and dyed to satisfie Gods justice, according to the Doctrine of Faith. 2. In the righteousness of it. The Law requires a perfect and perpetual personal obedience, as a legal righteousness. Faith (h) holds forth, Christs perfect passive obedience to satisfie the penalty of the Law for mans redemption, and his perfect active obedience to purchase man a right to the life it promiseth. So that the Doctrine of Faith leads us to that perfect legal righteousness in Christ by faith, which we cannot find in our selves: and hence The righteousness which it requireth is not abolished, but established. If any Object; Then we are in effect justified by the righteousness and obedience of the Law. I Answ. What absurdity or inconveniency is there in some sense to say so? For Legal and Evangelical Righteousness seem not to differ, quoad Substantiam & Materiam, in Substance or Matter: but only efficiente & Modo, viz. in the Efficient and Manner of it. Having Christs righteousness and perfect legal obedience by faith, we have the same Righteousness which the Law requires: but in a different manner, and from a different Efficient then is required in the Law. The Law requires it in our own persons, and from our own principles: The Doctrine of Faith tels us it sufficeth to have it in Christ by Faith. Thus not only Christs Passive, but also his active Obedience, becomes the Matter of our Justification. Furthermore, Persons thus justified are so renewed by Gods Spirit, that (i) they sincerely have respect to the whole Law to observe and keep it, not for justification thereby: but, Partly hereby to help forward their evidence evidence and assurance of their justified state; Partly, To express their filial dutifulness to God their heavenly Father; Partly, to (k) testifie their sincere and real gratitude to God for Jesus Christ and Redemption by him. To which purpose Obedience to the Moral Law is still one Condition imposed on Gods people by the Covenant of Faith both under Old and New Testament.

(k) Luk. 1. 75.

5. Christ dyed for us, that the Moral Law might be fulfilled by us: Therefore our endeavours to keep and fulfil the Moral Law, are not Legal, but purely Evangelical, Christian, and according to the New Testament. The Consequence cannot be denyed. The Antecedent is clear in that of the Apostles; (l) For what the Law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son, in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: That the righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit, &c. In this Context the Apostle proves, that they that are in Christ are secure from Condemnation: Partly, From the Law of the Spirit of life in Christ, freeing them. Partly, From the Merit of Christs Death and Sacrifice, condemning sin, and justifying us, which the Law could not do, because we could not keep it, it was weak through our flesh. And God did this, That the righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in us, &c. This was one End and Scope which God aimed at in Christs Death, amongst others, That the righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who walk, &c. The righteousness of the Law is fulfilled in us, two ways. 1. Virtually, by imputation of Christs fulfilling of the Law in our flesh, to us, as truly and fully as it were our own. Hereby we are justified. 2. Actually and Formally, by inchoation of sincere Evangelical obedience to the Law from principles of Sanctification. Hereby we walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. And they that are (m) carnal cannot thus fulfil the Law, but are enmity to it. (n) Christ gave himself for us, (for what end? that we might be lawless, licentious, and live as we list? No; but) that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purifie unto himself a peculiar people, Zealous of good works. What good works? works of (o) Sobriety, Righteousness, Godliness: which he had formerly mentioned, viz. the works of the Moral Law. They then that oppose and cry down the observance of the Moral Law by believers, Cry down the death of Christ, and what lyes in them disappoint one end of his Death.

6. Till we have sincere desire and delight Evangelically to keep the Moral Law we cannot solidly perswade our selves that we are actually and effectually Christs New-Covenant-people. For, All Christs New-Covenant-people, (p) have Gods Laws put into their minds, and written in their hearts; whence they are sweetly disposed and enabled to know and do them with delight. And they (q) are Gods workmanship in Christ, created to good works, to walk in them.

7. The Observance of the Moral Law is Encouraged by many Promises, miſes, and the violation of it diſſwaded by many Threatnings in the New Teſtament of our Lord Jeſus Christ, as well as in the Old. And therefore Keeping the Moral Law is a pure Evangelical Duty incumbent upon all believers both under Old Teſtament and the New.

VI. Hence, All lawleſs looſe licentious people, that reject the Moral Law of God, are deeply to be condemned. The Moral Law was given, Immediately to Iſrael at Mount Sinai; Mediately to the Iſrael of God for all after ages, even under the New Teſtament, as hath been explained. And is of perpetual obligation, and uſe. Here therefore two ſorts of Anti-nomians, or Adverſaries to the Moral Law are to be convincingly blamed and condemned, viz. 1. Anti-nomians in Judgement, who maiantain ſinful errours in Opinion againſt the Moral Law. 2. Anti-nomians in Practice, who walk in ſinful errours of life contrary to the Moral Law. And it oft-times comes to paſs, that ſuch perſons as entertain looſe opinions againſt the Moral Law, (through Gods juſt judgement giving them up to their own luſts,) do at laſt fall into abominable offenſive Courſes againſt the Law of God: and of Anti-nomians in Judgement, become Anti-nomians in Practice.

(u) Luther. contra Anti-nom. lib. pag. 38. vol. 1. Sonſſelbert. Hany-comb of Juſtificat. (x) D. Taylor againſt Anti-nom.

(1.) Anti-nomians in Judgement or Opinion, (Luther ſtiles them Nomo-machiſts, Fighters againſt the Law, both of old and of late in theſe days, have belched out many unſavory and blaſphemous things in their writings and ſpeeches againſt the Law of God, and have implunged themſelves into many other ſtrange (x) Errours about Sanctification, Juſtification, Good-works, Afflictions of Gods people, &c. Their writings are very notorious in expreſſions: but their private diſcourſes are double abominable. I intend not to point out a Synopſis of their Errours, and refute them, (I ſhould then digreſs from my preſent intentions): but only to vindicate certain Scriptures from their miſinterpretations, whereupon they ſeem to bottom their Opinion about the abrogation and uſeleſsneſs of the Moral Law, to believers, now under the New Teſtament. Their foundations being deſtroyed: their building thereon cannot ſtand. The Scriptures chiefly urged by them, are theſe, viz.

1. The Lord thus prefaceth to the Moral Law; I am the LORD thy thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the House of servants, Exod. 20 2. whereby he shews that he intended his Moral Law only to his people redeemed out of Egypt. But believers under the New Testament were never in Egypts bondage, nor brought by God thence.

Answ. 1. Here are three General grounds whereupon Obedience to the whole Moral Law is urged; viz. (1) God's Supream Eternal Essence, I am the LORD; (2) His Covenant-Relation to his people, Thy God; (3) His wonderful Act of Redemption of them, That brought thee, &c. The two first grounds Equally concern all believers under the New Testament, as they did Israel under the Old: The bare Letter of the third ground more peculiarly concerned Israel of old. 2. The Mysterie of the third ground reacheth as fully to believers Now, as to the Jews Then. Egypt was a figure of our Spiritual bondage under Sin, Satan, &c. by nature; Their Deliverance out of Egypt a Type of our Redemption by Jesus Christ from that Spiritual bondage and misery, as The Sacrament of the (y) Passover Instituted upon that occasion doth clearly intimate. And this Redemption by Christ, far surpassed that from Egypt: and therefore more strongly binds to observe the Moral Law. 3. Some (and not without just cause) do affirm, That even all believing Gentiles now under the New Testament were in Egypt, and thence delivered in the Persons of their Fathers of old. For the Convert Gentiles are (z) grafted into the stock of the true Olive tree, and so adjoyned to the people of the Patriarchs. All believers (as the Apostle shews) are (a) the children of Abraham, his Seed by Promise; according to that, A Father of many Nations have I made thee. Hence Paul writing to the believing Corinthians, which were Gentiles, saith, (b) Brethren I would not have you ignorant that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the Sea, &c. To this effect also Augustine observes from Pauls Allegory, Gal. 4. that believing Gentiles are Abraham's children by Sarah the free-woman according to the mysterie, and belonged to Israel; (c) Lo how we are the sons of Israel by divine Adoption, not by humane cognation, not openly but secretly, nor by the letter, but by the spirit, not Jews by Circumcision of the flesh, but of the Heart. Now being thus added to Abraham's family, the believing Gentiles as Abrahams children, and spiritual Israel, may be said to have been in Egypt, and to have been brought out thence in their fore-fathers. Consequently the Preface of the Decalogue concerns them throughout, as well as the Jews: and obligeth them to the observance of the Moral Law every way. Thus the Preface to the Moral Law makes clearly against, not for, the Antinomians.

2. The Law and the Prophets were until John, Luk. 16 16 Therefore the Law and Prophets ceased at John's Ministry, and oblige not believers after him.

Answ. 1. This proves not that the Moral Law was to expire, in refereference to its force and Authority, at John's coming. Especially seeing Christ immediately adds, (d) And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, then one tittle of the Law to fail. And after John's Ministry Christ himself and his Apostles urge the observance of the Moral Law, (as hath been evidenced.) 2. The word Law in this place is to be taken in a large sense, as comprizing the whole Administration of the Law given by Moses, and not restrictively for the Moral Law only. Now the Law largely taken, hath in it Morals, Ceremonials, Judicials: The Ceremonials and Judicials of the Law vanished away after John Baptist, who was the last Prophet of the Old Testament, as our Saviour (e) intimates; The Morals continuing still. And in this speech our Saviour intended rather the Typicals and Ceremonials of the Law and Prophets, that prophecyed and fore-shadowed Christ to come: then the Doctrinals and Morals: As appears by the parallel place in Matthew; (f) For all the Prophets and the Law prophecyed until John. Which Prophetical Types and figures, having their accomplishment at Christs coming, ceased

Answ. For clearing of this Text, I shall enquire a little, 1. What is here meant by these words; Law and Grace. 2. What it is, To be under the Law, and To be under Grace. 3. What is the Apostles present Scope and sense in this expression. I. As touching the word [Law] the Apostle both in this Epistle, and in his other Epistles to the Galatians, And Hebrews, &c. useth it in very various and different senses: which must wisely be distinguished. As, 1. More Generally, for the (g) whole Ministry of Moses under the Old Testament; which Administration was far (h) short of the Administration of the New Testment. 2. More Particularly, for the Moral Law, which was the most Eminent of all other Laws. In this sense the word (Law) is often used (i) in the seventh to the Romans. 3. Most Particularly, by a Synechdoche, for some part of the Moral Law, not the whole Moral Law. As for the Minatory, Maledictory, and Condemnatory part of the Law; contradistinct from the Mandatory and Promissory part of the Law. Thus the Apostle reckoning up the fruits of the Spirit, adds; (k) Against such there is no Law. That is, there is no Threat, Curse, or Condemnation in the Law, against such fruits of the Spirit: though there was Precept, Command, Encouragement, and Promise in the Law, for such fruits of the Spirit. As touching the word [Grace] The Apostles in their Epistles use it in divers significations, viz. 1. Sometimes for the fountain-Grace, the (l) Free favour of God. 2. Sometimes for the Streams that flow from this fountain, the effects and fruits of Gods free Grace and favour vouchsafed to us: whether (m) Sanctification, or other Spiritual ritual gifts flowing from meer divine Grace. 3. Sometimes for the (n) Doctrine of Grace set forth in the Gospel, especially in the New Testament, which is called (o) The Grace of God bringing Salvation; (p) The word of his Grace, &c. because herein the Lord hath peculiarly revealed his gratuitous way of saving sinners by faith in Jesus Christ alone of meer Grace. II. As for the phrases of being under the Law, and under Grace: They are here opposed one to another, as Contra-distinct, and as setting forth two contrary states or Conditions. To be under the Law, ὑπὸ νόμω; 1. Sometimes signifies, To be in subjection under Moses his servile Administration of the Law, Ceremonial as well as Moral; (q) Tell me, ye that are willing to be under the Law, &c. He speaks to them amongst the Galatians that urged the Necessity of Circumcision and the Ceremonial Law, unto Justification and Salvation. And in opposition to this sense, To be under Grace, is to be under the New-Testament's free and gracious dispensation in Christ. To be brought from the Old Testaments servile Condition, to the New Testaments free and filial condition 2. Sometimes it signifies, To be under the Rigour and Curse of the Moral Law, exacting obedience to the uttermost, upon pain of Curse and Death. Thus Christ was made under the Law, as Sinners Surety, voluntarily: And Sinners are under the Law as Principals in transgression, naturally and necessarily. The Apostle mentions both together: (r) God sent forth his son made of a woman, made under the Law to redeem them that were under the Law, that we might receive the adoption of Sons. To redeem whom? Only the Jews which were under Moses servile dispensation of the Law? Nay, to redeem both Jews and Gentiles that by reason of sin were under the Rigour, Terrour, Curse, and Condemnation of the Moral Law, and in opposition to this sense, To be under Grace is to be actually partakers of the power of supernatural grace, in Sanctification, Adoption, Justification, and other fruits of Christs Redemption And I finde not this phrase (ὑπὸ νόμω, under the Law) used in the New Testament in any other then in these two senses. Nor do I finde the phrase applyed to any believer under the N. Test. No Christian believer is said to be ὑπὸ νόμον, under the Law, nor is he ἄνομος. (t) without Law to God; but he is ἔννομος, in the Law, or within the Law to Christ. III. The Scope of the Apostle in this present text Objected is this; (u) To comfort & encourage the believing Romanes to go on in Mortifying of Sin, and living righteously to God, notwithstanding the reliques of Sin remaining in them: (u) for though sin had still some being in them: yet sin should not have dominion over them, they should at last have the upper hand, and be conquerours. This he proves: because they were not under the Law, but under Grace. How were they not under the Law, but under Grace? (x) Were they not under the Old Testament's servile; but under the New-Testament's filial administration? That was true, but that was not a sufficient proof, that sin should not have dominion over them. For many are under the New Testament-dispenſation, that remain ſtill under Sin's dominion: and many were under the Old Teſtaments adminiſtration, that were delivered from ſin's dominion. (w) Were they not under the Guidance of the Moral Law, as a Rule of life and obedience? So the Libertines would fain interpret it. But this cannot be the meaning: Partly, becauſe it doth not prove the thing in hand: viz. That Sin ſhall not have dominion over them. For, (x) ſin and death had dominion and reigned over all men from Adam to Moſes before the Moral Law was given. And Sin and Death have dominion ſtill, even over Pagans, that were never under the obedience of the Moral Law, nor heard of that Law. Partly, becauſe the Apoſtle himſelf in the words preſently ſubjoyned prevents this miſapprehenſion, and miſinterpretation. (y) What then? ſhall we ſin, becauſe we are not under the Law, but under Grace? God forbid. As if he had ſaid: I do not mean, ye are under Grace, not under the Law, ſo as to ſin without controul, and do what you liſt: God forbid that ſuch a looſe prophane conſtruction ſhould be made of my words: ye muſt ſtill be guided by the Law though ye be under Grace. (3) What then? were they not, (as carnal unregenerate men,) under the Irritation, Rigour, Terrour, Curſe, and condemnation of the Moral Law; but under Grace, in a Sanctified, Adopted, Juſtified ſtate through Chriſt, (z) who was made under the Law, to redeem them that were under the Law? &c. This I like beſt. This proves the matter in hand ſtrongly. They that are thus under Grace, are delivered from the ſtate, reign, and dominion of Sin, though not from the in-dwelling of ſin: And conſequently from the Irritation, Rigour, Terrour, Curſe and Condemnation of the Law: in which ſenſe the Law is the ſtrength of ſin. Thus this text makes nothing at all for the Antinomians.

Wherefore my brethren, ye alſo are become dead to the Law by the body of Chriſt, — But now we are delivered from the Law, that being dead, wherein we were held, that we ſhould ſerve in newneſs of Spirit, and not in oldneſs of the Letter, Rom. 7. 4, 5, 6. Therefore by Chriſt the regenerate are freed from the Law.

Anſw. The Apoſtle inſiſting ſtill in his former Subject of regenerate perſons freedom from Sin's dominion, and from the Laws rigour and malediction, to explain it more fully; the Anſwer to the former place Objected, may ſerve much to clear this place alſo. But I add further, 1. As the (b) woman is by the Law bound to her husband while he liveth, but he being dead ſhe is free: So the unregenerate, while their husband (Sin) is alive and unmortified, are under the Law, viz. as irritating ſin, as Curſing and Condemning for ſin; but they being regenerated and their husband (Sin) dead, (that being the thing wherein they were held in bondage) they are delivered from the Law, as Rigorouſly Exacting, Irritating, and Condemning, and are married to Chriſt a better husband to bring forth better fruit to God. This ſeems to be the plain and direct intent of the Apoſtle in this Paragraph. 2. This being delivered from the Law, in reference to the rigour, irritation and condemnation thereof, doth not deliver from the Obedience of the Law, as a Rule of life: but rather restores and enables to the true spiritual observance thereof. (c) that we should serve him in newness of Spirit, and not in the oldness of the Letter. As the Apostle afterwards professeth, (d) He delighted in the Law of the Lord touching the inner man: and mourned, that the reliques of sin in him, impaired his obedience. Hence some observe, the Law is not said to be dead; but they are dead to the Law.

(d) ver. 22, 23, 24.

5. Christ is the end of the Law, for righteousness to every one that believeth, Rom. 10. 4. Therefore the Law is now abrogated to believers.

Answ. The Apostle here declares in what respect Christ is the end of the Law, viz. (e) for righteousness or justification. Christ is the perfective end of the Law: having fulfilled it to the uttermost, so that every believer applying his obedience by Faith shall be justified. He needs seek no further then Christs obedience for his justification. But Christ is not the Destructive end of the Law in reference to Holiness and obedience, which justified persons are (f) still to perform to the Law Evangelically in testimony of thankfulness for their justification.

(e) See this text also before interpreted in Pos. IV. (5)

(f) Luk. 1. 75.

6. The Law is not made for a Righteous man, but for the Lawless, &c. 1 Tim. 1. 9, 10, 11. Therefore the righteous are not under it.

Answ. How the Law is not made for a righteous man, hath been (g) formerly explained. The righteous are not under the Rigour, Irritation, Curse, Condemnation of the Moral Law, as the unrighteous are: but are still under the Information, Direction, Guidance, and Probation of it. Thus is said of the fruits of the Spirit, (h) Against such there is no Law: That is, no Law condemning them: but commending and commanding them.

(g) In Pos. IV. 2. (a)

(h) Gal. 5. 23.

7. Wherefore then serveth the Law? It was added because of transgression, till the seed should come, to whom the Promise was made. — Wherefore the Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by Faith. But after that Faith is come, we are no longer under a Schoolmaster, Gal. 3. 19. 24, 25. Therefore, since Christ, believers are no more under the Law.

Answ. 1. The word Law is divers times used in this Epistle More Generally, for the whole Administration of Moses, comprizing the whole Law given by him, especially both the Moral and Ceremonial Law. And in this latitude, I take it, we must understand him in these two places alledged. Till the Moral and Ceremonial Law was given, Sin was in the world, but not so clearly and fully imputed by the Jews unto themselves, as afterwards. Then the Moral Law distinctly gave the (k) knowledge of sin. And the Ceremonial Law in the continual washings, and Purifications, and Sacrifices did (l) yearly and daily arraign them at Gods bar as deeply guilty of Sin. And both both the Moral and Ceremonial Law discovered the Death and Curse which they had deserved by sin, withal typifying and pointing out Christ that should take away their sin and Curse. And thus, Partly by Correcting them for their faults, Partly by Directing to the right Remedy, both Moral and Ceremonial Law joyntly were a Schoolmaster to bring them to Christ. 2. Whereas he adds; But after that Faith is come, we are no longer under a Schoolmaster: The meaning is, they are no longer under the Law as a Schoolmaster to Christ that was to come; Christ being come already, they could not be under the Law in this Notion any longer. Not under the Ceremonial Law: for now the body, the Anti-type, Christ, was come; and therefore all those shadows and Types vanished away, as the morning-darkness before the Sun. Nor under the Moral Law so far as part of Moses servile Administration, (m) the Church now as an heir coming to fulness of age in Christ, and capeable of filial Liberty. But still they were under the Light, Guidance, &c. of the Moral Law, as a Rule of Holy and Righteous life: As the Apostle plainly intimates afterwards in this very Epistle; (n) For, brethren, ye have been called to liberty: Only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another; for all the Law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self. This being the Sum of the second Table.

(m) Gal. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4.

(n) Gal. 5. 13, 14.

8. But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the Law. Gal. 5. 18. Therefore the regenerate are not under the Law.

Answ. 1. The Apostle's Scope in this Context is, To exhort them To walk in the Spirit; that is, according to the guidance of Gods regenerating, sanctifying, adopting Spirit, verse 16. Hereunto he urgeth them from two Priviledges that would ensue upon such walking; (1) They should not fulfil the lusts of the flesh, which are contrary to the Spirit, ver. 16, 17. (2) They should hereby discover that (as regenerate persons,) they were not under the Law, ver. 18, that is, Not under the Rigour, Curse and Condemnation of the Law, though you have many failings and infirmities in your Obedience. God covers the frailties and imperfections of his regenerate people, and accepts their upright desires and endeavours of inchoate Obedience, as perfect in Christ. 2. But the guidance of the Spirit shuts them not from the guidance of the Moral Law, which a (p) little before he had urged. And afterwards he explains himself, saying: (Against such (that is, such fruits of the Spirit, wherein they were to walk) there is no Law, viz. No Rigorous, Cursing Condemning Law of God.

APHORISM

APHORISM II.

Of Gods giving the Law on Mount Sinai as a Covenant, and that of Faith.

GOd gave the Law by Moſes to Iſrael from Mount Sinai, as a COVENANT: and that not as a Covenant of works, nor as a mixt Covenant of Works and Grace, nor as a Covenant ſubſervient to the Covenant of Grace, but as A COVENANT OF FAITH.

Here-upon this Covenant-Adminiſtration, (to diſtinguiſh it from other Fœderal Expreſſures,) may be ſtiled, Gods SINAI-COVENANT. And this Diſtinctive Denomination the Scripture hath already in effect given it. For Paul diſcourſing of Abraham's two wives, Hagar, the bond woman; and Sarah the Free-woman, ſaith; (b) Which things are an Allegory: for theſe are the two Covenants (or, Teſtaments,) the one from the Mount SINAI, which gendreth to bondage, which is Agar. So he cals it, THE COVENANT FROM MOUNT SINAI. This SINAI-COVENANT is alſo elſewhere called, (c) A TESTAMENT, διαθηκη: in reference to the Teſtators Death and Blood typically repreſented by the death and blood of Sacrifices added for the Dedication and Confirmation of the Teſtament. For where a Teſtament is, there muſt alſo of Neceſſity be the Death of the Teſtator. For a Teſtament is of force after men are dead. And, (d) πρωτη διαθηκη, THE FIRST TESTAMENT: becauſe it was in order of time, and in actual ſubſiſtence, the Firſt of thoſe two Teſtaments, which God vouchſafed his Church. Alſo (e) παλαιουμενην και γηρασκουσαν, A DECAYING and OLD TESTAMENT: So called; Partly Becauſe it was Older then the New Teſtament, though not older then the Evangelical Promiſes and Covenant; Partly and eſpecially becauſe it was of ſuch a diſpenſation that it was to wax old and decay, and did wax old and decay when the New Teſtament obtained and came in Place. This Sinai-Covenant, This Teſtament, This Firſt Teſtament, This Old Teſtament; is that Fœderal Adminiſtration which now is to be Conſidered. The ſurpaſſing excellencies of this Fœderal Diſpenſation, beyond all that went before, have been touched upon in the beginning of this chapter, in ten Particulars. All which may as cogent Motives, ſtrongly perſwade us diligently to enquire into the abſtruſe Myſteriouſneſs of this excellent Covenant.

For clearing of this Aphoriſm, Conſider; 1. That the Law given on Mount Sinai, was given as a Covenant to Iſrael. 2. What Law it was which was given as a Covenant 3. What ſort of Covenant the Law was. 4. Why God at that time gave ſuch a Covenant by Moſes unto Iſrael. Theſe four things being evidenced, the Aphoriſm will be plain.

1. That

(e) Heb. 8. 9, 13.

I. That the Law given from Mount Sinai to Israel, was given as a Covenant; in a Covenant-way, in the notion of a Covenant. This is unqueſtionably clear, in that 1. The name of Covenant is often given to the Law. 2. The true nature of a Covenant was in the Law, as then diſpenſed.

I. The Name of COVENANT is frequently attributed to the Law given on Mount Sinai, both in books of Old and New Teſtament. As,

1. By the Lord God himſelf. In his Preface to the giving of the Law he ſtiles his Law a Covenant. (f) —— Now therefore if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my Covenant, then ye ſhall be a peculiar treaſure unto me above all people. So he ſtiles it often elſewhere. (f) Exod. 19.5.

2. By Moſes the man of God. (g) —— And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments, and he wrote them upon two Tables of ſtone. —— Take heed unto your ſelves, leſt ye forget the Covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeneſs of any thing which the LORD thy God hath forbidden you. And elſewhere; (h) The LORD our God made a Covenant with us in Horeb. The LORD made not this Covenant with our Fathers, but with us, even with us who are all of us here alive this day. The LORD talked with you face to face, in the Mount, out of the midſt of the fire, —— Saying, I am the LORD thy God, &c. So he repeats the whole Moral Law, as the Covenant then made with them. And again; (i) Theſe are the words of the Covenant, which the LORD commanded Moſes to make with the children of Iſrael in the land of Moab, beſide the Covenant which he made with them in Horeb. And; (k) If there be found among you —— man or woman that hath wrought wickedly in the ſight of the LORD thy God, in tranſgreſſing his Covenant, And hath gone and ſerved other Gods, &c. 3. By the Prophets. As, (l) Gather my Saints together unto me: thoſe that have made a Covenant with me by Sacrifice. He ſeems peculiarly to intend that ſolemn Covenant at Mount Sinai. And when King Solomon cauſed the Ark to be brought into his place in the Temple finiſhed by him, it's ſaid: (m) There was nothing in the Ark ſave the two Tables of ſtone, which Moſes put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a Covenant with the children of Iſrael, &c. And Iſrael is ſaid to be carryed Captive into Aſſyria, (n) Becauſe they obeyed not the voice of the LORD their God, but tranſgreſſed his Covenant, and all that Moſes the ſervant of the LORD commanded. The Lord alſo ſaid by Jeremiah; (o) Curſed is the man that heareth not the words of this Covenant, which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, &c. And afterwards propheſying of the days of the New-Covenant; (p) Behold, the days come, ſaith the LORD, that I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael, and with the Houſe of Judah: (l) Pſal. 50.5. Not

Not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, &c.

4. By the Apostle also. Paul reciting the Jews priviledges, saith; (q) Who are Israelites, To whom pertaineth the Adoption, and the Glory, and the Covenants, and the giving of the Law, &c. By [Covenants] he seems to intend, the two Tables of the Covenant. And alledging that of Jeremiah touching the New Covenant he saith; (r) —— Not according to the Covenant that I made with thy fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt. And elsewhere he tels the Ephesians touching their Paganish State; (s) That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the Common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the Covenants of Promise. Where, though he may call all the Covenant-dispensations before Christs coming, Covenants of Promise: yet seeing he immediately before mentions, the Common-wealth of Israel, it is to me very probable that he intended especially this eminent Sinai-Covenant.

II. The Nature and Properties of a Covenant evidently agree to, and are found in the Law, as published on Mount Sinai to Israel. For, Herein are,

1. Fœderal Articles agreed upon, containining the Matter and Substance of the Covenant. These are; 1. Summarily Propounded, in Gods Preface to the giving of the Law, Exod. 19. 3, 4, 5, 6. God propounds them to Moses: and Moses to the people. 2. Largely and audibly Promulged with a great voyce by God himself from Mount Sinai in the hearing of all Israel, saying, I am the LORD thy God, &c. Exod. 20. 1. to 18. Deut 5. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, &c. these things promulged were the ten words, or Commandments of the Moral Law. 3. More largely and fully recorded in a Book by Moses for the Constant Memory of the thing. For, Moses told the people all the words of the LORD, and all the judgements: (viz. Not only the Moral Law, but many Ceremonials, and the main body of the Judicials, which God had already declared to Moses, And Moses wrote all the words of the LORD, Exod. 24. 3, 4. This hath reference to all that went before: Morals, Ceremonials, Judicials. And this writing is called, The Book of the Covenant, Exod. 24. 7.

2. The Mutual Consent of Fœderates to these Articles and Matters of the Covenant: according to the Customs of Covenanting. This Consent between God and Israel, is remarkably storyed three times, viz. 1. When the Sum of the Covenant was propounded in the Preface. God propounds, Exod. 19, 3, 4, 5, 6. And all the people answered together, and said: All that the LORD hath spoken, we will do, Exod. 19. 7, 8. 2. When the Moral Law was promulged. God spake it, Exod 20. 1. &c. Deut. 5. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. &c. 22. And the people terrified with Gods immediate voice, and unable to bear it any more, requested Moses, saying;

Go

Go thou near, and hear all that the LORD our God shall say, and speak thou unto us, all that the LORD our God shall speak unto thee, and we will hear it, and do it, Exod. 20. 19. Deut. 5. 27. (t) When Moses, both by word of mouth, and by writing, had declared to Israel all the words of the LORD, touching Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials: The People Answered; all the words which the LORD hath said, will we do. All that the LORD hath said, will we do, and be obedient, Exod. 24. 3, 7.

3. The Federal Sanction, (u) Dedication, and Solemn Ratification of the Covenant between God and Israel, thus consented unto by them. Moses reading the Book of the Covenant in the Audience of the people, under Mount Sinai; Offering of Sacrifices, And Sprinkling the blood, one half upon the Altar, representing God, and the other half upon the people, Saying; Behold the Blood of the Covenant which the LORD hath made with you concerning all these words, Exod. 24. 5, 6, 7, 8. This was a most renowned Foederal Solemnity.

4. The Divine Recording and Custody of the Covenant for a perpetual Memorial to after Generations. God himself wrote his Covenant in two Tables of stone, Deut. 4. 13. which Tables are thereupon called; The Tables of the Covenant, Deut. 9. 9, 11, 15. And God commanded these Tables to be kept in an Ark appointed for that end, Exod. 25. 21. which Ark is thereupon frequently stiled, The Ark of the Covenant, Numb. 10. 33. & 14. 44. and often in the Old Testament. See also Heb. 9. 4.

By these things it is undeniably evident, That the Law given on Mount Sinai, was given in the Notion and way of a Covenant. I have cleared this the rather, because few consider that the Law was given at Mount Sinai as a Covenant.

II. What Law it was, which was given as a Covenant at Mount Sinai. This may the rather be questioned, because three sorts of Laws, viz. The Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial Laws were then and there given to Israel, as I have already manifested.

Thus, I conceive, we may briefly resolve; viz.

1. That the Law in the largest acceptation, as it imports the whole Administration of the Law Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial at Mount Sinai by Moses to Israel, was given as A Covenant. And this, for these Reasons. 1. Because, (x) God gave on Mount Sinai to Israel (before his Covenant was compleated and ratified beneath the Mount) Not only his whole Moral Law; but also Many Ceremonials, as touching Altars, Sacrifices, First-fruits, The seventh year Sabbath, The three Solemn Feasts every year, &c. And the chief Body of Judicials. Why should these be given before the Sanction of the Covenant: but because they were to be integral parts of the matter of the Covenant? 2. Because, On the evening before the Covenant was solemnly Ratified, Moses (y) came and told the people all the words of the LORD, and all the judgements. To all which the people con-consented promising obedience. This evidently refers both to Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials, which Moses had in charge from God. (y) And Moses wrote all the words of the LORD. And early in the morning he builded an Altar beneath the Mount, offered Sacrifice, Read the Book of the Covenant to the people, Sprinkled the Blood of the Covenant: and thus the Covenant (containing all these three sorts of Laws) was solemnly established. This is a very cogent and convincing Reason, to shew, That the Covenant contained the whole Law given on Mount Sinai, Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial. This is much to be noted, because this will hereafter tend singularly to shew the Nature and kind of this Covenant, that it was not a Covenant of Works, but of Faith.

(y) Exod. 24. 4,5,6,7,8.

2. That, Notwithstanding, (z) The Moral Law is by way of Eminency called and peculiarly stiled, The Covenant, (a) God promulged it, and wrote it twice on two Tables of stone. (b) Those two Tables are called (a) The Tables of Covenant, and the Ark containing the Tables. (b) The Ark of the Covenant. All having special and peculiar reference to the Moral Law. This I conceive to be stiled The Covenant, not by way of Exclusion of the rest, but by way of Eminency and Prerogative above the rest. Because, the Moral Law was the chiefest and most eminent of all those Laws, in many regards.

(a) Deut. 9.9, 11,15.

(b) Numb. 10.33. & 14. 44.

2. Because, The Ceremonial and Judicial Laws were comprized in the Mouth. But, the Ceremonial Laws are all comprized in the First Table, being additional Explanations thereof, till the time of Reformation, when Christ the Promised Seed should come. And all the Judicials were comprized under the Second Table, being Additional explanations thereof to continue in force till the Jewish Common-wealth should be dissolved. Thus, if we say, the Moral Law, as given on Mount Sinai, was that Sinai-Covenant; we shall speak safely. Inasmuch as both the Ceremonial and Judicial Laws were comprehended therein, and so are not excluded from the Covenant.

III. What sort and manner of Covenant this Law was: is next to be considered.

This Particular is involved in much difficulty, and therefore requires the larger handling. One (c) Compares it to the Land of Canaan: (which was a good and pleasant land,) but there lye many Giants, many Great Objections in the way. And as Abraham's Ram was intangled in the thicket by the head: So very many and learned writers are much intangled and perplexed in their Notions and Expressions, how the Nature of this SINAI-COVENANT, wherein they not only dissent oft-times from one another, but sometimes from themselves so far, that it is hard to discover their sense and meaning.

(c) Mr. Anth. Burges in his vindic. Legis. Lect. xxiv.

I find principally four Several Opinions touching this Matter, viz. 1. The first holding, That the Law on Mount Sinai was given as a Covenant of Works, not of Grace, (or) of Faith, as I had rather ſtile it.) 2. The ſecond holding, That it was a Mixt Covenant, Partly of Works, Partly of Grace. 3. The third holding, That it was not purely and properly either A Covenant of Nature or of Grace, but a Covenant Subſervient to the Covenant of Grace, and preparing thereunto. 4. The fourth holding, That it was a Covenant of Grace for Subſtance, though propounded in an unuſual way of terrour and ſervile bondage, ſuitable to that people, time, and ſtate of the Church under age. Touching theſe various Opinions, I intend not Polemically to diſcuſs them; but rather Poſitively, to give a brief Narrative of them ſeverally, And to annex briefly ſome few Reaſons, Partly againſt ſuch of them as do not ſatisfie; and Partly for that, which is the Truth. After which, I ſhall remove Objections made to the Contrary.

1. Opinion That the Law given on Mount Sinai, was given as a Covenant of Works, not as a Covenant of Grace. And ſo the Aſſerter of this Opinion, makes the Old and New Teſtament, as the Covenant of Works and Grace, not only differing Gradually in ſome degree of Manifeſtation and Miniſtration, but alſo Oppoſite Specifically in Subſtance and in Kind.

Some expreſs themſelves thus herein; That God conferred Grace to the Fathers before Moſes, not by Covenant, but only by Promiſe: Accounting all that Moſes comprehends under Covenant, to be the Covenant of Works and Old Teſtament.

Anſw. But this ſatisfies not. For, 1. That diſtinction of Promiſe, from Covenant, as oppoſite and contra-diſtinct thereunto; is not ſolid; nor grounded ſufficiently on any Scripture. Yea Scripture contrariwiſe Aſſures us, that Gods Contract with Abraham is ſometimes ſtiled, (d) The Promiſe; Sometimes, (e) Covenant; and Sometimes it is reckoned up and comprized among, (f) the Covenants of Promiſe; yea Sometimes ſtiled (g) Promiſes, and Covenant. So that the Scripture uſeth, in this diſpenſation to Abraham, the words Covenants and Promiſes promiſcuouſly as Synonyma's, to denote one and the ſame thing. 2. God made a a Covenant with Noah a little before the flood, which was a (h) Covenant of Grace, and Faith. For Noah believing and obeying God therein became heir of the righteouſneſs which is by Faith. This God cals his Covenant with Noah. God made afterwards Promiſes to Abraham, which he cals his (i) Covenant again and again: and which had all the accompliſhments of a Covenant. Under which Abraham was (k) Juſtified by Faith, and became (l) father of all the faithful. Therefore the Covenant of Grace was, and was called Covenant, long before Moſes. 3. After the Covenant of works was broken by Adam's Fall, it cannot be proved that God did at any time after ſet on foot A Covenant of Works in the Church of God. As afterwards will more appear.

ſtrictly. Largely, So, not only the Law of Moſes, but alſo the Promiſe to Adam, and after to Abraham, are comprized under the Old Teſtament, Gal. 3. 17. Eph. 2. 12. and in this Notion the Old Teſtament differs not from the New in Subſtance, but only in Manner of Adminiſtration. (n) —Strictly and Properly; So, under the name of (The Old Teſtament) was ſignified the Law, as given by Moſes to the Jews, Promiſing life under the Condition of the Curſe to tranſgreſſors, together with an intolerable burden of legal Rites, and yoak of ſtricteſt Politie: which therefore is called, a Killing Letter, A Miniſtration of Death and Condemnation gendring to bondage, like Hagar, 2 Cor. 3. 6, 7. Gal. 4. 23, 24. To this the New Teſtament in proper ſignification is oppoſed, viz. A Doctrine of Spiritual Grace and Salvation fully revealed by the ſon of God from the boſom of the Father, and divulged by the Apoſtles preaching, wherein is promiſed free righteouſneſs and eternal life, through and for the merit of Chriſt the Teſtator, to all that ſhould believe in him, by the Grace that he would give them. In this ſignification, (o) the Old and New Teſtament do not differ only in ſome Circumſtances and Accidents, but Eſſentially, (and that we may uſe Pauls words,) they are two Teſtaments. Gal. 4. 23. For in them both is Inſtituted An altogether diverſe way of Salvation: Seeing, That promiſeth life under the Condition of works; but This remiſſion of ſin and eternal life to him that leans on Chriſt by faith. Therefore they are ſaid to be Fallen from Grace, that would be juſtified by the Law, Gal. 5. 4. And the Law is ſo Oppoſed to the Promiſe, that if the inheritance be by that, it cannot be by this, Gal. 3. 18. There's the ſame Oppoſition of the Law of works, and the Law of Faith, Rom. 3. 27. The firſt whereof is underſtood to be a Doctrine promiſing Salvation, upon Condition, If Thou ſhalt do all things: The other a Doctrine propounding the ſame Salvation, upon Condition If thou ſhalt believe: which very Condition God gives all that are juſtified ability to perform. Therefore in this ſenſe the Old Teſtament is called, The Miniſtery of Death, A Killing Letter, 2 Cor. 3. 6. A yoke preſſing the worſhippers with intolerable ſervitude, Acts 15. 10. A ſhadow of good things to come, Heb. 10. 1. Imperfect, to be aboliſhed, &c. Oppoſite unto which the New Teſtament in the foreſaid Signification is the Miniſtry of the Enlivening Spirit, Chriſts light yoke, Storing us with the Spirit of Adoption and liberty of the ſons of God, Mat. 11. 29. (o) To this effect alſo Gerhard expreſſeth his Opinion. Loc. Com. de Evangel. c. 17. §. 123. Tom. 3.

Anſw. Though I do much honour the learned Authors of this (p) elaborate Book, yet I deſire much more to honour the Truth of the Goſpel; and therefore I cannot but profeſs my ſelf wholly unſatisfied in this their Opinion about the Old Teſtament, or Sinai-Covenant; and do account it an Errour, chiefly upon a threefold account. For,

1. The diſtinction of the Old Teſtament; as 1. Largely taken, comprizing the Promiſe to Adam and to Abraham as well as the Law of Moſes; and 2. As Strictly taken, only for the Law of Moſes promiſing mising life, under condition of the curse to transgressors: I say this Distinction, (whereupon this opinion is grounded) is not sound nor warranted by Scripture. For I find this phrase, The old Testament, used in Scripture only in these two Senses or Acceptations, viz. 1. Properly; for the Covenant which God made with Israel at Mount Sinai which is called (q) a Covenant or Testament decaying, and waxing old, because God had antiquated it, made it old, by Instituting the New. 2. Improperly and Metonymically for the Books of Moses and the Prophets, containing this Old Testament in them, (r) for until this day remaineth the same veil untaken away in the reading of the Old Testament. As (s) Augustine calls the Books of the Scripture vetera & Nova Instrumenta, Old and New Instruments, as being authentick and confirmed by many witnesses: And Tertullian, alluding to the Judicial term, calls the Bible, (t) Nostra Digesta: Others, Our Pandects: &c. Now this distinction wanting sufficient footing in Scripture, The Opinion set thereon, That the Law was given as a Covenant of works, falls with it. As for those two texts alledged to countenance the distinction, Gal. 3. 17. Eph. 2. 12. Covenant, and Covenants of Promise, are mentioned therein; but not at all, Old Covenant: therefore they prove nothing. Add hereunto; (u) This Distinction interfers, contradicts itself. Whilst it grants, That as the Old Testament is taken Largely, comprizing the Law of Moses: and Promise to Adam, to Abraham, &c. it differs not in substance but only in manner of Administration from the New Testament: But as Strictly, for the Law of Moses, it differs in Substance. How can this be? Seeing in the larger acceptation also the Law of Moses is comprized. Can the same Law of Moses, as such, both agree and differ in Substance from the New Testament?

2. The further Proofs from Scripture, That the Old Testament and Law dispensed by Moses differ Essentially, and not only in some Accidents and Circumstances from the New Testament, are invalid to prove the thing, As,

(1) That the Old Testament is called, A Killing Letter, A Ministration of Death and Condemnation, gendering to bondage, as Hagar, 2 Cor. 3. 6, 7. Gal. 4. 23, 24.

Answ. These expressions prove not the Old Testament dispensed by Moses to be essentially differing from the New Testament, nor consequently that Old Testament to be a Covenant of works. For, 1. These expressions of (x) Paul to the Corinthians, touching Moses Ministration of the Law, are not to be taken absolutely; as if it had been absolutely and in it self the Ministration of death and Condemnation. For, Scripture elsewhere stiles it, λόγια ζῶντα, (y) Lively Oracles; Or (as some Copies) λόγον ζῶντα, A lively word, or living word: that is, An enlivening word, giving life. But understand them respectively and accidentally, in respect of this errour and mistake of the carnal and ignorant Jews, and such as follow them; them; who abstracted and separated Moses Ministration from Christ, Faith, and the Gospel, resting in the works of the Law, and seeking to be justified thereby, contrary to Gods intention and Scope in that Ministration. (z) For they had a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of Gods righteousness, and going about to stablish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves to the righteousness of God. Not perceiving that Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. Hence therefore it came to pass that they perverted the true End and Scope of Moses Ministration of the Law: and his lively Oracles became to them a Ministration of Death and Condemnation; (a) they being unable fully to perform them. Nor need this seem strange; For, Even the New Testament, called (b) The Ministration of the Spirit and The Ministration of Righteousness, because it is such absolutely and in itself; yet accidentally upon occasion of mans abuse and Corruptions, it is (c) The Savour of death unto death: and men are said to (d) have had no sin if Christ had not come; and that those men shall more hardly escape (e) that neglect Christs Ministration, then they that transgressed against Moses Ministration. These expressions, of a Ministration of death and Condemnation, reached also the Ceremonial Law, as well as the Moral: for the Ceremonial was part of the Ministration. But the Ceremonial Law (as is confessed by all) in itself held forth life and righteousness in Christ: therefore it was a Ministery of death, not in itself directly, but by accident and indirectly through the Jews errour and abuse. 2. If the Ministration of the Law in itself ministred death and condemnation, it was not universally the whole Ministration, but only some part of it: viz. (f) Gods own immediate and terrible promulgation of the Moral Law out of the midst of the fire at the first to Israel without a Mediator. For hereby they were so terrified, that they durst hear Gods immediate voice no more, lest they should dye, and that great fire should consume them: and therefore they sued to have Moses for a Mediatour; a Type of Christ. 3. Should the whole Ministration of the Law be a Ministry of Death and Condemnation, then that absurd Doctrine of the Socinians would hence ensue, who hereupon conclude, that nothing of Christ, Faith, Grace or Spirituals was offered to the Jews by Moses. 4. Whereas it is said, that (g) the Old Testament at Sinai gendred to bondage, as Hagar: understand it not absolutely and wholly, as if it gendred to bondage and nothing else, having no liberty at all therein: For, even (h) to Israel under this Ministration pertained The Adoption, which hath in it filial liberty. But understand it Comparatively: for under this Ministration, the Church being in Minority, was kept in a far more servile and slavish Condition (i) under Tutors and Governors till Christ, then the Church come to age since Christ now is in, under the New Testament. So that the difference betwixt these two Testaments is not essential and Specifical: but only Accidental and Gradual.

(2) That

(2) That the Old and New Testament are two distinct Testaments, Gal. 4. 24. holding forth two altogether divers wayes of Salvation: That, under Condition of works: this, of Faith. Hence, they are said to be fallen from grace, that would be justified by the Law. Gal. 5. 4. And the Law is so opposed to the Promise, that if the inheritance be by that, it cannot be by this. Gal. 3. 18. So, the Law of works, and Law of Faith are opposed, Rom. 3. 27.

Answ. 1. Though the Apostle stile the Old and New; that, from Sinai, this from Sion: Two distinct Covenants, or Testaments: yet doth he not make them opposite, and contrary one to the other, as a Covenant of works, and a Covenant of Faith, requiring these opposite Conditions; but rather in the (k) Allegory of Hagar and Sarah prefers the New Covenant before the Old, this being more servile, that more free, in the manner of administration, as he had (l) formerly intimated. Nor were works the Condition of the Sinai-Covenant the Old Testament required unto Justification: but Faith. Partly, Because the (m) Law was their Schoolmaster to bring them to Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. Partly Because the Law did (n) shut them up unto the Faith, which should afterwards be revealed: that so they might not wander away into any erroneous by-path of justification, from the true way of justification by faith only. Partly, because Christ is the End (or Scope) of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. The Law therefore intended not justification by works at all; but only by Christ, and faith.

2. They that did seek to be justified by the Law, are said to be (p) fallen from Grace: Not that the Law, (as it comprehends the whole administration thereof by Moses,) holds forth or intends a justification by works, repugnant to the Gospels justification of free grace by faith: but that they who erroneously mistook the Law and ends thereof, and sought for a justification by the deeds of the Law of their own invention, and establishment, these were fallen from Grace, even from the gracious way of justification by faith, revealed both in the Sinai-Covenant and in the New Testament. 3. Whereas it is said, (q) If the inheritance be of the Law, it is no more of Promise; Understand not the Law in that sense and Notion in which it was dispensed at Mount Sinai, viz. as a Covenant of Faith, (as after will appear) for so the eternal inheritance of heaven typified by Canaan was by Promise in the very Law, (r) and under this Covenant-administration they came to possess Canaan: but understand the Law as abstracted from Christ and from faith, and indeed from Moses dispensation of it, as meerly requiring works under penalty of the curse, as the Legal Justitiaries took it, and so the inheritance cannot be by promise, if it be by the Law. 4. The (s) Law of works and Law of Faith are opposed: As the Law of works is separated and considered abstractedly from Moses Ministration, not as it is Concretely joyned with and comprized in Moses administration. As the Law of works, was given in Paradise, not on Sinai: As the Law of works was mistaken by men, not not as it was on Sinai intended by God: so it is opposed to the Law of Faith, and not otherwise. Thus the grounds of this opinion fail.

3. There are many cogent Grounds and Reasons on the contrary, evincing the Negative: viz. That the Law was not given on Mount Sinai as a Covenant of works. As,

(1) Because, The Covenant of Works once violated and broken, admits of no repetition or re-iteration to the parties delinquent. For in the Nature and tenour of it, it (c) requires perfect and perpetual personal Obedience: which cannot be after obedience is once interrupted by the least failer. Now in Adam's fall all his meer posterity in and with him brake the Covenant of works: and therefore are for ever rendred uncapeable of any Covenant of works more. Nor can it be evidenced by any good ground from Scripture, that ever God renewed or set on foot again the broken Covenant of works with lapsed man. But rather by way of remedy to that irreparable Covenant of works, he presently reveals the Promise and Covenant of Faith in Christ, still enlarging the same from age to age, till the perfection of it in the New Covenant.

(c) Gen. 2. 27. with Gal. 3, 10.

(2) Because, If the Sinai-Covenant had been given as a Covenant of works, then it had antiquated and abrogated the Covenant of Faith which God formerly revealed in Christ to Abraham, to Noah, and to Adam; For a New Covenant succeeding and brought in place antiquates the former, as the (u) Apostle argues. But, (x) Gods Covenant with Abraham was to be (x) an everlasting Covenant, being confirmed (y) by two immutable things, Gods Word and Oath wherein it was impossible for God to lye. Besides, this Sinai-Covenant was so far from abolishing Gods Covenant of Faith with the Fathers, that it confirms it, and is in substance and effect one and the same with it. (z) Wherefore it shall come to pass if ye hearken to these judgements to do them that the LORD thy God shall keep unto thee the Covenant and the Mercy which he sware unto thy fathers. And in this Sinai-Covenant the same inheritance of Canaan (a Type of the heavenly inheritance) is promised again and again, which was Covenanted to Abraham in the Covenant of Faith. 3. Finally how absurd is it to imagin, That at the Fall of Adam God should lay aside the Covenant of works, and set up the Covenant of Faith from Adam, till Moses: and at Sinai should again lay aside the Covenant of Faith, and erect the Covenant of works from Moses, till Christ: and last of all at Christs coming lay aside once more the Covenant of works, and tak up again the Covenant of Faith, till the end of the world? This is fast and loose, backwards and forwards, and makes God very inconsistent with himself.

(u) Heb. 8, 13.
(x) Gen. 17. 7.
(y) Heb. 6. 17, 18.
(z) Deut. 7. 12.

(3) Because the Law, as given on Mount Sinai, the whole Ministration there, is not against the Promises, or Covenant of Faith. It is (a) diverse, but not adverse: subordinate, not contradictory to the New Testament. (b) Is the Law then against the Promises of God? God forbid.

(a) Ergo non adversa, sed diversa: non contradictione oppositâ, sed subordinata sunt hæc duo doctrinarum genera. Gerh. loc. com. de Evangel. lib. 12. Sect. 33.
(b) Gal. 3. 21, 22, 23, 24.

forbid. He abhors such a thought. The Law, as considered by legal justiciaries was against the Promises, but as given on Mount Sinai, was not against them. This he proves, 1. Because the Scripture, especially the Law, concludes all under Sin, that the promise may be given to believers. 2. Because by the Law they were, not shut up from the faith, but shut up unto the faith, that after should be revealed. 3. Because the Law was their Schoolmaster to Christ, that they might be justified by faith. But if the Law were a Covenant of works, it must needs be against the Promises.

(4) Because, The Law, the Sinai-Covenant seems especially to be intended in that phrase, (c) The Covenants of Promise. All Gods Covenants, after the Fall till Christ was performed, seem to be stiled in reference to Christ Promised, the Covenants of Promise: but chiefly the Sinai-Covenant, because the Common-wealth of Israel, constituted at Mount Sinai, is mentioned with it. Now the Covenants of Promise were not the Covenant of Works, but of Faith, one as well as another.

(5) Because, The ordinary fixed Sacraments annexed to the Covenant of Faith dispensed from Abraham till this Sinai Covenant, viz. Circumcision and the Passover, (both of them signifying Christ,) were also annexed and continued to this Sinai-Covenant till (d) the coming of Christ, and none other ordinary Sacraments but they. Therefore the Sinai-Covenant could not be a Covenant of works: being Sealed and Confirmed with the (e) Seals of the righteousness of Faith.

(6) Because, This Sinai-Covenant (f) was ordained in the hand of a Mediator Moses, as a Type of Christ the true Mediator. But the Covenant of works hath not, needs not any Mediator.

(7) Because, All the following Arguments that prove this Sinai-Covenant to be a Covenant of Faith, do thereupon consequently conclude it not to be a Covenant of works.

II. Opinion. That the Law was given on Mount Sinai was a Mixt Covenant, Partly of Works, Partly of Grace. They explain themselves to this effect. (g) That the Law was propounded two ways. viz.

First, The Moral Law alone, after great Preparation of the people, was promulged immediately by God to Israel, with a great voice, and in most terrible manner, afterwards somewhat lenified by Moses writing it with some Ceremonials and Judicials in a Book, by his reading them thence to the people, and by Covenanting with offering of Sacrifices. After which God calls Moses again up into the Mount, and writes the ten Commandments with his own finger in two Tables of stone of his own preparing, and sends Moses down with them open in his two hands to the people, who in Moses absence had broken the Covenant by idolatry in the matter of Aarons Calf, which when Moses saw he brake the two tables beneath the Mount in their sight, to signifie their breach of Covenant with God. This was the first way of propounding the Law, and most rigid, being a perfect and exact draught of the law of prime Nature, wherein the Law breaths nothing but wrath to fall on nature, having no Grace nor Mercy, Joh. 1. 17. this exacted perfect obedience to eternal life, threatning the Curse to all that continue not in every thing written in the Book of the Law to do it, Deut. 27. 26. This Contained a perfect Covenant of Works: and stood in full Opposition to the Covenant of Grace.

Secondly, The whole frame and Oeconomy, of Moses Law was given by him to the people, in a Comfortable temper or moderation, with promises of pardon to the penitent, and of blessings to the Obedient: and the Tables renewed differently from the former. viz. 1. Now no more terribleness and thundering, nor strictness of Preparation. 2. Now The Mediator Moses must prepare the Tables, and bring them up to God, who would write therein the same words which were in the former. 3. Now Moses must prepare an Ark, not only for safe-keeping of the Tables, but for covering the Curse of the Law from the people: Nor must People or Priest read the Law out of Stone, but as it was mollified by Moses transcription in his books. 4. Now the Lord proclaims all his goodness before Moses, Exod. 34. for the support and encouragement of penitent Sinners. 5. Now Moses coming down, his face shined so gloriously, that he put a veil upon it to hide the Curse of the Law from the people. And till the Law was in Arked, and veiled, &c. the peoples hearts and consciences were not quieted. Thus the Law was a Covenant of Grace, or subordinate to the Covenant of Grace.

Answ. This Opinion to this effect Explained, some, do embrace. But this Opinion satisfies not: though it be very plausibly represented, and divers things, therein related, be true. For,

1. In this twofold Proposal of the Law fore-mentioned, the one, with rigour, the other with moderation, This Opinion supposeth two distinct and opposite kinds of Covenants to be propounded, viz. A Covenant of Works, in the former; A Covenant of Grace, in the latter. But this cannot be admitted. For, 1. Moses never speaks of any more Covenants made with Israel at Horeb, then one. He still cals it (h) Covenant: not Covenants. 2. The Prophet (i) Jeremie also, and the Apostle (k) Paul reciting this Sinai-dispensation, speak of it as one single Covenant only. 3. The Covenant of Works and the Covenant of Faith, or of Grace are so essentially opposite and inconsistent one with another, that they cannot be comprized in one and the same Sinai-administration. For as the Apostle in another case said of Gods (l) Election, so in this case we may say Gods Covenant-administration: If by Grace, then it is no more of Works: otherwise Grace is no more Grace. But if it be of Works, then it is no more Grace; otherwise work is no more work.

2. The Series and order of Gods proceeding in this Sinai-dispensation of the Law is not so exactly and heedfully observed and related by the Authors of this opinion. Whilst they make the first proposal of the Law and inscription thereof in the first Tables, to be a most rigid and exact draught of the Law of prime Nature, wherein the Law breathed breathed nothing but wrath to fallen Nature, without Grace and Mercy: containing a perfect Covenant of Works, opposite to the Covenant of Grace. Herein is a great mistake. For, 1. In Gods (m) Preface before the giving of the Law, he gives them an abstract of his Covenant, which he now intended, and a sweet fore-taste of divers excellent Gospel-graces and mercies promised to Covenant-keepers. This some take to be that (n) Spiritual Contract, whereby God espoused Israel to himself, and became an husband to them. 2. In the very Preface of the Decalogue, God represents himself to them, as their (o) Covenant-God and Redeemer. And in (p) the second and fifth Commandments, promising mercy to thousands of them that love him and obey him, and the Land of Canaan a Type of the Eternal Rest in Heaven. 3. When the people were terrified by Gods immediate voice, so as to see the need of, and sue for, a Mediator betwixt God and them: (q) God highly commends their desires, gives them Moses a Typical Mediator, and promiseth Christ the true Mediator to them. 4. The Lord (r) annexed to the Moral Law, many Ceremonials typifying Gospel-grace and mercy by Jesus Christ, besides the body of Judicials: All which Moses rehearsed to the people, and recorded them in a Book. 5. After this, (s) Moses brings all the people below the Hill to enter into Solemn Covenant with God by Sacrifices slain: Moses reading the Book of the Covenant to the people, and the people expressing their Consent, the bloud of the Sacrifices being sprinkled as the blood of the Covenant (a type of Christs true Covenant-confirming blood,) the one half on the Altar, the other half on the people, for ratification of the Covenant. 6. This Solemnity of the Covenant being dispatched, (t) Moses, Aaron and his sons, with seventy Elders of Israel, went up into the Mount and there had a most gracious vision of God, in representations of divine grace and favour, as their Covenant-God. 7. Moses is (u) called up higher into the Mount, and was there with God forty days, and forty nights, during which time God (x) Communed with him and gave him Commandments touching the Tabernacle and other Ceremonials, clear Types of Christ and Gospel mercies. Now all these acts of grace and Gospel-mercy were manifested (y) before Moses came down with the first Tables. And therefore this part of the Propolal of the Law, as it had much terribleness, so also it had much Comfortableness and Evangelical sweetness evidently imprinted thereon.

3. That particular, viz. That the veil was put upon Moses face to hide the Curse, is justly exceptionable. For, 1. The Apostle Paul expounds the mysterie of it otherwise, viz. That (z) by the shineing of Moses face, was signified, the Outward glory of the Mosaical Ministration of the Old Testament. And The veyl put upon Moses face, did (a) declare, both the darkness of that Ministration in regard of the primary true and proper end of it, Christ, which (as Calvin saith) is Anima Legis the very Soul and life of the Law, and also the blindness of the minds of the Jews, that could not see into the bottom of the Law, into the End and Scope of that which was to be abolished, but generally rested in the outward letter, and carnal apprehension of the Law. The Apostle speaks not a word of veyling the Curse of the Law from them, which would have been a mercy; but of veyling the end and scope of the Law from them, which was a great judgement upon them.

2. Many learned and judicious Authors thus also understand and interpret the Apostle concerning Moses veil, not at all mentioning any use of it for hiding of the Curse. Calvin saith, (b) After Paul hath taught the genuine use of this shining, viz. That the Law might be glorious; he proceeds further, that this was a Presage of the future blinding of the Jews. He adds what was accidental, that the veil was upon Moses face: because it should come to pass, that the Jews could not behold the chief thing in the Law, nor attend to the true end thereof: As after Christs coming their senses were blinded, and the veil on them, till Moses should be turned of them to Christ, who is the Soul of the Law. To the like effect also, (c) Ainsworth, (d) Rivet, The late (e) London Annotations, (f) Augustine, and others expound this veil on Moses face.

III. Opinion. That the Sinai-Covenant, or old Covenant, was a Covenant Subservient to the Covenant of Grace, and preparing thereunto. That God made this Covenant with the People Israel at Mount Sinai, to prepare them unto the Faith, and to inflame them with desire of the Promise and Evangelical Covenant (which otherwise had languished in their minds) and to restrain them from Sin as with a bridle, till the time that he should send the Spirit of Adoption into the hearts of his, and should govern them by the Law of Liberty. And this is the Opinion of learned (g) Cameron, who doth thus further explain himself herein. viz.

Gods Covenant is, 1. Of Nature, with man in innocency. 2. Of Grace, with man lapsed. 3. Subservient to the Covenant of Grace, which in Scripture is called, the old Covenant, Heb. 8.13. (h) ——The Nature and Condition whereof cannot more certainly be found out, then by comparing it, 1. With the Covenant of Nature. 2. With the Covenant of Grace.

1. With the Covenant of Nature, this subservient Covenant or old Covenant, Agrees; and Differs from it divers ways.

(1) It

(1) It agrees herein, 1. That in both, the one Party Contracting is God, the other is man. 2. That both have a stipulation annexed. 3. That the Stipulation is the same in respect of the Moral Law. 4. That the Promise is the same in the General. 5. That both lead unto Christ.

(2) It differs herein. 1. That the Covenant of Nature, was contracted with all men altogether: this, with Israelites alone. 2. That the Covenant of Nature was presently made with man created, and had no preludia: The old Covenant long after, and had many preludia's. 3. That the Covenant of Nature obliged only to obedience due by the Law of Nature: the Old Covenant bound also to Ceremonies. 4. In both, life is promised; there, in the fruition of Paradise, here, in the injoyment of Canaan. 5. Both, bring unto Christ. The Covenant of Nature doth this, not by it self, but by accident: The Old Covenant doth this by it self, for it is its true and proper Scope. For God did not enter the Covenant of nature with men, that being pressed with its weight they might sigh after Christ; but the chief and ultimate end of it was, this, that man might Give to God what was his: but in the Subservient Covenant God requires his right to no other end, then that men convinced of their weakness might fly unto Christ. 6. The Covenant of Nature leans on the Creation and General Conservation: The subservient Covenant on the Election of the people Israel, their deliverance out of Egypt, and conservation in the land of Canaan. 7. The Covenant of Nature was made, that thereby men might be led sweetly, for it was written in their hearts: The Subservient Covenant that men might be even compelled, for it gendred to bondage, Gal. 4. 24. 8. The Covenant of Nature was Eternal: The Old Covenant temporary. 9. The Covenant of Nature respected not the restraint of outward wickednesses, neither in its principal, nor in its less principal scope: The Old Covenant had respect this way according to its less principal scope, Exod 20. 20. 10. The Covenant of Nature was written in the Heart: The Old Covenant in Tables of stone. 11. The Covenant of Nature was made in Paradise: the Subservient Covenant in Mount Sinai. 12. The Covenant of Nature had no Mediator: the Subservient Covenant had a Mediator, Moses. 13. The Covenant of Nature was made with men Perfect: The Subservient Covenant with part of man lapsed.

2. With the Covenant of Grace this Subservient Covenant Agrees, and Differs from it diversly.

(1) It Agrees with it herein. That, 1. God is the Author of both. 2. Both of them are contracted with man a Sinner. 3. Both shew Sin. 4. Both restrain from Sin. 5. Both lead to Christ. 6. Both of them are a Symbole of the Church of God. 7. Both of them are a Covenant through a Mediator. 8. In both, life is promised.

(2) It differs from the Covenant of Grace herein. 1. In the habitude of the Author. For in the Subservient Covenant God is considered as reproving sin, and approving righteousness alone: but in the Covenant of Grace as pardoning sin, and renewing in man a new right conscience. 2. In the Stipulation. For the Stipulation of the Old Covenant is this, Do this, and thou shalt live, Gal. 3. 12. Of the New, Believe, and thou shalt not come into Condemnation. John 3. 18. 3. In Antiquity. For the Subservient Covenant was added to the Promises of Grace which went before, Gal. 3. 16, 17, 19. 4. In the manner of shewing sin. For the Subservient Covenant doth not shew sin primarily, but by experience of humane imbecillity in keeping that Covenant, Rom. 7. throughout: but the Covenant of Grace doth this primarily, for it teacheth expressly man to be a Sinner, Rom. 3. 9. &c. 23. And his happiness to be placed in remission of sin, Rom. 4. 6. &c. 5. The Subservient Covenant restrains from sin, but with coaction, Rom. 7. 22, 23, 24. The Covenant of Grace with a free inclination of the soul, Rom. 6. 6. Both bring to Christ. The Covenant of Grace, directly: The Subservient Covenant, indirectly. 7. Both are a Symbole of the Church. The Old Covenant is a carnal Symbole of the Jewish Church: but the Covenant of grace is a spiritual Symbole of the Church of the Gentiles as well as of the Jews. 8. Both Covenants being made through a Mediator. The Mediator of the old Covenant is the man Moses. The Mediator of the new Covenant is not (ἀνθρωπος) feeble man, but (θεανθρωπος) God-man, Christ. 9. In the Old Covenant the spirit of bondage was given, Gal. 4. 24, 25. But in the Covenant of Grace the Spirit of Adoption, Rom. 8. 15. 10. The Old Covenant was a means to the End: The Covenant of grace, the end. 11. The Old Covenant terrified the Consciences: The New, Comforts. 12. The Object of the Old Covenant is Man fallen asleep in sin: Of the New, the Conscience terrified with sin. 13. The Old Covenant shewed the way of worshipping God, but performed it not: The New Covenant doth both. 14. The Old Covenant was an Hand-writing against us, Col. 2. 14. But the New, a refreshing and easie yoke Math. 11. 28. 15. The Old Covenant was given from the terrible Mount Sinai, Heb. 12. 18. to 24. The New, from the Heavenly amiable and delectable Sion, Psal. 2. 6. 16. The Old Coveenant excludes the Gentiles: The New admits them. 17. Lastly, this difference is added by some. That seeing life is promised in both, there life seems to be promised in the Land of Canaan, here in Heaven.

Hence by way of Corollary, he adds this Definition of the Old Covenant. The Old Covenant is that whereby God requires of the people Israel the Obedience of the Moral, Ceremonial, and Political Law, and to the Performers promiseth all manner of blessings in the possession of the Land of Canaan, but contrariwise to the violaters severely threatneth Curses and Death, and that to this end that he might lead them to the Messiah that was to come. Thus Cameron.

Answ. Though this be the Opinion of a learned Author, yet it doth not satisfie as being justly liable to sundry exceptions, 1. Some More General, Some more particular.

1. That

1. That The Covenant of Nature, The Covenant of Grace, and the Subservient Covenant or old Covenant, are made three distinct sorts or Kinds of Covenant essentially and specifically different one from another: and yet, The Covenant of Nature before the Fall, and the Covenant subservient at Mount Sinai, are both of them made a Covenant of Works, having one and the same stipulation in respect of the Moral Law, Do this and live. The Division of a Genus into its Species, must be into members specifically distinct and opposite; but these are Co-incident. 2. Besides, the Subservient or old Covenant is not a Covenant of works, (as I have already proved) nor is the stipulation of it, Do this and live; opposite to the stipulation of the Covenant of Grace, Believe and live. The Old Covenant being one distinct dispensation of the Covenant of Grace (as will after appear.) So that the Subservient Covenant and Covenant of Grace, are Co-incident. Therefore his first Distribution of Gods Covenant into these three Kinds, (two whereof, viz. The Covenant of Nature, and Subservient Covenant himself makes Co-incident: and two whereof, viz. The Subservient or Old Covenant, and the Covenant of Grace, are in their own Nature Co-incident,) is a Distribution neither Logical nor Theological.

2. That, By this Distribution of Gods Covenant with man into these three Kinds the clear order of Gods Covenant-Administrations is obscured and inverted. This was evidently the Lords way; with man perfect in Gods image he made a Covenant of works or a Covenant of Nature, which by meer natural concreated abilities man could in his own person perfectly fulfil. With man lapsed from this first Covenant of works he makes a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ, Partly as Promised, more and more clearly by certain steps and degrees, as the Church grew riper and the exhibition of Christ nearer; and these gradual Promises and Covenants are called, (i) Covenants of Promise: Partly as performed in fulness of time in humane flesh, and so he gives his last and clearest Foederal Dispensation, the New Covenant or New Testament, to continue to the worlds end. In this way all things are most Clear, and in beautiful Order. But this opinion setting forth, First the Covenant of Nature with perfect man, Then the Covenant of Grace with lapsed man, Then the Covenant Subservient as a Covenant of Works, and last of all the Covenant of Grace again in these latter daies; obscures the Lords Dispensations which are clear, and disorders them that are orderly, as if the Lord did do, and undo, went backward and forward in his Foederal administrations.

3. That, All these three distinct kinds of Covenants are said to lead unto Christ. This is a Paradox. For the Covenant of works, exacting perfect and perpetual personal obedience from man in perfect state, knows no Mediator, needs no Mediator and in case of non-performance, denounceth death without mercy, without any place for repentance. And had not the Covenant of Faith been revealed after the Fall to lead to Christ, the Covenant of works had left man utterly desperate and remediless, not affording to lapsed man the least Glimering of a Mediator. This is the primary and most essential difference betwixt the Covenant of works and the Covenant of Faith, That the Covenant of works assures of life upon mans own meer perfect and perpetual personal obedience: The Covenant of Faith assures of life upon Faith in Christ the Sinners Surety and his Obedience.

1. That herein the Covenant of Grace and New Covenant are spoken of as one and the same: and yet the Covenant of Grace or New Covenant is said to be more ancient then the subservient or old Covenant. Whereas the Covenant of Grace differs from the New Covenant, as the Species from the individuum as the Kind of Covenant from one Individual Administration of that kinde. And if the Covenant of Grace and New Covenant be taken as equivalent and Convertible terms, so the Covenant of Grace is not more ancient then the subservient or old Covenant: The New Covenant succeeding the Old.

2. That, It considers God in the Old subservient Covenant only as reproving sin, and approving righteousness: but not as pardoning sin, or renewing righteousness in man. Whereas, God is also considered and represented in this Old Covenant, 1. As Pardoning Sin: witness, His (k) name proclaimed at the renewing of the Tables, pardoning iniquity transgression and sin: His often (l) pardoning of Israel from their coming out of Egypt: and the blood of Sacrifices ordained under this Covenant-administration, (m) which led that people to the true blood of Jesus Christ that cleanseth from all sin. 2. As renewing righteousness in man: witness, Gods Promise in his preface to this Covenant, (n) And ye shall be unto me a peculiar treasure, a kingdom of Priests and an holy Nation; His Promise annexed to this Covenant, (o) To Circumcise their heart and the heart of their Seed to love the Lord, &c. And the many Ceremonial washings, purifications, &c. shadowing out the spiritual washing by the holy Ghost.

3. That, It makes man the only Party Contracting with God in the old Covenant. Whereas the Party contracting with God in every Dispensation and period of the Covenant of Faith, (whereof this Old Covenant is one) is Jesus Christ and his Spiritual Seed: As (p) hath been already evidenced.

4. That According to this Opinion, as life in Paradise was the only life Promised in the Covenant of Nature: So life, in the possession of Canaan was all the life promised in the Subservient or Old Covenant. Whereas, (not to dispute about the life in Paradise,) 1. Under Life in Canaan, was shewed our eternal life life in heaven; Canaan being a Type of Heaven, as hath been formerly manifested. 2. The Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, &c. to whom God gave the inheritance ritance of Canaan by Promise: lived (r) as pilgrims and strangers in the land of promise, declaring plainly thereby that they sought a better Country, that is an heavenly. 3. This entrenches too near the borders of Socinianism, That under Moses the fathers had only earthly and temporal blessings.

(r) Heb 11. 9. 14. 15, 16.

5. That it makes Moses alone the Mediator of the Old Testament. Whereas 1. Moses was only the Typical Mediator: Christ the true Typified Mediator, (s) as Moses plainly intimateth. And Christs blood, typified in the blood of Sacrifices, was the principal blood that made it a Testament. 2. Whereas it is said, (t) The Law was ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediator: It is much Questioned by some, whether that Mediator was not indeed Jesus Christ himself, and not Moses.

(s) Deut. 18. 15. to 20.
(t) Gal. 3. 18.

6. That, It asserts The Old Covenant to lead to Christ indirectly. Whereas, 1. Every expressure of the Covenant of Faith (among which this old Covenant is one) led to Christ directly, though darkly. The further from Christ, the darker: the nearer to Christ, still the clearer. Christ being the Primary scope, end, and intention of them all. 2. The Apostle saith, (u) Christ was the end of the Law, the very chief scope and intention thereof. And the Law was the Jews (x) Schoolmaster to bring them to Christ, &c. understand Moses his whole dispensation. Which, Partly by detecting Sin and Misery; Partly by typifying the Remedy, led most excellently to Christ the Mediator.

(u) Rom. 10. 4.
(x) Gal. 3. 24.

7. That, This Opinion makes it peculiar to the Old Covenant, to terrifie the Consciences; to the New Covenant, to Comfort them. Whereas it is evident, 1. That Though the Old Covenant hath much more servitude and terrour in it, then the New, yet it is not only and wholly terrour. For (1) The Promises Prefixed before the Promulgation: (2) The Preface to, and Promises in, the Moral Law itself. (3) The sweet vision they had of God when the Covenant was now newly established: (4) The glorious back-parts of God proclaimed at renewing of the Covenant: (5) The Mysterie of Christ shadowed out in the Ceremonial Law: and (6) The many Promises affixed to this dispensation: do flow (like the land of Canaan) with milk and honey, with sweet streams of Soul-reviving Consolations. 2. That, Though the New Covenant do more abundantly comfort the Conscience, then the Old; yet therein also are Corrosives as well as Cordials; Thunder and lightnings in severe threats against impenitent unbelievers, as well as a small still voice of promises and consolations to penitent believers.

By these things we may see what to think of this third Opinion or Interpretation.

IV. Opinion. That this Sinai-Covenant was for Substance indeed and in truth A Covenant of Grace, or A Covenant of Faith: though for Circumstance and manner of Administration it seems at the first aspect to be otherwise being published and dispensed in an altogether unusual way of Majesty, Glory, Terrour, Rigour, Servitude, and Bondage to the People Israel; yet most necessary, suitable, and accommodate to that time, People, and Condition of the Infant-Church.

This Opinion and Interpretation some have pitched upon: And I am abundantly convinced in my judgement, that it is the undoubted Truth. For Evincing whereof more satisfactorily, I shall 1. Shew, That this Sinai Covenant was dispensed in an altogether unusual way, in comparison of all other Fœderal Administrations Fore-going, or Following it. 2. Declare, How this unusual way of Administration of the Sinai-Covenant, was then, and to that people, most Apposite and Accommodate, notwithstanding. 3. Lay down certain Grounds and Reasons why This Sinai-Covenant was a Covenant of Faith, and so given. 4. Answer, Such Objections of any moment or consequence as are made to the contrary.

1. That this Sinai-Covenant was dispensed in an altogether unusual way in comparison of all other Fœderal Administrations Before or After it: will appear, by this brief Paralell betwixt It, and Them, viz.

1. The Place was Unusual; In an un-inhabited (x) Wilderness, the desolate Wilderness of Sinai, where God and Israel were alone, separate from all the world. No other fœderal dispensation was in a Wilderness.

2. The (y) Preparation of the People to it; with such Strictness and Caution and rigour was altogether unusual. No such Preparations are recorded, before any other Covenant.

3. The Promulgation of it was wholly unusual: (z) with thunders, lightnings, thick-cloud, darkness, Sound of Trumpet, Mount Sinai quaking greatly and burning with fire to the heart of heaven, out of the midst of which fire the Lord uttered his Law with a great voice which shook the very Earth, &c. Oh how dreadful and terrible was this promulgation! so that all Israel trembled for fear, and stood a far off, and Moses himself did exceedingly fear and quake. Never was Covenant dispensed, before or after, with such terrour and amazement.

4. The Condition of it imposed on the people, was imposed altogether unusually. Faith in Christ being imposed very obscurely: but obedience from that faith, being urged most exactly and particularly, both in Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials. The like exactness and particularness is not expressed in any Covenant; the Lord usually propounding the stipulation required from his people in more brief and general expressions.

5. The Number of Covenanters unusual: (a) All Israel being brought forth to meet with God below the Mount, who were (b) 603550 warriours of 20 years old and upwards, besides women and children. When were such a number convened at once, at any other time to enter into Covenant with God?

(b) Exod. 30. 12, 13, 14. & 38. 26. Numb. 2. 46.

6. The

6. The solemn (c) Sanction of the Covenant by killing of Sacrifices, and sprinkling their blood as the blood of the Covenant, half on the Altar, and half on the people, was wholly unusual. Some such thing was done darkly and more imperfectly (d) when God made Covenant with Abraham: but this was done most compleatly and clearly.

(c) Exod. 24. 4. to 9.

(d) Gen 15.9, 10,11,17,18.

7. The Writing of the Matter of the Covenant was wholly unusual; God himself (e) writing the ten Commandments in two Tables of stone once and again, and Moses recording (f) both Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials in a Book. When were there such Covenant-Rols and Records in any other dispensation?

(e) Exod. 31. 18. & 34. 1, 28.

(f) Exod. 24 3,4,7.

8. The (g) Ordaining or Disposing of this Covenant by Angels in the hand of a Typical Mediator, Moses, was altogether unusual: No other Covenant mentioning a Typical Mediator.

(g) Gal. 3.19

9. The Renewing of this Covenant, when the people had broken it by idolatry, was wholly unusual: (h) God renewing it, with Proclamation of all his goodness, and with manifestation of outward Glory, signified by the shining of Moses countenance. The like we find not in other Covenant-expressures.

(h) Exod. 34. 1, &c.

10. Finally, The (i) keeping of this Covenant in the Ark, under the Mercy-seat, was altogether unusual: No other Covenant besides this being kept in the Ark of the Covenant.

(i) Exod. 25. 16. & 40. 20.

In all these regards this Sinai Covenant was dispensed in an unusual way respectively to other Covenants.

11. This unusual way of the Sinai-Covenant's Administration, was notwithstanding most apposite and accommodate to that time and People. And that in divers respects. For,

1. The people of Israel, (having for divers generations been born and brought up in Egypt, a Paganish ignorant idolatrous land, without the knowledge, worship and fear of the true God,) must needs be very ignorant of the true God, and of his ways. The Lord therefore so dispensed his Covenant to them, having brought them out of Egypt, as to make himself more truly and clearly known to them; in his Invisible Spiritualness, Majesty, Glory, Greatness, Power, Dominion, Holiness, Righteousness, Terror, Goodness, Mercy, Grace, Truth, and in such other his perfections: To make known also his whole way of worship and service unto them, whether Moral or Ceremonial; That by his Law as a Rule of Religion and Life, they as his Covenant-people might be directed how to walk before God acceptably in Holiness and Righteousness in Christ, in order to their inheriting of Gods gracious Promises. For which end the Lord incorporated his Law and Gospel together. For (as (k) one well observeth), The Law was never given or made Positive without the Gospel, neither is the Gospel now without the Law: Although the Old Testament be usually called the Law, and the New, the Gospel: because the Law is predominant in the one, and the Gospel, in the other.

2. Since Man's Fall the world had not been so (l) throughly convinced of the sinfulness of Sin, wherein they were involved; No nor yet Israel,

(l) Rom. 5. 13. that had only lived in that ſinful Egyptian land. (l) Before the Law ſin was in the world: but ſin was not imputed, when there was no Law. God imputed it to Sinners impenitent: & believers imputed Sin to themſelves imperfectly, but the generality of the world, yea of Iſrael in effect did not impute ſin to themſelves, or charge ſin upon themſelves, ſo as to drive them out of themſelves to the Promiſed Seed, and to the true Paſſover, and Sacrifice, Chriſt, for remedy. God therefore ſo diſpenſed this Sinai-Covenant to them, as to let them ſee, The Sinfulneſs of Sin for kind, degree, and aggravation exactly in the Moral Law; The deadly and damnable Nature of Sin, in the curſe of the Law, and in the blood of Slain ſacrifices; As alſo the terror of the Lord againſt Sinners without a Mediator; (m) The Law entred that the offence might abound. (n) —— By the Law is the Knowledge of ſin. (o) —— The Law was added becauſe of tranſgreſſion, till the Seed ſhould come, to whom the promiſe was made. (p) —— The Scripture (eſpecially the Law) hath concluded all under Sin, that the Promiſe by faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe.

3. Iſrael was now a moſt numerous people, a Mighty Nation, being able warriours: of 20 years old and upwards 603550, beſides women and all children under 20, and all theſe without any eſtabliſhed Order or Government amongſt them. It was no ſmall matter that would ſubdue and ſubjugate ſo great a people, make them tractable. God therefore makes known this Covenant to them, with ſuch unparalleld diſcoveries of his Majeſty, Supremacy and Greatneſs, as made all that mighty people to quake and tremble, and promiſe all obedience unto God.

4. Iſrael were naturally a ſtubborn ſtiff-necked and rebellious people againſt the Lord. Moſes tels Iſrael to their face, (q) Thou art a ſtiff necked people. —— From the day that thou didſt depart out of the land of Egypt, untill ye came to this place, ye have been rebellious againſt the LORD. Then enumerating their rebellions, he concludes; ye have been rebellious againſt the LORD from the day that I knew you. God therefore, that he might tame and keep under their ſturdy necks and rebellious hearts, impoſed this Covenant upon them as an heavy intollerable yoke till Chriſt, to humble and bow them under the burden, rigour and bondage of it.

(q) Deut 9 6, 7. to 25.

5. They (r) being ignorant of Gods righteouſneſs in Chriſt, ſought to ſtabliſh their own righteouſneſs by doing. They idolized and reſted in their ſelf-righteouſneſs. God therefore ſo diſpoſed this Covenant, as to ſtrip them of all their imaginary righteouſneſs, detect their Sin, ſhame, nakedneſs and wretchedneſs, that they might not have any confidence in themſelves, but only in (t) Chriſt, the end of the Law for righteouſneſs, to every one that believeth.

(r) Rom 10. 2, 3.
(t) Rom. 10. 4.

6. They were a people generally very weak, childiſh, carnal, and dull in their apprehenſions of Spirituals, eſpecially of the Myſterie of Chriſt; (s) being like a child in Minority, under age. The Lord therefore put them,

(s) Gal. 4. 1; 2, 3, 4, 5.

them, as children under age, under Tutors and Governors; viz. The elements or rudiments (u) and carnal ordinances of the Ceremonial Law, wherein (as in their A B C of Christianity they might learn to spell out Christ, and Sinners Salvation by him: till they should come to ripeness of age in the fulness of time, when Christ himself was actually revealed. They could not ascend to Christs spirituality: God condescends to their carnality.

(u) Heb. 9, 10.

7. Israel was now grown up beyond the compass of a private family or Domestical Church, to the capacity of being moulded and formed into a National Church. The Lord therefore so dispensed this Sinai-Covenant to them, as at once to constitute them a National Body Politique both Ecclesiastical and Civil; A Church (called (x) The Church in the Wilderness), and a (y) Common-wealth of Israel; A Political Church, and Ecclesiastical Politie: He sweetly intwisted them together, as inseparable twins, by compacting his Laws Moral, Ceremonial and Judicial (which were Constitutive of their Church and Common-wealth) into one Covenant.

(x) Act. 7. 38.

(y) Eph. 2, 12.

Thus the Lord in his singular wisdom accommodated this Sinai-Covenant to the then present capacity and condition of Israel.

III. Although this Sinai-Covenant had such an unusual Administration, that it might be Accommodated to the state of Gods Church and People in those times, till Christ should be revealed: yet notwithstanding it was Dispensed and given as A COVENANT OF FAITH and Grace in Jesus Christ. And this may be strongly evinced by these ensuing grounds and Reasons, viz.

1. Because, The Sinai-Covenant is for Substance one and the same with the Covenant made with the Fathers; Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. This is evident by two Testimonies, to mention no more. viz. 1. By that Promise of God to keep the Covenant and mercy with them, which he had sworn to their fathers; if they should keep his Commandments, Statutes, and judgements. (z) Thou shalt keep the Commandments, and the Statutes, and the Judgements, which I command thee this day, to do them. Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgements, and keep and do them, that the LORD thy God shall keep unto thee the Covenant and the Mercy which he sware unto thy fathers. Their keeping of this Sinai-Covenant, hath the promise of Gods keeping to them, and performing to them his Covenant and Mercy sworn to their Fathers: therefore this Sinai-Covenant, and that Covenant made with their fathers, held forth and ed unto them the same Mercy, and are, for Substance, the same kind of Covenant.

(z) Deut. 7. 11, 12.

2. By that passage in the (a) Covenant made with Israel in the land of Moab, (which is the same with the Sinai-Covenant, being a part of it renewed.) (b) Ye stand this day all of you before the LORD your God; —— That thou shouldst enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God, and into his Oath, which the LORD thy God maketh with thee this day. That he may establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. This speaks clearly and fully to the point, that by this Covenant he would be their God, and they should be his people, as he had sworn to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, that is, according to the tenor of his Covenant with Abraham, &c. So that this Confirms Gods former Covenant with Abraham, and the same Covenant-interest betwixt God and Abraham with his Seed, and in the same way, As he had sworn to Abraham, &c. therefore these Covenants were one and the same for Substance. Consequently, This Sinai-Covenant was a Covenant of Faith: for Gods Covenant with the fathers, Abraham, &c. was a Covenant of Faith, as I have at large evidenced in that Covenant-Period.

(a) Deut. 29. 1, &c.

(b) Deut. 29. 10, 11, 12, 13.

2. Because, The Preparatory Abstract, or Summary abridgement of the Sinai-Covenant, (premised by God for the better preparing of Israel for the promulgation of the Law and Covenant at Sinai) briefly insinuates, that the Sinai-Covenant intended, should be a Covenant of Faith. God gives them a brief hint of his intention and purpose: and what he was now about to do with them; viz. that he was about to enter into a most Solemn Covenant with them, and that a Covenant of Faith and Grace in Christ, promising Evangelical priviledges therein unto them. (c) The LORD called unto him out of the Mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Israel, ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on Eagles wings, and brought you unto my self. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep Covenant, ye shall be a Peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the Earth is mine. And ye shall be unto me a Kingdom of Priests, and An holy Nation. These words (d) I have already distributed and Explicated formerly, there See. Now I only add; That God being about to Enter into Covenant with them, gives them herein a Breviate, A precious taste of his Covenant: 1. On their part; They must obey his voice, and be faithful in his Covenant. 2. On his part; God would accept them as his Peculiar Treasure; A Kingdom of Priests, and An holy Nation. In themselves they were the sinful Seed of lapsed Adam: but here God looks upon them in Christ, and promiseth such pure Evangelical Mercies, as cannot befall lapsed Sinners, but only in and through Christ. For, Jesus Christ is (e) the Prince of the Kings of the Earth. It's he, that hath loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, And hath made us Kings and Priests unto God and his Father. Hence, Peter reckoning up the Gospel-Priviledges of believers in Christ, saith; (f) But ye are a chosen Generation, A royal Priesthood, An holy Nation, A peculiar people, &c. Hence, these pure Gospel-Blessings in Christ, do necessarily infer a pure Gospel-Covenant at Sinai promising them.

3. Because, The Covenant-Relation betwixt God and Israel, established by this Sinai-Covenant, is substantially one and the same with with that of the Covenant of Faith: consequently the Covenants are the same. This is the Covenant-Relation established betwixt God & men, by the Covenant of Faith; (g) I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people. This same Relation also is stablished betwixt God and Israel by this Sinai-Covenant. For, 1. The Covenant made with them in the land of Moab, (which was only some part of the Sinai-Covenant repeated,) expresseth this Covenant-Relation plainly; (h) That he may establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath sworn to thy fathers, to Abraham, &c. So that this Covenant-Relation is hereby stablished, as it was sworn to Abraham, viz. upon the same terms, namely, in Christ through faith. 2. The Prophet Jeremiah also evidently confirms this, saying; (i) Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this Covenant, Which I commanded your fathers in the Day, that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron-furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: So shall ye be my people, and I will be your God, &c. How can the Lord be A Covenant-God to Sinners, or Sinners be a Covenant-people to God, but only in Christ by faith? For its only Christ, according to Gods Covenant and promises, that brings God and Sinners into Union and Communion, whom sin had divided. Therefore this Evangelical Covenant Relation betwixt God and Israel, stablished by this Sinai-Covenant, proves this Covenant to be a Covenant of Faith.

4. Because, The Preface to the Decalogue, and the First Commandment, judiciously considered and compared together, contain in them Summarily the Covenant of Faith for substance. 1. The Preface to the Decalogue, (which some Count the Reason of the first Commandment, set before the Commandment, as the Reasons of the four following Commandments are set after: nor matters it, as to the force of my present Argument, whether way we refer it,) hath in it three great Arguments or Reasons inforcing to obedience; (k) I am the LORD, thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the House of Servants. 1. That he is JEHOVAH. This is Gods chief essential Name, setting forth his Nature more fully then any one word in the Hebrew, or any other language under heaven. Its derived from, Being: And it implyes, 1. Gods Supream eternal independent unalterable Being in and of himself alone. 2. Gods giving Being to all Beings. He is the fountain of all Beings. 3. Gods giving actual existence, subsistence and being to his Decrees and words Promissory or Minatory. Hence, when the time drew nigh that Israel was to be delivered out of Egypt, to go to inherit the land of Canaan, according to his Covenant and promises to Abraham, &c. (l) God said, I am JEHOVAH: and I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty: but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them, &c. that is, I declared my self to them to be an Almighty, Allsufficient God in my Covenant and and Promises, and though Covenanted blessings were not actually performed to them, yet I my self was their All-sufficiency against all wants: but I declared not my self a Covenant-performing God, a JEHOVAH to them, making my promises actually to subsist, in actual redeeming them out of Egypt, and bringing them into Canaan; Though they all knew me by my name JEHOVAH Doctrinally, yet did they not know me by it experimentally. But now I am come to make my self known experimentally to Israel to be JEHOVAH, in fulfilling my Covenant and Promise to Abraham in his Seed. 2. That he is Israels God, Thy God. Not by Common Creation or Providential Conservation only, as he is even to the wicked: but by Special Covenant, made formerly with their fathers. 3. That he is their Redeemer, Typically from Egypts thraldom; Spiritually from Sins and Satan's thraldom shadowed out thereby: As is clear from the Passover, (m) a means of their deliverance from Egypt, and a clear (n) Type of Christ. Now these three Arguments prefixed to the Law notably proclaim the Law this Sinai-Covenant to be a Covenat of Faith in Christ: for, God as JEHOVAH performs his Covenant and promise to Abraham and his Seed (o) only in Christ; is Israels Covenant-God, only in Christ, and is Israel's Redeemer only in Christ. II. The first Commandment also speaks this further. The Affirmative part of it is, (p) Thou shalt have me the Lord to be thy God only, and worship me as thy God. Now since the fall how can any have or worship the Lord as their God, without Faith in Jesus Christ? (q) without faith in Christ its impossible in any thing to please God. Without Faith in Christ, Love cannot be acted towards God, for (r) faith works by Love. Without faith in Christ no mans heart can be (s) purified, and God cannot be purely worshipped by an impure heart. And that Covenant, which necessarily requires faith in Christ, must needs be a Covenant of Faith in Christ.

5. Because, The Law was given in such sort and (t) manner, that he that runs may read, that God fully intended it, and peculiarly gave it, as a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ. Besides what hath been formerly laid down, these things are pregnant to evince this, viz.

(1) The terrour and exactness which God observed in (u) Giving of the Law was exceeding great: that hereby God might convince the people of their own utter impotency and inability to deal with God and his Law immediately by themselves without a Mediator. God and his Law were so clothed with thunder, lightning and fire at the first publication of the Covenant, that they were not able to hear it any more without a Mediator.

(2) The terrified people (x) cry out a Mediator betwixe God and them, and desire that Moses might be this Mediator. Hereupon God highly commends their request, Grants Moses (according to their desire,) to be their Mediator, and afterwards still spoke to Israel mediately by him: and in Moses, the

(3) The Ceremonial Law is (z) presently annexed to the Moral, as part of the Sinai-Covenant, to instruct them yet further in the deep Mysterie of this blessed Prophet and Mediator promised, Christ Jesus. The Ark, Mercy seat, Golden Altar of Incense, Table of Shew-bread, Altar of burnt offering, The veil of the Tabernacle, The Tabernacle it self, The Priests, The sacrifices of all sorts and their blood, The Purifications, washings, &c. all being but (a) shadows of good things to come: but the body, Christ. Whose Person, Office, Condition, Effects of his office, &c. were typified and shadowed out to the people in these things. Thus the Law was contrived to be (b) Their Schoolmaster to bring them to Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. The Moral Law chiefly by scourging and Correcting them: The Ceremonial Law chiefly by Directing them. I say chiefly: because the Moral Law, having some glimmerings of Christ in it, did in some sort also direct them; and the Ceremonial did also correct them, as being a yearly and daily remembrancer of their sin and guilt. The perfection of the Moral Law, whereof they could not but come short, forced them to seek a Mediator: And the imperfection of the Ceremonial Law, which in it self (c) made nothing perfect, but typically pointed further, viz. to Christ, helped them to finde a Mediator.

This manner of Solemn Sanction of the Sinai-Covenant by Sacrifices and Sprinkling of blood, (Types of Christ the true Sacrifice and of his blood, (e) whereby the Everlasting Covenant was established as a Testament by the Testator's Death,) I say, this Sanction shews it to be a Covenant of Faith in Christs death.

(5) The seventy elders, with Moses, Aaron and his sons, had a sweet vision of God, as well pleased with Israel, presently upon this Fœderal establishment. (f) Then went up Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel. And they saw the God of Israel: and there was under his feet, as it were a paved work of Saphir-stone, and as it were the body of heaven in its clearness. And upon the nobles of the children of Israel he laid not his hand: also they saw God, and did eat and drink. These words I have (g) formerly explained. The seventy elders representing all Israel, now being brought into Covenant with God, and thereupon appearing neater to God, by Moses the Mediator, beheld God, without fear, hurt or danger: yea they beheld him as ſmiling, not as frowning; under his feet being a clear heaven, a token of favour: not a dark cloudy heaven, a token of diſpleaſure. Jer. 4. 23, 28. Zeph. 1. 15. without Moſes the Mediator, and before their entring into Covenant with God, God was terribly repreſented to them in devouring fire: But after their entring into Covenant, and with Moſes the Mediator, God was comfortably and ſweetly repreſented to them in a clear heaven. How ſerene bright and clear is Gods Countenance to his Covenant-people in Jeſus Chriſt!

(f) Exod. 24. 9, 10, 11.

(g) Aphorism 1. & 3. particular 6.

(h) Exod. 33. 1. &c.

(6) The People having (h) broken Covenant with God moſt groſly by idolatry in Moſes abſence, the Lord brings them to a ſenſe of their haynous ſin, to humiliation and repenting for it, by Denying his wonted preſence in the midſt of them, and by Moſes pitching the Tabernacle without the Camp.

(7) Iſrael repenting of their idolatry and Covenant-breaking. (i) The LORD proclaims himſelf moſt comfortably and evangelically to Moſes, as pardoning iniquity tranſgreſſion and ſin to the penitent, but by no means clearing the guilty impenitent; and renews the ſame Covenant again with them, repairing the Tables, and receiving them into wonted favour. Now all theſe paſſages in the Manner of giving the Sinai-Covenant (to mention no more) are pregnant Indications, that it was intended and given as a Covenant of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt. For, what elſe can be clearly collected from this way and order of Gods Diſpenſation? 1. The Promulgation is exact and terrible, forcing them to cry out for a Mediator: 2. Their requeſt for a Mediator is Commended by God highly, and granted preſently; Moſes being given as a Typical Mediator, Chriſt being Promiſed as the true Mediator: 3. The Ceremonial Law is added to, and inſerted in the Covenant, to inſtruct them familiarly in the deep Myſterie of Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator. 4. The Solemn Sanction of the Covenant was by the Death and blood of Sacrifices ſhadowing out Chriſts Covenant-confirming Death and blood: 5. They had a ſweet viſion of God as ſerene and favourable, preſently upon the ſolemnity of the Covenant, they approaching nearer to God with Moſes their Mediator: 6. God reduced them to Humiliation and Repentance for their Breach of Covenant: 7. And God renewed the Tables and Covenant again with them, upon their Repenting. Theſe things were brought to paſs, not accidentally, but intentionally. They were not bare outward Tranſactions, but were full of inward Myſteriouſneſs. And the chief myſterie in the whole Series of this Adminiſtration is Jeſus Chriſt the ſoul of the Law and Covenant. Therefore theſe ſteps of Gods proceedings in this Covenant-Adminiſtration are to me a clear and cogent Argument, that this Sinai-Covenant was A Covenant of Faith.

6. Becauſe, The mutual Stipulation betwixt the Foederates in this Sinai-Covenant, is in Subſtance one and the ſame with the Stipulation in the Covenant of Faith: viz. On Gods part, Gracious Promiſes of Goſpel-Mercies: On Iſraels part, Reſtipulation of Goſpel Duties.

I. God

I. God on his part in this Sinai-Covenant Stipulateth and Promiseth many Gospel-mercies and Blessings. As, 1. To be (k) their God in Covenant, in and through Jesus Christ promised. This the highest fundamental Gospel-Promise, which virtually and eminently comprizeth in it all the rest. 2. To vouchsafe them his peculiar presence, favour, and fellowship (l) And I will set my Tabernacle amongst you: and my soul shall not abhor you: And I will walk among you, and will be your God. 3. To make and accept them to himself, (m) as A peculiar treasure above all people, A Kingdom of Priests and an Holy Nation. 4. To give them (n) Canaan, a land flowing with milk and honey, according to his Oath and promise to their fathers. Under Canaan typically promising Heaven itself the eternal inheritance and Rest. 5. To add (o) unto them, keeping his Covenant, a Confluence of all outward blessings and enjoyments; as appendixes to his Covenant. Temporals God promiseth to superadd to Spirituals: And (p) Godliness hath the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. II. Israel on their part, in this Sinai-Covenant, promise and Restipulate divers Gospel-duties imposed by God upon them. As, 1. To be his (q) people. To be wholly and solely his. This the highest Duty they can restipulate. 2. To believe in God and in Jesus Christ. This is implyed in the First Commandment, as I have already shewed. For, Israel could not have the LORD alone as their Covenant God, but by faith in Jesus Christ the Messiah and Mediator, in whom alone Sinners are brought nigh unto God in Covenant. Faith in Christ is also necessarily intimated in the right use of all the Ceremonial worship and Service. And in the accepting of Christ the Mediatour, and Prophet, like Moses, (r) promised to them. 3. To (s) love God, entirely over all, with all their heart, with all their soul and with all their might: And to love their neighbour as their self. 4. To (t) Obey the Lord sincerely and fully in all things which he Commanded them. These and like stipulations betwixt God and Israel in this Sinai-Covenant are purely Evangelical: therefore the Sinai Covenant itself must needs be a Covenant of Faith.

7. Because, The Sacramental Tokens and Seals annexed to Gods Covenant with Abraham, (which was a Covenant of Faith,) viz. Circumcision and the Passover; are continued still under this Sinai-Covenant, even till the very Death of Jesus Christ. Circumcision (u) was added to Gods Covenant with Abraham at the solemn making of that Covenant. The Passover (x) was also annexed to the same Covenant, when God was now presently to bring Israel out of Egypt, to judge the Egyptians, and to carry his people on towards Canaan, as he had (y) Covenanted to Abraham. Both these Sacraments being notable Types of Christ Jesus that was to come. Now when the Sinai-Covenant was established and all the while it continued in force from Moses till Christ, these two Sacraments of the Covenant of Faith were not abrogated and antiquated: but ſtill continued of uſe and force in the Church of God, ſo long as this Covenant-adminiſtration continued. Yea (z) they were preſſed and charged upon Gods people by this Sinai-Covenant under Moſes. Conſequently, this Sinai-Covenant, being confirmed and ratified by theſe ſeals and tokens of The Covenant of Faith it muſt needs be a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt: for it were moſt improper and abſurd to add the Seals of the Covenant of Faith, to A Covenant of works, A mixt Covenant, A Subſervient Covenant, or to any other ſort of Covenant but the Covenant of Faith.

By theſe ſeven Arguments, (to add no more) it is undeniably evident, That the Sinai-Covenant was given and intended of God as a Covenant of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt.

IV. Objections urged to the contrary are Many, and ſome of them weighty. And therefore they had need to be Removed and Anſwered. As,

Object. 1. Jeſus Chriſt ſeems not to be promiſed and Revealed in this Sinai-Covenant: and therefore how can it be a Covenant of Faith, without Chriſt the peculiar Object of Faith? Anſw. That Jeſus Chriſt is held forth and Revealed in this Sinai-Covenant, hath been already intimated in part: And ſhall now be more fully evidenced in theſe enſuing particulars. For,

1. Jeſus Chriſt and his Apoſtles in the books of the New Teſtament frequently teſtifie that Moſes Revealed Chriſt, ſpake and wrote of him. Jeſus Chriſt witneſſeth this. (a) Had ye believed Moſes, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me. (b) ——Theſe are the words which I ſpake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things muſt be fulfilled which were written in the Law of Moſes and in the Prophets, and in the Pſalms, concerning me. (c) —— And beginning at Moſes, and all the Prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himſelf. 2. The Apoſtles teſtifie this alſo. (d) Moſes truly ſaid unto the fathers, a prophet ſhall the Lord your God raiſe up unto you of your brethren like unto me, him ſhall ye hear in all things whatſoever he ſhall ſay unto you, &c. (e) ——Saying none other things then thoſe which the Prophets and Moſes did ſay ſhould come. That Chriſt ſhould ſuffer, and that he ſhould be the firſt that ſhould riſe from the dead, and ſhould ſhew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

Jeſus Chriſt is implicitly revealed, 1. In the Preparatory Goſpel-Promiſes, (f) of Iſrael's being to God a Peculiar Treaſure, a Kingdom of Prieſts, An Holy Nation. For, (as Peter intimateth) without Chriſt no Sinners can be advanced to theſe Evangelical Priviledges. 2. In the Preface to the Decalogue. For, (g) God is not a JEHOVAH to any as giving actual ſubſiſtence and performance to his promiſes, nor a Covenant-God, Nor a Redeemer from ſin and miſery typified by their Redemption out of Egypt, but only in and by Jeſus Chriſt, 3. In the firſt Commandment, For,

The Lord alone cannot be had and worshipped as our Covenant-God, but only in, and through Jesus Christ. Christ is the only (h) way to the father: and (i) without Christ we can do nothing pleasing unto God. To this effect said Luther: (k) In the First Precept thou shalt find Christ, Life, victory of Death, and the Resurrection of the dead to life eternal: and to conclude the whole Old, and New Testament. 4. In the Sanction of the Covenant (l) by the Death and blood of slain Sacrifices: shadowing out the blood of Christ the true Sacrifice, whereby the Everlasting Covenant was confirmed. 5. In the Types and shadows of the Ceremonial Law. All the (m) Ceremonies ultimately typifying Christ, variously describing him, and directly, though darkly leading unto him. The Ceremonies are Christ veyled: Christ wrapped in swadling-cloaths: Christ, the Son of righteousness, shining through a cloud: Christ was implicitly revealed in them all.

3. Christ was explicitly revealed and Promised, as (n) A Prophet like unto Moses to be raised up by God unto Israel; when they, terrified with the dreadful Promulgation of the Law, requested for a Mediator betwixt God and them.

4. Jesus Christ was the very Principal Scope and Soul of the Law, or Sinai-Covenant in all the Doctrines, Commands and Promises thereof. The Law, without Christ, is but as a dead Carkase, (o) a dead Letter, yea a deadly killing Ministration of Death: but with Christ is (p) lively Oracles, and the (q) Ministration of life. (r) Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to every believer. (s) —The Law was added because of Transgressions, till the promised Seed should come. (t) —The Law was our School-master to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by Faith. So that in this whole Sinai-Covenant Jesus Christ was primarily intended. Yea Jesus Christ is more abundantly and clearly set forth in the Sinai-Covenant, then in all that went before. It is therefore a gross mistake, to say that Jesus Christ was not revealed in the Law or Sinai-Covenant.

Object. 2. Faith in Jesus Christ, and Justification by faith in Christ, are not revealed in the Sinai-Covenant, For, the Law is not of Faith, (u) though Faith in Christ be the peculiar Condition restipulated, and Justification by faith, be the peculiar benefit promised in the Covenant of Faith. And the Apostle tells us (x) That Faith was revealed afterwards, after the Law. How then can the Sinai-Covenant be a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ?

Answ. This Objection somewhat borders on the former. Both of them arise from the Mis-understanding, or Non-understanding of Gods Mysterious administration of the Sinai-Covenant, as hath been shewed; Consequently Faith in Jesus Christ and justification by faith in him, must be necessarily implyed in the same Covenant. For these; Christ and saving Faith; Christ and justification by Faith; have inseparable connexion and dependance one upon the other, as the Act and Object, as the Cause and effect. Where Christ is revealed for life and justification, Justification, there faith in him is implicitly required: and where Christ is received by Faith, there justification by faith must infallibly ensue.

2. That, saving Faith in Christ is implicitly commanded in the Affirmative of the first Commandment, of having the Lord alone for our Covenant-God, and worshipping him accordingly. For, God cannot be had or worshipped acceptably, without faith in Christ: this faith only (y) purifying the heart; this faith only (z) working by love; this faith only (a) pleasing God.

3. That, The Sinai-Covenant did directly lead Israel from all Opinion of justification by works, to Gods true and only way of Justification by faith in Christ alone: And consequently it did eminently reveal Justification by Faith. I. The Sinai-Covenant was so dispensed, as to drive men quite away from all vain Opinion and Hope of Justification by works. This is plain. For, 1. the Sinai Covenant or Law required such (b) exactness and perfection of obedience, as absolutely surpassed every meer mans ability since the fall. And therefore it could not justifie, being weak through the flesh. Supposing mans fall, it required meer impossibilities. This could work nothing, but de pair. 2. The Sinai-Covenant or Law most accurately (c) discovered sin, in all its kinds, degrees, and aggravations: together with the Curse due thereunto. And thereby let them see, that (d) by the works of the Law, only Condemnation, not at all Justification, could be expected. 3. The Sinai-Covenant was (e) promulged so terribly, that the people could not (of themselves, without a Mediator,) endure that which was commanded: much less fulfil it, or be justified by doing that which was Commanded 4. Presently (f) after the Sinai-Covenant was established, and before Moses was come down out of the Mount, the people brake the Covenant by gross Idolatry, which Moses signified by breaking the two Tables in their sight beneath the Mount. Hereby God would experimentally convince them, how impossible it was for them exactly to fulfil the Law, or to be justified by the works thereof. II. The Sinai-Covenant was so dispensed, as on the other hand to draw and direct man unto Gods only way of Justification by Faith in Iesus Christ. For, 1. To this end the Law or Sinai-Covenant did Convince of sin, and (g) concluded all under sin, that the promise by Faith of Iesus Christ might be given to them that believe. What Promise? Understand, (by a Metonymie of the Containing for the Contained) The promised Blessing of Abraham, Righteousness, Life, Salvation, Inheritance. The Law shuts all up under sin, that righteousness and happiness may not be had or expected by doing, but by believing. 2. To this end also, (h) The Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, by Correcting and by Directing us: that we might be justified by faith. Christ (i) being the righteousness of God, and the perfective end of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. All the discoveries of Christ in this dispensation, tending to set forth righteousness and life by faith in Christ alone. Christ was the true Ark, having the Covenant and Law of God fully in his heart and bowels: Christ was the true Mercy-seat, covering the Curse of the Law: Christ was the true Sacrifice, purging away sin, and making atonement by his own blood: Christ was the true Table of shew-bread, whereon all his Israel are daily presented as acceptable before the Lord. Christ was the true veil; by which, Rent, we have open entrance made into the Holy of Holies, Heaven it self, &c. 3. Paul himself deriveth and proveth the righteousness of faith from this Sinai-Covenant: As contained therein, and revealed thereby. (k) But the righteousness which is of Faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above;) Or who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead;) But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thine heart: that is, the word of Faith which we preach, That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth Confession is made unto Salvation. Whence had Paul this Description of the Righteousness of Faith; but from (l) Moses describing the Law or Sinai-Covenant? And Paul excellently expounds the words of Moses, as peculiarly intending to set forth the righteousness of Faith. We cannot wish a better Commentator. And to speak the truth, since the Fall of man, God from the foundation of the world never justified any person any other way but only by faith in Jesus Christ. This (m) Clement, in that renowned and almost Apostolical Epistle testifies; We also being called by his will in Christ Jesus, are not justified by our selves, nor by our own wisdom, or understanding, or godliness, or works which we have wrought in Holiness of heart; but by Faith, by which the omnipotent God hath justified all from the beginning. To whom be Glory for ever, and ever, Amen.

4. That, whereas Paul elsewhere saith: The Law is not of Faith, that is, sets not forth the Righteousness of Faith, Gal. 3. 12. To this I answer three things, viz. 1. That, This cannot be meant of the Law, absolutely taken, (for then, you see, Paul should contradict himself, who proves the Righteousness of Faith from the Law, as revealed therein:) but it must needs be intended of the Law in some limited and restrictive sense. 2. That this cannot be meant of the Law, More Generally and complexively taken, for the whole Sinai-Covenant as dispensed by Moses: for in this sense the Law is of Faith, principally intending Justification by faith in Christ, as hath been proved: But it may be intended of the Law, More Strictly and ababstractively taken, for the meer Preceptive part of the Law, as Declarative of, and in Substance one with the Law of Nature in Adam's heart, and as abstracted from Moses Administration thereof, in which sense the carnal Jews and Legal Justitiaries did most usually take the Law: and in this sense the Law is not of Faith, nor held forth the righteousness of Faith in Christ. 3. If it should be urged, That Paul saying, The Law is not of Faith, intends the Law in its latitude as dispensed by Moses, because he adds the tenour of the Law out of Moses, (n) But the man that doth them shall live in them; and that he means not the Law in that restrictive mistaken sense of the Legal Justitiaries: It may be further replyed, That this Sinai-Covenant was in such sort Administred, As to press upon them the perfect fulfilling of the Law, as most necessary to life and Salvation, denouncing the Curse upon the least failing: but withal revealing to them, that this perfect fulfilling of the Law in their own persons being utterly impossible, he was pleased to accept it in Christ their Surety, perfectly fulfilling it on their behalf, and bearing the curse for their offences, according to the intimation of the many Types and Ceremonies in the Law. By exacting of them perfect obedience, impossible to them, it takes them off their own bottom, not to seek for righteousness by their own doing: by representing Christs perfect obedience and sufferings as a Remedy, it teaches them to seek for righteousness by Christs perfect obedience, through faith in him. And this Answer I hold to be most satisfactory, and most agreeable to the intent of this Sinai-Covenant.

(n) Gal. 3. 12.

4. Though the Apostle saith; (o) Before faith came, we were kept under the Law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed; As intimating that Faith was not revealed before, or under, but after the Law: yet his words are not to be taken simply and absolutely, as if Faith was not at all Revealed till after the Law, for Faith was revealed before the Law, as is evident in the Covenant (p) with Abraham, and (q) with Noah: and under the Law, as I have formerly manifested, and as Paul himself plainly (r) testifies: but they must be understood only Comparatively and respectively, that till after the Law faith was not revealed so fully and clearly. The Revelation of Faith Before and under the Law was so small, imperfect, dim and obscure, in comparison of the clear, full and glorious manifestation of Faith afterwards under the New Testament, that till then it seemed as it were not to be revealed at all.

Object. 3. If Faith in Jesus Christ be commanded in the Law, then Faith justifies as it is a work of the Law: and so we are justified by works.

Answ. This follows not at all. Its a false and sophistical way of Arguing: Faith is commanded in the Law, therefore it justifies as a work of the Law; or Faith is commanded in the Gospel, therefore it justifies as an act or work of Grace. Both are inconsequent.

consequent. Here's non Causa, pro Causâ. More particularly, I say.

1. That saving and justifying Faith in Jesus Christ is not commanded in the Law, as the Law is absolutely considered exacting perfect obedience from a mans own person, and as abstracted from Moses administration: But as it was foederally dispensed on Mount Sinai, principally intending to lead Israel unto Christ, who is Anima Legis, The very soul and life of the Law.

2. That though saving Faith in Christ be commanded both in the Sinai-Covenant and in the New Covenant, yet it justifies not as an Act of Obedience, or as an Act of Grace, commanded in Law or Gospel, by its worth or dignity: but in regard of that office whereunto God hath ordained and appointed it in Justification, as it is an Organ or Instrument Receiving Christ and his righteousness in the promise. This very point (f) I have already discussed and cleared at large: thither I refer the Reader for fuller Satisfaction.

(f) Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 5. Qu. 4.

Object. 4. The Sinai-Covenant is opposed, by the Prophet Jeremiah and by the Apostle, to the New-Covenant, and is said to be broken by the People of Israel, Jer. 31. 31, 32. &c. Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10. Therefore it is not a Covenant of Faith, which is everlasting and cannot be broken; but a Covenant of works, which is but Temporary, and liable to be broken.

Answ. These Premises will not bear this Conclusion. For,

1. The Sinai-Covenant, made with Israel when God brought them out of the land of Egypt, is said to be unlike, or Not according to the New Covenant: but it is not said either by the Prophet or Apostle to be unlike to the Covenant of Faith. And the Dissimilitude or Difference here intimated betwixt the Sinai-Covenant and New-Covenant, Is not in Substance or Kinde, For in both the Lord saith, (c) I will be their God, and they shall be my people: But only in Manner of Administration and Degree. God promising in his New-Covenant a Greater, fuller and clearer Measure of Grace upon his people, then under the Sinai-Covenant: Especially in these three Particulars; viz. 1. In the Inscription of the Law upon better Tables. In the Sinai-Covenant, it was written on two dead Tables of stone: In the New Covenant it should be written upon two living Tables, The Minde, and Heart, ver. 33. 2. In Illumination, touching the LORD and his wayes. Which shall be more clear, full and universal under the New-Covenant, then under the Sinai Covenant, ver. 34. 3. In Remission and obliteration of sin. In the Sinai Covenant, sins (a) must often be purged with Sacrifices, and could not fully be taken away with blood of buls and goats, there being in those Sacrifices a remembrance again made of sins every year, yea every day: but in this New-Covenant Christ, by offering (x) one Sacrifice for Sins for ever, that is, himself, hath by that one offering perfected for ever them that are sanctified, God remembring their sins and iniquities no more, So that no more offering for Sin is necessary at all, vers. 34. Thus the Sinai-Covenant, gradually, not specifically, differs from the New-Covenant. They are both Covenants of Faith: but the New-Covenant every way more Excellent, Compleat and Perfect.

2. Though Israel brake the Sinai-Covenant by their Idolatry, yet they brake it not utterly and irreparably, as Adam brake the Covenant of Works by his first transgression: for God (y) admitted them to repentance; upon their repenting pardons them; and renews the Sinai-Covenant again with them. Therefore this breach of Covenant doth no way prove the Sinai-Covenant to be a Covenant of works, not of faith; Temporary, not Everlasting.

(b) In this ch. Aphor. 1. Infer 6. Answ. to 3. Object.

Answ. Presupposing the Distinction of Grace (b) formerly laid down, viz. That Grace is used, 1. For Gods free favour, Rom. 3. 24. Ephes. 1. 6, 7. 2. For effects and fruits of Gods free favour to us, and upon us, 2 Pet. 3. 18. 2 Cor. 12. 9. Ephes. 3. 8. 3. For the Doctrine of Grace set forth in the Gospel, especially in the New Testament, Tit. 2. 10, 11. presupposing and premising this Distinction, I Answer;

1. As for that of John, Joh. 1. 17. The intent of the Apostle seems plainly this: viz. To prefer the Ministry of Jesus Christ, far before the Ministry of Moses: And the New Testament-dispensation, beyond that of the Old. Moses he gave the Law: but Jesus Christ he brings Grace and Truth. That is, 1. Either, Christ brings the (c) Doctrine of Grace more clearly and fully now, then Moses did; and the true substance and accomplishment of the Legal Types and shadows now under the New Testament. For, Truth is here opposed, (not to lyes and falshood, but) to Types and Shadows. And the Law of Moses was not wholly destitute of Grace, Christ being the end and Mysterie of the Law; The Old Testament was a Doctrine of Grace, as well as the New: but not so fully and clearly. Law predominated in Moses Doctrine of the Old Testament, hence its called Law, as if there were no Grace in it: Grace predomniated in Christs Doctrine of the New Testament, hence its called Grace, as if there were no Law in it. And according to this interpretation the Law is not so opposed to Grace, but that it hath Grace in it: The opposition is not in regard of different kinds, but of different degrees; both Old and New Testament, both Moses and Christ teach Grace, but Christ more clearly, fully, illustriously. 2. ons against the Law, and enabling us to sincere Evangelical performance of the Law of Moses, came by Iesus Christ. Moses gave the Law, that taught and commanded what was to be done, and that prefigured Christ and Sinners Life, Redemption and Salvation by him; but Moses gave not the grace whereby men should be enabled to perform what was commanded, or should have their failings pardoned, nor did he exhibit the very Truth and Substance of spiritual things prefigured in the Law: but Jesus Christ gives grace to perform what was commanded, covering all failings and imperfections, and himself is the body and accomplishment of all Legal types and shadows obscurely pointing at him and conducting to him. This Answer I like rather then the former, because it better suits with Iohns expressions, in ver. 14, 15, 16. immediately foregoing. And according to this interpretation, Christ and Grace are not wholly excluded from the Law: for if the Law of Moses directed the Iews to Christ, and how to walk in him believingly and obedientially, (though of it self it did not give Grace or Truth, yet) it did reveal Christ and Faith in him in some measure, which is proper and peculiar to the Covenant of Faith. To this effect (d) our Modern Writers resolve this doubt: And Augustine himself expresseth his sense to like purpose, saying; (e) The Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ. Grace, that pardon of sin being granted, what was commanded might through Gods gift be performed: And Truth, that the observation of shadows being taken away, what was promised might by Gods faithfulness be exhibited.

(e) Præceptum quippe reos faciebat ad desiderandam salutem, Promissum autem figuras celebrabat ad expectandum Salvatorem: ut per adventum Novi Testamenti illos liberaret gratia donata, illas auferret veritas reddita. Ipsa enim lex per Mosen data est: Gratia & veritas per Iesum Christum facta est. Gratia scilicet, ut data indulgentia peccatorum quod præceptum erat ex Dei dono custodiretur; Veritas autem, ut ablata observatione umbratum, quod promissum erat ex Dei fide præsentaretur. Augul. contra Faust. Manichæum lib. 22. cap. vi. Tom. 6.

2. As for that of Paul, Rom. 6. 14, 15. His Scope therein is to comfort and encourage the Regenerate in their course of Sanctification, notwithstanding the reliques of Sin in them: And this he doth from their Spiritual condition that they are not (as carnal men are) under the irritation, rigour, curse, and condemnation of the Law, that Sin should reign over them; but under the power and force of saving grace that is stronger then Sin, and at last will have the total victory. So that this Antithesis of Law and Grace here, excludes not the Law from being a Covenant of Faith and Grace. But this text (f) hath been fully opened heretofore: there See.

(f) In this ch. Aphor. 1. 1 ser. vi. Answ. to 3. Obj. 6.

Object. 6. The Apostle Paul seems directly to oppose the Law of Sinai-Covenant to the Promise or Covenant of Faith, declaring (g) That if the Inheritance be by the Law, it is no more of Promise. That the Law or Sinai-Covenant (h) Gendereth to bondage, the Sion-Covenant to liberty. That the Law is a (i) Ministration of Death and condemnation, but the Gospel a Ministration of life and righteousness.

(g) Gal. 3. 18.

(h) Gal. 4. 22, &c.

(i) 2 Cor 3. 7, 8, 9.

Therefore the Sinai-Covenant or Law cannot be a Covenant of Faith or Grace.

Answ. All these particular Scriptures objected, have been formerly cleared, that they conclude not against the Sinai-Covenant's being a Covenant of Faith. Let the Reader look back to the foregoing Resolution, in this Aphorism, in Answer to the I. Opinion, That this Sinai-Covenant is a Covenant of works.

Object. 7. The Condition upon which Life and Happiness is held forth in the Law or Sinai-Covenant, is Perfect Doing; For, Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the Law, That the man which doth those things, shall live by them. Rom. 10. 5. with Lev. 18. 5. Gal. 3. 12. And he denounceth a Curse upon the least failing; Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the Book of the Law to do them, Deut. 27. 26. Gal. 3. 10. But the Condition upon which life and happiness is tendered in the Covenant of Faith, is believing in Christ, Rom. 10. 6. to 12. Doing and Believing, works and faith, are two contrary Conditions of life: Consequently the Law or Sinai-Covenant which requires Doing unto life, cannot be a Covenant of Faith, but must needs be a Covenant of Works.

Answ. This Objection, as it is most obvious to every one that reads the Epistles of Paul to the Romanes, and to the Galatians: so it is (in my judgement) of greatest difficulty to be clearly and satisfactorily answered. And yet it is of great Consequence, and necessity to be cleared, because otherwise the true Nature and intent of this Sinai-Covenant, as a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ, will not be fully and sufficiently evidenced. Several Answers are given, I shall propound them, and pitch upon such as afford best satisfaction.

1. Some expres themselves thus; That the Condition of Doing whereunto the Promises are made in the Law, is not an Antecedent, but a Consequent Condition: And that the Perfect Doing, required in the Law so exactly and frequently, is not to be interpreted Legally, but Evangelically. This way Mr. Jo. Ball goes, who in his days was a most pious, judicious and shining light in the Church of God. Thus he expresseth his notion more particularly in these words.

(k) Mr. Joh. Ball in his Treat. of the Covenant. ch. 8 p. 133. London. 1645.

(k) True it is, The Promises run upon this condition; If ye obey my voice, and do my Commandments. But Conditions are of two sorts: Antecedent, or Consequent. Antecedent, when the Condition is the Cause of the thing promised or given, as in all Civil contracts of justice, where one thing is given for another. Consequent, when the Condition is annexed to the Promise, as a Qualification of the Subject, or an Adjunct that must attend the thing promised. And in this later sense, Obedience to the Commandments was a Condition of the Promise. Not a cause why the thing promised was vouchsafed; but a Qualification of the Subject capable, or a Consquence of such great mercy freely conferred.

(l) In ch. 8. p. 136, 137.

And afterwards he explains himself further, saying; (l) These words, Do this and live, must not be interpreted, As if they did promise life upon a Condition of perfect Obedience, and for works done in such exactness as is required: But they must be expounded Evangelically, describing the subject capable of life eternal, not the cause why life and Salvation is conferred. And by Doing, Sincere uniform impartial Obedience, not exact fulfilling of the Law in every title, is to be understood. Do this and live, what is it more then this? (m) If ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my Covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar Treasure unto me. (n) Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his Commandments. (o) Blessed are they that keep judgement, and he that doth righteousness at all times. (p) Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the Law of the LORD. Blessed are they that keep his Testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart. (q) Who so looketh into the perfect Law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, shall be blessed in his deed. (r) To them, who by patient continuance in well-doing, seek for glory and honor, and immortality; Eternal life. Which passages are to be understood of sincere and upright walking: and shew who are justified, and to whom the promises of life pertain; but not why they are justified. And in like manner, that of the Apostle, The doers of the Law are justified, may be expounded Evangelically: Not of them that fulfil the Law, which should be justified by their works, but of them that soundly obey, who are justified of grace by faith, not for their works. So he.

(o) Ps. 106.3.

But this interpretation, (though in it self very pious,) comes not home to satisfie and remove the force of the Objection: and therefore I cannot acquiesce in it. For, it may be easily Replyed. 1. That, Do this and live, hath something more in it, then those other passages of Scripture alleadged by him. They may be interpreted Evangelically: but this phrase in the passages objected can hardly be so interpreted. Partly, because, Doing, in those Scriptures is directly opposed to Believing, as to the point of Justification and life, Lev. 18.5. with Rom. 10.5. Gal. 3.12. Here the Apostle purposely compares the righteousness of works and the righteousness of faith together, (faith (s) Calvin) that he may the better shew the repugnancy of them one to another. Partly, because the curse is denounced upon the least failing, Deut. 27.26. Gal. 3.10. But failings in Evangelical obedience are Covered, not Cursed. 2. That, this explication doth not reach the Mysteries and intent of this Sinai-Covenant in pressing both Perfect Doing, and Believing: which that Answer, which shall satisfie, must necessarily unfold, as after will appear.

of the Sinai-Covenant, as delivered by Moses on Mount Sinai. 2 More restrictively, as it is an abstracted Rule of righteousness consisting in Precepts, Threats and Promises, holding forth life upon a Condition absolutely impossible to lapsed man, viz. perfect and perpetual personal obedience to the Law; but denouncing the Curse and death upon the least contrary failing. In the later sense Paul understands the Law in Rom. 10. 5. & Gal. 3. 12. and in this sense, The righteousness of the Law stands in perfect doing, The man that doth them, shall live in them. And the Law, thus taken, is a Covenant of works. In this Sense the Carnal Jews, (being ignorant of Gods righteousness, and seeking to establish their own righteousness,) did take, or rather mistake the Law; and so did the false Apostles, who obtruded upon divers Churches the necessity of the works of the Law, in whole, or in part, unto justification. But this acceptation of the Law, abstracts the Law from Moses dispensation of it, from faith, and from Christ the Soul of the Law, and so leaves the Law as a meer (u) Ministry of Death and condemnation. For in this sense the Law was not given by Moses at Mount Sinai. And therefore the Apostle (x) condemns the Jews, as ignorant perverters of the true meaning of the Law, while they sought to be justified by their own works: and shews that (y) Moses himself in the Law taught them to look for Salvation in the Messiah, and for that righteousness which is by faith in Christ alone. In the former Sense, which is more Complexive and Comprehensive, Paul understands the Law, in Rom. 10. 4. Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness, to every one that believeth: and in Gal. 3. 23, 24. —— We were kept under the Law, shut up unto the Faith which should afterwards be revealed. Wherefore the Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by faith. And the Law thus taken is a Covenant of Faith in Christ Jesus, holding out life and happiness only upon condition of believing in Christ, in the sight of God. To this effect saith one; (z) The Law in it self considered, exacted perfection of works as the cause of life: But when that was impossible to man by reason of the infirmity of his flesh, it pleased the Lord to make known to his people by the Ministry of Moses, that the Law was given, not to detain man in confidence of their own works, but to lead them unto Christ. Whatsoever the Law teacheth, whatsoever it promiseth, whatsoever it commandeth, always it hath Christ for the scope thereof. For though the Law of righteousness promise a reward to the keepers thereof, yet after it hath shut up all men under sin, it doth substitute another righteousness in Christ, which is received by Faith, not purchased by merit of works. In both the former and later sense, the word Law seems to be used in that passage, (a) But now the righteousness of God without the Law (viz. strictly taken) is manifested, being witnessed by the Law (viz. largely taken) and the Prophets: even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe. This Answer cuts asunder the Sinews of the Objection, shewing, That the Law largely taken taken, holds forth life on condition of believing in Christ, and in this Notion it was given in the Sinai-Covenant, which therefore is a Covenant of Faith; That the Law strictly taken requires perfect doing, and in that Sense Moses gave it not, nor is it a Covenant of Faith but of works: But yet it doth not so fully clear the Mysterie of the Sinai-Covenant in holding forth life both upon Doing, and Believing, which the Apostle in that 10th to the Romans, and in the Epistle to the Galatians, intimateth evidently.

3. I add therefore, for the unfolding of this Mysterie more clearly, and for Answering of this Objection more fully, these few Considerations touching the Law or Sinai-Covenant, and the Condition of life and happiness therein revealed, viz.

(1) That, The Sinai-Covenant was purposely so dispensed as to tender life and happiness upon two opposite and contrary conditions, viz. Works, and Faith; Perfect Doing, and Believing. This is clear by Pauls Epistles beyond dispute. 1 Upon Perfect Doing all in the Law, Rom. 10. 5. Gal. 3. 12. with Levit. 18. 5. The curse being denounced against the least failing, Gal 3. 10. with Deut. 27. 26. 2 Upon believing in Jesus Christ the Messiah promised, Rom. 3. 21, 22. & 10. 6. to 12. compared with Deut 30. 11. to 15. See also Rom. 10. 4. Gal. 3 22, 23, 24. To deny this, which is so clear, will but tend to weaken Pauls authority, to darken many Scriptures both of Moses and Paul, and to strengthen the Objection.

(2) That, In this Sinai-Covenant these opposite Conditions, of Perfect Doing under pain of Curse and Death, and of Believing in Christ, are very differently required and revealed. Believing in Christ is revealed very sparingly and obscurely: Perfect Doing, very frequently and plainly; if the Series of the text be heedfully observed, and considered. Whence (as (b) Calvin noteth) Though the whole Ministration of the Sinai-Covenant belongs to Moses his office: yet that function most properly and peculiarly seems to be ascribed to him, which consisted in teaching what the true righteousness of works was, and what rewards or punishments attend upon the observers or breakers of the Law. Upon which account Moses is compared with Christ; (c) The Law was given by Moses: but Grace and Truth came by Jesus Christ.

(b) Jom. Calv. in Com. ad Rom. 10. 5.

(c) Ioh. 1, 17.

(3) That, Though these two Conditions of Perfect Doing, and Believing, be thus differently revealed and required in the Sinai-Covenant; yet Believing in Christ unto life and righteousness was therein chiefly and ultimately intended, and perfect doing only urged upon Israels Subordination and tendency to that Believing.

That Believing in Christ unto righteousness is chiefly and ultimately intended in the Sinai Covenant, is plain; 1. From all the former Arguments whereby I have demonstrated the Sinai Covenant to be a Covenant of Faith. 2. From the many Testimonies of the Apostle Paul, (d) declaring Christ, and Faith, and justification by faith to be the very chief scope and intent of the Law or Sinai-Covenant;

(d) Rom. 10. 4. Gal. 3. 19, 22, 23, 24.

That Perfect doing upon pain of curſe and death was urged upon Iſrael only in ſubordination and tendency to believing and the righteouſneſs of Faith, is alſo evident: For, 1. Hereby God brought Iſrael to ſee the need of a Mediator, and to deſire him; which deſire the Lord highly commended, giving them Moſes as a Typical, and promiſing Chriſt, as a true Mediator. 2. To the Moral Law, the impoſſible Rule of perfect doing, God added the Ceremonial Law, revealing Chriſt, the object of believing, And the end of the Law for righteouſneſs to every believer. 3. The (f) Scripture, peculiarly the Law, hath hereby concluded all under Sin, that the promiſe by faith of Jeſus Chriſt may be given to them that believe. 4. By the Law requiring perfect doing under a Curſe, they were (g) ſhut up unto the faith that ſhould afterwards be revealed. 5. The Law Moral and Ceremonial in this reſpect was to the Jews, (h) a ſchoolmaſter to bring them to Chriſt, that they might be juſtified by faith in Chriſt.

(f) Gal. 3. 22.

(g) Gal. 3. 23.

(h) Gal. 3. 24.

(4) That, The Condition of perfect doing under pain of Curſe and Death, convincing the Sinner of his Sin and miſery, leaves him Hopeleſs in himſelf, not to truſt in his own works for righteouſneſs: But the condition of believing gives him Hope, without himſelf, in Jeſus Chriſt, to truſt to him alone for juſtification.

(5) That, The Sinai-Covenant tendered life and happineſs upon theſe two oppoſite Conditions of Perfect Doing under penalty of curſe and death, and of Believing in Chriſt: becauſe both theſe Conditions were neceſſarily required to the Sinners happineſs, in the Sinner, Or the Sinners Surety. 1. Perfect doing of all Gods Law upon pain of death was required to the Sinners Happineſs: Becauſe Gods Covenant of works at firſt made with Adam and with all his poſterity in him, but broken by them, cannot be eluded or evaded. They muſt do it, or Dy: Otherwiſe God himſelf ſhould not be juſt and true. Do it, in their own perſons they could not, becauſe the (i) fleſh was weak: therefore they lye under the Curſe and Death. This Covenant hereupon (ſuch the contrivance of Gods infinite Wiſdom and Grace) reveals the Sinners Surety Jeſus Chriſt, who alone could ſatisfactorily bear this curſe upon himſelf, and perform the Duty of the Law to the uttermoſt, for the Sinners Redemption and Righteouſneſs. 2. Believing in Chriſt is alſo neceſſary to the Sinners happineſs: becauſe without faith his Sureties Perfect Doing and enduring cannot become his by imputation.

(i) Rom. 8. 3.

(6) That, Perfect Doing on pain of Death, and Believing in Jeſus Chriſt are ſo required and conditioned in this Sinai-Covenant, as to let all men ſee, that the Penalty and duty of the Covenant of Works, have their plenary accompliſhment in the Covenant of Faith through Jeſus Chriſt alone. For, 1. Herein perfect obedience is exacted from Sinners under a Curſe: which Obedience is as impoſſible; as the Curse intolerable, unto Sinners. 2. Herein Jesus Christ the Mediator and Sinners Surety, is set forth, As bearing the Penalty of the Curse, and fulfilling all Obedience for them most exactly. 3. Herein they are directed unto Jesus Christ by faith, for life and righteousness. Thus according to the tenor of the Sinai-Covenant, The Covenant of works hath it's perfect accomplishment in Christ, by Doing and enduring, all which becomes ours, by believing. Thus the Covenant of works is digested into, incorporated with, and wholly swallowed up by the Covenant of Faith. Thus perfect doing is attained, by Believing.

Curſe

(7) That, The Condition of Perfect Doing being thus attained by Believing, with greatest ease unties the Knots of many Difficulties, and unveils the Secret of many Mysteries. As,

How (k) Mercy and Truth have met together, Righteousness and Peace have kissed each other. This passage (l) immediately had reference to Israels deliverance from the Babylonish captivity, and the sweet effects thereof: but Mediately to Christ and our Redemption by him. In Christ these divine Attributes have sweet agreement and accomplishment towards Sinners: which without Christ seemed to be in great opposition. Mercy is expressed to the lapsed Sinner under the Penalty of the Law of works, by giving Christ to be the Sinners Surety: Truth is fulfilled, which threathed Death to the transgression of the Law, while Christ the Surety Dyed for Sinners. Justice or Righteousness is satisfied; while Christ, by perfect doing what the Law could require, and enduring what the Law could inflict, for mans offence, became an odour of a sweet smell to God: And Peace is hereby obtained for them that were by Sin at war with God, to whom by the bloud of Christ they are now reconciled. This Sinai-Covenant is so revealed, that therein all this is sweetly intimated. (m) Lyra, (n) Field, and others speak also to this effect.

(k) Ps. 85. 10.

(n) D. Field of the Church. Book. 5. chap. 11.

How Sin may be condemned, and yet Sinners Saved. Sin (o) was condemned in the flesh of Christ, sent in the similitude of sinful flesh, and for Sin: And yet the Sinner is saved, viz. by Christs condemnation. The Sinai-Covenant, detecting Sin and the curse, condemns Sin: Directing the Sinner to Christ the true Sacrifice and Substance of all the legal shadows, saves the Sinner.

(o) Rom. 8. 3.

How Sinners are at once Justified, By Perfect Doing, and by Believing. By Perfect Doing, in Christs Person, to whom the Law drives them, by exacting impossibilities of them: By Believing, in their own persons, whereunto the Law allures them, by representing Christ as the Scope and End of the Law to them. Thus its no no Paradox for Sinners to be Juſtified, in the ſight of God, both by Works, and Faith: By Chriſts Works, By their own Faith.

How Sinners can do nothing, and yet can do all things, the Law requires. In themſelves, through the weakneſs of the fleſh, they can do nothing, as the Law requires, viz. exactly, without the leaſt failing: And yet in Chriſt, the perfect Performer of the Law, embraced by Faith, they can do all things perfectly; Chriſt's perfect obedience being imputed to thee by Faith. This Sinai-Covenant therefore, requires perfect doing from the Sinner under pain of curſe, that it may drive him from himſelf who can do nothing: And requires Believing in Chriſt, that it may draw the Sinner unto Chriſt, who hath done all things (p) that ſo the righteouſneſs of the Law may be fulfilled in him.

(p) Rom. 8. 4.

How ſweetly the Law and Goſpel do agree in one. They are both digeſted and incorporated together in this one Sinai-Covenant. They joyntly conduct the Sinner out of himſelf unto Jeſus Chriſt that he may be juſtified by Faith, not by works. They joyntly require faith in Jeſus Chriſt unto Juſtification. They joyntly tender eternal life and happineſs, upon Believing. They joyntly direct Believers, how to walk towards God and man after juſtification, in order to the promiſed happineſs. How admirable is this Conſent and Harmony! In this Sinai-Covenant, the Law was not adminiſtred without the Goſpel, nor the Goſpel without the Law: they were indiviſibly conjoyned, and inſeparably married together: becoming a Legal Goſpel, and an Evangelical Law; A Goſpel, full of Doing, and a Law full of Believing. Hereby God will have us know, that neither God nor man ſhall loſe by ſubſtituting the Covenant of Faith in ſtead of the Covenant of Works, but rather both ſhall gain: God ſhall gain a better obſervance of his Law in the ſecond Adam, then he had in the Firſt; And man ſhall gain a better righteouſneſs in Chriſt by faith, then ever they had in themſelves before the fall. Thus the Goſpel (q) doth not overthrow, but eſtabliſh the Law, by ſetting forth Chriſt the perfecteſt Performer, of the Law: And the (r) Law is not againſt the Goſpel and Promiſe, but contributary to it, in that it concludes all under ſin, that the Promiſe by faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe. So that we may, as the Apoſtle in another caſe, be aſtoniſhed and cry out; (f) O the depth of the riches both of the wiſdom and knowledge of God!

(q) Rom. 3. 31.
(r) Gal. 3. 21. 22.
(f) Rom 11. 33.

Thus I have at large unfolded the third thing propounded for clearing the Second Aphoriſm, Touching the Law given by Moſes to Iſrael at Mount Sinai, as A Covenant: viz. What ſort or kind of Covenant the Law was, which was given as a Covenant at Mount Sinai. Wherein I have (I hope) ſufficiently made it out; That the Law, this Sinai Covenant, 1. Was not given or intended, As a Covenant of Works; 2. Nor as a Mixt Covenant, of Works and Grace; 3. Nor as a Covenant Subſervient to the Covenant of Grace, diſtinct in kind from the Covenant of Grace and Nature; But that it was given and intended as A COVENANT of FAITH, or Grace, in Jesus Christ? Not withstanding all Doubts and Objections of any moment to the Contrary.

I have hereupon insisted the more particularly and fully, Because; 1 This is, without exception, the hardest Gordian-Knot to unty, both in this and all other Covenant-Administrations. 2 This point rightly stated and cleared, Gives singular light to the whole stream and current of Scriptures both of Old and New Testament; Excellently illustrates the Order, Beauty and Mysterie of Gods Covenant-proceedings, and Discloseth the true use and intention of the Law thus moulded up into a Covenant-frame, purely Evangelical. 3 This Sinai-Covenant is much mistaken by very many, and but darkly apprehended by Most. 4 And because This Sinai-Covenant hath been a very intricate Mysterie to my self, having heretofore been not a little puzled in my Notions about it, and finding very little clear Satisfaction either in Books, Sermons, or Conferences, though with godly and judicious Ministers touching this Covenant-Expressure. Whereupon I am the more desirous to impart the grounds and matter of my satisfaction to others, that they also may possibly receive some competent satisfaction with me. And now having (through the good hand of my God) passed this great rub, what remains, will be more easily and speedily dispatched.

IV. Why the LORD from Mount Sinai, Gave this foederal Law, or Covenant of Faith, by Moses to Israel: is the fourth and last thing to be evidenced, before we come to Inferences.

This particular will receive a quick dispatch: As being in effect resolved already. For I have (t) formerly declared Sundry Causes or Reasons, Why God gave his Law to Israel at that time from Mount Sinai by Moses: All which are also Reasons why God at that time gave his Sinai-Covenant to Israel. For Gods Law and Covenant at Mount Sinai; or Gods Sinai-Law, and his Sinai-Covenant are wholly and entirely one and the same in Moses Administration; Though Law, and Covenant, may come under divers Notions, in our Abstractive Consideration of them. Therefore change but the word Law in those Reasons, into the word Covenant: And you have a full Resolution to the present Particular. For The Law was not Given at Mount Sinai, Absolutely and abstractively as a meer naked Law: But Relatively and Concretively as A Covenant, yea as a Covenant of Faith betwixt God and Israel. Now therefore thus laying hold of this compendious and gainful advantage for accelerating my progress in this subject, I proceed to Inferences from the whole.

(t) See before, in this fourth chap. Aphor. 1. Quest. 4. at large.

V. Inferences, resulting from the body of this Aphorism thus explained and proved, are divers. Was the Law, promulged on Mount Sinai, given as a Covenant; and that not of Works, nor mixt, of Works and Faith, nor Subservient only to the Covenant of Grace, But as a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ? Then,

1. Hence, Gods giving of his Law to Israel at Mount Sinai, was an Act of his Singular Grace and Favour towards Israel. Had God dealt with Israel at Mount Sinai only in an Absolute way, as a Supream Lord and Law-giver, giving them only a meer Rule of life, and Absolute Law of Holiness and Righteousness, without the least reflection or respect to any Fœderal Contract with them: This had been an Eminent Act of his Divine favour and respect to Israel, above all other Nations; 1. That, God would so far own them, 2. So far reveal a Specimen and representation of his Holy and Righteous Nature to them, viz. His Holy and Righteous Law; 3. So far hold forth this shining Torch of Cœlestial light unto them, for guiding of their steps in the Darkness of this world, 4. So far distinguish betwixt Israel and all other People. But that God should at Mount Sinai give his Law to Israel, 1. As A Covenant: 2. As A Covenant of Faith: This was a Singular and supereminent Act of Divine favour unto Israel. For,

1. God's giving his Sinai-Law as a Covenant to Israel, hath in it three Great intimations of divine Grace and favour; viz. Gods Condescention. Israels Ascension. And Familiar Union and Communion betwixt God and Israel. 1. Gods condescention to Israel. The highest God stoops so low, as to take a Covenant-way with Israel with newly redeemed Servants, and despicable dust and ashes, with spiritually enthralled sinners. And will the Most High stoop in a Covenant-way to such worms? We read not of such his Condescention to the glorious Angels. 2. Israel's Ascension and Elevation towards God. As God stoops below himself: So Israel rises up above themselves, by this Covenant. Gods Covenant, as a Golden chain, draws the creature nearer God, yea joyns the creature with God: This lifts the creature above itself. 3. Familiar Union and Communion betwixt God and Israel. God and Israel agree in this Covenant: Theres their fœderal union. God and Israel thus agreed walk together, God in performing Covenanted-blessings, Israel in performing Covenanted-duties: Theres their Fœderal Communion. This Union and Communion is betwixt God and Israel, not as at odds or distance one from another, but as brought nigh together in love: Here's the Familiarity of their Union and Communion. A Covenant is a Cure of Strangeness: A bond of Familiarness. Herein God deals familiarly with Israel: God is Israel's, and Israel is God's.

2. Gods giving his Sinai-Law to Israel, not only as a Covenant, but as a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ, sets forth (u) Gods most compassionate Love and favour to Israel in many respects. 1. Hereby, Christ is revealed, as the Mysterie of this Covenant, the object of their Faith, and the Author of their Happiness. 2. Hereby, All spiritual blessings in Heavenly things, in Christ are assured, As Redemption from Sin and Death, Reconciliation to God, Sanctification of their Natures, Justification of their Persons, Adoption into Gods Family, Communion with God, And hope of of Glorification in heaven for ever with Jesus Christ. 3. Hereby, Faith is required for actual appropriating of all these benefits unto them. 4. Hereby, the Gospel of God bringing Salvation is preached to them for their present and future Consolation. (x) He sheweth his words to Jacob, his Statutes and his judgements unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any Nation: and as for his judgements, they have not known them. Praise ye the LORD.

II. Hence, The Sinai-Covenant being a Covenant of Faith, not only Revealed Christ, but discovered him with some further Manifestation then did the foregoing Covenants. Christ is the Center, Soul and Life of the Covenant of Faith in every period and dispensation thereof: consequently of this, which is a Covenant of Faith. And forasmuch as God still riseth in his Covenant-Administrations to greater and greater perfection, beginning with the most dark and imperfect, and ending with the most clear and perfect discoveries of Christ and Covenant-favours: therefore proportionably this Sinai-Covenant Reveals more of Christ then any, yea then all that went before. The first Covenant-expressure from Adam till Noah, Revealed Christ, (y) as The Seed of the Woman, that should be at enmity with the Serpent, and bruise the Serpents Head. This was most obscurely and imperfectly. The second from Noah till Abraham Revealed Christ, as (z) The water that saves his Elect in the Ark of the Church from destruction with the ungodly. This was somewhat more clearly. The third from Abraham till Moses, Revealed Christ, as (a) The primary and eminent Seed of Abraham according to the flesh, in whom all the families of the earth should be blessed. This was yet more clearly and perfectly. But the fourth from Moses till David, yea till Christ the true David, which is this Sinai-Covenant, Revealed Christ much more clearly and fully then all the foregoing Dispensations. Take these few Instances for Demonstration hereof; The Sinai-Covenant Reveals Christ, 1. In his more Particular Descent. 2. In his Person. 3. In his Office. 4. In his States wherein he executed his Office.

1. In his more particular descent. Not only as the Seed of the Woman, nor only as the Seed of Abraham, but as the Seed of Israel. This Prophet, the New Testament interprets to be Christ.

2. In his person, and Natures constituting his Person. That he should be God-man, God manifested in the flesh; God dwelling in the Tabernacle of flesh. The (c) Tabernacle wherein God dwelt between the Cherubims, and whereby he visibly testified his presence in the midst of Israel; was a (d) Type of Christs Tabernacle and temple of the flesh or Humane Nature, wherein the fulness of the God-head dwelt bodily, that is, Personally. The word was made flesh, and Tabernacled amongst us: as the Greek signifies. Hence it is that his his flesh is sometimes called The Tabernacle, Sometimes the Temple; In reference to the personal inhabitation of the God-head therein. In like sort, the God-head and Manhood of Christ were shadowed out, by the Altar, and the Sacrifices offered up thereon. The Altar (e) was anointed, dedicated, Sanctified to be most Holy, that it might Sanctifie the gifts thereon, and that whatsoever touched it might be holy This signified the God-head of Christ, greater then the gift and Sacrifice of the Manhood, and Sanctifying the same. Christ is called, (f) The Altar: Christ is called, (g) The Sacrifice: and Christ is called, (h) the Priest, The High-priest, the Minister of the Sanctuary and true Tabernacle. How was he at once The Altar, The Sacrifice, and High-priest? He was the Altar as God sanctifying himself: The Sacrifice as man, consecrated through sufferings: And the Priest, as both God and man. For (i) Christ through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God. In the former Covenants they had no such discovery of Christs Person.

3. In his Office. That Christ should be a Mediator betwixt God and man. For, Israel extreamly terrified by Gods immediate voice and Presence, could not endure it, (k) but desired Moses to pass betwixt God and them, and God approved their desires, And so (l) the Law was ordained in the hand of a Mediator, viz. Moses. In which Mediatory Office Moses typified Christ the true Mediator, as (m) Gods promising Christ, the Prophet like Moses at the same time intimates. Nor did this Covenant set out Christ only as a Mediator, more Generally; but it also delineated his Mediatory office in the chief branches of it, Particularly, viz. Prophecy, and Priesthood and King-ship. Christs Prophetick function: In that he is Promised to be (n) a Prophet like unto Moses, in whose mouth God would put his words, and he should speak to them all that God should command him. As a Prophet he should reveal the whole will of God for their Salvation. 2. Christs Priesthood: In that he is (o) A great High-Priest; typified by the Levitical Priesthood, especially by the High-Priest. The principal Acts of Christs Priest-hood were these. viz. (p) Expiation, or (q) purging away of the sins of his Elect by his own death and blood, by the Sacrifice once for all, whereby he of himself fully satisfied his fathers justice. This (r) was typified in all the bloody Sacrifices offered by the Priests in the time of the Law. (s) Ascension and entrance into the true Holy of Holies Heaven itself through his own blood, by a new and living way which he hath Consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh rent and crucified. This was (t) fore-shadowed by the High-Priests entring once a year into the Holy of Holies through the veil with the blood of others. (u) Intercession for his elect at Gods right hand. Advocate with the father Jesus Christ the righteous. (y) Benediction of his people (y) Christ hath redeemed us from the Curse of the Law, being made a curse for us: —— That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ: That we might receive the Promise of the Spirit through Faith. And Peter tells the Jews also, (z) Unto you first, God having raised up his son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities. This was fore-typed in the Priests (a) Blessing the People in the Name of the LORD: the (b) form of which Blessing was prescribed to them. 3. Christs (c) King-ship also, whereby he Gathers Governors and Protects his Elect, but subdues his and their Enemies under his and their feet: was also intimated under this Sinai-Covenant; Partly under the Type of Moses, (d) who as a Prince rescued them from under the rigorous Egyptian bondage by the mighty hand of his God upon him, and Governed them as a mighty Prince in the wilderness fourty years together. to take two goats, The one to be killed for a Sin-offering, whose blood he was to carry within the veil, and Sprinkle it upon the Mercy-Seat and before the Mercy-Seat to make an atonement; The other, to be presented alive before the LORD, to make an atonement with him, and to let him go for a Scape-goat into the wilderness, after Aaron had laid both his hands upon his head and had confessed over him all the iniquities of Israel and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat. By the former Goat, was prefigured Christs death and blood purging away our sins, by which he entred into Heaven itself: By the latter, Christs reviving and Resurrection from the dead, bearing our sins far away from us. These and divers other waies, Christ was Revealed in this Sinai-Covenant more fully, then in all the former Covenants. And the more we have of Christ in any fœderal dispensation, the more excellent that Covenant must be acknowledged: Christ being the very Marrow, Center and Soul of the Covenant.

III. Hence, Gods Israel of old was saved by the same Christ under the Sinai-Covenant, whereby the Israel of God is now saved under the Sion-Covenant. That there (o) was a Sinai-Covenant, and a Sion-Covenant, (That, answering to Hagar the bond-woman, and in the manner of administration gendring to bondage; This, answering to Sarah the free woman, and in the manner of administration gendring to liberty and spiritual freedom;) is very clear in the Apostles Allegory. That the Sinai-Covenant was not a Covenant of works but a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ, as well as the Sion-Covenant, hath also been abundantly proved. Consequently, The same Christ and Saviour of Sinners, (p) who is yesterday, and to day, and for ever the same; The same Redemption, Sanctification, Justification, Adoption and Glorification, even the same compleat Salvation by Christ, was revealed in both Covenants, though in different manners and degrees. For, this is the peculiar Nature, and Scope of the Covenant of Faith to Reveal Sinners Salvation by Jesus Christ alone through Faith: as hath been formerly cleared in handling the Covenant of Faith, more Generally. Now if the people of God were saved by the same Christ, both under the Sinai-Covenant, which was the Old Testament, And under the Sion-Covenant, which is the New Testament: Hence,

(p) Heb. 13. 8.

1. All the Lords saved, under both the Sinai and Sion-Covenant, under both the Old and New Testament, are joynt-members of one and the same Mystical body of Christ. All Christ saved are members of his body; (q) Christ is the Head of the Church, and he is the Saviour of the Body. He is Saviour of none, but of them of whom he is head: he

(q) Eph. 5. 23.

he is Head of none, but of his own Mystical members, which collectively taken, are his mystical body. Hereupon all Christs saved ones under Old or New Testament, are joynt members of one and the same Mystical body of Christ. Christ (r) having reconciled both Jews and Gentiles unto God in one Body by the Cross: hath made them fellow-Heirs of the same Kingdom, fellow-Citizens of the same spiritual Jerusalem, fellow-inhabitants of the same house of God, and fellow-members of the same mystical body of Christ; enjoying as Saints, not only Comunion with Christ, but also with one another in him.

(r) Eph. 2. 14 to the end.

2. Not only Carnal and Earthly, but also spiritual and heavenly Blessings were revealed to the faithful under the Old Testament or Sinai-Covenant, as well as under the New-Testament or Sion-Covenant. For, this Sinai-Covenant, as a Covenant of Faith, revealed Christ to them: and Christ hath fundamentally and virtually all Spiritual blessings in him, brings effectively all Spiritual blessings with him. Christ is Abraham's eminent Seed, in whom all the families of the earth are blessed. He blesseth, Primarily with Spirituals: as (s) with the promise of the Spirit (viz. the promised Spirit) by faith: (t) Conversion from iniquities to God; yea, (u) with all spiritual blessings in Heavenly things in Christ, (x) God quickening us together with Christ, and raising us up together, and making us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Iesus. Secondarily with temporals, (y) cast in as additional advantages to the true seekers of Gods Kingdom.

Therefore, the (z) Socinians do greatly derogate from the rich grace of God to the faithful under the Old Testament this Sinai-Covenant, whilst they say, That therein God promised to them neither Eternal life, nor the Holy Spirit; but reserved them, as the proper and peculiar gifts of the New-Testament, till Christs coming; and that if eternal life should have been promised under the Old Testament, The New Testament should not have better Promises then the old. Answ. The folly and falshood of this Opinion may thus in brief be discovered. 1. Christ was abundantly revealed and promised under, and in this Sinai-Covenant (as hath been shewed;) and this, as a Redeemer, Justifier and Sanctifier in ordinances for expiation and purification as a Prophet, Priest and King. Consequently, The Spirit of Christ was promised; for Christ Sanctifies none but by his Spirit; And eternal life was Promised; for all these spiritual blessings in Christ, Are revealed in order to eternal life, have an indivisible (a) connexion with Glorification, And (b) are eternal life in the foundation and inchoation thereof. 2. God promising Christ under the Old Testament, promised all things in him: as God performing and giving Christ under the New Testament, (c) gives freely all things with him. 3. God in this Sinai-Covenant (d) revealed and promised Canaan, the land of Rest; Consequently he promised Heaven and eternal rest therein; Their life and Rest in Canaan being a Type of their eternal life and Rest in Heaven, as (e hath been been manifeſted. 4. The faithful under the Old Teſtament obtained eternal life. For, (f) Before the Sinai-Covenant, (f) Enoch walked with God, and ſo pleaſed him, that God took him up bodily into Heaven, and tranſlated him, that he ſhould not ſee Death: and God ſtiled himſelf at the buſh, (g) The God of Abraham, the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob: and Chriſt adds, God is not the God of the dead, but of the living, for all live unto him. How are Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob living unto God: but in their Souls, which being (h) Spirits of juſt men made perfect, live in Heaven with God? Now if the faithful before the Sinai-Covenant, under more imperfect Covenant-adminiſtrations obtained eternal life: how can eternal life be denyed to them that lived under the Sinai-Covenant, which was a more perfect diſpenſation? (i) Under the Sinai-Covenant, Moſes was at his death made partaker of heavenly glory, and Elias (i) was carried up to heaven in a fiery chariot with a whirl-wind: and theſe two Moſes and Elias (k) appeared in glory with Chriſt at his transfiguration, and ſpake of his deceaſe which he ſhould accompliſh at Jeruſalem. (l) The (l) Socinians themſelves confeſs, That all who under the Old Teſtament worſhipped God from the heart, and were obedient to him, obtained eternal life, which they hoped for, although it was not promiſed unto them. God performing more then he promiſed. Seeing then the faithful under the Old Teſtament obtained eternal life: conſequently eternal life muſt needs be promiſed to them. For, how ſhould they obtain eternal life, but by Faith and Hope? and how ſhould they believe or Hope, without a word of promiſe in Chriſt, the only foundation of faith and hope to lapſed ſinners? Without a Promiſe, Faith is not Faith, hope is not hope, but groundleſs Preſumption. 5. The New Teſtament (m) Promiſes are better then thoſe of the Old; not in kinde, but in Degree. Revealing ſpiritualls more clearly, fully, ſpiritually.

3. The Sinai-Covenant or Old Teſtament, and the Sion-Covenant or New-Teſtament, are for ſubſtance one and the ſame: though they differ never ſo much in the Circumſtance or Manner of adminiſtration. Foraſmuch as The Salvation of lapſed ſinners by one and the ſame Chriſt through Faith, is the ſubſtance of them both; The chief Matter and Scope of them both: Though differently ſet forth in them both. In that, Chriſt was ſet forth darkly, as to come afterwards, to the Jews only: In this, Chriſt is ſet forth clearly, as come already, and to all Nations.

IV. Hence, The Sinai-Covenant intended not Sinners Juſtification in the ſight of God by works, but only by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt. Why? For that the Sinai-Covenant is not a Covenant of works: but a Covenant of Faith. Had it been a Covenant of works, it had peculiarly intended and revealed Juſtification by works: but being a Covenant of Faith, as hath been proved abundantly, it intends and Reveals Juſtification by faith only in Jeſus Chriſt. For, every

Covenant

Covenant holds forth such a Righteousness and Justification for kinde, as is agreeable to the Nature and kinde of such a Covenant respectively. This the Apostle testifies saying, (n) But now the righteousness of God without the Law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets. The Law itself testifieth, That that the righteousness of God (viz. which God hath ordained, revealed, and will accept,) is without the Law: that is, by faith without the deeds of the Law. So that, (o) Christ is the end or scope of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. And Paul (p) alledgeth Moses and the Law itself, to prove The Righteousness of Faith. The Law therefore, which is this Sinai Covenant, intended Sinners Justification only by faith in Jesus Christ before God. So then, Hereupon we may clearly conclude,

1. That, The Jews, (q) through ignorance of Gods righteousness, ran into a great and fundamental errour in the point of Justification, whilst they went about to establish their own righteousness by the works of the Law; and so come short of the righteousness of God. This the Apostle plainly condemns in the carnal Jews: and the greatest part of the Jews split upon this Rock, not being able spiritually to discern the Mysterie of the Law, viz. (r) Christ the end of the Law for righteousness to every believer. Therefore (s) the Gentiles which followed not after righteousness (viz. not by the deeds of the Law) have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith. But Israel which followed after the Law of righteousness hath not attained to the Law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the righteousness of the Law: for they stumbled at that stumbling stone. viz. Jesus Christ.

2. That such teachers, as urged the Law of Moses, and the works of the Law, upon any of the Primitive Churches as necessary unto Justification, were false teachers, false Apostles: not preaching the Gospel, but (t) perverting the Gospel of Christ; not edifying, but (u) subverting the souls of believers. Such false teachers began to creep into the Romane and Galatian Churches: whereupon Paul wrote those two excellent and most accurate Epistles, clearly stating the Question about Justification and proving Justification before God by Faith alone in Christ, without the deeds of the Law. Such (x) false-teachers also, before that time, came from Judea to Antioch, and exceedingly disturbed the Church there, teaching the Necessity of Circumcision and keeping of the Law of Moses unto Justification: whereupon that famous Apostolical Synod met at Jerusalem, stated the Question for Justification by faith, Censured the false-teachers, and by Decrees, established and comforted the Churches of Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia, in the truth. And, in like sort, The Antichristian Doctors now under the Papacy maintaining Justification in the sight of God by works of the Law, as Bellarmine, Stapleton, Suarez, &c. are false-teachers, either mistaking or perverting the true intent of the Law in the Sinai-Covenant.

3. That, The Law, as promulged in the Sinai-Covenant, nor was, nor could be contrary, destructive to the Doctrine of Faith in the Gospel. For, the Law, so promulged, intended Justification by Faith only. (x) Is the Law then against the Promises of God? God forbid. (x) Do we then make void the Law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the Law.

Object. If the Sinai-Covenant intended not Sinners Justification before God by works, but by Faith only, whence is it, that the whole stream of that Covenant runs, so much upon works in the Commands, Promises, and Threats thereof; as if life and righteousness were to be had only by Doing, not by believing.

Answ. To this I Answer, a few things briefly, viz.

1. Though the Sinai-Covenant runs much, yet it doth not run altogether upon Doing. It requires Believing also, as hath been shewed. (z) Reveals Justification in the sight of God only by believing.

2. The clear Revelation of the Mysterie of Faith was purposely reserved till Christs coming, to be one of the glorious Priviledges of the New Testament, as (b) the Apostle intimates. The Lord therefore in this Sinai-Covenant, and before, revealed the righteousness of faith more darkly, and obscurely to his Infant-Church under age; but yet sufficiently for their Salvation.

3. The stream of the Sinai-Covenant runs much upon Doing, and Perfection of Doing; Partly, To (c) Convince that carnal people of Israel (so addicted to acquiesce in their own works,) that they could never be justified by their own doing, because they could not do perfectly without sin. Partly, To force men to seek out (d) unto Christ by faith, who is the only perfect doer and fulfiller of all that the Law can exact to the uttermost. Partly, To let Israel see, That sinners cannot be justified, unless his Law be exactly fulfilled by sinners, or by their Surety Jesus Christ. Partly, To instruct them, That though God intended not their works and obedience as an Antecedent condition requisite to their Justification; yet he intended them as a Consequent condition and Qualification in justified persons, as fruits of true Faith, and the way towards the attainment of the Promises.

V. Hence, The Sinai-Law was Israels Gospel. For, The Sinai-Law was given as a Covenant of Faith: and every Covenant of Faith is pure Gospel. what is Gospel, But the good tidings of sinners Salvation by Faith in Jesus Christ alone? Now in this Sinai-Covenant, Christ is most variously Revealed; Faith in Christ is evidently and unquestionably required; and sinners salvation by Christ alone through Faith is frequently inculcated. How could any understanding Israelite fix his eye upon the Tabernacle, Mercy-Seat, Ark, Veil, Altar of incense, Altar of burnt-offering, Sacrifices, Death and Blood of those Sacrifices, The High-priests and all their Holy-garments, but in all these he he must needs behold very much of Christ and of sinners salvation by him! The Gospel was preached to their ears, while the Law was promulged to them: The Gospel was preached to their eyes, while the Law, especially the Ceremonial Law was executed in their sight: yea the Gospel was preached to all their outward, as to all their inward Senses, while the Law was mannaged according to Gods appointment. In the Law how much sweetness might they suck by faith from Christs Person, Offices, Humiliation and Exaltation! It was therefore Israels High-priviledge indeed above all Nations, to have such a Law, which was such a Gospel.

VI Hence, The many Misapprehensions of this Sinai-Administration may justly be condemned and confuted, that have occasioned so many mistakes and errours about this Sinai-Law: especially that grand misapprehension, That the Sinai-Covenant was a Covenant of works, not of Faith and Grace, As,

1. Of the Legal Justitiaries, who have in whole, or in part sought to be justified in the sight of God by the works of the Law. The Sinai-Law revealing justification, not by works of the Law, but by faith only.

2. Of the Antinomians, who totally condemn and disallow the use of the Moral Law to Christians as given on Mount Sinai, and as in the hand of Moses. They not considering that it was given on Mount Sinai as a pure Evangelical Covenant of Faith: and therefore the substance of it concerns Christians, as well as Iews.

3. Of the Socinians who deny that eternal life and the Spirit were promised under the old Testament. And this whilst they observe not the Old Testament, or Sinai-Covenant to be a Covenant of Faith, revealing Christ, righteousness, holiness and happiness in him; consequently the sanctifying spirit, and eternal life.

VII. Hence, They that would rightly understand the Sinai-Covenant must look upon it with an Evangelical eye. Since the Fall, the Law was never given, but in a Gospel-way; The Gospel was still the marrow of it, the mysterie of it, the bottom of it, the scope of it. Thus it was in this Sinai Law. They therefore that would pry into the spiritual depth of this Law given at Horeb, they must look upon it with Gospel-Spectacles they must principally have an eye to Christ there, to faith there, to Gods righteousness by Faith there. This is the Pole-star, and the Compass they must sail by, into the port of solid knowledge in the Law; this is the Clew that will orderly direct them lest they lose themselves, as in a Maze, in the intricate Labyrinth of the Sinai-Covenant Administration

Thus of the Nature or Kinde of this Sinai-Covenant, That it was a pure Evangelical Covenant of Faith, as dispensed by Moses; Next I proceed to the Particular unfolding of this Sinai-Covenant in regard of, 1. The Fœderate Parties, 2. Matter, 3. Form, and 4. End thereof.

APHORISM

Aphorism III.

Of the Fœderate-Parties: God and Iſrael.

The Confederates, or Federate-Parties to this Sinai-Covenant, were, God and Iſrael with their Poſterity. viz. 1. On the One part God, As JEHOVAH, Iſrael's Covenant-God, Redeemer, Law-Giver and endeared Husband. 2. On the other part Iſrael and their Poſterity, As Abrahams Seed in Covenant with God, The LORD's Redeemed and eſpouſed People, and as Heys of the promiſed Inheritance (though under age) going on to receive ſome part of the Promiſes.

Conſider here two things for clearing of this Aphoriſm. viz. 1. That God and Iſrael with their Poſterity, were the Fœderates in this Sinai-Covenant. 2. That they were the Fœderate Parties under theſe Notions and Conſiderations.

1. That the Fœderate Parties to this Sinai-Covenant were, God on the one hand, Iſrael and their Poſteiity on the other; is evident divers ways. viz.

(e) Deut. 5. 1 2, 3.

1. From Manifold Teſtimonies. As, 1. Of Moſes; (e) The LORD our God made a Covenant with us in Horeb. He ſpeaks this to all Iſrael that came out of Egypt, both male and female, parents and poſterity, young and old. And when God renewed this Horeb-Covenant in the land of Moab, Moſes ſaid; (f) ye ſtand this day all of you before the LORD your God: your Captains of your Tribes, your Elders, and your Officers, with all the Men of Iſrael, your little ones, your wives, and thy ſtranger that is in thy camp, from the hewer of thy wood to the drawer of thy water: That thou ſhouldſt enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God, and into his Oath, which the LORD thy God maketh with thee, this day, &c. This takes in all Iſrael, and all their poſterity then living; who ſtood in the Order forementioned to enter into Covenant with God. And it is moſt likely they all ſtood in the ſame Order before God, when he made his Covenant with them at Horeb. And leaſt they ſhould think this Covenant extended only to Iſrael, and their poſterity then in being, he adds; (g) Neither with you only do I make this Covenant and this Oath; but with him that ſtandeth here with us, this day before the LORD our God: And alſo with him that is not here with us this day. Meaning their Poſterity throughout all generations, though yet unborn, to whom this Covenant did belong, till the New-Covenant did come in place. And elſewhere; (h) The LORD ſpake unto you out of the midſt of the fire, —And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments, —And; (i) —Take heed unto your ſelves, leſt ye forget the Covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you. 2. Of the Prophets; God ſaid by the Pſalmiſt; (k) Gather my Saints together with me: thoſe that have made a Covenant with me by Sacrifice. In Solomons days it was ſaid; (l) There was nothing in the Ark, ſave the two Tables of ſtone, which Moſes put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a Covenant with the children of Iſrael. In Ezekiel, God, having reſpect to his dealings with Iſrael at Horeb, ſaith, (m) When I paſſed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold thy time was the time of love, and I ſpread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedneſs: yea I ſware unto thee, and entred into a Covenant with thee, ſaith the LORD God, and thou becameſt mine. In Jeremiah alſo the Lord ſaith; (n) Behold the days come that I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael, and with the Houſe of Judah: not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, which my Covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, ſaith the LORD. 3. Of the Apoſtle Paul, (o) alledging that Teſtimony of Jeremiah, to prove the ſurpaſsing excellency of the New Covenant beyond the Old. By which Teſtimonies of Moſes, The Prophets, and Paul, it is plain; that God was the one Fœderate party, (p) Iſrael and their poſterity the other Fœderate party to this Sinai-Covenant.

(p) And that it (viz. Gods covenant with Iſrael and their poſterity) might be the better eſtabliſhed, God gave ſpecial charge and commandment, that the words which he had ſpoken by Moſes and the Prophets, ſhould be publiquely read, often inculcated and expounded unto them: and that all his viſitation of this people, whether in mercy whilſt they obeyed his voice, or in judgement for their diſobedience, ſhould be regiſtred to remain upon record as ſo many ruled Caſes and Preſidents, and publiſhed and rehearſed unto their children, that they might learn to ſet their Hope in God, and not forget his commandments, Deut. 4. 10. & 6. 6, 7, 8. Pſal. 78. 6, 7, 8. 3. From the Solemn Sanction, Dedication, or Ratification of this Covenant at the bottom of the Mount of God, after all this was tranſacted. For, there (r) An Altar was erected under the Hill; and twelve pillars according to the twelve Tribes of Iſrael. The Altar (as Ainſworth worth notes well) represented God, the first and chief party in the Covenant: The twelve pillars represented the twelve Tribes and their stony Nature, the other Party to the Covenant. This done, Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings were slain and offered on the Altar, and the blood sprinkled, Half on the Altar; After which Moses (having written the Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials in a Book) took the Book of the Covenant, and read in the audience of the people; and they said, All that the LORD hath said, will we do, and be obedient. And Moses took the blood, (viz. the other half of it) and sprinkled it on the people, and said, Behold the blood of the Covenant which the LORD hath made with you concerning all these words. In this eminent Dedication of the Sinai-Covenant, The Parties to the Covenant, God and Israel, are expresly declared, and fœderally conjoyned.

II. That God and Israel with their Posterity, were Parties to this Sinai-Covenant in the fore-said Notions and Considerations; may be also thus explained and proved particularly. viz.

I. God was the First and chief Party to this Sinai-Covenant, especially in this fivefold Notion and Consideration. 1. As the LORD. 2. As Israel's Covenant-God. 3. As Israel's Redeemer. 4 As Israel's Law-giver. 5. As Israel's endeared Husband.

1. As JEHOVAH, the LORD. In this Notion Moses represents God making Covenant with Israel, (f) The LORD, or JEHOVAH made a Covenant with us in Horeb. In this notion God represents himself, when entring into Covenant with Israel; (t) I am JEHOVAH, —— Thou shalt have none other Gods before me, &c. As if God had said; O Israel take notice that in this Notion and Consideration I enter into Covenant with thee, viz. As JEHOVAH. This is Gods chief Essential Name, that sets forth the Essence and Nature of God more fully, then any one word in the Hebrew tongue, or in any other language whatsoever. יהוה IEHOVAH is derived from הוה Havah, He was. This Root denotes the Essence, Being or Existence of God. It especially signifies, 1. Gods absolute underived simple and eternal Essence in and of himself. (u) ὁ ὢν, ὁ ἦν, καὶ ὁ ἐρχόμενος; which was, which is, and which is to come: As John excellently expresseth the Divine Nature. The Hebrew Etymology of יהוה well agrees hereunto. For הוה the root of it, signifies, which was: הוה the present tense, the points being a little changed, signifies, which is: and י being prefixed, it becomes יהוה, the future tense, signifying, which will be, or is to come. So that it notes out an absolute eternal being, without beginning, succession or end: which was, without beginning; is, without succession; will be, without end. And to this effect God is (x) oft-times set forth in Scripture. 2. Gods deriving of Essence and Being to all things besides himself that have being. He is the fountain of all Beings. Divers (y) Scriptures import this to be another thing implyed in his name IEHOVAH. 3. Gods immutability in his Decrees;

Decrees; and according to his Decrees, his giving essence, being, and actual subsistence to all his Threatnings and Promises whatsoever. (i) To his Threatnings, fulfilling them according to his eternal Counsels. Hence, He is wont frequently to seal up his (x) Threatnings with this, or like expression; I JEHOVAH have spoken it. —— They shall know that I am JEHOVAH. (z) To his Promises, (a) performing them and giving existence actually to them according to his Decree, because he is JEHOVAH. Hence, he is wont to ratifie his promises, with these or like phrases; —— I am JEHOVAH. —— saith JEHOVAH. —— thus saith JEHOVAH. In one chap. in (b) Jeremiah Gods Promises are 33 times confirmed by such phrases. And in this sense God here entred into this Sinai-Covenant with Israel as JEHOVAH: viz. as giving actual being and subsistence to his Promises made to their fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, touching the land of Canaan, &c. He had formerly made Promises to them: but now he would make his Promises subsist; he would make them good, and really perform them. Therefore a little before the Sinai Covenant was made, when the time of Israels deliverance out of Egypt was come, God said, (c) I am JEHOVAH. And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the Name of God Almighty: but by my Name JEHOVAH was I not known to them. That is, Hitherto they were sustained (d) by faith in Gods all-sufficiency, or almighty-power, without receiving the thing promised: they lived upon mine allsufficiency and my promise, without performance thereof. But now their posterity shall receive the Promises, now I am about to perform the Promised deliverance out of Egypt, and the promised inheritance of Canaan unto them: Now they shall experimentally know that I am JEHOVAH, A Promise-performing God indeed. This name JEHOVAH, was Doctrinally made known, (e) To Abraham, (f) To Isaac, and (g) To Iacob: but not Experimentally. Or if Experimentally: nothing so fully and clearly, as now it should be made known to their Posterity. This is the first Notion in which God made Covenant with Israel at Horeb, as JEHOVAH, As a Promise-performing God, that would now speedily make all his ancient Promises actually to subsist to Israel. This was a most comfortable notion and consideration of God: tending exceedingly to raise up Israels Faith and Hope in Gods Covenant and Promises.

2. As Israel's Covenant-God. God made not this Sinai-Covenant with Israel, as to whom he had no Covenant-Relation before: but as being already their Covenant-God, viz. by his Covenant long ago made with Abraham and his Seed. Hence Moses said; (h) The LORD our God made a Covenant with us in Horeb. (i) —— That thou shouldst enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God (k) —— Take heed to your selves lest ye forget the Covenant of the LORD your God. The Lord making Covenant with Israel in this Notion and Consideration, as their God already in Covenant, seemed to intimate to them; 1. That, He was now about no new kind or sort of Covenant with them, but only he would deal with them with the same kind of Covenant as formerly with their fathers: The Covenant of Faith, not the Covenant of Works. For he would now Contract and Covenant with them, as their Covenant-God; viz. by Abraham's Covenant; which was only a Covenant of Faith. 2. That, He was still constant in the Covenant which he had made with Abraham and his Seed. He now remembred it afresh: and was now about the renewing and confirmation of it to Israel. Hence Moses tels them; (l) Ye stand this day all of you before the LORD your God, ——— That thou shouldst enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God, ——— That he may establish thee to day for a people to himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. How did he swear to be a God to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob? Not by a Covenant of Works, but by a Covenant of Faith. So now he would declare himself to be a God to Israel by the like Covenant of Faith. 3. That, He would now augment and enlarge his Covenant made to their Fathers, by sundry Additional Benefits. For his Renewing of the Covenant of Faith in several Periods of time was still with enlargement.

3. As Israels Redeemer: Literally, From their bondage and misery in Egypt; Spiritually and Mystically, from their Bondage and Misery under Sin, Satan, &c. 1. As their Redeemer from Egypts bondage, God made a Covenant with Israel. This is often noted: As, In the Introduction to this Covenant; ——— (m) Ye have seen what I did to the Egyptians, and how I bare you on Eagles wings, and brought you unto my self. Now therefore if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my Covenant, ——— In the Preface to the Covenant it self, the Decalogue; (n) ——— I am the LORD, thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of servants, &c. And in (o) Jeremiah, divers times. By Redeeming Israel out of Egypt, God had purchased to himself a special right to them, and authority over them, yea he had brought them into a great debt of all possible gratitude, Homage and Observance to himself. Now therefore the Lord takes advantage hereof, to bind them the faster and closer to himself by the Sinai-Covenant for ever; That they and theirs might be wholly his. 2. As their Redeemer from their Spiritual bondage under Sin, Satan, Death, &c. whereof Egypts bondage was but a shadow, and of which Redemption their deliverance from Egypt was but a Type, as is clear by the (p) Sacrament of the Passover (signifying Christ the true (q) Passover to be sacrificed, for the Elects Redemption) at that time instituted. Hereby God would have Israel know, that their Great Redemption from spiritual thraldom, which should in fulness of time be accomplished by Christ their true Passover's death and blood, should most strongly oblige them and theirs from generation to generation; to be wholly and perpetually his Covenant-people in all Faith and Obedience to the uttermost.

4. As Israel's Law-giver. He being, The LORD, their Covenant-God, and Their Redeemer; He had supream, absolute and compleat Right and Authority to give Laws to them, as he pleased. Hence, though he would not deal in a meer absolute way with them as a Law-giver only, but in a more sweet and familiar way of a Covenant: yet he moulded his Laws, both Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials, into a Covenant, and that a Covenant of Faith; hereby notably dulcing and facilitating his Laws unto them in Jesus Christ. Thus, God gave his (r) Covenant at Horeb, as the Supream Law-giver, with higheſt expreſſions of Majeſty: He gave it by way of Command: and it is called (s) ten Commandments, and (t) A Law and Commandments. (u) And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments. God Entred into Covenant with Iſrael as their Law-giver, and digeſted his Laws into this Evangelical Covenant. 1. To convince them throughly (x) both by the Moral and Ceremonial Law, of the extream Sinfulneſs of Sin: of which mankind had not been throughly convinced ſince Adam's fall. 2. To convince them conſequently of their utter inability to perform an exact legal Obedience: becauſe of the (y) ſinfulneſs of their fleſh, needing daily expiations and purifications. And that therefore they could never be juſtified by their own doing. 3. To demonſtrate to them notwithſtanding that the Juſtice and Truth of God (z) required the exact performance of his Law to the uttermoſt, either in Sinners, or in their Surety: otherwiſe they could not have been juſtified, but muſt inevitably have dyed the Death. 4. To indigitate and point out the Sinners Surety Jeſus Chriſt, that ſhould both exactly fulfill the Law, and bear the penalty of Death to ſatisfie divine juſtice for their Offences. This (a) the intent of the Ceremonial Law throughout: which eſpecially was a Schoolmaſter leading them to Chriſt for juſtification, under the ſervile (b) Tuition and Government of which Law eſpecially, Iſrael (as an Infant-Church in Minority) was kept till the fulneſs of time in Chriſt. 5. To ſhew them that the Covenant of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt required all ſincere Obedience, in a way of Religion towards God, and in a way of Righteouſneſs and Sobriety towards man. And this, As (c) an Expreſſion of thankfulneſs for Chriſt and happineſs by him; As a proper (d) fruit and evidence of true faith in Chriſt; And as (e) Gods beaten path towards the attainment of the Bleſſings Covenanted and Promiſed. 6. To Conſtitute Iſrael a peculiar Common-wealth to God: which was eſpecially done by Gods own immediate Judgements, or Political Laws.

that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, which my Covenant they brake, although I was an Husband to them, saith the LORD. Heb. And I have married them. For, the verb is Active. So that the Sinai-Covenant, was Gods Marriage-Covenant with Israel: God was as the Husband, Israel as the wife. They troth-plighted themselves thereby one to another. The (g) Contract or Espousals were immediately before the publication of the Law: The (h) Marriage-Solemnity and compleat Covenant after that Publication, at the skirt of Mount Sinai. This, God by Ezekiel also intimates, saying; (i) Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love, and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness; yea I sware unto thee, and entred into Covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest mine. By (spreading the skirt over Israel) God means, He married Israel: and as an Husband entred into Covenant with them. This seems to be an ancient Ceremony, that the Husband when he married his wife, (k) cast his skirt over her: thereby signifying his right and property in her, love to her, and protection of her. God Covenanting with Israel at Mount Sinai as an Husband, thereby testified; 1. His infinite love and affection to Israel, though most undeserving of his love. Marriage-Love is most intensive love. 2. The intimate familiarity of his love to Israel, as to his Spouse. 3. His faithfulness and constancy of love to Israel. In marriage, the husband promiseth constant faithfulness to his wife. 4. His co-habitation as an Husband with Israel. His divine Presence. 5. His Special tender Guidance and Government of Israel, as their Head and Husband. 6. His Protection of her against adversaries and injuries. 7. His Provision of all necessaries for her, and for all the Spiritual Posterity which he should have by her. He enstated her in Canaan, for this life; and in Heaven, typified by Canaan, for the life to come.

In these Notions and Considerations God Covenanted with Israel.

II. Israel with their Posterity, was the other, and less Principal Party to this Sinai-Covenant; and that in this four-fold Notion or Consideration. viz. 1. As Abraham's Seed in Covenant with God. 2. As the LORD's Redeemed. 3. As Gods espoused People. 4. As Heirs of the Promised Inheritance (though under age) going on shortly to possess some part of the Promises.

1. As Abraham's Seed in Covenant with God. God Covenanting with Abraham, did in him, through Christ, Covenant with all his Seed to the end of the world; viz. both with the Seed of his Flesh by Isaac, the Jews; and with the Seed of his Faith, all believers of Jews or Gentiles, as hath been shewed. Now in this Sinai-Covenant God looked upon the people of Israel, as the Seed of Abraham, already in Covenant with him, by his Covenant with their Fathers. He calls himself their God, in the Preface of the Covenant promulged, before it was established: viz. (l) Their God, by by Covenant made with Abraham and his Seed. Now if the Lord be their Covenant-God: Israel must needs be his Covenant-people, before this Sinai-Covenant was established. And in his preparatory Introduction to this Sinai-Covenant he stiles them: (m) the House of Jacob, and the children of Israel; which seems to have reference to them, as the Covenant-Posterity of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. God would now further Ratifie his ancient Covenant with Abraham, and amplify it with further benefits to his Seed. As God therefore was constant in Covenant with them, So they should be constant in Covenant with God.

2. As the Lords Redeemed. God Covenanting with them (n) as their Redeemer: they Covenant with him, as his Redeemed, both from Temporal and Spiritual misery and thraldom. By this Consideration they might justly be provoked, 1. To accept Gods Covenant (which he was now bringing them into) most readily and chearfully. They being his Redeemed, they owed themselves wholly to him; they were more his, then their own: Their lives, liberties, possessions, temporals, spirituals, and their all being so entirely derived to them from God. 2. To perform Gods Covenant-Laws with all faithful and thankful obedience, in way of grateful return to God for their Redeemed state.

3. As Gods espoused people. God Covenanted with them as their (o) Husband: Consequently they restipulate to God as his Spouse. (p) Thus saith the LORD, I remember thee, the kindeness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown. Israel was Holiness to the LORD, and the first-fruits of his increase. Hence, when Israel afterwards revolted from God to Idols, God challenges them for (q) spiritual whordom and uncleanness, as a whorish wife breaking her Marriage-Covenant by following other lovers. Now Israel coming into Covenant with God as a Spouse, Bride or Wife: did oblige her self, 1. To love the Lord God as her Husband with a Marriage-affection absolutely over all: even (r) with all her heart, soul, minde and might, as Moses explains her Covenant-duty. 2. To be subject and obedient to the Lord her Husband as a dutiful wife in all things, and that from a principle of sincere love. This (s) obedience Moses often presseth on Israel in reference to this Covenant. 3. To walk chastly and faithfully with God according to this Marriage-Covenant, not entertaining other lovers, nor lewdly defiling her self with other Gods, to the violation of the Marriage knot. This the intent of the (t) first and second Commandments. And elsewhere, (u) Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name, ye shall not go after other Gods, of the Gods of the people which are round about you: for the LORD thy God is a jealous God among you. And no duty is more frequently and vehemently urged upon them by Moses then this Conjugal parity, chastity and fidelity against all idolatrous defilements: not ordinarily any sin in Israel more speedily and severely punished then her her spiritual whoredoms. 4. To train up (z) her children piously and religiously for God, and according to his holy Laws. 5. To depend upon the Lord her God, as a wife upon a faithful Husband, for Direction in all her doubts and difficulties, for Provision in all her wants and necessities, for Protection against all her dangers and enemies, and for Supporting Consolation in all her sorrows and discomforts.

(x) Deut. 6. to 10. & 11. 18. to 22.

4. As Heirs of Gods Promises, though under age, and going on to receive some part of the Promised Inheritance. This the Apostle partly intimates: comparing (y) the Church of the Jews to an Heir under age, kept under Tutors and Governors in a servile Condition, till the time appointed of the father; so Israel was, in her Infant-Condition, put under the Sinai-Covenant, which was of a more servile Nature, till the fulness of time came, that Christ, the great blessing of the Covenant should be actually exhibited, and they in him be made free indeed. And Moses partly testifies this: (z) shewing that Israel was now newly brought out of Egypt, and through the Red-Sea into the wilderness, to march on towards the Promised Canaan to take possession of it as their Inheritance, typing out unto them their everlasting Rest and Inheritance in Heaven it self, which all true believing Israelites should at last possess through Jesus Christ. Now Israel's entring into Covenant with God in this Notion, implyed: 1. That their present Church-state was but an imperfect Infant-state: They were but as children in Spirituals, and in their Minority, in comparison of the Churches riper Condition which should be in after times. And therefore, the Lord having respect to their Capacity, brings them into such a Covenant as was most accommodate to their state. They were dull of apprehension in spirituals, very carnal: Therefore he revealed Christ and Spirituals in a multitude of Types and shadows, and carnal ordinances, which were as their first Elements or A B C to Christianity. They were like children, very stubborn, untractable and stiff-necked: Therefore he made this Sinai-Covenant as an heavy yoke of bondage to them, to humble, tame and hamper them. 2. That their Minority or Under age would continue till the exhibition of the Messiah in the flesh, and the establishment of the New Testament in his blood: forasmuch as this Sinai-Covenant or Old Testament, given to them as children, should continue till then. 3. That they should submit themselves to Gods Instruction, Correction and Disposition, as under-age children to a father: breathing after maturity and perfection of Church-state, that they may receive the inheritance and liberty of sons in Christ. 4. That they should shortly possess the promised Canaan as an Handsel of the Compleat Covenanted Inheritances.

III. Inferences. Were God and Israel, in these Notions, Parties to the Sinai-Covenant? Then;

1. Hence, How admirable was the Loving-kindness of God to Israel, and and the Happiness of Israel in God, in that they were fœderate Parties to this Covenant in these sweet comfortable and excellent Notions! Recollect but a little the Notions and Considerations wherein they became Fœderate-Parties: And consider the Infinite distance and disparity betwixt God and Israel: And then say with admiration, Who so gratious a God as the Lord! who so happy a people as his Israel!

2. Hence This Sinai-Covenant established a dear and strong Union and Communion betwixt God and Israel, and that upon sundry intimate Relations. 1. He herein Covenanting as JEHOVAH, performing his Promises: They as heirs of his Promises to whom they should be performed. 2. He as their Covenant-God of old: They as his Covenant-people of Old. 3 He as their Redeemer, They as his Redeemed. 4. He as their Law-giver, They as his Subjects. 5. He as their Husband, They as his espoused Bride. These manifold Covenant-Relations, carry in their bosoms great variety of Covenant-blessings from God to Israel, and of Covenant-duties from Israel to God. Mutual Relations imply mutual obligations.

3. Hence, Christ must needs be implyed as a joynt-fœderate-party with Israel on the one hand, as God was the fœderate party on the other. For all these particulars, Notions and Considerations, in which they entred into Covenant, have their foundation and accomplishment only in Christ in whom they are The Heirs, Covenant-people, Redeemed, Subjects, and Spouse of God.

4. Hence, This Sinai-Covenant was dispensed in order to Gods further Confirmation Augmentation, and Performance of his Covenant with Abraham. For God made this as their Covenant-God already, confirming their Covenant-state: as their Redeemer, Law-giver and Husband. Augmenting their Covenant-priviledges: and as JEHOVAH, that now would give actual subsistence to his Covenant and Promises. Consequently, This Sinai-Covenant was the same kinde of Covenant that Gods Covenant with Abraham was, viz. A Covenant of Faith.

5. Hence, Israel could sin against none of Gods Laws Moral, Ceremonial or Judicial, but they must therein necessarily sin against Gods Covenant. For he entred into Covenant with them as their Law-giver, digesting all his Laws into the body and Substance of his Covenant. And this is the great Reason why God all along in the Books of the Old Testament so often challengeth his people Israel in any their offences against his Laws, to have transgressed, or rejected, or broken his Covenant.

6. Hence, None could do or offer any injury to Israel, but it reflected and terminated at last upon God, unto whom she was so nearly joyned by this Marriage-Covenant. So that God was very jealous for the injuries done them, as if they had been done immediately against himself: and most severely punished them.

7. God and Israel becoming such fœderate Parties to this Covenant, As God did graciously count Israel his: so Israel might comfortably count

God,

God, theirs. He wholly theirs, to make them Happy. They wholly his, to do him Homage.

Thus of the Fœderate-Parties to this Sinai-Covenant God, and Israel. Next of the Substance or Subject-Matters of the Covenant, Agreed upon betwixt God, and Israel.

APHORISM IV.

Of the Matter of this Sinai-Covenant.

THe Subject-Matter, or Substance of this Sinai-Covenant, agreed upon by God and Israel, the Parties to this Covenant, were: 1. On Gods Part, certain Covenant-mercies Promised: viz. To be a God to them, To raise them up Christ a Mediator and Saviour, To give them the Spirit of Christ, To confer upon them in Christ, Blessings Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal: 2. On Israels Part, Certain Covenant-Duties required and restipulated: viz. To be a People unto God: to keep the Covenant of God, By true Faith, and by all sincere constant Obedience: And to Repent in case of any failings herein.

To these Heads all the chief-Matters of this Sinai-Covenant may be easily reduced. I shall insist the more briefly upon them, because I have spoken in effect to most of them already; which I shall note and refer to in order, as I come to unfold these Particulars.

SECTION I.

I. ON GOD's PART, The Subject Matters in this Sinai-Covenant, were certain Covenant-Mercies Promised. Herein God promised these Great things especially; viz. 1. To be A God to them. 2. To raise them up Christ A Mediator and Saviour. 3. To give them the Spirit of God and of Christ. 4. To heap upon them Temporals. 5. To Confer upon them Spirituals. 6. To crown them at last with Eternals.

1. To be A God to them and to their Posterity. This is incomparably the greatest Covenant-Blessing promisable: That either God could give, or Israel Receive. This is the Fountain-Blessing; All the Springs of other Blessings are Originally in it, And all their Streams do flow derivatively from it. When God Promiseth himself, he Promiseth All; When Israel obtain God, they obtain all.

For

For further clearing of this Supream Blessing Covenanted, these things are to be evidenced. 1. That the Lord in this Sinai-Covenant, did Promise to be a God to Israel, and to their Posterity. 2. In whom, or through what Means the Lord intended in this Covenant to be Israel's God. 3. What the Lord promised, when he Covenanted to be a God to them. 4. Why he Covenanted to be a God to Israel. 5. What Inferences may hence particularly Result.

1. That, The Lord in this Sinai-Covenant did Agree and Promise to be a God to Israel and their Posterity; is evident divers waies. 1. By Gods intimation of this in the Body of his Covenant promulged by his own immediate voice. For, (the Preface prefixed to the first Commandment, being a Particular Reason of that Commandment, as well as a General Reason of the whole Law,) it is very observable, That God uttering his Covenant, his ten Commandmentments to Israel, stiles himself in every one of the five first Commandments, viz. (a) five times, and in the Repetition of them (b) nine times, The LORD thy God. Thereby giving them to understand, that as he was The LORD their God, by his Covenant with Abraham and his Seed, before he made his Covenant with them at Horeb: So by this Covenant made at Horeb he intended to stablish this supream fundamental Blessing still unto them, and hereby to assure them yet further, That he would be the LORD their God. 2. By the Lords following explanation of this Covenant: Wherein he plainly Promiseth, both in Moses and Jeremiah to be a God to Israel. (c) If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, —— I will walk among you, and will be your God (d) ——Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this Covenant, which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the Land of Egypt from the iron furnace, Saying; Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I commanded you: So shall ye be my people and I will be your God. 3. By the tenour of God's Covenant made in the Land of Moab with Israel; (which was the same with the Sinai-Covenant, or an Explanatory renewing thereof, as is evident by comparing both these Covenants together,) wherein Moses hath these words: (e) ye stand this day all of you before the LORD your God, ——That thou shouldst enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God, and into his Oath, which the LORD thy God maketh with thee this day: That he may establish thee to day for a people to himself, And that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. So that in this Covenant the Lord declared himself to be A God to Israel, upon the same terms that he had sworn to be a God to Abraham and his Seed. And God Covenanting with Israel and with their Posterity: consequently implyed, that he would be A God, as to Israel, so to their Posterity.

2. In whom, or through what Means, the Lord Agreed in this Co- venant to be Israel's God. This may be in brief thus resolved. viz.

First The Lord may said to be A God to mankinde since the Fall, 1. In a Common notion or General Consideration of their dependance upon him in reference to his Creation and Providence. So he is, (f) The God of the spirits of all flesh: The God of the whole Earth, &c. 2. In a special Notion or peculiar Consideration, in reference to his Covenant of Grace or Faith, into which he brings them with himself, for removal of their sin and misery, and investing of them with the contrary felicity. So he was, (g) The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; And here in this sense The God of Israel.

(f) Numb. 16. 22. & 27. 16.

(g) Exod. 3. 6.

Secondly, In the General Notion The Lord is the God of all mankind, without the intervening of any Mediator for establishing of that Relation betwixt God and his Creature. The God of Pagans and Infidels, naturally: though they are (h) without Christ and without God in the world supernaturally. But in that Special Notion The Lord nor is, nor can be the God of any, but in and by Means of a Mediator intervening betwixt God and lapsed man, Reconciling them. For, 1. The Fall and Sin of lapsed man hath made an infinite distance, and utter Enmity betwixt God and man: so that whilst this enmity remains, God and man cannot agree in one Covenant. 2. This Enmity cannot be removed, but by full satisfaction to Gods justice offended, and by effectual Reconciliation of lapsed Sinners offending, unto God. For, Gods justice truth and Holiness also are so exact and infinite, that he cannot let sin scape, without deserved punishment inflicted upon the Sinners themselves, or upon their Surety: nor can he admit the Sinner to Reconcilement unto himself till the sinners Surety hath made full compensation for his Sin. 3. Gods justice cannot be fully satisfied for sin, nor the sinner effectually reconciled to God, but by a Mortal suffering of infinite value. There must be a suffering of Death for Sin: otherwise Gods (i) threatning of Death for sin should not exactly be fulfilled. And that suffering of Death must be of infinite value: otherwise it would not be proportionable and satisfactory to Gods infinite justice in a sort infinitely wronged. 4 No meer created Nature can undergo a Mortal suffering of infinite value. For That which is meerly finite can do or endure only that which is finite, and of finite limited bounded worth. The effect cannot exceed the total vertue of the Cause. And the meer divine Nature cannot suffer at all. 5. Jesus Christ God-man and he alone, could perform and did undergo a Mortal suffering of infinite value. As man, he suffered death for sinful man in the same Nature that had sinned, himself being without sin: As God, he made that suffering of infinite value in the sight of God. It was more for Jesus Christ God-man to suffer death for a time: then for all lapsed mankinde to have suffered death to all eternity.

(h) Eph. 2. 12.

(i) Gen. 2. 16, 17.

To

To apply this therefore to the present purpose; 1. Jesus Christ God-man, for lapsed mans Sin, endured Sufferings and Death, which were of infinite value: 2. Christs death and sufferings for sinners, being of infinite value: have fully satisfied Gods infinite justice for Sin, and reconciled sinners unto God: 3. Gods justice being fully Satisfied, and sinners effectually reconciled unto God, The Enmity betwixt God and sinners is removed and taken away: 4. The Enmity being fully removed from betwixt God and Sinners thus by Christ, God becomes an amicable Covenant-God to lapsed sinners through Christ, they believing in Christ. Thus God becomes A God by special Covenant-Relation and Interest to lapsed Sinners only in Jesus Christ. He is the only Material and Meritorious Mean in whom the Lord becomes their Covenant-God, And particularly in whom the Lord became a Covenant-God at Mount-Sinai to his people Israel.

3. What the LORD promised, when he Covenanted to be a God to Israel. This is the supream blessing: This is the chief Happiness, that can be assured to Gods people in any Covenant. What is not Promised to Israel, when God promiseth himself to Israel? What is there in the Earth, what is there in the Kingdom of Christ; what is there in the Highest Heavens themselves, that is not comprized and folded up in this, that the Lord will be a God to Israel? To this most high and excellent Priviledge, (The Lords being A Covenant-God to any,) I (k) have spoken very largely heretofore in Gods Covenant with Abraham: thither I refer the Reader for his further Satisfaction and Consolation. And yet I say; Who besides God himself alone, can fully understand, what God promised unto Israel, when he Covenanted to be A God to Israel? For none can fully understand God, but God himself.

(k) See Book III. Ch. 3. Aph. 3.

4. Why the Lord Covenanted to be a God to Israel. This may be briefly resolved in these few Particulars: viz.

First, Because of the riches of his meer grace and favour to Israel. Of meer Grace he made this Covenant with Israel: and of meer Grace he promised this, as all other the Benefits of this Covenant unto Israel. In Israel there was no cause, nor motive at all, as Moses plainly tels them, why God should set his love upon them: only he (l) loved them, because he loved them; He, had (m) mercy and compassion upon them, because he would have mercy and compassion upon them.

(l) Deut. 7. 6, 7. (m) Exod. 33. 19.

Secondly, Because he had already promised to be A God to Abraham and his Seed by an everlasting Covenant: And now superadded this Sinai-Covenant for further Ratification of that grand Blessing then Covenanted to Abraham. To this effect Moses tells Israel (n) you stand this day all of you before the LORD your God, — That thou shouldst enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God, — That he may establish thee to day for a People unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and and to Jacob. This is ſpoken of Gods Covenant with them in the land of Moab: but that Covenant was the ſame with the Sinai-Covenant, being in ſome particulars an Explanation, and further preſſing of it upon the people. To Abraham and his Seed the Lord Covenanted to be a God: therefore in this Sinai-Covenant, which was a more perfect Covenant-adminiſtration, and Confirmatory to Gods Covenant with Abraham, he Covenants alſo to be a God to Iſrael.

Thirdly, Becauſe God intended by this Sinai-Covenant to let Iſrael know, that he would make Iſrael the (o) happieſt people under the face of Heaven, as is evident by many expreſsions of the LORD, recorded by Moſes to that effect. Now wherein doth the ſupream and moſt tranſcendent happineſs of any people Conſiſt? Is it not herein eſpecially, That they have and enjoy the LORD for their God in Covenant? For, 1. God alone is the Higheſt and chief Good. (p) There is none Good, ſave one, that is God. Creatures are good, as Creatures, viz. derivatively good, finitely good, mutably good, &c. but God is Good, as God, viz. Eſſentially, Primitively, Infinitely, Unchangeably, Eternally. What the Creature, or whole Creation hath, tending in any regard to mans Happineſs, is but a little drop out of his Ocean, a ſmall beam darting out of his Glory: and in Compariſon of him is but as vanity, and lighter then vanity. All ſublunary things are far inferior to man, and below him: and nothing below man can be his Happineſs. Mans happineſs muſt lift and raiſe man up above himſelf. 2. God alone had and enjoyed in Chriſt, Removes all mans Sin and Miſery, that keep him from Happineſs; And ſupplies with all Grace, Glory, and deſirable fulneſs, in, and from himſelf, that bring him into compleat Happineſs: yea God had and enjoy'd, is All things to him that hath and enjoys him, And All things in the Higheſt; Honor, Riches, Pleaſure, Habitation, Tuition, Friends, Father, Husband, Grace, Glory, Comfort, Raviſhment, Heaven, A world, and Above ten thouſand worlds of felicities. 3. God (q) alone can compleatly ſatiate and fill mans heart. All Creatures, though in fulleſt enjoyment, leave mans heart ſtill empty, and ſtill craving and aſpiring to ſomething beyond them all. But God enjoy'd as ours, fils every corner of the heart brim-ful and over-flowing: Now only we can ſay, we have enough; here we can fully acquieſce and reſt contented for ever. As the Pſalmiſt; (r) Whom have I in heaven but thee? And in earth there is none that I deſire with thee. As Auguſtine noted; God hath made mans heart capeable of God: and therefore nothing in the world can fill mans heart, but God. God is the only compleat Center and Satisfaction. (s) Happy is the people that is in ſuch a caſe! yea happy is that people whoſe God is the LORD! That therefore Iſrael might ſee the Lord deſired to make them the only Happy People upon Earth, He Covenanted to be A God to them, and conſequently to be A Supream Happineſs to them, and not to any other people. This Moſes elegantly expreſſeth; (t) Thou haſt avouched the LORD this this day to be thy God, —— And the LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, —— And to make thee high above all Nations which he hath made, in Praise, and in Name, and in Honor, and that thou mayst be an Holy people unto the LORD thy God, as he hath spoken.

5. Inferences. Did the Lord Promise thus in his Covenant at Mount Sinai to be A God to Israel and their Posterity? Then, How many Excellent Consectaries may hence result, by way of Application! But, (u) Having spoken exceeding largely to such Inferences already upon that clause of Gods Covenant with Abraham, That he would be A God to Abraham and to his Seed, all or most whereof are easily applicable to Israel and their Posterity, mutatis mutandis: Thither I refer the Reader for Brevity sake, and so proceed to the next Covenant-Mercy.

(u) See Book III. Ch. 3. Aph. 3. Sect. 1.

II. To raise up to Israel, Christ a Mediator and Saviour. All mankind through Adams Fall are become Sinners: yea Israel themselves by Nature Sinners and children of wrath, even as others. The Lord will not be a Covenant-God to any Sinners, but by Means of a Mediator; Satisfying divine justice for their Sin fully, Ransoming them from Death the wages of Sin eternally, and Reconciling them hereupon to God effectually. Therefore in this Covenant, As God Promised to be A God to Israel; So he Promised to raise them up Christ a Prophet, a Mediator, from among themselves, in whom he would be their Covenant-God. This was a most sweet Covenant-blessing. Touching which Consider, 1. That God promised in this Sinai-Covenant to raise up unto Israel from among themselves, Christ a Mediator and Saviour. 2. Why God Promised Christ the Mediator in this Covenant. 3. Inferences thence resulting.

2. Why God thus Promised Christ the Mediator unto Israel in this Covenant: may be cleared by divers Reasons. As,

First, Because God cannot As a God in Covenant, look upon, own, or accept, Israel, or any people in the world since mans Fall, as a peculiar people to himself in Covenant, but only in and through Jesus Christ the sole Mediator betwixt God and man: as hath been shewed. Mercy will not embrace the Sinner: till Justice be satisfied for the Sin. Light will not have Covenant-fellowship with Darkness, nor Life with Death: till Christ the Light and Life of the world bring Light out of Darkness, and Life from the Dead. Hence, they that are (a) without Christ are reputed by the Holy-ghost, to be without God in the world. And such as are Accepted of God, are said to be (b) accepted in The Beloved: viz. in Jesus Christ.

(a) Eph. 2 12.
(b) Ephes. 1 6.

Secondly, Because lapsed Sinners cannot endure a Covenant-fellowship with the Great, the dreadful, the Holy and righteous God, immediately, without a Mediator. This is evident in Israel; For, when God

God immediately by his own voyce promulged and uttered his Covenant out of the midst of the fire on Mount Sinai; Israel trembled and fled back afar off, being unable to endure that which was commanded, and fearing that they should be consumed by that great fire. And therefore they desire Moses to speak from God unto them, and they would obey; but that God might not speak any more immediately unto them, least they dye. They could not bear Gods manifesting his Covenant to them immediately by himself alone: But mediately, by a Mediator. Their Sinful impurities, Infirmities and Disproportion to God being exceeding great. The Lord therefore in this Covenant ([c]) Condescended to them: granted them a desired Mediator, viz. Giving them Moses, one of themselves, as a Typical Mediator for the present; and Promising them Christ to be raised up according to the flesh from among their brethren, as a True Mediator, for the future.

(c) Exod. 20. Deut. 5. with Deut. 18, 18, &c.

Thirdly, Because this Sinai-Covenant (as hath been shewed) was a pure Evangelical Covenant of Faith, and one of ([d]) Gods Covenants of Promise, as Gods former Covenant with Abraham was: and therefore Christ, as Mediator and Saviour of Sinners, must necessarily be revealed, and Promised in this Covenant. For this is the very Nature and intent of the Covenant of Faith, to reveal Christ as Mediator and Saviour for restoring of lapsed Sinners, the peculiar object of Faith in every such Covenant: and this is the very Scope and Design of every Covenant of Promise, to reveal Christ as Promised, and afterwards to be performed, as hath been ([e]) formerly proved in opening the general Nature of the Covenant of Faith. And forasmuch as this Sinai-Covenant (taking Gods Covenants with David, and with the Captive-Jews in Babylon to be comprized therein, as indeed they were): was the last Administration of the Covenants of Promise, continuing in its Compleat force and use till the very Incarnation of Christ: it was Consequently a fuller and clearer Discovery of Christ for Sinners Salvation, then any, then all fœderal dispensations that went before it. Every following Administration more clearly disclosing Christ, then those that went before: and the last Administration most clearly of all.

3: Inferences. Did God Promise in this Sinai-Covenant thus to raise up unto Israel, Christ a Mediator and Saviour? Then,

(1) Hence, Gods Grace and bounty to Israel in this Sinai-Covenant was exceeding Great. For the Promise of Jesus Christ therein, as their Mediator and Saviour, was an exceeding Great Promise. Consider, 1. What Christ was to the Father, ([f]) His Own Son, ([g]) His only begotten Son, ([h]) The Son of his Love in whom his Soul delighted, ([i]) The Brightness of his Glory and express Character of his Person. 2. What Christ was in himself, ([k]) God equal to the Father in all common Titles, Essential Perfections and Works, of the Deity: which in Scripture are frequently ascribed unto him. 3. What Christ

(f) Rom. 8. 32.

(h) Col. 1. 13. Matth. 3. 17.
(i) Heb. 1. 3.
(k) Phil. 2. 6. Rom. 9. 5 Joh. 1. 1, 2. Col. 1. 15, 16, 17.

Christ was to be to Israel, according to this Covenant. A Mediatory Prophet, Priest, and King; Their Redeemer; Their Saviour; The glory of the people Israel. And then say, what rich Grace and bounty God discovered in Promising Christ in this Covenant to Israel: Christ being most Dear to the Father, most precious in himself, most necessary and advantagious unto Israel.

(2) Hence, Israels Priviledge in Christ by this Covenant was peculiarly excellent: Christ being peculiarly Promised to be raised up from among them as their Mediator and Saviour. This Priviledge hath two Eminent aspects;

First, Christ was naturally to descend of Israel according to the Flesh. This was the Jews peculiar prerogative among all other Nations, and the Apostle specially notes it; That ([l]) of them according to the flesh Christ came, who is over all God blessed for ever, Amen. (l) Rom.9.5.

Secondly, Israel was Supernaturally to descend of Christ according to the Spirit He was to be their Mediator, Saviour and Redeemer: They his ransomed, saved and spiritual ([m]) Seed, that should be counted to the Lord for a Generation. How mysterious and full of gracious wisdom are Gods dispensations. (m) Isa.53.10. Psal.22.30.

(3) Hence, The same Christ was revealed under the Old Testament heretofore, that is now revealed under the New. False Christs of mans Pretending have been and may be many: but true Christ of Gods Revealing there is but one. The same Christ, under both Testaments; One and the same ([n]) Christ yesterday, and to Day. The Christ Revealed in both is one and the same: though the Manner of Revealing be different. Then in Shadows, now in Substance: Then in Types, now in Truth: Then under a veil, now with open face: Then more Carnally, now more Spiritually: Then as to come afterwards, now as come already: Then Christ was the Sun under a cloud, but now in a clear Heaven, the veyling cloud being vanisht away. (n) Heb.13.8.

(4) Hence, The Old Testament was Gospel as well as the New. As true Gospel: though not so compleat full and clear Gospel, as the New. Their difference was only gradual and accidental, not substantial or essential. Its the same person: though at first a child, and after a man. A child is as true man, though not in strength or stature so compleat a man, as he that is of full age. The good tidings of Sinners Salvation by Christ, (which is the abstract, the Sum, and life of the Gospel,) was published under the Old Testament as well as under the New: though not so clearly, fully, universally, effectually. They therefore that can find no Gospel in the Law, and thereupon oppose the Law to the Gospel, and reject the Old Testament as void of Gospel, do sufficiently betray their gross ignorance both in Law and Gospel.

(5) Hence, Faith in Christ was Saving, and unbelief Damning under the Sinai-Covenant, as under the New Covenant. For, In that, as in this, Christ was Revealed and Promised for Sinners Salvation through through Faith. No Christ, no Salvation: No faith, no Christ, under Old Testament or New. Believing Jews then, and believing Gentiles now, are alike saved by faith in Christ: (o) Seeing it is one God which justifies the Circumcision by Faith, and uncircumcision through Faith. And on the contrary, unbelievers in Christ both then and now, do alike perish for that unbelief. How precious is Faith, How dangerous infidelity in all ages!

(o) Rom 3. 30.

(6) Hence, True Believers were Christians in Deed, though not in Name, under the Old Testament as under the New. Believers in Christ were (p) first called Christians at Antioch, but they were really Christians long before, even ever since the Sinai Covenant was made, yea even since the Seed of the woman was Promised to Adam; forasmuch as they were by faith implanted into Christ revealed in those Covenants.

(p) Act. 11. 26.

(7) Hence, Not only Temporals (as some do grosly imagine) but Spirituals and Eternals were Revealed and Promised unto Israel under the Old Testament as well as under the New, though more darkly and sparingly. For Christ was promised as Mediator and Saviour in this Sinai-Covenant: And Christ the Mediator, Brings Spirituals and Eternals with himself, yea, Is Spirituals and Eternals in himself, to all that do receive him, believing in the Promises.

III. To give them the Spirit of God and of Christ. By Spirit of God and Christ, I understand the third Person of the God-head the Holy-Ghost, (q) Eternally proceeding from the Father and the Son. This Spirit God promised to Israel in this Covenant, and accordingly gave his Spirit under this Old Testament; viz. in his efficacy, fruits, effects, graces, operations, &c. which metonymically the Scripture is wont to stile The Spirit, and the Holy-ghost. Here Consider two things;

(q) Joh. 15. 26.

First, That God promised in this sense his Spirit to Israel in this Covenant. This may be evinced divers ways, viz.

1. Because, The Lord hath in this Covenant promised to be (r) a God to Israel, as hath been manifested: Consequently, That Father, Son, and Spirit should be theirs, together with their peculiar relations and operations. That God the Father would be their Father, God the Son their Saviour and Redeemer, God the Holy Spirit their Sanctifier and Comforter. That greatest and most comprehensive Promise of the LORD to be a God to Israel, necessarily implyes this and much more.

(r) Deut. 4. 13. & 5. 2, 5, 6. Lev. 26. 3, 22. Jer. 11. 3, 4, 5. Ezr. 25 38. Deut. 29. 10, 11, 12, 13.

2. Because, Moses inviting Israel to the diligent and faithful performance of this Sinai-Covenant, tels them; (t) The Word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in thine heart, that thou mayst do it. And Paul alledging this place, thus expounds it; (u) That is the Word of Faith which we preach, &c. Clearly intimating that this Commandment and word given at Mount Sinai was given as a Covenant of Faith, not of Works. Now, how was the Law in their Heart

(t) Rom. 10. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

to do it? 1. Not Naturally, for by nature mans heart is hard and ſtony ſince the fall, and ſo far from receiving Gods Law into it, that it is meer (u) enmity againſt God, is not ſubject to the Law of God neither indeed can be. therefore while it ſo remains, the Law is but (Litera mortua & mortifera) a dead and deadly Letter to it. How then ſhould this word have ſeat in ſuch a ſtony heart? 2. But Supernaturally the word might be in their heart to do it: If God ſhould by his Spirit of regeneration and renovation correct the pravity of the heart, (as (x) Calvin hath excellently noted,) and ſoften the hardneſs of it, according to the tenour of the Goſpel and Covenant of Faith in Chriſt Its the peculiar work of Gods Spirit to Sanctifie and (y) ſoften the ſtony heart by infuſion of his grace: and then to put the Law of God into the ſoftned heart, for the doing of it evangelically. Hereby then Moſes ſeems to imply that the word of the Sinai-Covenant was in their heart in ſome meaſure by the Grace and work of Gods ſpirit already given them; and further to be beſtowed upon them afterwards for that end.

3. Becauſe, This Covenant Promiſeth Circumciſion of heart, for love, life, and obedience to God. (z) And the LORD thy God will Circumciſe thine heart, and the heart of thy Seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſoul, that thou maiſt live.— And thou ſhalt return and obey the voice of the LORD, and do all his Commandments which I command thee this day. Here two things are principally promiſed: viz. 1. Heart-Circumciſion. 2. The Effects or Conſequents thereof. And both of them the work of the Spirit: therefore in the Promiſe of theſe effects of the ſpirit, He promiſeth the Spirit. I. Circumciſion of heart both to them and their Seed. This is a ſpiritual Promiſe of Regeneration and Sanctification by Chriſt and his Spirit. In Chriſt (a) we are circumciſed with Circumciſion made without hands in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh, by the Circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in Baptiſm, &c. II. Effects of this Heart-Circumciſion are divers. 1. Sincere and entire (b) love of God. This is a ſpecial fruit of the ſanctifying Spirit. 2. Life viz. Here, by (c) Faith and Holineſs. Both of them fruits of the Spirit. Hereafter, by glory in Heaven. 3. Obedience. This alſo a fruit of the ſanctifying ſpirit. (d) Elect through Sanctification of the ſpirit unto obedience. So that in the promiſe of theſe Spiritual bleſſings, ſingularly wrought by the ſpirit of God, who can ſay but the ſpirit of God was promiſed?

4. Becauſe, In this Sinai-Covenant God promiſed, that Iſrael ſhould be to him (e) An Holy Nation, A Kingdom of Prieſts and a Peculiar Treaſure above all people, Theſe are all ſpiritual bleſſings: the (f) Special work of Gods Spirit upon true believers by effectual calling, as Peter intimates evidently. In theſe bleſſings therefore the ſpirit was promiſed to them.

(e) Exod. 19. 4, 5, 6.

(f) 1 Pet. 2. 7, 9, 10.

5. Becauſe, Under this Sinai-Covenant, the Old Teſtament (which extended itſelf till the Coming of Chriſt) Gods ſpirit was both Promiſed in expreſs terms, and Performed divers waies, unto the people Iſrael.

1. Promiſed very clearly to the Jews when they ſhould return from their Babyloniſh Captivity. (g) And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new ſpirit within you: and I will take the ſtony heart out of their fleſh and will give them an heart of fleſh. — And I will put my Spirit within you, and cauſe you to walk in my ſtatutes. 2. Performed alſo; Both in regard of his extraordinary operations in the Prophets, inſpiring, acting and aſſiſting them extraordinarily in their Prophetical Function, for Preaching, Prophecying things to come and writing the Scriptures. And in regard of his ordinary works of Sanctification and Conſolation. Whence had (h) thoſe witneſſes their excellent Faith, ſo highly commended, but from the (i) Spirit of God working it in them? David himſelf who was under the Sinai-Covenant, intimates that God had given his holy ſpirit unto him, when repenting after his fall he praies; (k) Caſt me not away from thy preſence, and take not thy holy Spirit from me. Reſtore unto me the joy of thy Salvation, and ſtabliſh me with thy free Spirit. Thus the firſt thing is clear; That Gods ſpirit was promiſed to Iſrael in this Sinai-Covenant.

Secondly, How thus can ſtand with that paſſage in John? viz. — (l) But this ſpake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him, ſhould receive, for the Holy-ghoſt was not yet given, becauſe that Jeſus was not yet glorified. By this it ſeems the Holy-ghoſt was not given till Chriſts aſcenſion into Heaven, and conſequently not promiſed to be given before: for then God would have performed his promiſe. And therefore the Holy-ghoſt was neither given, nor promiſed to the Jews under the Old Teſtament, this Sinai-Covenant.

Anſw. For clearing this doubt, Conſider:

1. That the particle οὔπω, not-yet, (The Holy-ghoſt was not-yet given) may be here taken Comparatively, rather then Negatively. The Holy-Ghoſt was not yet given ſo plenteouſly, ſo fully, ſo viſibly, ſo variouſly, &c. before, as after Chriſts aſcenſion and glorification. For it cannot be denyed by any that deny not the Scriptures, that the Holy-Ghoſt was given before Chriſts Coming even under the Old Teſtament, both Extraordinarily, and Ordinarily, in ſome meaſure and degree. Extraordinarily, to Moſes and the Prophets and to other perſons extraordinarily imployed by God: that thereby they might be enabled to and in extraordinary Services to God and his Church. Ordinarily to all the true believers before and under the Old Teſtament in the ordinary gifts graces and endowments of Sanctification, as Faith, Repentance, Love, Fear, Joy in Chriſt, &c. which we read Gods people of old commended for: all which they had from the Spirit of God, as his peculiar (m) fruits and effects. And thus (not) is ſometimes uſed as a Comparative: rather then as a Simple Negative in divers Scriptures. As, (n) If ye were blind ye ſhould have no ſin: viz. not, none at all abſolutely; but none comparatively. Knowledge adds an aggravation to ſin. (o) If I had not come, and ſpoken to them they had not had ſin: that is, they had not had so great hainous and inexcusable sin. Sinning against great means of grace greatly aggravates sin. (p) Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel: that is, Christ sent me not so much to baptize, as to preach. Christ sent him and all his Apostles (q) to do both, otherwise Paul should have sinned to have baptized any at all, without Commission: but he sent them principally and especially to preach the Gospel, as being a more principal work of their Ministery.

2. That, this term (Holy-Ghost) signifies among other things, The Extraordinary, and The Ordinary gifts and endowments of the Holy Ghost: which are (by a Metonymie of the cause put for the effect) called the Holy-Ghost. 1. The (r) extraordinary gifts and endowments of the Holy-Ghost, which were visible and apparent: as Doing Miracles, Speaking divers strange languages, &c. These are often called the Holy-Ghost. 2. The ordinary gifts and graces of the Spirit, Regenerating, Renewing, and Sanctifying the heart and soul more invisibly and indiscernably. These also are called (s) the Spirit and Holy-Ghost, frequently. Now when John saith, The Holy-Ghost was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorifyed; By Holy-Ghost there we are to understand the extraordinary gifts of the Holy-Ghost principally and especially, which were promised of old by the Prophets, and were actually performed and poured out upon the Apostles on the day of Pentecost after Christs Ascension, as the Holy-Ghost (t) interprets it by Peter: which wonderful endowments were also afterwards poured forth upon many other believers. So that this hinders not at all, why the Ordinary gifts of the Spirit might be given under the Old Testament. But if any shall yet contend that John seems to intend both Ordinary and Extraordinary gifts of the Holy-Ghost: Let that be first proved; and when that's done, All that can be gained shall be this, That the Holy-Ghost was not so eminently and abundantly given, till Christ was glorified, but he was truly given both in ordinary and some extraordinary endowments under the Old Testament.

Inferences. Did God thus Promise, and also perform, the Holy Ghost in some measure under the Old Testament this Sinai-Covenant? Then,

1. Hence, The Socinians do greatly err, and grosly derogate from Gods rich grace, and believers priviledges under the Old Testament, whilst they say; (u) There are two Promises of Christ belonging only to the New Covenant, viz. Eternal life and the gift of the Holy Ghost: neither of which was comprehended in the Law of Moses. For you shall no where finde, either eternal life, or the gift of the Holy-Ghost promised to them that obey the precepts of the Law: as they are promised in the Law given

(u) Duo sunt promissa Christi ad novum fœdus duntaxat pertinentia, viz vita æterna, & donum spiritus sancti quorum neutrum in lege Mosis fuit Comprehensum. Etenim nusquam in lege Mosis reperies, aut vitam æternam, aut donum Scripturæ Sancti obedientibus præceptis legis promissum, quemadmodum in lege per Christum datâ promissa sunt. *Catechis. Racovien. by Chriſt. This is a falſe and wicked ſlander. For it is already proved, that under this Sinai-Covenant, the Old Teſtament, the Holy Spirit was Promiſed, and alſo then Performed in ſome degree both in his Ordinary and Extraordinary endowments. I think not this groſs Opinion worthy any further refutation.

2. Hence, The Sinai-Covenant or Old Teſtament was a Doctrine of juſtification, not by works, but by Faith: becauſe, by, and under it the Jews received the Spirit. The Doctrine of Juſtification by works, according to the Covenant of works, vouchſafeth to none the Spirit, neither in his ordinary nor extraordinary gifts and operations: but the Doctrine of Juſtification by Faith, the Doctrine of the Goſpel is crowned with this bleſſing. (x) Received ye the ſpirit by the works of the Law, or by the hearing of Faith? As if he had ſaid, ye did not receive the Spirit in his Ordinary or Extraordinary gifts, by the Doctrine of juſtification by works of the Law, but by the hearing of the Doctrine of juſtification by Faith. Conſequently I conclude, this Sinai-Covenant was not a Legal Doctrine of works, but an evangelical Doctrine of Faith; the ſame for ſubſtance with the New Covenant: becauſe in it the Spirit was promiſed, under it the Spirit was given.

(x) Gal. 3. 2.

3. Hence, The grace of God, and Priviledge of the believing Jews, was exceeding great in regard of the Spirit of God beſtowed upon them, even under the Old Teſtament this Sinai-Covenant. Till Chriſt, no other Nation in the world was thus honoured. Chriſt counts Gods Spirit one of his higheſt Gifts: (y) how much more ſhall the heavenly father give the Holy Spirit to them that aſk him? True, they had the Holy Spirit given more ſparingly, more imperfectly, and more obſcurely; in weaker meaſure, and with leſs variety and eminency of gifts, ordinary and extraordinary; then he is given under the New Teſtament. But they had their meaſure, according to the then condition of the Church, by drops and ſhowers: but the (z) Rivers of this living water were reſerved till Chriſts times as glorious Trophies of his Aſcenſion and Glorification.

4. Hence, The Myſtical body of the Church of Chriſt, was united to Chriſt the Head, as alſo acted, enlivened and guided from Chriſt the Head, by one and the ſame ſpirit of Chriſt, both under Old and New Teſtament.

IV. To beſtow upon them many Temporal and outward Mercies and bleſsings for their preſent life in this world. For opening this, I ſhall ſhew; 1. That God in this Sinai-Covenant promiſed many Temporal Outward Bleſsings to Iſrael. 2. Why he promiſed to them ſuch bleſsings. 3. In what Notion ſuch Temporals were promiſed to them: whether meerly as Temporals in reference only to the outward man; or alſo as Types of Spirituals and Eternals?

Firſt. That God in this Sinai-Covenant Promiſed many Temporal Mercies of this life to Iſrael and their Poſterity; may be abundantly dantly proved by Induction of many Particular Bleſſings Promiſed. As, The Lord Promiſed theſe, and like Bleſſings;

1. To give them the Land of Canaan for an Inheritance, to them and to their Seed. Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 11. 8. to 13. 31. & 1. 8, 35, 36. & 4. 1, 37, 38. & 6. 10, 11, 18, 19. & 8. 6, 7, 8, 9.

2. To ſubdue, diſpoſſeſs and caſt out the Heathen Canaanites, &c. that dwelt therein, that Iſrael might poſſeſs and enjoy their Land, Cities, Houſes, &c. Deut. 11. 22. to 26. & 6. 18, 19. & 7. 16. to the end.

3. To give them length of daies in the land of Canaan. Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 16. & 11. 9. 21. & 4. 40. & 5. 33.

4. To multiply them exceedingly in the land of Canaan, Lev. 26. 9. Deut. 6. 3.

5. To Heap upon them all ſorts of Outward Bleſsings, Health, Wealth, Honour, Victory, Peace, and all manner of Proſperity in the land of Canaan, and to ſet them on high above all Nations of the earth, when they ſhould come to poſſeſs it. Levit. 26. 3. to 11. Deut. 28. 1. to 15. & 11. 13, 14, 15. & 7. 12, 13, 14, 15.

6. To put all the contrary curſes upon their enemies that ſhould hate and perſecute them, Deut. 30. 7. & 7. 15.

7. To return them again, from all Nations and Countries, even from the utmoſt part of heaven whither they ſhould be ſcattered for their ſins and breach of Covenant, into their own land of Canaan, upon their Repentance, Deut. 30. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

And not to deſtroy or caſt them away utterly; but to remember his Covenant with them, repenting, Levit. 26. 42. to 46.

Secondly, Why the Lord Promiſed ſuch Outward bleſſings to Iſrael in this Sinai-Covenant, and that ſo plainly and plentifully, viz.

1. Becauſe, The Lord is a faithful Covenant-keeping God. In purſuance and (a) performance therefore of his Covenant with their fathers, viz. with Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, he promiſed thus to furniſh Iſrael, their ſeed, with all plenty and variety of outward Bleſſings.

(a) Deut. 7. 12. to 17.

2. Becauſe, The Lord would encourage and oblige the people Iſrael to all chearful Love, Service and Obedience to himſelf: that they might faithfully, diligently and conſtantly keep his Covenant and Commandments. Every mercy is a Motive to Obedience: A Confluence of Mercies carries as a forcible ſtream thereunto. Hence its very obſervable how God, in (b) propounding of theſe Promiſes, ſtill indents and conditions with them for Love, or Obedience to his Commandments, or keeping his Covenant, or ſomething to like effect.

(b) Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 7. 11, 12. &c. & 28. 1, 2. &c. Lev. 26. 3, 4 &c. Deut. 8. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

3. Becauſe, Iſrael was a very carnal people, much led and moved by by Outward and viſible things in the waies of Religion. God therefore ſo far condeſcended and ſtooped to their dulneſs and weakneſs, as to allure and hire them to the love of himſelf and his waies, by promiſes and performance of Outward ſenſible bleſsings. And it is plain, though God here and there in the propounding and expounding of his Covenant do ſprinkle ſome Spiritual Promiſes, yet they were very few: The ſtream of the Promiſes principally running upon earthly and carnal Bleſsings, to that earthly and carnal people.

4. Becauſe, All Abrahams believing Seed of the Jews were with Abraham (c) heirs of the world by Faith. This their Heir-ſhip therefore, and their faith touching the ſame, the Lord was willing to confirm by theſe ample and various Promiſes touching outward worldly Bleſsings.

(c) Rom. 4. 13.

5. Becauſe, God would have them know, That they who by true Faith accept his Covenant for ſpirituals and eternals, ſhall have alſo a plentiful ſuperaddition of Temporals unto them, as advantages caſt into the main agreement. So true is that of our Saviours, (d) Seek ye firſt the Kingdom of God and his righteouſneſs, and all theſe things ſhall be added unto you. And that of Paul's, (e) Godlineſs is profitable to all things, having the Promiſe of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

(e) 1 Tim. 4. 8.

Thirdly, In what Notion Temporals were thus Promiſed to Iſrael: whether meerly as Temporals, for the benefit of this life preſent only; or alſo as Types and ſhadows of better things, viz. Spirituals and Eternals?

Anſw. Theſe Promiſes of Temporals, viſible; were intended alſo to lead Iſrael to Spirituals and eternals inviſible. For, 1. The inheritance of Canaan was a Type of Believers inheritance in Heaven: As (f) I have already proved. So that in this reſpect Auguſtine ſaid well; (g) The Land of Promiſe, is underſtood (to be in the myſterie of it) the Kingdom of Heaven. Let the learned alſo elſewhere (h) conſult him, how ingeniouſly (I will not ſay how ſolidly) he gives the Allegory of The land of Canaan in reference to ſpirituals. 2. Canaan Typing out Heaven, Conſequently long life in Canaan, and a Confluence of all Proſperity there, ſeem to ſhadow out eternal life and all cœleſtial happineſs in heaven. That Land flowed with Milk and Honey: This heavenly and better Country flows with unmixed (i) joys and raviſhing pleaſures at Gods right hand for evermore. 3. The keeping of many Iſraelites out of Canaan for unbelief, typed Gods keeping unbelievers out of Heaven, Numb. 14. Heb. 3. & 4. 4. The caſting out of the Canaanite from that Holy Land, was a ſhadow (k) of the Purity of the Church in the latter daies, eſpecially when the New Jeruſalem ſhall deſcend from God out of Heaven, and no unclean thing ſhall in any wiſe enter therein, &c. but only they that are written in the lambs book of life.

Inferences. Did God thus Promiſe Temporals in this Sinai-Covenant to Iſrael? Then, Hence take notice,

1. That

1. That (l) the earth is the LORD's and the fulneſs thereof: the round world and they that dwell therein. Heaven and earth are his, and at his ſole diſpoſal, (m) He is the moſt high God poſſeſſor of Heaven and earth: He promiſeth and conſequently performeth them to whom he will.

(l) Pſal. 24 1.

(m) Gen. 14. 19.

2. How good the Lord was to Iſrael of old 1. In Promiſing them Temporals ſo plentifully of his meer grace, for their Comfortable being and well-being in this world. 2. In promiſing them, under thoſe Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals, for their Glorious being and well-being in Heaven in the world to come. Here was rich goodneſs, double bounty. The Letter and outſide of this Promiſe, was Gracious: but the Spirit and inſide of this Promiſe, was Glorious. God couched Heaven in Earthly bleſsings promiſed to Iſrael: that when Iſrael ſhould come to enjoy theſe earthly bleſsings they might thereby in a ſort enjoy Heaven and live in Heaven.

3. That, Gods people have and hold their Temporal bleſsings for this life by Gods Covenant of Faith and Promiſes: not only, as others by his common bounty and Providence. And herein they have great advantage above all unbelievers.

(1) Their Title and claim is clear and juſt to the good things of this life: by Gods free grant in his Great-charter the Covenant and Promiſes thereof in Chriſt, in which reſpects others are but uſurpers: When they want any earthly comfort, they may plead to God his Covenant and Promiſes. And God will not, cannot go back from his word: He is JEHOVAH.

2. Their Poſſeſsion of theſe outward things is moſt comfortable and ſweet. For, All theſe Earthly Bleſsings are, Their Heavenly Fathers Love-tokens; Their Saviour Jeſus Chriſts Legacies, (who is the marrow of this and of every Covenant of Faith,) they come ſwimming and flowing to them in the ſtreams of his blood, They are as the pot of Manna with Gods Covenant in the Ark: this advantage is upon them by Being thus Covenanted and Promiſed, They are hereby elevated above their own Nature and become in a ſort bleſsings Spiritualized. Hence it comes to paſs, that the (n) Little of the righteous, is better then the Mammon of many wicked.

(n) Pſal 37. 16.

(3) Their Privation of Temporals, whether by want or Loſs, is a Condition of Hope. The Covenant and Promiſes of God are rich, be they never ſo poor: are full, be they never ſo empty of outward enjoyments: And to this Well they may come and draw with the buckets of Faith and Prayer, and ſhall ſpeed ſo far (o) as ſhall be good for them. They have this Magizine and Treaſury of Gods Promiſes to run to in all their ſtraits: which others have not. Though they (p) have nothing in poſſeſsion: they have all things in Gods Covenant and Promiſes.

V. To confer upon Iſrael many Spiritual Bleſsings in Chriſt. In this Covenant the LORD promiſed to Iſrael not only Temporals, but alſo Spirituals; yea in Temporals, Spirituals. Nor did he only only Promiſe Spirituals implicitly, and covertly in, and under Temporals: but explicitly, openly, and diſtinctly by themſelves. Theſe Spirituals, (if we reſpect this Sinai-Covenant the Old Teſtament in his full latitude and extent from Moſes till Chriſt,) are very numerous and glorious: ſufficient to fill a Conſiderable volume, ſhould they all be recited and briefly explained. But becauſe many of them will come under Conſideration opportunely in treating of Gods Covenant with David and after with the Babyloniſh Captives; I ſhall therefore now only give the Reader a brief taſte of ſome Eminent Spiritual Mercies promiſed to Iſrael in this Sinai-Covenant, as it was Propounded and Expounded by Moſes himſelf, by which he may judge of all the reſt.

Spiritual Bleſsings promiſed to Iſrael in this Sinai-Covenant, and that more expreſly, were ſuch as theſe. viz. 1. Gods Special Acceptation of the people Iſrael. 2. His Sanctification of them. 3. Their Juſtification by Faith in Chriſt. 4. His furniſhing them with Ability to Obſerve and keep his Covenant. 5. His chooſing out a place for his Name to dwell in, and for his Solemn Worſhip to be exerciſed in, within the Land of Canaan, when they ſhould be quietly poſſeſſed of it. 6. His gracious Preſence and habitation among them in his Tabernacle. 7. His furniſhing them with Eminency of Church-enjoyments above all other People.

1. Gods Special Acceptation of the People Iſrael to himſelf among all the people of the Earth. This his peculiar Acceptation of them, Paul cals The Adoption: (q) Whoſe are, The Adoption, and the Glory, &c. By Adoption here I underſterſtand, Not that ſingular Adoption ſtrictly taken, whereunto the Elect of God are eternally predeſtinated in Chriſt, of which the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Epheſ. 1. 5. for in that ſenſe all Iſrael were not Adopted, but only a remnant among them; But that Special Adoption more largely taken, whereby the Lord placed his love and favour ſo upon the whole body of that people Iſrael, as to take them into Covenant, to make them his Church, to count them his own people alone among all other people, &c. Calling them not only his children, (r) but his firſt-born. Now this his Special Acceptation of Iſrael, the LORD on Mount Sinai teſtified in his Introduction to the Sinai-Covenant moſt emphatically, by Moſes. (t) Thus ſhalt thou ſay to the Houſe of Jacob, and tell the children of Iſrael; ye have ſeen what I did to the Egyptians, and how I bare you on Eagles wings, and brought you unto my ſelf. Now therefore if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my Covenant: Then ye ſhall be a peculiar treaſure unto me above all people; though all the Earth is mine. And ye ſhall be unto me a Kingdom of Prieſts: And an holy Nation. Theſe are the words which thou ſhalt ſpeak unto the children of Iſrael. Omitting what I have (u) formerly noted in explaining theſe words, it is here plain; That God, haveing brought Iſrael out of Egypt, unto Mount Sinai, moſt graciouſly and miraculouſly, promiſed to them his Special acceptation of them, if they would obey him, and keep his Covenant which he was now about to make with them at Mount Sinai. This was his Introduction to the promulging of his Sinai-Covenant.

Now this his Special Acceptation of them promised, is laid down in three distinct branches, every of them eminently Emphatical.

(1) That, They should be a peculiar Treasure unto God above all people. The Hebrew word סגלה Segullah, here translated Peculiar-Treasure, doth properly signifie; A Paculiar, Proper, Special, Chief, and Singular thing, as (u) Pagnin notes. Or, A singular, or Excellent Thing in a Treasury, whether Silver, or Gold, or Precious-stones, which is Rare, and therefore is reckoned among delights, and is preserved as Singular. Hence Metaphorically that which is entirely dear to one, is stiled Segullah. The Hebrew Logicians call the fourth Predicable Segullah, which we call Proprium: as (x) Mercerus observeth touching the proper Emphasis of this word. Or, As others interpret the force of the word, It signifies, (y) Ones own proper Good which he loveth, and keeps in store for himself, for his special use: A thing desired, Dear and singular or proper to a man himself: A beloved treasure, a glorious thing and desirable, an holy treasure, a treasure which hath both magnificence, splendour and Ornament; (z) The peculiar-treasure of Kings. —— I have of mine own proper-good, of gold and silver, &c. given to the house of my God, saith David: that is, Of my proper goods of excellency, and most precious, of gold purely refined, &c. which I had choicely laid up in my treasury, have I given. Learned Rivet excellently explains this word to this effect And that the sense is; (a) Ye shall be to me as a proper possession, as a precious treasure, which I will above all other things count dear unto me. — Now this is the Sum of all benefits, because it's the Head and Original of all good things; if God takes any one into his Singular care and protection, as we sollicitously keep things precious to us. Ainsworth saith; (b) The Chaldee translateth it beloved: So do other Hebrews, saying; Segullah signifieth that they should be beloved before him, as a desirable treasure, which a King delivereth not into the hand of any of his officers, but keepeth it himself. And such is the case of Israel, of whom it is said (in Deut. 32.9.) For the LORDS portion is his people, &c. R. Menachem on Exod. 19.

So that the word is very significant and emphatical, to set forth Gods special acceptation of Israel above all other People. Israel shall be Gods (z) Segullah; his peculiar-treaſure, which he ſingularly prizeth, loves and lays up in his own treaſury; which he peculiarly challengeth as his own poſſeſſion, pertaining to none other; which he accounts peculiarly near, dear, and delightful unto himſelf above all other people; which he boaſts in, which he will not part with, &c. This was Gods ſpecial acceptation of the people Iſrael which he promiſed them; this their great Priviledge above all others, which for the praiſe of Gods rich grace and love to them, and their happineſs in God, is often mentioned. (d) The LORD thy God hath choſen thee to be a ſpecial-people unto himſelf above all people that are upon the face of the Earth. (e) —— The LORD hath choſen thee to be a peculiar people unto himſelf, above all the Nations that are upon the Earth. (f) —— The LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promiſed thee. Hereupon ſaid the Pſalmiſt; (g) The LORD hath choſen Jacob to himſelf: Iſrael for his peculiar-treaſure. This word is applyed in Malachi to them of Iſrael that feared the Lord: and there it is tranſlated (h) Jewels. In the New Teſtament the Apoſtle applying this phraſe unto believers, cals them (i) λαὸν περιούσιον) A peculiar people. Hierome in his Comment, renders it (populum egregium) an excellent people, but confeſſeth he could not know the meaning of the word from any Grecians, till he conſulted the verſion of the Lxxij, who by this word render the Hebrew סגלה Segullah. (k) Cameron ſaith; the word περιουσία ſignifies, Abundance. For, Ornaments and precious things abound: therefore they are treaſured up, and had in greater price then vulgar things. Another ſaith; (l) The Greek word properly ſignifies ſomething, on which a man, for ſome excellency in it, ſets his affection more then on others, and therefore layeth it up, and reſerveth it for ſome ſpecial uſe and purpoſe, and will not at any hand part with it: as if a man ſhould lay up ſome bright and beautiful pieces of gold, which he will not ſuffer to ſee the Sun, as we ſay, or be brought out ſcarce in extream neceſsity. If we look at the Notation of the word, περιουσία ſeems properly to ſignifie, A compaſſed-ſubſtance, or poſſeſsion: from ἐιμὶ Subſtance, and περὶ about; that ſubſtance which with much care and diligence we have brought about into our own poſſeſsion. Or, An Eminent Subſtance, as περὶ ſometimes denotes Eminency. And as Paul ſtiles believers, λαὸν περιούσιον, a Peculiar people: So Peter to like effect cals them, (m) λαὸν εἰς περιποίησιν, A people for peculiar-acquiſition; or, for peculiar-challenge, claim or intereſt, viz. whom God hath acquired, framed, and fitted peculiarly for his own poſſeſſion and inheritance. As Calvin well; (n) The Lord hath called them, that he may poſſeſs them as truly his, and addicted to him. The Greek word (o) ſignifying, 1. Acquiſition or purchaſing of any thing, and this by peculiar coſt, care, pains, art, &c. as Act. 20.28. 1 Theſ. 5. 9. Tit. 2. 14. 2. Aſſerting or challenging any thing to ones ſelf, as his own appropriate poſſeſsion or proper inheritance by ſpecial and peculiar right, As Epheſ. 1.14.

Now, Israel according to this Promise became Gods peculiar-treasure in many respects above all other people. For, 1 They were peculiarly (p) setled and chosen of God to be a Special people unto God above all other people: and this not for their own worth, but for his free grace and love to them. He loved them, because he loved them. 2. They were peculiarly above all other people (q) brought into Covenant with God. The Law only given to them. The Old Testament was peculiarly appropriate to them. 3. The (r) Promises of the Covenant peculiarly belonged to them. 4. They only had (s) the Glory. The Ark of God, wherein the Covenant was Contained, A Special token and indication of Gods presence among them, and a most Eminent type of Jesus Christ, was this glory. 5. They peculiarly had (t) the Oracles of God committed-of-trust unto them. This was a Primary priviledge of the Jews. They were his Feoffees in trust, His Special Trustees, His Library keepers, for preserving the blessed Treasure of his Scriptures, for the benefit of all Succeeding Churches in all ages. (u) He sheweth his Word to Jacob, his Statutes and his Judgements to Israel. He hath not dealt so with any Nation, and for his judgements they have not known them. 6. They peculiarly enjoyed the true worship and (x) Service of God, and all his Ordinances or Outward means of Grace, set forth in his Sinai-Covenant, both in Moral and Ceremonial Laws, distinguishing them from all other people in the world, as a Partition-Wall. All other Nations of the Heathen God over-looked (ὑπεριδων) suffering them to perish in ignorance and unbelief during the times of the Old Testament. 7. They peculiarly had the Lord God (y) nigh unto them in all things, that they called upon him for. They only had the Ear of God for all their Petitions. 8. They peculiarly were the blessed Stock, descending from the faithful fathers, and having the Holy Line of Jesus Christ according to the flesh among them; (z) Whose are the Fathers, and of whom according to the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever; Amen. 9. They peculiarly were (a) the Common-wealth of God; constituted and governed by Gods own immediate Political Laws, the most wise and righteous Laws that ever were framed for any Politie in the world. 10. And, what shall I further say? They peculiarly and only were the Church of the Living God, (b) whom God did peculiarly take care of, protect and guide, among whom he did in peculiar manner dwell and walk. All other Nations being (c) without Christ, without Covenant, without Church, without Hope and without God in the world. Thus Israel was every way Peculiar to God, His appropriate Treasure, His singularly exempt people. No wonder that Balaam said of Israel, (d) Lo, the people shall dwell alone: and shall not be reckoned among the Nations. Thus, though all the Earth was Gods by right of Creation, Conservation and Government, yet God would separate and single out Israel alone to himself out of all the world. One Israel should

(e) Among this people God had his peculiar portion; For, 1. He had the Israelites for his Nation. 2. The Levites for his service. 3. The first-born of clean creatures for Sacrifice. 4. The Sabbath for Time. 5. The Tabernacle and Temple for Place. 6. The Tithes for Revenue. So, to alienate any of these without his consent is Sacriledge. Lond. Annot. on Exod. 19 5.

(2) That, They should be to God a (f) Kingdom of Priests. Or, (g) A Royal Priesthood, as Peter renders this phrase: Or, (h) Kings and Priests to God, as John explains it. This is Gods second expression, denoting his special acceptation of that people Israel. It is very variously interpreted. 1. Some thus; That this is a comparison betwixt this Kingdom, which God was about to erect in Israel, and all other Kingdoms in the world. Other Kingdoms were prophane: but this should be Sacred, whose King, God, is Holiness it self; whose subjects should be consecrated to this God, performing sacred things to their King; yea shall be a Kingdom, not prophane consisting of wealth and arms; but of sacred persons, and sacred things. 2. Some thus; (i) That this is a tacit comparison of Israels former, with their future state, in reference to the freeness, wealth and honorableness of their Condition: yea, remember that in the great famin, The Kings family, and Priests that had a portion of food allowed, were preserved free in their persons and estates, and in honorable condition in Egypt, when all the rest of the Egyptians sold themselves and their possessions, for food: thus ye shall be to me as the King and Priests of Egypt, I will maintain and preserve you in freedom, wealth and honor, when others shall be in contrary distresses. And whereas your selves have been Bond-men, Poor, and Despised in Egypt: I will make you Free-men, Rich, and Honorable; like Kings and Priests, which among people are in chief Honor and Happiness. There might be something in this; God might have some allusion hereunto: but this reacheth not the full intention of God herein. 3 Some therefore note, That the word (Kingdom) may be here taken Actively, or Passively. Actively, as the Chaldee Paraphrast renders it, Kings: ye shall be Kings and Priests unto me: Answerable to which is the (k) phrase of John in the Revelation. Kings, In conquering the Canaanites, and all their Enemies, and ruling over them: Priests, In being peculiarly above all other Nations set apart and sanctified to God and his service, and so brought nearer unto God, then any Nation in the world; (l) the children of Israel, a people near unto him; As Priests were separated to God and his service out of all their Tribes, and were brought nearer to God, then all the rest of the Tribes. Passively, for them, over whom a King shall reign, viz. God. As if God had said; ye shall be to me such a Kingdom, as can agree or befall none other beside me, because so many Subjects as ye shall be, so many Priests ye shall be, offering to my name. This interpretaterpretation likes (m) Rivet best: Partly because the Pronoun (to me,) shews that God did choose this Kingdom to himself, and he was King of this Priestly Kingdom. Partly, because that Epithet, (Kingdom of Priests,) seems specially to declare this, for it's peculiarly proper to God only to have Priests, nor is there any other King to whom the honor of Sacrifice is due, but to God alone. Nor doth he oppugn, if any shall here understand the word both in the Active and Passive signification. And to this last interpretation I subscribe, as most full and pertinent, in this place: denoting Gods singular acceptance of Israel, As his Subjects, to be ruled by himself; as his Priests, to serve him in a special manner, and be nigh unto him; yea, as his Kings, to subdue and rule over Canaanites, and all other their and his enemies.

(m) And Rivet. in Exod. 19.6.

(3) That, They should be an (n) Holy Nation. The whole Nation or Body of the people Israel were accordingly counted Holy, by God: though every individual among them was not truly and savingly Holy in the inward man. They were accounted an Holy Nation, 1. In regard of their (o) Calling, Separation and peculiar segregation, from all the impure Idolatrous Nations of the Heathen, unto the Lord the Holy one of Israel, and to his Holy service, to be near unto him. Seperation of any person or thing from Common prophane condition or use, to sacred, renders them Holy. viz. Holy by Separation or Dedication. 2. In regard of their being brought into an (p) Holy Covenant with God, not only in their Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, but also in their own persons (q) at Mount Sinai. Gods Holy Covenant renders all in Covenant with him Holy: the Covenant bringing them near to the most Holy God. (r) Gather my Saints together unto me, those that have made a Covenant with me by Sacrifice. This is called Fœderal Sanctity, or Covenant-Holiness. 3. In regard of their Holy Profession. They visibly and outwardly (s) professed to be Gods peculiar people, to walk according to his Holy Laws; both in avoiding all defiling impurities, and in purifying themselves from all impurities contracted against the Law, and in pursuing all purity required and prescribed in the Law. This Holiness they professed, in which regard they were externally Sanctified and Holy, as the phrase is used to like sense in the (t) New Testament also. In all these respects the whole Body of Israel was an Holy Nation: and in comparison of them all other Nations in the world were unclean, unholy, prophane, wallowing in their Paganish pollutions, defilements and idolatries.

Thus the Lord Promised to Israel His special and peculiar Acceptation of them, even of the whole Body of that people in these three eminent expressions. Notwithstanding, the Inward Life and Spirit of these three Priviledges, A peculiar Treasure, Kingdom of Priests, and Holy Nation, was participated by no carnal unregenerate Few, but only by them that were then regenerate and true believers lievers among them: and for such especially and peculiarly the Lord intended these Excellent Promises; As (u) Peter tels the dispersed Jews, after Christ, that were true believers, effectually called out of darkness into his marvellous light, saying; But ye are an Elect Generation, a Royal Priesthood, an Holy Nation, a peculiar people.

True Believers are,

A Kingdom of Priests, A Royal Priesthood, or Kings and Priests to God. I. Kings to God, in divers spiritual respects. For, 1. They are the Royal Seed and posterity of Jesus Christ, the King of Kings. By their New-birth they are all born Princes, of the blood-royal of Heaven, *Rev.*19.16. with Psal. 22.28,29,30. Isai. 53. 10, 11. Psal. 110.1,2,3. *Joh.*3.3,5. & 1.11, 12. 1 Pet. 1.3,4,23. 2. They are the Royal (x) members of Christ, their Head and King, with whom they make up but one body. And so are Kings in him. 3. They, as Royal heirs and co-heirs with Christ, heir of all things, having Royal right by Covenant and Promise to the whole world, *Rom.*8.17. Heb. 1.3 Rom. 4.13. 1 Tim. 4.8. 4. They live a princely life; As Gods Subjects, whom to serve is to Reign; And as Princely Rulers of their own Spirits, Hearts and Affections, (y) which is more then taking or ruling a City. 5. They have royal Battels to fight on Earth against many spiritual Enemies, over whom they are (z) more then Conquerors, even Triumphers, and reign over them, as Kings in and through Jesus Christ, As Sin, Rom. 3.21,22. *Heb.*12.4. *Gal.*5.16,24. For, 1. They are of the Priestly line of Jesus Christ our great High Priest by their Spiritual descent, *Exod.*28.1. Psal. 110.3,4. 2. They are all mystical members of their Head: and therefore are Priests in his Priesthood, Ephes. 5.23,30,31,32. 3. They are qualified for this Spiritual Priesthood, by being without blemish, and spiritually unblameable, Lev. 21.17. to the end, with Cant. 4.1, &c. 7. Col. 1.22. 1 Thes. 3.13. Act. 26 24. Ephes. 5.27. 4. They are actually called to this Spiritual Priest-

An Holy Nation. All true believers of Jews or Gentiles are an Holy Nation, in divers respects. For, 1. They are Elected unto Holiness, and through Sanctification to Happiness, Eph. 1. 4. Col. 3. 12. 1 Pet. 1, 2. 2. They are called with an holy calling, 2 Tim. 1. 9. If hypocrites are said to be sanctified through their counterfeit Profession: how much more may sincere believers be said to be sanctified by a true Profession? 4. They are interested and savingly enstalled in Gods Holy Covenant: whence both they and their children are fœderally Holy, Luke 1. 72. Exod. 19. 5, 6. 2 Cor. 7. 14. 5. They are savingly adorned with inherent holiness and sanctification of the Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 11. Eph. 4. 24. 2 Pet. 1. 4. 6. They are built up an Holy Temple unto God, through the Spirit, Ephes. 2. 21, 22. 1 Cor. 3. 16, 17. 7. They live and walk Purely and Holily in their Conversations, Rom. 6. 18, 19, 22. 1 Thes. 2. 10. In these regards believers are an Holy Nation.

A Peculiar Treasure to God above all people, are all true believers. Thus

Thus the People of Israel had Promise of Gods special Acceptation of them, in all these three sweet Expresions: the Lise of which Promise did more specially and peculiarly belong to the true believers among them.

2. Gods Sanctification of the people Israel. By Sanctification, here I understand, Their (d) Regeneration or Renovation by Gods spirit in their whole man according to Gods image: by which spirit and grace they are enabled more and more to (e) die unto sin, and live unto righteousness. So that the Spirit of God, in Sanctifying sinners, puts forth two acts especially (1) He principles them (f) with infused Habits and Seeds of all renewing grace, according to Gods image: He draws all the lineaments of the New man into the Soul, in some measure. These are called, (g) The Divine Nature, (h) The New Creature, (i) Christ formed in us, &c. (2) He actuates excites and quickens these gracious seeds and principles infused in such sort, as that thereby we are daily enabled, (k) to dye to sin by Mortification, To live unto righteousness by vivification, which are the principal Acts or branches of Sanctification.

Such Sanctification for Substance God promised to Israel in this Sinai-Covenant, under the Notion of Heart-Circumcision. (l) The LORD thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, To love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul that thou maist live. In which words the Lord promiseth two spiritual Blessings: viz. 1. Heart-Circumcision. Not a Proper but Metaphorical Circumcision consisting in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh, Col. 2. 11. Described and amplified: Partly, by the Author or efficient cause thereof, The LORD thy God. His Circumcision is made not with hands but (m) without hands. This is called (n) The Circumcision of heart and spirit, the praise whereof is not of men but of God. Partly, by the subject recipient of this Circumcision of Heart, viz. (1) Israel, thine heart: (2) Israels Seed, and the heart of thy Seed. Understand all of Israel, and of their Seed which were within Gods eternal election. For, (o) whom he predestinateth, them he calleth: and them only. 2. The effects or fruits of this Heart Circumcision here promised, are chiefly two. (1) Love. Sincere, and entire Love of the Lord their God. Sincere love to God. viz. with heart and soul. That is love, not only in word and in tongue, but in deed and in truth. Entire or perfect love to God. viz. with all their heart and with all their soul. This points out the integrity, wholeness or compleatness of their Love: when the united Stream of soul heart and affection flows towards God alone: without any dividedness of Heart betwixt God and sin betwixt God and the Creature. This is a sweet and Heavenly fruit of Heart-Circumcision indeed: far more then all burnt-offerings and sacrifices. This is the (p) first and great Commandment of the Law, the Sum of the first Table. This implies and presupposeth Faith: for (q) Faith works by love. This is beyond (r) both faith and Hope: Love is chiefest of all the three: for when Faith and Hope shall in some sort vanish nish in fruition of the thing believed and hoped for. Love shall then principally flourish, The heart being fully ravished with God in Christ face to face to all eternity. (z) Life. That thou maist live. How? Partly, In this world, The (a) life of God by Faith, Holiness Heavenliness, New Obedience, &c. This Peter calls (b) living in the flesh, not to the lusts of man, but to the will of God. Partly, in the world to come, in Heaven, Living gloriously with God to all eternity. Thus, (c) entring into the Kingdom of God, is elsewhere stiled, (d) Entring into life. This life with God in Heaven is called (e) Life eternal, and comprizeth in itself all Heavenly Happiness. This Spiritual and Eternal Life is another blessed effect of this heart-Circumcision. By all this its evident, That by this Heart-Circumcision and the effects thereof, the Lord intended and promised them True Sanctification of heart and way, of Person and Conversation, both in putting off and mortifying the old man with his deeds, and in putting on the New man with his actions.

This Sanctification is called here Circumcision of heart, from the notable resemblance that it hath to bodily Circumcision. For, 1. In the Corporal Circumcision, the infant of eight daies old was meerly Passive; So in this Spiritual Circumcision, Sanctification, when the Habits and principles of Grace are first in-used, we are meerly Passive under Gods hand. Hence its called, (f) Regeneration, (g) New-creation, (h) Quickning of the dead, &c. In this first work we are meer patients, but after acti agimus, being thus acted by God, we act together with God. 2. In Circumcision of the flesh, the (i) foreskin of the generative part was to be cut off, So in Circumcision of the heart, the (k) body of the sins of the flesh is to be put off, viz. that mass of sins and corruptions which arise from the flesh, that is, from Original corruption of Nature. In true Sanctification, The (l) sin of the heart, The (m) sin of the lips, The (n) sin of the ears, yea (o) all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness are to be Circumcised and cast away. 3 Corporal Circumcision was painful, the fore-skin could not be cut off without (p) pain and smart of the flesh: So Spiritual Circumcision is painful, the corruption of the heart cannot be cut off, without great grief trouble and pain of heart. Much Conviction, Contrition Godly Sorrow, and repentance of heart is comprized in this Sanctification. Peters hearers, when they were converted and Sanctified, they were (q) pricked in their Hearts for the guilt of Christs blood: κατανύγησαν τὴν καρδίαν; The word (r) properly signifies, To penetrate with pricking, to pierce or wound punctually. They were stabbed to the heart by the word of God sharper then any two edged sword; Every even the least part and point of the heart was pricked and stung (saith (s) one) as if the sharpest points of many empoysoned daggers and Scorpions stings had been all at once fastned in their Hearts, in the cruellest manner that could be devised. This is the (t) spirit of bondage, working fear: and (u) Godly sorrow, working repentance. Thus Zechariah prophecyed of Jerusalem's repentance and sanctification,

(p) And I will pour upon the House of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications, and they shall look upon me, whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born. In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hada-drimmon in the valley of Megiddon. And the land shall mourn every family apart. — What expressions are here! Looking on Christ pierced; mourning for him as for an only son; being in bitterness as for a first-born; great mourning as for good Josiah in Hada drimmon; Universal mourning, all the land shall mourn; Secret mourning, Heb. families families, that is, every family severally. O how painful a thing is it, to cut off iniquity by Repentance, and to cast it away by true Sanctification! Peter's Circumcising of his heart and tongue from that base fear and corrupt denial of his Lord Christ, cost him many (r) a bitter tear: He went out and wept bitterly. 4. In Corporal Circumcision there was an utter abscision or cutting off of the foreskin for ever, that it dyed and perished and was never set or fixed to the body any more. So in Heart-Circumcision by Sanctification there must be an utter cutting off and casting away of all sin, in some sort for ever. (s) All ungodliness and worldly lusts are to be denyed. (t) All appearance of evil is to be avoided. The (u) whole old man is to be put off, so as to be put on no more; and all the members thereof are daily to be crucified: As (x) Christ hath suffered for sin, so Christians should cease from sin; that they should live no longer to the lusts of men, but to the will of God; For, (y) how shall we that are dead to sin live any longer therein? (z) Ephraim shall say, what have I to do any more with idols? They that allow themselves in any known sin: or that, after in some sort they were purged from their old sins, (a) return again with the dog to their vomit, or with the swine to their wallowing in the mire, were never truly heart-circumcised or Sanctifyed. In the most sanctified in this life, sin and corruption will be; (1) In regard of the Residence thereof in them; (b) But sin that dwelleth in me. (2) In regard of the acts and motions thereof in them; (c) The flesh lusteth against the Spirit. It hinders from good, inclines to evil. (3) In regard of a (d) tyrannical force and violence which it excercises against them, by which it oft-times prevails too far over them. (e) Its a Law in their members warring against the Law of their minde, and bringing them into Captivity unto the Law of sin. But notwithstanding in these regards sin is not in the truly sanctified, whose hearts are spiritually Circumcised in Sincerity, viz. (1) Not in the guilt of it, obliging them to eternal wrath and death (f) There's no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. Christ hath (g) condemned sin in the flesh, and redeemed as from the curse, by his cursed Death. (2) Not in the reign and dominion of it. They do not willingly with full consent of will (non voluntate plena sed tantùm semine plena) (h) obey sin in the lusts thereof; nor yield their members as weapons of unrighteousness unto sin. By which two acts the Reign of Sin is notably discovered. In the reigning power of it, it is abated, mortified, subdued and brought under daily. (3) Not in the approbation of it. The sanctifyed person (i) regards not iniquity in his heart, doth not mingle with it, or incorporate with it; it is not woven into the frame and constitution of the heart though it hath some inherence and residence in the heart. He (k) hates every false way. He (l) hates the very garment spotted with the flesh. 5. By Corporal Circummcision persons were incorporated into the of body Gods visible Church, and solemnly admitted as members thereof: So by Spiritual Circumcision, persons are joyned as true members to Christs invisible Church, and are by saving relation and connexion true members of his mystical body. 6. By Corporal Circumcision persons were admitted to visible Communion with the Church in all acts and ordinances of Gods worship: by this Heart-Circumcision persons are admitted indeed to the Communion of Saints, with Christ, and with one another, worshipping the Lord in spirit and truth with Spiritual Sacrifices acceptable to God in Jesus Christ. 7. The Corporal Circumcision was a great priviledge, wherein the Jews greatly rejoyced: The Circumcision of Heart is a greater priviledge, (m) whose praise is not of man, but of God, wherein all true believers have much more cause of spiritual glorying, for that they are thereby delivered from so great sinful pollution, and instated contrariwise in such an holy and happy Condition.

Sanctification* (largely taken both for Habits of Holy graces infused, and the Acts thereof continually expressed) in order of Nature goes before Justification: we must have faith habitually before we can be justified by faith actually; Therefore I have spoken of Sanctification before Justification. What Justification is, hath been (n) formerly at large described: there see. That God in this Sinai-Covenant promised to Israel Justification by Faith in Jesus Christ, as another eminent spiritual Blessing, may be evinced four waies

(n) Chap. 3. Aph. 5. Qu. 7.

(1) God promised to charge their sins upon Christ, to lay or put their iniquities upon him, to impute them unto him, &c. that he might bear them quite away from them. This was lively shadowed out in the Scape-goat, For on the Atonement-day, (o) Aaron was to put both his hands on the head of the live-goat, and to confess over him all the iniquities of the sons of Israel and all their trespasses, and all their sins: and to put them upon the head of the Goat, and to send him away by a fit man into the wilderness. And the goat shall bear upon him all their iniquities, unto a land of separation; and he shall let go the goat into the wilderness. God hereby tacitly promised, to lay all their iniquities on Christ who should bear them far away from them, that they should be imputed no more unto them, and to this effect God (p) required the people, when they brought their Sacrifices to the Priest to offer fer them on their behalf, to impose or put their hands upon the Heads of their Sacrifices whilest they were alive: thereby disburthening themselves of sin, and laying it upon the Sacrifices, and so testifying their (q) faith in Jesus Christ the true Sacrifice that should be slain for them to bear their iniquities. Thus God by this Covenant assured them of the (r) Imputation of their sins to Christ; And this is a great part in Justification.

(q) Isa. 53. 6, 11. 2 Cor. 5. 21.
(r) Psal. 32. 1, 2, 5. Rom 4.

(2) God assured them also of the non-imputation of their sins unto themselves, viz. the Remission and Pardon of their iniquities, in this Covenant in and through Christ. For, 1. In this Covenant the Lord promised to be a God to them, as hath been shewed. And when the Lord becomes a God in Covenant to any people, (s) consequently he will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities he will remember no more. — Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin. Where not remembring sin any more, and remission of sin, are accounted by the Apostle one and the same thing. 2. In renewing this Covenant and the Tables, the Lord (t) proclaims his back-parts, viz. so much of his gracious nature and goodness as was necessary for Israels comfortable Restauration after their breach of Covenant: And one of his sweet properties then proclaimed, was this: Pardoning iniquity Transgression and Sin. That is, Constantly, daily pardoning all sorts degrees and aggravations of sin to every true penitent. This hath the vertue of a Promise of pardon in it. 3. In this Covenant also God promised, That, (u) if Israel should be driven into other Nations for their sins, according to the curse of this Law and Covenant, and there should penitentially return to the Lord their God; He would again receive them into favour and restore them into their own land. Which implies his pardon of their sins: as the (x) paralel promise evidenceth. 4. All the Expiations and purging away of sin, by the death and blood of Burnt-offerings, Sin-offerings, &c. Typified and promised to Israel the everlasting purging away of their sins by the death and blood of Jesus Christ, the substance of all those Sacrifices Now this (y) Purging away and Pardonig of sin, is also an eminent branch of Justification: And (z) David placeth mans happiness in Gods not-imputing his iniquities to him.

(3) God implicitly promised to Israel the actual Applying of Christs blood sufferings and obedience unto them, in the Typical sprinkling of the blood of the Sacrifices upon the people with a bunch of Hyssop, (a) at the Dedication of this Sinai-Covenant, and at other times. Not the blood in the veins of the Sacrifices, but the blood shed was of vertue to purge away sin: Not the blood shed but the blood sprinkled on the people actually, did actually cleanse their sins away. By this sprinkling of the blood of Sacrifices on the People, The Actual applying of Christs blood (the (b) blood of Sprinkling) to the Conscience, to purge it from dead works to serve the living God, was intended. Hence David begging pardon of his Murder and Adultery, prayeth: (c) Purge me with Hyssop and I shall be be clean. By Hyſop dipped in the blood of the Sacrifices, the blood was ſprinkled on the people: So that Hyſop ſhadowed out the Inſtrumental Mean whereby Chriſts blood was actually applyed unto the Soul. The Inſtrumental Mean of Juſtification applying Chriſts blood and obedience is twofold, viz. 1. Outward and Mediate, The ([d]) Preaching of the word of Faith, tendering Chriſt unto the Soul for righteouſneſs. ([e]) Ainſworth thinks that this was ſhadowed out by Hyſop. 2. Inward and Immediate, True ſaving ([f]) Faith, whereby the ſoul receives and applies Chriſt thus tendred in the Goſpel for righteouſneſs. Others are of opinion that ([g]) Hyſop ſignified Faith, and declare the fit reſemblance betwixt them. What inconvenience may ariſe, if we joyn both together: and ſay Hyſop ſignified both? For, The word cleanſeth: and Faith purifieth the heart.

Is Faith, and Faith reſembles the Herb in four things, 1. It is a ground herb low and weak; ſo faith in itſelf, and in us, is weak, frail, feeble, and of moſt deſpiſed. Neither hath every man that hath Hyſop in his Garden, this bunch of Hyſop in his heart. 2. Rooting in a rock (for ſo it is uſed among the Iews) whence ſome thought it to be Pellitory of the Wall, Faith roots itſelf upon the Rock Ieſus Chriſt, and cannot grow or proſper in any other ſoyl. Other Hyſop roots in Earth; this in Heaven. 3. Its an herb cleanſing and curing. Faith only is an herb of Soveraign virtue, both to purifie the heart, Acts 15. 9. And to heal all the wounds of Conſcience, Acts 16. 31. The Gaoler wounded and pricked in heart muſt believe in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt; and be ſaved. Our Lord himſelf was wont to ſay to diſtreſſed perſons according to thy Faith be it to thee. 4. It was fitter then other herbs for receiving and ſprinkling of liquor; ſo faith, although a low and weak plant is only fit to receive the precious liquour of the blood of Chriſt. Only faith draws virtue from Chriſt; as in the poor woman that ſtood behind Chriſt, Mark 5. 27, 28, 29, 30, 34 And the want of this bunch of Hyſop diſables Chriſt from doing thee any good. Chriſt could do nothing in Capernaum for their unbelief. D. Tho. Taylor in his Treat. of Types Chap. 19. Sect. 3. pag 225. Lond. 1635.

(4) Finally, Moſes exhorting Iſrael to obey and keep this Law and Covenant, tells them; ([h]) This Commandment which I command thee this day, it is not hidden from thee, neither is it afar off. It is not in heaven, &c. but the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth and in thine heart, that thou maiſt do it. Which words Paul expounds to be the tenour and language of the righteouſneſs of Faith, ([i]) But the righteouſneſs which is of Faith, ſpeaketh on this wiſe, Say not in thine heart, who ſhall who aſcend into Heaven? that is, to bring Chriſt down from above. [As if it had ſaid: Doubt not in thine heart, whether thou ſhalt go to heaven and there be eternally ſaved: for that were to deny Chriſts aſcenſion into heaven, who aſcended for his elect, ([k]) to open heaven-gates for them, to prepare a place for them, and to make continnal interceſsion for them.] Or, who ſhall deſcend into the deep? that is to bring up Chriſt again from the dead, [Neither doubt thou, whether thou ſhalt not go to hell, and there there be everlastingly damned; for that were to deny Christs Resurrection from the dead, (l) whereby he subdued Death, Hell, and all the powers of darkness for his Elect, and triumphed over them.] But what saith it? The Word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thine heart, that is the Word of Faith which we preach, That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart, that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. [But Faith hath a sure and infallible Word of God to rest upon, even the Word of Faith, the Doctrine of Faith, the Gospel which we preach, which Word is in thine heart to believe it, and in thy mouth to Confess it; And if thou shalt believe and confess Christ in his Person, Offices, Passion, Death, Resurrection, Ascension, &c. with the benefits hereof, thou shalt be saved.]

(l) Col. 2. 14. 15. Heb. 2. 14, 15.

Thus God promised to Israel Justification by Faith in Christ Jesus.

4. Gods furnishing of Israel with ability to observe and keep his Covenant. In this Covenant the Lord not only Promised many Blessings to Israel upon their Covenant-keeping: but also promised to give them ability for such Covenant-Keeping. He not only required this Duty from them: but also assured them of his assistant Grace for Performance. No Matter what God Commands us, whilst he enables us to performance. Augustine said sweetly, once and again; (m) O Give me to do, what thou commandest: and command me to do, what thou pleasest. If God give us a back to bear: no matter what burden he impose. Israel must observe and keep Covenant with God: but Israel shall be enabled thus to keep Covenant, by God. This ability for keeping his Covenant, God promised divers times to Israel. 1. When Moses, reciting the Sum of Gods Sinai-Covenant in the land of Moab, said; (n) The LORD thy God maketh his Covenant and Oath with thee this day, That he may establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God. How could Israel be established by God, for a Covenant-people unto himself, unless God undertook to furnish them with some ability to keep this Covenant with God? This establishment could not meerly stand in a Covenant-Relation to God, but also in a Covenant-Ability from God, to discharge the duty of that Relation. 2. When God promised, in the Explanation of this Sinai-Covenant, (o) To circumcise the heart of Israel, and of their Seed, To love the LORD their God with all their heart, and with all their soul, that they might live: In the next verse save one, it's added; And thou shalt return and obey the voice of the LORD, and do all his Commandments which I command thee this day. Here (as I formerly noted) God promised (1.) Sanctification of their Spirits, under the Notion of Heart-Circumcision. (2.) The Effects of true Sanctification, viz. Sincere and entire Love to the LORD their God: Life, Spiritual and Eternal: And Obedience to the voyce and Commandments of God. In and under Sanctification of their Hearts, and Sincere Love to God therein, Inward spiritual ability to keep Gods Covenant, in an Evangelical sense, is plainly promised. For, (p) Election is through Sanctification of the Spirit unto obedience. And by Sanctification we become (q) Gods workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto Good works. And, (r) Love is the fulfilling of the Law; the very Sum of both Tables of the Sinai-Covenant. And, (s) The End of the Law is love, out of a pure heart, and good conscience, and faith unfeigned.

3. In reference to this Sinai-Covenant betwixt God and Israel, Moses tels Israel; (t) Thou hast avouched the LORD this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his Statutes, and his Commandments, and his Judgements, and to hearken unto his voice: And the LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldst keep all his Commandments, In these words are laid down the mutual Covenant-obligations betwixt the Fœderates, God and Israel. (u) Israel did profess, promise, and avouch, The LORD to be their God, To keep his Covenant, To obey his voice; These were their Covenant-Duties, viz. Faith and obedience, restipulated. (x) God did Profess, Promise and Avouch, Israel to be his peculiar people, And that Israel should keep all his Commandments; These were Gods Covenant-Mercies Promised. God then, on his part, did in this Covenant promise and undertake, That Israel should keep all his Commandments. Consequently he promised such Grace and ability to Israel, as was necessary and sufficient for keeping all Gods Commandments; that is, for keeping his Covenant in an Evangelical sense. (y) This was Israels great comfort and priviledge, that God undertook for both Fœderate-Parties; For himself, and for Israel: For himself, that he would Perform to them Covenanted-Mercies; For Israel, that they should Perform to him Covenanted-Duties. He would, and they should. He undertook for both sides: He required Covenant-duty from them, and to that end promised Covenant-ability to them. And such of Israel as were within the Election effectually obtained this ability. Compare Rom. 11.5,6,7. with Jer. 31.33,34 Ezek. 36.26,27.

5. Gods choosing out a place for his Name to dwell in, and for his solemn worship to be exercised in, within the land of Canaan, when they should be quietly possessed of it; was another Spiritual blessing which he promised to Israel in this Covenant. (z) Ye are not as yet come to the Rest, and to the inheritance which the LORD your God giveth you. But when ye go over Jordan, and dwell in the Land which the LORD your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety: Then there shall be A place which the LORD your God shall choose to cause his Name to dwell there, thither shall you bring all that I command you, your Burnt-offerings and your Sacrifices, your Tithes, &c. —— Take heed to thy self,

(u) To keep] that is, that thou shouldst keep; which, as it is a part of the Covenant on Gods behalf so is it the work of his grace in all his people, as he hath said, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their Hearts. Jer. 31.33. *Hen. self, that thou offer not thy burnt-offerings in every place that thou seest: But in the place, which the LORD shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee. (y) —— But unto the place which the LORD your God shall choose out of all your tribes, to put his name there, even unto his Habitation ye shall seek, and thither shalt thou come, &c. In these words, note three things, viz. I. The Description of the Mercy, or Publique Place promised; 1. By the special designation of it; The LORD their God would choose it: He would not leave it to Israel to appoint him a Place. 2. By the situation of it; within their tribes, in the land of Promise. viz. at Ierusalem, where the Temple was to be built afterwards: 3. By the Divine Dedication or Consecration of it; The LORD should put his name there, and cause his name to dwell there. That is, He would consecrate it to himself for an Habitation, (as its expounded ver. 5. and as the Chaldee saith there upon, To cause his Majesty, or divine presence, to dwell there,) and to his Service and Worship for the publique solemnity thereof, (z) Such (saith Ainsworth) was the Tabernacle of Moses, the Temple of Solomon, the City Jerusalem, after God had chosen it: for of them God said, My name shall be there, 1 King. 8. 29. And his name was called upon them, Dan. 9. 18. and put there, 2 King. 21. 4, 9. 1 King. 14. 21. II. The use of this Place to Israel, which was chiefly twofold. 1. To seek there (a) Answers and Oracles from God, which from the Mercy-seat, and by Urim and Thummim, were given to the people. Unto his habitation shall ye seek, ver. 5. All other places were forbidden, Amos 5. 5. 2. To come thither to sacrifice and offer unto God all their offerings which God commanded them for his publique worship, ver. 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 14. For the place which God should choose was to be a Type of Christ, (as after I shall shew,) and hereby God would teach them that all their Sacrifices and religious performances should be acceptable unto God only in Jesus Christ the true Temple of God, and the true Sacrifice of Sacrifices who should be slain and offered up for their sins at Jerusalem. III. The Season when God would choose and set apart this place to himself for his presence and worship. When God should have given them, in the land of Promise, Rest from all their Enemies round about, so that they dwell in safety, ver. 10, 11. This was fulfilled, (b) after Israel had Rest from all their Travels and Wars towards the latter end of King David's reign, and the beginning of King Solomons. And therefore this Place here Promised, seems not to be Shiloh, where the Tabernacle, (called the Temple, 1 Sam. 1. 9.) was placed, Jer. 7. 12. Psal. 78. 60. Where it continued till the days of Samuel, (viz. 243. years or 300. years, as some think) 1 Sam. 4. 12, 13. But it was Jerusalem; where God gave them Rest, 1 Chron. 23. 25. and where (c) Solomon built the Temple of God, in Mount Moriah, where Israel was offered in a Figure, where the LORD appeared to David in the threshing floor of Ornam the Jebusite, and at which City Jesus Christ was crucified, offering up himself without spot to God for us. To this place they were to Resort to seek Gods will, and to worship him: when God had set them safe and secure from their enemies.

This Place thus promised (The Temple at Jerusalem) was an Eminent mercy. For, 1. The Temple was the place of Gods ([d]) Rest and Habitation, among his people in Canaan the Land of Rest. While God dwelt in his Tabernacle he was in motion, as Israel while they dwelt in Tents. 2. The Temple was the place of all Gods publike worship. ([1]) There Israel was to receive ([e]) Answers from Gods Oracle, touching his Holy will. ([2]) There Israel was to ([f]) perform all their publike and solemn worship by Sacrafices, &c. and not elsewhere. All their males being to appear there before the Lord at three set times in the year: besides all other times. ([3]) There the godly Israelites with a spiritual eye, ([g]) beheld the pleasantness of the LORD, yea, his power and glory in his Sanctuary. ([4]) And ([h]) This was the Place or House of Prayer. And thitherward, towards this Temple, Israel and every one of their posterity, ([i]) were to pray unto the Lord, whether they were in their own land, or Captives in a strange land. Which prayers so directed sincerely in Faith, had promise of acceptance and audience: with reference to Christ shadowed out thereby. 3. The Temple was a Singular Type, ([1]) Of Christs Humane Nature, ([k]) wherein the fulness of the Godhead dwels (σωματικῶς) personally. In and through whom God is present with his Church, Accepts their prayers and Spiritual Sacrifices, Instructs them unto Salvation, makes them a way even through the veil of his flesh into the Holiest of all Heaven it self. ([2]) Of the ([1]) Church, the mystical body of Christ, and of every true believer a member of that mystical body, in whom God dwels spiritually through his Spirit. ([3]) Of Heaven it self, which is the Holiest of all, wherein God dwels gloriously: and ([m]) unto which Christ hath made way for us by his blood, even a new and living way through the veil of his flesh. Upon which and like Considerations the godly Jews did so highly ([n]) prize and reverence the Temple, delighting to converse with God therein; accounting it the joy of the whole Earth.

Thus God promised to Israel A publique place for his Name and Worship in Canaan.

6. Gods glorious Presence and Habitation among the people Israel in his Tabernacle and Temple. ([o]) And let them make for me a Sanctuary, and I will dwell among them. If ye walk in my Statutes, and keep my Commandments, and do them; Then I will give you rain, ——— And I will set my Tabernacle amongst you: and my soul shall not abhor you: and I will walk among you; And will be your God, and ye shall be my people. And elsewhere; ([p]) The place which he would choose, to put his name there, is called his Habitation. Hence, Jerusalem is called, ([q]) the City of God, the Holy place of the Habitacles of the most High. And elsewhere, (t) The LORD hath chosen Zion: he hath desired it for his habitation. This is my Rest for ever: Here will I dwell, for I have desired it. And, (s) —— In Salem is his Tabernacle: his dwelling place in Zion. But though the Lord dwelt among his People in his Tabernacle and Temple, yet the place of his peculiar presence and residence therein, was in the Holy of Holies: viz. (t) between the two Cherubims which were upon the Mercy-Seat over the Ark of the Testimony, whence God did commune with Moses and the High-Priest, and so by them with Israel. Hence he is called, (u) The LORD of Hosts dwelling (or sitting) between the Cherubims.

This Presence and Residence of God among Israel, was peculiar to them alone among all the people of the world. For, (x) what Nation (said Moses) is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the LORD our God is in all things that we call upon him for? And this was a very high and eminent blessing. The greatest sign of Gods grace towards his people. And therefore it is often mentioned, Exod. 25.8. & 19. 5 6. Levit. 26. 11, 12. Numb. 35. 34. Zech. 2.10. & 8.3. 2 Cor. 6.16, 17. Rev. 21. 2, 3. And no wonder. For, This presence, dwelling, and walking of God among them, denoted and implyed these things, viz.

(1) The blessed neighbourhood betwixt God and Israel. God was (y) nigh to them in all things, they called upon him for, so as to none other people: and they were (z) a people nigh unto God. O wonder of Divine condescension: that God should reside so near unto despicable dust and ashes! God is the best neighbour in all the world. Happy they, that may dwell near unto him!

(2) Gods sweet favour to them as reconciled unto himself in Christ, (a) Can two walk together, unless they be agreed? Hence God said, (b) I will set my Tabernacle amongst you: and my soul shall not abhor you. And therefore when Israel had broken Covenant with God by the idolatrous worship of the Calf, The Lord was so offended with them for it, that he denyes them his presence, saying, (c) —— I will send an Angel before thee, and I will drive out the Canaanite, &c. —— for I will not go up in the midst of thee. Whilst Gods dis-favour and displeasure was upon them for their sin, whilst they were out with God, and at odds, He would not dwell nor walk among them. Hereupon Moses begs of the Lord to pardon them, that is, to reconcile them to himself in Christ, that they might enjoy his presence; (d) O Lord, let my Lord, I pray thee go amongst us, —— and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for thine inheritance. Where therefore the Lord dwels and walks among a people, it is a notable evidence of Gods special favour towards them, and of their reconcilement in Christ to him (e) wherein shall it be known here (said Moses), that I and thy people have found grace in thy sight, is it not in that thou goest with us, &c?

(3) Spiritual Communion betwixt God and them. They that dwell and walk together, have Communion and fellowship together:

dwelling and walking with any, import Communion. Where God dwels with any ſpiritually, to ſuch he affords a ſpiritual Communion with himſelf: they have (f) fellowſhip with the Father, and with his Son Jeſus Chriſt, and with the Holy Spirit. They have Communion with God in his Life, in his Love, in his Graces, Priviledges, Comforts, and all his benefits. He Communicates to them the endeared ſmiles of his Countenance, kiſſes of his lips, embracements of his arms of mercy and favour, &c. Oh what ſweet hony-dews and heavenly illapſes from God diſtill upon, and are ſhed abroad, in their hearts! Oh this Communion with God is an Heaven on Earth! A Paradiſe of delights. Moſes did earneſtly beg it, (g) I beſeech thee, ſhew me thy Glory: David did (h) highly prize and prefer it above the ſweeteſt earthly enjoyments: And the (i) Apoſtles, John and Paul, did heartily wiſh it unto the Churches.

(4) Gods guidance and direction of Iſrael, in his ways, and that eſpecially in all doubts and difficulties. God dwelt and walked in the midſt of Iſrael in the Wilderneſs; and by his preſence, there he led them on ſweetly and ſafely in the Wilderneſs. (k) In the day time he led them with a cloud: and all the night with a light of fire. —— He made his own people go forth like ſheep, and guided them in the Wilderneſs like a flock. He led them on ſafely, ſo that they feared not. (l) —— And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a City of Habitation. God dwelt alſo among his people Iſrael, when poſſeſſed of Canaan. (m) In Salem was his Tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Sion. There he (n) dwelt between the Cherubims, over the Mercy-Seat, a ſpecial Type of Chriſt: and thence he gave forth his Oracles and Anſwers to the people. There he did (o) meet with them and Commune with them touching all things which he gave them in Commandment.

(5) Gods protection of them in all dangers againſt all ſorts of evils and enemies. His preſence among his people is the Protection of his People. Balaam could ſay of Iſrael; (p) The LORD his God is with him, and the ſhout of a King is among them. God brought them out of Egypt; he hath as it were the ſtrength of an Unicorn. Surely there is no enchantment againſt Jacob: neither any Divination againſt Iſrael. Gods Preſence with Iſrael, Protected them from all Balaam's Curſes and Inchantments. Hence the Church ſo triumphed in Gods preſence; (q) The LORD of Hoſts is with us: The God of Jacob is our Refuge. Selah. —— God is in the midſt of her: ſhe ſhall not be moved; God ſhall help her in the dawning of the morning. Upon this ground alſo David ſo ſweetly encouraged himſelf; (r) yea though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of Death, I will fear no evill: For, Thou art with me, Thy rod and thy ſtaffe they comfort me. Gods preſence protected, (s) The three noble-ſpirited Jews from the fiery furnace; (t) Daniel, in the Den from the devouring Lyons; (u) and Paul from all his adverſaries. Gods preſence (x) in the midſt of the burning buſh, preſerved the burning burning bush from being consumed: that is, preserved Israel in the midst of all evils, enemies and afflictions from being destroyed. To this effect (x) God is wont often to assure his people of his presence, as the ground of their safety against all evil.

(y) Isa. 43. 1, 2. &c. & 41. 10.

(6) Gods Provision for them in wants. As Gods presence with his people is a Defensive presence against evil, so it is a provisional presence for good. Its a very Treasury and magazine of all necessary plenty and enjoyments. God brings Israel into a desolate wilderness wherein was neither food, nor physick, nor rayment: but God was with his (z) Church in the wilderness, and supplyed all her wants, (a) spread a Table for them in the wilderness. The Heavens raind bread and flesh: The Rock ran constant streams of water: Their (b) feet did not swell, nor their rayment wax old upon their backs for forty years together: and the (c) brazen Serpent cured the stings of the fiery Serpents. They wanted not Gods presence amongst them: and therefore they wanted nothing. Hence David: The (d) LORD is my shepherd: I shall not want.—Thou art with me, thy Rod and thy Staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a Table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointedst my head with oyl, my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the daies of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

(7) Gods presence and residence amongst Israel in his Tabernacle, implyed Gods highest Communication of himself to them for their Consolation. (e) And I will set my Tabernacle amongst you: and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people. This is the Sum, the spring-head of all Consolation, that the LORD is our God and we his people. This is the Supream Consolation, infinitely beyond the extent and reach of all created Comforts, infinitely above the touch or annoyance of all creature-disconsolations. This is the General and universal Comfort, against all possible and imaginable discomforts: The LORD is our God, this Answers all. This is an eternal comfort: where the Lord becomes once our Covenant-God indeed, he will remain our Covenant-God for ever, in life, in death, in this world and in that which is to come.

(e) Levit. 26. 11, 12.

7. Finally, God in this Sinai-Covenant promised to furnish Israel with eminency of Church-enjoyments above all other people. This Moses seems to intend in those stately expressions; (f) The LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee: And that thou shouldst keep all his Commandments: And to make thee high above all Nations which he hath made, in Praise, and in Name, and in Honour: and that thou maist be an holy people unto the LORD thy God as he hath spoken. Here are four Eminent Blessings promised and included in this Sinai Covenant, viz. I. That Israel should be Gods peculiar people, of which hereafter. II. That Isra- el ſhould have ability to keep this Covenant, that they ſhould keep all his Commandments, of this formerly. III. That Iſrael ſhould be made high above all Nations, in Praiſe, Name, Honour, IV. That Iſrael ſhould be an Holy people to the Lord. Of this alſo I have formerly ſpoken. All theſe four I take to be ſpiritual bleſſings in this place. The two firſt, and the laſt are plainly Spiritual: and the third ranked in the midſt of them, why ſhould not it be accounted Spiritual alſo? This third Bleſſing of being High above all Nations ſeems to intend their ſpiritual dignity and Church-advancement above all Nations on Earth, Their High excellency in Spirituals which they ſhould obtain from God in this life, and ſhould fully poſſeſs in the end: And this, by their (g) High and Heavenly calling whereof they ſhould be partakers by Means of his Ordinances in Chriſt, whereby they ſhould (h) ſeek the things above, and have their Converſation in Heaven; And by the (i) eſtabliſhing of the Mountain of the LORD's Houſe, in the top of the Mountains and exalting it above the Hills in the latter daies, when all Nations ſhould flow unto it. And this third Bleſſing hath in it (as it were) three Degrees. 1. Praiſe, That Iſrael ſhould be a (k) Praiſe among all the Nations round about in reference to Gods dealing with them, eſpecially in Spirituals. So God is ſaid, (l) to eſtabliſh, to make Jeruſalem a Praiſe in the Earth. And God (m) exalteth the Horn of his people, the Praiſe of all his Saints, the ſons of Iſrael a people near him. 2. Name, viz. Fame or Renown. It ſeems to imply a Continuation and Augmentation of the former Praiſe. Called elſewhere, (n) A name that ſhall remain: and (o) An everlaſting name that ſhall not be cut off. This Name befel them by the Continuance and increaſe of their Church-eſtabliſhment in a good ſpiritual ſtate. Contrary to which is (p) blotting out the name of Iſrael from under Heaven. 3. Honour, Hebrew Beautiful-Glory. This Beautiful-Glory, or Honour, ſeems chiefly to conſiſt in theſe excellent viſible endowments wherewith God adorneth his Church as with beautiful garments, Hebr. (q) Garment of Beautiful-Glory. Elſewhere oppoſed to Aſhes, wherewith Mourners covered their heads, (r) To give unto them Beauty for Aſhes. Now this denotes the Continuance of Gods Spiritual Kingdom and Holy Ordinances among them: which are wont to be ſet forth under ſuch expreſſions of Beauty and Praiſe. (s) Our Holy and our Beautiful Houſe, where our fathers praiſed thee, is burnt up with fire: and all our pleaſant things are laid waſte. And in this ſenſe that Beautiful (t) Adorning of Jeruſalem, in Ezekiel ſo elegantly deſcribed, is by ſome underſtood principally of her viſible Church-Glory. All which three degrees of excellency in Church-enjoyments, Iſrael had by being united to the Lord in Covenant, according to that of Jeremiah, (u) As the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, ſo have I cauſed to cleave unto me the whole houſe of Iſrael and the whole Houſe of Judah, ſaith the LORD: that they might be unto me for a People, and for a Name,

Name, and for a Praise, and for a Beautiful-Glory.

Now all the Nations of the world came utterly short of Israel in regard of this Spiritual dignity: Having no Praise, Name, or Beautiful-Honor at all, in regard of the Kingdom, Gospel or Ordinances of God amongst them; being wholly (x) without Christ, aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, and strangers from the Covenants of Promise, having no Hope, and without God in the world. And therefore in the phrase of the Holy-Ghost, Israel is called, (y) The People, Gods people, Fellow-Citizens with the Saints, The Houshold of God, &c. All others are stiled (z) the Nations, Forreiners, Strangers. (a) The Church is stiled, Heaven: All others, Earth.

Thus in this Sinai-Covenant God assured Israel of Eminent Church-enjoyments. These are the Spiritual Blessings which God Promised to Israel in this Sinai-Covenant.

Inferences Hence are divers, viz.

1. Hence, The Sinai-Covenant was, not a Covenant of works, (as the common mistake is) but a Covenant of Faith, revealing to Israel their Salvation by Faith in Jesus Christ. All these seven sorts of Spiritual blessings Promised do notably evince thus much, being peculiar blessings of the Covenant of Faith, not of works. As, 1. Gods Acceptation of Israel for a (b) Peculiar Treasure, a Kingdom of Priests, An holy Nation, was according to the Covenant of Faith, as Peter intimates. How was Israel peculiar to God above all other people: but by Gods peculiar accepting them as his people in Christ, when all other lapsed sons of Adam were rejected? How were they a Kingdom of Priests: but in Christ (c) making them Kings and Priests to God? How were they an Holy Nation: but in Christ (d) who is made Sanctification to his people? 2. Gods Sanctification of Israel, by (e) Circumcising their hearts to love the Lord their God with all their heart and will all their soul, is the meer blessing of the Covenant of Faith in Christ. This inward Heart-Circumcision, is (f) Christs Circumcision made without hands in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh. 3. Their Justification (g) by Faith in Christ and Remission of their sins in him, is the clear voice of the Covenant of Faith, and the great distinctive character betwixt the Covenant of Faith, and the Covenant of works. 4. This (h) Ability to keep this Covenant was a fruit of Gods meer Grace, according to the Covenant of Faith. Such ability they neither had nor could have, of themselves, as the Covenant of works required; being the sinful Posterity (as well as others) of lapsed Adam. 5. Gods choosing out a place to put his name there and for his publike worship, was wholly according to the Covenant of Faith: (i) That place, The Utensils therein, The Sacrifices and whole worship there being shadows of good things to come, but the body of Christs. 6. Gods Presence with and among them in his Tabernacle and Temple, denoted his (k) presence and habitation in his Church through Christ by his Spirit: according to the Covenant of Faith: All Gods manifestations, and Communications of himself and his grace grace to his Church in and through Jesus Christ alone, (l) the only way unto the Father. 7. Finally, Their eminency of Church-enjoyments in Praise, Name, and Beautiful-Glory above all other Nations, were also fruits of the Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ. For in the first Adam, according to the Covenant of works, all were equal as to visible Church-enjoyments; and had he and his posterity Persevered in innocency, one Nation of his upright race should not have been herein set on high above the Rest: But Adam and all his posterity being lapsed, God makes this difference between Israel and all other Nations of his meer grace in Jesus Christ, The last Adam, according to the Covenant of Faith.

2 Hence, Christ and the Salvation of Israel by Faith in him, was the Great Scope and Mystery of this Sinai-Covenant. All these seven spiritual Blessings promised in this Covenant, pointed at Christ, conducted and led to Christ, as sometimes the Star the three wise men. This is plain by the former Inference: (m) Moses therefore was an Eminent Preacher of Christ, and of sinners salvation, righteousness and happiness by Christ. They are too great stangers both to Christ and Moses, that cannot find Christ abundantly though more obscurely revealed by Moses.

(m) John 5. 46, 47. Rom. 10. 4. Gal. 3. 23, 24.

3. Hence, The Sinai-Covenant of God with Israel, was Gods Gospel to Israel. It was a Covenant of Faith, And a Doctrine of Christ, such as the dulness of the Church and those times would bear: Therefore it was Gods Gospel to Israel. For, what is Gods Gospel? Gods good-speech or good-tidings of sinners Salvation by Jesus Christ through Faith. As therefore (n) the Gospel was preached to Abraham: so afterwards the same Gospel for substance was preached to Israel, but more plentifully. Abraham and Israel had the veyled Gospel: we have the un-veyled Gospel. They had the Morning-Gospel: we have the Noon-tide Gospel; but all one and the same Gospel. They therefore are far wide that reject the Sinai-Covenant, as no Gospel.

(n) Gal. 3. 8.

4. Hence, The Spiritual bounty of God to Israel was very great and wonderful. His Bounty in Temporals did abound: but his bounty to them in Spirituals did super-abound. The expressions of Gods Covenant and Promises touching Temporal Mercies are (I confess) more Frequent, Particular and Numerous, and their stream runs so much this way, that some have thought, God in this Covenant promised nothing else to Israel: but the expressions of this Covenant touching Spirituals are much more comprehensive and ponderous. That one promise of Pardoning their Sins, or of Circumcising their heart to love the Lord their God with all their heart and soul, &c. is worth all those Promises of Temporals. I had rather have my heart savingly Sanctified, and My sins fully pardoned: then to have all the Land of Canaan, or this whole world below for mine inheritance.

5. Hence, How happy was Israel in all these Covenanted Spirituals!

uals! 1. Happy in Gods acceptation of them above all People as a Peculiar People, Kingdom of Priests, and Holy Nation to himself. 2. Happy in their Sanctification and inward effectual Heart-Circumcision. 3. Happy in their (o) Pardon, and Justification. 4. Happy in their Covenant-ability for Evangelical Performance thereof. 5. Happy in Gods Tabernacle and Temple, such pregnant Types of Christ. 6. Happy in Gods dwelling and walking among them in his Tabernacle and Temple. And 7. Happy in all their Eminent Church-enjoyments. All this hath been fully evidenced in the former opening of these Particulars. Happy art thou, O Israel! who is like unto thee? And proportionably the Israel of God now under the New Testament are happy above all people in the world in enjoying of like spiritual blessings, yea, and in asmuch as they enjoy them now more clearly, fully and spiritually, they far surpass the Israel of old, in this their happiness.

(o) Psal. 32. 1, 2.

6. Hence, The true believing Israelites alone did participate the life and saving force of these Covenanted Spirituals. There were two sorts of Jews, as Paul tels us, viz. (p) Some, ἐν τῷ φανερῷ, Jews outwardly, openly: Others ἐν τῷ κρυπτῷ, Jews inwardly, secretly. These were all Gods professed People, and had some benefit by the externals of many of these blessings: But those were Gods people indeed, who alone had the Soul and inward of these Spirituals. Those might lick the Rock: but these sucked the Hony out of the Rock. These were inwardly and indeed accepted of God, Heart-Circumcised, Pardoned, Enabled to keep the Covenant, &c. These had the marrow and Substance, when others had only the Shadow of the Blessings But those Promises are tendered generally to all Israel, that all the elect among them might embrace them, and the rest be left without excuse.

(p) Rom. 2. 28, 29.

7. Hence finally, They grosly bely and slander the Grace of God, and happiness of Israel, who say that God promised to Israel only Temporal Mercies in this Sinai-Covenant, and fed them only with the husks of outwardly Earthly blessings. For, Here are seven sorts of Spiritual Mercies promised, and those of high Excellency. And besides these, as I have formerly evidenced, The Lord in this Covenant Promised, To be A God to them, To raise them up Christ from among themselves as a Prophet like Moses and a Mediator, and To give them his Spirit. And what higher Spirituals could be promised to them? yea, as in the next place I shall shew, God in this Covenant promised them Eternal life. They therefore that ignorantly or maliciously deny the Spirituality of Gods Sinai-Covenant, in regard of no Spirituals therein promised, may hence see more then cause enough to be silenced and covered with shame for ever.

VI. Lastly, God promised in this Sinai-Covenant To crown Israel at last with Eternals. Not only to furnish them with Temporals and Spirituals in this world: but also with eternal life and happiness in the world to come. That this is so, may be evinced briefly by these few Arguments, or Considerations, viz.

(q) Exod 20. 1, 2.

1. In this Sinai Covenant the Lord tels Israel; (q) I am the LORD thy God which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the House of Servants: Thou shalt have none other Gods before me. This was spoken literally not only to that generation of Israel, which in their own persons were brought out of Egypt to Mount Sinai; but also to all their posterity during the Old Testament, when that many other Generations were dead, and spiritually to all the redeemed of Christ even among the Gentiles. God is the Covenant-God of all the believing Israelites, though they be dead: he stiled

Christ, live unto God. (s) For (as our Saviour argues) God is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him. All his faithful Covenant-people, though dead, yet live unto him. They live unto him, and with him; Actually, in their Souls in heavenly glory, being (t) Spirits of just men made perfect: And they live unto him also Potentially, and virtually in their bodies, which shall (u) Rise again to be reunited to their souls, that therewith they may live to God for ever.

2. Life is (x) promised to the keeping of the Commandments of God, in this Sinai-Covenant: what Life? Not only (y) long life, and good days on Earth in Canaan: but eternal life, and the best days in Heaven; As is plain (z) by the young man's Question and our Saviours Answer. And the Promise elsewhere is; (a) The LORD thy God will circumcise thine Heart, and the heart of thy Seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, That thou mayst live. How live? Spiritually by Faith and holiness on Earth; Gloriously by fruition of God and all happiness in Heaven. And if (b) Eternal death be principally comprized under the Curse threatned for breach of this Covenant: Consequently Eternal life was principally intended in the Life promised to the keeping of this Covenant.

3. Life Eternal was performed under this Covenant: for, (c) Moses and Elias, (both under this Covenant administration) appeared in their glory with Christ in his glorious transfiguration. As Christs was a real transfiguration: so theirs was a real apparition in glory with him. They then, were in glorious state of heavenly bliss. And as both Moses and Prophets bear witness to Christ crucified so by Christ and the vertue of his death, both Moses and Elias, both believers under Law and Prophets, were celestially glorified. Consequently eternal life was promised to them in this Covenant: for Gods Promises are the grounds of his Performances.

Which unless it had been commonly and familiarly understood by the Jews, (c) The Convert thief, ready to dy upon the Cross, had not thought of Christs Kingdom in another world, nor desired Christ to remember him, for a place there; nor had Christ promised him, This day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

5. The Land of Canaan was promised and performed to Israel in the notion of (f) a land of Rest, wherein they were to Rest from all their wearisome Travels, Pilgrimages and Wars with many sorts of enemies on every side: And herein as a Type of Heaven the true Canaan, (g) the eternal Rest of Gods people, wherein they shall perfectly Rest from all their labours of Sin, Sorrow, Temptation, and Conflicts with all sorts of enemies for evermore. That Canaan was promised as a Type of Heaven; I have also formerly manifested in Gods Covenant with Abraham. Therefore under long life and good days in Canaan, God Promised Eternal life and happiness in heaven it self to all believers.

6. In this Sinai-Covenant Jesus Christ was abundantly Promised to Israel, as hath been proved: Consequently (h) Eternal life and all blessings necessary to salvation, the fruits of Christs Mediation were promised in, and with Jesus Christ. For, He that promised Christ, would he not promise Eternal life, (i) which is the gift of God in Jesus Christ our Lord? yea in Jesus Christ (k) all the promises of God are yea, and in him Amen And (l) Godliness hath the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come. Therefore all the faithful and godly Israelites had questionless the Promise of eternal life in Christ, and a saving interest therein.

1. Hence, We may see the vanity of the Socinian Errour, Asserting, (m) that in the Law of Moses (this Sinai-Covenant) Neither the Gift of the Holy Ghost, Nor Eternal life were Promised, nor comprehended. But why was not Eternal life promised under the Old Covenant? They pretend three Reasons, (such as they are,) viz. 1. God deferred so excellent a Promise, till the time of the New Testament, which God judged opportune, that it might so much the more evidently appear to all, so excellent a Good was his own proper gift, flowing from his meer benignity. 2. Though under the New Covenant the Good things of this life present are promised, 1 Tim. 4. 8. Mark 10. 29, 30. Yet under the Old Covenant it was lawful not only to seek and profess more things, then the use of this life required, but over and above to provide pleasures and other things, which we may be without in this life. 3. If life eternal had been promised under the Old Covenant, the New Covenant ſhould not have better Promiſes, then the Old had. Thus they.

To which I briefly Anſwer; 1. As I have formerly proved, That under this Covenant God promiſed to Iſrael the Holy-ghoſt: So here I have now proved (I think ſufficiently) that God alſo promiſed to them eternal life. Let the ſtrength of the Arguments be duly weighed: And both theſe Errours will eaſily fall. 2. Their Reaſons, whereon they bottom this Errour, are wholly invalid, and not at all Cogent to conclude the thing in hand. Not the Firſt; For the time of the Old Teſtament was as fit and opportune, as the time of the New, for clear evidencing that excellent Good of eternal life to be Gods own gift of his meer grace and benignity. All mankind in Adam having forfeited their life, and involved themſelves under Death and Curſe, by falling from God: Eternal life to any muſt needs be Gods ſole gift of meer grace, in the ſight of Men and Angels, As well under the Old Teſtament as under the New. Sinners were as utterly undeſerving and uncapeable of life eternal, then, as well as Now: and therefore the Promiſe of eternal life muſt needs exalt and ſhew forth the riches of Gods Grace, then, as well as now. Not the ſecond; For, what though it were lawful for Iſrael under this Old Covenant to ſeek for more temporals, pleaſures, and other good things, then the uſe of this preſent life required: will it therefore follow, that Eternal life was not promiſed to them in this Covenant? This is clearly, Non Cauſa, pro Cauſâ. Godlineſs hath the Promiſe of both lives, and of the bleſſings thereof, not only for bare Being, but alſo for comfortable well-being; not only for Neceſsity, but alſo for Delight. And uſually, God gives his people more abundance of his bleſſings for their Delight, then for their Meer Neceſsity. And Gods people under the (n) New Teſtament have as large a ſhare by Covenant and Promiſe to Temporals for Neceſsity and Delight, as the Iews had under the Old: why ſhould not this then exclude as now from the Promiſe of eternal life? Not the third; For, (o) The Promiſes of the New Covenant are not better eſſentially, but Accidentally: not in Subſtance, but in Circumſtance. The ſame Chriſt, The ſame Righteouſneſs and Juſtification by faith in him, The ſame Sanctification, The ſame happineſs, Salvation and eternal inheritance, &c. was promiſed in both: but in the Old Teſtament more ſparingly, more darkly, more reſtrictively to one ſort of people, &c. in the New Teſtament more frequently, more fully, more clearly, more generally to all ſorts of Nations, &c. 3. Theſe (p) Socinians notwithſtanding confeſs; There was ſome hope of eternal life among Gods people before Chriſt. For, nothing hinders but thou maiſt hope for ſomething, though thou wanteſt Gods Promiſe, So be that thing be greatly to be deſired, and of ſuch ſort as is probable God would give it to his worſhippers. But ſuch is Eternal life. Hence, all who from their heart worſhipped God under the Old Teſtament, and were obedient to his Word, obtained eternal life, which they hoped for, although it was not promiſed to them. For nothing hinders, but that God may Perform more more, then he Promiſed. So they. But contrary to this, Note; (1) That lapſed Sinners, who have forfeited all things, can, without Gods Covenant and Promiſe of Grace, expect nothing at all from God. Gods Word is the Sole Baſe, foundation, and meaſure of our Faith and Hope. (q) How ſhould they believe in him of whom they have not heard? How ſhould they expect eternal life from God, which he never revealed to them? Faith muſt have a word to lean and reſt upon; Without a word, a report, a record from God, we may groundleſsly Preſume, but cannot Believe or Hope: for (r) Faith comes by hearing, and Hearing by the Word of God. Without which Word, who can tell what God will give? or what probability can there be thereof? (2) That, in their Confeſſing, That all, who worſhipped God from the heart and were obedient to his Word under the Old Teſtament, obtained eternal life, which they hoped for, They yeeld the Cauſe in hand. For, Gods Promiſe is the neceſſary ground both of all true Hope and enjoyment of eternal life. If they hoped for it, and at laſt enjoy'd it: then God aforehand had Promiſed it unto them.

2. Hence, Behold how happy Iſrael was in this Sinai-Covenant, aſſuring them through faith in Chriſt of Eternal life. This is not promiſed in ſuch plain and expreſs terms under this Covenant, as under the New Covenant: yet is it revealed and promiſed therein ſufficiently for the Comfort of the faithful in thoſe times. God is not content herein to Provide for Iſraels welfare, both in Temporals and Spirituals in this world: but alſo he enſures them of Eternals in the world to come. As they now live with God Holily for a while on Earth: So they ſhall hereafter live with God happily for ever in Heaven. As they now entred once every year in the High Prieſt into the Holy of Holies in the Earthly Tabernacle and Temple with the bloud of Sacrifices: So they ſhould hereafter (s) enter into the Holieſt of all Heaven it ſelf, viz. in their Souls, at Death; and in their bodies alſo, at the day of judgement, and this by vertue of the death and bloud of Jeſus Chriſt their great High-Prieſt, and Sacrifice of Sacrifices. As in this world, after their 40 years ſojourning in the Wilderneſs, they entred by the Conduct of Joſhuah into the land of Canaan, as the Promiſed Inheritance and land of Reſt, flowing with Milk and Honey, which was the glory of all lands: So at the end of their lives, all the faithful among them, after they have ſojourned a while in the wilderneſs of this world, ſhould (t) enter by the conduct of Jeſus into Heaven it ſelf, the Promiſed Endleſs Inheritance and Eternal Reſt, the Glory of the whole world, where (u) in Gods preſence is fulneſs of joys, and at his right hand pleaſures for evermore.

Hitherto of the Subject-Matters or Subſtance of the Sinai-Covenant ON GOD'S PART: His Covenant-Mercies Promiſed.

Sect.

Section. II.

II. On ISRAEL's PART, The Substance or Subject-Matters of this Sinai-Covenant were Certain Covenant-Duties Required, Conditioned and Restipulated. Herein God Conditioned and required from them, and they Restipulated or re-promised to God, 1. To be a People unto God in Covenant. 2. To keep this Covenant of God, (x) By true Faith. (z) By all sincere entire and constant obedience, accordingly. 3. To repent in case of any failings herein. All Covenant-Duties conditioned and required from them may be easily Reduced to these few Particulars.

1. To be A Covenant-People unto God. This God required of Israel; and this Israel restipulated to God. This is the First, and Greatest Duty, that Israel did, or could Restipulate to God: and is the foundation of all the Rest. They must first give themselves to God; and then all theirs, whether enjoyments or endeavours: As the Lord first Gave himself to be their God in Christ, by the Spirit; and then with himself gave them all things. For there must be some Correspondence betwixt the Fœderate Parties in the Mutual Articles of Agreement.

For further clearing of this, Consider; 1. That God required, and Israel restipulated; That they would be a Covenant-People to God. 2. What it implyes, To be a Coyenant-people to God. 3. Why Israel must be such a Covenant-people. 4. What Inferences may hence Result.

First, That God required, and Israel restipulated, That they would be a Covenant-people to God; is plain divers ways, viz.

1. By Gods Preparatory Introduction to this Sinai-Covenant three days before the solemn Promulgation of it. Herein God told Israel by Moses, (x) If ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my Covenant, then ye shall be a Peculiar-treasure unto me above all people: though all the Earth be mine. As if God had said; O Israel, I am now about to make a Covenant with thee here on Mount Sinai, which Covenant if thou wilt faithfully keep, know this for thine encouragement, I will accept thee as a peculiar Covenant-people to my self above all other people. For the Hebr. word סגלה Segullah, Peculiar-treasure, is in the New Testament (alluding to this phrase) rendred, (y) A peculiar people to God. And if God, upon this their Covenant keeping, would account them as his Peculiar people in Covenant: Consequently they were to be, and to demean themselves towards God, as his Covenant-people.

(x) Exod. 19. 5, 6.

(y) Tit. 2. 14. 1 Pet. 2. 9, 10.

2. By the Current and sense of the Sinai-Covenant it self. The Sinai-Covenant is Summarily comprized in the ten words of the Moral Law: All Ceremonials and Judicials are reducible thereunto, as comprized therein. Now in the first Commandment (which Luther was was wont to call, (z) The measure of all the rest) The Lord propounds himself to Israel (a) as his Covenant-God requiring Israel to accept him and him alone as his Covenant-God. The Lord could not fully be accepted by Israel as their Covenant-God, unless they should sincerely and wholly give themselves, in Minde Conscience Will and Affections, in Senses and Members, of Soul and Body unto God, so many and so great so extensive and intensive, are the duties required from Israel to God in this Commandment that if they reserved from God and his service, any faculty of the soul any affection of the heart, any part of the body, they should therein have come short of full having and worshipping the Lord as their God. This Commandment requires, The minde should be Gods, to know him, The Conscience Gods, to serve him; The will his, to obey him; The affections his, to embrace him, and avoid all things contrary unto him; The members of the body his, to be weapons of righteousness and holiness towards him; yea that the whole man be his, to glorifie him. This Commandment therefore (which is the most glorious and Comprehensive part of this Sinai-Covenant) doth unquestionably require that Israel should be entirely his Covenant-people, that they might own, accept and worship him alone as their Covenant-God.

3. By the after-explanations of this Covenant and the tenor thereof. After the promulgation of this Sinai Covenant, the Residue of Moses writings are principally spent in Explaining of this Covenant. Among other explanations that is very observable: (b) If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my Commandments and do them — I will walk among you, and will be your God and ye shall be my people. This last clause, [ye shall be my people] hath in it both A Dignity, and A duty. 1. A Dignity, put upon them, that God would own and account them A people to himself: 2. A Duty expected from them, that they should yield up themselves to God as his People, and walk accordingly. And elsewhere God chargeth Israel: (c) Thou shalt love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy might, &c. Doth not this imply, That Israel must entirely dedicate themselves, even their whole man to God, and be wholly his? with all thine heart: That takes in all the affections: with all thy soul: That takes in all the faculties: with all thy might, That takes in both all inward and outward abilities of soul and body: So that all these conclude the whole man. Hence (as (d) Augustine fitly) all the thoughts, all the understanding, all the life, are to be bestowed upon God: from whom thou hast all those things which thou bestowest on him.

(d) Deum vero ex toto corde & ex tota anima, & ex tota mente: ut omnes cogitationes tuas, & omnem vitam, & omnem intellectum in illum conferas, a quo habes ei ipsa quæ conferis. Cum ait, toto corde, tota anima, tota mente, nullam vitæ nostræ reliquit partem quæ vacare debeat, & quasi locum dare ut alia re velit frui, sed quicquid aliud diligendum venerit in animum, illuc rapiatur ut quo totius dilectionis impetus curret. Aug. de Doctr. Christian. l. 1. cap. 22. Tom 3.

4. By

4. By the rehearſal of ſome part of this Covenant in the land of Moab. Wherein Moſes tels Iſrael (e) ye ſtand, this day all of you before the LORD your God, — That thou ſhouldſt enter into Covenant with the LORD thy God, — That he may eſtabliſh thee to day for a people unto himſelf, and that he may be unto thee, a God. In theſe words the grand Covenant-obligations betwixt God and Iſrael mutually are recited, viz. On God's part, That he might be a God to Iſrael. On Iſraels part, That they might be for a people to God. By Gods Covenant both theſe obligations are mutually ſetled and eſtabliſhed.

5. By the Lords acceptation and acknowledgement of Iſrael afterwards to be his Covenant-people. After the ſolemnity of this Covenant the Lord did own and avouch Iſrael for his people; (f) The Lord hath avouched thee, this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promiſed thee. Heb. The LORD hath-made-thee-ſay this day to be unto him for a people of a peculiar treaſure: That is the Lord hath made thee Promiſe, or to give thy word, &c. This is the tenour of the Covenant according to this after-explanation of it. And long after this God ſaid: (g) Bring her to me my Saints that have ſtricken my Covenant with Sacrifice. — Hear O my people and I will ſpeak: O Iſrael, and I will teſtifie. — This ſeems to have ſpecial reference to the Sinai-Covenant, (h) ſolemnly ſtruck betwixt God and Iſrael by Sacrifice: whereupon God ſtiles Iſrael, My Saints, My People. viz. his Covenant-Saints, his Covenant-people.

Secondly, What it implies, To be a Covenant-people to God. This may be reſolved two waies. More Generally; What doth not this imply on Iſraels part by way of Condition and Reſtipulation towards God? When the Lord Covenanteth to be (i) a God to them; this is the higheſt and moſt Comprehenſive Bleſſing that he could Promiſe, This is the foundation of all Mercies, This hath all bleſsings and mercies in it: So when Iſrael promiſed to be a People to God, This is the higheſt and moſt complexive Duty that they could reſtipulate, This is the foundation of all duties, This hath all Duties in it. When (k) God gives himſelf and his ſon to us, with himſelf and Son he freely gives us all things: when we give ourſelves to God, with ourſelves we freely give God all things.

More Particularly, To be Gods Covenant-people implies.

1. To be his Covenant-people ſolely and only, by Fœderal Appropriation. viz. To be ſo ſeperated, ſegregated, divided, diſobliged, &c. from all others, that might ſtand in oppoſition againſt God, or might come in Competition with God: that they may have no contrary dominion over us, intereſt in us, or claim to us, to obſtruct or hinder Gods Covenant-claim, intereſt, and Dominion. (l) The firſt Commandment requires us, as to be Gods wholly, ſo to be Gods only. Then we are Gods Covenant-people, when we are his only. When we come out from among other things, when we are ſeperate from them, when we reject and Deny them, addicting and devoting devoting ourselves to God only. As, when we are, 1. Not Sin's; 2. Not the World's; 3. Not Satan's; 4. Nor our own, any longer: but are divorced from them, that we may be God's. When all these streams are dammed up: that the united Current may flow towards God only. We must be divided from every thing, that would divorce us from God.

(1) Not Sin's. Sin may be, yea inevitably will be, (m) in us: but we are not in Sin. Sin doth not possess us, act us, domineer over us. It hath a residence, but no (n) Reign. It's a Disease, not a Delight, in us. As a Wen, a Mole, a Plague-sore, &c. which we would fain have cured. It is (o) in us: but it is not of us: It (p) enters not into our frame and constitution; it is not woven into our hearts; this scum is not boiled into them, &c. But contrariwise (q) we hate it, abandon it, deny it, cast it way, abstain from it, &c. desiring to have no fellowship with it.

(2) Not the world's, Gods Covenant people are in the world, but are not of the world: Christ hath (r) chosen them out of the world. They may have the world, may possess much of the world, &c. but the world hath not them, possesseth not them. They must not inordinately (s) love the world, nor the things of the world, nor the dearest things in the world, like God or Christ: that the love of the father may be in them. They must not serve (t) Mammon: that they may serve God. They must (u) not trust in the uncertainty of riches: but in the living God. They must (x) not be the servants of man, so as to hinder them or withdraw them from Christs service, so as to serve them against Christ, so as to subject and enslave their souls and Consciences to the authority Dictates or impositions of any man on Earth: for they are bought with a price, that they might be Christs servants peculiarly, and wholly depend upon him. They (y) must not, by way of vain-glorious affectation, or Pharisaical ambition after primacy and principality, gape after high Titles, as of Rabbi Rabbi, Father Master; (though the dignity of Order and superiority which God himself hath set in Church Commonwealth and Family ought to be observed as Gods Ordinance:) For God, is the Principal Father, and Christ is the primary Rabby and Master whose Authority and Doctrine must absolutely and Universally sway them. They must not lie (z) with the world in wickedness, nor (a) run with the world to all excess of ryot, nor be (b) conformed unto this present evil world: but be transformed by the renewing of their mindes, &c. (c) denying all wordly lusts, (d) crucifying all earthly affections, and setting their hearts on things above, (e) rejoying, as if they rejoyced not, weeping, as though they wept, not possessing, as if they possessed not, using this world, as not abusing it.

(3) Not Satan's. Gods People were once (f) children of disobedience, acted by the Power of the Prince of the air, led captive by him at his will; were once children (g) of Satan wilfully set upon doing his lusts: but when Satan the (h) strong man armed is cast out by Christ stronger then he, and they are (i) turned from the power of Satan to God: They

(4) Not their own. God's Covenant-people are not their own, but Gods. They are God's, by all manner of Right: viz. 1. By right, of Creation: (m) He made them, not themſelves. 2 By right of Gubernation and Providence: In him we live, and move, and have our being. 3. By right of Redemption: He hath (o) bought us with a price, even the great price of Chriſt's invaluable blood. For, ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your Spirit, which are Gods.* God hath all the Title, claim, intereſt and property in his people. 2. To be his Covenant-people by Fœderal Profeſſion and Denomination. This implyed in being a people to God in Covenant: 1. That they confeſs, profeſs, declare, or openly (r) avow themſelves to be Gods Covenant-people: They are not aſhamed nor afraid to own God and his Covenant, but rather rejoyce and glory therein, as in their great priviledge and happineſs. (ſ) Praying to God and Praiſing him, as his people: and this is often urged as a potent and prevailing Argument with God. And by this (t) diſtinguiſhing themſelves from all other people of the Nations. Such profeſſion is moſt frequent and familiar to the Iſraelites in the Old Teſtament. 2. That they are alſo called by Gods name: haue their denomination from God being brought into Covenant with God, as the wife being brought into Covenant with her husband bears his name. Thus Daniel prayed for the Captive Jews; (u) Defer not, for thine own ſake, O my God: for thy City, and thy people are called by thy name. Thus Jeremiah; (x) we are called by thy Name, leave us not. Thus the Church prayed againſt her Heatheniſh Enemies, (y) we are thine, thou never beareſt Rule over them, they were not called by thy Name. The Gentiles are a (z) Nation not called by Gods name. Thus when the Prieſts bleſſed the people, God ſaid: (a) And they ſhall put my name upon the ſons of Iſrael: and I will bleſs them. Thus now under the New Teſtament, the (b) name of Father, Son, and Holy-Ghoſt is put upon the baptized. 3. To be his Covenant-people in Christ, that right Covenant-foundation. The Covenant of Faith in every discovery and dispensation thereof, is peculiarly founded on Christ: as the Covenant of works, was founded upon mans own ability. Since man's fall, all (e) the Promises of God are in Christ yea, and in him Amen. They all have their prime establishment on him, as their Center and their chief accomplishment in him, as their Scope. (f) To Abraham and his Seed were the Promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, and to thy Seed, which is Christ. And this I say, That the Covenant was fore-confirmed of God in Christ. ——Christ is here taken Complexively, in aggregation, for both Head and body: not individually and personally, for the Head alone. Christ, thus complexively taken, is the Covenant-party with God: all the elect, as one with Christ, and accepted in Christ, are taken into Covenant with God. Without Christ since the fall, man is wholly incapable of Gods Covenant: having no Covenant-ability either in himself, or in a Surety; Not in himself: because he is fallen: Not in a Surety: because the only Surety for Sinners Jesus Christ is none of his. And the Covenant of works must be fulfilled by us, or by our Surety to Salvation: or it shall be fulfilled upon us, to Destruction. Therefore to be Gods Covenant-people, is to be in Christ by faith the sole Covenant-performer: In whose compleat Covenant-abilities and Performances we compleatly keep this Covenant through faith in him. Thus to be Gods Covenant-people in Christ, denotes, The Supernaturalness, The Sufficiency, The Supereminency, And the Perpetual stability of our Covenant-Condition. 1. The Supernaturalness of our Covenant-state. For Christ the last Adam, and the Covenant of Faith in him, is wholly supernatural: as the first Adam and the Covenant of works in him was Natural. 2. The sufficiency of this Covenant-state. Because Christ is all-sufficient to Covenant-performances, though we be wholly insufficient. And all Christs sufficiencies are by this Covenant of Faith made ours. 3. The supereminency of this Covenant-state. Because the first-Covenant-Condition, was upon mans finite and mutable ability: but this last Covenant-state in Christ, is founded upon Christs infinite and unchangeable ability: made ours, fully by Imputation: sufficiently, by Gradual Communication. 4. The stability and perpetual security of this Covenant-state. Being now not in our own, but in Christs keeping.

4. To be his Covenant-people in all Covenant-Relations. A Covenant-state with God, brings in certain Covenant-Relations to God in Christ, peculiarly resulting from that Covenant-state. In all such Relations we stand towards God when we are brought into Covenant with him: and our being his Covenant-people compre-hends in it thoſe Relations. And the Duties of thoſe Relations. As,

(1) God is our (g) Portion: we are his (h) Peculiar treaſure and inheritance. Therefore we ought to be fully contented with him, wholly at his diſpoſal, under his Cuſtody, &c.

(2) God is our Inhabitant: we his (i) Temples, wherein he dwels and walks. His Temples we muſt not ſinfully pollute or defile, pull down or deſtroy: but endeavour to purifie and edifie the ſame, &c.

3. God is our (k) Father adopting us to himſelf in Jeſus Chriſt into his Houſhold: we are his children, his ſons, and daughters, of the Houſhold of God. Therefore we muſt fear him, love him, obey him, be in holy ſubjection to him, Truſt and depend upon him for Proviſion, Protection, &c. and be wholly at his diſpoſal, &c. as children to a wiſe, faithful and loving father.

(4) God and Chriſt is our (l) Huſband: we his Spiritual Spouſe. The Church is the Lambs Wife, his Bride, &c. we muſt therefore forſake all other corrivals and competitors and cleave only to him in all conjugal faithfulneſs, love obedience, ſubjection, &c.

(5) God and Chriſt is (m) our Head myſtically: we his body, and members. Therefore we muſt honour him as our Head, be guided and governed by him, Receive all Spirit and influences from him, &c.

5. Finally, To be a Covenant-people to God, implies, To be his people wholly and entirely, according to all Covenant-Obligations to himſelf. viz. 1. In all we are; 2. In all we have; 3. In all we can do, or procure; 4. In all we can undergo or Endure: for the Lord our Covenant-God. As hath been in part formerly noted in opening the Nature of the Covenant of Faith in General.

(1) In all we are, Being Gods Covenant-people, we are and ſhould be entirely and wholly his, in all we are: that is, in our whole Souls and Bodies. All we are, is comprized under Soul and Body. (n) ye are bought with a price; Therefore glorifie God in your Body and in your ſpirit, which are God's. As if he had ſaid: By right of Redemption ye are wholly and entirely Gods, and not your own, nor any others: All you are, your Body, your Spirit, all is God's: therefore with all, you are to glorifie God. Your Body, with all the bodily ſenſes members and abilities thereof are and ſhould be God's: your eyes, to behold his wondrous works: your years, to hear his heavenly and ſaving words, your ſmell, to ſavour his ſurpaſſing ſweetneſs in his creatures: your Taſte, to reliſh not only Gods pleaſantneſs in corporal food, but alſo Chriſts deliciouſneſs in the ſpiritual food of his Supper, as ſometimes the Jews in the Paſſover: your Touch to groap after God in his works, (yea as it were) to handle Chriſt crucified in his Sacraments, as (o) Thomas thruſt his finger into the print of his nails, and his hand into his ſide. All theſe ſenſes are as Caſements in the body, every way to be God and Chriſt into the Soul. Your Faces, as a Mirrour of Gods Wiſdom and Beauty, your Tongues, as (p) your glory, To trumpet out, and triumph in, his prailes; your hands, as skilful Artiſts, to work that, which is good; your feet, as diligent travellers to walk in his ways; All your members, as Organs and inſtruments of Gods Spirit and the Sanctified ſoul unto Holineſs, Righteouſneſs, and Sobriety according to their reſpective Capacities. But eſpecially your Souls and Spirits, with all the Faculties, Affections and Endowments thereof, are and ſhould be Gods: your Minds and underſtandings his; To know, diſcern and contemplate upon him graciouſly, and upon all his ways; the Memories his, to treaſure up and retain his Counſels, Covenants, Promiſes, and ſweet experienced diſpenſations; your Conſciences his, as Vice-gerents and Deputy-judges over the ſoul under God, To bind and looſe, to (q) accuſe, or excuſe, to pacifie or terrifie, &c. as cauſe ſhall require; your Wills his, to will, or nill, in ſubordination to his will that perfect Rule of all Righteouſneſs; your Deſire his, to long for him, your Deteſtation his, to fly every thing inconſiſtent with him; your Love his, dearly to embrace him; your hatred his, to abhor every thing contrary to him; your joy and delight his, to acquieſce fully and contentedly in him; your grief his, to mourn for every thing offenſive to him, or obſtructive to your delightful enjoyment of him. And as thus all the affections in the Concupiſcible part, ſo all in the Iraſcible part, Hope, Fear, Anger, and their oppoſites, are and ought to be his alſo ultimately tending to his glory; yea, your whole man, (r) ſoul and body being every way his, not your own, ſhould be his living Sacrifices, every way acceptably ſerving him according to his Word; and ſhould be his living Temples, wherein he might delightfully dwell and walk by his Holy Spirit. Thus we are truly and really Gods Covenant-people, when we are willingly his, in all we are, as of right we ought to be when all within us is entirely and ſincerely devoted to him. This is to (ſ) love the LORD our God, with all our heart, with all our Soul, with all our mind, and with all our might.

And what have we Received, but Primarily from him, and Ultimately for him? (t) For, of him, and through him, and to him, are all things; to whom be glory for ever; Amen. Therefore, Gods people we ſhould be in all the Relations, Qualifications, and Poſſeſsions which we have. 1. In all the Relations which we have; eſpecially thoſe that are ſubordinate to us. We ſhould improve our intereſt and diligence, that with us they might be the Lords people alſo in all they are. Are we Magiſtrates? We ſhould uſe our beſt endeavours that all the ſubjects and people that are under us in the Common-wealth ſhould be the Lords people, worſhipping and ſerving him as the Lords people:

As

As did (u) David, (x) Solomon, (y) Jehoshaphat, (z) Asa, (a) Hezekiah, (b) Josiah. Are we Ministers? we should take heed to our selves and to all the flock, so to guide and feed them, that they may be presented as a chast Virgin unto Christ, without spot and blemish: abounding in Truth, Unity, Purity, and all Holiness. This was the care of (c) John, (d) James, (e) Jude, (f) Peter, (g) Paul. Are we Masters of Families? we should endeavour that our Families and children after us, serve the Lord, keep his way, and walk religiously with him. As did (h) Abraham, (i) Joshuah, (k) Iob, (l) David, (m) Cornelius. 2, In all the Qualifications and endowments which we have; whether Natural, propagated with us; Artificial, acquired by us; or Supernatural, of divine grace infused into us. All our understanding, skill, gifts, graces, abilities, should sweetly run out towards God and his service: to extol and advance him, to promote and further his Gospel, Kingdom, cause, and all his ways. For (n) the Lord hath made all things for himself. And (o) the manifestation of the Spirit in all common and special endowments is given to every man, to please God, and profit man withall. 3. In all the outward Goods and Possessions which we have. Our wealth and riches, &c. we should according to our state and ability, imploy to his honor, to the furtherance of his Worship, Gospel and Religion: as also to the spiritual advantage of our selves and ours therein. (p) Honor the LORD with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase. All Israel (q) offered liberally for the erecting of the Tabernacle, David and his people afterwards (r) more bounteously for building of the Temple, and from Moses till Christ, the whole body of the Iewish Church were constantly at very great cost for maintaining Gods publique worship therein. Many godly women (s) ministred to Jesus Christ in the days of his incarnation, of their Substance, while he was discharging the office of his Mediatourship. The Apostles were relieved by certain (t) Churches, and (u) godly persons, whilst they preached and planted the Gospel in the Nations of the world. And, as they (x) which wait at the Altar, are partakers with the Altar: Even so hath the Lord ordained, That they which preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel.

(3) In all we can do, or Procure. We should approve our selves the Lords Covenant-people, In all we can do for him, Our selves; and in all we can well procure to be done for him, by others. I. All we can do our selves for God, All our Believing and Obeying, All our Godly, Righteous and Sober living, All our Duties, Performances and Abilities thereunto; All should scope at God, should tend to God, should terminate and center in God, as the principal, ultimate and perfectest end of all. 1. If all we are, should be Gods, which is greater: much more all we can do, which is less. 2. All our (y) abilities, Natural and Supernatural, are from God; therefore all our Actings from those Abilities should be to God. turns those springs again in floods and Rivers into the Sea. 3. All which we can do for God, is Gods Due from us: yea and we owe much more, then we can perform to him. God cals for all; (z) Whether ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the Glory of God. (a) For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dyeth to himself. For, whether we live, we live unto the Lord: and whether we dy, we dy unto the Lord: whether we live therefore or dy, we are the Lords. For to this End Christ both dyed, and Rose, and revived, that he might be the Lord both of dead and living. 4. Gods faithful people have thought nothing they could do for God, too much, nothing enough. The (b) zeal of Gods house did even eat up our blessed Saviour. It was meat to do the will of him that sent him, and to finish his work. Davids Soul did even (c) break for the longing that it had to Gods judgements at all times. —— And his zeal had consumed him, because his enemies had forgotten Gods Words. Paul (d) counted not his life dear to himself, so that he might finish his Course with joy, and the Ministry which he had received of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the Grace of God. 5. When all we can do hath its ultimate tendency to God, our doing is elevated to the highest perfection. This highest End nobilitates all our actions and endeavours: and lifts them up on high. II. All we can procure or provoke others to do for God, should also be endeavoured by us. We should not think it enough to act for God our selves; but excite and engage others also, as we have interest or opportunity, to act from him, to do all they can for him. We should endeavour to make Gods party as strong as is possible, against all opposite Parties. And let us diligently Consider, 1. That God requires this from us. (e) Exhort one another daily while it is called to day. (f) —— Let us Consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works. (g) —— Comfort (or Exhort) your selves together, and edifie one another. 2. The people of God have been frequent in quickning and encouraging and provoking one another. Not only the Apostle, (h) exhorted and charged the Thessalonians, as a father doth his children, to walk worthy of God: but also (i) they themselves comforted and edified one another. Not only David offered liberally to the building of the Temple himself: but he excites also his Princes and great men, saying; (k) And who then is willing to consecrate his service this day unto the LORD? 3. This is a successful course. By mutual incitements and encouragements we are more and more engaged for the Lord. One hot coal kindles another. (l) As iron sharpeneth iron: so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend. (m) The Elders of the Jews builded, and prospered, through the Prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah. Quickning words are as spurs and goads in the sides of the sluggish, to make them active for God and his ways.

(4) Finally, In all we can undergo or endure, we should be for God For, 1. To do for God, is an Honour: To suffer for God, a double Honour. (n) To you it's given, in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe lieve on him, but also to suffer for his sake. (o) —— If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye, for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you. So that when the Apostles had been beaten before the Councel, (p) They departed from the presence of the Councel, rejoycing that they were Counted worthy to suffer shame for his name. 2. God hath given Christ to endure a thousand times more for us, then we can undergo for him. Christ shed his blood for us: shall we grudge our tears for God? Christ had his hands, and feet, his Head, his side, his heart, his very soul peirced for us: shall we think much to have our States, our Names, our bodies wounded for him? Christ was laid dead in grave for us: shall we think strange to be laid alive in prison for Christ? &c. 3. We cannot approve our selves Gods true-hearted people and Christs (q) Disciples, unless denying all that's dear to us, we are ready to suffer for Christ, and take up our Cross daily with all willingness, and follow him. 4. No sufferings that we can undergo for God, can (r) separate us from God: yea rather they bring us nearer and closer to God. That Martyr said sweetly; I was in Prison till I came into Prison, (s) for there I find my good God always. 5. All the sufferings for God or Christ which we can possibly undergo in this world, are incomparably short of the recompences which we shall have in the world to come: and these sufferings augment those recompences. This Cross, is nothing to that Crown. This Martyrdom, is nothing to that Kingdom. This (t) Momentary lightness of affliction, is nothing to that hyperbolical eternal weight of glory. (u) The afflictions of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the Glory that shall be revealed in us. 6. Finally, How zealous have Gods sincere people been to honor God by sufferings! Yea, they have gloryed therein exceedingly. Moses (x) esteemed the reproach of Christ greater riches, then the treasures of Egypt. Paul (y) gloryed in his bonds, in his prisons, in his chains, in the marks of the Lord Jesus more then if he had had imperial crowns set upon his head: He (z) took pleasure in sufferings for Christ: yea, he professeth (a) his weeping friends broke his heart, when they sought to deter him from sufferings, being ready not only to be bound, but to dy at Jerusalem for the Name of the Lord Jesus. Think of those (b) Worthies that sayled through such a Sea of troubles for Christ, not accepting deliverance. Think of those blessed Martyrs, that Sung in prison, embraced the fagots, kissed the stake, and triumphantly clapt their hands in the midst of devouring flames. Think of Ignatius, who said, (c) Now I begin to be a disciple: I am zealous after nothing of visibles or invisibles, that I may obtain Christ. Let Fire, Cross, Concourse of wild Beasts, the dissection, tearing in peices and dispersion of my bones, the dissipation of my members, the dissolution of my whole body, and the damnation of the devil, come upon me, only that I may obtain Iesus Christ.

Thus we see, what it is, To be Gods Covenant-people, viz. 1. To be his only: Not Sin's; not the world's; not Satan's; Not their own.

own. 2. To be his by Covenant-Profession and Denomination. 3. To be his in Christ, that true Covenant-foundation. 4. To be his in all Covenant-Relations. 5. To be his wholly according to all Covenant-Obligations: In all we are; In all we have, In all we can do, or procure; In all we can undergo, or endure, for our blessed God in Covenant. All Israel were thus Gods people Professedly: The Elect thus his Really.

Thirdly, Why was it requisite that Israel should be such a Covenant-people to God? Answ. For many and weighty Causes. viz.

1. Because, The Lord declared himself by this Covenant to be A God to Israel, as hath been proved: Therefore proportionably and answerably Israel must be a Covenant-people to God. For, 1. His being to them a God, and Their being to him a People, in Covenant: are Covenant-Relatives: And (d) Relatives mutually infer, and remove one another. His being their Covenant-God, implyes they must be his Covenant-people: and their being his Covenant-people, implyes that God is their Covenant-God. 2. Again, There must be some suitable and Answerable correspondency betwixt the Fœderates. The Nature of a Covenant consists in their mutual agreement: And agreement is concluded, upon suitableness of mutual obligations. As therefore the Lord promiseth To be to them, a God: so it was most equal, they should re-promise, To be to him, a people. For, Their being his, doth most suitably Answer to His being theirs. 3. Add hereunto, Israel could no way so really render to the Lord a grateful return for his being their God, as by their own becoming his People.

(d) Relata mutuò se ponunt & tollunt.

2. Because, Gods Covenanting with a People, is his Spiritual Espousing and Marrying of a people to himself. His Covenant is a Marriage-Covenant, A Conjugal-Covenant with his people: God himself the husband, Israel the Spouse of God. This is clear, both in Gods Constitution of the people Israel a National Church by his Sinai-Covenant, which both (e) Ieremiah, and (f) Ezekiel, declare to be a Marriage-Covenant betwixt God and Israel; And also in Gods Restitution of the people Israel from their idolatries and back-slidings, by another Conjugal-Covenant, as (g) Hosea testifies. Now this Sinai-Covenant, being Gods Marriage-Covenant betwixt God and Israel, doth plainly declare in the Nature of the Covenant, that The Fœderate Parties did therein mutually give up themselves one to another: as the Husband and Wife in Marriage do reciprocally give themselves each to other: God gave himself to Israel to be their God and husband, and Israel gave himself to God to be his Spouse and people. God gave himself to Israel, of Grace: Israel gave themselves to God, of Duty. If at Marriage the woman give not herself to the man, as well as the man give himself to the woman, theres no Marriage-Covenant established betwixt them, it must be mutual: So here, there had been no Spiritual Marriage-Covenant betwixt God and Israel

(e) Ier 31.32.
(f) Ezek. 16 8.
(g) Hos 2.19, 20, &c. See from ver. 14. to the end.

at Sinai, if Israel had not given up themselves in that Covenant to God, to be his people, as God gave himself to them to be their God. Therefore (h) both God and Israel declared their express Consent to this Covenant, when it was solemnly established betwixt them.

(h) Exod. 24. throughout.

3. Because, Israel was to be a peculiar and select people to God, distinct and separate from all other people upon the face of the Earth. The glorious Lord, of his meer Grace, was pleased to set his love upon them, to single and choose them out from among all Nations, to distinguish them from all others, to appropriate and bring them nigh unto himself; that they might be his special delight, portion and inheritance. To this end, he brought them into a gracious distinguishing Covenant with himself at Mount Sinai, The chief clause whereof was, That he would be their God, and they should be his people: hereby discriminating them from all other Nations. If therefore Israel should not have closed with God in this Covenant, to become his people, as he became their God: they had despised Gods distinguishing Mercy, they had remained in the common Covenantless condition of the hopeless Nations without any difference from them, and they had rejected Gods Covenant with their Father Abraham and his Seed.

4. Because, Till a people becomes Gods Covenant people, they cannot enjoy his Covenant-Benefits by Covenant-right. By the Common bounty of Gods Providence, they may perhaps enjoy many Outward Mercies for this life: But by this general right they enjoy neither Spirituals, nor hope of Eternals at all; no nor yet temporals by Covenant-right. The Special Covenant-right to Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals, is only to them that are in Covenant, that are Gods Covenant-people. For all Communion is founded upon Union. The Cions hath no Communion with the life, sap and fruitfulness of the stock, but by being ingraffed and united thereunto; The woman hath no Communion with the man in his goods and possessions, but by being united to him in Marriage: So we have no Communion with God in Covenant-benefits, as Sanctification, Justification, Adoption, &c. but as we accept Gods Covenant, are his Covenant-people, are fœderally united to him. It was necessary therefore, that Israel should become Gods Covenant-people, that so they might have a true Covenant-claim to all Gods Covenant-Blessings. They that become Gods Covenant-people only outwardly, by visible Profession, they only obtain the Externals of the Covenant: but they who become his Covenant-people as well inwardly in power, as outwardly in Profession, obtain with the externals the internals also of the Covenant.

5. Because, There's no possibility of true keeping Covenant, and walking therein with God acceptably, till men first become Gods Covenant-people. For, 1. Till then, their Persons are (i) uncalled, unsanctified, defi-

(i) 1 Pet. 2. 8, 9.

led, unclean, and abominable. They that lay hold of Gods Covenant really, become really holy indeed: all without the Covenant remaining unholy. Now while (k) mens persons are unclean, all their performances are unclean also, and their actions abominable to God. 2. Till then, they are (l) without Christ. Without Covenant, without Christ. For, Christ is the Matter, Mysterie, and very Marrow of the Covenant: Hence (m) he is called the Covenant it self. And (n) without Christ we can do nothing truly acceptable to God. In him only all (o) our spiritual sacrifices are acceptable to God. 3. Till then, we are without Faith. For when we believe, we close with the Covenant, that Record that God hath given of his son: 1 John. 5. 10. and when we close with the Covenant, we believe. But without Covenant-state as Gods people, without Faith. Now (p) without Faith it is impossible to please God. And, (q) whatsoever is not of Faith, is sin. For, that which is not of Faith, is not of Christ, but of Satan, and of our selves; and whatsoever is of Satan and of our corrupt selves, is corrupt and sinful, like Satan and our selves. 4. Till we be indeed Gods Covenant-people, not only in formality, but also in reality, All we do or can do in matters of Religion is meer Hypocrisie. Till then, our selves are meer formalists and hypocrites: and such are all our religious professions and actions, though never so specious, meerly hypocritical. An hypocrite can produce nothing but hypocrisie. Nothing can act beyond the sphere of its activity. Now both (r) Hypocrites, and all Hypocritical actions in matters of Religion, are extreamly detestable and abominable in the sight of God. Thus, till persons become Gods Covenant people, they are Uncalled, Christless, Faithless, and meer Hypocrites in Religion: and therefore totally unable in any Evangelical sense to keep Covenant with God. Israel therefore must become Gods Covenant-people, that they might Evangelically perform Gods Covenant.

6. Because, when any People become Gods Covenant-people indeed: then all they are, all they have, all they can do, all they can endure for God, become Gods also indeed, so that they are wholly and entirely Gods with all their heart, soul and might. And this Entireness of self-resignation to God, as it is oft required by him, so it is most acceptable to him.

Fourthly, Inferences hence may be these, viz.

1. Hence, How great Dignity, Advantage, and Duty did God cast upon Israel, in bringing them into Covenant with himself at Mount Sinai! For, by taking them into Covenant with himself, he made them his Covenant-people. And to be Gods Covenant-people, O how great a Matter is it! It implies,

(1) Singular Dignity, whereunto the Lord hath advanced them.

(2) Manifold benefit and Advantage, wherewith the Lord hath enriched them.

(3) Great and Weighty Duties, which the Lord hath imposed upon them. Is it a small matter to be Gods people? are there small things comprized therein? Is it a small matter, 1. To be Gods People only;

Not sins, Not the worlds, Not Satans, Not our own: 2. To be his by Profession and Denomination: 3. To be his in Christ that true Covenant-foundation: 4. To be his by all Covenant-Relations: 5 To be his wholly by all Covenant-obligations, In all we are, In all we have, In all we can do, In all we can endure for God? But of the 1. Dignity, 2 Advantage, and 3. Duty, of being Gods Covenant-people, I have (f) formerly spoken in Opening Gods Covenant with Abraham: Thither I refer the Reader, for Brevity sake.

(f) Book III. Chap 3. Aph. 3. § 1. In that branch. A God in Covenant. Inference 3. Abraham and his true Seed are Gods Covenant-people. p. 424. to 527.

2. Hence, Its very plain, That a great part of Israel came utterly short of their Covenant-Duty towards God. For, though the whole body of Israel became Gods Covenant-people by visible Profession, and Denomination: yet very few of them became his People indeed. 1. How few of them were only his? but either Sin's, or the World's: or Satan's; or their own: as all the carnal Israelites. 2. How few of them were his in Christ, by Faith? But contrariwise, They (t) tempted Christ in the wilderness, who led them, and went before them, and thereupon were destroyed of fiery Serpents. They (u) resisted the Holy Ghost, and which of the Prophets did they not persecute? yea they slew them which shewed before of the Coming of the just one. Yea, when in fulness of time (x) Christ came to his own Covenant-people these Jews, his own Received him not; (y) none of the Pirnces of this world knew him; They (z) reviled him, persecuted him, plotted and conspired against him, how they might destroy him; and at last they rejected him, preferring Barrabas a murderer, before him: yea they became betrayers and murderers of him, taking him, and by wicked hands crucifying and slaying him; and afterwards were cruel Persecutors of the Apostles that preached this crucified Jesus to be the Christ. Though Israel was as the sand of the Sea, yet was but a small remnant of them saved by Jesus Christ, for they believed not the Prophets report of Christ before his coming, nor Christs own Testimony and Doctrine at his coming, nor the Apostles preaching of Christ afterwards: and they, for the greatest part of them, miserably miscarried in that great point of (a) Justification: seeking it, not by Faith in Jesus Christ according to Moses and the Prophets rightly understood, but as it were by the works of the Law, ignorantly mistaking the end and mysterie of the Law, this Sinai Covenant, for they stumbled at that stumbling stone Jesus Christ, and sn attained not the Law of righteousness which they sought for, though the Elect amongst them obtained it, and the rest were blinded. 3. How few of them were Gods Covenant-people indeed by the inward life of Covenant-Relations? 4. Yea, how extreamly did they come short in being entirely and wholly Gods Covenant-people by all Covenant-Obligations, In all they were, had, could do or endure: the generality of their waies being diligently observed according to the (b) Scripture-declaration thereof. Their Covenant-Duty was great: and their Profession of obedience and Covenant-keeping in all things was very large and liberal: but their Performance was extreamly short and and defective: their great failings in Covenant-duty, after large Professions and Promises, may be our warning and Caution that our Covenant-performances come not short of our like Covenant-professions.

3. Hence, The same Great Covenant-Duty laid on Old Israel by the Old Testament, or Sinai-Covenant, is imposed also upon New Israel by the New Testament, or New-Covenant. For, as the Old Testament Israel was to be Gods Covenant-people: so the New Testament Israel is to be Gods Covenant-people also, as both (c) Jeremiah, (d) Hosea, and (e) Paul, speaking of the New-Covenant, do testifie. By this we may see, 1. That, both Old and New Testament have a sweet Harmony, as in the substance of Blessings Promised, So in the Substance of Duties restipulated. 2. That, in Israels Duty of being Gods Covenant-people and the extent thereof: we may see our own Duty and the Compass thereof, viz. of Being God's Covenant-people likewise, and walking accordingly: As hath been laid down in Opening this Duty both here, and heretofore. For these things were written for our Instruction: The same Covenant of Faith for Substance requiring the same duty for Substance.

4. Hence, One special way to discover whether a people be in Covenant with God, is to examine and try themselves whether they be the Covenant-people of God. All in Covenant with God, and partakers of Covenant-Blessings, whether heretofore under the Old Testament, or Now under the New, were Gods Covenant people: They therefore that are Gods Covenant-people, are in Covenant with him; they that are not his Covenant-people, are not in Covenant with him, nor have any Covenant-right or claim to the Benefits and mercies of the Covenant. Men may be Gods Covenant-people, and so in Covenant with God two wayes, viz. 1. Formally, Outwardly, appearingly; by a meer visible Profession of the Faith and Covenant of God: as all carnal men and hypocrites in Israel were heretofore, and such like now are in our visible Churches. These reap only some visible and Common benefits of the Covenant: As, To be accounted by God Fœderally Holy, and Sanctified: 1 Cor. 7. 14. Heb. 10. 29. 1 Cor. 1. 2. Deut. 10. 6. Yea a Special and peculiar people unto God above all other people that are out of Covenant, Deut. 10. 6. & 14. 2. 2. & 26. 18. To have their children and Seed, together with themselves, accounted Holy: The lump holy with the first-fruits, and the branches Holy with the root, Rom. 11 16. 1 Cor. 7. 14. To have some common gifts of the Holy-Ghost, Act. 2. 38, 39. Heb. 6. 4, &c. All which are great advantages. 2. Really, and inwardly by an invisible effectual and powerfull Participation of true saving Faith and Covenant-interest: as well as all true believers. These reap both inward and outward, visible and invisible benefits of the Covenant, and that savingly.

Now

Now we may discover and try whether we be inwardly, really, and savingly Gods Covenant-people or no, by these and like Properties or Adjuncts of Gods Covenant-people, viz. Gods sincere Covenant-people.

(1) Are inwardly and effectually called, Rom. 9.23,24,25. 1 Pet. 2.9,10. Acts 26. 18. Gen. 12.1,2,3. with Gal. 3.16.

(2) Are an Holy, Select and Separated people, in inward, as well as outward state and condition, from all carnal people, 2 Cor. 6.16, 17. 1 Pet. 2.9, 10. Exod. 19.5,6.

(3) Are a Self-denying people, Gen. 12.1,2,3,&c. Phil. 3.5. to 11. Psal. 45.10,11. Math. 16.24,&c.

(4) Are a willing people, Psal. 110.2,3.

(5) Are Gods own Spiritual Temple, 2 Cor. 6. 16,17, 18. 1 Pet. 2.5. Eph. 2 21,22. 1 Cor. 3. 16.

(6) Are an Holy and Royal Priesthood. Kings and Priests to God, 1 Pet. 2.5,9, 10. Rev. 1 6. & 3. 21. Lev 19.6.

(7) Are Gods own adopted children, his spiritual sons and daughters, Rom. 9.26. 2 Cor. 6. 16,17,18.

(8) Are more Christs, then their own, 1 Cor. 3.22,23. & 6.15, 19,20. Gal. 3.29.

(g) In Book IV. ch. 5. Sect. 3. Aph. 1. Art. 4. Inference 11. p. 1500. to 1504.

All these evidences of being Gods people, See (g) hereafter explained in opening of Gods New Covenant. Let such, as desire further Satisfaction in these particulars, consult those Explanations. To which may be added these that follow from the explanation of the present Covenant-Duty of Being Gods People.

(9) Are his people in Christ, the foundation of the Covenant.

(10) Are his people by all dear Covenant-Relations.

(11) Are his People only, by peculiar appropriation to himself. Not Sin's: Not the world's: Not Satan's: Not their own.

(12) Are Gods People wholly, and entirely: In all they are; In all they Have: In all they can do: In all they can undergo.

And all these are cleared and opened already. Look a little back, and be satisfied herein.

5. Hence, Let all that would approve themselves to be in Covenant with God, and interested in all his Covenanted-Mercies, study and strive to the uttermost to become the People of God truly and really in Jesus Christ by believing. (h) Many Considerations and Motives are hereafter at large opened and urged in Gods New Covenant, very fitly applicable to this present purpose.

(h) In Book IV. chap. 6.

Thus of the First-Covenant-Duty restipulated by Israel to God: viz. To be his Covenant-people.

II. To keep and perform this Covenant of God entirely. That is, 1. By true Faith in Jesus Christ. 2. By sincere, entire and Constant obedience accordingly.

In

In the General it is evident; 1. That God required and expected from Israel, the entire keeping and performance of his Covenant. (i) Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my Covenant: then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people, &c. (k) —— And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments and he wrote them upon two Tables of stone. (l) —— Take heed to yourselves, lest ye forget the Covenant of the LORD your God. The LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldst keep all his Commandments. The tenour of his Covenant is laid down (m) by way of Commandments: even in Ten Precepts, which are the Compendium, Abstract, or Epitome of all Gods Ordinances, Moral, Ceremonial or Judicial, belonging to this Covenant. And presently after promulgation thereof, he pathetically adds: (n) O that there were such an heart in them that they would fear me, and keeep all my Comandments alwaies: that it might be well with them and with their children for ever! But Contrariwise, God oft times warned, cautioned, threatned, condemned and punished Israel and their Seed for breaking of this Covenant: as is abundantly testified both by (o) Moses, and the (p) Prophets. 2. That, Israel also restipulated and re-promised unto God, again and again, To obey Gods voice, keep his Covenant, and do all that the Lord should command them. As, (1) Immediately before the Promulgation of this Covenant, Exod. 19. 5. 6. 8. (2) Presently after the Promulgation thereof, Exod. 20. 18, 19. Deut. 5. 27, 28, 29. (3) As also on the solemn day of Gods entring into Covenant with Israel afterwards, at the skirts of Mount Sinai, Exod. 24, 3. to 9. Deut. 26. 16, 17, 18. Thus its plain in the General, That God required, and Israel restipulated, To keep God, Covenant made with them at Mount Sinai.

In Particular, it is also clear: That both God, and Israel (all of good knowledge and understanding among them in the things of God) intended, That keeping of Gods Covenant which is effected: 1. By true Faith in Jesus Christ. 2. By sincere, entire and constant obedience resulting from such Faith.

First, As touching Israels keeping this Covenent with God by true faith in Jesus Christ: These things had need to be a little unfolded and cleared, viz. 1. What true faith in Jesus Christ is. 2. That true Faith in Jesus Christ was intended by God and Israel in this Covenant, for their performance and keeping of it. 3. How true Faith in Jesus Christ was required in this Sinai-Covenant. 4. What Inferences may hence flow,

1. What true Faith in Jesus Christ is. It may be briefly thus described.

True Justifying and saving Faith in Christ, is a saving Grace wrought in the hearts of the elect at their Regeneration by Gods Spirit and word, whereby they not only know, Assent to, and Apply to themselves the Promises, (q) Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 5. Quest. 1. (r) In Aph. 3. Sect. II.

This Description of Faith I have (q) already confirmed and explained, in Treating of Gods Covenant with Abraham. There See. As also (r) before that, I have at large manifested, what it is to walk before God in Faith, viz. It implies, 1. Having of true Faith. 2. Acting true Faith had. 3. Living by Faith had and acted 4. Progress in Faith unto Perfection. 5. Perseverance in Faith unto the end. These things are all of them of important consequence to set forth abundantly the true Nature of Faith in Christ: and they are so fully insisted upon, that now I need to say no more.

2. That true faith in Christ was required of Israel by God, for the Keeping and performance of this Covenant. This may be evinced by many Arguments, viz.

(1) True Faith in Jesus Christ was required in the three fore-going and lesser expressures of the Covenant of Faith, and accordingly performed. For, 1. In the First expressure of this Covenant of Faith from Adam till Noah, (f) Christ is promised as the Seed of the woman to bruise the Serpents head for the salvation of all the Spiritual Seed of Christ the second Adam: the Serpent having, by seducing of the woman, brought condemnation upon all the meer Natural seed of the first Adam. Here Faith in Christ was implicitly required, for the receiving of this Promise and the benefit thereof: without which faithful reception, the Promise could not actually work unto salvation. And the Godly testified their faith in this Seed, by (t) Sacrifices and (u) walking with God. 2. In the second expressure of the Covenant of Faith from Noah till Abraham Faith in Christ was tacitly required, when (x) God Promised to save Noah and his family in the Ark by water. And Noah believing this, (y) became heir of the righteousness, which is by Faith. Thus God expected, and accepted his Faith. 3. In the third expressure of the Covenant of Faith from Abraham till Moses, God, (z) promising that in his seed all the Nations of the earth should be blessed, implicitly expected that Abraham should believe in this promised (a) Seed, which was Christ: And (b) Abraham believed in the LORD, and that was counted to him unto righteousness. Had not God expected and required Faith from Abraham, how can we imagine, that God would have so accepted and recompensed his faith, imputing it to him unto righteousness? God would never have accepted or rewarded any will-worship or inventions of man which himself had not required.

(f) Gen. 3. 14, 15.

(t) Gen 4. 4, 5. Heb. 11. 4. (u) Gen. 5. 24. Heb. 11. 56. (x) Gen 6. 18. &c. 1 Pet. 3. 20, 21. (y) Heb. 11.7. (z) Gen. 12. 1, 2, 3. (a) Gal. 3. 16. (b) Gen. 15. 6.

Now, if in these three expressures of the Covenant (which were much more imperfect and dark then this Dispensation thereof at Mount Sinai) true Faith in Jesus Christ was required and restipulated, at least implicitly: how much more must it needs be required in this Sinai-Covenant, which is more clear, full and compleat then all that went before?

(2) In

(2) In this Sinai-Covenant Jesus Christ is frequently tendered unto Israel, and that in variety of Notions and considerations as hath been abundantly manifested: The (c) Tabernacle, the Veil, the Ark, the Mercy seat over the Ark, the High priest with his Consecration, Garments, Office, &c. The Sacrifices of all sorts, The Altar of Incense, The Altar of burnt-offering, &c. they all typed out and tendered Christ to Israel. Consequently true Faith in Christ must herein be necessarily implyed and required of Israel for discerning Christ in these mysteries, for apprehending and applying him unto themselves for righteousness and salvation accordingly. For without such Faith to apprehend and apply Christ, All these Manifestations of Christ to Israel had been vain, useless and ineffectual.

(3) As in this Sinai-Covenant Jesus Christ was many waies typed out and tendred to Israel: so Faith in Jesus Christ was therein also shadowed forth and required of Israel. Especially in these two particulars, viz. 1. in the bunch of Hyssop, (d) whereby the blood of the Sacrifices, at the deidcation of this Covenant, was sprinkled upon the people. As Augustine hath noted, (e) Hyssop is Faith: and the actual sprinkling of the blood of Sacrifices upon the people denoted the actual applying of Christs blood to their souls by Faith: But of this, See formerly in the third Spiritual blessing promised in this Covenant, viz. Justification. Sect. (3) 2. In the Eye of a Serpent-bitten Israelite looking up to the brazen Serpent for Cure, according to Gods Ordinance. The biting of the fiery Serpents represented the fiery and deadly sting of the old Serpent the devil by Sin. The brazen Serpent lifted up upon a pole in the wilderness for the healing of this sting, typified Jesus Christ lifted up upon the tree of the Cross for curing of all the sinful wounds and bites of the old Serpent the Devil and Satan. And the eye looking upon that brazen Serpent for obtaining of healing, shadowed out Faith in Jesus Christ that eye of the soul whereby they were to look up to Jesus Christ for cure and healing of their Sins the fruit of the old Serpents biting. This Christ himself teacheth us thus to understand, (g) As Moses lifted up the Serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have eternal life. Where, The son of man is interpreted to be the Mysterie of the Serpent lifted up: and looking on the Serpent, to be believing on Christ: and healing by that look, to be their not perishing, but having everlasting life. We should scarce have been bold to have interpreted this (h) Serpent, of Christ, seeing in Scripture the Devil is called the Serpent, had not Christ himself (as Hierom noteth) thus directed us.

(4) Christ, Faith, and Justification by Faith in Christ Jesus, is the great End, Scope and Mysterie of the Law; The very Life and Soul of this Sinai-Covenant. For, (i) Christ is the End of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth. (k) —— The Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by Faith. And some refer that of Pauls elsewhere, to this Sinai-Law, or Covenant; (l) Now the End of the Commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of Faith unfeigned. Love arising from Faith (m) purifying the heart, is the end of the Law. Justification by Faith in Christ, is the Doctrine of this Covenant: As (n) Paul proves out of Moses. True Faith then in Christ is singularly intended and required in this Covenant; without which, neither Christ, nor justification by him, could possibly be received or applyed. And the Apostle (o) reckons it as the great ignorance and mistake of the Jews, that they did not thus understand the Law. Whereupon they fell into that gross fundamental error in the grand point of Justification; seeking to establish their own righteousness as it were by works of the Law, being ignorant of Gods righteousness by faith in Christ intended in the Law.

(5) This Covenant required sincere and entire (p) love to God, with all the heart, and with all the soul, and with all the might; promising Heart-Circumcision, viz. Sanctification of Heart, to that End. Now, God Promising to them heart-Sanctification, promised (q) Faith to them, which is an eminent Sanctifying Grace, and as a Captain-Grace unto the rest. And God Requiring such hearty entire love to himself, required Faith also, (r) which is as the Mother and Nurse of Love; and worketh by love. Hence one observeth; (s) The Sum of the Law is faith, or Love: And both these carry the same sense; because though Moses make mention of Love, and Paul of Faith; yet that Love doth comprehend Faith, and this Faith doth contain live. Love therefore in some sense, (t) presupposeth Faith, and is enlivened and actuated by Faith.

(6) In the first and great Commandment of the Sinai-Covenant, True Faith in God through Jesus Christ is implyed and required: Implyed, in the Promissory; Required, in the Mandatory part of it. (u) I am (or, I will be) the LORD thy God, &c. for in the Hebr. no verb at all is expressed, but understood): Thou shalt have none other gods before me, viz. I will be thy God, Thou shalt have me for thy God, and Thou shalt have me alone for thy God. Herein true Faith is undenyably required. For God was not the Covenant-God of Israel, but only in and through Jesus Christ the Mediator; All that are accepted of God, being (x) accepted in the beloved only: And Israel could not have the LORD for their Covenant-God, but only by Faith in Jesus Christ the Messiah, the only way unto the Father. (y) Jesus said, I am the way, The truth, and the life; No man cometh unto the Father, but by me. And Paul said; (z) Without Faith it is impssible to please God: For he that cometh to God, must must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them, that diligently seek him. None can acceptably seek him, but by faith in Christ: none can comfortably expect rewards from him, but through and for Christ by faith. The Sinner hath forfeited all rewards of debt, by falling from the Covenant of Works. True Faith then in Jesus Christ, or in God through Christ, is required in this first Commandment; without which Israel could not have the LORD for their God.

(7) Finally, God frequently requiring entire impartial obedience to his Law and Covenant, doth presuppose and implicitly require Faith, the necessary Spring-head and root of all sincere and acceptable Obedience. Obedience to all Gods commands, is the Condition which God most frequently urgeth in this Sinai-Covenant upon Israel, both in the (a) Promulgation, (b) Sanction, and (c) Explication of this Covenant: and which Israel restipulated to perform again and again. But can we think, that Obedience, which God required, and Israel promised, was a faithless Obedience? Assuredly no. For, (1.) Unbelievers (d) have nothing pure to them: their mind and Conscience is defiled: they are abominable disobedient, and to every good work reprobate. Though for matter and substance the works they do be never so warrantable Saint-like and Angelical: yet they are polluted to unbelievers. (2.) All true obedience flows from true love to God and man: and all true love ariseth from, and is acted by, true Faith. (e) Faith which worketh by love. (f) —— The End of the Commandment is love, out of a pure heart, and a good Conscience, and Faith unfeigned. Therefore without this Faith all obedience and works are formal, hypocritical, dead, vain; the meer corps and carkase of a good work without Faith, which is the life and soul of all obedience. (3.) Without Faith, no obedience or works can be done in and through Christ, or be sprinkled with his bloud for the washing and cleansing away of the spots and deformities adhering to them. Faith is the only bunch of Hyssop, that applyes the bloud of Christ to us and our Spiritual Sacrifices. (4.) And therefore consequently, without Faith no works or obedience can be acceptable to God, but must needs be utterly abominable, as loss and dung. God (g) accepting no dead works, hypocritical obedience, faithless Service, or Christless Sacrifices. Thus God pressing so much obedience and works, presseth also faith, and condemneth unbelief. That passage is very observable, (h) Ye shall not tempt the LORD your God, as ye tempted him in Massah. Ye shall diligently keep the Commandments of the LORD your God, and his Testimonies and Statutes which he hath commanded them. How did they tempt God in Massah, but by (i) unbelief? Unbelief therefore is here forbidden, as a ground of their disobedience: and faith is required, as a foundation of their true Obedience. Thus its plain, That true Faith in Christ was required of Israel to the keeping of this Covenant.

3. How true Faith in Christ Jesus was required in this Sinai Covenant; comes next to be considered. This may be briefly resolved in these two Positions. viz.

(1) True Faith is not required in the Covenant of Faith or Grace for the performance thereof; in such sort, as it was required in the Covenant of Works or Nature, for the keeping thereof. 1. Some General Agreement may be granted; Faith required in both these Covenants, (1) Had the same Author; viz. God. Adam's Faith in Innocency, and the Elects faith since, were both wrought in them by God. (2) Had the same General Nature or Substance of the Duty; both of them being a Perswasion of Gods love. (3) Had the same General effect; both of them breeding a reciprocal love again to God, breaking forth into Obedience. 2. But Particular disagreements and differences betwixt them are great. For, they differ; (1) In the peculiar Notion and Consideration of their Author, God. Faith required in the Covenant of Nature, was of God, as a Creator, per modum Naturæ; it was con-created in, and with Adam: But Faith required in the Covenant of Grace, was of God, as a Redeemer, per modum Gratiæ supernaturalis: it is supernaturally infused and instilled into man by the (k) Spirit of Christ. (2) In their Proper Subject. Faith required in the Covenant of Nature, was seated in the heart of Adam perfectly upright: But Faith required in the Covenant of Grace, is seated in the heart of Sinners, effectually called, but imperfectly Sanctified. (3) In their ground or foundation. Faith required in the Covenant of Nature, leaned and was bottomed upon the Promise of life, upon perfect doing, and the Title of the perfect Creature; and therefore man being lapsed it hath no place: but faith required in the Covenant of Grace, leaneth and is founded upon the (l) gratuitous Promise made in Jesus Christ. (4) In the peculiarity of their Object. Faith required in the Covenant of Nature, had God, immediately without a Mediator, for it's object as Creator, Preserver and Rewarder with life and continued happiness in case of perfect obedience Continued: Faith required in the Covenant of Grace, hath God mediately in the Mediator Christ Jesus, for its Object, as Redeemer and (m) Rewarder of them that diligently seek him by Faith, with everlasting life. (5) In their proper fruit and effect. Faith required in the Covenant of Works, considered Absolutely as a work, did in part afford Adam A perfect Righteousness, but mutable; because depending upon the title of perfect Nature, which was mutable: But the Faith required in the Covenant of Faith, considered Relatively as an Instrument, doth afford unto believers a more perfect Righteousness, viz. Christs, and that immutable, because depending upon Gods free grace and faithful Promise in Christ, not upon the strength of the believer.

(2) True Faith was not required in such sort under the Old-Testament, as now it is under the New Testament. Both of them were the Covenant of Faith and Grace, not of Works or Nature; as hath been proved:

proved: But the ſeveral Adminiſtrations of them were very different. Accordingly faith required in them both, was the ſame for Subſtance, but different in ſome Circumſtances. 1. In Subſtance, Faith required in the Old and New Teſtament was the ſame: Having, (1) The ſame Spirit of God, for the Supernatural Author; (2) The ſame gratuitous Promiſe in Chriſt, for the foundation; (3) The ſame Chriſt and Mediator betwixt God and man, for the Object; (4) And the ſame righteouſneſs of Faith in and through Chriſt, for the effect and fruit thereof. 2. In Circumſtance notwithſtanding they differ. For, (1) Faith required in the Old Teſtament this Sinai-Covenant, was revealed and required more Implicitly: Faith required in the New Teſtament, was revealed and enjoyned moſt explicitly. (2) Faith required in this Old Covenant, looked on Chriſt as Promiſed only and to be performed afterwards in fulneſs of time: but Faith required in the New Covenant looks at Chriſt as performed already, and actually exhibited in our fleſh already. (3) Faith required in this Old Covenant did conſequently behold Chriſt more remotely and darkly in the Proſpective-glaſſes of Levitical Types and Shadows: but Faith required in the New Covenant beholds Chriſt (n) more nearly and clearly as with open face, all veils and ſhadows of the Old Teſtament being totally removed away. (4) Finally, Faith required in the Old Teſtament delivered not Iſrael from that ſpirit of bondage and ſervitude which had Fear in it, the Church being then as a child in Minority: but Faith required in the New Teſtament delivers the Iſrael of God from this Spirit of bondage, and furniſhes them with the Spirit of Adoption and ſonlike liberty, whereby we cry Abba Father, The Church being now grown up to Manlike Maturity.

4. Inferences hence reſulting are divers, viz.

Firſt, Hence, The Sinai-Covenant or Old Teſtament ought of right to be ranked and reckoned among the Expreſſures or Adminiſtrations of the Covenant of Faith. True Faith in Jeſus Chriſt being thus required by God, and reſtipulated by Iſrael, for keeping and performance of this Covenant, as hath been proved; it's plain, Faith in Chriſt is a ſpecial Condition of this Covenant. And therefore this Covenant adminiſtration at Mount Sinai, muſt needs be a Covenant of Faith, (viz. one of (o) the Covenants of Promiſe before Chriſt); and cannot be a Covenant of Works, as it hath been heretofore too commonly miſ-apprehended. In the Covenant of Works there being no uſe or need at all of Chriſt, or of Faith in Chriſt. One great difference betwixt the Covenant of Works, and the Covenant of Faith, being this; The different Condition required in them: That requiring perfect and perpetual Works in a mans own perſon, This requiring true Faith in Chriſt. From which two oppoſite Conditions, theſe Covenants have their diſtinct Denominations.

Secondly, Hence See in what ſenſe it is ſaid, (p) The Law is not of Faith; but the man that doth them, ſhall live in them. According to the the judgement of ſome, (q) The Meaning is this, The Law doth not preſcribe faith in the Meſsias: neither doth it promiſe life to him that believeth in the Meſsias, but to him that doth the things contained in the Law. In theſe words Paul adds a new Argument to the former, thus; Juſtice is by Faith: The Law is not of Faith: Therefore the Law is not our juſtice. Or again, thus; He that is juſtified, is juſtified by Faith, The Law Juſtifies no man by Faith: therefore the Law doth not juſtifie. But though it be true, That the Apoſtle here ſpeaks of the Law in reference to Juſtification, and in that reſpect here oppoſeth it to the Goſpel; The Law holding forth Juſtification by perfect perſonal doing, The Goſpel by believing in Chriſt: yet this ſeems not fully to clear the Apoſtles meaning, and therefore ſatisfies not. For, I have already proved, That the Law is of Faith, requiring true Faith in Chriſt Jeſus to the Iſraelites keeping or performing of this Evangelical Sinai-Covenant with God. And the Apoſtle (r) oft-times aſſerts juſtification by Faith out of the Law, as adminiſtred by Moſes.

Here therefore, for further clearing the Senſe of theſe words, The Law is not of Faith; we are to diſtinguiſh, of Faith, and of the Law. 1. Faith is twofold, (1) Con-natural, con-created in man in his firſt ſtate of integrity, having for its ſpecial Object God the Creator and Governor of man and of all the world. (2) Supernatural, New-created in mans heart, ſince the fall, by (f) the Spirit of Chriſt, having for its peculiar object God the Redeemer and Saviour of man in Jeſus Chriſt. 2. The Law of God may be Conſidered alſo two ways, viz. (1) More Abſtractedly, As a Meer Covenant of works written in Adam's heart in innocency. (2) More Concretely, As mixt and moulded up with the Goſpel, or Doctrine of Sinners Salvation by Faith in Chriſt Jeſus. And thus the Law was contempered with, intwiſted or woven into the texture or Frame of the Goſpel; Partly, In the Adminiſtration of the Old Teſtament, this Sinai-Covenant, promulged by God (t) Covenant-wiſe, and (u) written in two Tables of Stone. Partly, In the Diſpenſation of the New Teſtament or New Covenant, ſince Chriſt, promiſing the writing of Gods Law in two ſpiritual Tables, the Mind and Heart.

Theſe things premiſed, we may thus Reſolve. 1. If we take the Law More Abſtractedly, as a meer Covenant of works; ſo it is not of Faith Supernatural, but of Faith Connatural. That is, The Law as a meer Covenant of works, though it require Faith in God, as Creator and Preſerver, yet doth it not admit or require Faith in Chriſt as Mediator and Redeemer, the Covenant of works knowing no Redeemer or Mediator, nor conſequently any Faith in a Redemer. And the (x) carnal Jews with the Legal Juſtitiaries, groſsly miſtaking Gods end and meaning in the giving of this Sinai-Covenant, abſtracting it from Chriſt and Faith, and apprehending it as a Covenant of works, ſought for juſtification and life by the works of the Law, ſtumbling ſtumbling at that ſtumbling ſtone. Againſt which miſ-apprehenſion of theirs the Apoſtle ſo much diſputes, in his Epiſtles to the Romans and Galatians, as ſome judge; rather then againſt the Law it ſelf as diſpenſed by Moſes. 2. If we take the Law More Concretely, as Moulded and woven into the very frame of the Goſpel: So the Law is of Faith; that is, requires Faith in Chriſt unto life and juſtification, holding forth juſtification by Faith in Chriſt, both as Diſpenſed from Mount Sinai, and from Mount Sion, in Old and New Teſtament, by Moſes and by Chriſt: yet with this difference The Law at Mount Sinai, requiring faith in Chriſt to come afterwards: The Law from Mount Sion requiring Faith in Chriſt as come already. Theſe diſtinctions judiciouſly underſtood and apply'd, will (I think) unty all Knots of this Nature.

Thirdly, Hence, All that acceptably performed and kept with God this Sinai-Covenant, or Old Teſtament, were true Believers in Jeſus Chriſt the Meſsiah Promiſed. Such Faith God required, and Iſrael reſtipulated in this Covenant in order to the keeping thereof, as hath been evidenced: therefore all that kept it acceptably in the ſight of God, muſt needs be true believers, As Moſes, Aaron, Caleb, Joſhuah, &c. The true inviſible Church of Chriſt was made up of true Believers, under the Old Teſtament as well as under the New.

Fourthly, Hence, Jeſus Chriſt the only true Meſsiah was revealed and offered to Sinners for life and righteouſneſs, as well under the Old Teſtament as under the New. For Faith in Chriſt being required, Chriſt, the pecular Object of that Faith, muſt needs be implyed: Saving Faith and Chriſt being ſuch ſpecial Relatives, one to another. Chriſt then was offered under a veil: but now the veil is done away.

Fifthly, Hence, True Faith in Jeſus Chriſt was a Duty Conditioned, and the oppoſite unbelief A Sin Condemned, under the Old Teſtament as well as under the New. But under the New Teſtament Faith in Chriſt is more plainly, frequently and vehemently preſſed, The diſpenſation of grace being greater: and unbelief is more clearly and ſeverely threatned, The Augmentation of means of Grace adding the greater Aggravation to all contrary Sins.

Sixthly, Hence, All acceptable Covenant-keeping with God was founded upon Ieſus Chriſt under Old Teſtament as well as under the New For, Faith in Chriſt being required to that end, fetches all ability for Covenant-keeping from Chriſt, which abilities are accepted and the infirmities thereof covered and waſhed away, only for and through the bloud of Sprinkling and merit of the Lord Jeſus.

Seventhly, Hence, The Old Teſtament reveals Juſtification by Faith in Ieſus Chriſt the true Meſsiah, as well as the New. God in this Covenant Promiſeth Chriſt, and in him Pardon of Sin and Juſtification, as hath been manifeſted: but requires Iſrael to apprehend prehend and receive this Pardon and Righteousness by believing in Christ. So true is that of (y) Augustine, The same Justification by the Faith of Iesus Christ was given, is given, and shall be given to Believers, before the Law, under the Law, and after the Law.

(y) Iustificatio per fidem Iesu Christi data est datur, & dabitur credentibus. Ante legem, sub lege & post legem, eadem. Augustin.

Secondly, As touching Israels keeping this Covenant with God by Sincere, Entire and Constant Obedience, these things shall be opened briefly for clearing of it, viz. 1. What we are to understand by Sincere, Entire and Constant Obedience. 2. That God required, and Israel restipulated such Obedience for Keeping of this Covenant with God. 3. How and in what notion such Obedience was required in this Sinai-Covenant. 4. What Rule God gave to Israel for such obedience. 5. What Inferences may hence flow.

1. What we are to understand, by Sincere, Entire and Constant obedience. Hereby we may understand, Sincere and Perfect walking before God in all good works unto all well-pleasing in Jesus Christ. And of this (z) I have spoken at large in opening Gods Covenant with Abraham: thither I refer the Reader, for brevity sake, for his Satisfaction.

(z) Book III. Chap. 3. Aphor. 3. Sect. 2.

2. That God required, and Israel Restipulated such Keeping of Covenant with God by Sincere, Entire and Constant Obedience in all good works, may be evidenced variously, viz. 1. On Gods part; and 2 On Israels.

That God on his part required such Obedience from Israel is plain.

(1.) By his affectionate desire of such obedience from them. (a) Oh that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear me, and keep all my Commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever! This pathetical wish or Desire God uttered presently after the Promulgation of his Covenant: wherein The Obedience desired is described, 1. By the Sincerity of it. It must arise, From the Heart; From such an Heart, so seasoned and Qualified with Grace and Principles of true Obedience; And From the Fear of the Lord. 2. By the Entireness or integrity of it: and keep all my Commandments. 3. By the Constancy of it: Always. 4. By the everlasting Benefit thence redounding to them and their posterity: That it might be well with them, and with their children for ever.

(a) Deut. 5. 29.

(2.) By his frequent Commands, requiring such Obedience, Both in the Covenant it self, the ten Commandments; And in the following Explanations of that Covenant. (1) The Sum and Substance of the (b) Covenant is Comprized in the ten words, published on Mount Sinai. And they are all proponnded in a Mandatory way, by way of command. And after they were got over Jordan into the Land of Canaan, (t) ſome fell by the ſword of the Canaanites, becauſe of the accurſed thing that was amongſt them.

By all this its clear, That God in this Covenant required ſuch Obedience from Iſrael for keeping thereof.

That Iſrael alſo on their Part reſtipulated ſuch Obedience to God, is in like manner evident. And this Before, At, and After the Sanction of this Covenant.

(1) Before the Sanction of the Covenant, Exod. 19. 4. to 9. & 20. 19. Deut 5. 27. Exod. 24. 3.

(2) At the solemn Sanction of the Covenant. Moses read the Covenant in the peoples hearing: and they Promise entire Obedience, Exod. 24. 7, 8.

(3) After the Sanction, Deut. 26. 16, 17.

Thus Israel restipulated entire Obedience to God, in order to the keeping of this Covenant.

3. How, and in what Notion, such sincere and entire Constant Obedience was required in this Sinai-Covenant? is next to be opened. This may be Resolved Generally, and Particularly.

Generally, That since entire Constant Obedience is not required in this Sinai-Covenant in a Legal, but in an Evangelical Sense; Not as an exact condition of the Covenant of works, but as an upright Condition of the Covenant of Faith. For, 1. This Covenant at Mount-Sinai was there made and given, not as a Covenant of works, but as a Covenant of Faith: as (u) hath formerly been proved. And, being a Covenant of Faith, it could not formally require the Condition of the Covenant of works, as such. As the Covenant was Evangelical: so the conditioned Obedience was Evangelical also. 2. The Obedience required in this Covenant, is accepted of God, as agreeable to the Covenant, so it be sincere, entire or impartial, and constant; although it be not in every point and degree compleatly accurate and exact. God calls for exactness: accepts uprightness of Obedience; as (x) Moses, (y) David, (z) Paul, and (a) James do not obscurely intimate. But the Obedience required in the Covenant of works, must in every part and degree be accurately exact and Compleat and so continued, else the Covenant is utterly broken, Gal. 3. 10. Deut. 27. 26. 3. The Obedience required in this Covenant (b) was to flow from the supernatural Principle of Heart-Circumcision or true Sanctification: but the Obedience required in the Law as a Covenant of works (c) was to flow from the Principle of Natural integrity wherein man at first was created.

Particularly, sincere, entire and constant Obedience was required in this Sinai-Covenant.

(1) Not as an (d) Antecedent Condition of the Covenant, moving God to enter into Covenant with Israel, or meriting in any sense any such thing from God: But as a Consequent Condition of the Covenant, required by the Covenant from all that accept Gods Covenant.

(2) Not as performable Legally by a mans own meer Natural ability, as it was in the Covenant of works made with all, in the First Adam: But Evangelically, by supernatural ability from Christ, who gives both to will and to do: which ability also this (e) Covenant Promiseth. (f) Evangelical Rules and motives for Obedience to this Law have been already propounded.

(3) Not as opposite to true faith and Grace: as in the Covenant of works, (g) Doing and works, were opposed to Faith and Grace, Adam was was to have life by working in and from himself, not by believing in a Mediator: But as Consequent from, and subservient to Grace and Faith. True Obedience is a consequent fruit or effect of Faith, and Faith is a fruit of divine Grace. How Doing is here required with tendency Faith. See (h) formerly opened.

(4) Not as a Con-cause or joynt-cause with Faith in Justification: for, (i) Christ was the end of the Law for righteousness to every one that believeth, and (k) the Law was our Schoolmaster to bring us to Christ that we may be justified by Faith, and Moses reveals the righteousness of Faith (l) in this Sinai Covenant as Paul evidenceth, and Justification by Faith in Christ excludes Justification by our own works in a proper sense, whereupon the Apostle so plainly affirms, (m) we are justified by Faith without the Deeds of the Law: But as a proper fruit and effect of true Justifying Faith; True justifying Faith being a lively working fruit-bearing Faith, not a dead workless fruitless Faith, as (n) James at large manifesteth. Faith justifies our persons before God, applying Christs righteousness to that end: Obedience sincere entire and constant justifies our Faith before God, ourselves and men, God requiring true obedience from Faith, ourselves & others discerning and discovering truth of Faith by true Obedience. And in this sense that passage of James seems to be understood: (o) But wilt thou know O vain man, that Faith without works is dead? was not Abraham our Father, justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his Son upon the Altar? And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed to him unto righteousness. But this (p) passage, as also that whole Paragraph in James, hath been explained already, Consult the place. To this effect, Good works of all sorts are, by (q) some, said to be necessary to our Continuance in the state of Justification and to our final absolution: not as Instrumental

(p) Book III. Chap. 3. Aph. 5. Quæ. 5.
(q) Faith was the efficient cause of that precious oblation in Abel, of Reverence and preparing the Ark in Noah, of Obedience in Abraham: But it was the Instrument only of their Justification. For it doth not justify as it produceth goodworks, but as it receiveth Christ; though it cannot receive Christ, unless it brings forth good works. A Disposition to good works is necessary to Justification, being the Qualification of a lively and active Faith. Good works of all sorts are necessary to our Continuance in the state of Justification, and so to our final Absolution, if God give opportunity: but they are not the Cause of, but only a precedent Qualification or Condition to final forgiveness and eternal bliss. Mr. Ioh. Ball in his Treat. of the Covenant. Chap. 3. pag. 20. Lond. 1645. And afterwards more fully he speaks to this effect, hinting some ground thereof; The Faith that is lively to embrace mercy is ever conjoyned with an unfeigned purpose to walk in all well pleasing; and the sincere performance of all holy obedience, as opportunity is offered, doth ever attend that Faith whereby we continually lay hold upon the Promises once embraced Actual good works of all sorts (though not perfect in degree) are necessary to the Continuance of actual Justification; because Faith can no longer lay faithful claim to the Promises of life, then it doth virtually or actually lead us forward in the way to Heaven. For if we say we have fellowship with God & walk in darkness, we lie and do not the truth; but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, 1 Ioh. 1. 6, 7. This [walking in the light, as he is in the light] is that Qualification whereby we become immediately capeable of Christs righteousness, or actual participants of his propitiation, which is the sole immediate cause of our justification, taken for Remission of sins, or Actual Approbation with God. The truth of which Doctrine S. Ioha likewise ratifies in terms equivalent, in the words presently following; And the blood of Christ cleanseth us (walking in the light as God is in the light) from all sin. ibid. pag. 1.

Causes of our Justification, but only as precedent Qualifications or conditions of final forgiveneſs and eternal bliſs. Such paſſages had need to be very wiſely and warily underſtood, leſt thereby the minds of any be withdrawn from the pure doctrine of Juſtification by Faith in Ieſus Chriſt.

(5) Finally, Obedience in this Covenant is not required ſo clearly without darkſome types and ſhadows, ſo ſpiritually without Carnal Commandments obſervances and promiſes, nor ſo filially without fear and an heavy yoke of bondage, as in the New Teſtament, wherein all Obedience is urged with greateſt Clearneſs Spiritualneſs and Liberty.

Thus of the ſenſe and Conſiderations in which this Covenant required Iſraels Obedience.

4. What Rule God gave Iſrael for Regulating, Guiding, Bounding and Ordering of their Obedience, which he conditioned for, in this Covenant; comes next to Conſideration.

The Rule of their Covenant-Obedience was the Covenant itſelf. God not only required their Obedience in General, but alſo accurately Deſcribes that Obedience in Particular, in this Covenant: and that in ſuch ſort, as he had never ſet forth mans Obedience to himſelf in any fore-going Covenant. This he did, Generally in his Moral, Ceremonial and Indicial Laws, which were all digeſted into one Covenant, as I have (r) formerly ſhewed: Spiritually and moſt Eminently in his Ten words, or Ten Commandments ſummarily comprehending in them not only all Morals, but alſo Reductively all Ceremonials and Indicials. Hence theſe Ten words are, by way of eminency, ſtiled, Gods Covenant, which (as the Rule of their Obedience, as well as of their Faith) they were Commanded to Perform; (ſ) And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to Perform, even Ten Commandments, and he wrote them upon two Tables of ſtone.

(r) In this fourth Chapter Aph. 2. partic. 11.

(ſ) Deut. 4. 13.

And here, That the Nature of Iſraels Obedience required in this Covenant may be more fully laid open, It will be very proper and ſeaſonable briefly to explain this moſt requiſite and accurate Rule of their Obedience, viz. Their Covenant, the Ten Commandments. Herein I ſhall chiefly intend this thing, viz. To lay down General Rules for underſtanding and obſerving of the whole Covenant, Theſe Ten Commandments; As may be moſt ſuitable to my preſent undertaking for unfolding of Gods Covenants: And as for larger particular explications of Queſtions, Caſes of Conſcience, Common-places, &c. touching the ſame, I refer the Reader to ſuch as have purpoſely Treated of the Ten Commandments: eſpecially to (t) theſe here noted. in the Margin.

General

General Rules, for the right understanding and keeping of the Ten Commandments.

(1) Rule.

THE Sinai-Laws, The Ten Commandments, are very Spiritual. Paul testifies, (u) We know that the Law is Spiritual, but I am carnal; How is the Law Spiritual? Not in Origens sense, The Law is Spiritual, that is, It is not to be understood Literally; but Spiritually in an Allegorical sense. This is a dangerous interpretation, and besides the Apostle's intention. Here Spiritual, is opposed to Carnal. Pareus said well: (x) Its called Spiritual, because it prescribes a Spiritual, that is, an evangelical and Divine integrity to men. The Spirituality of this Law, the Ten Commandments is very eminent; The Author, Matter, Object, and End thereof being all Spiritual. 1. The Author, God: now (y) God is a Spirit. Yea as one saith, (z) He is the most spiritual Spirit. Above all Spirits. But we call him a spirit: because we have not an higher word to express him by. And these Ten Commandments are a most lively character or Expressure of Gods most holy and Righteous will. 2. The Matter is spiritual which is here Commanded viz. (a) Entire Love to God and to our neighbour both elicit and imperate, inwardly conceived and outwardly expressed. Theres an inward spirituality as well as Outward Letter, of Du-ty in every Commandment. 3. The Object is Spiritual about which these Commandments are conversant: viz. The soul and spirit of a man. They reach all the faculties of the Soul, all the affections of the Heart, and all the acts of them: as well as the Body, Senses, Parts, Acts, Words and Gestures thereof. These we must keep with our Spirits as well as with our Bodies. 4. The end is spiritual. That, as the true worshippers, we might worship God in (b) Spirit and Truth, and live Spiritually to him in all Holiness, and Righteousness.

(2) Rule.

THis Law of the Ten Commandments (though laid down throughout by a Synecdoche of the part) is perfect compleat and most Comprehensive. David notably testifies this, (c) The Law of the LORD, that is perfect (d) ——I have seen an end of all Perfection, but thy Commandment is exceeding broad. No perfection here below like the Perfection of Gods Law. Its perfect in, 1 Wisdom, Deut. 4. 5, 6. 2. Righteousness, Deut. 4. 8. Rom. 7. 12. 3. Incomprehensiveness, a perfect discoverer of sin: a perfect Rule of Universal Righteousness towards wards God, man, and ones own self. It is so perfect Extensively and Intensively in every regard, that it (e) obligeth All persons (that come to the knowledge of it) in their whole man, soul and body to be fully conform to all Holiness and Righteousness, for kind and degree therein required, and that at all times even for ever, More Particularly the Perfection and Comprehensiveness of it is evident in these respects. For,

(d) Psal. 119 96.

(e) Rom. 3. 19, 20. Deut. 5. 29. Math 22. 37, 38, 39 & 5. 22. to the end. Iam. 2. 10.

First, When any Duty is Commanded herein, under that General, all Specials, Individuals and all degrees thereof, Outward and inward together with all Causes, Means, Helps, Occasions and Signs thereof, are Commanded also. This Law is so Spiritual and Perfect, that it reacheth not only to all outward Acts in Deed, Word, Gesture, &c. but to all inward acts of heart and Spirit also, requiring the utmost Perfection of every Duty, Outward and Inward, for Parts and Degrees. Thus in the first Commandment, being commanded to have the LORD alone for our God, we are therein commanded also to (f) know him, to acknowledge him, to believe in him, to fear him, to love him with all our Heart, Soul, Minde and Might, &c. To know and accept Christ: that the Lord may be our God in him. To signifie and profess the (g) Faith in God through Christ, and true love and obedience to him: Not smothering Gods graces in us, but sincerely (h) manifesting them for Gods glory, our own satisfaction, and others imitation. We (i) are to provide things honest not only in the sight of God, but of all men. Means useful for furtherance of all Duties, are; 1. The (k) word preached, instructing and encouraging unto Duty. 2. The Sacraments dispensed, obliging to and strengthning for Duty, from our (l) Communion with, and nourishment by Christ therein. 3. Prayer, (m) fetching all ability from God, having no sufficiency of our selves. 4. Good company, (n) Society of Gods people, inciting to love and good works. Such Davids delight. Depart from me ye evil-doers, for I will keep the Commandments of my God, Psal. 19. 115. Thus in the fourth Commandment, The Sabbath is not only to be sanctified, by an outward Holy Rest; but also by all Religious (o) Duties, publikely and privately, Counting the (p) Sabbath a delight, not doing our own waies, nor finding our own pleasure; nor speaking our own words: by Remembring the Sabbath, to prepare for it aforehand that it may be duly Sanctified, &c. Like be said of all other Commands.

Secondly, When any sin is forbidden in any Commandment; Under that General sin expressed, (q) All the specials, sorts, individuals and degrees of that sin, together with all the Causes, Means, Inlets, Occasions, Provocations or Appearances thereof, or fellowship with others therein, are forbidden. Thus in the second Commandment, not only Image-making and worshipping is forbidden: but also all superstitious devices of men, Acts 17. 22. Col. 2. 21, 22, 23. All tolerating of false Religion, Deut. 13. 6. to 12. Zech. 13. 2, 3. Rev. 2. 2, 14, 15, 20. & 17. 12. 16, 17. All contempt or neglect of Gods true worship and and ordinances, &c. Mat. 22. 5. Mal. 1. 7. 13. Exod. 4. 24, 25, 26. Thus in the fifth Commandment, (r) the not relieving of Neceſſitous Parents, under pretence of Gifts to the Temple, is condemned, as a diſhonouring of them. Thus in the ſixth Commandment, (ſ) under the term of Killing and Murder, all Cauſeleſs raſh anger, and like wrathful words or expreſſions are forbidden. Thus in the ſeventh Commandment, (t) under the groſs name and ſin of Adultery, all luſtful looks, and all luſtful thoughts are condemned by our Bleſſed Saviour. Whence we may learn, That we are to count no ſin ſmall.

In reference to theſe two branches of this ſixth Rule, there is a notable paſſage in Peter Martyr, ſaying; (u) Further we muſt obſerve, All the Commandments of God, to command or forbid ſomething. And they Command not only that ſomething be done lightly, but that it be done with all the ſoul, and with all the heart, and with all the ſtrength, and moſt accurately: that there ſhould be nothing at all in us, which ſhould not obey the divine will. And what they forbid, they not only forbid it that it be not done by us: but alſo that there ſhould not be left in us, ſo much as an Affection or propenſion unto it. And therefore God hath ſaid, Thou ſhalt not Covet: that with minde, will, and even all the parts both of ſoul and body we ſhould abhor thoſe things, which God hath prohibited. And thus theſe two Commandments mutually anſwer one another, Thou ſhalt love the LORD thy God with all thy ſoul, with all thine heart, &c. which is to be repeated in all the Precepts Commanding any thing: And the laſt, Thou ſhalt not Covet, which in like ſort is to be underſtood in all things which are forbidden. Wherefore the Energy and (as I may ſay) the Soul of the Law is underſtood to be in theſe two Commandments, as without which the reſt of Gods Commandments cannot be full and perfect.

Thirdly, When any ſin is expreſly forbidden, the Contrary Duty is implicitly commanded: and contrariwiſe, when any Duty is expreſly required, the Contrary ſin is Implicitly prohibited. This flows from the Law of Contraries, which are ſtill to be underſtood by a like parity and proportion of Reaſon. Thus, in the ſixth Commandment, (x) Where the groſs act of Murder, Tongue-Murder and Heart-murder, are forbidden: The contrary preſent Reconcilement to an offended brother, and ſpeedy agreement with an adverſary, is commanded. Thus, in the ſeventh Commandment, (y) not only adulterous acts, adulterous looks, and adulterous thoughts, are forbidden: but the cutting off of all occaſions of ſuch offences, though as dear as right-eye or right hand, is contrariwiſe commanded. So, in the eighth Commandment, (z) As the ſin of ſtealing is forbidden: ſo the contrary Duty of diligent labour, that we may have to give the needy, is Commanded. And ſo, in the third Commandment. (a) As Perjury, Raſh-Swearing, Swearing by Creatures, &c. are forbidden: So the Contrary Duty of true ſober inoffenſive Communication is Commanded. Hence, The Diſtinction of the Commandments into Affirmative, as the fourth and fifth: and Negative, as all the reſt, is not a Diſtinction on of the thing, but of the Manner of expreſſion. Every Affirmative implies his Negative, and every Negative his Affirmative.

Fourthly, When the Duties or Sins of Relatives are commanded or forbidden, the Anſwerable Duties or Sins of Correlatives are commanded or forbidden proportionably. This flows from the Law of Relations and Relatives, which have ſtill a reciprocal reſpect one to another: and cannot conſiſt without one another. Thus in the fifth Commandment, (b) As children muſt honor and obey Father and Mother: So parents are charged not to provoke their children to wrath, but to bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. As (c) Servants muſt obey their Maſters reverently, ſincerely, heartily, willingly: So Maſters muſt do the ſame thing, forbear threatning, give unto them what is right, &c. As (d) wives muſt be ſubject to their husbands, &c. ſo husbands muſt love their wives, &c.

Fifthly, When any Promiſe is expreſſed for well-doing, the Contrary threatning is implyed to the oppoſite evil-doing: and ſo contrariwiſe. Thus, (e) As long life is promiſed to them that honor father and mother: ſo untimely death is threatned to them that mock and deſpiſe their parents. So, (f) As God threatens, not to hold him guiltleſs that taketh his name in vain: on the other hand, he promiſeth to him a place in his Church Militant and Triumphant that honoreth and reverently uſeth his Name. And in the ſecond Commandment, (g) both the Promiſe to pure worſhippers, and the threatning to falſe idolatrous worſhippers, are expreſſed.

Sixthly, What is commanded or forbidden to our ſelves in our places, we are obliged in our place and calling to endeavour that it may be performed, or forborn by others according to the Duty of their places and callings. Thus (h) Governors of Families muſt not only Sanctifie the Sabbath themſelves: but alſo take care that their children, ſervants, and ſtrangers within their gates Sanctifie it alſo. (i) Parents and Magiſtrates muſt not only worſhip and ſerve the true God only themſelves: but take care that their Families and Subjects do the like with them. Chriſtians, as they muſt not ſuffer ſin upon themſelves: nor muſt they (k) ſuffer it upon their brethren without due reproof.

Seventhly, According to our Places and Callings, we ſhould help others to perform their Duties commanded them: and avoid all fellowſhip in their ſins forbidden them. Thus, Miniſters ſhould miniſterially (l) be helpers of the peoples joy, graces and gracious exerciſes; and People ſhould (m) edifie and comfort one another, provoking each other to love and good works, &c. Thus alſo Miniſters ſhould be ſingularly vigilant againſt all partaking in other mens ſins, either (n) by laying hands ſuddenly upon any unworthy perſons deſiring ordination, or (o) by any miſcarriage in Doctrine or Converſation in their Miniſterial Courſe, to the Spiritual corrupting of the flock: And in like ſort, Every of the people ſhould ſtudiouſly eſchew all (p) fellowſhip with the unfruitful works of darkneſs in any, but rather reprove them:

We

We must neither be Principals, nor ([q]) Accessories in Sinning. Actors and Consenters are alike guilty and ([r]) punishable.

Now, because, The guilt of other Sins may be contracted upon our own Consciences Many ways; And the clearing of this will add much light and furtherance to the due Knowing and Observing of all the Commandments: here I shall briefly explain this Partnership in Sin. We are in danger of having fellowship with others in their Sins, chiefly three ways, viz. Before, In, After the Sin. I. Before, In Breeding the Sins of others. As, 1. By Permitting others sins to be, which Might and ought to be prevented. ([f]) He that can, and ought, and yet will not, hinder others sins: in effect commands them, and partakes of them. As, ([t]) Magistrates; ([u]) Ministers; ([x]) Parents: especially are apt to do. 2. By becoming Patterns or Examples in Sin, before others. And the more Eminent any person is: the more dangerous will be his evill example, 1 Sam. 2. 12. to 18. Gal. 2. 11, 12, 13. 3. By ([y]) Provoking and inciting unto sin, ([1]) Through insinuating allurements, Prov. 1. 10, &c. & 7. 10, *&c. As Instruments, 1 Sam. 22. 18, 19. 2 Sam 11. 15, 16, 17. Dan. 3. 20, 21, 22. Matth. 2. 16. 2. As Consenters to the act of sin, Act. 8. 1. with 22. 20. Such Consent is declared, ([1]) By Symbolizing Actions. Saul shewed his Consent to Stevens Death, by keeping the Rayment of them that slew him, Act. 22. 20. By all these Instances the admirable Perfection and Comprehensiveness of this Law of the ten Commandments both extensively and Intensively, is very evident. So that though the words be few, the Sense is much. And all the Commandments are laid down by God, and are to be understood of us, (b) By a Synechdoche of the part for the whole; without which consideration we shall never reach the sense of the Decalogue. Which Synechdoche we shall best understand, by observing diligently the particular intent and scope of every several Commandment.

(b) In omnibus Præceptis Decalogi Synechdochen esse agnoscendam; qua specie unâ propositâ, intelliguntur omnes sub eodem Genere: & externa actione imperatâ, intelligitur etiam interna: similiter in prohibitionibus. Id probat ipsa Legislatoris Natura, qui non tam actionem externam, quam Cordis puritatem requirit, &c And Rivet Explic. Decal. in Exod. 20.1. pag. 6. Lugd. 1637. *Hen. Aisted. in Theol. (3) Rule.

These ten Commandments are clearly and perfectly distinct one from another, in respect of the Matters or Doctrines therein comprized. But they are so nearly linked together, and so inseparably depending one upon another, in respect of Practise, that no one can be perfectly obeyed, unless all be obeyed, and (c) he that breaks one Commandment, transgresseth the whole Law. As he that breaks but one link of a gold-chain, breaks the whole chain. Thus, a man cannot prophane the Sabbath, but in so doing He contemns the Lord his God, contrary to the first Commandment: He despiseth Gods true worship, contrary to the second Commandment: and he takes Gods name in vain, not reverencing his Authority and Ordinances aright, contrary to the third Commandment.

(c) Deut. 27. 26. Gal. 3. 10. Iam 2,10,11.

(4) Rule.

The Commandments and obedience of the first Table, have a singular Preheminence and Predominancy over the Commandments and obedience of the second Table. That is, 1. Where the Obedience of both cannot at once stand together, Our obedience to the Commands of the Second Table must give place to our obedience to the Commands of the First Table. The lesser Commandment must give way to the greater and weightier. Because, The First Table hath immediate reference to God, The Second hath immediate respect to our neighbour. And we are to love our neighbour for God, not God for our neighbour: our love to God is the ground of our love to our neighbour, 1 Ioh. 4.20.

4.20. & 5.1,2. Our love to our neighbour a Teſtimony of our love to God, Rom. 13.8, &c. So that the firſt Table is of greater dignity, and hath a nobler End; the End of the ſecond Table being regulated by it. The Duties of the Firſt Table are more excellent, and the breaches of it more grievous, 1 Sam. 2. 25. whereupon (as ([d]) Peter Martyr obſerves) Luther in his Catechiſm did prudently repeat the end of the firſt Table to every Precept of the ſecond, thus; Becauſe God is to be beloved with all thine heart, and all thy ſoul, Thou ſhalt not Kill: Becauſe God is to be loved with all thine heart, and all thy ſoul, Thou ſhalt not commit adultery, &c. Beſides, The Duties of the ſecond Table are not ſo durable as thoſe of the firſt. As Luther ſaid, well; ([e]) What is the Second Table without the firſt? For the ſecond Table is of ſhort time, Parents ceaſe, Our bodies, wife, children, houſhold, poſſeſſions ceaſe: but the Matters of the Firſt Table ſhall not ceaſe. Thus Chriſt teacheth; ([f]) that Father, Mother, Wife, Children, Brethren, Siſters, yea and a mans own life is to be hated, for Chriſt, that we may be his diſciples; that is, when both cannot be loved together, when theſe come into oppoſition againſt Chriſt, or Competition with Chriſt. So Inferiors are to obey their Parents and Superiors: ([g]) but only in the Lord. Therefore when Superiors Command any thing which is Contrary to the Lord, As when the Iewiſh Rulers ([h]) forbad the Apoſtles to preach any more in the Name of Chriſt, when Chriſt had commanded them ſo to preach; when ([i]) Nebuchadnezzar Commanded the three Iews to worſhip his idolatrous golden image, which was Contrary to Gods Command; when ([k]) Darius had made a Decree, that whoſoever ſhould ask any thing of God or man for thirty days, except of himſelf, ſhould be caſt into the Den of Lyons, which was contrary to the Duty of Gods daily worſhip by him required, &c. In ſuch caſes, It is juſt in the ſight of God to hearken unto God, rather then to man. For the Obedience of the ſecond Table muſt not be Oppoſite, but Subordinate to the Obedience of the Firſt Table. 2. But notwithſtanding, The Ceremonials and Poſitive Commandments of the Firſt Table, yield to the Morals of the Second Table. And this, Becauſe ([l]) God will have Mercy, and not Sacrifice: that is, Rather Mercy then Sacrifice, when both cannot ſtand together. Thus, To ([m]) feed the hungry and thirſty, though an enemy, is a Moral Duty of the 2nd Table: That ([n]) Prieſts only ſhould eat the Shew-bread, was a Ceremonial pertaining to the Firſt Table: yet David, in his hunger and neceſſity, did eat the Shew-bread, The Things Conſecrated ſhould not be converted to common uſe, was a ([o]) Ceremonial pertaining to the firſt Table: The Subjects arming and aſſiſting the chief Magiſtrate in caſe of neceſſity is a Moral of the ſecond Table: Hereupon ([p]) Abimelech the Prieſt armed David, the chief Captain of King Sauls Army, in his neceſſity, with Goliah's ſword, though conſecrated. So, the Sanctifying of the ([q]) Seventh day Sabbath by reſting from ſervile work therein, was a Poſitively Moral Commandment of the Firſt Table: Preſervation of life, by

THe Firſt Commandment, and the Obedience thereof, muſt be the Ground and End of Obedience to all the reſt of the Commandments. This Commandment muſt give light to the whole Decalogue. For, we muſt perform all the reſt, from the true Faith and love which we have to God, and the ſincere affection which we bear to his worſhip: elſe all we do is but hypocriſie. And we muſt do all (u) for God, and for his Glory, as the Apoſtle directs; elſe all we do is Self-ſeeking. (x) For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things. All true obedience to every other Commandment muſt be, From God, as the Principal Motive; and For God, as the ultimate End. Hence Luther notably; (y) All flow from that great Ocean of the Firſt Commandment, and flow back into it again, &c.—— *The Firſt Commandment contains in it all the reſt. As the General End and Scope of this Law of the ten Commandments, directs to the true Sense and right use of this whole Law: So the Particular immediate end of every Commandment, leads to the right Sense and use of that individual Commandment. 1. The General and Great End of the whole, is Jesus Christ promised under Types and Figures, together with life and righteousness by him through Faith, for Sinners: As hath been evinced. Hence, This is (z) a Law of Faith, not of works: Is to be expounded Evangelically, not Legally: And, so far as not peculiarly restrained, to that people, to that Administration, and those times, remains of use to Christians now under the New Testament. So that this is, The Key of the Interpretation: which some not duly considering, have involved themselves and their Readers into many intricate puzling doubts and difficulties: yea have engaged themselves in inevitable and yet unsufferable Errors. 2. The Particular Scope of every Particular Commandment, clearly observed, tends accurately to distinguish Commandment from Commandment, to describe the distinct sense of every one of them, and their harmonious Connexion and dependance one upon another. The peculiar Scope of each Commandment, See in the (a) Analitical Table of the Decalogue formerly propounded, and then judge of the Sense of every Commandment.

(7) Rule.

Inward worship of God is simply and always necessary, and by it self is acceptable to God in Jesus Christ: Outward worship is not simply and always necessary, nor doth it please God by it self, but as it ariseth from inward worship, and as it is not repugnant to the Glory of God, and love of our neighbour. We must distinguish betwixt Inward and Outward worship. The inward worship of God, by knowing him, believing in him, loving him, fearing him, &c. By performance of outward worship, with sincerity, integrity, and spiritualness of Heart, By inward and upright reverence of heart to his Name, By inward delighting in his Sabbaths, &c. is simply and always necessary, admits of no Dispensation, and highly pleaseth God, who cals for the (b) Heart and Spirit. This the Life and Soul of all worship. Outward worship publique or private is not always necessary; A Christian need not always be hearing, always praying, &c. but in their seasons: and the most Eminent seasons of outward worship admit of dispensations. A man may leave the outward worship, To defend himself against Enemies, to Quench a sudden fire, &c. And (c) no outward worship can please God, without the inward: being meer hypocrisie; and so, extreamly abhorred of God, Ye Hypocrites, well did Isaiah Prophesie of you, saying; This people draweth

The Duties herein commanded are Perpetual, to be practiſed as the Lord gives Opportunity and calleth thereunto: But all ſins here forbidden are to be declined, and that both always, and at all times. What Good the Lord Commands in any of theſe precepts, is (d) always our Duty, (as To Sanctifie his Sabbath-day, To honour ſuperiors;) yet ſuch Duty is not to be acted or done at all times, (works of (e) Neceſsity and of Charity diſpenſe with the Sanctification of the Sabbath, and the office of Magiſtracy or Miniſtry may ſometimes ſuſpend the Duties of the fifth Commandment): But what Evil the Lord forbids (f) is at no time to be acted, no not upon any pretence whatſoever of obtaining the greateſt Good. Circumſtances may ſometimes ſo diſpenſe with Duties required, that they may be omitted: but no Circumſtances can render evil forbidden, lawful to be acted. One and the ſame Duty or Sin may be commanded or forbidden in ſeveral Commandments, under ſeveral reſpects and Conſiderations. This is the rather to be noted, that ſo the preciſe bounds and proper limits of every Commandment may be preſerved diſtinct and entire, though commanding or forbidding the ſame things, whilſt it is upon different grounds, and for different Ends. Thus, Idleneſs is forbidden; In the fourth Commandment, As (h) Contrary to the Sanctification of the Sabbath by religious exerciſes, The Idlemans Sabbath being but Sabbathum Aſinorum, The Aſſes Sabbath, for by bare Reſt and Idleneſs an Aſs may keep the Sabbath as well as he; In the ſeventh Commandment, As an (i) Occaſion of luſt and incontinency; and In the eighth Commandment, As an (k) Occaſion of beggery, want, &c. which induce men unto ſtealing. Thus, Covetouſneſs is forbidden; In the Firſt Commandment, As (l) occaſioning error from the faith of God, and as Idolatry with the Creature; In the fourth Commandment, as (m) weary of the Sabbath, and diſtracting the heart in Sabbath-imployments; In the ſixth Commandment, as (n) Deſtructive to mans life; And In the laſt Commandment, As (o) oppoſite to true Contentment. Thus Lying, falſe Teſtimony, and Perjury are forbidden; In the third Commandment, As taking the name of God in vain; In the ſixth Commandment, As unjuſt means of deſtroying our neighbours life;

And to these ten words learned writers Reduce all Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials. Thus Calvin (r) by way of Harmony, Ranks all these in the Books of Moses after the Promulgation of the Law, to these ten Words, and so expounds them. And (s) Cartwright refers, in a Table on purpose, all the Proverbs or Moral Aphorisms of Solomon, to the ten Commandments. It is to like effect noted by some of the Jewish Rabbins, (t) That the Manner of the Hebrew writing in the Decalogue is somewhat singular; one and the same word having oft-times three Accents: and this they suppose to be done, because Mountains of Sentences do hang upon the Decalogue: 2. That, The ten Commandments were given in this latitude, and that, not Absolutely as a Law, but Relatively as a Covenant; (u) hath also been sufficiently cleared heretofore by many Arguments. more powerfully Divorced from themselves, Conducted to Christ, and Directed in Christ. This Rule flows necessarily from the former. For, if this Covenant were such a Covenant of Faith, intending Justification and Life by believing in Christ: Consequently Jesus Christ, and Sinners Life by him, must needs be the chief more immediate End and Scope of this Covenant. As Justification by a mans own Doing, is the end of the Covenant of Works: So Justification by Christ, and believing in him, is the end of the Covenant of Faith. In this Rule Note, 1. The chief immediate End and Scope of this Covenant; viz. Christ and life by him for Sinners, through Faith. 2. Gods Contrivance of this Covenants Administration in such sort, as might most effectually attain this End: viz. Therein (1) Requiring Obedience most exactly; (2) Discovering of Sin most Compleatly; (3) Denouncing of wrath for sin most severely; That thus by the clear view of their Sin and Misery they might be driven out of themselves, and from all Self-Confidence, unto Christ alone by Faith for life and righteousness, and might also be directed as by an exact Gospel-Rule how to walk with Christ in all integrity. But all these particulars (z) have in effect been sufficiently spoken to before, though not in this very order. See there, The mysteriousness of this dispensation unfolded.

HEnce, Though this Covenant of the ten Commandments doth command duty, and forbid sin most exactly: yet it accepts Sincerity and Integrity in and through Jesus Christ, both in doing of good and eschewing of evil. This flows from the two last foregoing Rules. This Rule must needs stand. For, 1. If exactness were not required, the Highest degrees of performance were not Duty; the least contrary faylings were not sin: those were not to be endeavoured, nor these to be avoided. If integrity herein were not accepted in Christ: no obedience of believers since the fall could be accepted, for none, not the best can be exact; nor should this be a Covenant of Faith, wherein God is Merciful to his people, transgressions and failings, but a rigorous Covenant of Works. But this is contrary to what hath been already proved. 2. Under this Old Testament, David (a) had many failings, but they are passed by, and his uprightness is accepted. Asa also (b) had his miscarriages, yet they are covered, and his constant integrity commended. Israel had many and grievous sins upon them, especially Idolatry in the Calf of Aaron, and unbelief with murmuring against the Promised land: For that, (c) God threatned to with-draw his presence from Israel; For this, (d) God destroyed all that present generation in the Wilderness, except two persons, that they should never enter into Canaan. Notwithstanding, In the former case, God endeavours, both by denying his Presence, and removing the Taber-

Hence, This Covenant of Faith in Christ the Ten Commandments, is to be expounded by the word of Christ: viz. By the Sacred and divinely inspired Writings of Moses, The Prophets, Apostles, and of other Holy Pen-men of Holy Scriptures. The whole Scriptures are stiled, (m) the word of Christ. And deservedly: for, 1. Christ is the Author of them from the Father, Revealing and inditing them by his own Spirit. Christ is the essential word: by him the Father speaks his will to his Church. Christ is the great Prophet, revealing the Father and his will savingly unto us. 2. Christ is the chief Subject-matter of the Scriptures. All the Scriptures are the sacred Swadling-cloaths of this blessed child Jesus. 3. Christ is the end of them all. Therefore this Covenant of the Ten Commandments (being a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ, which is the compendious Mysterie of the whole Scriptures revealed since the Fall) is to be explained by the whole word of Christ in Old or New Testament: revealed since this Covenant was established. All the Ceremonials explain the First Table, All the Judicials the Second Table, All the Morals both the Tables, All the ensuing Scriptures are one way or other Comments upon these most wise (n) Holy and Righteous and Good Commandments. The Ten Commandments are these Scriptures contracted: These Scriptures are the Ten Commandments enlarged. These (o) Ten Commandments are (as *Pet. Firſt, That, the chief ſtreſs of Conditions, expreſly required from Iſrael to the Keeping of this Sinai-Covenant, conſiſted in Obeying or Doing. True Faith in Chriſt was more Implicitly required from Iſrael, as hath been already cleared: and True Repentance was alſo more ſparingly enjoyned them, as ſhall after be ſhewed. But the main ſtreſs of Conditions expreſly required, ſtood in Obeying and Doing. It is very obſervable, (1) That, Obedience was the (r) chief matter hinted by God to Iſrael, and conſented unto by Iſrael in his Introductory Preparation of Iſrael for this Covenant. (2) That, Obedience was the chief thing, which God (s) expreſly called for in Promulgation of this Covenant of the Ten Commandments: every Commandment preſſing them to many diſtinct Acts of Obedience: and which Iſrael, then extreamly terrified, did (t) Promiſe to God. (3) That, Obedience was the Principal Duty (u) which God required and Iſrael reſtipulated expreſly in that ſolemn Sanction of the Covenant afterwards. (4) That, Obedience was that Fœderal Duty which God moſt frequently and moſt expreſly urged upon Iſrael both by Moſes and the Prophets, in all their Explanations of this Covenant, during the

the whole Old Testament: As every one that is but slenderly acquainted with Moses and the Prophets may easily discern with half an eye. (5) That the main strength of all Gods (x) Promises and Threats laid down afterwards in the whole Old Testament writings, tend most fully and expressly to Encourage Israel to such Obedience, and to deter them from the Contrary Disobedience. (6) That, the (y) Mercies conferred and judgements inflicted, upon Israel, had Principal and special reference to their Obedience or Disobedience. So that, it is very clear, The chief current and stream of Conditions required from Israel in this Covenant did most plainly and fully run in this channel of Obeying and Doing.

But why did the Lord, in this Sinai-Covenant, thus press upon Israel, Obeying and Doing, more then Believing: seeing Believing is a more necessary and excellent Duty? Answ. The Lord seems to have done this, in his infinite wisdom and goodness, for these Reasons, 1. Because, The full and compleat Reavealing of the Doctrine of Believing in Jesus Christ was reserved till the actual exhibition of Jesus Christ in our flesh. (z) But before faith came (that is, before the Doctrine of Faith in Christ came, fully and compleatly: for, more imperfectly, it came and was revealed to Israel, to Abraham, to Noah, to Adam) we were kept under the Law, shut up unto the Faith, which should afterwards be revealed. Faith in Christ was revealed even by the Law, as hath been shewed; but so obscurely and imperfectly in comparison of the after-Revelation thereof under the New Testament, that till the New Testament, faith in Christ seemed as it were not to be revealed at all. Hereupon God urged Faith the less: but Obedience and Doing so much the more, not to shut them out from, but to shut them up to, The Faith, which should afterwards be revealed; that so they might still be necessitated to, and kept in, the way of Faith in Christ. But now Christ being already come, Obedience is insisted upon so much the less: and Faith in Christ is urged so much the more under the New Testament. 2. Because, Naturally Man is more capable of, and disposed to, Doing, then to Believing in Christ. For even in corrupted Nature there are some Principles of Obeying and Doing, which remain; whereupon even (a) Pagans do by nature the things contained in the Law: But, neither in Upright Nature before the fall, nor in Corrupt Nature after the Fall, are there any prints or Principles at all of Believing in Jesus Christ: Faith in Christ being in no degree Natural, but wholly Supernatual. Besides, Believing doth (b) utterly empty a man of himself, totally denude him, strip him, and take him off his own bottom, leaving him nothing at all to boast of, or rest upon in himself, in reference to Salvation: and this makes flesh and blood so averse to believing in Christ. But Doing seems to have some foundation in Nature. The Lord therefore in this Covenant, Guides and directs Israel in right Doing, and that from Faith, That their Obedience might be acceptable. 3. Israel was a people very dull of understanding and ap-apprehenſion in Spirituals, as (c) a childe under age, during the whole time of the old Teſtament, and their Infant-time was at Gods making this Covenant of the Ten Commandments with them. Hereupon God urged upon them the more eaſie and familiar work of Doing, abundantly: but the more intricate and ſtrange work of Believing, very ſparingly. 4. Iſrael was a people extreamly prone to backſliding and defection from God by Idolatry: God therefore abounds in his Commands of Obedience to them, that ſo filling their hands full of all ſorts of Obeying and Doing, they might be the leſs expoſed to temptations and ſolicitations of departing from him. Want of full imployment, leaves active ſpirits too open unto Temptations to ill imployment. 5. Finally, In this Covenant God required ſuch obedience as did incomparably ſurpaſs all obedience required in all falſe Religions: that thereby he might endear the hearts of Iſrael to the conſtant love and eſteem of his true Religion alone above them all.

(c) Gal. 4. 1, 2.

Secondly, That Iſraels Sincere, Entire and Conſtant Obedience to God, was Covenant-keeping; their Contrary Diſobedience, was Covenant-breaking with God. The Conditions and Fœderal terms (which are the ſtrength of the Covenant) performed, or neglected: The Covenant it ſelf is proportionably kept or violated. And thus God interprets Iſraels (d) Obedience, or (e) Diſobedience. Its true, their Unbelief and Impenitency were Covenant-breaking as well as their diſobedience, their Faith and Repentance were Covenant-keeping as well as their Obedience: but (yet the ſtreſs of their Covenant-Conditions being laid upon their Obeying and Doing) their Covenant-keeping or breaking was more emphatically imputed to their Obedience or Diſobedience, throughout all the Old Teſtament.

(d) Exod. 19. 5. Deut. 4. 13. Ier. 11. 3, 4.
(e) Deut. 17. 2, 3. Ier. 31. 32.

Thirdly, That Hence, Iſraels Obedience was ſo acceptable to God, and their Diſobedience ſo abominable: Their Obedience being more expreſly Conditioned, and more frequently required, then any other Condition whatſoever. 1. The acceptableneſs of their Covenant-Obedience unto God, appears illuſtriouſly in that: (1) He (f) Commanded it, and called for it, frequently. (2) He (g) wiſhed and deſired it moſt affectionately. (3) He made many ſweet and precious (h) Promiſes not only of Temporals, but alſo of Spirituals and Eternals, to encourage them to obedience. (4) He heaped many ſhowers of bleſſings and Mercies upon them, and all to engage and Hire them to Obedience. Hence (i) David, having recited a large Catalogue of Gods favours to Iſrael, declares this to be the end and ſcope intended by God therein, That they might obſerve his Statutes and keep his Laws. 2. The Abominableneſs of their contrary Diſobedience appears alſo moſt evidently, in that: (1) He diſallowed, (k) forbad and condemned the ſame abundantly. (2) He (l) aggravated their diſobedience variouſly and extreamly. (3) He thundred out againſt it very many and ſevere (m) Threatnings. (4) He inflicted upon them for it many heavy and dreadful (n) Judgements.

Fourthly

Fourthly, That Iſrael came far ſhort of performing their Covenanted obedience to God. Sincere, Entire and Conſtant Obedience was reſtipulated by them: but how foully and frequently did they fail therein! Their frailty, weakneſs, yea wickedneſs contrary to Gods Covenant is teſtified by many witneſſes. As, 1. By Moſes. He clared their great failings and rebellions at (o) Horeb in the abominable idolatrous calf that Aaron made, whereby they did ſpeedily break Covenant with God in a moſt groſs manner. Whereupon he tels them: (p) —— Thou art a ſtiff-necked people. Remember, forget not how thou provokedſt the LORD thy God to wrath in the wilderneſs: from the day that thou didſt depart out of the land of Egypt, until ye came unto this place, ye have been rebellious againſt the LORD. And having (q) upbraided them for their rebellions at Horeb, Taberah, Maſſah, Kibroth-Hattaavah, and Kadeſh-Barnea, he thus concludes; you have been rebellious againſt the LORD, from the Day that I knew you. He recited their eight notorious murmurings in their journeys all along. As (r) At Taberah, for the (s) irkſomeneſs of their journey. (2) At Kibroth Hattaavah, for (t) fleſh. (3) The murmuring of Aaron and Miriam at Moſes becauſe of the (u) Ethiopian woman which he had married. (4) At Kadeſh Barnea, againſt the (x) Promiſed land, upon the report of the evil Spies. (5) The murmuring of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, and their followers, (y) againſt Moſes and Aaron. (6) The peoples murmurring at Moſes for the (z) Death of the people about the matter of Korah. (7) In the deſart of Zin, (a) for water at Maſſah (8) Their murmuring as they compaſſed the land of Edom, (b) at their diſcouraging way, light-bread, and want of water. He ſtoried their odious whoredoms, viz. Their (c) Corporal whoredoms with the daughters of Moab: and their Spiritual whoredoms with the idols of Moab, how Iſrael joyned themſelves to Baal-Peor. He Prophecyed alſo (d) of Iſraels future rebellions and idolatries which they would run into after his death when they ſhould be poſſeſſed of the Land of Canaan: and by Gods appointment wrote a Song touching the ſame as a Memorial againſt them to all ſucceeding generations. 2. By the Pſalmiſt, who in divers (e) Pſalms recapitulates the diſobedient and rebellious carriages of Iſrael in the wilderneſs and in Canaan: aggravating them exceedingly by the contrary gracious carriages of God towards them. 3. By Daniel, (f) confeſſing his own and their ſins. 4. By Ezra, (g) bewailing their promiſcuous joyning in affinity with the idolatrous Canaanites. 5. By the godly and prudent Levites, who in their ſolemn day of Humiliation, (h) confeſs Gods mercies, and Iſraels ſins againſt all thoſe Mercies both in the Wilderneſs, and in Canaan. 6. By the Angelical Proto-Martyr Steven; (i) Who, in his zealous and pithy Sermon, having hiſtorically declared Gods manifold goodneſs to Abraham and his Seed till the Covenant at Mount Sinai, afterwards recites (k) their foul idolatrous defection from God in the wilderneſs; and their Perſecutions of Gods Prophets, and murdering dering of Christ in the promised Land. 7. By the Apostle Paul, (k) Recording both their Mercies from God, and their Rebellions against God, and those his mercies in the wilderness, as also Gods judgements upon them for those rebellions. Who tels us; Now all these things happened unto them for Types, and they are written for our Admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come. And it is noted by some, (l) That as Israels sins in the wilderneß were many: so all sorts and degrees amongst them sinned and failed in their Obedience: and were accordingly very severely chastized.

(k) 1 Cor. 10. 1. to 13.

(l) The sins which they committed in the wilderness were many and great. As open Idolatry by the Calf at Horeb, Exod. 32. and with Baal-Peor; Numb. 25. Unbelief at Kadesh, Numb. 14. and afterwards presumptuous boldness in the same place; Murmurings against God sundry times, with Tempting of Christ (as the Apostle speaketh, 1 Cor. 10.) Contention and Rebellion against their Governors often. Lusting for flesh to fill their appetite; And loathing Manna the heavenly food. Whoredom with the daughters of Moab, and sundry the like: that this Complaint is after made of them; How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert! Psal. 78. 40. All sorts of persons sinned against God; The multitude of people very often. The mixt multitude of strangers among them. Numb. 11. The Princes; As, the ten spies, Dathan, Abiram, &c. The Levites; as, Korah and his Company. Mary the Prophetess, Numb. 12. Aaron the Priest, with her: beside his sin at Horeb, Exod. 32. and at the water of Meribah, Numb. 20. Moses also himself at the same place, for which he could not come into the land of Canaan, The Punishments laid on them by the Lord for their disobedience were many, &c. H. Ainsworth in his Annot. on Numb. 33. 49.

By these many and gross failings of Israel in their Covenanted Obedience, which was so eminently Covenanted by them, we may learn; 1. That the Performances of Gods people do oft come short of their Promises: Their works of their wills: Their deeds of their desires. (m) To will is present with me, said Paul; but how to perform I finde not. 2. That (n) He who thinks he stands fastest in Obedience and Well-doing, had need to take heed lest he fall. If Israel that had Covenanted such Obedience to God, yet so grosly and frequently failed: who may not justly fear! Their lapses and falls are recorded for our admonition and caution upon whom the ends of the world are come. They fall, that we might be kept from falling. 3. To call to minde and lay to heart our own failings in Covenanted Obedience to God, upon consideration here of Israels disobediences. Which of Israels rebellions, hath not England paralelled by like rebellions? yea Englands rebellions have exceeded Israels, in that they have rebelled against the New-Covenant, which is more clear, spiritual, effectual, compleat, comfortable, continuing, and every way excelling Gods Old Covenant with Israel.

(n) 1 Cor. 10. 11, 12.

Fifthly, That the Obedience required to the Keeping of this Covenant, was purely Evangelical. For, as hath been explained; 1. The fountain of this Obedience was to be true Faith in Jesus Christ: without which no obedience can be acceptable to God as hath been shewed touching Keeping this Covenant by Faith. And (o) Faith in Christ is an Evangelical root of Obedience. 2. The Properties of this Obedience, (p) Sincerity, (q) Integrity, and (r) Constancy, are Evangelical Properties required in all true Gospel-Obedience. 3. The Notion or Consideration in which Obedience was required of Israel, viz. Not as an Antecedent, but as a Consequent Condition of the the Covenant; Not as performable from our own, but from Christs ability; not as opposite, but subservient to Grace and Faith; Not as a Con-cause, with Faith, of our Justification, but as a fruit or effect of Justifying Faith: I say, this Notion or Consideration of Obedience is also plainly Evangelical. So that the Obedience of Israel in the General and for the substance of it was, as ours is, Evangelical: and The Old Testament was Gospel, as well as the New.

Sixthly, That, Israels Obedience for keeping this Sinai-Covenant, was not to be Israels righteousness before God. This follows also upon the former: for Israels Obedience being purely Evangelical: it is an effect of true Justifying Faith, evidencing and demonstrating (f) the truth and life thereof: but, neither the Matter of their Righteousness, as perfect personal Obedience once was the Matter of mans righteousness, under the Covenant of works in innocency: Nor the Instrumental Mean of their Justification, which is (t) Faiths sole prerogative.

(f) Ism. 2, 14. to the end.

(t) Rom. 3. 20. to the end. Gal. 2, 16 &c.

Seventhly, That, Exactness of Obedience was imposed upon Israel by this Covenant, with much sweetness and Comfortableness. Not with such rigour as upon Adam in innocency, when the least failing was an utter breach of Covenant under pain of death without mercy: but with such Evangelical Moderation and sweetness, that though Exactness be required, yet uprightness is accepted through Faith in Jesus Christ, and all failings covered and pardoned in him. And therefore this Covenant was an easie yoke in comparison of the Covenant of works, as to the Substance of Obedience in the General: though in regard of the Particular imposition of Ceremonies, it was (u) a yoke which the Jews were at last not able to bear. All which being done away in Christ, (x) Christs New Testament-yoke is easie, and his burden light.

(u) Acts 15. 10.

(x) Mat. 11. 28, 29, 30.

Thus of Israels second Covenant-Condition, viz. To Keep Covenant with God by true Faith in Christ, and Sincere entire constant Obedience.

III. Lastly, To repent and return again to the Lord their God, in case of any failing, either in being his Covenant-people, or in keeping his Covenant by true Faith and Obedience. This the last condition at least implicitly imposed upon, and restipulated by Israel in this Covenant. For clearing of which, note: 1. What Repentance is. 2. That God in this Covenant Conditioned with Israel to repent in case of any failings or miscarriages against this Holy Covenant. 3. Inferences hence resulting.

1. What Repentance is. Omitting the Denominations or several Names given to Repentance both in Old and New Testament: as also the Synonimous expressions and phrases whereby the Holy-Ghost sets it forth with great variety, All which would add much light and lustre to Repentance, were the Common-place of Repentance here to be handled, (which is besides my intention:) I say omitting these for brevity sake, Consider we, 1. The Sorts. 2. The Nature of Repentance, tance so far as seems necessary for opening this Covenant-Condition of Israels Repentance.

(1) The Sorts of Repentance are many and various: But Sinners Repentance towards God, is principally of two sorts, viz. 1. More General and Common both to Elect and Reprobate persons, viz. A Repentance, arising from the Knowledge and Faith of God the Creator's omnipotency, (sometimes manifesting it self even in the vertues and Miracles of Christ,) and from fear of Punishments: whereby the heart is smitten with some kind of remorse and grief for sin: and some Outward expressions or Testifications thereof are made, as by confessing sin, humbling for sin with weeping, Fasting, Sackcloth, Ashes, &c. Thus (y) Ahab repented: thus (z) Nineveh repented; thus (a) Judas repented; and thus Christ saith (b) Tyre and Sidon would long ago have repented in Sackcloth and ashes, if the mighty works had been done in them, which were done in Chorazin and Bethsaida. This sort of repentance (as (c) some acutely learned judge) is required before saving Faith in Christ, and sometimes exists without subsequent Faith in Christ, and is clearly distinguished from it, as, (d) Repent ye, and believe the Gospel. (e) —— Testifying Repentance towards God, and Faith in Jesus Christ. (f) —— Not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of Faith towards God. And this Repentance is (g) prævious and preparatory to the other Repentance and unto Faith; whereupon some call this, Pœnitentiam Primam, The first Repentance: the other, Pœnitentiam Secundam, The Second Repentance. 2. More special and peculiar to Gods Elect only, viz. A Repentance, (h) Arising from true Faith in Jesus Christ the Saviour, or at least inseparably accompanying the same: which (i) Faith and Repentance have no foundation in man, as the former have, but are the meer gifts of God. This is called, (k) Repentance unto life: and (l) Repentance unto Salvation: because it is the certain way for sinners to life and salvation by Jesus Christ. Now God conditioning with Israel that they should Repent, took in both sorts: but especially and primarily intending this later, whereunto the former Repentance was but preparatory.

(2) The Nature of true Repentance in this second sense, may be thus described, Repentance is a Grace of God, whereby a sinner, after true Sense of sin, and Godly sorrow for sin, is changed and converted in heart and life, from sin to God. This description of Repentance I have (m) formerly in another Treatise, 1. Explained and confirmed by Scriptures, according to the several branches of it. 2. Improved in a way of Tryal of the truth of Repentance, by certain Characters of true Repentance comprized in this Description of repentance. Especially (1) Conviction and true sense of sin. (2) Contrition of heart and true godly sorrow for sin. (3) Conversion and true change of heart and life from sin. Touching all which, I refer the Reader to what I have there written for his fuller Satisfaction: because I hasten forward.

2. That God in this Covenant either explicitly, or at least implicitly Conditioned with Israel, their Repentance and returning again unto him, in case of any failings or offences against his Covenant: may be evinced by these Particulars, viz.

(1) Repentance in case of any sinful failings against this Covenant is a Duty implicitly enjoyned to Israel in the first Commandment of this Covenant as hath been manifested. For this Commandment required Israel, To (n) have the only true God JEHOVAH alone as their Covenant-God in and through Jesus Christ: and to worship him as such accordingly. This worship of God (o) consisted (as in other, so) in this Duty particularly, viz. In an holy carefulness to please their God in all things: as also consequently in Grief and Sorrow of heart and spirit with unfeigned Repentance, for every their offending of him: (p) As did David, and Ephraim, under this Old-Covenant.

(2) Assoon as Israel had sinned against this Covenant, and that most grosly, in the idolatrous Calf made and worshipped while Moses was up in the Mount with God, the Lord in his rich mercy and compassion (q) used sundry means of reclaiming and reforming them by true Repentance. Which evidenceth, How much God willed their Repentance: and How agreeable it was to his Covenant which they had broken and transgressed, that they should repent. He would never have used Means to bring them to true Repentance, had he not in this Covenant, in case of failings, intended their Repentance. Now these Means and way he used:

(q) See Exod. 32. & 33. throughout.

He (r) gave Moses (their typical Mediator) occasion of interceding for them, that they might not presently be destroyed. For, He declared their sins to Moses now in the Mount with God: Whereupon Moses intercedes for them, and God spared them according to his Prayer.

He (s) sent Moses to convince them of their sin, and of the extream Haynousness of it. Which Moses effected, 1. Symbolically, by breaking the two Tables of the Covenant, at the skirt of the Mount in the sight of Israel: thereby signifying to them that they had already sinned so grievously, that they had broken Gods Covenant. 2. Really, (t) By utter (u) Abolition of their idol: grinding it to powder, strawing it on the water that came out of the Rock, and making the people drink it, that so the detestable Idol might go into the very draught. (2) By sharp (x) Reprehension of Aaron, for bringing this sin upon Israel by making the Calf. (3) By severe (y) Execution done upon the principal offendors by the sword of the Levites, to the destruction of 3000. persons. (4) By his earnest and most zealous interceding with the Lord afterwards for their Pardon, (z) Oh this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them Gods of Gold: yet now, if thou wilt, forgive their sin: and if not, blot me I pray thee out of thy Book which thou hast written.

Which done, ([c]) He again immediately renews his Covenant with them, to give them Canaan, and to drive out the inhabitants thereof from before Israel.

(3) The ([d]) LORD in all after-ages from Moses till the Death of Jesus Christ their only true Messiah, according to his great Patience and Long-suffering gave them space for Repenting, and according to his rich grace gave them both Ordinary and Extraordinary Means of Repentance. 1. Ordinary, by the Ministry ([e]) of the Priests: who, besides their Expositions of the Law, tending to convince and humble them for sin, offered daily Sacrifices, which were as a ([f]) Continual Remembrance of their sins, and an Arraignment of them daily for sin before the Lord: yea, herein Israel did daily confess their sins, and that for them they deserved to die the Death like those slain Sacrifices, and that their sins could not be purged away, but by the Death of Jesus Christ the true Sacrifice. 2. Extraordinary, by the Ministry of The Prophets, John Baptist, and Jesus Christ himself. ([i]) The Prophets were Ministers raised up extraordinarily by God for reducing Israel to himself from their rebellions by repentance. ([g]) —— Many years didst thou forbear them, (Hebr. didst-thou-protract over them), and testifyedst against them by thy Spirit in the hands of thy Prophets. How oft did he invite and importune them to repent by his Prophets? As, by Isaiah, Isai. 1. 16. to 21. Jeremiah, Jer. 3. 1, 7, 22, &c. & 4 1, 2. Ezekiel, Ezek. 18. 21, 27, 28 30, 31, 32. & 33. 11, 12, 15, 16. Hosea, Hos. 6. 1, 2, 3. with 5. 15. & 14 1, 2, &c. Joel, Jo. 2. 12, 13, 15, 16, 17. Amos, Am. 4 6. to 13. Zechariah, Zech. 1. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. and Malachi, chap. 4, 5, 6. ([i]) John Baptist the Harbinger of Christ, preparing his way before him, was an extraordinary Prophet, yea greater then any former Prophet, in that he pointed out the Lamb of God present with his finger. This John ([h]) Preached Repentance to Israel both by his Doctrine, and Practise. (3) Jesus Christ himself, that Great Prophet of Prophets, came last of all, Preaching to Israel; ([i]) Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand. ([k]) —— Except ye repent, yea shall all likewise perish.

Now to what End did God vouchsafe Israel all along under this Sinai-Covenant the Old Testament, such Space and Means of Repenting: but that by this Covenant he conditioned and required their Repentance?

(4) The Lord (l) Promised for future to accept and pardon his people Israel, Repenting for their miscarriages against his Covenant. And his Promises made to their Repenting, imply'd his will and pleasure that they should repent.

(5) God Promised also to (m) Circumcise their heart, that they might love him, turn to him, and obey him. This imply'd also his Conditioning their repentance in this Covenant; yea (n) he turned and instructed Ephraim, so that he repented, &c.

(6) The Lord (o) was wont to estrange himself from Israel under this Covenant, whilst they went on in their sins impenitent. Their sins were odious to him: but their impenitency under their sins made them double odious and abominable. Because impenitency was so extreamly against his Covenant.

(7) Finally, The Lord was pleased (p) most graciously to accept and pardon his repenting People Israel, embracing them with deerest arms of his wonted favour. Because their Repentance was so pleasing to him, and so agreeable to his Covenant.

3. Inferences Hence;

(1.) How plain is it, That this Covenant at Mount Sinai was a Gospel Administration: because in case of Israels fayling therein it conditioned and called for their Repenting! Repentance is a pure Evangelical Condition and Duty, pressed often in the Gospel-Doctrine of Old and New Testament, as hath been already shewed: whereas the Law, that is, The Covenant of works, admits of no Repentance at all, no not in the least case of failing in Covenant-Duties but denounces Death without Mercy for the smallest transgression. So then the Sinai-Covenant, was a Covenant of Faith Evangelical, not a Covenant of Works Legal.

(2.) That common Distinction of Repentance into Legal and Evangelical had need to be wisely and warily understood. For, 1. If by Legal Repentance such repentance be understood, as is wrought by the Law, or Covenant of the ten Commandments as dispensed by Moses; that being a pure Evangelical Administration, Repentance wrought thereby must needs be Evangelical also. And therefore in this sense the distinction is not logical and proper, because thus the Members of the Distinction, viz. Legal and Evangelical are not duly opposite and contradistinct one to another. And yet, I doubt, this is the usual notion of most in this Distinction, but questionless a gross mistake. 2. If they understand by Legal Repentance, such Repentance as the Law of works required before the Fall: Such Repentance the Law or Covenant-works properly allows not, admits not in any Case. 3 But if by Legal Repentance they intend such Common and General Repentance upon consideration of God as Creator and Supream Judge and fear of punishment arising from the ten Commandments, or any thing in them, as abstracted from Moses Administration thereof: then the Distinction may be tolerated, as implying, A General servile Repentance from fear of God the Creator, and a Special

(3) How Great was Gods Covenant-Mercy to Israel even in this terrible Sinai-administration, in Granting liberty of Repenting in case of Covenant-miscarriages. Such mercy, was not vouchsafed at all under the Covenant of works: nor vouchsafed so clearly in any fore-going Administration of the Covenant of Faith. His favour was herein therefore the greater to Israel, But how much more to the New Israel of God under the New Testament, to whom God hath revealed most fully this liberty of Repenting. It is not only our great Duty, to repent: but our great Priviledge, that we may repent.

(4.) How justly did the Lord multiply and aggravate his (q) Complaints against Israel by his Prophets under the Old Testament for their Impenitency, hardness of heart, and refusing to return to God! Because their Covenant-failings were many: and in such cases it was God's Covenant-Condition that they should repent.

(5.) Not only Unbelief and Disobedience, but also (r) Impenitency, a Counterfeit Repentance in Israel was Covenant-breaking with God. Repentance was Covenant-keeping: Impenitency and Counterfeit Repentance was consequently Covenant-breaking. And shall not our Impenitency, &c. under the New Testament be Covenant-breaking much more?

(r) Psal. 78. 34. to 38.

(6.) Hence, When Israel solemnly repented of publique sins, they were wont to renew their Covenant with their God, therein a fresh promising their sincere Reformation. Why? Because Gods Covenant called for true Repenting in case of miscarriages: therefore when they solemnly set about Repenting and Reformation, to testifie their Duty and Engage themselves more vigorously thereunto, they renewed Covenant with God the ground of such Repenting. And therefore when any Church now under the New Testament is upon publique Repenting and Reforming, it is a most proper and helpful course to enterprize the same by this Gospel practise of Renewing Covenant with God: as is the Manner of the true Reformed Churches.

(7) Finally, Israels Duty, May be our Justification. If under the Old Testament Israel was to repent in case of failings in Covenant-observances, wherein Repentance was urged more sparingly: How much more ought we to repent of all our failings under the New-Covenant, wherein Repentance is required more abundantly?

5. The Form of Gods Sinai-Covenant.

THe Form of Gods Covenant with Israel and their Seed at Mount Sinai, Conſisted, More Inwardly and Eſſentially in the Mutual Covenant-Agreement and Obligation betwixt the Federates, God and Israel: More Outwardly and Accidentally, In the Manner of this Sinai Covenants firſt Manifeſtation and Eſtabliſhment, and of it's after-Adminiſtration.

This Aphoriſm I explain as followeth.

First, The More Inward and Eſſential Form of this Covenant at Mount Sinai ſtood, In the reciprocal Agreement and Obligation of the Fœderates one to another, viz. of God to Israel and their Seed, and of Israel and their Seed to God, upon certain Terms or Conditions, Evidently Expreſſed, or Neceſſarily Implyed.

1. God on his part, (as JEHOVAH, Iſraels God, and Redeemer) of Meer Free grace Agreed, Covenanted, and Promiſed, I. To be a God to Israel, and to their Poſterity. II. To raiſe up unto them from among themſelves, Chriſt A Prophet, Mediator and Saviour: In whom he would be their Covenant-God. III. To give them the Spirit of God and of Chriſt. IV. To Confer upon them in Chriſt all ſorts of Bleſſings, Temporal, Spiritual, and Eternal. 1. Bleſſings Temporal. And of this ſort theſe eſpecially, viz. (1) The Inheritance of Canaan. (2) The Caſting out of the Canaanites. (3) Long life in Canaan. (4) Multiplying them there. (5) A conflux of all good things for their outward Proſperity. (6) The impoſing of all the Contrary Curſes upon their Enemies. (7) Their return again into Canaan from all their diſperſions upon their Repentance, &c. 2. Bleſſings Spiritual. Of which ſort theſe eſpecially; viz. (1) Gods peculiar Acceptation of Iſrael. (2) His Sanctification of them. (3) Their Juſtification by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt. (4) His Enabling them to keep this Covenant. (5) His chooſing out a place for his Name to dwell in, and for his ſolemn worſhip to be exerciſed in, within the Land of Canaan, when they ſhould peaceably inherit it. (6) His gracious Preſence and Reſidence among them there in his Tabernacle. (7) His furniſhing them with Eminency of Church-enjoyments above all other People. 3. Bleſſings Eternal, viz. Eternal Life and Happine.s in Heaven: whereof Canaan was an eminent ſhadow.

2. Iſrael on their part Reſtipulate and Re-promiſe to God ſundry neceſſary Duties. As, 1. To be a Covenant-people unto God. 2. To perform and keep this Covenant with God, (1) By true and unfeigned Faith in Chriſt. (2) By ſincere, entire and conſtant obedience therethereunto. 3. To repent and Return again unto the Lord, in case of any Failings or Miscarriages contrary to this Covenant.

These Covenant-Mercies God Promised to Israel and their Seed: These Covenant-Duties Israel Re-promised to God. All which have been formerly cleared and explained. And in their Mutual Obligation each to other, upon these Terms and Conditions, stands the More Inward Essential Form of this Covenant. Touching which I need now to add no more.

Secondly, The More Outward and Accidental Form of this Sinai-Covenant doth consist, in the Outward way or Manner, 1. Of this Covenants first Manifestation and Establishment. 2. Of the After-Administration of this Covenant, thus Manifested and Established. Of Both these, Consideration may be had, (x) More Generally, (y) More Particularly.

More Generally, touching the Outward Form of this Covenant's Manifestation, and Administration, these things are Observeable, viz.

1. That, The Way and Manner of this Covenant's (z) Manifestation and Administration was singular and Eminent. No Covenant before it, or after it, was Given, or managed with such Outward Majesty and Glory: as afterwards will more fully appear.

2. That, This Covenant was Manifested and Revealed to Israel, from God, Not only by word of Mouth, as all fore-going Covenants were; but also by writing. God himself (a) wrote the Abstract of this Covenant the ten Commandments, in two Tables of stone, with his own Finger: Signifying the Perpetuity of the Covenant and Law; as also their stony hardness of Heart under the Old Testament. And Moses the Man of God, (b) wrote this Covenant at large, even all the Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials thereof, in a Book; For the more certain knowledge and perpetual memory thereof among the people of Israel under the Old Testament, and among the Israel of God under the New Testament.

3. That, This Covenant was not left to Israels liberty to accept or reject it at pleasure, but was authoritatively imposed by God upon Israel. When man Covenants with man, his fellow-creature, both parties are at liberty to elect and choose such Articles and terms of Covenanting, as suit best to their several likings on both sides; but when God Covenants with man, the Creator with the Creature, The distance betwixt the federates is so infinite and extraordinary, and man so absolutely and compleatly under Gods Authority, that God may impose what he pleaseth, and man must accept & submit to such terms as God imposeth. (c) And he declared to you his Covenant, which he Commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments, and he wrote them upon two Tables of stone. God Commanded Israels performance of this Covenant often: As (d) At the First Promulgation of it; (e) At the Sanction of it; (f) At the Renewing of it and the Tables;

(b) Pſal. 78. 5. 10. & 105. 8, 9, 10.

4. That, This Covenant was Manifeſted and Adminiſtred to Iſrael, not as in a Private Family-Capacity, as all the former Covenants were limited to the particular Families of Adam, Noah, Abraham; but as in a publique National-Capacity, as a Body Politique, both Eccleſiaſtical and Civil: yea the House of Jacob, being very numerous when they came to Mount Sinai, was by this Covenant digeſted and firſt moulded into a National-Church and Commonwealth.

5. That, As the Eſtabliſhment of this Covenant with Iſrael made them a National Church, and then firſt gave them that their Infant-Church-being: So the whole enſuing Adminiſtration of it was accommodated to Iſrael, as to (c) a Church under age, till the fulneſs of time came.

(c) Gal. 4. 1, 2, 3.

6. That, Anſwerably to this their Minority, The fulleſt Stream of Gods Promiſes in this Covenant did run in the channel of temporal Mercies, and the main ſtreſs of Iſraels Covenant-Conditions was laid upon Obedience. True Spirituals and Eternals were promiſed by God: Faith, Repentance, and other Duties were alſo required from and reſtipulated by Iſrael; but very ſparingly and obſcurely. Becauſe God condeſcended to the Infant-ſtate, to the dull and weak capacity of Iſrael, in this Diſpenſation.

7. That, God extended this Covenant (thus Manifeſted and Adminiſtred) both to Iſrael and their Poſterity, as (d) hath been already manifeſted: and that (e) from the Sanction thereof at Mount Sinai, till the Death of Jeſus Chriſt. For by Chriſts Death, The Old Teſtament Adminiſtration was abrogated and finiſhed: And the New Teſtament Adminiſtration entred and ſucceeded.

8. That, The firſt Manifeſtation and After-Adminiſtration of this Covenant was ſuch and ſo managed, as might moſt advantagiouſly conduct Iſrael and their Poſterity to Jeſus Chriſt, the only true Meſſiah and Saviour of Sinners, that (f) by him, through Faith they might be juſtified and eternally ſaved.

9. That, All paſſages, occurrents and events of Providence towards Iſrael, in the Wilderneſs, in Canaan, or in their Enemies lands, did ſingularly co-operate, by the wiſdom, faithfulneſs, power and goodneſs of God, to the full accompliſhment of this Covenant, in (g) Jeſus Chriſt the Mediator, who was the Foundation, Center, and Scope thereof. In the Wilderneſs, The Pillar of cloud and fire that guided them day and night; The Mannah from heaven, and Water out of the Rock, wherewith they were fed 40 years together; The Brazen Serpent; The Tabernacle erected in the Wilderneſs with the utenſils thereof; Moſes his Mediation, and Kingly Government over them; Aarons Prieſthood, and their frequent Sacrifices; what were they but Types of Chriſt, and of better things in Chriſt? In Canaan,

More Particularly herein two distinct Sections, Consider, 1. The first Manifestation and Establishment of this Covenant. 2. The Ensuing Administration thereof; severally.

Section I.

I. Touching The Form of Gods first Manifestation of this Sinai-Covenant to, and Establishment of it with Israel, it well best appear, by following and observing the plain Series and Order of the History, which most certainly represents to us the way and method of Gods mysterious Proceedings therein, and consequently his intent and end thereby. And here these ensuing Particulars are especially to be noted, viz.

1. Gods Preface and Introduction to the Revealing and Manifesting of this Law and Covenant uttered in Mount Sinai, when Israel was now brought to God, and encamping before the Mount. (i) ——Thus shalt thou say to the House of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel; ye have seen what I did to the Egyptians, and how I bare you on Eagles wings, and brought you unto my self. Now therefore if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my COVENANT, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people, for all the Earth is mine. And ye shall be unto me a Kingdom of Preists; and an Holy Nation. These the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel. This is a most remarkable Preface to this Sinai-Covenant and Law, wherein note; 1. Gods Commemoration of his former great Redemption and deliverance of them from Egypt, whereof themselves were Ey-witnesses. Herein are three things: viz. 1. Gods dreadful acts and proceedings against their Enemies the Egyptians. Especially in the ten grievous plagues. 2. Gods gracious redeeming and rescuing them out of Egypt, above all dangers and difficulties. He bare them on Eagles wings; that is, He brought them out of their place of bondage, openly, safely, speedily, as the Eagle doth her young from their sluggish nest. See this Metaphor further urged and explained, in Deut. 32. 11, 12. 3. Gods Providential conduct of them to (i) Exod. 19. 2 3, 4, 5, 6.

Mount Sinai, where probably his Pillar of cloud (that token of his ſpecial preſence) pitched, and in which Mount God had formerly promiſed his people ſhould ſerve him. Thus God brought them to himſelf. II. Gods Promiſe of eminent future bleſsings to them, in caſe they ſhould dutifully and faithfully demean themſelves towards him their Redeemer in Obeying his voice, and keeping his Covenant. The Bleſſings Promiſed on Gods part are three, viz. 1. That they ſhould be a peculiar treaſure unto God, above all the people of the Earth, that is, Gods peculiar people above all People. סגלה Segullah ſignifies ([k]) the moſt choyce, rich, rare, precious things, which Kings and Princes put into their Treaſuries. 2. That they ſhould be unto God a Kingdom of Prieſts. This ſeems to intimate their future liberty, dignity and honor, oppoſite to their former baſe ſervitude and bondage in Egypt; and ſeems to allude to the condition of the Kings and Prieſts in Egypt, who lived in honor, retaining their lands and liberties in the famine, when all the reſt of the Egyptians were forced to ſell theirs: So when others ſhould be debaſed, deſpiſed, &c. Iſrael ſhould be honored and provided for, as Kings and Prieſts: yea, as Kings, they ſhould reign on Earth: as Prieſts, they ſhould offer Sacrifices to God. Thus under the New Teſtament. ([l]) Chriſt makes us Kings and Prieſts to God. 3. That they ſhould be an holy Nation. Even Conſecrated, Dedicated and Devoted to God, above all Nations. The Duty conditionally required on their part, was; 1. Obedience to Gods voice. 2. Faithfulneſs in his Covenant. Whereby God intimates, That he was now about to renew his Covenant with them, which was done in this ([m]) Covenant of the ten Commandments. And in this brief Preface thereto he gives them a fore-taſte of the Matter of his Covenant intended, an Epitome or Abſtract of the Covenant-obligation betwixt him and them. Thoſe things he would perform to them, on his part: and theſe things he required from them, on their part. This excellent Introduction ([n]) Moſes reports from God to the Elders of Iſrael: All the people anſwer together; All that the LORD hath ſpoken we will do. Here's their unanimous and actual conſent. Moſes returns the peoples words unto the LORD: who thereupon tels Moſes, that he would ſpeak with him in the thick cloud in the peoples hearing, that they might believe him for ever; thus he would convincingly evidence to them the Divine Authority of Moſes Doctrine.

2. The Manifold and extraordinary Preparation of the People for the Hearing and Receiving of the Law and Covenant from God on Mount Sinai. The Lord receiving this tractable Anſwer from the People, Commands Moſes now to prepare them. Their preparation was effected, 1. By Moſes Sanctifying them two daystogether; commanding them, To waſh their clothes, And not to come at their wives. ([o]) To waſh their clothes. Thus the Prieſts afterwards muſt ([p]) waſh their hands and feet at the river before they approached to the Altar to to Minister, or entred into the Sanctuary. This Ceremony of washing, peculiar to those times, implyed the inward purity and cleanness of their Hearts and Spirits wherewith they should approach to God. Hence David, (q) I will wash mine hands in innocency, and so will I compass thine Altar, O Lord. Pagans, in imitation hereof, (r) washed before their Sacrifices; yea this Ceremony was superstitiously observed in the Christian Church, as (s) Tertullian, and after him (t) Chrysostom have observed. This washing their clothes signified to them, what Holiness, cleanness and purity of Heart was necessary to them for the Receiving of Gods Law and Covenant. (u) Not to (v) come at their wives. Some here understand such of their wives, as were legally unclean. Rather understand here, all their wives: Conjugal Society is forbidden for a time, not as Sinful, but that they might withdraw their hearts from their lawful earthly comforts, to attend the Heavenliness and Spiritualness of Gods Law the more intentively. 2. By Moses (x) Sanctifying the Mount, setting bounds round about it, that neither Priests nor People, man nor beast, might go up into it, nor touch it, or the very border of it, lest they be put to death: only Moses and Aaron might go up into it. This very Mount was separated from all other Ground, and from all common use, for the time; in reference to the purest majestical presence of the most holy God there, and to the Lords Giving of his pure Law, and holy Covenant thence. Hence it is called, The Mount of God (y). Israel must be abased and humbled at their Law-givers feet: They must highly reverence both God and his Law. 3. By the LORD's (z) discovering himself, and descending in fire upon the top of the Mount on the third Day in the Morning, with most terrible tokens of Divine Majesty, able to subdue and amaze the stoutest heart, viz. Thunders; Lightnings; Thick-cloud and darkness; voice of Trumpet exceeding loud; Mount Sinai altogether on a smoak, ascending as the smoak of a furnace; The Mount burning with fire unto the Heart of Heaven, that is, the midst of Heaven; The whole Mount quaking greatly; Insomuch, That all the people in the Camp trembled; And so terrible was the Sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly Fear and Quake. These were dreadful tokens, (1) Of the Majesty and terrour of the Lord; (2) Of the severity and terribleness of the Law to Carnal man, that can do nothing but break and transgress it; (3) Of the fear and bondage of the Old Testament dispensation (fitted to the proud, stiff-necked, and hard-hearted disposition of the Iews,) in comparison of the more free, filial and sweet dispensation of the New Testament: for herein the (a) Apostle placeth a great difference. 4. By Moses (b) bringing forth the people Israel out of the Camp, to meet with God. And they stood at the skirt of the Mount, without the bounds that were set. Probably All Israel at this time stood together before God at the skirt of the Mount, in the same (c) Order that they stood in when Moses renewed the Covenant about 40 years after in the land of Moab: viz. First, The First-born, the (d) Priests, who were to come neareſt to God at that time. Secondly, After them the Captains or Heads of their Tribes the Rulers. Thirdly, Then the Elders. Fourthly, The Officers. Fifthly, All the men of Iſrael. Sixthly, Their little ones. Seventhly The women. Eightly, The Strangers which were within their gates. Thus they preſented themſelves before the Lord every of them individually in their own perſons, not by Proxies or Repreſentatives, being now to receive ſuch a Law from God, and to enter into ſuch a Solemn Covenant with God: that hereby the incomprehenſible Majeſty and terror of God, The Glory, Greatneſs, Authority and Excellency of his Law and Covenant, might have the deeper impreſſion upon them.

5. Finally, By the LORD's (e) calling Moſes (after he had thus placed the People,) to the top of the Mount, and ſending him down again, to charge the Prieſts to ſanctifie themſelves, and to conteſt with, or charge, both Prieſts and People not to break through, to come up into the Mount to gaze, leſt the Lord break forth upon them. All this ſingular Caution and Solicitude tending to advance highly the Majeſty of the Law-giver, and authority of the Law; as alſo to engrave more deeply and indelebly a moſt awful reverence to both in the hearts of all Iſrael.

(e) Exod. 19. 19. to the end.

3. Gods (f) Promulgation of the Moral Law, The Covenant of the Ten Commandments, (immediately after all his Preparation,) from Mount Sinai, to all Iſrael. Herein note; 1. The Matter promulged, and 2. The Manner of promulgation.

(f) Deut. 5. 22. & 4. 13.

(1) The Matter promulged was the (g) Ten Commandments, all ſtoried in expreſs Terms. Theſe Ten Commandments I have formerly in the General, Analytically explained, ſo as to point out the peculiar and diſtinct Scope of every one of them, with their mutual reference to, and dependance upon each other.

(g) Exod. 20. 3. to 18.

(2) The Manner and way of Gods Promulgation of theſe ten Commandments, was in this ſort, viz. I. In the ſame Method and Order, wherein they are left upon record for us by Moſes. 1. The Commandments of Religion and Holineſs to God, being ſet before the Commandments of Rigteouſneſs and equity to men. Thoſe being the Firſt and Great Commandment: Theſe the ſecond like unto it. 2. The firſt and laſt Commandments, being the moſt Comprehenſive piercing ſpiritual and convincing Commandments among all the reſt: and as it were comprizing all the other between and within them. Shewing the extenſiveneſs and ſpiritualneſs of this Law. 3. The fourth Commandment being ranked in the midſt of them: the Sabbath being as the Prop and Pillar upholding both Holineſs to God, and Righteouſneſs to man. In this Order Moſes recorded them. And in this order God uttered them. II. In the ſame words and number of the Commandments God uttered his Moral Law, wherein Moſes afterwards wrote them, (h) God ſpake all theſe words, (i) —— even ten words, or ten ſayings, viz. ten commanding ſayings. (k) —And he added added no more. That is, He added no more distinct Moral precepts: or, He added no more words at all immediately to all Israel: what he spake besides these, he spake immediately to Moses, and by him mediately to all the people. In these ten words the whole Moral Law is comprized compleatly. III. God promulged not these ten Commandments meerly and nakedly, as so many bare precise precepts: but with a notable Preface prefixed, and Promises annexed. 1. The preface prefixed; (l) I am the LORD, thy God, which brought thee out of the Land of Egypt, out of the house of Servants. This Preface contains Reasons for keeping all the Commandments in General: and the first Commandment in particular. Wherein are three General Arguments, perswading to the observance of the whole Law. They are drawn, (1) From Gods incomparable Nature and essence: I am JEHOVAH. (2) From Gods Covenant-Relation to Israel, as the Seed of Abraham; Thy God, viz. Not only by Creation and Providence commonly, but by special Covenant peculiarly. (3) From Gods wonderful Act of Grace in Redeeming them from Egyptian bondage; which brought thee out, &c. An eminent Type of Christs spiritual Redemption of of his Church. 2. The Promises annexed to some particular Commandments expresly were two, viz. (1) A more General Promise, of shewing mercy to thousands of them that love him and keep his Commandments, added to Commandment second. (2) A more Particular Promise of long life in Canaan, whither Israel was now going, annexed to the fifth Commandment, (m) This is called, The first Commandment with Promise: either, because its the first Commandment with particular Promise, the former being general: Or, the first Commandment of the second Table with Promise. But I like best the former Reason. This Preface, and these Promises are so evangelical, that they notably evince this Law to have been given as a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ. IV. God Promulged all these words immediately to all Israel from Mount Sinai with an audible voice. (n) God spake all these words saying. —— Hence the Apostle cals the Law, by way of eminency, (o) The voice of words. (p) These words God spake with a Great voice to all their Assembly. This voice was so Great, that it (q) shook the very earth. V. God spake this Law (r) out of the midst of the fire, he uttered these words out of the midst of devouring flames. Hence its called (s) A fiery Law; or, Heb. A fire of Law. This intimated the terrour of God, and of his Law to transgressors. VI. God spake these words also (t) out of the midst of the cloud, and of the thick darkness. The cloud seems to be that pillar of cloud that went before Israel and covered them, which now rested on Mount-Sinai: It was a Type of Christ, in whom this Law and Covenant was given: As also a token of Gods special presence and protection. The thick darkness, is often used to set forth (u) Gods glorious Presence, Majesty and Greatness, as here also to denote his severe and darksome judgements against the transgressors greſſors of his Law and Covenant. The Apoſtle calls it (x) blackneſs and darkneſs and tempeſt. Beſides God ſpeaking out of the cloud and thick darkneſs ſeems to imply the obſcurity and darkneſs of that Diſpenſation and Covenant: The Old Teſtament was all veiled under clouds, darkneſs, Types, figures and ſuch dim repreſentations.

VII. Finally God in promulging his Law, made uſe of the (y) Miniſtery of Angels about the former particulars. Steven ſaith, Iſrael received the Law by the diſpoſition of Angels. Hence, Paul cals it, (z) The word ſpoken by Angels. And thoſe words of Moſes in his Bleſſing Iſrael before his Death, viz. (a) The LORD came from Sinai, —— and he came with ten thouſands of Saints, &c. are by ſome interpreted of Holy Angels: though they may be referred to the holy people of Iſrael that received the Law. Angels are miniſtring ſpirits, imployed by God both about diſpenſation of Law and Goſpel, Old and (b) New Teſtament, and are (c) ſent forth in many regards for their good that ſhall be heirs of ſalvation. This imployment of Angels in giving of the Law tends to magnifie the dignity and excellency of the Law: as alſo the ſupream Majeſty Authority and Glory of the Law-giver. This was Gods way and manner of promulging his Law.

4. Iſraels (d) extream fear and terror, by reaſon of Gods mighty voice and dreadful promulgation of his Law, ſo that they removed and ſtood afar off: and being unable to hear the voice of God any more immediately, they deſired that God would ſpeak to them by a Mediator: which requeſt the Lord highly approving, condeſcended to them in it. This is a very obſervable paſſage. Herein eſpecially note three things, viz. Their Fear, Their Deſire, The Lords fulfilling of their Deſire, I. Their Fear at this dreadful promulgation of the Law was ſo great, that (e) they removed from the bounds of the Mount where Moſes had ſet them, and ſtood afar off: all the (f) heads of their tribes and elders ſaying to Moſes, This great fire will conſume us. If we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we ſhall die. Whereupon the Apoſtle ſaith, —— And the voice of words, which voice they that heard, intreated that the word ſhould not be ſpoken to them any more, for they could not endure that which was commanded. This their fear intimated, 1. Their guiltineſs under ſin where theres no ſin, theres no cauſe of ſlaviſh fear: but guilt of ſin fils with fear and terror at Gods preſence. Guilt made Adam (h) flie, and hide himſelf: guilt makes Iſrael remove, and ſtand afar off. 2. The penetrating and convincing power of the Law to diſcover ſin. (i) By the Law is the knowledge of ſin. (k) —— And without the Law ſin is Dead. Had not the Law detected to them their ſin, why ſhould they thus have feared? 3. The effect of the Law upon the guilty Conſcience; it (l) fils with terror, and gendereth to bondage, all that are under it. It fils the carnal awakened ſoul with thunder and lightning, with flaſhes of fire, with blackneſs and darkneſs and tempeſt, &c. 4. Their utter inability to keep the Law in the exactneſs of it, in that they were now unable to hear it (m): They could not not endure that which was commanded. Therefore the Law could not give life: because of their inability to keep it. Thus of their Fear. II. Their desire arising and resulting from their fear, was; That God would not speak to them any more immediately, but by Moses mediately. (n) And they said unto Moses, speak thou with us and we will hear, but let not God speak with us, lest we die. Thus they are brought to see the necessity of a Mediator betwixt God and them, and pitch upon Moses for that Mediator. Hence, 1. The sinful creature is not able to approach to God, or to converse with God immediately, without the intervention of a Mediator. The distance and disparity betwixt God and sinners is so infinite. God is Holiness and purity in the highest, Sinners are meer lumps of impurity. They are as chaff or stubble: but God, without a Mediator, is to them a consuming fire. 2. The Law notably discovers the utter inability of the sinner, and the absolute necessity of a Mediator, for Communion with God. Israel is now taken off their own bottom, driven out of themselves to a Mediator by whom they may have access to God and knowledge of his will. This was one eminent End and effect of the Law, to take the sinner off his own bottom, and discover the necessity of a Mediator. (o) The Law was our Schoolmaster, to bring us to Christ. III. The Lords fulfilling of this their desire of a Mediator, to pass betwixt God and them, is very eminent. For, 1. He (p) heard, their voice in this behalf. 2. He commended their request; (q) They have well said all that they have spoken. 3. He (r) wished such an heart in them, as that they might constantly fear and obey him, for the eternal good of them and their children 4. He Dismissed them from the terrible presence of God on Mount Sinai, (s) Go say to them, get you into your Tents again. 5. He accepted Moses as a present Typical Mediator betwixt himself and them. (t) Commanding him to stand by him, to receive all the Commandments Statutes and Judgements which he should teach Israel. 6. He hereupon also further promised to them the true Mediator Jesus Christ, (of whom Moses was but a figure,) to speak to them all that God should command him. And this according to their desire in Horeb, (u) —— And the LORD said unto me, They have well spoken that which they have spoken. I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him, &c. They desire Moses for a Mediator: God grants them Moses for present, & Promiseth Christ for the future: gives them the Type, assures them of the Anti-type, according to all, yea above all that they desired of God in Horeb. Hence we may note (x) How compassionate and condescending God is to sinners. When they cannot endure to approach his presence and receive his Law immediately he yields to them to deal with them mediately. When they cannot ascend to him: he will descend and condescend to them. (z) How acceptable a thing is it to God, when sinners desire to come to him, and to converse with him, by a Mediator!

He

He ſeems to be much taken and exceedingly affected with Iſrael's deſire of a Mediator. And after this their requeſt, he never ſpake to them immediately without a Mediator as before: but mediately by Moſes.

5. Gods ſpeaking to Moſes out of the thick darkneſs on Mount Sinai, at the ſame time (after he had accepted their requeſt for a Mediator,) ſome (x) Additionals to his Moral Laws. The people now were either gone to their Tents: or through fear they ſtood afar off: Only Moſes drew neer to the thick darkneſs where God was, to receive Gods further pleaſure. Theſe Additionals which God ſpake to Moſes, were either Moral, Ceremonial, or Judicial. I. Moral: viz. Some further Explication of the ſecond Commandment, about Gods outward worſhip. Seeing (y) they only heard Gods voice from heaven, ſaw no ſhape of him, they muſt not make with him to themſelves Gods of ſilver or gold. He knew how prone their nature was to Idolatry; He foreſaw their Idolatry which they would ſhortly run into in the golden Calf: therefore he thus plainly repeats and explains the ſenſe of his ſecond Commandment. II. Ceremonial: viz. About Gods outward worſhip preſcribed in the ſecond Commandment. Theſe Ceremonials were touching an Altar, Sacrifices, and Places of Gods publique worſhip. All touched very briefly. 1. Touching an Altar he preſcribes; Partly, The Materials of it, viz. Earth, or Stone un-hewen with any tool. Partly, The way of framing it, viz. without tool. The tool would pollute it. Partly, The Site and poſture of it. It muſt not be ſuch as that they ſhould need to go up to it by ſteps, leſt their nakedneſs be diſcovered thereon. This (a) Altar was a Type of Chriſt, eſpecially of his Divine Nature, ſanctifying his Sacrifice: and the Earthly Materials a ſhadow of his Earthly humane nature. 2. Touching Sacrifices to be offered thereon. Here two ſorts are mentioned, viz. Burnt-offerings, and Peace-offerings. Both Types of Jeſus Chriſt crucified, who is our true Sacrifice. 3. Touching the Places of Gods publique worſhip, where ſuch Sacrifices ſhould be offered upon the Altar, viz. In all Places where I record my name. And there God promiſes to come unto them and bleſs them. Such places were, Many encamping places in the Wilderneſs, Sundry places afterwards in Canaan, eſpecially the Tabernacle, and Temple. Which Tabernacle and Temple were eminent (b) Types of Chriſt, in whom the fulneſs of the Godhead dwelt bodily. Theſe are the Ceremonials, at this time very briefly mentioned: but afterwards, they, with many others, are more fully deſcribed. Hence, let this be remembred, That immediatly after the terrible Promulgation of the Moral Law to Iſrael, and their deep conſternation thereupon, deſiring that God would not ſpeak to them any more by his own immidiate voice, which was ſo terrible and intolerable to them, but by Moſes, as an intervening Mediator, whereunto the Lord Conſented; I ſay, immediatly after theſe things the Lord ſpake theſe Ceremonials to Moſes, which were evident Types of Chriſt. III. Judicial; viz. The main body of his (c) Judicial Laws, called ed Judgements, whereby the Civil State and Common-wealth of Israel was to be ordered and governed, under God himself their supream King and Monarch. In which Judicials notwithstanding there are some few Morals and Ceremonials touched upon, but they are very few. Now all these three sorts of Laws, Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial, were (if the Series of the History be accurately observed) spoken by God on Mount Sinai, partly to Israel, partly to Moses for Israel, on one and the self-same day.

6. The ([d]) solemn Ratification or establishment of these three sorts of Laws, Moral, Ceremonial and Judicial (thus promulged and published) as a Covenant or Testament betwixt God and Israel; which seems to be done, partly on the self-same day that the Law was promulged; and partly in the morning following. God is not content only to promulge immediately to Israel his Moral Law, and to Moses for Israel some Morals, Ceremonials, and the main body of his Judicial Laws: but he will have these Laws most solemnly Confirmed as a Covenant betwixt himself and Israel, that so his intention in thus publishing them might be evidently understood, which otherwise would have been very dark and doubtful to the people. In this Solemn Confirmation of these Laws for a Covenant, note especially, 1. The Place, 2. The Manner, 3. The event thereof. 1. The Place where this Confirmation was had, ([e]) was threefold, according to the three Ranks and Degrees in Israel. viz. 1. At the foot or skirt of the Mount without the bounds; there all the people must stay. 2. In the Mount afar off, viz. about the middle of the Mount: There, Moses, Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the Elders of Israel must worship afar off. Some ([f]) think this number of seventy Elders representing Israel was here made use of, to remember them of the seventy persons that went down into Egypt, which were now according to Gods promise so wonderfully multiplyed into above six hundred thousand, able for war, besides women and children under twenty years old. 3. On the top of the Mount near unto God: There ([g]) Moses alone, with his Minister Joshuah, (both Types of Jesus Christ the true Mediator,) were to come near the LORD. These things were not as yet acted by them; but only by way of preparation for the Covenant commanded by the Lord. In this threefold rank of persons appointed by God according to these three places, we may note: Partly, The difference of gifts offices and places which God confers upon men in his Church, some superior, others inferior, not all in a level of equality. Partly, The eminent greatness and extraordinary excellency of the Benefit or Covenant now to be dispensed to them, whereunto God so prepares them by this previous Command. Partly, The Nature and impotency of this Dispensation, wherein they were not brought near, but kept afar off from God, only the Mediator approaching near him. Whereas ([h]) the New Testament brings us nearer to God in Christ. Partly, That God would have a compleat number of witnesses, besides Moses, to testifie Gods gracious and and heavenly manifestation of himself to them: whereby also the authority, not only of Moses, but also of The Priests and Elders, might be of more note and validity with the people. II. The Manner of this Confirmation or Ratification, was such, that it appears evidently to be an Eminent and Solemn Fœderal transaction betwixt The Lord and Israel, Moses Mediating betwixt them therein. More Particularly, The way and Manner (doubtless according to Gods appointment) was thus: 1. (i) Moses (having received Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials from God, and afterwards Command about their three degrees of approach towards God,) came and told the people all the words of the LORD, and all the Judgements, viz. All the Lords words from Exod. 20. 1. hitherto. 2. The people unanimously consent to all Gods Commands. (k) And all the people answered with one voice, and said, All the words which the LORD hath said, will we do. Thus God and Israel mutually and voluntarily consent to the Covenant. 3. Moses (l) wrote all the words of the LORD foremention'd, viz. Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials, in a Book. For certainty of Remembrance, and conveniency of use upon all occasions. But after this God wrote the Morals, the ten Commandments in Tables of stone. Hitherto the History seems clearly to have recorded all Gods Transactions with Moses and Israel only for one and the same day, wherein God promulged his Law, his ten Commandments on Mount Sinai: On the Even thereof probably Moses wrote the Lords words. 4. Moses (m) rose up early in the morning, (probably it was the very next morning,) and under the Hill, he builded an Altar, and twelve Pillars according to the twelve tribes of Israel; or, Heb. for the twelve tribes of Israel: viz. for to represent them. The Altar a Type of Christ, and token of Gods presence represented God in Christ the first and chief Fœderate Party: The twelve pillars, builded near the Altar, represented the twelve Tribes of Israel the other and secondary Fœderate party. The twelve pillars (n) were built near the Altar, to intimate to them, that, by their distance of place, they were not rejected from God, nor excluded from the Holiness of his Altar, but instructed in their unworthiness of God, before whom they should appear with fear and trembling. 5. He (o) caused Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings of Oxen, &c. to be offered to the Lord, by young men, viz. by the first-born, which were Priests, till the Levites were separated to that office. These sorts of Sacrifices were formerly mentioned: and are hereafter more fully described. They were (p) types of Jesus Christ and his death, whereby Gods Covenant was established for ever, and his people fully purified to present themselves acceptably and thankfully as spiritual sacrifices to God. The use of Sacrifices in making and Confirming Covenants, hath been formerly spoken to: there see. 6. He (q) sprinkled half of the blood upon the Altar. 7. Having (r) read the Book of the Covenant in the audience of the people, and Received the Peoples consent and restipulation stipulation thereto, saying, All that the LORD hath said will we do, and be obedient; He sprinkled the other half of the blood upon the People, and said, Behold the blood of the Covenant which the LORD hath made with you Concerning all these words. Thus (f) the first Testament was not dedicated without blood, both Altar and People were sanctified by blood: signifying, that Christ by his own blood and death should consecrate himself for his people, and sanctifie his people to himself, under a better Testament. This was the manner of this illustrious Federal Sanction, Moses still intervening as a Typical Mediator betwixt God and Israel. III. The Event of this fœderal-Sanction, or Confirmation of the Law, for a Covenant, was (according to Gods former prescription in ver. 1, 2. twofold, viz. The first event, was the Ascent of Moses, (t) The Priests and Elders into the Mount to worship afar off, as they were commanded, and their vision of God there without hurt. And they saw the God of Israel: [that is, not perfectly in his essence, which is invisible; or in his full glory; whereof mortality is incapable: but (u) in such a dispensation, and according to such manifest tokens of his presence, as was most suitable to the present occasion and their Capacity:] And there was under his feet, as it were a work of brick of Saphir, and as it were the body of heaven in his clearness. Here was no image of God but of his foot-stool. His foot-stool was like brick-work of Saphir, and as the body of heaven for clearness. The (x) Saphir-stone is one of the most excellent precious-stones, yea the chiefest, as Rivet hath it out of Rueus; It is of a transparent clear-skie-Colour, as Boetius (y) notes: By which symbole God would set out his most bright and most excellent majesty, transcending infinitely all the splendor and glittering brightness both of heaven and of all precious stones which are below the glory of his very feet. The work of Brick, thinks (z) Ainsworth) might call them to remember their brick-work in Egypt, Exod 1. 14. & 5. 16, 19. From which bondage God had now brought them, to labor in the heavenly work of his Law, and the mysterie of the same, whereby the Throne of his glory should be erected among them, and his Church (which is the foot-stool of the Lord, Lam. 2. 1.) should have the foundation laid with Saphires, Isai. 54. 11. and such should be the polishing of the Saints, Lam. 4, 7. This clear heavenly appearance did set forth the favour of God towards them that keep his Covenant; as on the Contrary, a dark or cloudy heaven is a sign of Gods displeasure, Jer. 4. 23, 28. Zeph. 1. 15. It signified also the clearness and purity that should be in the people of God. So he. This vision they had of God, and yet he laid not his hand on them, viz. he hurt them not: yea they did eat and drink, viz. without fear, and with chearfulness they did Feast of the Peace-offerings, then sacrificed. When God promulged his ten Commandments, Immediately, nor Priests nor Elders might ascend the Mount, or touch it, or go beyond the bounds, under pain of Death: But now that he gives his Laws by a Mediator, Moses, and had brought the people into Covenant with himself, both Priests and

Elders (the representations of the people) might ascend to the middle of the mount, and have this reviving and comfortable manifestation of Gods favourable presence with them, and fear no harm; which divine manifestation doubtless they declared to the people, at their return to them, with singular joy. Thus without a Mediator, the Law is most terrible and intolerable to Sinners, so that they dare not approach to God: but by a Mediator the Law is tolerable and comfortable to sinners, so that they dare approach gladsomely to God. As a Law of works it kills: As a Law and Covenant of faith it revives the Sinner. Thus of the first event. 2. The second event, was the further Ascent of Moses (with his Minister Joshuah,) from the Priests and Elders towards the top of the Mount, near unto God, to receive more perfect instruction in his Law and Covenant for Israel. In this Event, note; (1) Gods (a) calling of Moses to ascend up to him into the Mount, and abide there: that he might receive from God the written Law, to teach it to Israel. (2) Moses his (b) going up into the Mount (after he had substituted Aaron and Hur in his stead, for all matters of the people, till his return:) and his waiting on God six daies before the Lord spake to him, and this without the cloud. This was to prepare Moses and to elevate his minde to such further manifestation of Gods Glory and Law as he should please to reveal. The people were prepared three dayes, for hearing the Law and Covenant spoken: Moses is prepared six daies for receiving the Law and Covenant written. This highly extols the dignity and authority of the Law. (3) The (c) Cloud covering the Mount six daies, and the glory of the LORD appearing, over the Cloud, on the top of the Mount, like devouring fire, in the eyes of Israel. Tokens of Gods presence: though obscure, and terrible to transgressors of his Law. (4) Gods further (d) calling of Moses on the seventh day, out of the midst of the cloud, to come up to him into the cloud. (5) Moses his higher ascent into the Mount, into the (e) midst of the cloud. (6) Moses his (f) abode in the Mount with God forty daies and forty nights, during which time he did neither eat bread nor drink water. Whilst he enjoyed Gods presence and conference with him he needed neither bread nor water. An excellent emblem of the heavenly happiness, wherein the Elect shall be like the Angels needing no corporal food, while they have eternal vision and fruition of God. Thus (g) Eliah fasted forty daies and forty nights, going unto Horeb the Mount of God. Thus (h) Christ fasted forty daies and forty nights, before he entred into his publique Ministry. These the three great Fasters; Moses, Gods Law-giver: Eliah, the great Reformer and Restorer of Gods worship: and Christ, the great and only Redeemer of the world. To draw these miraculous extraordinary Fasts into ordinary imitation, argues, in the Papists, extream ignorance, and ridiculous superstition. framing of the Tabernacle, and of the Utensils thereof: Touching Priests: their vestments or Ornaments for Ministration, and their Consecration: Touching certain Sacrifices: touching The Altar of incense, Atonement-Money, The Brazen laver, The holy anoynting oyl, The holy perfume, The workmen called by God to frame all these things, and the strict Sanctification of the Sabbath, about (i) these things especially God conferred with, and gave Commandments to Moses on Mount Sinai. (k) The LORD's (k) giving unto Moses (when he had made an end of communing with him on Mount Sinai,) Two Tables of Testimony, Tables of stone, written with the finger of God. These Tables (l) were the work of God: and the writing, the writing of God graven upon the Tables; —— The Tables were written on both their sides, on the one side and on the other were they written. They were, two Tables, in regard of two grand parts of our Obedience, Religion and Holiness to God; Righteousness and temperance towards man and our selves. Tables of stone, to signifie, the perpetuity of the Law, men being wont to write things in brass or stone for durableness, Job 19.24. As also the stoninesse or hardness of mens hearts, under the Old-Testament-dispensation, far more then under the New Testament more efficacious Administration, 2 Cor. 3. 3, &c. written on both sides, (m) To note (saith Calvin) the Laws fulness, perfection, and compleatness, there being no space or room left for any addition, it was not lawful for man to add any thing, God had comprized all things in these ten words, whereof all the other Laws Ceremonial and Judicial were as Expositions and Commentaries, and whereunto they were to be referred. (n) Ainsworth thinks, This manner of writing on both sides, Signified; In respect of the Law it self, that it hath both the Outward Letter, and Inward Spiritual meaning, Rom. 7. 14. Gal. 4. 24. In respect of men, That the Law should be written Outwardly in their Actions, before men; and Inwardly in their hearts, before God, Mat. 5. 16. Heb. 8. 10. Rom. 2. 28, 29. The Tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, with his finger. Not as if God had body, hand, or finger, properly: but metaphorically, what man doth with his finger, is ascribed to the vertue and power of God. Here was nothing at all Humane or Angelical, but all wholly Divine about these Tables, which highly commends the Divine Authority and excellency of the Law in every regard. Thus, of the second Event of the fœderal Sanction or Ratification of the Law and Covenant of the ten Commandments. And in this Manner, and with these events ensuing, the Law (Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial,) was solemnly ratified as a Covenant of Faith or Testament betwixt God and Israel on Mount Sinai. All this is diligently to be considered.

7. The notorious transgression of this Law, and horrid (o) breach of this Covenant of Faith, by the people of Israel in their odious Idolatry to the Calf which Aaron made, whilst Moses was with the Lord in the Mount, and absent from the people. This sad Narrative sets forth, How

How the Israelites, (who with one voice promised, (p) All the words which the LORD hath said, will we do,) violated that great commandment, which (q) both God himself had spoken to them from Heaven, and after repeated by Moses. That so the (r) impossibility of the Law, in that it was weak through the flesh, might be evidenced in this people at the very first, before any obedience at all was performed thereunto. Here Particularly are described, I. Their heynous sin it self; set forth by the Occasion, Matter, and Manner of it, Exod. 32. 1. to 7. III. The Singular zeal of Moses both towards God and his People Israel, having vehement indignation against this Sin, when he returned out of the Mount into the Camp. This Zeal he manifested. 1. By casting the Tables out of his hands, and breaking them before the peoples eyes, beneath the Mount, at the sight of the idolatrous calf: which he did not rashly, but purposely and advisedly; to signifie to them their breach of Covenant with God, by their idolatry, Exod. 32. 15. to 20. This fact is (t) again recited in the Repetition of the Law, as done on purpose by him: And is no where condemned in all the Scripture. Questionless he brake them, by special and secret direction from God himself. 2. By demolishing utterly and most disgracefully the idolatrous molten calf: Burning it with fire, grinding it to powder, casting the powder into the water of the brook that descended out of the Mount, from the (u) Rock in Horeb, a Type of Christ, and causing the people to drink of it, Exod. 32. 20. The fire made it, and marr'd it: that done, he reduced it to powder as small as dust, by grinding, or filing it, that not the least relique thereof might remain: He strawd the dust on the water of the brook, that it might be utterly abolished: And caused them to drink of it, that so their idol might go into their bowels, and be mingled with their dung, in execration and abomination of their idolatry. Under these Acts also the mysterie of (w) Christs washing away their sins in the stream of his own blood, through repentance and faith, seem to be figured unto them: these waters being a Type of the blood of Christ the Spiritual Rock smitten. 3. By his sharp rebuking of Aaron as principal in this Sin, though his elder brother, Exod. 32. 21. to 25. 4. By causing the sons of Levi to slay 3000 men with the sword the same day, of those that were chief agents in this idolatry, Exod 32. 25. to 30. 5. By his most fervent intercession unto the Lord for the people, Exod. 32. 30, &c. IV. The Lords resolute purpose of visiting this sin upon Israel: and his actual plaguing them for it, Exod. 32. 35. 8. Gods gracious renewing of this Law and Covenant with that ungrateful, backsliding, idolatrous, Covenant-breaking people, but now repenting of their wickedness. In this great act of Divine Grace, many things are very remarkable, viz. I. The Restoring of the Tables of the Law and Covenant. (x) And the LORD said to Moses, How thee two Tables of stone, like the First: and I will write upon the Tables, the words which were on the first Tables which thou brakest, &c. God calls Moses again up to the top of the Mount to receive the writing of God on the Tables: None must ascend with Moses, nor be seen throughout all the Mount: nor must flocks or herds feed before the Mount: And Moses must hew the Tables, which God would write upon. Moses did all accordingly. Here I note two differences betwixt Gods giving of these, and the former Tables. 1. In the Preparation of the Tables. The former Tables were prepared by God, were his own immediate work, as the writing was only his: Here Moses must hew and prepare these later Tables, and God would write on them the words of the former Tables. The Restoring of the later Tables is parted betwixt God and Moses. —— And though there be some doubt among learned men, whether Moses also did not write the ten Commandments in these later Tables, as well as form the Tables, from that passage in Exod. 34 27, 28. where God saith to Moses, Write these words, ——and he was there with the LORD forty days, &c. —— He did neither eat bread, &c. —— and he wrote upon the Tables the words of the Covenant, the ten Commandments: yet if the Context and manner of speaking be well considered, this doubt may be clearly and easily resolved. For, (y) That which God Commanded Moses to write in ver. 27. was not the ten Commandments, but some additional explanations thereof. And in ver. 28 the word [He] in the two first Sentences or propositions is to be referred plainly to Moses; in the third Proposition, to God himself. 2. In the manner of Moses Ascent into the Mount to receive the Tables from God. In the former ascent (z) Moses went up accompanyed with Aaron the the Prieſt, and Joſhuah that was to ſucceed Moſes, and bring Iſrael into Canaan, and 70 of the Elders of Iſrael, as the repreſentatives of the 12 tribes, though Moſes alone went near the Lord to receive the Law: But in this later aſcent Moſes alone muſt come into the Mount, and beſides him no man might be ſeen in all the Mount. In this different diſpenſation, learned men think there was ſome myſterie intended: though ſomewhat hard to be found out. (l) Some think, hereby the Jews were taught, that the Law was void and fruſtrate, unleſs they offered ſtony hearts to God, wherein he might write the Law. But (a) Calvin counts this ſubtile & frivolous. (l) One ſaith; (b) The Tables which God made and gave before, were written on: Theſe which Moſes made were hewed, but empty, till God wrote upon them. So the Law is written in mens hearts, and they do by Nature things of the Law, Rom. 2. 14, 15. but corrupting themſelves in the things that they know, their hearts are hewed only by Moſes Miniſtry; and however they boaſt of the Law, yet through the breaking of the Law they diſhonour God, Rom. 2. 23. till that be fulfilled which God hath promiſed, I will put my Laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts, Heb. 8. 10. (3) Moſt are of opinion, that though (upon their repentance) God was pleaſed to reſtore his Law and Covenant again to them, yet it ſhould be with ſome maim or defect of glory that was in the former Tables. Theſe were prepared as well as written only by God: Theſe hewed by Moſes, but written by God. Something of man was in them. Though God would heal their wound: yet ſome ſcar thereof ſhall remain in the very Tables of the Covenant hewed by man; to remember them of their ſin, and to humble them for it continually, (c) Calvin, (d) Rivet, (e) Oleaſter, and (f) others go this way: conſult them. II. The ſeven next Attributes revealing Gods ſweet and gracious diſpoſition towards penitent and believing Sinners 3 The two laſt Attributes declaring Gods ſeverity upon the impenitent wicked, and thier wicked poſterity. III. The glory of the Law and of the Ministration of Moses, which the brighter it is, and so discovering sin, the more terrible it is to Sinners, they cannot endure it, they cannot behold the primary proper and true end of it, Christ. But this Glory was under a veil; which imported both the darkness of that dispensation then, and the darkness of the peoples hearts by ignorance and unbelief to comprehend it, till this veil be done away in Christ by the surpassing Glory and Brightness of the Gospel, transforming us from glory to glory. 4. The (l) laying up of these two later Tables in the Ark, according to Gods appointment, into which Ark the two former Tables never came, being broken before the Ark was made. This Ark is said, in the Repetition of the Law, to be (m) made by Moses: and elsewhere, in the former Narrative of the History, it is said to be (n) made by Bezaleel. Not that there were two distinct Arks made, The one Temporary before the Tabernacle was made, which afterwards should be laid aside: The other Continuing still in the Tabernacle. For, we read of no such Temporary Ark: It was one and the same Ark which the Lord had (o) formerly described and appointed to keep the Testimony in. And Bezaleel is said to make it, because he was the Workman that framed it; Moses is said to make it, because he from the Lord commanded and directed Bezaleel about the makeing of it, the supervising and ordering of the whole work lay upon Moses. This Ark was peculiarly made for the keeping of the two Tables of the Testimony therein: neither (p) was there any thing in the Ark besides them. These Tables were called, (q) The Testimony: because they testified what was the Covenant betwixt God and the people, and would testifie against all that should break the same. Hence the Ark is stiled, (r) The Ark of the Testimony: And the Tabernacle containing the Ark, (s) The Tabernacle of the Testimony; yea, because these two Tables had the Covenant of God engraven on them, they are called, (t) The Tables of the Covenant: and proportionably the Ark, (u) The Ark of the Covenant. Here we have excellent Mysteries of Christ adumbrated; For as the Law and Covenant of God in the two Tables was contained in the midst of the Ark, The Mercy-seat covering that Law in the Ark, The two Cherubims looking towards the Mercy-seat, the Lord himself dwelling between the Cherubims, vouchsafing his gracious presence and Answers to his people from over the Mercy-seat: So Jesus Christ, our true (x) Ark of God, had Gods (y) Law and Covenant perfectly in his heart, in the midst of his bowels, is our true (z) Mercy seat or Propitiatory, covering the curse of the Law and our sins from the eye of God, (a) in whom the Lord vouchsafes his favourable presence and guidance to his Church. This custody of the Tables in the Ark did highly commend the Dignity, Glory and Authority of the Law, this Sinai-Covenant.

Thus of the Manner or Way of Gods giving his Law, in these eight Particulars especially.

1. That, The Law-giver is most glorious. No Judge or Law-giver like unto him in the whole world; 1. In wisdom how glorious! Most wisely providing in Ten words, in Ten short commanding Sayings, For all sorts and degrees of Duties, and Against all sorts and degrees of sins, perfectly. As all things may be referred to the ten Predicaments: So all Duties are commanded, and all sins forbidden, in the ten Commandments, As (b) Peter Martyr hath in effect observed. No such wisdome in any of all the sons of men in framing their Laws: they cannot make sufficient provision at once for all cases and corruptions, hence they are still making new Laws, upon new Emergencies, so that huge volumes cannot comprize all their Laws. 2. In Holiness how glorious! The Matter of this Law is (c) Holy: So holy, that there is no print nor shadow of unholiness or impurity in it: yea, it is a perfect Law and Rule of Holiness to all his Covenant-people, in the first Table in four words. 3. In Justice and Righteousness how glorious! Every Duty required, every Sin forbidden, every Mercy promised, every Judgement threatned, in his Law declare his righteousness. (d) The Law is just: and the Rule of all Righteousness and Temperance to man, in the second Table in six words, and How severely did God punish Israels breach of this Law, with the death of 3000 at present, with his own removal out of their camp, and with divers (e) after-reckonings! 4. In Goodness and Mercy how glorious! Israel could not Endure to hear his immediate voice: therefore he condescends to speak to them by a Mediator. (f) He tels Moses of their Sin, bids him let him alone, that he might consume them: hereby putting an opportunity into Moses his hand to intercede for them, that their destruction might be prevented. He said, Let me alone: that Moses might not let him alone. How willing was God, that Moses intercession should prevent Israels destruction! And when they had so heynously transgressed and broken Covenant with God, yet (g) the Lord gives them hearts to repent, and upon their repentance proclaims all his goodness for their comfort, and afterwards renews the Tables of the Covenant with them. Oh how infinite this his goodness! 5. In Supream Majesty how glorious was God in this dispensation! Such Preparation for his Law, Such promulgation of his Law, such terror upon the People, and upon Moses himself thereupon, proclaim his incomparable Majesty. Think of the Trumpet sounding, The Lord descending in fire on the top of Sinai, Ten thousands of his Saints attending him, The thunder and lightnings, the blackness and darkness, and tempest, the Mountain smoaking, and all on a light fire burning to the heart of Heaven, Israel, Moses, and the dead Mount it self quaking and trembling at the Lords presence: and (h) then admire his glorious greatness and Majesty.

2. That, The Law, the Moral Law is most excellent, in Authority, Purity, Equity, Extent, Spiritualness, Durableness, and Outward Glory. 1. It Excels in Authority: God having engraven his own Authority upon upon it so immediately and variously. God spake it once by immediate voice: wrote it twice by his own finger in Tables of stone: and Gave it to Israel under the Solemn Ratification by Sacrifices and blood as his Covenant with them. 2. It excels in Purity: The purest God giving it; Israel the purest people must be sanctified, washed and prepared for receiving it; It commanding purity in the highest, forbidding impurity in the least and lowest degree imaginable. 3. It excels in equity: being a perfect Rule of all Righteousness. 4. It excels in extent: reaching to all sorts and degrees of persons; to all sorts, degrees and circumstances of actions, good or evil; not only to the outward works, but to every word, to every thought, to every imagination, and (if there be any thing before the imagination) to every first motion or stirring of corruption even before deliberate consent. Well might David say; (i) I have seen an end of all perfection, but thy Law is exceeding broad. 5. It excels in Spiritualness: it reacheth to the Spirit within, as well as to the body without; it requires the Soul and Spirit, as well as the body of any action. (k) The Law is Spiritual. The Author of it is a Spirit: The Matter of it is chiefly Spiritual: The end of it is Spiritual, an holy spiritual heavenly life. 6. It excels in durableness: being twice written in Tables of Stone by Gods own finger, for perpetuity thereof. (l) Heaven and Earth shall pass away, but this Law shall not pass away. The (m) Doctrine of Faith doth not destroy, but establish the Law: Christ himself did not nul it, but fulfil it. 7 It excels in outward Glory: God having put such and so many characters of visible Glory and Dignity upon it, in all those eight particulars. The (n) Apostle acknowledgeth this Glory to be very great: though the New-Testament Glory surpass it. The Antinomians therefore deal ignorantly and impiously against this Law of God, whilst they study to evacuate its Authority, and to trample the glory and dignity of it in the dust.

3. That, Lapsed Sinners are not able to endure the voice of God in his Law immediately. They cannot draw near to God and his Law, without a Mediator: but Moses could draw near to God, a Mediator could come immediately into his presence. And no wonder; For, 1. God, immediately considered without a Mediator, (o) is to the lapsed Sinner a Consuming fire; a God of vengeances, that will not, cannot, clear the guilty, without full satisfaction to his justice offended. The lapsed Sinner is utterly unable for such satisfaction, Gods justice being infinite: and therefore must be swallowed up of divine wrath for evermore. 2. The Law, Considered without a Mediator, is (p) only a Ministration of Death and condemnation, a Killing Letter, to the Sinner. Requiring impossibilities, through the weakness of the Sinners flesh that cannot keep it; and yet denouncing Death, and thundering out the Curse against the least transgression without Mercy, without ability or liberty of Repenting. There being no Mediator to Endure that Curse which lapsed Sinners have deserved, that so they may be redeemed from it: not to fulfil the Law for them, as their Surety, which themſelves could not keep. Hence, without Chriſt the true Mediator, no Sinner ſince Adam's fall can endure God or his Law immediately: they ſwallow up the Sinner with horror and Confuſion, with deſpair and Death. But Chriſt the Mediator draws near to God, to his Law; (q) endures it, and fulfils it compleatly for us: and ſo in him lapſed Sinners can comfortably endure both God and his Law.

(q) Gal. 4. 4. 5. & 3 13, 14.

4. That, The Law was ſo given from God on Mount Sinai, as might beſt ſet forth the Neceſſity and Sufficiency of Chriſt, and bring Sinners to him. Here's the wiſdom and grace of God in a Myſterie. The Myſterie is; Chriſt in the Law. We wonder not to hear of Chriſt in the Goſpel: But is Chriſt in the Law? How can that be? Not to inſiſt upon that which ſome well obſerve, (r) That Chriſt was the Angel, who gave the Law to Moſes. Mark well the former Manner of the Laws diſpenſation, and then you ſhall See Chriſt in it, yea Chriſt chiefly and eſpecially in it, nothing being in it ſo much as Chriſt. For, 1. Chriſt is in the Preface to the Law fundamentally. As our Mediator, (s) in whom alone the Lord is our God; And as our Redeemer, that hath alone brought us out of more then Egyptian bondage, all our Spiritual thraldom. This his Mediation and Redemption is laid down as the foundation of all out Obedience to the Law. 2. Chriſt is in the Precepts and threats of the Law, intentionally; for, (t) the end of theſe impoſſible precepts, and intolerable threats, is to drive Sinners out of themſelves, that conſequently they may flie to Chriſt alone, for performance and happineſs. 3. Chriſt is in the Promiſes of the Law virtually; The Mercy promiſed generally in Commandment ſecond, and Canaan (the type of Heaven) promiſed particularly in Commandment fifth, are through the vertue and efficacy of his merit only; in which regard (u) all the Promiſes of God are in Chriſt Yea, and in him Amen. In effect (x) we obtain no mercy, till we obtain Chriſt: and there's no coming to the promiſed eternal Canaan but by Chriſt. 4. Chriſt is (y) in the Mediator of the Law, Moſes; and in the Ceremonials annexed to the Morals, and in the Sanction of the Law, typically: Moſes, all the Ceremonies, and the Sanction of the Law, being evident types of Chriſt, that great Prophet, the body of thoſe ſhadows, who by his own death and blood eſtabliſhed his own Teſtament. 5. Chriſt, in a word, is in the renewing of the Covenant and Tables broken, Evangelically: for that, (z) in Chriſt lapſed Sinners find place for repentance, and pardon, mercy and reconcilement to God up-

(r) If any man ſhall think, That Chriſt (the ſecond Perſon in Trinity to be incarnate, who is called the Angel of the Covenant, or Meſſenger of the Covenant, ſcil. by whom it was ſent unto Moſes, Mal. 3. 1. and the Angel of his preſence, Exod. 23. 20, 21. & 33. 14. Iſa. 63. 9.) did deliver the Law unto Moſes, I will not gainſay it, becauſe it is expreſly ſaid; That Moſes was in the Church in the Wilderneſs with the Angel, who ſpake to him in the Mount Sinai, Act. 7. 37. who is called Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 9. And this Covenant of Grace was made in Chriſt, the Promiſed Seed. For, God was not the God of Iſrael, but in and through the promiſed Meſſiah: whoſe Perſon and Offices are more fully deſcribed, whoſe Death and Reſurrection is more lively typified in this expreſſure of the Covenant, then in either of the former. Had ye believed Moſes (ſaith Chriſt himſelf the Author of Truth) ye would have believed me; for he wrote of me, Joh. 5. 46. that is, Chriſt was, if not the ſole ſubject, yet the only Scope of Moſes his writings. *Mr. Iob. on on their Repentance. By all this it is clear, That God so and in such manner purposely gave his Law on Mount Sinai; that it might be Israels (a) School-master to bring them to Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. Thus the Law is full of Christ. Where now is the Rayling and black-mouth'd Antinomian, belching out his hatred, scorn, contempt and reproaches against the Law with bittrest invectives? Cease to blaspheme Gods Law, lest you blaspheme Christ: for the Law, as given on Mount Sinai, abounds with Christ, and sets forth much of Christ every way.

(a) Gal. 3. 23

5. That, The Lord is well-pleased when Sinners, sensible of their own inability to endure God and his Law immediately, do flie out of themselves to a Mediator. How doth the Lord seem to be affected, when Israel (terrified with Gods voice, being unable to endure that which was commanded) fled to Moses the typical Mediator, that he might pass betwixt God and them, and in Moses to Christ the true Mediator typifyed: Now God had obtained one end of this terrible publication: now he had taken this self-conceited people in some measure off their own bottom, that they might not rest upon their own abilities and actions for justification, which were weak and insufficient: but only upon the abilities and sufficiencies of a Mediator, viz. In Christ especially. In like sort, the Lord is abundantly delighted when by the severity of the Law, any sinner is brought out of himself, taken off his own Base, to lean only upon Christ for salvation. This takes all glorying from the Creature: and devolves the whole glory upon God alone.

6. That, The Law promulged on Mount Sinai was given to Israel as a Covenant. It was not given precisely and absolutely as a Law, but as a Fœderal Law, or Covenant Law. For, 1 This Law given on Mount Sinai is divers times stiled (b) a Covenant. 2 The Tables wherein this Law was written, are called, (c) The Tables of the Covenant, and (d) The Covenants. 3 The Ark containing these Tables is called, The (e) Ark of the Covenant. 4 Gods (f) Preface to the Promulgation of the Law, is a Summary Abridgement of the Covenant and mutual Fœderal Obligations betwixt the Fœderate Parties. 5 The (g) Preface prefixed, and Promises intermixed, in the Law promulged, clearly import the Nature of a Covenant therein. 6 The Solemn (g) Fœderal Sanction or Ratification of this Law, by erecting an Altar to represent God the chief party to the Covenant, and twelve pillars by the Altar to represent the twelves tribes; By killing of Sacrifices and sprinkling the blood thereof half on the Altar, and half on the People, for mutual Confirmation thereof on both sides. 7 The breach of this Law is counted and called a (i) breaking of Gods Covenant. In all these regards it must needs be confessed this Law on Mount Sinai was given as a Covenant.

7. That, the Law on Mount Sinai, though seemingly given as a Covenant of works, yet was really given and intended as a Covenant of Faith.

Seemingly,

Seemingly, and at first blush, The Law given on Mount Sinai appears to be, and hath a face of a Covenant of works. For, 1. The Promulgation of the Law was with such and so many tokens of Divine Terror and Majesty, as seem inconsistent with the Gospel. 2. The tenor and Current of the Law seems to be wholly for Doing, not at all for Believing; for Works, not for Faith: and is for substance the same with the Law of Nature, the Covenant of Works, naturally engraven in mans heart in innocency. 3. Israel was not (k) able to endure that which was commanded, but fled from God, apprehending that that great fire would destroy them, and if God should speak to them any more they should die. 4. Israel are said to (l) break this Covenant, and the Tables were (m) broken by Moses to signifie so much to them. But the Covenant of Faith is so contrived in, and founded on Christ, as it is beyond our breaking of it.

(l) Ier. 31. 32.
(m) Exod. 32. 19.

But really and indeed the Law on Mount Sinai was intended and given as a Covenant of Faith, though very different from all the foregoing discoveries and dispensations of the Covenant of Faith. For, 1. In the Preface of the ten words of the Law God declares himself, The Lord; Their God; viz. Peculiarly, By Covenant, (for by Creation and Common Providence he was others God, as well as theirs;) and Their Redeemer from Egypt: (n) A type of their Redemption from spiritual and eternal bondage by Jesus Christ. Since mans fall the Lord is not a God in Covenant to any, but only in Christ; nor a Spiritual and eternal Redeemer to any, but in him only. 2. The Law was given (o) in the hands of a Mediator, viz. Moses, the Typical, Christ the true Mediator. The Covenant of Faith is with a Mediator: The Covenant of works is without a Mediator, needs no Mediator. 3. To the Moral Law, the Ceremonial was annexed as an additional explanation thereof, especially of the first Table. (p) Both Morals and Ceremonials were given the self-same day on Mount Sinai. And the Ceremonials Types of Jesus Christ, the (q) Body and substance of them all. 4. The Law (r) was stablished as a Covenant by the death and blood of Sacrifices: shadowing out the true death and blood of Christ the true Sacrifice, whereby the everlasting Covenant was Confirmed. 5. This Sinai-Covenant (s) admitted of Repentance after the peoples transgressing thereof, and of Pardoning Mercy upon their Repentance: Which is according to the tenor of the Gospel, and Covenant of Faith. But the Covenant of works (t) denounceth Death upon the least transgression, leaving no room for repentance, nor hope of mercy. By all these Considerations its evident, That the Law given on Mount Sinai as a Covenant, was given indeed as a Covenant of Faith: And only seemed to be given as a Covenant of Works. None of all those former Considerations being inconsistent with the Covenant of Faith, nor necessarily concluding for a Covenant of works. For, (1) The terror of the promulgation, was but to drive that people out of themselves to a Mediator, as a (u) Schoolmaster to bring them to Christ: and setting forth the different dispensation of the Old estament from the New: that working the (x) spirit of bondage to fear, this the spirit of Adoption to filial Confidence (y) The Law requires not only Doing, but Believing; not only works, but Faith in God in Christ; both in the first Commandment, compared with the preface prefixed, and otherwise: as hath been (y) already proved. (3) The rigour of that Old Testament dispensation kept Israel at a greater distance from God, yet drave not the people quite away from God, as the Covenant of Works drives the lapsed sinner quite from God: but we (z) draw nigh by the blood of Jesus under the New Testament dispensation. (4) Israel brake the Sinai-Covenant, not absolutely, so as utterly to evacuate the same for ever; For God renewed it again: but respectively, in regard of their own desert, they made forfeiture thereof, though God would not take the advantage of the forfeiture. But the Covenant of works once broken by Adam, was broken irreparably.

8. That, The Sinai-Law and Covenant was dispensed with much darkness and obscurity, with much bondage and slavish fear, keeping off the people at a great distance from God; in comparison of the New Covenant, wherein that cloudiness, veil, terror, bondage, &c. are done away in Christ. The Church, then being in her Minority, (a) was under Tutors and Governors; now grown to ripeness of age is in spiritual liberty.

(a) Gal. 4. 1, 2, 3.

9. Lapsed sinners, though brought into a Covenant of Faith, yet of themselves are not able to keep that Covenant in Faith and obedience, notwithstanding all their resolutions and promises to that end. How fully did Israel Promise: but how foully did Israel fail and come short in Performances! ——

10. Though Gods Covenant-people sometimes fail on their part in Covenant-performances, yet God upon their Repentance for the Mediators sake pardoneth their sins most graciously, and reneweth his Covenant with them: Though they fail on their part, God will not on his; nor suffer his Covenant utterly to fail for evermore. Its their Duty, conditioned in this Covenant, to repent, in case of miscarriages against the Covenant: Its their great Priviledge and Dignity, that they have liberty and ability of repenting, and shall be accepted upon their Repentance. This Covenant opening such a door of Repentance for offences against it, was certainly a Gospel Covenant of Faith for the Consolation of Israel in Jesus Christ.

Thus of the Form of Gods first manifestation and Establishment of this Sinai-Covenant with Israel.

Section II.

II. Touching the outward Form or Manner of this Sinai-Covenant's Ensuing Administration, after it was manifested and established, It was actually administred and put in execution. 1. With much external Glory. 2. With some darkness veiling that Glory. 3. With a very servile Pædagogy to a Church under age. 4. With a visible and successive Ministery, Ordinary and Extraordinary for application of this Covenant and Pædagogy to Israel. 5. With Universal respect and reference to the whole National Church of the Jews. 6. With a distinctive differencing of the Jewish Church, (the then only Church in the world) from all other people and Societies on Earth. 7. With such a Church of God, as was also a Theocracy, or Gods own peculiar Common-wealth. Let me clear and open these a little.

I. With much external Glory. Paul, enumerating the Jewish Priviledges, saith, (b) Who are Israelites: to whom pertaineth the Adoption and the Glory, and the Covenants, and the giving of the Law, &c. And elsewhere, (c) If the ministration of Death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, in that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his Countenance, which glory was to be done away, &c. Wherein he plainly declares that, This Sinai-Covenant had a glorious Ministration: though it was but a vanishing glory, which was to be done away; and an inferiour glory to that of the New Testament, having no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth. The outward glory of this Ministration shewed it self many waies. viz.

(b) Rom. 9. 4.

(c) 2 Cor. 3. 7. to 12.

1. In the very face of Moses, the First Minister thereof from God to Israel. When he had been in the Mount with the God of Glory, to receive the Tables of the renewed Covenant, and was now come down to Administer the same to the people, (d) the skin of his face did shine so gloriously, that (till he had put a veil upon his face) the people were afraid of him, could not stedfastly behold him. This signified (as Paul intimates) The (e) glory of this Ministration, far surpassing the weakness of Israels apprehension, till it was veiled with shadows. Israel so received the Law, Glorious and terrible, that they could not stedfastly look to Christ the end of the Law, but only by the Grace of Christ: but when the Jews shall be turned to the Lord Christ, they shall behold Christ the end of the Law, the veil of blindness and hardness upon their hearts being taken away.

2. In the Ark of the Covenant, wherein the two Tables of the Covenant were kept. Of all the sacred things this was most excellent. Its often, by way of Emphasis and singular dignity, called, (f) THE GLORY: being an Eminent Type of Gods glorious Christ, and Token of the special presence of the glorious God in the midst of Israel.

5. In the Holy-Garments and Ornaments of the Prieſts for Miniſtration therein: which were very eminent (i) for glory and for beauty.

Now all this Outward typical Glory of the Old Teſtament Miniſtration ſhadowed out the true inward ſpiritual Glory of the New Teſtaments diſpenſation.

II. With great darkneſs and obſcurity upon all this Outward Glory. Though Moſes face did ſhine gloriouſly: yet his glorious Countenance (l) was covered with a veil. Though the Ark, Tabernacle, Holy Utenſils, Holy Garments, and the whole Miniſtration were outwardly beauteous and glorious: yet there was a cloud, a veil upon all this glory: the ſpiritual Myſterie and end therein intended, viz. Jeſus Chriſt the life and ſoul of this Covenant, was ſet forth thereby but typically and darkly. But this dark (m) veil is done away in Chriſt under the New Teſtament. Likewiſe the dark veil of unbelief and blindneſs upon the hearts of the Jews, (n) ſhall be done away when they return to Chriſt. This inward Darkneſs of their hearts, ſo aggravated the Outward darkneſs of this Covenants Miniſtration, that none but the ſpiritual Jews did behold the Spiritual End and Myſterie thereof.

III. With a ſervile and burdenſome Pædagogy. The Church of Iſrael in the wilderneſs was in her extream Infancy; and from Moſes till the death of Chriſt, was as a Child in Minority under age, but growing up by degrees to Maturity. Therefore God under this Covenant gave Iſrael a more ſervile Pœdagogy, or childe-like ſchooling: though ſhe was heir by Covenant, yet ſhe remained as a ſervant in condition, till the fulneſs of time came. (o) The heir as long as he is a child differeth nothing from a ſervant, though he be Lord of all, but is under Tutors and Governors, untill the time appointed of the Father: even ſo we, when we were children, were in bondage under the Elements of the world. But when the fulneſs of the time was come, &c. This Pœdagogy, or childe-like ſchooling of Iſrael under the Miniſtration of this Covenant was ſo exceeding chargeable, laborious, and every way gravaminous, that Peter confeſſeth, it was a (p) yoke which neither we, nor our Fathers were able to bear. And Paul intimates, mates, it was an (q) Intangling yoke of bondage. And therefore by way of an Elegant Allegory (r) he compares this Old Covenant to Hagar the bond-woman, gendring to bondage, and the New Covenant to Sarah the free-woman, gendring to freedom. This Covenant brought forth children and heirs to God, but in a more servile condition of bondage under Tutors and Governors, till Christ. But as one notes well; (s) There's a twofold servitude, 1. One to Damnation, which shuts the sons of such disposition out of the Kingdom of Heaven, which was figured by the bondage of Ishmael and Hagar. This, the Covenant doth not beget in it self, but in them that rejected Christ the soul of the Law, and trusted in their works to be justified thereby. 2. The other of sons, which are held under the Nurture of the the Law and Legal Rites, but rest not in them, but by them are led unto Christ; which abide still in the house, and partake of the diginity of sons though under Tutors; And this Servitude is an effect of the Covenant thus administred. I add, This Covenant, thus administred, bred the former Servitude Indirectly and accidentally only, upon occasion of carnal Israelites abuse thereof through ignorance and unbelief: but it wrought the later servitude directly and properly, God intending so to nurture and train up his Church under age. Now in this servile Pœdagogy or child-like schooling of Israel under this Ministration, note briefly these Particulars, viz.

1. The School-master: the Law (t) Ὁ νόμος παιδαγωγὸς ἡμῶν γέγονεν εἰς Χριστόν; The Law became our School-master towards Christ, &c. What Law? Both the Moral and the Ceremonial Law, as digested into the Old Covenant, or Old Testament. For, both these school the sinner, by Instruction and Correction. And both these, by such schooling carry on and conduct the sinner towards Christ, as hath been abundantly proved.

2. The School-House, The wordly Sanctuary, viz. The Tabernacle in the wilderness, and till the daies of Solomon: The Temple from Solomon, till Christ. Every School-Master hath his School, wherein he Nurtues his Scholars: So this Covenant had its School for the Jews under it. (u) Then verily the First Covenant had also Ordinances of Divine Service, and a worldly Sanctuary. For there was a Tabernacle made, &c. Thither (x) all Israel must come, To seek Gods Oracles, and Answers, And to offer up all their Sacrifices. There all the Males of Israel must appear before the Lord thrice every year.

3. The Lesson to be learned by the Israelites, from this School-master, in this School (y) Jesus Christ, This Covenant administred in the Sanctuary, Primarily taught Jesus Christ to Israel: viz. 1. The Necessity of Christ to Salvation, Themselves being otherwise involved under sin and misery remedilesly, as the Law did convince them; 2. The sufficiency of Jesus Christ unto Salvation, As the Types and Ceremonies did evidence to them. This grand Lesson touching Jesus Christ their Saviour was more plainly & fully taught by by this, then by all the fore-going Covenants. And yet by this, only as in a more ſervile School; not as in a more free Univerſity, which is the Priviledge of the New Covenant. Under this Covenant from Moſes till David, Iſrael had the A B C and firſt Rudiments of Chriſt, they were taught, as it were, to Know their Letters, and to Spell Chriſt, in the Types and darker promiſes: From David till the Captivity, they were taught more perfectly to read Chriſt, in the Explanations of the Types and figures of Chriſt by more full and clear Promiſes: From the Captivity to Chriſt, they became more ripe in the knowledge of Chriſt ſhortly to come into his Temple, earneſtly deſiring him and longing for him. And ſo when Chriſt Jeſus came they were prepared for the Univerſity-Inſtruction of the New Teſtament.

4. The way of teaching this Leſſon: was Gradual, and proportionable to the dulneſs of Iſraels capacity. This Covenant taught them Chriſt eſpecially by theſe three ſteps. viz. 1. By exacting (z) perfect and perpetual Perſonal obedience from them, under penalty of the Curſe. Which (a) becauſe of the weakneſs of their fleſh, they could not poſſibly perform. 2. By detecting hereupon to themſelves their (b) ſin and miſery. That ſo their undone condition may convince them of the neceſſity of a Saviour. 3. By (c) directing them to Chriſt, that only All-ſufficient Saviour, by whom alone exactly performing all Obedience, and enduring our deſerved Curſe, they may be juſtified through Faith. Shutting them up unto that Faith which ſhould afterwards be more fully revealed, under the New Teſtament.

For Correcting the delinquencies and faults of Iſrael, this Covenant had a ſharp (e) Rod of Threatnings of many grievous Temporal Calamities eſpecially, to keep them in aw. As School-maſters have their Rods and Ferula's for negligent and unruly boyes: according to the ſaying: A Rod in the School is a neceſſary Tool. II. For ſubduing the ſtubbornneſs of Iſrael (who was generally a ſtiff-necked and rebellious people) the Lord in this Covenant had divers waies and Methods. As, 1. By a burdenſome (f) yoke of Ceremonial Ordinances laid upon their necks, which at laſt grew intolerable to them, and is now under the New Teſtament wholly laid aſide. This was a very coſtly, painful and cumberſome yoke continually to them: and did exceedingly tend to ſubjugate and tame them. 2. By many Reſtraints laid upon them: confirming and abridging their liberties exceedingly, to bring them under. Israels Proficiency under this School-Nurture and Pædagogy was manifold and more or less in one regard or other, the advantage redounded to the whole body of that Church. For, 1. Some of them were hereby (i) preserved from Paganish Idolatries, Superstitions, Prophannesses, and many abominable evils which they had seen in Egypt, and did after see in Canaan: their hands being full of Gods better work and imployments, which took them up. As busie children, though incapable of learning, yet are kept at School from many shrewd turns. 2. Some of them (k) gained knowledge in the Moral and Ceremonial Duties of the Covenant: though the mysterie of the Covenant, viz. Jesus Christ was veiled and hid from them. As many boyes at school learn to read, write, and cast accompt: though incapable of being University-Scholars. 3. Some of them, viz. the (l) Spiritual Israelites indeed; they that were Jews inwardly, gained a sufficient measure of the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ in this Covenant: though their clearest knowledge was dark and obscure in Comparison of ours gained under the New Covenant. 4. All of them, even the whole Church of the Jews were (m) shut up as in a Prison, under this Covenant, to the Faith that should afterwards be more fully revealed, Confined thereby within the bounds & limits of Faith, that they should not seek for Salvation any other way, then by Jesus Christ through Faith. Thus the (n) Law was their School-Master towards Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. This branch hath elsewhere been already (o) explained. Thus the Jews in some way or other, notably thrived under this Pædagogy.

Finally, The advancement of Israel in fulness of time, from this more servile Pædagogy of the Old Covenant, to the more free Tutor-age of the New Covenant: As good Scholars are sent from School, to the University. (p) But after that Faith (that is, the more clear, and full Doctrine of sinners salvation by faith in Jesus Christ) is come, we are no longer under a School-Master: for ye are all the children of God by Faith in Christ Jesus. And are no longer under (q) the Spirit of bondage, as servants, to fear: but under the Spirit of Adoption, as sons and heirs come to age, to cry Abba Father.

IV. With a visible Ministry, ordained and erected by God amongst them, for applying of this Covenant and the benefits thereof unto them, especially for applying to them Jesus Christ the grand mysterie of the Covenant. This Ministry was twofold. 1. Ordinary. 2. Extraordinary.

1. Ordinary, (r) The Levitical Priesthood: which in a lineal descent were were to succeed Moses and Aaron till the time of Reformation, viz. the days of the New Testament. This Levitical Preisthood had principally two sorts of imployments which were peculiar to them viz. 1. Offering up of ([f]) Sacrifices daily, first for their own sins, and then for the Peoples. Which ([t]) Sacrifices (though they sanctified to the purifying of the flesh, yet) could not make him that did the Service perfect, as pertaining to the Conscience. But they typed out to Israel, ([u]) the Sacrifice of Sacrifices, viz. the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ; who through the Eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, and so purged the Conscience from dead works, to serve the living God. ([x]) —— For, by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. 2. Offering up of ([y]) Incense daily upon the Golden Altar before the veil, while the people were praying without, Luk. 1. 9, 10. which typed out Christs continual intercession in heaven for his people by his sweetest and most acceptable Merit. Which ([z]) incense of his merit being put to the prayers of all Saints, their faithful prayers become acceptable and sweet before God as the most fragrant incense. Thus Jesus Christ our great High-Priest by his Satisfaction and Intercession swallowed up the Sacrifices and Incense of the Levitical Priesthood, as the Substance, Truth and Mysterie intended in those Types: and the ([a]) Priesthood under the Law served unto the example and shadow of heavenly things.

2. Extraordinary, the Prophets of all sorts which Prophesied to Israel during the time of the Old Testament. According to the true intent of this Covenant, These Prophets, 1. Revealed Christ the Messiah in many Promises, expounding this Covenant; 2. Exhorted the people frequently to come to him, and accept him by believing in him; 3. Encouraged them to walk answerably to him in all sincere obedience and well-pleasing; 4 Warned them against all sinful ways inconsistent with faith in Christ, and obedience to him, Inviting them frequently to Repentance in case of such miscarriages. All which proceedings are most obvious and observable; 1. In the Ministry of ([b]) all the Prophets before John. 2. In the Ministry ([c]) of John Baptist, greater then all the Prophets, pointing out Christ the true Lamb of God with his finger. 3. In the Ministry of Jesus Christ himself, ([d]) that Great Prophet of Prophets, who was under the Law, and a Minister of the Circumcision, till by his Death he abrogated the Old Testament Administration.

V. With universal reference to the whole National Church of the Jews, which was till Christs death the only Church of God in the whole world. Here two things are to be considered.

1. That this Covenant was dispensed in such manner, as to be extended to the whole National Church of the Jews, and their Seed from Generation to Generation, (the Natural Seed of Abraham bearing the face of the National Church). For, This Covenant, 1. Was Promulged ([e]) to all Israel; 2. Was established ([f]) with all Israel; 3. Was Renewed

(e) Exod. 19 & 20.

Renewed (g) with all Israel, after their violation thereof; 4. And was at last performed to the whole Church in the Land of Canaan, &c.

2. That, though this Covenant was extended in the dispensation thereof to the whole National Church, Abraham's natural Seed: yet every of them did not alike, either perform Covenant-Conditions to God, or partake Covenant-Mercies and blessings from God. Some were Jews only ἐν τῷ φανερῷ outwardly, and in the flesh: Some were Jews also ἐν τῷ κρυπτῷ, inwardly and in the Spirit, as the (h) Apostle lays down the distinction. Now the Carnal Jew had his share only in the Carnal outward temporary blessings and outward visible Ordinances: which yet was an high dignity above Covenantless Pagans. The Spiritual Jew had his part and interest both in the Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal blessings of the Covenant. The Carnal Jew shared in the Typical Sacrifices, Altar, Priesthood, Tabernacle, Canaan, &c. but the Spiritual Jew shared in Christ himself the true Sacrifice, Altar, Priest and Tabernacle, and in Heaven that true eternal (i) Rest remaining to the People of God, whereof Canaan was but an obscure typical administration. But whatsoever mercies either of them enjoyed, they enjoyed them only as Covenant-blessings in and through Christ of meer Grace.

VI. With a distinctive differencing of the Jewish Church (the then only Church in the world) from all other people and Societies on Earth. As God did by this Covenant appropriate Israel to himself, as his own People: So he did thereby separate and distinguish them from all others, as his only People. This was a distinguishing Covenant. Hence, God in his Preparing them for this Covenant, tels Israel; (k) If ye will obey my voyce indeed, and keep my Covenant, then ye shall be [Segullah] a peculiar treasure unto me above all people, though all the Earth be mine. And hereupon Paul describing the Condition of the Gentiles before Christ, ranks this in the Catalogue of their Spiritual miseries, that they were (l) strangers from the Covenants of Promise: whereupon they were a people afar off from God, when (m) Israel was a people near unto him: yea, this Covenant did so discriminate, and wall in the Iews from all others, in the Administration of it, That it is stiled, (n) The Middle wall of Partition betwixt Jews and Gentiles, broken down by Christ: and the Enmity, even the Law of Commandments in Ordinances, abolished in his flesh. So that this Covenant till the death of Christ, distinguished the Jews from all others, as Forreiners, and Strangers, and Enemies. Israel was Gods Garden-shut-up, his peculiar Incloſure: all the other Nations of the Gentiles were as the wild Waste, Common, Heath, or Wilderness; till Christ by his Death (o) took away this Distinction, and by his New-Covenant took in the Gentiles to the Jews, making in himself, of twain, one New man, so making Peace; Reconciling both unto God in one body by the Cross, having slain the Enmity thereby, &c.

VII. Finally, The Administration of this Covenant was such, that therein he dealt with Israel as his peculiar Common-wealth also, as well as his peculiar and only Church. And therefore as he gave them Morals and Ceremonials to Regulate them as his Church in all matters of Religion: so he gave them Judicials or Judgements to guide them as his Common-wealth in all matters of Civil concernment. (p) When Israel came out of Egypt, &c. —— Judah was his Sanctuary: and Israel his Dominion. Hence some stile them A Theocracy. Which Judicials were with Morals and Ceremonials (q) digested into the body of this Covenant, being Published by God, written by Moses joyntly in a Book, And all Read together to the People, and assented unto by them in the day of this Covenants solemn Sanction. God himself being the immediate Author, Enactor and Lawgiver of these Judicials, they were the most wise, equal, righteous, and full Political Laws that ever were established in any Common-wealth in the world: there being no Folly, Iniquity, Tyranny, or Insufficiency in them, which evils usually attend, more or less, all humane Laws. So that the Political Laws of other Re-publicks are best, that come neareſt to Gods Judgements. Thus God would appropriate Israel to himself peculiarly in all Capacities, as Abrahams Seed and Family, As a Church, and as a Common-wealth. He would be their Father, as his Family: Their Redeemer, as his Church: Their Lord and King, as his Common-wealth: Their God, as All. And therefore when Israel would have a King, like the Nations, God tels them (r) that they had rejected him from being their King. And so he gave them a King in his anger: and took him away in his wrath. O happy that people, which in every notion, capacity and consideration are Gods people!

Inferences. Hence observe,

1. That, God disposed and ordered the affairs of Israel under this Old Covenant with infinite wisdom, care, love, and faithfulness. This Dispensation came much short of the New Testament administration: but it was sufficient for Israels Salvation, and peculiarly accommodate to their weak apprehension and Condition. God did exceedingly condescend unto them, who were not able to ascend unto him. How wisely, lovingly, and faithfully did he set forth this Covenant, viz. 1. With much outward Glory: to prevent their ensnarements by the pompous idolatries and superstitions of Pagans, to retain them more delightfully in his own pure worship, and to lead them on thereby to the surpassing inward glory of his true spiritual worship. 2. With a veil of darkness upon that glory: For, That glory without a veil dazled their weak sight, they had such a veil of ignorance, unbelief, and hardness upon their minds and hearts that they could not receive it; They spelled Christ out in the ABC of veiling Types and Shadows; nor was that great mysterie of Christ to be revealed clearly without these, till the fulness of time. 3. With a Servile Pædagogy, or child-like nurture, leading them to Christ:

Christ: For, they were children but under age, and therefore incapable of riper instruction. 4. With a Constant succession of an Ordinary and Extraordinary Ministry, till the very death of Christ: For informing their judgements, For reforming their hearts and lives, for directing their practices, and for encouraging them to apply to themselves, and wait for Christ the consolation of Israel. 5. With the whole body of that people and their Posterity: His love to them had multiplyed them, and was now manifested more extensively towards them, then in any former generation: All shall reap Covenant-benefit, of one sort or another; And he will not cast off any of them or their Seed, till first they cast off him. 6. With Distinguishing Israel from all People, as his peculiar-treasure. Distinguishing mercies are eminent mercies. 7. With reference to their Civil, as well as Ecclesiastical state: that they might be his endeared and obliged people in all capacities.

2. That, The advantage of the Jews was very great above all other people. This Covenant-administration ([t]) was a middle wall of Partition betwixt them and all others. Hereupon, 1. Israel were Gods peculiar-treasure; all other Nations but as refuse and Rubbish: 2. Israel ([u]) the inclosed Garden of God; All others as a dry desart and desolate Wilderness: 3. Israel ([x]) the sheep of Gods Pasture; all others the Goats of the Mountains: 4. Israel look'd to, and cared for, by God; all others ([y]) over-looked and disregarded in their ignorance and unbelief: 5 Israel ([z]) shut up unto the Faith; All others shut out from the Faith: 6 Israel nurtured ([a]) in the School of Iesus Christ; All others ([b]) without Christ, Covenant, Hope, and God in the world.

3. That, Israel during this Covenant, from Moses giving of the Law, till the Death of Iesus Christ, was in Nonage or Minority. For all this while God bred them up ([c]) as children with Rudiments and Elements under Tutors and Governors, till the fulness of time was come. Their Infancy was in the Wilderness; Their childhood from Ioshuah, till David; Their youth from David, till the Captivity: Their riper age, wherein they drew neareſt to full age, was from the Captivity, till Christ. All this while they were in Minority: yet growing on to Maturity. Thus the Old Testament yeilded only children, but the New Testament Men in Spiritual capacities. That was a more Imperfect, This a more Perfect dispensation of Gods Covenant.

4. That, The Jews were an exceeding untractable people, a stubborn, rebellious and stiff-necked Nation. And therefore God laid this heavy iron-yoke upon their necks, to tame and subjugate them, to break them and bring them under his Scepter and Government. Whereas Christs ([d]) New-Testament-yoke is easie, and his burden light: his people being a ([e]) willing people in the day of his power.

5. That, The carnal Jews, who embraced not Life and Salvation in in Christ tendred by this Covenant, were utterly inexcusable. In the day of their condemnation, they shall have no Apologie or excuse for themselves, because this Covenant was extended to the whole body of Israel, and salvation by Christ was therein offered to the whole body of that people, to the Carnal, as well as to the Spiritual Iews. The (f) Election only embrace and obtain it, the rest are hardned. The fault is not at all in God, but in themselves. This Covenant was administred with universal reference unto all: but the Carnal sort rested in the Carnal and outward Promises thereof, neglecting Spirituals and Eternals primarily intended. They licked the Rock, but sucked not the hony out of the Rock.

(f) Rom. 11. 7.

6. That, The Old Testament-administration had much (g) Servitude and Bondage in it: and kept Israel under it in Minority, as Servants in Condition, though heirs by Promise and Covenant. Hagar (h) the bond-woman was a Type or Allegory of this Covenant from Mount Sinai, gendering to bondage. ——— The Apostle stiles this, (i) A yoke of bondage. And elsewhere intimates, That (k) the Spirit of Bondage to fear, was more proper to the Old; The Spirit of Adoption whereby we cry Abba Father, was more peculiar to the New Testament: And that (l) Christ by his being made under the Law redeemed them from this Servile State, to the adoption of sons; from a Servile, to a free Son-like condition. This shews the Preheminence of the New Testament above the Old: and the Priviledge of Christians above the Iews.

7. Finally, That this Old Testament, in respect of the Form of Administration, was far Superior to all Covenant-Expressures foregoing, as is evident by all the former particulars: but far Inferior to the New Testament, the administration whereof is more Free, Sublime and Spiritual, as will after in due place appear.

Aphorism VI.

6. The End or Scope of this Sinai-Covenant.

The End or intended Scope of Gods Covenant with Israel and their Seed from Mount Sinai, was Gods fuller Revealing of Jesus Christ the Promised Saviour of Sinners, for the greater Furtherance of Israels Present and future Happiness, and of his own wonderful Glory. (m) Now Christ is the End of the Law for righteousness to every believer.

(m) Rom. 10. 4.

In this Apherism the Scope or End of the Sinai-Covenant is laid down, I. As More Immediate, viz. Gods fuller Revealing of Jesus Christ the Promised Saviour of Sinners. II. As more Mediate and Remote, viz. 1. The less Principal and Subordinate End, viz. The great furtherance of Israels present and future Happiness. 2. The most Principal and Ultimate End, viz. Gods furtherance hereby of his own wonderful glory. In unfolding of these particulars, Gods intended Scope or End in this Covenant will be sufficiently explained. Herein I account Jesus Christ the more Immediate End of this Covenant, because he is the Primary Mean, for advancing of Mans Happiness and Gods Glory.

I shall for plainness sake open this More Immediate, and Remote End, in two distinct Sections.

Section I.

The More Neer and Immediate End of this Sinai-Covenant, was Gods fuller Revealing of Jesus Christ the Promised Saviour of Sinners, to his people Israel. God had already Revealed Jesus Christ more darkly and imperfectly in all the fore-going Expressures of his Covenant: but in this Covevenant he would declare and reveal this Mysterie of Christ more fully. He had now made his Church to grow exceedingly: and his Manifestations of Grace and Mercy towards them in Christ, shall grow proportionably.

That, Gods fuller Revealing of Jesus Christ, the Promised Saviour of Sinners, to his people Israel, was his more Neer and Immediate End in this Sinai-Covenant, may be evinced by these ensuing Particulars, viz.

I. By sundry Scripture-Testimonies: Evincing; 1. That (n) Moses wrote of Jesus Christ of his Prophetical and Mediatory office, and of his Humiliation and Exaltation wherein he should execute his Office for Sinners Salvation. 2. That this Sinai-Covenant did lead Israel from all Opinion of Justification by their own Works, to Gods true and only way of Justification by supernatural Faith in Jesus Christ alone. The (o) Law shutting them up unto the Faith that after should be revealed: and being their Schoolmaster towards Christ, that they might be justified by Faith. As hath been (p) formerly cleared more at large. 3. That (q) Christ is the End of the Law for Righteousness to every one that believeth. So that when a man, as a Iew, or any other believers in Christ for justification and salvation by him, the Law hath attained its intended End and Scope: its Perfective, not its Destructive End. By all which Testimonies its plain that Iesus Christ was Gods more immediate End intended in this Covenant: Their Illumination, Justification, &c. being mediately intended by him.

II. By the peculiar Nature of this Covenant from Mount Sinai. It

(o) Gal. 3. 23, 24.

(q) Rom. 10 4.

It is often ſtiled a Covenant, by God, Moſes, the Prophets, and the Apoſtle Paul; And the Nature and Properties of a Covenant evidently agree to it, As I have (r) already ſhewed. And it was given by Moſes as an Evangelical Covenant of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt: as (s) I have abundantly proved by many Arguments. Now; this Sinai-Covenant being a Covenant of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt: Jeſus Chriſt, as the Sinners Saviour, muſt needs be the Immediate End of this Covenant, he being the Eminent and Immediate End of every Covenant of Faith.

(r) In this Chap. Aph. 2. partic. 1.
(s) Aphor. 2. Opin. 4. Partic. III.

III. By the Gradual excellency and Perfection of this Sinai-Covenant above all former expreſſures of the Covenant of Faith. Though Every Diſcovery of the Covenant of Faith from Firſt to laſt Reveal Chriſt, yet in them all God hath kept this beautiful Order, that every ſucceeding Covenant-diſcovery Reveals Jeſus Chriſt more fully then the former: as is plain to every intelligent eye. Conſequently it muſt needs be Gods more Immediate End in this Covenant to Reveal Jeſus Chriſt to Iſrael, more fully then he did reveal him to any of his people in any fore-going Covenant.

IV. By the Order and Dependance of Gods Ends intended in this Sinai-Covenant. Theſe Ends are eſpecially, God Glory, Mans Happineſs, Jeſus Chriſt, and Faith in Chriſt. Let theſe ends now be duly compared together, according to their Order of Nature, and mutual dependance: And it is plain, That the more Mediate and Remote Ends of this Covenant, were, Ultimately Gods Glory; Subordinately Iſraels Happineſs: And That the More Immediate End, in order to the advancement of Gods glory and Iſraels Happineſs, was a Fuller Revealing of Jeſus Chriſt as the Material Mean, and of Faith in him as the Inſtrumental Mean; without which their Happineſs could not be promoted nor God therein glorified. Subordinate and immediate Ends may have the Nature of Means in reference to Ends More Mediate and Remote.

V. By the General tendency of this Sinai-Covenant in one regard or another towards Jeſus Chriſt as the only Saviour and Redeemer of Iſrael. Let this Covenant be deliberately conſidered in what Notion or Capacity you will, it ſtill tends to Chriſt, aims at Chriſt, leads to Chriſt, looks towards Chriſt, more immediately, in one reſpect or other. As,

1. In the (t) Firſt Revealing or Manifeſtation of it to Iſrael at Mount Sinai. It was Manifeſted in ſuch ſort, as to Reveal Chriſt. As The Preparation for it, Preface to it, and Ceremonials annexed do abundantly evince.

(t) Exod. 19. & 20. & 21. & 22. 23.

2. In the ſolemn Sanction or Dedication of it. It was (u) ſtabliſhed in ſuch ſort, as that its ultimate foundation was Jeſus Chriſt, the true Sacrifice of Sacrifices.

(u) Exod. 24.

3. In the Lords gracious (x) Renovation of the broken Tables and Covenant: which he did of meer Grace and favour in Jeſus Chriſt. The Covenant of works without Jeſus Chriſt, admits of no Reparation, when once violated.

(x) Exod. 24. 1, &c.

4. In (y) the Preface, First Precept, and Promises, of the Moral Law; which, being the Marrow and Abstract of the Covenant, is by way of Eminency called (z) God Covenant. In all which Jesus Christ is necessarily implyed. For God is not the special and spiritual Redeemer of Sinners, nor the Covenant-God of any people, Nor makes he (a) Promises unto any, but only in and through Jesus Christ.

5. In all the additional Adumbrations of the (b) Ceremonial Law, annexed to the Moral, and digested with it into one Covenant. All those Ceremanies being Types and (c) shadows of good things to come: but the body was Christ. What were all the Ceremonies? but Christ veiled; but this Sun of righteousness under a cloud; but the Promised Seed and blessed Babe wrapped up in Levitical swadling-clothes. This see more particularly demonstrated in the VII. Aphorism next following, Corollary 7.

6. In the Explanations of this Covenant, by Moses and the Prophets, both in Morals and Ceremonials. Their Explanations in great part being clearer Promises, Predictions and Descriptions of Jesus Christ under manifold Notions and Considerations.

7. In the Administration of this Covenant from Moses till the Coming of Christ, which was in such Form and Manner, (d) as to lead the Jews along by the hand, as children under age, towards the Lord Jesus Christ, till at last Christ was actually presented and exhibited to them in Person, according to Gods Covenants and Promises from age to age.

Thus all the Streams of this Covenant flow towards this Sea; All the Lines of this Covenant tend to this Center; All the beams of this Covenant meet in this Sun, Jesus Christ. These Particulars I (e) have formerly cleared in several places, and therefore do but now briefly mention them.

Section II.

The more Remote and Mediate End of this Covenant, was two fold. 1. Less Principal and subordinate. 2. Principal and Ultimate.

I. The less Principal and Subordinate End of this Covenant, was, The great furtherance of Israels present and future Happiness. One eminent branch of this happiness Paul mentions, Jesus Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness, &c. The Lord singularly intended and aimed at the Good and Happiness of his Israel in this Covenant: and that both in Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals; As is abundantly evident on Partly, by Gods Liberal Promises of all these three sorts of blessings to Israel in this Covenant; Partly, by the Covenant-

(f) Rom. 10. 4.

Duties restipulated by Israel: both which have been (g) formerly explained. Why did the Lord Promise in this Covenant such a Confluence of all these Blessings; and require from Israel such Duties; but because it was his gracious aim and intention therein highly to promote and further Israels welfare and Happiness in every regard? So that if all these sorts of blessings Covenanted and promised to Israel on Gods part, and of Duties restipulated to God on Israels part, be duly considered, nothing more at all need to be added for proof of this Particular.

(g) See in this Chap. Aphor. 5. IV Sect. 1. & II.

II. The Principal and ultimate End which God intended in this Covenant, was a fuller advancement of his own Glory, then by any or all former Covenant-Expressures. Gods glory is the chief End of all his Acts; Before Time, or in Time. And therefore Gods Glory must needs be his last and highest End, in all his Gradual Discoveries of his Covenant: Every subsequent degree thereof tending to advance his most excellent Glory, beyond the former. God advanced his own Glory in this Sinai-Covenant, far more then in the discoveries of fore-going Covenants. Herein he Eminently magnified;

1. The glory of the Riches of his free-grace. And this sundry wayes. 1. By selecting them, and appointing them by this Covenant to be (h) his Segullah, his peculiar-treasure above all the people of the world, (though all the world be his): setting his love upon them, and choosing them, not for any thing in them, but because the LORD loved them. 2. By renewing this violated Covenant to Israel again, of meer Grace: Promising, (i) I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy.

2. The Glory of his Goodness, Mercy, Loving-kindness, &c. 1. By replenishing this Covenant, beyond all the former, (k) with Precious Promises of Temporals, Spirituals and Eternals. Of (l) Mercy Promises are made: of Truth they are made good and performed. 2. By accepting Israel to be his (m) Covenant people in expres terms: which in former Covenants was but implyed. 3. By Proclaiming his name, and (n) making all his goodness pass before Moses, at the Renewing of the Covenant broken by the peoples Idolatry: which Goodness was so proclaimed for the Consolation of repenting Israel. 4. By Revealing Jesus Christ more abundantly and clearly in this, then in any former Covenant: Especially in all the (o) Ceremonials, which were shadows of good things to come, but the body was of Christ. 5. By taking Israel for his own Family, his own Church, his own Common-wealth.

3. The Glory of his infinite Wisdom. 1. By his most wise contrivance of this Covenant: making it up of Law and Gospel, of the substance of the Covenant of works, and of the Covenant of Faith. That Israel might see, how the Covenant of works must be performed and satisfied by the Exactness of the Obedience and sufferings of Christ their Surety, that Gods truth and justice might not be impeached: And how the Covenant of Faith must be performed by the uprightness uprightneſs of all Chriſts members true Faith and Obedidience in Chriſt, that Gods goodneſs, mercy, &c. might be exalted. 2. By his moſt wiſe Revealing of this (p) Covenant in ten words, or ten Commandments; ſo Conciſe in ſentences, ſo comprehenſive in Senſe: That, There's no Sin, for kind, degree or aggravation, but is therein condemned; There's no Duty to God, man, or our ſelves, but is therein commanded: There's no Curſe or Miſery due to ſin, but is therein implyed; There's no Promiſe for the life that now is, or that which is to come, but is therein virtually comprized. 3. By his moſt wiſe Adminiſtration of this Covenant in ſuch ſort, as might moſt avail, To force Iſrael out of themſelves; To conduct Iſrael towards Chriſt; and To prepare Iſrael for Chriſt.

(p) Deut. 4. 13.

4. The Glory of his moſt vigilant and accurate Providence, in (q) managing all the affairs of Iſrael continually, in an infallible ſubordination to, and ſubſervience of this Covenant. And this, 1. In the wilderneſs for forty years together. 2. In Canaan for many hundreds of years together. 3. In their Enemies Lands, even under their deepeſt Captivity.

(q) Neh. 9. 8. to 32. Pſal. 106. 19. to the end.

5. The Glory of his Truth and Faithfulneſs. 1. By bringing all things exactly to paſs according to this Covenant and Promiſe. He caſt out the Canaanites, he (r) poſſeſſed Iſrael of Canaan, giving them reſt round about. (r) There failed not ought of any good thing, which the LORD had ſpoken unto the houſe of Iſrael: all came to paſs. 2. By performing his Covenant moſt accurately; (t) Againſt all interpoſing difficulties, and ſeeming impoſſibilities. No wilderneſs wants or Miſeries, No death of all that whole Generation of Warriours, No proud waves of the River Jordan which they were to paſs, No numerous enemies, No fenced Cities, with walls reaching up to heaven, No ſons of Anak, &c. could hinder their promiſed ſettlemnt in Canaan. (x) Againſt all tract or length of time betwixt Promiſe and Performance. Canaan (one Covenant-Mercy) was performed after their 40 years ſojourning in the wilderneſs: The Temple (another Covenant-Mercy) was builded about 440 years after their entring Canaan: Jeſus Chriſt (the great promiſed Prophet) was raiſed up to them about 930 years after the building of Solomons Temple. Yet at laſt in their Seaſon theſe Promiſes were fulfilled, not one failed. (y) And (which is moſt of all) contrary to Iſraels many and hainous (f) ſins, juſtly endangering and deſerving the avoidance of Gods Covenant, yet Gods Covenant was fulfilled to them of his infinite faithfulneſs.

(f) Neh. 9. 8. to 32. Pſal. 106. 19. to the end. & 78.

6. The Glory of his Patience and Long-ſuffering. By forbearing them ſo long in the wilderneſs, in Canaan, and in their Enemies Lands, (notwithſtanding all their many and grievous provocations, for which they had juſtly and often deſerved to be deſtroyed;) yea, By labouring to overcome their evil with his goodneſs in keeping his promiſed bleſſings upon them.

7. Finally, By this Covenant God Magnified the Glory of his infinite Power

Power and Majesty. For, 1. How (t) glorious was his Might and Majesty in promulging this Covenant at Mount Sinai! 2. How glorious his power and Majesty in the establishment of his Covenant, enabling his mortal people to behold a (u) vision of his greatness without harm! 3. How great his Power and Majesty, when he (x) renewed this Covenant, in putting such glory upon a Mortal creature, Moses his face, that Israel was not able to look upon him but through a veil! 4. How great his Power and Majesty, (1) In Conducting and sustaining such a people so long in the wilderness; (2) In possessing them peacebly of (y) Canaan, in despite of all their enemies; (3) In (z) returning their Captivity into their own land beyond all probability; (4) And especially, in (a) raising up Jesus Christ, the Prophet promised of the Seed of Israel, against all ordinary possibility, A virgin bringing forth a Son without the loss of her virginity, yea, a Sinner bringing forth a Saviour for sinners, a true and perfect man without any propagation or derivation of sinful impurity to him.

So that by all this its clear, God in this Covenant had a singular, a principal intent and eye to his own glory.

Inferences. Are these the chief Ends of this Sinai-Covenant?

1. Then, One and the self-same Covenant may have several Ends. And this without any inconvenience or absurdity: provided those Ends be some of them More neer and Immediate, others More Remote and Mediate; Some of them subordinate, others of them Ultimate. And such are all these forementioned Ends in this Covenant. Jesus Christ, the life and Salvation of Israel, was the More Neer and Immediate end of it: Israels Temporal Spiritual and eternal Happiness by Jesus Christ through Faith was the more Remote and Subordinate end of it: The further advancement of Gods Glory in and by both was the Principal and ultimate end of it.

2. Then, This Sinai-Covenant was not a meer Carnal and Temporal Covenant touching a Temporal Canaan, and outward earthly blessings there: as some have fondly imagined: but was a spiritual Covenant, principally intending Christ Jesus the Saviour, Israels spiritual and eternal happiness by him, and Gods eminent Glory in all. The Lord did not feed the fathers under the Old Testament only with the husks of earthly Blessings; but by them as Types he led them on to the truth of Spiritual and Eternal benefits especially intended. Though it cannot be denyed that God dealt with his Israel (then his (b) Church under age) more darkly, carnally and outwardly, in tendering Spirituals and Eternals to them: but now more clearly, Spiritually and inwardly, in tendering Spirituals and Eternals to his riper Churches under the New Testament.

(b) Gal. 4. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

3. Then, The End of this Covenant was not meerly or partly Legal, viz. to lead Israel unto Justification by works without Jesus Christ: but was purely and only Evangelical, viz. to carry Israel on (c) to Justification by Faith in Jesus Christ alone. True, The manner of this Covenants Pro-

Promulgation and Administration, the frequent and exact pressing of works and Doing to the uttermost Perfection, and that upon pain of the Curse in case of the least failing, may at the first blush make a man suspect this was a Law or Covenant of works: But, if the inward nature and substance, The many Evangelical Promises, Duties and Passages, The Truth of all the Types and Ceremonies, and the intended ends of this Covenant be intentively & judiciously considered; it is plain, beyond contradiction, that this is a pure Evangelical Covenant of Faith, (d) As hath formerly at large been proved, and the Contrary Objections refelled.

(d) Book III. Chap. 4. Aph. 2.

4. Then, This Sinai-Covenant did gradually much transcend and excell all the Former Covenants since the Fall, with Adam, Noah or Abraham. For, All the ends of this Covenant are gradually advanced higher, then the ends of those Covenants. For Substance the ends were the same in them all: but those in this Covenant excell in Degree. Christ, one end of this Covenant, is in this Covenant more fully Revealed; Israels happiness in Christ, another end of this Covenant, is in this Covenant more advantagiously promoted; And Gods glory in both, the last and chief end of this Covenant, is herein more eminently advanced. Thus God enlarged the Expresions of his grace unto his Church, from age to age, as the (e) waters of the Sanctuary swelled up higher and higher till they became unpassable. Proportionably Israel should have enlarged their Hearts, Affections and Duties towards God under this Covenant, beyond those of their Fathers under former Covenants.

(e) Ezek. 47. 2, 3, 4, 5.

5. Then, The Carnal Jews that rested only in the Letter and carnality of this Law and Covenant, not penetrating into the inward mysterie and end thereof, but (f) stumbled at Jesus Christ and Justification by him through Faith, did quite mistake and miss the great end of this Sinai-Covenant. 1. Their gross ignorance of Gods Righteousness revealed in this Covenant; 2. Their Erroneous opinion about their own righteousness, that the Law intended it, and God would have accepted it; 3. Their prejudice against Christ, and Justification by faith alone in him; 4. Their blind zeal in pursuing their own, but opposing Gods righteousness; These deprived the carnal Israelites of the true ends and intended benefits of this Covenant.

(f) Rom. 9 31, 32, 33. & 10. 1, 2, 3, 4, &c.

6. Then, Those Spiritual Jews, Israelites indeed, that in this Covenant did seek and finde, Jesus Christ, their own Justification and happiness by him; and Gods glory in all, did attain the right ends of this Covenant, and rightly improved the same.

7. Then finally, If in reading the Old or New Testament touching this Sinai-Covenant we would reach to the inward mysterie and very marrow of it, we must rightly fix our Eye upon these ends of this Covenant, Christ, Israels happiness by Christ, and Gods glory in both, and consider well, how all things in this Covenant peculiarly tend to these ends. Otherwise we shall read the Old Testament with a veil upon the face of Moses, and a veil upon our hearts, darkening all things to us, yea making making us grosly mistake by reason of darkness. But by eying Christ, and life by him herein, we shall remove this veil, and very evidently behold the great mysterie of the Old Testament, which now under the New Testament is set forth to us with much spiritual glory.

Thus of the Final Cause, or End, of this Sinai-Covenant. viz. Gods fuller Revealing of Iesus Christ the sinners Saviour, for the greater furtherance of Israels present and future Happiness, and of his own wonderful glory.

Aphorism VII.

7ly. General Corollaries from this whole Discourse about the Sinai-Covenant.

HAving thus far at large Treated, 1. Of Gods giving of his Law to Israel newly redeemed out of Egypt, at Mount Sinai in the wilderness, precisely 430 years after his Promise to Abraham. 2. Of Gods giving that Law to Israel at Mount Sinai, as A COVENANT, not of works, but of FAITH. 3. Of the Fœderate Parties to this Covenant, viz. on the one hand, God, As JEHOVAH, their Covenant-God, Redeemer, Law-giver, and Husband: On the other hand, Israel and their Seed, As Abraham's Seed in Covenant with God, The Lords Redeemed, Gods espoused people, and as Heirs, (though under age) of the promised Inheritance which they were going forth to possess. 4. Of the Subject Matter or Substance of this Covenant, agreed upon by these Fœderates. viz. On Gods part many Covenant-Mercies Promised; As, To be a God to them, To raise them up from among themselves Christ a Mediator and a Saviour, To give them the Spirit of Christ, To confer upon them in Christ, blessings Temporal Spiritual and Eternal. On Israels part certain Covenant-Duties required and restipulated; As, To be a People unto God, To keep God's Covenant by true Faith and by Sincere, Entire and Constant Obedience, And to repent in case of any failings in the premises. 5. Of the Form of this Covenant: More Inward, The Mutual Obligation, of the Fœderates one to another upon certain Terms; More Outward, The manner of Gods Manifestation and Sanction of this Covenant at First, and the way of his Administration of it afterwards. 6. Of the End of this Covenant, More Immediately a fuller Revealing of Jesus Christ then formerly; More Mediately The greater furtherance of Israels Happiness, and Gods Glory. Having (I say) largely discoursed of these Particulars, for unfolding of the Myſterie of the Sinai-Covenant: It now remains, that I cloſe up this Diſcourſe with ſome General Corollaries or Inferences naturally and evidently reſulting from the whole. And they may all be wrapped up together in this enſuing and cloſing Aphoriſm. viz.

From this whole foregoing Diſcourſe touching this Sinai-Covenant, we may eaſily Diſcern and Conclude: 1. That, The Law given at Mount Sinai, was given to Iſrael as a Covenant, and that not of works but of Faith: 2. That, This Covenant was manifeſted and Adminiſtred very myſteriouſly and extraordinarily: 3. That, Gods Covenant of works hath its eminent accompliſhment in the Covenant of Faith: 4. What are the Properties of this Sinai-Covenant: 5. Wherein this Covenant agrees with, and wherein it excels all former Covenants: 6. That, This Sinai-Covenant was Iſraels eminent Privilege, although they were conſtantly held under it in a very ſervile condition: 7. That, The Sinai-Covenant was full of Chriſt therein eminently revealed: 8. That, This Sinai-Covenant the Old Teſtament was pure Goſpel as well as the New, for ſubſtance revealing (though in a different ſort) to lapſed Sinners One and the ſelf-ſame way of Life and Salvation: 9. That The diligent ſtudy and ſolid underſtanding of the Old Teſtament as well as of the New is very neceſſary and advantagious to all Chriſtians.

This Aphoriſm and the dependance thereof upon all the former, I ſhall a little clear and explain, in the ſeveral branches of it, as followeth, viz.

Corollary I.

THat, The Law given at Mount Sinai was given to Iſrael as a Covenant and that not a Covenant of works, but of FAITH. No Fœderal Diſcovery is more, or ſo much, miſtaken by writers and Chriſtians, as this at Mount Sinai. Many ſuppoſing it to be given meerly as a Law, or at leaſt as a Covenant of Works. But, by what hath been (g) already ſaid, I think it is ſufficiently cleared to unbyaſſed judgements: 1. That the ten Commandments, comprizing all Morals, Ceremonials and Judicials were not given at Mount Sinai, Abſolutely, as a Law, but Relatively as a COVENANT. Or, A Law digeſted into a Covenant. 2. That this Covenant at Sinai was not given or intended by God as a Law of works, or Covenant of works, holding forth Juſtification and life to Iſrael, upon the meer condition of their own perfect and perpetual Perſonal Doing: but was given and intended only as A Law of Faith, or Covenant of Faith, tendering Juſtification and life to Iſrael upon Condition of true Evangelical believing in Jeſus Chriſt alone. For, of

(g) In this 4. chap. Aphor. 2 and the Explanation of it throughout.

of this Sinai-Law Paul ſaith; (h) Chriſt is the End of the Law for Righteouſneſs to every one that believeth. And, (i) —— The Law was our Schoolmaſter towards Chriſt, that we might be juſtified by Faith. But touching the Law of Works he ſaith; (k) And the Law is not of Faith, but the man that doth them ſhall live in them. And elſewhere, (l) —— Where is boaſting then? It is excluded. By what Law? Of works? Nay, but by the Law of Faith. Therefore we conclude, That a man is juſtified by faith without the deeds of the Law.

Corollary II.

THat, This Covenant from Mount Sinai (m) was at firſt Manifeſted, and afterwards adminiſtred, very myſteriouſly, and ſomewhat (n) extraordinarily. For,

1. It was (o) Promulged with great Majeſty and terror at firſt: but afterwards ſolemnly (p) eſtabliſhed with much Sweetneſs; and (q) renewed after the violation of it with much Compaſſionateneſs, Loving-kindneſs, and Comfortableneſs. At the promulgation God ſpake to them, out of the midſt of devouring fire, with a great voice that made the Earth it ſelf to ſhake: But at the Eſtabliſhment of this Covenant, they had a ſweet viſion of the Lord as a well-pleaſed God; And at the Renewing of the Covenant, God proclaimed and made all his goodneſs paſs before Moſes. This the myſterie; God promulged his Covenant immediately without a Mediator, then Iſrael could not endure it: The Sinner cannot endure to deal with God immediately, without the intervention of a Mediator. But he ſtabliſhed, and Renewed his Covenant Mediately by Moſes a typical Mediator, promiſing alſo Chriſt the true Mediator; then Iſrael could behold God, and approach towards him with Comfort: A Mediator brings ſweeteſt terms of peace betwixt God and Sinners.

2. The Moral Law ſeemed to be, for Subſtance, Only The Law of Nature, or Covenant of works, Revived; The Ceremonial Law, only the Covenant of Faith Revealed in Jeſus Chriſt the Truth of all thoſe Types: yet both theſe are incorporated together and digeſted into one and the ſame Covenant with Iſrael. This ſeems very ſtrange, that the Law of works and Faith ſhould thus be marryed together, which ſeemed irreconcileable! The myſterie is; God hereby would have us know, That the Covenant of Nature, or of Works, muſt be accompliſhed and fulfilled upon Man, or by man one way or other: Upon man, by his enduring the penalty of Death therein threatned; or by man, by performing the perfect obedience therein required, either in his own Perſon, or in his Surety. The Covenant of works exacts this Obedience in every man's own perſon, elſe no way but to die the Death: The Covenant of Faith accepts this Obedience in the Sinners Surety Jeſus Chriſt received by Faith. The Subſtance of both are here digeſted into this one Covenant, that the Sinner may be driven quite out of himself, to Jesus Christ his surety for obtaining of life, by performance of Gods Covenant.

3 This Covenant was made with Israel now newly (r) redeemed out of Egypts bondage; and yet it was laid upon them as an heavy servile (s) yoke of bondage, which seems to be, not a removal, but an exchange of one bondage for another. The mysterie is; 1 The Lord would put a difference betwixt his Churches Minority, and her Maturity; that, before Christ, this, after Christ. A spirit of bondage did best suit with the Church in her Minority: A Spirit of Adoption better agrees with her in her Maturity. (t) The heir whilst he is a child, differeth nothing (in Condition) from a servant, though (by hereditary right) he be heir of all, &c. 2 Besides, the bondage or yoke of Christ is perfect freedom, in comparison of the thraldom of Sin and Satan shadowed out in Egypts bondage. They (u) who labour and are heavy laden under sin, coming to Christ, shall find rest to their Souls: but must take upon them Christs yoke, which is easie, and his burden, which is light.

4. This Covenant was no sooner made and stablished with Israel, but (x) presently it was violated: and yet after that breach by Moses mediation speedily restored and renewed. The Mysterie is; The Sinner cannot of himself keep Covenant with God, no not the Covenant of Faith, without Jesus Christ the true Mediator: but through the Mediator all Covenant-failings are pardoned upon repentance, and Covenant-favours are renewed from the Lord.

Yea, the main carriage of this Covenant was so Extraordinary and Mysterious as may appear in the (y) Form of this Covenant, that it may well be stiled, A Map of Mysteries, wherein Christ is the chiefest Mysterie. Therefore well-advised wisdom and judgment are very necessary for finding out Gods intents and purposes therein, Seeing the Well is deep.

Corollary III.

That Gods Covenant of Works hath its Eminent accomplishment in the Covenant of Faith. The accomplishment of the Covenant of Works might be two ways; 1 Actively, by exact (z) performance of Duty required, this was first and chiefly intended. 2 Passively, by just enduring of the Penalty threatned, Death it self. Actively, the Covenant of works was accomplished by Adam whilst he stood: Passively, it was accomplish't upon Adam, after he fell. But his Active Doing, continued not: His Passive Enduring satisfied not; his sufferings being as himself, finite, could not fully satisfie offended justice, which is infinite. But this Covenant of Works hath its best accomplishment in the Covenant of Faith by Jesus Christ the Sinners Surety: Actively, by his perfect and constant personal Obedience; Passively, by his Satisfactory Sufferings and Death, All being of infinite value, through the

(z) Gen. 2. 16, 17.

the infiniteneſs of his Perſon. Both which are not obſcurely intimated and intended in this Sinai-Covenant: requiring moſt exact perſonal obedience in the Moral-Law, which for Sinners Chriſt exactly performed; and deſcribing moſt extream ſufferings and Death, deſerved for ſin, both in the Moral and Ceremonial Law, which Jeſus Chriſt for Sinners fully endured. So that this Sinai-Covenant moſt lively repreſents The Covenant of Works receiving its fulleſt accompliſhment in the Covenant of Faith, not by the Sinner, but by the Sinners Surety Chriſt Jeſus, Perfectly Doing for us in the Moral Law, (containing the ſum of the Covenant of Works); and Satisfactorily Dying for us in the Ceremonial Law, (containing the myſterie of the Covenant of Faith). Jeſus Chriſt is the End, and Soul of them both. Both of them are contrived into one Covenant of Faith: as ſhewing the moſt eminent accompliſhment of the Covenant of Works therein, through Jeſus Chriſt.

Corollary IV.

HEnce, we may diſcern, what are the true Properties of this Sinai-Covenant. And they are principally theſe and ſuch like, viz. The Lords Covenant from Mount Sinai with his people Iſrael, was, 1. Evangelical. 2. Spiritual. 3. Political. 4. Diſtinctive. 5. Preceptive. 6. Teſtamentary. 7. Obſcure. 8. Servile. 9. Holy. 10. Juſt. 11. Good. 12. Wiſe. 13. Exact. 14. Sure and faithful. 15. Conſolatory. 16. Perpetual for Subſtance, though for Adminiſtration waxing Old, and vaniſhing away upon the Commencing of the New-COVENANT.

I. Evangelical. This Sinai Covenant, was ſo Law, as that it was alſo Goſpel. Not a Legal Covenant of Works, tendering Life and Happineſs to Iſrael upon terms of their own exact Doing: but an Evangelical Covenant of Faith, tendering life and happineſs to Iſrael upon terms of Sincere Believing in Jeſus Chriſt. Caſt but an unprejudiced Eye upon, 1. The Nature and kind of this Covenant (a) formerly demonſtrated; 2. The Fœderate parties, and in what Notion they were Fœderates in this Covenant; 3. The Subſtance or Matters Covenanted, Goſpel-Mercies on Gods part, Goſpel-Duties on Iſraels; 4. The Evangelical Form or Manner of Covenanting; 5. The Evangelical Scope and End of this Covenant: And then it will be eaſie to conclude, That this Covenant from Mount Sinai was purely Evangelical. It was Goſpel veyled; Goſpel ſhining through the dark clouds of Levitical Types; Goſpel in its Minority: Jeſus Chriſt, and Salvation by him through Faith, being the Foundation, Center, Subſtance, and End thereof.

(a) See in this 4. Ch. Aphor. 2. to Aphor. 7.

II. Spiritual. This properly hath been (b) formerly explained.

(b) Book III. chap. 4. Aphoriſ. 4. In the General Rules for underſtanding, &c. of the ten Commandments, Rule 1.

III. Political. All the former Covenant-Expreſſures were more Private and Domeſtical, being made with particular perſons and and their Families only, as with Adam, Noah, Abraham, and their posterity! But this Covenant was More Publique and Political, being made with the whole Nation of Israel and their Seed. And by this Covenant, Israel was Constituted and formed up into a double Politie, viz. Eccleſiaſtical and Civil: 1. Into a more publique Eccleſiaſtical Politie, or National Church, by the Morals and Ceremonials of this Covenant. Family-Churches were before: but National-Church none, till now. Israel was the firſt National Church; called (c) The Church in the Wilderneſs. 2. Into a Civil Politie, and that immediately under Gods own Government, by the Judgements, or Judicial Laws, annexed to the Morals and Ceremonials, and digeſted with them into one Covenant. This Civil Politie, is called by Joſephus a Theocracy, becauſe immediately under Gods own Laws and Government. And the Apoſtle ſtiles it, (d) The Common-wealth of Iſrael: becauſe the people Israel, and proſelytes adjoyning themſelves to them, were the members of this body politique, and ſubjects of this Common-wealth.

(c) Act. 7. 38.

(d) Eph. 2. 12.

IV. Diſtinctive. As this Covenant was Political and National, taking in the whole Nation of Israel, as Fœderates with God: So it was Diſcriminative, diſtinguiſhing the Nation of Israel, as Gods Covenant people and Peculiar treaſure, from all the Nations and people in the whole world. When God was firſt Preparing Iſrael for this Covenant, he tels Moſes, and them by Moſes, that (e) if they would obey his voice indeed and keep his Covenant, then they ſhould be a peculiar-treaſure unto him above all people, &c. Then, this Covenant ſhould be a Diſtinguiſhing Character or Mark, whereby Israel ſhould be known and differenced from all others. They alone ſhould be Gods Covenant-people: all others remaining (f) aliens to the Covenants of Promiſe. Hereupon Paul compares this Covenant-Diſpenſation, eſpecially in reference to the Ceremonials thereof, to (g) A Middle wall of Partition, that diſparted and divided betwixt Gods own Nation Iſrael, and all the Nations of the world, and made as it were an enmity betwixt them, whereupon it is called (h) The Enmity. And ſo long as this Covenant-Miniſtration ſtood: ſo long this Wall of Partition ſtood, viz. till the Death of Jeſus Chriſt. During all which time (i) Iſrael was within; All other Nations without: Iſrael was, near unto God; All others, afar off: Iſrael was, Gods own People; all others, Not a people: Iſrael had obtained Mercy in Chriſt; All others, had not obtained Mercy.

V. Preceptive. This Covenant was not only Promiſſory, in regard of Mercies which God promiſed to Iſrael: but alſo Preceptive or Mandatory in reſpect of Duties which God commands from Iſrael. And the ſtream of the Covenant promulged did run upon Commands, much more then upon promiſes. (k) And he declared unto you his Covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments; and he wrote them upon two Tables of Stone. Whence Note;

(k) Deut. 4. 13. God commanded Moſes to teach them, and by Moſes commanded Iſrael to obſerve them, Deut. 4. 1, 2, 5 6. 14, 40. & 6. 1, 2, 3 to 10. 17. & often.

Note; 1. That Gods declaration of his will to Israel at Mount Sinai was a Covenant. 2. That this Covenant then declared was the ten Commandments. 3. That God Commanded Israel to perform this Covenant of the ten Commandments. 4. That this Covenant of the ten Commandments, thus Commanded to Israel, God wrote in two Tables of Stone, thereby denoting, not only the ſtoneneſs and hardneſs of their hearts in reference to this Covenant, but alſo the Perpetual Nature of this Covenant which with conſtant obedience and duty Israel was to obſerve.

VI. Teſtamentary. It was not only eſtabliſhed as a Covenant: but alſo, in ſome ſort, as a Teſtament. The Apoſtle counts this the First Teſtament, diſtinguiſhing it from the New Teſtament, declaring that a Teſtament hath its force and confirmation from the Death of the Teſtator. (l) For this cauſe he is the Mediator of the New Teſtament, that by means of Death for the redemption of the tranſgreſſions under the Firſt Teſtament, they which are called might receive the promiſe of eternal inheritance. For where a Teſtament is, there muſt alſo of Neceſsity be the Death of the Teſtator. For a Teſtament is of force after men are dead: otherwiſe it is of no ſtrength at all while the Teſtator liveth. Whereupon neither the Firſt Teſtament was dedicated with blood. For when Moſes had ſpoken every precept to all the people, according to the Law, he took the blood of Calves, and of Goats, with water and ſcarlet wool, and Hyſop, and ſprinkled both the book and all the people; Saying, This is the blood of the Teſtament which God hath enjoyned unto you. Now, foraſmuch as no Will or Teſtament is Confirmed but by the Teſtators Death, And the Teſtator is only Chriſt Jeſus, therefore the Apoſtle here intimates that Jeſus Chriſt the Teſtator dyed two ways, viz. 1. Typically: 2. Really and truly. 1. Typically Chriſt dyed in the Death of all thoſe Sacrifices (m) whereby the Firſt Teſtament was Dedicated and Eſtabliſhed: All thoſe ſlain Sacrifices being Types of Chriſt that was to be ſlain for our ſins. And thus, (n) Chriſt is the Lamb ſlain from the foundation of the world, viz. in typical Sacrifices. And by this Typical Death he Confirmed this Firſt Teſtament, or Old Covenant. 2. Really and truly Chriſt dyed, when (o) he by the Eternal Spirit offered himſelf actually to God as a lamb without ſpot: and by this his Real death he eſtabliſhed the New Teſtament. So that, Hence; 1. This Sinai-Covenant was the Firſt Will and Teſtament of Jeſus Chriſt the Teſtator. 2. All the Covenanted-mercies in and under this Teſtament, were Chriſts gracious Legacies and Bequeſts to his people Iſrael. 3. All theſe Bequeſts and Legacies were typically confirmed and ratified to Israel by the Death of the Teſtator in a Figure: that they needed not to ſcruple their right and Title thereunto. 4. This Firſt Teſtament was (as to the Form of Miniſtration) revoked and diſannulled by Chriſts own actual Death, whereby he dedicated and ſtabliſhed his Second or New Teſtament. The Laſt Will and Teſtament being that which ſtands.

VII. Obſcure. This Covenant was Clear in Compariſon of all Cove-

Covenant-expreſſures that went before: but Obſcure and dark in Compariſon of the New Covenant that came after. That was as the Sun-ſhining after the Riſing thereof: This as the Sun ſhining in his full ſtrength at mid-day. In that (p) there was a veil upon Moſes face; betokening, Both the Darkneſs of that Miniſtration, And the Darkneſs of Iſraels apprehenſions thereof: In this, the double veil is done away in Chriſt, ſo that we all with open face behold as in a glaſs the glory of the Lord, &c. That had the (q) ſhadow: this the Body. That the Types: this the Truth. That repreſented the (r) Patterns of things in the Heavens: This the Heavenly things themſelves.

VIII. Servile, and ſlaviſh. The Sinai-Covenant is compared to (t) Hagar the Bond-woman, gendering to Bondage. Iſrael under it were Gods children, but (t) under age, in Condition of Servants, under Tutors and Governors, The Law being their Schoolmaſter, &c. whereupon the Spirit of bondage to fear, was upon them, by reaſon of this heavy yoke of bondage, till Chriſt came, and brake this yoke off their necks. But (u) of this formerly in the Form of this Covenant.

IX. Holy. Paul ſaith; (x) The Law is Holy, and the Commandment Holy. He here ſpecially intends the Law of the ten Commandments, as the fore-going verſes do plainly evince: and this was the Covenant from Sinai. The whole Law: and every particular Commandment was Holy. It was in every regard Holy. 1. The Author of it, The moſt Holy God, infinitely Pure. 2. The Fœderates with God in it, were an Holy People, ſeparated, ſanctified, and dedicated to God from among all other people on earth. (y) An Holy Nation. Hence Gods cals them; My Saints: Saying; (z) Gather my Saints together to me, thoſe that have made a Covenant with me by Sacrifice. 3. The Mercies therein Promiſed were Holy: as all the Spirituals and Eternals eſpecially. 4. The Duties therein conditioned and reſtipulated were Holy: even the whole way of Holineſs towards God in the Firſt Table. 5. The Form of Manifeſting, Eſtabliſhing and Adminiſtring it was Holy: as may at large appear by that Form already deſcribed. 6. The Ends of it were Holy: as the further revealing of Jeſus Chriſt (a) the Holy one of God, &c. 7. The Mediator of it was Holy, viz. Typically, (b) Moſes the Man of God. Truly and Antitypically Jeſus Chriſt (c) Holy, harmleſs, undefiled and ſeparate from Sinners. No wonder therefore that David ſaid, (d) Thy Word is very pure, (Heb. tryed, refined:) therefore thy ſervant loveth it. It's all perfect gold, there's no droſs of folly or defilement in it.

X. Juſt. So Paul adds; (e) And the Commandment juſt. And Moſes pathetically ſaith; (f) What Nation is there ſo great, that hath ſtatutes and judgements ſo righteous, as all this Law which I ſet before you this day? David alſo notably expreſſeth himſelf; (g) The judgements of the LORD are truth, and righteous altogether, And elſewhere; (h) —— Thy Word is true from the beginning: and every every one of thy righteous judgements endureth for ever.—Thy Teſtimonies that thou haſt Commanded, are righteouſneſs and very faithfulneſs.—I eſteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right. This Covenant of the ten Commandments muſt needs be very righteous: For, 1. The Author is the moſt righteous God, whoſe will is the Rule of all righteouſneſs. He hath not given theſe Laws becauſe they are righteous: but they are righteous becauſe he hath given them. (i) Righteous art thou O LORD, and upright are thy judgements. 2. The Fœderates with God herein are righteous, viz. Iſrael as Chriſts profeſſed members in Chriſt, in Covenant already with God. 3. The Matter of it righteous. Its the exacteſt diſcoverer of iniquity, and Rule of all righteouſneſs. No unjuſt or unequal thing is therein impoſed. 4. The end of it righteous, viz. The glorifying of God by further (k) Revealing of Jeſus Chriſt for Iſraels righteouſneſs of Faith.

XI. Good. So Paul addeth: (l) The Commandment holy, juſt and good, &c. He hath ſpecial reference to the laſt Commandment. And, as that, ſo all the reſt being of like Nature muſt needs be Good. This Covenant was given by God, who is the only ſupream abſolute and infinite Good. (m) None Good, ſave one, that is God. Was promulged and eſtabliſhed as a Goſpel-Covenant of Faith, and the Goſpel is, (n) The good word of God. And intended the Temporal, Spiritual and Eternal good of Iſrael. And, as it was good to them in theſe reſpects, ſo is it ſtill good to all the Iſrael of God under the New Teſtament, ſo far as it remains of uſe to them, as hath (o) formerly been declared.

XII. Wiſe. For, 1. He that framed this Covenant, is (p) God only wiſe. 2. The Matter, Myſterie and Intended Scope in this Covenants contrivance, evince an excellency of wiſdom therein: As, That, All Duties to God and man ſhould be required, and all contrary ſins forbidden, in ten words; That the Subſtance of the Law of works ſhould be digeſted into the Law of Faith, and formed up into one Covenant of Faith; That, (q) Chriſt ſhould be the end of this Law for righteouſneſs by believing, which ſeems to urge nothing but Working and Doing; That this Covenant ſhould be ſo promulged, as to fright Iſrael out of themſelves, and force them to cry out for a Mediator; That this Covenant ſhould be ſo eſtabliſhed and adminiſtred afterwards as to (r) ſhut them up unto the Faith that after ſhould be Revealed, and be their School-Maſter towards Chriſt; That this Covenant ſhould be ſo accurately accommodated to the dull capacity and preſent neceſſity of Iſrael repreſenting Chriſt and the Goſpel to them under familiar viſible rudiments of Ceremonies, and filling their hands with religious obſervances to himſelf in much outward glory to keep them from wandering away from him into the by-paths of idolatry, &c. 3. The effect of this Covenant, duly kept and obſerved, was ſingular wiſdom and underſtanding to Gods people. Hereupon, Moſes ſpeaking of the Statutes and judgements of this Covenant, saith, (f) Keep therefore and do them, for this is your wisdom and this is your understanding in the sight of the Nations, which shall hear all these Statutes, and say, Surely this great Nation is a wise and understanding people. And David saith; (t) The Testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple. And he offers us his own experience to this effect, saying; (u) Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are ever with me. I have more understanding then all my teachers: for thy Testimonies are my Meditation. I understand more, then the ancients: because I keep thy precepts. — Through thy precepts I get understanding: therefore I hate every false way. Now all this hath special respect to this Sinai-Covenant, and to the word of God by Moses and the Prophets expounding the same.

XIII. Exact, Compleat and Perfect. Perfect in the Substance of it. (x) The Law of the LORD that is Perfect. It is spoken emphatically, and as it were by way of correction: It far transcends all the perfection and excellency of the Book of the Creature, so magnified in the former part of the Psalm. But of the Perfection of this Law and Covenant, enough (y) formerly. Though it was Imperfect for the Ministration of it, in comparison of the New Covenant. Hence God is said to finde fault with this Covenant, when he promised the New Covenant: (z) For if that first Covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second. For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold the daies come, saith the Lord, that I will make a New Covenant, &c. And Paul saith: (a) The Law made nothing perfect: but the bringing in of a better hope did.

XIV. Sure and Faithful. Hence David saith; (b) The Testimony of the Lord is sure. And (c) — Thy Testimonies which thou hast commanded are righteousness and very faithfulness. Joshuah testifies: (d) There failed not ought of any good thing, which the LORD had spoken to the House of Israel: all came to pass. Notwithstanding all Difficulties, Delaies, or Sins of Israel, interposing betwixt Promise and Performance, as (e) hath been shewed. How can this Covenant chuse but be Sure and Faithful? For, 1. God himself spake and uttered it, by his own voice: 2. God stablished it by the Solemnity of Sacrifices at the Dedication thereof: 3. God wrote it with his own Finger in two Tables of stone of his own preparing: 4. God renewed it again of free-grace after Israel had notoriously broken it: God wrote it a second time in two Tables of stone of Moses preparing: 5. And God founded it upon Christ Jesus, (f) yesterday and to day and for ever the same.

XV. Comfortable. Considering the former Properties of this Covenant, it must needs be Comfortable: reflect upon them advisedly to this End. And yet further Consider: 1. The LORD assured Israel (g) he would be their God: and he is the Father of tender Mercies, and God of all Consolation. 2. Jesus Christ is promised to be raised up (h) a Prophet and Mediator to them from among themselves: and he is the consolation of Israel. 3. The Spirit is promised to be bestowed

XVI. Finally, This Covenant was Perpetual for Subſtance, though in regard of Adminiſtration waxing old and vaniſhing away upon the Commencing of the NEW-COVENANT.

That it was and is Perpetual and everlaſting for Subſtance, is plain. For, 1. Ieſus Chriſt and Sinners Happineſs by him, is the Subſtance of it, as hath been proved: Now Chriſt abideth for ever; is (k) yeſterday and to day and for ever the ſame: is (l) a Prieſt for ever after the order of Melchizedeck: (m) ſhall reign for ever and ever, and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end. 2. The Goſpel, or Glad-tidings of Sinners Salvation by Chriſt through Faith, is the Subſtance of it: And the Goſpel is an (n) Everlaſting Goſpel. 3. The Moral Laws impoſing Moral Duties upon the Fœderates in Chriſt, are alſo of the (o) Subſtance of this Covenant: But theſe Morals are ſtill of force even under the New Teſtament as well as under the Old. The New Teſtament (p) ſtabliſhing the Law, and frequently preſſing the performance of theſe Moral precepts by believers: and theſe Morals ſhall have their fulleſt accompliſhment in Heaven, when Love to God and to our neighbour (which is the fulfilling of the Law) ſhall be compleatly full and perfect. That notwithſtanding in regard of the Manner and way of Adminiſtration this Covenant was waxing Old and vaniſhed away upon the Commencing of the NEW-COVENANT: is alſo as Evident. For, 1. The Apoſtle Teſtifies in effect thus much, ſaying; (r) For, if that Firſt Covenant had been faultleſs, then ſhould no place have been ſought for the ſecond. For finding fault with them, he ſaith; Behold, the daies come (ſaith the Lord) when I will make a New Covenant with the Houſe of Iſrael and the Houſe of Judah; Not according to the Covenant that I made with their fathers. —— In that he ſaith a New Covenant, he hath made the firſt OLD. Now that which decayeth and waxeth Old, is ready to vaniſh away. 2. All the Ceremonials were of the manner of Adminiſtration and they all being (s) ſhadows of good things to come, but the body of Chriſt, vaniſhed and gave place at Chriſts appearing, as the ſhadows of the night diſappear at the riſing of the Sun. 3. The ſervile (t) Tutor-age and Schoolmaſterſhip of the Law over Iſrael as a Church under age, was another myſterie in this Adminiſtration, leading to Chriſt that ſhould be revealed afterwards: but Chriſt being come, and that Church at his Coming being grown to a kind of fulneſs of age, they were no longer under this School-Maſter and ſervile Tutor-age, but received the Adoption of Sons. Whence the Apoſtle exhorts; (u) Stand faſt therefore in the Liberty wherewith

Corollary V.

That, This Sinai-Covenant in many things Agrees with, and in many other things disagrees from, and in some things excels all the former Covenants. This Agreement, and Disagreement will yet further illustrate the excellent Nature of this Covenant. As for this Old Covenants Agreement with, or Difference from the New Covenant, they will come more fitly to be considered in the unfolding of the New-Covenant.

I. This Covenant from Mount Sinai had Agreement with the three former Covenants.

1. In the kind or sort of Covenant. Those three being Covenants of Faith in Christ promised: and this being a Covenant of Faith, not of works; An Evangelical not a Legal Covenant, as (y) hath been proved. Yea, all these four Covenants were (z) Covenants of Promise, revealing life and recovery to lapsed sinners in Jesus Christ Promised and in fulness of time to be performed.

(y) In this fourth Chap. Aphorism 11.
(z) Eph. 2. 12.

2. In the efficient and Impulsive Cause. God alone being the efficient cause or Author of all these four Convenants. The Inward Impulsive or Moving Cause in them all, being his own meer Grace: The Outward Impulsive or Motive being the Merit of Jesus Christ the Mediator. There being nothing in Adam, Noah, Abraham, or Israel, that might move or incline the Lord at first to make or stablish his Covenant with them.

3. In the General Consideration of the Fœderates. For, as in the three former Covenants, so in this, The LORD God is the Party Covenanting Promising Mercies, Christ and his Seed are the Party Restipulating and Re-promising Duties.

4. In the General Nature or Substance of Mercies Promised, and Duties required and Restipulated. For the Sum and Substance of all Covenant-Mercies in them all four, is The Restauration and happiness of lapsed sinners in and by Jesus Christ Promised: All may be reduced to this grand Mercy. And the Sum of all Conditioned and restipulated Duties in them all being a true lively working fruitful Faith in Jesus Christ.

5. In the Mysterie of Gods Justification of lapsed Sinners Revealed: which which was in them all by Faith in Jesus Christ alone. For, as under the First Covenant, (a) Abel obtained Testimony by his Faith that he was righteous: under the Second Covenant, (b) Noah became heir of the righteousness, which is by Faith; And under the third Covenant (c) Abraham believed in the LORD and that was imputed to him unto righteousness, So under this Sinai-Covenant (d) David describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works, saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered: Blessed is the man, to whom the Lord will not impute sin. And Paul (e) proves the Righteousness of Faith out of Moses: and declares, that (f) Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to every believer; and that, the (g) Law was Israels School-Master to bring them to Christ, that they might be justified by Faith.

6, In their Common foundation and establishment. One way or other all these 4. Covenants are founded and established on Christ, and on the Promises of Christ: as hath been abundantly evinced.

7. In their Sameness of end. The singular advancement of Gods Eminent glory in the Recovery and Salvation of lapsed Sinners by Jesus Christ through Faith, being the Primary End and intended Scope of them all.

II. This Sinai-Covenant Disagrees and differs notwithstanding from all these three foregoing Covenants, in these ensuing particulars. viz.

1. In the Peculiar Notion and Consideration of God as Efficient Cause or Author thereof. For, God was Author, Of the First Covenant, as (h) a Destroyer of the Serpent in Christ the womans Seed; Of the Second, as (i) Preserver and Saviour of an Elect remnant by the blood of Christ, typified by water, from the common destruction coming upon the world of the ungodly; of the Third, as a (k) God All-sufficient to give Abraham a Seed, and an Inheritance of Canaan, and in his Seed Christ to make him and all the Families of the earth blessed: But God was Author of this Sinai-Covenant, (l) as JEHOVAH giving actual existence to his Promises, Their Covenant-God, Redeemer, Law-giver and Husband.

2. In the Special Consideration, or Capacity of the Fœderates with God. Jesus Christ and his Elect Seed were the Fœderates with God in them all: But with this difference; In the first Covenant, As the Seed of the woman; In the second Covenant, as the Seed of Noah; In the third Covenant, as the Seed of Abraham in which all the Nations of the Earth should be blessed; And in all these three Fœderal Dispensations God dealt with them in a more private Family-capacity: But in this Sinai-Covenant Israel in Christ became (m) Fœderates with God, As Abraham's Seed now in Covenant with God, as the Lords Redeemed, As Gods Espoused people, And as Heirs (though under age) of the Promised Inheritance, the Type whereof they were going forth to possess; and in all this, God dealt with Israel in a More pub-

(o) Rom. 9. 5.

3. In the Individual Mercies Promiſed, and Duties Reſtipulated. In the two firſt Covenants, The mercies promiſed were, The enmity of the two Seeds, The bruiſing of the Serpents head by the womans Seed, The Saving Noah and his Family in the Ark from the Deluge, The Continuance of the univerſal Courſe of Nature, with Security never more to be generally deſtroyed by a flood, &c. The Duties reſtipulated, were; Implicitly, Faith in Chriſt, and offering Sacrifices: Explicitly, Conflicting with the Serpent, Making and entring into the Ark In the third Covenant, The Mercies promiſed to Abraham, were, Divine Benediction, A very numerous Seed, a mighty Name, His Seeds victoriouſneſs over their Enemies, The Inheritance of Canaan, The cloſing up of his daies in a good old age in peace, The Lords being his ſhield, His exceeding great reward, and a God to him and his Seed by an Everlaſting Covenant: And the Reſtipulated Duties, were, Walking before God, viz. in Faith and Obedience, Being Perfect, and being Gods Covenant-people. But in this fourth Covenant from Mount Sinai, the Covenant-Mercies Promiſed from God to Iſrael, were, To be a God to them, To raiſe them up from among themſelves, a great Prophet and Mediator Jeſus Chriſt, To give them the Spirit of Chriſt, To confer upon them abundantly in Chriſt a confluence of bleſſings Temporal and Spiritual, and at laſt to crown them with Eternals. And in order hereunto, the Duties Conditioned and reſtipulated by Iſrael, were, To be a Covenant people unto God; To keep Gods Covenant and all the Commandments thereof, both Moral, Ceremonial and Judicial, by true Faith, and by Sincere Entire conſtant obedience; And, in caſe of any failings herein to return again to the Lord by Repenting.

4. In the way of Revealing that grand Myſterie of Juſtification by Faith in Jeſus Chriſt. The two firſt Covenants Revealed it only Implicitly, Conſequentially and Obſcurely. The Covenant with Abraham Revealed it Explicitly, and Directly: (p) Abraham believed in the LORD, and that was imputed to him unto righteouſneſs: yet this very ſparingly, it is but once touched upon, and paſſed without any more expreſs mention. But this Active, and the Myſtery of it, is much more evidently demonſtrated and explained in this Sinai-Covenant. For, [1] Hereby God did clearly convince Iſrael of their extream ſinfulneſs and miſery, eſpecially by the ten Commandments: that ſo they might not reſt upon any ſelf-righteouſneſs for Juſtification, eſpecially by the Ceremonial-Law annexed to this Covenant: That ſo they might fly out of themſelves unto Jeſus Chriſt for his righteouſneſs by believing. (q) Chriſt was the end of the Law for righteouſneſs to every believer; and (r) their Schoolmaſter towards Chriſt, that they might be juſtified by Faith. 3. Hereby the full accom-accomplishment of the Covenant of works in the Covenant of Faith by Christ and his Seed, is discovered. Christ exactly performing the Duty, and enduring the curse of the Covenant of works in his own person, as surety for his elect Seed, who without such satisfaction to divine Justice could not be redeemed and saved. And his Seed sincerely walking on towards exactness of obedience in Jesus Christ through Faith. To unveil this Mysterie, the Substance of the Covenant of works is here digested into the body of the Covenant of Faith.

5. In the peculiar Manner of Manifestation, Confirmation and Administration. 1. The first Covenant was, (1) Manifested by voice of God to Adam; (2) Confirmed probably by slaying and Sacrificing of Beasts, with whose skins God clothed the man and the woman; (3) And Administred afterwards by use of Sacrifices and offerings in private families. 2. The second Covenant was, (1) Manifested by voice of God to Noah; (2) Confirmed, explicitly by the Rainbow: Implicitly, by the Oath of God as (f) the Prophet intimateth; (3) And Administred afterwards by Noah's preaching righteousness, Blessing his sons prophetically, and offering Sacrifices in Families privately. 3. The third Covenant was, (1) Manifested by Gods immediate voice to Abraham alone; (2) Confirmed, and (3) Administred, By Gods Promises propounded, Repeated, and in part fulfilled; By Gods Inviolable Oath; By killing and dividing Sacrifices, a burning lamp and smoaking furnace passing between those pieces; By the two Ordinary Sacraments: By the four extraordinary Sacraments: By many observable intimations and adumbrations of the Sufferings and Death of Jesus Christ, &c. 4. But this Sinai-Covenant was, (1) Manifested, not only by Gods immediate voice out of the midst of the fire, with much terror and many tokens of Divine Majesty, but also by writing, God himself writing it with his own finger in two Tables of stone, and giving them into the hands of Moses as a Typical Mediator; (2) Confirmed and Established, Most (t) solemnly at the skirt of Mount Sinai by slaying of Sacrifices, Sprinkling the blood half of it upon the Altar, and half upon the People, the words of the Covenant being publiquely read before all Israel who expresly consented thereunto: (3) And Administred afterwards with much outward Glory: with some Darkness veiling that Glory: with a Servile Pœdagogy as to a Church under age: with a Successive Ministry, both Ordinary and Extraordinary, for the better application of this Covenant and Pœdagogy to Israel: with universal respect to the whole National Church of Israel: with distinctive differencing of Israel from all people upon the face of the whole Earth; and with such a Church of God as was also a Theocracy, viz. Gods own peculiar Commonwealth. So that the Manifestation, Establishment and Administration of this Covenant, (u) formerly at large described, was altogether singular and extraordinary. Besides that both Sacraments Ordinary and extraordinary, begun under the former Covenant, were continued under this, viz. these till their entrance into Canaan, those till the expiration of this Administration, and the commencing of the NEW-COVENANT.

6. In the particularity of Ends. For, In the first Covenant, God particularly intended his own Glory, in Lapsed mans Recovery by Christ the womans Seed, from the malice and mischief of the Serpent and his Seed. In the second he peculiarly intended his own Glory, by saving an Elect remnant of mankind in the Ark by water (typing out Christs blood) from the common destruction that fell upon the world of the ungodly. In the third he specially intended his own Glory, in making Abraham and all his children Jews or Gentiles, that after him should believe, and walk in the steps of his Faith, Blessed both in this and in the world to come. But in this fourth Covenant from Mount Sinai God singularly intended his own Glory, by a more Compleat and clear Revelation of Jesus Christ therein, then in all the foregoing Covenants, for the greater furtherance of Israels Happiness as his only Church and people by Jesus Christ, thereby leading them on by the hand to Jesus Christ, till at last he was actually exhibited in their own flesh unto them.

7. Finally, This Covenant differs from all the former in the Gradual Perfection and compleatness of it. This results from all the former differences. For, God herein discovering himself under more excellent Evangelical Considerations; Israel being embraced by God in this Covenant in more large spiritual Capacities; The Mercies promised being more compleat and clear; The Duties restipulated being more Fully; The Mysterie of Justification by Jesus Christ through Faith being more plainly discovered; The Manifestation, Confirmation and Administration of this Covenant being much more Eminent; And the Ends thereof being far more illustriously declared, then in any former Covenants: This Covenant must be acknowledged gradually more perfect and excellent then them all, though for kind they are all Covenants of Faith, and Covenants of Promise. Therefore, if The First Covenant was as the Day-dawning; The second, as the Morning light before Sunrising mixed with darkness; and The third as the Sun-rise of the Gospel; Surely this Covenant, (comprizing in it Gods Covenant with David and with the Captive-Jews,) was as the Sun-shining out more and more till the perfect day of the New-Testament.

III. This Sinai-Covenant, as it differs from the three former Covenants, so it excels them all in regard of the Additionals therein Revealed, for compleating of the Covenants of Promise. The forementioned Differences do hold forth in them many Additional Excellencies of this Covenant beyond all the former: deliberately Consider them. But more Particularly, this Covenant surpasseth ſurpaſſeth all that went before, in theſe Additionals, viz.

1. In a more large and Comprehenſive Extent. All the three former Covenants were directed to three ſeveral Particular Families, and their Seed, viz. of Adam, Noah, and Abraham: But this Covenant is not limited and reſtrained to any ſingle Family, but extended to a whole Nation, and to all the Families therein; even to all the twelve Tribes of Iſrael, as a National Church. Herein the Grace, Love and Mercy of God becomes more extenſive and diffuſive: and the more diffuſive, the more excellent.

2. In a more Clear Revelation and Compleat repreſentation of Jeſus Chriſt. All the fore-going Covenants dimly and more imperfectly pointed at Chriſt: But this, more abundantly Reveals him. This is clear; 1. By the (x) Preparation to this Covenant. 2. By the (y) Preface of it. 3. By the (z) Promiſes and promiſed Mercies in it. 4. By the typical (a) Mediator of it. 5. By the Sanction (b) of it. 6. By the (c) Renewing of it after violation. 7. By the Many (d) Explanations of it by Moſes, The Prophets, and the New Teſtament. 8. By the (e) Scope and End intended in it. 9. But eſpecially, by the many (f) Types and Figures of Chriſt, and the things of Chriſt, in the whole Ceremonial Law, which is part of this Covenant. By theſe particulars, to mention no more, its very clear that this Covenant ſpeaks much of Chriſt, is full of Chriſt, (as ſhall after appear more at large in Corollary VII.) And ſo many New diſcoveries of Chriſt are excellent Additionals.

3. In more plentiful Promiſes of Mercies. As is evident in the (g) Matter of the Covenant promiſed on God's part.

4 In a More exact Rule of Covenant-Duties laid before Iſrael in this Covenant-expreſſure, In former Covenants the Covenant-Duties of Faith and Obedience are required, either only implicitly, or if explicitly, yet without exact Rules and Directions for performance thereof. But in this Covenant are laid down (h) the moſt exact and perfect Rules for all Covenant-Duties in Morals, Ceremonials, and Judicials: So that Iſrael was not permitted in the leaſt, (i) to adde thereto, or to take thence from. This exact Rule was an excellent Additional: By it Iſrael might walk on with God moſt certainly, ſafely, and ſecurely.

5. In a More Solemn and famous Sanction of this Covenant at the skirt of Mount Sinai. As (k) hath been at large explained.

(k) In Aphor. 5. of this Ch.

6. In a More Evident unfolding of Gods admirable and Myſterious Contrivance of Sinners ſalvation by Jeſus Chriſt. The Salvation of Sinners by Chriſt is declared in all the former Covenants: but the admirable Myſterie of this Salvation by Chriſt, is not ſo diſplayd and laid open in any, as in this Covenant. For, 1. Herein, An exact Moral Law is propounded: which, in the ſubſtance of the meer preceptive part of it, is the ſame with the Covenant of works engraven in Adam's heart in innocency. This, requiring perfect obedience, diſcovers, what man innocent could once do, but what man lapſed cannot now do: and ſo convinces him of his own (l) ſinfulneſs, and utter inability of obtaining righteouſneſs by his own Doing. Takes him utterly off his own bottom. 2. Herein, This exact Law is propounded and promulged in (m) a moſt terrible manner by Gods own mighty voyce out of the great fire, immediately to Iſrael. But (n) Iſrael, being extreamly terrified, and unable to endure that which was commanded, or to deal any more immediately with God, fly to Moſes, and deſire him to Mediate betwixt God and them, which God highly approved: giving them Moſes as a Typical, and promiſing (o) Chriſt as the true Mediator. Thus the ſelf-condemned ſinner, forced out of himſelf, flies to a Mediator, by whom he may enter into Covenant with God, and by whom he deals with God mediately, without terror or amazement. 3. Herein, this promiſed Mediator Jeſus Chriſt, is (p) abundantly repreſented to them in the whole Ceremonial Law: that they might truly know him. Eſpecially (q) as their Surety and great High Prieſt, offering up unto God, as a ſpotleſs Sacrifice, his pure Humane Nature, to make attonement for his ſinful people, and ſo by his own blood, through the New and living way the veil of his fleſh, to enter for them, and open to them, the true Holy of Holies, heaven it ſelf. Thus the Mediator Chriſt, to whom the Sinner flies, ſatisfies the Juſtice and Truth of God according to the Covenant of works; in dying the Death for the ſins of his Elect as their Surety, according to the Covenant of Faith. So, in the Nature that had ſinned, Death was endured as Gods Truth threatned, and his Juſtice would have inflicted, that neither his Truth nor Juſtice might remain unſatisfied: and for this Death of Chriſt, the Elect are ſpared and embraced in the Arms of Mercy; hereupon (r) Mercy and Truth meeting together, Juſtice and Peace Kiſsing each other. 4. Herein, The way of applying Jeſus Chriſt promiſed is alſo inſinuated: The blood of the Sacrifices, whereby this Covenant was dedicated, being ſprinkled with a bunch of Hyſſop; this ſignifying true Faith whereby the blood of Chriſt is applyed to the Conſcience. Hyſſopus eſt fides, Hyſſop is Faith, a Type of Faith: as I have formerly noted out of Auguſtine. 5. Herein, Iſrael having applyed Chriſt by Faith, are directed (as by a perfect Rule) to walk before God exactly and uprightly in Chriſt, in Holineſs and Righteouſneſs all the days of their lives; till they come to walk with him in white, in heavenly glory. By all this, to mention no more, The myſterie of Gods grace and wiſdom in ſaving ſinners by Chriſt is more admirably laid open, then in any former Covenant: this therefore is an excellent Additional.

7. Finally, This Covenant excels all that went before, In the Eminent accompliſhment of the Grand Promiſes laid down both in this and in all all the fore-going Covenants. This Covenant, (while it was in force, viz. till Christs death,) was crowned with the Performance of many of their chiefest Promises: which Performances were excellent Additionals to the Glory of this Covenant. Performances being the End and Perfection of the Promises. For,

(1) Under this Covenant Jesus Christ, the true Messiah and Mediator, that Mercy of Mercies, was exhibited in mans flesh, and Sacrificed for his peoples sins as their Surety. For this Old Testament did not expire, The New Testament did not Commence, till Christs Death. Therefore, 1. Now, the Seed of the woman, the Eminent Seed Christ, (f) did bruise the Serpents head indeed, and actually destroy the Devil: according to the Promise of the First Covenant. 2. Now, the true Noah did (t) by water and blood save his Family from perishing in the deluge of Gods wrath which sweeps away the world of the ungodly; according to the Tenor of the second Covenant. 3. Now, the Primary Seed of Abraham was exhibited and performed, to (u) Bless not only the Family of Abraham, the Jews; but all the Nations of the Earth, even the Gentiles, especially with all Spiritual blessings in heavenly things in Christ: according to the great Promise again and again repeated in the third Covenant. 4 Now, the great (x) Prophet, like Moses, was raised up from among the people Israel; and the body of all the Levitical Sacrifices and Shadows was come: according to this fourth Covenant from Mount Sinai. Thus Jesus Christ, (y) The gift of God, The grand Blessing promised in all these four Covenants, was actually exhibited and performed only under this fourth Covenant, in the close of it, as the high accomplishment thereof.

(2) Under this Covenant the (z) promised place of Gods solemn worship which God should choose out of all their Tribes to put his name there, even his special Habitation, was notably accomplished. For, Not only the Moving Tabernacle, (A type of the (a) Moving and Militant State of the Church of God on Earth) was (b) erected according to Gods appointment in the Wilderness: But also the Fixed Temple (A Type of the fixed and Triumphant condition of the Church of God in Heaven) was (c) built by Solomon, at Jerusalem, in Mount Moriah, according to Gods particular Direction: An House full of magnificence, beauty and glory, far surpassing the Tabernacle. Herein the Promise was evidently accomplished, as (d) Solomon intimated in his Prayer at the Dedication of the Temple; and as the (e) Lord implyed in Answering his Prayer. And after Solomon's Temple was destroyed by the King of Babylons forces, There was, under this Covenant-Ministration, (f) a second Temple built by Zerubbabel, after the Jews return from the Babylonish Captivity, by the singular Providence of God: the hands of Zerubbabel laid the foundation of this house, and his hands finished it. And though the outward foundation and fabrick of this House came far short of Solomon's; yet the true spiritual Glory of it was far greater then that of Solomons by reason of Jesus Christ the Desire of all Nations, who came in humane Nature, and glorified this House with his sacred and blessed presence. (g) For, thus saith the LORD of Hosts; yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the Heavens, and the Earth, and the Sea, and the dry Land: and I will shake all Nations, and THE DESIRE OF ALL NATIONS shall come, and I will fill this House with glory, saith the LORD *of Hosts. (3) Under this Sinai Covenant, the Inheritance of the land of Canaan, (the peculiar (h) land of Immanuel, that Eminent (i) Type of Heaven it self that better Country and Everlasting Rest of the Saints) (k) promised of old to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and afterwards to Israel, (l) was fully performed to Israel, with all the Blessings thereof; not one thing failed, that God in that respect had promised unto Israel.

Seeing then, that the accomplishment of the grand Promises both of this and former Covenants, were reserved for this Sinai-Covenant; In these Additional, this Covenant had a singular Prehemineence above all the fore-going Covenants.

Corollary VI.

That, This Sinai-Covenant was Israels Eminent Priviledge, although they were constantly held under it in a very servile Condition. Though it was a great Bondage; yet it was a greater Blessing: Though it was Onus magnum, a great Burden; yet was it Honos major, a far greater Honor. By being under this Covenant, they were kept in much servile slavery: but had they not been under it, they had been exposed to utter Misery. For; 1. Then, they had lain open to all idolatrous prophane and unrighteous Seducements; 2. Then, they had soon degenerated into meer Paganism, The former Covenant with Abraham almost utterly obliterated out of mind; 3. Then, they had been an heedless confused heap of tumultuous people without all order and Government; 4. Then, they had not been digested into a Divine Common-wealth; 5 Then, they had not been advanced to the dignity of a National Church of God; 6 Then, they had been left destitute of this Eminent Discovery of Jesus Christ for their Salvation.

More Particularly, though this Covenant kept Israel in a servile state, yet this Covenant was every way an Eminent Priviledge to them: As may appear by these Particulars, viz.

1. By the Covenant-Relation herein established betwixt God and Israel. This Relation was various, and precious. 1. He contracted with them, as JEHOVAH, giving subsistence to his Promises: They as Heirs of those Promises. 2. He as their Covenant-God by his Covenant with Abraham: They as his Covenant people being ing the Seed of Abraham. 3. He as their Redeemer, literally from the bondage of Egypt, ſpiritually and myſtically from the bondage of Sin, Satan, &c. They as his Ranſomed and Redeemed. 4. He as their Supream Law-giver in Jeſus Chriſt: They as his Subjects owing to him and his Laws all poſſible allegiance and obedience. 5. He as their deareſt Husband; They as his endeared Spiritual Spouſe. How great a dignity was it therefore to Iſrael to be advanced ſo nigh unto the moſt high God in ſuch dear and ſweet Relations! were theſe ſmall things?

2. By the Covenant-bleſſings herein promiſed by God to Iſrael. Theſe bleſſings are many and excellent: both Temporal, Spiritual, and Eternal. Veiw them ſeverally, weigh them judiciouſly: and then conclude how great things the Lord hath done for Iſrael in this Covenant.

3. By the Covenant-Duties herein reſtipulated by Iſrael to God. Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, Sincere, entire, conſtant obedience, and Repentance in caſe of any failings in the Premiſes; were not only Iſraels Duties, but alſo Iſraels Dignities and Priviledges. For, 1. Faith is (m) not of our ſelves, it is the gift of God. Hereupon Paul ſaith; (n) To you it is given in the behalf of Chriſt, not only to believe on him, but alſo to ſuffer for his ſake. The Apoſtles expreſſion plainly intimates that God granted and gave to them a double priviledge, viz. of Believing on Chriſt, and Suffering for Chriſt. Believing on Chriſt is a meer ſupernatural endowment: therefore a great Priviledge. 2. Obedience ſincere, entire and conſtant, is an eminent (o) fruit of Faith unfeigned; in them only that (p) are Gods workmanſhip, created in Chriſt Jeſus unto good works, &c. 3. And Repentance is (q) Gods gratuitous gift to ſinners. The Sinner can no more create a New heart within himſelf, then he can create a New world without himſelf.

(o) 1 Tim. 1. 5.
(p) Eph. 2. 10.
(q) Act. 11. 18. 2 Tim. 2. 25.

4. By the Covenant-Ends herein intended. The immediate End, was a Fuller revealing of Jeſus Chriſt to Iſrael, then in all the former Covenants: The Mediate End was Iſraels further Happineſs, and Gods greater glory. All theſe ends were high Priviledges. Was it a ſmall matter to know more of Chriſt the Sinners Saviour, then did Adam, Noah, or Abraham? Was it a light matter, that further Proviſions ſhould be made for Sinners Happineſs and Gods Glory by this Covenant, then by any of the former?

5. By the Covenant-diſtinction made herein betwixt Iſrael and all other people in the Earth. This Covenant was a diſcriminating, a diſtinguiſhing Covenant. It was a Middle Partition-wall betwixt Iſrael and all other Nations, till Chriſt by his death took it down. Hereupon, Iſrael became (s) Gods peculiar treaſure above all the people of the Earth: Iſrael was Gods ſpecial incloſure; others remained as a waſte Common, or Wilderneſs: Iſrael his (t) vineyard of Red wine, kept and look't to every moment night and day; all others neglected, lected, (n) over-looked, and suffered to perish in ignorance and unbelief: Israel drawn (x) near unto God; all others afar off: Israel Gods (y) Covenant-people; All others, Not the people of God: Israel the Church of God; all other Nations remaining the Synagogue of Satan. Here were vast distinctions betwixt Israel and others: and consequently very high Priviledges of Israel above others.

6. Finally, By the Covenant-liberty herein couched under this Covenant-servitude. Though this Covenant kept Israel in a servile state till Christ: yet under all their bondage they had much freedom. And though their Bondage was some Prejudice: yet their Freedom was a greater Priviledge. 1. They were in Bondage to God and Jesus Christ, whose (z) Yoke is easie, and his burden light: but they were at liberty from cruel tyrannical Egypt and all other Oppressors. 2. They were in bondage under the Levitical Ceremonies and services: but they were hereby kept at liberty from all Paganish Idolatries and superstitions. 3. They were in servitude under the Letter and outward Ministration of this Covenant: but they were at liberty in regard of the Spirit and inward Mysterie of this Covenant, (a) leading them to Christ that they might be justified by Faith. 4. They were in bondage, as they were kept under the Law, (b) shut-up-together as under lock and key: but they were at liberty under this bondage, whilst they were shut up unto the Faith that should afterwards be revealed. 5. In a word they were in bondage (c) during their nonage, and as servants in Condition, under Tutors and Governors of this Covenant: but even then they were at liberty being children of God, heirs of all by right, having true Title to Jesus Christ, and to all spiritual liberty and felicity in him (which all other Nations wholly wanted), and assoon as their Full-age came, they were by Christ redeemed actually from all their bondage, furnished with the Spirit of Adoption, as sons, heirs, and coheirs with Christ.

Corollary VII.

That, This Covenant from Mount Sinai was full of CHRIST, therein eminently revealed. I have formerly (d) often intimated, How much this Covenant Revealed Christ and intended Christ, and this in many Particulars: As, In his Particular descent of Israel according to the flesh; In his Person and Natures; In his Mediatory Office of Prophet, Priest and King; In his states of Humiliation and Exaltation wherein he discharged that his Mediatory Office. Let the Reader Consult those former passages: who therein desires satisfaction.

(d) In this 4. Ch. Aphor. 1. Quest. IV. Reas. 4. & Aph. 11. Answ. to Object. 1. & Aphoris. II. Inference II.

But having now spoken to the whole Body of this Covenant, and unfolded it both in the Substantials and Circumstantials thereof, it is much more evident, (if we reflect upon the whole,) that This Sinai-Covenant was exceeding full of JESUS CHRIST; the Foun-

Foundation, Center, Substance, Matter, Mysterie, and Scope thereof. For,

I. Gods (e) Preparatory Introduction to this Covenant was full of Christ. For, in him alone it is that lapsed Sinners become an Holy Nation, a Royal Priesthood, or Kings and Priests to God, and a peculiar people: As there he promised, Israel should be, if they would keep this Covenant.

II. Gods (f) Preface to this Covenant, the ten Commandments, was full of Christ. For, 1. God is JEHOVAH, giving actual subsistence to his Promises unto Sinners, only in Jesus Christ, (g) in whom all the Promises of God are Yea, and Amen. 2. God was Israels God, (viz. Their Covenant-God, as Abraham's Seed, according to his former Covenant (h) made with Abraham and his Seed,) only in and through Jesus Christ. God becomes not a Covenant-God to any, nor accepts any as his Covenant-people since the Fall, but only in Jesus Christ the Mediator. 3. God was Israels Redeemer out of Egypts bondage literally, and out of the bondage of Sin and Satan typified thereby mystically, and both by Jesus Christ the only All-sufficient Redeemer of Gods Elect. This is clear (i) by the Passover appointed to be first celebrated on that very night when Israel departed out of Egypt: which Passover was Mystically Christ.

III. Gods Commandments themselves, (k) wherein the Sum of this Sinai-Covenant was eminently comprized, had much of Christ in them. For; 1. Christ was in the First Commandment: Inasmuch as none can have the LORD to be their God, or worship him as their God acceptably, but only in and through Jesus Christ, that (l) only way unto the Father, in whom alone (m) all our Spiritual Sacrifices are acceptable to God. 2. Christ was in the second Commandment: Inasmuch as the General Promise of shewing Mercy to thousands of them that love him and keep his Commandments, is founded on Jesus Christ. For, None can truly love God, or keep his Commandments, but in and by Christ: (n) without whom we can do nothing. And (o) Spiritual Pardoning Saving Mercy (which is the mercy there intended) is extended to none but only in Christ. 3. Christ was in the fourth Commandment: Inasmuch as one Reason whereby the Sanctification of the Sabbath was urged upon Israel, was (p) Gods Redeeming Israel from the Corporal slavery of Egypt, which typed to them their Redemption by Christ from their spiritual slavery under Sin, Satan, &c. as hath been intimated. And (q) some have Opinion, That the seventh Day Sabbath was principally grounded on Christ as Promised; and the first-day Sabbath afterwards grounded upon Christ as performed. 4. Christ was in the fifth Commandment: Inasmuch as the Particular (r) Promise of Long life in Canaan, annexed to that Commandment, was founded on Christ the Basis of all Gods Promises. The Land there intended, was the land of Canaan, literally called (s) The land of Immanuel, and Heaven it self

Now Heaven is the (t) place which Chriſt prepares for his elect: and (u) Eternal life is the gift of God through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. 5. Finally, Chriſt was in The Sum of this whole Covenant of the ten Commandments, conſiſting in Loving the LORD our God with all the Heart, Soul, and might, and our neighbour as our ſelves: Inaſmuch as we can neither Love God nor our neighbour ſincerely and acceptably as we ought, but in Chriſt (x) the Son of his love, and through faith in him. IV. The Mercies Promiſed on Gods part in this Covenant, and the Duties Reſtipulated on Iſraels part, were full of Chriſt. When God promiſed, (a) To be a God to them, (b) To raiſe them up Chriſt a Prophet like Moſes, (c) To give them the Spirit of Chriſt to Circumciſe their Hearts, And to furniſh them abundantly with Temporals, Spirituals, and Eternals; Had not all theſe Bleſſings Jeſus Chriſt engraven upon them, (d) in whom all things are ours, and with whom even all Temporals are added to us? And when Iſrael reſtipulated Faith, Obedience, and Repentance in caſe of miſcarriages, were not theſe Duties wholly to be performed through Chriſt aſſiſting?

V. The Promulgation of this Covenant had much of Chriſt in it. For, 1. It may be warrantably thought, That God delivered this Covenant by Chriſt the ſecond Perſon in Trinity, (who was afterwards to be incarnate) unto Moſes, and by Moſes to the people. Inaſmuch as, (e) It is expreſly ſaid, (f) That Moſes was in the Church in the Wilderneſs with the Angel, who ſpake to him in Mount Sinai. (g) This Angel is ſtiled, (h) The Angel of his Preſence: becauſe by this Angel the Lord vouchſafed his ſpecial Preſence with, and reſidence among Iſrael. And he is called, (i) The Angel of the Covenant, or Meſſenger of the Covenant: that is, That Meſſenger of God by whom the Covenant was ſent to Moſes for Iſrael. Chriſt then put this Covenant into Moſes his hands. Yea this Angel is elſewhere called, Chriſt; (k) Neither let us tempt Chriſt, as ſome of them alſo tempted, and were deſtroyed of the deſtroyer. 2. This Covenant was promulged by God in ſuch dreadful and terrible manner, as (l) compelled Iſrael to ſue for a Typical Mediator, viz. Moſes, to paſs betwixt God and them: which requeſt the LORD highly commended and granted, Promiſing them alſo upon that occaſion to raiſe them up the true Mediator Jeſus Chriſt A Prophet from among themſelves, &c.

The (k) Sacrifices ſlain, and the blood of thoſe Sacrifices ſprinkled. one half on the Altar, the other half on the People, were Eminent Types of Chriſt the true Sacrifice offered up and of his blood ſhed to purge away his peoples ſins indeed. The sweet (m) vision of God, presently upon this Sanction, having under his feet as it were a paved work of a Saphire-stone, and as it were the body of heaven in his clearness, (emblemes of divine favour to his Covenant-people in the Mediator) and all this without any their hurt or terror; did also further let them see, what a vast difference there was betwixt approaching God without, and with a Mediator.

(m) Exod. 24. 9, 10, 11.

VII. The Gracious Renewing of this Covenant, and the Tables thereof had much of Christ in it. For; 1. Gods course in bringing Israel (n) to Repentance for their breach of Covenant; by denying his presence to them, and causing his Tabernacle to be removed out of the camp: 2. Gods proclaiming, upon their Repentance, all his goodness before Moses; (o) The LORD, the LORD God, Merciful and Gracious, Long-suffering and abundant in Goodness and Truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity, transgression, and sin: 3. Gods (p) Renewing of this Covenant hereby with Israel: All these notably pointed at Christ, in whom alone there is a door opened, for Repentance unto Sinners, for Pardon upon Repentance, and for Renovation of Covenant after violation thereof. The Covenant of works without Christ admitting of, No Repentance after Sining, No Remission upon Repenting, No Renewing of Covenant after breaking thereof.

VIII. The Additionals annexed to this Covenant of the ten Commandments, especially the whole body of the Ceremonials (which as hath been shewed, were digested into this Covenant,) were all full of Christ: He, one way or other, being the (q) Truth of all those Types, the Substance and Body of all those shadows.

(q) Heb. 10. 1, &c. Col. 2. 17. Ioh. 1. 17.

Now, That JESUS CHRIST was the Truth and Substance of all these Ceremonial Shadows, and the great Mysterie chiefly intended in all those Figures, may briefly appear by this ensuing Induction of Particulars, viz. 1. Of Sacred Places for publique worship; 2. Of Sacred Utensils for those Places; 3. Of Sacred Persons appointed to Officiate in those places; 4. Of Sacred Things, whereabout they were to be imployed; 5. And of Sacred Times, which were more Solemnly to be observed by them in their Ministrations: According as I have already (r) marshalled these Ceremonials in the beginning of this chapter.

(r) In this 4. Ch. Aphor. 1. Quest. 11.

1. The Sacred Places appointed under this Covenant for Gods Publique worship, were the Tabernacle built by Moses in the Wilderness; The Temple built by King Solomon, and the second Temple built by Zerubbabel, both these in the land of Canaan on Mount Moriah. Now The Tabernacle and Temple were Types of CHRIST. The Tabernacle; For when Christ was actually incarnate, it is said of him; (s) And the Word became flesh, and dwelt amongst us: Gr.

and tabernacled, or dwelt-as-in-a-Tabernacle amongst us: that is, he dwelt in humane flesh as in a Tabernacle. And Christ is stiled, (t) A Minister of the Sanctuary and of the true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man. (u) —— An High-priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building. The Temple also was a Type of Christ: Hence Christ cals himself the Temple, (x) destroy this Temple, —— but he spake of the Temple of his Body. The Sacred Tabernacle and Temple were Eminent Types of Christ in many regards, especially in these respects; 1. The Tabernacle and Temple were places of Gods special Presence and Residence in the midst of Israel; (y) Let them make me a Sanctuary, that I may dwell amongst them. God dwelt amongst them in his Tabernacle Symbolically, affording them there visible symbols or signs of his presence and favour. Thus in Jesus Christ, in his humane Nature, (z) the fulness of the Godhead dwelt bodily, or Personally: as the Greek word (σωματικῶς) may be well translated, viz. by a personal union of his Humanity with his Godhead. 2. The Tabernacle and Temple were (a) places of publique worship and holy Ministration for the Priests to minister in. So Christ our great High-Priest (b) Ministred in this true and more perfect Tabernacle of his own humane Nature. 3. The Tabernacle and Temple in regard of Gods presence and worship there, was Holy; (c) The Sanctuary, The Holy and Beautiful House, The Holy of Holies, &c. So Jesus Christ was (d) Holy, Harmless, Undefiled, separate from sinners; (e) without sin; yea from his very Birth and Conception, (f) That Holy-thing —— the Son of God. 4. The Tabernacle and Temple were so accepted of God, that thereby the (g) Ceremonial Worship and Sacrifices presented to God therein, and their Prayers made towards those places, were rendred acceptable to God. So Jesus Christ is most accepted of God; (h) The Son of Gods Love, (i) The Beloved, in and for whom alone both our Persons and all our Spiritual Sacrifices are acceptable before God. 5. The Tabernacle had an Outward Court, A Sanctuary, And the Holyest of all. The Sanctuary (k) was severed from the Outward Court by a Curious hanging for the door of the Tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linnen, wrought with Needle-work, through which the Priests entred into the Sanctuary to Minister. And the (l) Holyest of all was severed from the Sanctuary by a veil of blue and purple, and Scarlet, and fine twined linnen of cunning work with Cherubims: through which veil the High-priest alone was to go into the Holyest of all once every year, and that not without the blood of Sacrifices. Thus Jesus Christ (whose veil of humane Nature was curiously embroydered with all varieties of Mediatory gifts and graces, being (m) annoynted with the oyl of gladness above all his fellows,) is the only way unto the father, and door of the sheep, whereby we enter into the Church militant shadowed out out by the Sanctuary, and into the Church triumphant in Heaven it self, resembled by the Holiest of all. So that now we (p) have boldness to enter into the Holyest by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh. 6. The Tabernacle was made up of many Materials, The Temple built of many stones, &c. and they were, without, very sumptuous, within; very glorious: yet all making up but one Tabernacle, and one Temple upon one foundation. So Christ mystical is made up of many Materials, many living stones: Christ himself the (q) living foundation stone chosen of God and precious, upon whom believers as lively stones are built up a Spiritual House; (r) —— and they are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone, In whom all the building fitly framed together, groweth unto an Holy Temple in the Lord, —— for an Habitation of God through the Spirit. And, (f) the Kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing of wrought Gold.

2. The Sacred Utensils or Instruments of Ministration for the Tabernacle and Temple, were very many, all one way or other leading to CHRIST. These Utensils were contained, 1. In the Court of the Tabernacle; 2. In the Sanctuary; 3. In the Holiest of all.

In the Court of the Tabernacle were especially these two Utensils, viz. The Altar of Burnt-offering, and The Laver of Brass. I. The (s) Altar of Burnt-offering by the Door of the Tabernacle, was a notable Type of Jesus Christ our true (u) Altar: and this divers ways. 1. The Matter of it was durable Shittim wood, overlaid with Brass, a strong and durable mettal able to abide the constant fire. Shadowing out the ability and strength of Christ for suffering of Gods wrath for our sins, without being consumed or overcome thereby. (Brass being oft-times used in Scripture to denote (x) strength:) As also the perpetuity and incorruptibleness of Christs Priesthood, and constant vertue or efficacy of his Sacrifice. 2. The four Horns of the Altar, which were both for Ornament, and for keeping things from falling from the Altar, (Horns usually (y) denoting power and renown,) signified the Power and Glory of Christs Priesthood for the salvation of his Church gathered from the four Corners of the Earth; thinks (z) Ainsworth. 3. The form of the Altar, which was four-square, signified the immoveable stability and firmness of Christs Priesthood and Merit for his peoples eternal Happiness. 4. The Instruments and vessels for the Altar, for taking away the ashes or any filth from the Altar; figured the (a) Word and Ordinances of Christ in his Church, serving to purge away the filth of the flesh, and to kindle the fire of the Spirit, for the service of God in purity. 5. The Nature and Use of the Altar was Holy, it was (b) Anoynted, Dedicated and Sanctified to be Most Holy, that (being greater then the gifts offered thereon) it might sanctifie all the Sacrifices, and make every thing that touched it Holy.

Altar of burnt-offering

v. Vortius Parall: 103.

This figured out (c) Jesus Christ sanctifying himself, especially the (d) Godhead of Christ consecrating and sanctifying the Sacrifice of his Man-hood for his Church, that he might be an odour of a sweet smell unto God: and by his Mediation sanctifying the daily services of his people, that they might be acceptable to God, The Altar being a publique sign of them also. See Heb. 13 10, 15. Joh. 17. 19. Ephes. 5. 2. Isa. 19 19, 20 Gen. 8 20. & 12. 7. II. The Laver of Brass, (e) whereat the Priests were to wash their hands and feet with water continually before they came near to the Altar or entred into the Sanctuary. It was placed betwixt the Altar and the Sanctuary. Hereby was shadowed out, Justification by the blood of Christ, wherein we are (f) washed from our sins, and so made Kings and Priests unto God: As also Sanctification, by the (g) washing of Regeneration and Renewing of the Holy-ghost; That thus, (h) our hearts being sprinkled from an evil Conscience, and our Bodies washed with pure water, we may draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of Faith, to serve and worship the Lord acceptably; and (i) washing our hands in innocency may compass Gods Altar pleasingly.

In the Sanctuary were chiefly these three Sacred (k) Utensils. viz. 1. The Golden Table, 2. The Golden Candlestick, 3. And The Golden Altar of Incense. I. The Golden Table, was made (l) of Shittim wood, over-laid with pure Gold, with a Crown of Gold round about, besides all its other furniture, whereon twelve unleavened Cakes of Shew-bread (according to the number of the twelve Tribes of Israel) were set with Frankincense upon them, before the LORD week after week, Continually on the Northside of the Sanctuary. To omit (m) the curiosities of some, the Mysterie of the Sacred Utensil seems to be this: The Pure Golden Table shadowed out Christ; The Incense on the Table, his Mediation and Intercession for his Church; The twelve unleavened Cakes represented the twelve Tribes of Israel, and in them all Gods Elect his true (n) Israel, which as upon (o) unleavened Cakes are presented unto God in Christ as a pure Table in his Church made acceptable to God through the vertue of his Mediation and Intercession, and there continually serving him and enjoying the (p) favourable presence and face of God in Christ familiarly, God familiarly conversing and feasting with them, and they with him, till at last they shall be taken up into Heaven to Feast with Christ at his glorious Table of those (q) endless pleasures and fulness of joy in Gods presence for evermore. II. The Golden Candlestick, of pure beaten Gold, with his shaft, six branches, bowls, knops, flowers, and seven lamps thereof &c. (r) was placed on the South-side of the Sanctuary, over against the Golden Table, to give light therein Continually. This represented the (s) Continual light of the Word held forth by Christ, his Spirit and Ministers in his Church to his People, that in the light thereof they might still stand before the Lord and serve him night and day. More Particularly upon the two Ends of the Mercy-Seat, Covering the Mercy-Seat with their wings, with their faces one towards another, and both looking down towards the Mercy-seat. In reference to these things God said; (e) And I will meet with thee there, and I will speak with thee, from above the Covering-Mercy-seat, from between the two Cherubims which are upon the Ark of the Testimony, all things which I shall command thee unto the sons of Israel. The whole was an eminent visible Sign of Gods gracious Presence with his People in Jesus Christ. Particularly; The Ark containing the Covenant or Testimony within it, figured out Christ (f) in whose heart and bowels the Law and Covenant of God had its full residence: The Mercy-seat, which covered the Ark and two Tables, and whereon God did sit or dwell, (which Mercy-seat the Apostle cals, (g) The Propitiatory, Heb. 9. 5.) typified Jesus Christ, by whom our Transgressions of the Law are forgiven and covered, and in whom God vouchsafes his gracious presence to his people; Hence, Paul cals Christ, (h) A Propitiatory through faith in his blood, to declare Gods Justice for remission of sins, that are past; And John saith (i) He is the Propitiation for our sins: The Cherubims on the Mercy-seat, may signifie, either Gods (k) Angels, whom he employes for his own honor, and for service unto Christ and his Church, whose mysteries they desire to look into, Heb. 1. 6. 14 1 Pet. 1. 12. Or Gods (l) Ministers on Earth, who are counted Cherubims, they with heavenly hearts looking unto Christ and into the Law are such as on whom he also rideth by the preaching of the Gospel, Psal. 45. 5. Act 9. 15. But (m) chiefly they signifie Christ himself the Covering-Mercy-seat, of which they were made on the two ends thereof, to cover the Ark. In these four Holy things we have an admirable representation of the whole Mediatory Office of Christ, as Prophet, Priest, and King, obtaining Gods gracious favour to, and presence with his Church. The Crown about the Ark, and the Cherubims Protecting and Covering the Ark, may signifie his Kingship, Psal. 99. 1. The Mercy-seat covering, and the Ark containing the Testimony, his Priesthood, Rom. 3. 25. Heb. 10. 5. to 11. Psal. 40. 6, 7, 8. And the voice which spake from the same, his Prophecy, Numb. 7. 8. 9. Heb. 1. 1, 2. Judg. 20. 27. V. The Golden pot with Mannah, (n) was also in the Most holy place: there reserved for a Memorial to Israel of the bread, wherewith God fed them in the wilderness for 40 years together. This Mannah was an eminent Type of Christ, (o) the true Bread of life, that came down from Heaven, whereby all true believers should be nourished in the Wilderness of this world unto eternal life. Christ is the true (p) Hidden Mannah, now laid up and hidden for us in the Holiest of all, Heaven it self, in the glorious presence of God to all eternity. VI. Aarons Rod that budded, (q) was also laid up before the Testimony for a Sign, that all generations might know God had stablished and confirmed the Priesthood in Aarons line.

Finally, The golden Cenſer (f) to burn Incenſe on, once every year on the day of Atonement, that the cloud of incenſe might cover the Mercy-ſeat, ſeems alſo to be kept in the Holieſt of all. Thus all the Holy Inſtruments and Utenſils of the Tabernacle and Temple did in one regard or other tend to Chriſt. The Tabernacle and the Holy Inſtruments therein were full of CHRIST.

3. The Sacred Perſons imployed by God about the Miniſtry and Service of the Tabernacle, were chiefly of two ſorts, viz. 1. The Prieſts: both The High-Prieſt, and The ſecond Prieſts. 2. The Levites, which were to Miniſter about the Service of the Tabernacle, under the Prieſts. And both theſe were notable Types of Jeſus Chriſt, eſpecially in regard of his Prieſtly Office.

The Prieſts of both Sorts were moſt Eminent Types of Chriſt, eſpecially in theſe two regards, viz. I. In their Vocation to their Prieſtly Office. (t) No man taketh this Honor to himſelf, but he that was called of God, as was Aaron, ſo alſo Chriſt glorified not himſelf, to be made an High-prieſt; but he that ſaid unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee. As he ſaith alſo in another place, Thou art a Prieſt for ever after the Order of Melchizedeck. As they were orderly and regularly called of God to their typical Prieſthood: So Chriſt was orderly called of God to his true Prieſthood. More Particularly, Their Vocation or Deputation to their office had two things in it; 1. Their Election: which had reſpect; (1) Partly to their Tribe; They (u) muſt be only of the Tribe of Levi. So Chriſt was a ſpecial, a ſingular man (x) taken from among men. (2) Partly, to their Perfections; They (y) muſt be wholly without blemiſh or deformity. So Jeſus Chriſt our High-Prieſt is *Holy, harmleſs, undefiled, ſeparate from Sinners, &c. Heb.*7.26. 2. Their (z) Conſecration, whereby they were hallowed to Miniſter in the Prieſts Office, which Conſecration was diſpatched chiefly in theſe Particulars, viz. (1) In waſhing them with water, (a) at the door of the Tabernacle. So Chriſt was (b) Baptized or waſhed with water at his Entrance into his Publique Miniſtry of Mediatorſhip. (2) In clothing them with holy Garments, excellent for outward beauty and glory, Exod. 29.5. to 10. & *Exod.*28. throughout. Theſe robes typed out the (c) glory and beauty of Chriſts Spiritual Ornaments and Mediatory accompliſhments wherewith he was every way adorned and clothed moſt beauteouſly and glorioufly. (3) In Annoynting them with the Holy annoynting Oyl, which (d) was curiouſly compoſed by the art of the Apothecary, according to Gods Preſcription. Aſſoon as Aaron was clothed with the holy garments, (e) This holy Oyl was to be poured upon his head. This ſhadowed out out the Holy Spirit of God with all his Graces that was beyond measure poured forth upon Jesus Christ above all his fellows. (f) The Spirit of the LORD God is upon me because the LORD hath annoynted me to preach good tidings unto the meek, &c. (g) Thou lovest righteousness and hatest wickedness, therefore God, thy God, hath annoynted thee with the Oyl of gladness above thy fellows. (4) In offering divers (h) sorts of Sacrifices at their Consecration and Instalment into their office: Especially they were sanctified to their office by three sorts of Sacrifices, viz. A Sin-offering, A Burnt-offering, A peace-offering, or Thank-offering. All which are Types of Christs (i) Perfecting, Consecrating, and Sanctifying himself through his own sufferings, and willingly offering up himself for the sins of his Elect, that he might be an al-sufficient High-priest and Mediator for them. To this effect Christ said; And for their sakes I sanctifie my self, (viz. by voluntary undergoing of Sufferings and Death, &c.) that they also might be sanctified through the Truth, Joh. 17. 19. Thus the Priests prefigured Christ in their vocation to their office. II. In their execution and discharge of their Priestly office, they were also singular Types of Jesus Christ. And this evident, 1. In the Inferiour Priests; and 2. In the High-Priest. The Inferiour Priests executed their office, 1. By slaying and offering up of Sacrifices for the people, with sprinkling of their blood, upon the Holy Altar. Thus, Christ God-man the Priest, offered up his Humane Nature The Sacrifice, upon the Godhead as the Altar consecrating the gift. He (k) laid down his life of himself, for his sheep: none could take it from him against his will. (l) —— He through the Eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God. (m) —— By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. 2. By Teaching the people, as the standing Ministry (n) The Priests lips should keep knowledge: and they should seek the Law at his mouth, &c. So Christ is (o) the great Teacher of his Church, That the Prophet like Moses, Deut. 18. 15. who hath the tongue of the learned, Isa. 52. 4. And Grace is poured into his lips, Psal. 45. 2. 3. By (p) Praying for the People and Blessing them. This typified, Christs Intercession for his Church On Earth (q) offering up prayers and Supplications, with strong crying and tears, and being heard in all things; In heaven (r) appearing continually in the presence of God for us. And Christs Benediction, who blesseth his people with the (s) Blessing of Abraham, the Promise of the Spirit through Faith: (t) Being sent first in order to bless the Jews, but afterwards the Gentiles, in turning them from their iniquities. 4. By taking the constant (u) care and oversight of the Tabernacle, The Utensils thereof; and of the Service of God therein. So Jesus Christ is (x) the Head of the Church, Saviour of the Body, chief Bishop of Souls, and the great Shepherd of the sheep, continually watching over them for their Salvation. The High-priest executed his Office. 1. By (y) dressing the lamps and lights in the Sanctuary, and

and then offering Incenſe upon the Golden Altar daily, morning and evening. Thus Chriſt (z) is the true Light of life, and Salvation by his Spirit, Word, and Ordinances, ever ſhining in his Church. And he dayly preſents the holy (a) Prayers and Services of his people with the much incenſe of his own merit, that they may be an odour of a ſweet ſmell, acceptable to God in him. 2. By (b) ſetting Shew-bread before the Lord every Sabbath continually upon the Pure Table. So Chriſt preſents his Church continually in the preſence of God as acceptable to him, to have ſweet Communion with him eſpecially on his Sabbaths, God and they (c) mutually feaſting together in Chriſt Jeſus. 3. By (d) going once every year on the day of Attonement through the veyl into the Holyeſt of all by the blood of Sacrifices, to make Attonement. So Chriſt by the veyl of his own fleſh entred once for all into the Holieſt of all Heaven it ſelf with his own blood to make everlaſting attonement for us, Heb. 10.19,20. Thus the Prieſts, both in their vocation to their Office and execution of their office, were eminent Types of Chriſt. Their Office was full of Chriſt.

The Levites alſo, whom (e) God gave to Aaron for the Service of the Tabernacle, having accepted them in lieu of the Firſt-born of Iſrael, (which (f) Firſt-born were peculiarly Gods, and were Prieſts to God in their ſeveral Families formerly,) The Levites being thus appropriated to God for the Service of his Sanctuary in lieu of all the Firſt-born of Iſrael, and given as a gift to Aaron the High-prieſt for that end; ſhadowed out the excellent myſterie of Gods giving an (g) Aſſembly of the Firſt-born written in Heaven to Chriſt our great High-prieſt, who (h) as ſpiritual Prieſts and Levites ſhould (i) follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goes, as his redeemed from among men, being the Firſt-fruits unto God and to the Lamb. (k) —— Therefore are they before the Throne of God, and ſerve him day and night in his Temple. To this effect alſo others (l) expreſs this Myſterie.

But took the Levites and their Cattel in ſtead of Iſraels Firſt-born Men and Cattel, Numb 3. 45. And gave them as a gift to Aaron, to Miniſter unto him. Who being in his Prieſthood a Type of Chriſt, all theſe Rites are in him fulfilled: For, unto Chriſt God gave children, Heb. 2. 13. and they are a Congregation of Firſt-born written in Heaven, Heb 12. 23. being of Gods will begotten by the word of Truth, that they ſhould be a kind of Firſt-fruits of his Creatures, Iam. 1. 18. The Firſt born were ſpecial Types of Jeſus Chriſt; 1. As they were Gods peculiar, Exod. 13. 2. 2. As the ſecond and next to the Father of the Family, and as a Father to it. 3. As Rulers and Prieſts in their Families, Gen. 27. 29. Gen 49. 8 4. As having a double Portion in goods, Deut. 2. 17. Theſe Particulars ſee enlarged and accommodated to Chriſt, by Dr. Taylor, in his Chriſt Revealed, Chap. xiii. p. 92. &c. Lond. 1635.

4. Sacred or Holy Things in uſe under this Covenant-Diſpenſation, were many: eſpecially of four ſorts, viz. 1. Sacraments. 2. Sacrifices. 3. The Holy Annoynting Oyl. 4. The Holy Holy Perfumes. The Soul and Marrow of them all being Christ.

Sacraments, of Ordinary and standing use, Instituted under the former Covenant of God with Abraham, but further confirmed and continued under this Covenant from M. Sinai, were 1. Circumcision. 2. The Passover. Both Types of Christ, as I have formerly manifested.

Sacrifices and Offerings were of many sorts: yet all having some tendency towards Christ. I. The Holo-caust, or Burnt-offering, (m) called עלה Hholah that is, Ascension: because it wholly Ascended up towards God in flames. It was of the Herd, of the flock, of fowls This Figured, 1. Christ, (n) who through the Eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, to purge his Elect from dead works, and reconcile them to God. 2. Christs Members, who being reconciled to God, and sanctified by the Death of Christ to serve the living God, do (o) present their Bodies a living Sacrifice, Holy, acceptable to God, which is their service according to the Word. II. The Meat-offering, (p) called מנחה Minchah, that is, The Offering, Gift, or Oblation. It was of many sorts. This Typified and shadowed out, 1. Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us an Oblation and a Sacrifice to God, for a sweet smelling savour, Ephes. 5. 2. Heb 10. 5, 8, 9, 10 from Psal. 40. This Oblation served also to expiate sins, 1 Sam. 3. 14 & 26. 19. Therefore when Christ was come, this Meat-offering ceased, as was foretold in Daniel 9. 27. He shall cause the Sacrifice and the Minchah to cease. 2. Christians, who through Christ are cleansed and sanctified to be pure oblations unto God. This was propheſied; (q) They shall bring all the brethren for a Minchah (or Meat offering) unto the LORD out of all the Gentiles, &c. —— This (r) Paul shews to be accomplished by his Ministration of the Gospel to the Gentiles. 3. The fruits of Grace and good Works, which Christians are to exercise, (1) Towards God; —— (s) The lifting up of my hands as the Evening Minchah. So when the Lord told the Jews; (t) I will not accept a Minchah (or Meat-offering) at your hand; he adds, For from the rising of the Sun, even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place Incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure Meat-offering. Which is fulfilled; when (u) men pray every where, lifting up holy hands. And (2) Towards man also; Heb. 13. 16 Phil. 4. 18. But especially this Minchah figured the New-creature and holy state which we have in Christ; even the Sanctification of our Persons and Actions, and their acceptableness to God through Christ: as the Burnt-offering signified our Reconciliation unto God in Christ. III. Peace-offerings, called (x) זבח שלמים zebach shelamin, viz. The Sacrifice of things pacifying. It was also divers sorts, These Peace-offerings, were Sacrificed; (y) when men in their troubles prayed unto God for Peace and Salvation: and (z) when, upon Mercies received from God, men would express their thankful Returns to God. As therefore The Burnt-offering typified our Reconciliation to God in Christ; and The Meat-offering our Sanctification and acceptation before God by Christ; So this Peace-offering signified, Both Christs Oblation of himself, whereby he (a) became our Peace and Salvation: And our Oblation of Prayer, Praise and Thanksgiving unto God, in the midst of troubles, temptations, and spiritual Conflicts which we fight by faith in this life, (b) that we may receive mercy, and find grace to help in time of need; or upon receit of grace and mercy from God, that we (c) may thankfully render to the Lord for all his benefits.

IV. The Sin-offering, in case of Ignorance, or Infirmity: called (d) חטאת Chataah, that is, Sin, or, For sin; compare here with those phrases in Rom. 8. 3. & Heb. 10. 6, 7. It was called A Sin-offering, because with laying the hand on the head of the Sacrifice, the Sin Confessed was as it were laid upon the Sacrifice offered for Sin. This prefigured Jesus Christ the true offering for sin, Isai. 53. 10. who, though he (e) had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth, yet was he wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our iniquities, ——and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. Though he (f) knew no sin, yet he was made sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

V. The Trespass-offering, (g) for sins done knowingly, wittingly and maliciously. It was called אשם Asham, that is, Sin, or Guiltiness. This also, as the former, Figured Christ made a Sacrifice for our Sin and Guiltiness: Not only Redeeming us by his blood from our Ignorance and Infirmities, but also from our sins done against knowledge wittingly and maliciously. So Isaiah propheſied, (h) when thou shalt make his Soul (Asham) an offering for sin, he shall see his Seed.

VI. The Consecration-offering, (i) for the Priests: called מלואים Milluim, that is, fulfillings: because hereby the Consecration of Aaron and his sons was fulfilled and compleated. The offerings of the Consecration of Aaron and his sons were, (k) A Bullock for a Sin-offering, and two Rams, viz. One Ram for a Burnt-offering, The other Ram of fillings, or Fulfillings, which was in the Nature of a Peace-offering; The blood whereof Moses put upon Aaron and his sons, viz. upon the tip of the right-ear, and upon the thumb of the right-hand, and upon the great Toe of their right-foot. This Sin-offering typified to them Jesus Christ as their Attonement and Justification, for the remission of their sins. This burnt-offering shadowed out Christ, who should (l) transform them by the Renewing of their mind, to present their bodies a living Sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is their Service according to the Word. The second Ram the Ram of fillings, (as Sol. Jarchi here noteth) is the Ram of Peace-offering (or of Perfections) for they filled and perfected the Priests in their Priesthood. It signified the Sanctification of their Consecration and calling to their Office, of their Office it self, and of their administration of it, by the Sacrifice and blood of Jesus Christ; whom Paul cals (m) The Con-

VII. The Purification-offerings, (p) for ſeveral ſorts of Ceremonial uncleanneſs were for the moſt part made up of former Sacrifices and Oblations, for their cleanſing and Purifying: And they figured out Chriſts ſufferings and blood, wherein they were to be waſhed from all their ſinful pollutions and uncleanneſſes. Chriſt is (q) the fountain opened for ſin and for uncleanneſs; He (m) waſheth us from our ſins in his own blood; (n) They waſhed their robes in the blood of the Lamb. VIII. The First-fruit-offerings; which (o) were of the Firſt-born of man, of The firſtlings of Beaſts, and of The Firſt-ripe-fruits of the Earth, theſe belonged to the LORD, and he gave them to Aaron and to his ſons for their portion, (beſides other things) in reference to their Prieſts Office. But the Firſt-born of man, and of unclean beaſts were to be redeemed. Theſe did ſignifie, Partly Chriſt himſelf, who is the (p) Firſt-born among many brethren, Gods peculiar portion and delight, the Son of his Love. Partly the Church of Chriſt, and all his Members, redeemed to Chriſt (q) by his precious blood, and not with corruptibles: who being (r) bought from among men, are the Firſt-fruits unto God and to the Lamb; who (ſ) of his own will begat us with the Word of Truth, that we ſhould be a kind of Firſt-fruits of his Creatures, having received the Firſt-fruits of the Spirit: And theſe are called, (t) The Church of the Firſt-born which are written in Heaven. Thus Chriſt was the Truth and Myſterie intended in all the Sacrifices and Oblations.

The Holy Annoynting Oyl, was (u) compoſed of the chief of Spices, by the Art of the Apothecary (viz. ſome of the Prieſts ſons, 1 Chron. 9. 30.) according to Gods own Preſcription. The Tabernacle and all the Inſtrument veſſels and utenſils thereof; as alſo Aaron and his ſons, were to be annoynted with it. This Holy Oyl and the ſweet ſpices therein, figured out the (x) Holy Spirit and all his gladning graces: And the Annoynting of all the Prieſts and The Tabernacle with all veſſels therein, ſignified (y) the pouring out of the Spirit beyond meaſure upon Chriſt our Head and great High-Prieſt, and in Chriſt the (z) giving forth of his ſpirit by meaſure to his Church, even to all his faithful Miniſters and Members. Hence Paul ſaid; Now he that ſtabliſheth us with you in Chriſt, and hath annoynted us, is God: who hath alſo ſealed us, and given the earneſt of the Spirit in our hearts. And John teſtifieth; Ye have an Oyntment from the Holy-one, and know all things.

And as this Holy Annoynting was not to be applyed to common affairs: So the Spirit and Graces of God and Christ are not imparted to (a) unregenerate carnal, sensual persons remaining such, who having not the Spirit, turn the Grace of God into lasciviousness.

The Holy Perfume or Incense, (b) made of sweet spices according to Gods prescription, to be put in the Tabernacle before the Testimony. This was to be burnt morning and evening upon the Golden Altar, Exod. 30. 8. This figured Christs Sacrifice of himself, and his Intercession for us, which was (c) an odour of a sweet smell to God: As also the (d) Prayers and other (e) upright Performances of Christs members which are sweet unto God as Holy Incense or Perfume through the much Incense of Christs merit put unto them. Which is an High Encouragement to their Prayers, and to all other their gracious exercises.

Thus Christ was the Substance and Mysterie of all these Holy things used in the Tabernacle. Christ was, as in Capital characters, engraven on them all.

5. Finally, Sacred and Holy Times used or appointed under this Covenant-dispensation were, Weekly, Monethly, or Yearly: And all of them having singular respect to Christ, as Types and shadows in one regard or other of Christ. The Apostle refers all Sacred times to three heads, in effect the same with these, shewing that all of them had their chief accomplishment in Christ. (f) Let no man judge you —— in respect of an Holy-day, or of the New-Moon, or of the Sabbaths: which are a shadow of things to come, but the body is of CHRIST. More Particularly.

(f) Col. 2. 16. 17.

The Weekly Sacred-Times, were the Seventh-day-Sabbaths. Now One great Reason or ground of Gods imposing the Sanctification of the Sabbath upon Israel, was, (g) His Redeeming them from Egypts bondage, and giving them Rest from all that labour, toyl and oppression which there they were under. Which Redemption (as I

(g) See Deut. 5. 13, 14, 15. The coming out of Egypt (which seems to be on the Sabbath day) is here made a Reason of observing this day. For it was a Figure of deliverance out of Spiritual bondage by Christ, and so fit to be Meditated upon the Sabbath. H. Ainsworth Annot. on Deut. 5. 15.

Elsewhere also he expresseth himself very well touching the Sabbath, saying; The Sabbath was a remembrance, (1) Of the Creation of the world, Exod. 20. 11. (2) Of Israels coming out of Egypt, Deut. 5. 15. (consequently of our Redemption typified by that deliverance,) (3) A sign of their Sanctification by the Lord, Ezek. 20. 12. (4) And a figure of Grace and Rest, (not only in the times of the New Testament here on Earth, but also in Heaven it self hereafter for ever) which should come by Faith in Christ, Heb. 4. As therefore this Day was a sign of more then Ordinary favours from the Lord, so he required greater Testimonies of their thankfulnes and Sanctification. And Ezekiel propheſying of the Churches service under the Gospel, under the Figure of these Legal Ordinances, he saith; And the Burnt-offering that the Prince shall offer unto the LORD, in the Sabbath day, shall be six Lambs perfect, and a Ram perfect: and the Meat-offering shall be an Ephah for a Ram; and the Meat-offering for the Lambs shall be the gift of his hand, and an Hin of Oyl to an Ephah, Ezek. 4. 5. Signifying that the service of God now in Spirit and Truth should exceed the legal services of old. H. Ainsworth in Annotat. on Numb. 28. 9.

have already shewed) was an Eminent Type of our Spiritual Redemption by Christ from the greater thraldom of Satan, Sin and misery, from which Christ hath given us an Happy Rest; in which regard the Sabbath was a token of the Spiritual joy, and Rest of Conscience in Christ: and therefore Christ hath translated the Sabbath to another Day, from the Seventh to that First day of the Week.

The Monthly Sacred Times, were (b) the New-Moons, viz. The First day of every Moon. Then they served God by special Sacrifices, blowing with silver Trumpets in the Sanctuary, Numb. 28. 11, &c. & 10. 10. 2 Chron. 2. 4. Then they repaired to the Prophets to hear the Word, 2 King. 4. 23. Then they kept religious Feasts to God, 1 Sam. 20. 5, 6. Nor was it lawful then to buy, or sell or do such worldly work, Amos 8. 5. These New-Moons (the Moon now beginning to renew and borrow her light again from the Sun) did signifie to them (i), The Churches renewed illumination and gracious influences for an holy course of life from Christ the Sun of Righteousness. Or, The Renewing of the Moon (which borroweth her light of the Sun) might figure (thinks (k) Aynsworth) the Renewing of the Church, (said to be fair as the Moon, Cant. 6. 10.) by Christ the Sun of righteousness, Mal. 4. 2. whiles her light and joy is by him increased and continued, as (l) Isaiah and (m) Ezekiel testifie. So that in the New Moons Israel was to Meditate of that Spiritual light, Sanctification, Grace, Joy and Comfort which was to come to them through Christ, whereof these New-Moons were a shadow, Col. 2. 16, 17. And we Gentiles in a Spiritual sense keep these New-Moons, as Isaiah hath prophesied, Isa. 66. 23. not by observing days and months, and years, Gal. 4, 10. But by worshipping the Father in Spirit and in Truth; who will accept of our service performed in Christ, in every place as he did at Jerusalem, Mal. 1. 11. and at all times as he did at Israels solemn Feasts.

The Yearly Sacred Times, were, Every year, every seventh year, and Every fiftieth year. 1. Every year, they had these Feasts and Solemnities, viz. 1. The (n) Feast of unleavened bread for seven days together, beginning the next day after the Passover, viz. on the fifteenth of the first Month Abib, when Israel came out of Egypt. This Figured to the Jews, that as Jesus Christ, the Lamb of God, should be sacrificed for them as their true Passover to save them from death and destruction with the wicked: So they should keep that true Passover Feast with the unleavened bread of Sincerity and Truth; yea, and the Apostle intimates to us Gentiles, that we are to keep this Feast of unleavened Bread spiritually, which is during the whole time of the New Testament. For he saith; (o) Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a New lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us. Therefore let us keep the Feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness: but with unleavened bread of Sincerity and Truth. And all this New-Testament time, from Christs death till the end of world, is this spiritual Feast. 2. The Feast of Harvest, or (p) Feast of Weeks. So called, because kept seven weeks after the former Feast, viz. on the fiftieth day following, (whence it was called (q) Pentecost) as a Memorial of the Giving of the Law on that day from Mount Sinai out of the midst of the fire. This Figured (r) The Giving of the Spirit of Christ in form of fiery cloven tongues at Jerusalem on the Feast of Pentecost 50 days after the Sacrificing of Christ our true Passover, which spirit should write the Law in our hearts and put it in our inward parts. 3. The Feast of In-gathering, or (s) Feast of Booths, or Tabernacles in the end of the year, when all their fruits were gathered in, on the fifteenth day of the seventh Month (answering to our September) for seven days together, Levit. 23. 34. to the end. During this Feast they dwelt in Booths or Tents: for a thankful Remembrance of Gods Presence with them, Providence and Protection over them, and of all his favours to them, all the while they were in the Wilderness, (t) when they dwelt in Booths or Tents: As also for expression of their joy and thankfulness to God (u) for the fruits of the Earth in that Month gathered in. This Feast typified, Christs Incarnation and dwelling in the Tabernacle of our flesh, Joh. 1. 14. The Word was made flesh, and tabernacled amongst us. As also the sufficiency of Christs grace and power to protect and defend us from all outward injuries and inward infirmities, till we lay aside these mortal Tabernacles and be clothed with our house which is from Heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 9. & 5. 1, 2. These Mysteries (x) Ainsworth expoundeth very appositely: See his own words in the Margin. 4. The Feast of blowing of Trumpets on the first day of the seventh Month, by the Priests in the Sanctuary, and by the Ministers in the Synagogues, wherewith Prayers, Blessing, and Reading suitable Scriptures were used, Levit. 23. 24. Neh. 8. 15. which all the people were bound to hear: Hence that passage; Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound, Psal. 89. 15. (x) This Feast they kept — to figure out the coming of Christ into the world, at this time of the year, to dwell in the Tabernacle of our flesh, who was made flesh, and dwelt (or pitcht his Tent) among us, Joh. 1. 14. At this Feast Solomons Temple (a figure of Christs body, Joh. 2. 19. 21.) was dedicated with great solemnity, and the Ark brought into it, 2 Chron. 5. 2, 7. This Feast we also are to keep, Zech. 14. 16, 19. which thing we do by belief in Christ, that his Grace is sufficient for us, and that in all our infirmities the power of Christ resteth upon us, (or protecteth us as a Tabernacle, Marginal.) as Paul saith, 2 Cor. 12. 9. Likewise knowing that when our earthly House of Tabernacle wherein we are shall be dissolved, we have a building of God Eternal in the Heavens, with which we desire to be clothed; and therefore being strangers and pilgrims on Earth, we have our Conversation in Heaven until we put off this Tabernacle, 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2. Heb. 11. 13, 14. Phil. 3. 20. 2 Pet. 1. 13, 14. H. Ainsworth in his Annot. on Levit. 23. 34.

15, 16, 17. Ephes. 5. 14. And ſpecially, (y) this Feaſt of blowing of Trumpets, on every New-years day, and at every Jubilee, figured out the Miniſtry of John Baptiſt who blew the Trumpet in Iſrael, (z) preaching the Baptiſm of repentance for remiſſion of ſins: and ſo (a) prepared the way before Chriſt coming to preach the acceptable year of the Lord, the New-Teſtament-Jubilee. 5. The Day of Attonement for afflicting their ſouls on the tenth day of the ſeventh Month, Levit. 23. 27 whereunto they were prepared by the Blowing of Trumpets; ſhadowed out the true Humiliation and Repentance of Sinners for their ſins, and their Reconciliation unto God through the death and blood of Jeſus Chriſt, by whom we have now received the Attonement, Rom. 5. 11. 2 Cor. 5. 19, 20, 21. Thus the Holy times and Feaſts of every year chiefly intended and figured out Jeſus Chriſt unto Iſrael. II. Every ſeventh year they had a Sabbath of Sabbatiſm or Reſt to the Land, wherein they ſhould reſt from Tillage and Husbandry. This ſeventh year was a Sabbatical year, an Holy year: as every ſeventh day was a Sabbatical day, an Holy day of Reſt. In this Sabbatical ſeventh year, theſe three things were eſpecially to be obſerved by the Iſraelites, viz. 1. Every (c) Creditor that lent any thing to his neighbour was to Releaſe it, and not to exact it. Hence it was called, The year of Releaſe; and, The LORD's Releaſe. This Releaſe of Debts, was a ſhadow of Gods Releaſing and forgiving (d) our Spiritual Debts, our ſins. And this year of Releaſe prefigured the (e) Acceptable year of the LORD, the year of Grace, preached by Chriſt, who hath obtained of God for us, The Releaſe of our Debts, even The Remiſſion of our ſins: And hath taught us, (f) To be kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Chriſts ſake hath forgiven us; (g) knowing that if we do not from our hearts forgive one another, neither will our heavenly Father forgive us. 2. Every (h) Hebrew Man-ſervant or Maid-ſervant was to be ſet free by their Maſters: and when they ſent them out free in the ſeventh year, they ſhould not ſend them out empty, but furniſh them out of their flock, floor, and wine preſs, as the Lord had bleſſed them. They (i) were to be ſent out free for nothing, without price or purchaſe. Nor was this Releaſe from ſervitude only for that year, but for ever: hence (k) God blames the Jews in Zedekiah's days, for re-inthraling of their ſervants after their Releaſe. This Releaſe of ſervants prefigured The (l) acceptable year, the time of Grace by Jeſus Chriſt, who according to the Tenor of his Goſpel of his meer grace freely and ſpiritually releaſeth his Elect from the bondage and ſervitude for Sin and Satan, to be the Lords freemen for ever. If the Son ſhall make you free, ye ſhall be free indeed, Joh. 8. 36. 3. Every ſeventh year was a year of Reſt to the Land; it ſhould not be tilled nor husbanded, but lye quiet. Now as the Sabbath day, wherein they ceaſed from their own works, to do the Lords, ſignified they were not their own, but the Lord's: So the Sabbatical year

It is called Jubilee, Heb. Jobel, from the long-continued-ſound of the Trumpet. Exod. 19. 13. Beſides the Sabbatical year, three things were peculiar to this Jubilee-year, viz. 1. The ſounding of Trumpets, whence it had its Denomination. 2. The Freedom of Servants, Hence its called, The year of Liberty, Ezek. 46. 17. 3. The Return of every man to his Family and Reſtoring of Lands or Tenements, ſold or mortgaged, to their own Families. This Jubilee-year was an Eminent Type of the Spiritual Jubilee, which all the Elect ſhould have in Chriſt. 1. Giving them Matter of (o) everlaſting joy, ſo that ſorrow and mourning ſhall flee away: 2. Setting them at liberty (p) from all their Spiritual Thraldom under Sin, Satan, and the curſe of God: 3. Returning them unto God the Father through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, (q) of whom the whole family in Heaven and Earth is named: and Reſtoring them (r) unto Paradiſe the right and poſſeſſion whereof Adam loſt to himſelf and all his poſterity by his fall. Thus the Jubilee carried them on to Chriſt, by whoſe Redemption all believers have cauſe triumphantly to ſhout and rejoyce. When he ſounded the Trumpet of the Goſpel, (As the Lord (s) annointed him by his Spirit, To preach good tidings unto the meek, and ſent him to bind up the broken-hearted, To proclaim liberty to the Captives, and the opening of the priſon to them that are bound, To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD;) Then he ſaid; (t) This day is this Scripture fulfilled in our ears, and all bare him witneſs, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. So that from this it is evident, that whatever gave the Firſt occaſion of Riſe to theſe Solemn Feſtivals, yet (as learned Liberatio ex Egypto, & Pascha Iuxta eorum, nostram liberationem per mortem infernal, & immolationem Christi adumbrat. Pentecoste, & illa legis datæ celebratio, Spiritus Sancti missionem, & legis in tabulis cordium per eundem Spiritum inscriptionem adumbravit. Scenopegia Festum, peregrinationem hominis pii per hoc mundi desertum ad cœlestem patriam delineabat. Sabbatum, gaudium spirituale, & requiem Conscientiæ datam in Christo. Neomeniæ, illuminationem Ecclesiæ per Christum Solem Iustitiæ, vel vitæ novæ Sanctificationem. Ne singula persequar, cum Apostolo dicere possumus; Legem (hanc ceremonialem) habuisse umbram futurorum bonorum, non ipsam expressam rerum imaginem, Heb. 10. 1. At nobis Christianis ipsa solida bona jam data sunt, umbris & medio remotis. D. Davenant. Expos. in Col. 2. 16, 17.

(*) Davenant hath well observed) they had annexed to them an Adumbration and Promise of Spiritual blessings to be exhibited in Christ.

Thus all the Ceremonials of more Publique Concernment, viz. 1 Sacred Places, 2 Utensils, 3 Persons, 4 Things, and 5 Times, (if we pluck off the veil and look into the inside of them,) were all full of Christ. Christ was the jewel, in all these sacred Cabinets; Christ the Body, under all these visible Dresses; Christ the Truth, of all these Types; Christ the Substance, of all these shadows. They (x) may well be called Shadows; For, 1. The Body is cause of the shadow, not the shadow of the body: so Christ was the Cause of all these Rites, having power also to abolish them at his coming. 2. The shadow is a sign of the Body: so these Types and Figures were signs of Christ to be exhibited. 3. The shadow doth most obscurely and imperfectly represent the Body: So their Legal Ceremonies Christ. 4. A shadow can of it self do nothing, but the body does and puts forth its power: so these ceremonies could do nothing to remission of sins, Sanctification, and Salvation, but all the saving force is from Christ. Now the Ceremonials being digested into the body of this Covenant from Mount Sinai, and Christ being the Soul and Substance of all these Ceremonials, How full of Jesus Christ is this Covenant! How much doth it testifie of Christ! How much more then any, then all, the fore-going Covenants! They are very blind that cannot find and see Christ in this Covenant; wherein nothing else in a manner, besides Christ, is to be found and seen. They have no great delight to pry into the sweet and saving mysterie of Christ, who despise and reject this Old Testament so admirably revealing this Mysterie. I conclude this Corollary with that of Novatian in Tertullian; (y) I will again call this Jesus Christ, the Son of this God; we both read him Promised in the Old Testament, and observe him exhibited in the New Testament, by his true bodily presence fulfilling the shadows and figures of all Sacraments.

COROL-

Corollary VIII.

THat, This Sinai-Covenant the Old-Testament, was pure Gospel, as well as the New, for substance, revealing (though with different Circumstances) to lapsed sinners, One and the self-same way of Eternal life and Salvation, by Jesus Christ through Faith.

And what is pure Gospel, but the Doctrine and glad-tidings of Salvation to lapsed Sinners in Jesus Christ by Faith? This Dispensation being every way so full of Christ, must needs be a rich and eminent Gospel. The Old Testament was pure Gospel, Promising Christ: As the New Testament is pure Gospel, Performing and exhibiting Christ. The time of the Old Testament was a time of Signifying Christ: The time of the New was a time of Manifesting Christ. That was a time wherein Good things, to be exhibited afterwards, were prefigured with shadows: This a time, wherein the Truth it self, and the body of things prefigured, is exhibited; according to that, (a) The Law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. (a) Novatian therefore having produced many Testimonies out of Moses and the Prophets to prove Jesus Christ to be one and the same under both Old and New Testament, he gives this grave admonition; That another Christ was not to be expected under the Gospel, then him that was promised by the Creator in the writings of the Old Testament: especially seeing, both the things foretold of him, are fulfilled; and the things which are fulfilled, were formerly foretold. To this effect, (b) Clemens Alexandrinus; The saving Testament (or Covenant) is but one from the beginning of the world, although in the manner of Giving it may seem divers. And therefore The Gospel was preached of old to Israel and to the fathers, as well as to us. They were saved by the same Christ, justified by the same way of Faith, Sanctified by the same Spirit, and glorified in the same Heavens, as believers under the New Testament: yea, from the first grand Promise of the womans Seed, Gen. 3. 15. to the end of the Revelation, the whole Scripture, and all the Covenant-expressures therein set forth One and the same Christ, one and the same Faith, one and the same Gospel, one and the same Salvation.

Corollary IX.

FInally, From what hath been said in this chapter it is evident, That The diligent study, and solid understanding of the Old Testament as well as of the New, is very necessary and advantagious to all Christians. For,

1. The Old Testament is pure Gospel, containing the sweet Doctrine of Sinners Salvation, as well as the New.
2. The Old Testament is full of Christ, as well as the New.

Moses and the Prophets first revealed Christ: then the Evangelists and Apostles.

3. The Old Testament and the New do mutually establish each others Authority, and diligently compared together convince us of their Divine certainty and infallibility. For Substance, they are but one Testament, confirmed by the death of one and the same Testator: for Manner of administration, they are two. The Old Promising the Testator in the Types, the other Performing him in the Truth. How can we be sure, that Jesus Christ revealed and exhibited in the New Testament, is the only true Saviour of Sinners, which God intended ever since the Fall; unless consulting with Moses and the Prophets we can demonstrate him to be that one only Messiah that was promised under the Old Testament? The Old Testament is the foundation, the New is the Superstruction; Both together are the Sacred Structure of Divine Gospel Doctrine touching Christ and Sinners Salvation by him. In the Old Testament the New is veiled: In the New Testament the Old is Revealed. (c) The Authority of the Old Testament (said Novatian) about Christs Person is propped up by the Manifestation of the New: and the Truth of the New Testament leans upon the Root of the Old. And Lactantius saith, (d) Jews use the Old Testament, we the New: but they are not divers, because the New is the fulfilling of the Old, and in both is the same Testator Christ. Therefore to reject the Old Testament is to reject the Gospel, to reject Christ, and to reject and overthrow the Authority of the New Testament also touching Jesus Christ and the Gospel.

(c) Vetus Testamentum novi fundamentum; novum Testamentum veteris Complementum. Novum Testamentum in veteri latet; Vetus Testamentum in Novo patet. Novum Testamentum veteris sufficientia, dum nihil ultra quærendum relinquit. (d) Scripturæ ejusdem sunt, Lex & Evangelium: una, & in utroque Novi Testamenti Christus, &c. Lactant. Firmian. Instit. l. 4. c. 20.

Hitherto of the fourth Covenant of Promise, the SINAI-COVENANT.

In Novo est Reseratum. —— In meritò necessaria Testamenti illius Personam Christi vacillavit Novi Testamenti manifestatione fulcitur; Nec Novi Testamenti intercepta sit potestas, veteris Testamenti subjacuit auctoritas, &c. Novatian apud Tertullian. l. de Trinitat. c. 25. ... unius ejusdemque dei duo Testamenta divisa est. Illud quod adventum Domini passionemque antecessit, Prophetæ, vetus dicitur. Ex vero quo post Resurrectionem scripta sunt, Novum Testamentum. Licet veteribus utatur, non Novis; sed tamen diversa non sunt, quia Novum veteris adimpletio est, &c. Lactant. Firmian. Instit. l. 4. c. 20.

CHAP.

CHAP. V.

Of the Discovery, Nature and Administration of Gods Covenants of Promise in the fifth observable Period of Time, from David till the Babylonish-Captivity, viz.

Gods Covenant with DAVID and his SEED.

A General Introduction to this and the next Covenant-Explanation.

THe fifth Considerable Period of time, wherein God Renewed and much enlarged The COVENANT of FAITH, in reference to CHRIST PROMISED for Sinners Recovery and Salvation, was from DAVID till the Babylonish Captivity. And the sixth Period (of which afterwards in chap. 6.) from the Captivity till the Death of Christ.

The Ministration of the Sinai-Covenant or Old Testament (as (a) I have formerly shewed) continued from the Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai till the Death of Jesus Christ: even from Gods Typical Redeeming of Israel a little before that from Corporal bondage in Egypt, till Gods True Redeeming of all his Elect from Spiritual bondage under Sin and Satan by the Death of Jesus Christ. Now under this Old-Testament-Administration, and even during the same, These two subsequent Covenants were revealed and superadded: Not to Annul or Abrogate this Old-Testament-Administration at all, but rather to Enlarge, Amplifie and Expound the same in some particulars, especially with reference to the sacred-line of JESUS CHRIST, both by Law, and by Nature. Hence as Ezekiel saw in his Vision, (b) As it were a Wheel in the middle of a Wheel: so me thinks I see here, A Covenant in the middle of a Covenant, yea these two Covenants in the bosome of the Sinai-Covenant; Or, The Sinai-Covenant big with child, having these Twin-Covenants in its womb. For clearing this Particular yet more distinctly, I offer this Thesis or Position, viz.

That, When God was pleased to change Israels Civil Rulers from Judges to Kings, and from Kings to Governors, (The Old-Testament-Administration still standing in force,) He notably Implyed this Sinai-Covenant, or Old Testament, by other two Covenants of Promise in Christ; viz. 1. His Covenant with David and his Seed. 2. His Covenant with the Jews under the Babylonish Captivity. This Position I resolve reſolve into Parts, and explain as followeth; 1. That, Under this Sinai Covenant God revealed two other Covenants; The one to David, The other to the Captive Jews. 2. That, both theſe were Covenants of Promiſe in Chriſt. 3. That, Notwithſtanding theſe two Covenants were not diſannulled, but this Sinai-Covenant, or Old Covenant ſtill ſtood in force. 4. That, by theſe two Covenants the Sinai-Covenant was notably enlarged. 5. That, God by theſe two Covenants then enlarged the Sinai-Covenant, when he made theſe two great changes of Iſraels Civil Rulers, from Iudges to Kings, and from Kings to Governors.

(a) In Book III. ch. 4. in the introduction, &c.

(b) Ezek. 1. 16.

I. That, Under this Sinai-Covenant, God Revealed two other Covenants, The one to David and his Seed; The other to the Captive-Iews: is evident, By Scripture-Teſtimonies, and By Computation of Times.

1. By Scripture Teſtimonies, declaring; 1. That God Revealed and made a Covenant with David and his Seed. For, (1) The Occaſion, and Subſtance of this Covenant (c) was Revealed in viſion to Nathan, and by Nathan to David. (2) The (d) Recital or Repetition of this Covenant is alſo made, with ſome Enlargements and Expoſitions thereupon. (3) And This Covenant was the great Conſolation of David againſt all the afflictions upon his family, with this he ſupported himſelf in his old age, as (e) he declares in his laſt words. 2. That God Revealed and made a Covenant alſo with his people the Jews in their Babyloniſh Captivity; is evident both by the words of (f) Ieremiah, (g) Ezekiel, and of other (h) Prophets, ſpeaking of his peoples Redemption out of Babylon, eſpecially of their ſpiritual Redemption by Chriſt.

2. By Computation of Times. For, all the Times of David, and all the Times of the Iews Captivity in Babylon, did fully fall in, under this Old Teſtament diſpenſation. The Sinai-Covenant-adminiſtration continuing ſtill in force, from the Eſtabliſhment of it at Mount Sinai, till the Death of Jeſus Chriſt: even from the Typical Redemption out of Egypt, till the True Redemption out of ſin and Miſery by Chriſt.

II. That, both theſe Covenants, (viz. with David and the Captive Iews) were Covenants of Promiſe, in Chriſt Promiſed, is plain. For, 1. Under them both Chriſt is Promiſed. To David Chriſt is promiſed as his Primary Seed in that Covenant which God made with him and his Seed, that (h) his Throne ſhould be eſtabliſhed for ever, &c. To the Captive Iews alſo Chriſt is promiſed, (i) as the LORD their Righteouſneſs, as the righteous Branch, as he that by the blood of the Covenant ſhould ſend forth his priſoners out of the pit wherein was no water, —— That ſhould finiſh tranſgreſſion after ſeventy weeks, &c. ſo that Chriſt is ſingularly revealed in them both. 2. Chriſt is Revealed and promiſed in them both, as To come afterwards, not as Come already; As Future, not as Paſt or Preſent; As hoped for in fulneſs of time, not as already actually enjoyed. Now, as the New-Covenant alone, representing Christ as Performed and exhibited already, is (in propriety of ſpeaking) the only Covenant of Performance: So all other Covenants of Faith foregoing, repreſenting Christ only as Promiſed, for future, are properly meer (k) Covenants of Promiſe in Chriſt.

(k) Eph. 2. 12.

III. That, Notwithſtanding theſe Two Covenants of God with David *and the Captive-*Jews, The Sinai-Covenant, or Old Teſtament was not hereby abrogated, but ſtill ſtood in force and uſe; is apparent. For, 1. David lived in obedience and ſubjection to God according to this Covenant. He (l) made uſe of the Levitical Prieſthood; He (m) Took care of Gods Tabernacle and Ark, and of Gods worſhip there with greateſt delight, enquiring at his holy Oracle; He (n) provided moſt liberally for the building of the Temple (a bleſſing (o) promiſed in this Sinai-Covenant) delivering the pattern of it to his ſon Solomon, with Inſtructions about it, &c. 2. The Captive-Jews alſo were under this Sinai-Covenant adminiſtration. For, They (p) lamented ſadly the ruines of Sion in a ſtrange land; They aſſoon as God vouchſafed them deliverance from Babylon, (q) returned to Jeruſalem, to rebuild the Temple and City, and Reſtore the worſhip of God according to the Sinai-Covenant, and accordingly effected it; And (r) they continued this way of worſhip (though defiled with many mixtures of their own) till the Coming of Chriſt. 3. Jeſus Chriſt himſelf, that according to this Sinai-Covenant came of them according to the fleſh, he lived in obedience and ſubjection to his heavenly Father under this Covenant, till his dying hour. He was (s) Circumciſed the eighth day; He was (t) preſented in the Temple according to the Law at the time of his Mothers Purification; He (u) went up to Jeruſalem to worſhip at the ſolemn appointed Feaſts; He (x) did offer the Sacrifice of the Paſſover in his Seaſon; Till at laſt he (y) offered up himſelf (as The Paſſover, as the Sacrifice of all Sacrifices, The body of all thoſe ſhadows, The truth of all thoſe Types,) once for all for his Elect, accompliſhing and ſo aboliſhing all thoſe Levitical Sacrifices, together with that Covenant-Adminiſtration.

IV. That, By theſe Two Covenants the Sinai-Covenant-Miniſtration was notably enlarged. This Enlargement of the Sinai-Covenant by theſe two Covenants was eſpecially, 1. By many (z) mercies Promiſed, 2. By the line of Jeſus Chriſt according to the fleſh drawn down by (a) David, and (b) Zerubbabel; and 3. By the (c) particular Deſignation of the time for the Meſſiah's ſuffering. V. That, By theſe two Covenants God then enlarged this Sinai-Covenant, when he made thoſe two great changes of his peoples Civil Rulers, From Iudges to Kings, and From Kings to Governors.

1. God changed Iſraels Iudges into Kings, viz. when he choſe David

David to be his King, and caused him to be Annoynted for that Regal office. As for Saul, He was the (d) Peoples King rather then Gods King; God (e) gave him in anger, and took him away in wrath. From Moses till David, The Lord himself was their King, and they were Gods Theocracy, Gods Common-wealth more immediately under his Government; over whom he from time to time raised up extraordinary persons, called Judges, to Rule them as his Substitutes. But in Davids days God changed these Judges into Kings. And (f) with David, (Gods first beloved and approved King,) he makes a Covenant: Peculiarly to assure him, That Christ should descend of him in Particular, according to the flesh, and should succed him, sitting upon his Throne, and Ruling the Church of God (typified by Davids Kingdom) for evermore. So that by this Covenant with David, The Glory and Royal dignity of Christs Kingdom, typed out in Davids Kingdom, is set forth most resplendently.

(e) Hos. 13. 11.
(f) 2 Sam. 7 3, 4, &c. Act. 13. 22, 23.

2. God changed his Peoples Kings again into Princely Governors, under the Babylonish power that Captivated them. So that after the Captivity, when they were released and returned into their own land, we read no more of their Kings, but only (g) of their Rulers or Governors. Hereby the Regal glory was greatly Eclipsed, though not totally extinguished, till the Coming of Jesus Christ: That the Propheſie of Iacob might be fulfilled; (h) The Scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor a Law-giver from between his feet, till Shiloh come. In their Captivity, when this great Eclipse was Coming upon their Regal Government, God makes a Covenant with them: Partly, to comfort them in hopes of their Redemption from Babylon, and Restauration to Canaan, though their Royal Glory was much dimmed and obscured; Partly to assure them of the near approach of (i) The Desire of all Nations, The (k) King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, Jesus Christ, in whom all the Authority, Power and Glory of Judges, Kings and Governors should be swallowed up, and (l) by whom all the four grand Empires and opposite Kingdoms of the world should be broken, and brought as small as the dust of the Summer threshing floor.

Inferences. Hence,

1. This Sinai-Covenant, or Old Testament, was an Eminent and Comprehensive Covenant. 1. Comprehensive; In that it Formally comprized within it self and under its own administration, Gods Covenant with David, and with the Captive Jews, together with all the accomplishments and perfections of them both. This was a Pregnant and fruitful Covenant: having two Covenants in its bowels, Covenants, within a Covenant. This Sinai-Covenant was as the Mother: These two, as the Twin-daughters. 2. Eminent; In that no other Expressure of the Covenant of Faith, besides this, hath another Covenant or Covenants Formally, but only vertually within it self. In this comprehensiveness it excels them all.

2. These

2. These Covenants with David and with the Captive-Iews, though sweetly furnished with their peculiar Mercies and Advantages, yet were but as parts and branches of the Sinai-Covenant, or Old-Testament. They were as two grand branches of the same Tree; Or, as two greater limbs of the same Body. For the Sinai-Covenant comprized them both, and all in them. Though therefore there are in these two Covenants sundry things requiring a peculiar Consideration; yet all of them are, in their general Notion, of the same Nature with the Old Testament. And hereupon a short and Compendious Explication of these two Covenants may be sufficient: The Old Testament being already expounded, and that at large.

3. All the Mercies Promised, Duties Restipulated, together with other the Properties and Perfections of these two Covenants, may be fitly ascribed to the Sinai-Covenant or Old Testament. For, they and these Covenants themselves are all within and under this Old Testament. As whatsoever is in the limb, or branch, may be fitly ascribed to the Body or Tree.

4. Behold here the Wisdom and Goodness of God; who, in the grand and noted Alterations of his peoples Outward Condition, is pleased to Revive and Renew afresh his Covenant of Faith in Christ unto them. Renewing his Covenant upon such Alterations of his peoples outward state, 1. Makes his Covenant more notably observed by his People; 2. Imprints it more deeply upon their hearts, inclining them to close with it; 3. Assures them that such outward changes do not befall them without the hand of their gracious God, ordering all for his peoples greatest Good; 4. And encourageth them with hope and comfort to go on under such changes, having them thus sweetned and sanctified by renewed Covenants and Promises. Therefore, when God was about to turn lapsed Adam out of Paradise, into the wide world: He Covenanted and Promised, (m) The Seed of the woman should bruise the Serpents Head, &c. when God was about to drown the whole world with water; He (n) Covenanted with Noah to save him and his Family in the Ark by water: when God called Abraham from his Country, Kindred and Fathers House, which was a great change to him; he (o) Covenanted to give him Canaan for an Inheritance, and a numerous Seed to Inherit it. When God brought Israel from Egypt into the Wilderness, from Bondage to Liberty, from a land wherein they were strangers, to go towards a land which they should inherit as their own, which was a great change; He (p) entred into Covenant with them at Mount Sinai, according to the tenor of the Old Testament, when he changed their Judges into Kings; he (q) made a Covenant with David and his Seed, his first approved King. When he had brought his people the Iews into Babylons Captivity, and was about to deliver them thence, changing their Kings into Governors; He (r) Renewed his Covenant with them of the Captivity. And when the fulness of time was Come, that Christ should be actually exhibited hibited and Sacrificed for his Elect, his Church being grown up from Minority to Maturity, from Non-age to Full-age, which was her greateſt change of Condition beyond all other; He (ſ) Reveals his New-Covenant in Chriſt Performed, which is to Continue till the worlds End. Thus God renewing his Covenant of Faith with his people was ſtill in ſome eminent change or alteration of their Condition, for the greater diſcovery of his wiſdom and goodneſs unto them: and tended ſingularly to ſatisfie, quiet and comfort them in all ſuch great changes and alterations of their Condition, as came upon them.

5. Finally, As the Sinai-Covenant, or Old Teſtament it ſelf, ſo theſe two Covenants comprized therein, remain of force and vertue from their ſeveral and reſpective Manifeſtations, till the very Death of Ieſus Chriſt. Their Subſtance remains ſtill, though their Adminiſtrations then expired altogether. And ſo far as the Mercies Promiſed, and Duties Reſtipulated in them all three, concern the very Subſtance of the Covenant of Faith, and are not reſtrained or peculiarly limited by ſome particular Circumſtances of time, place, perſons, &c. ſo far they concern us, and are applicable to us and to Gods people in all ſucceeding ages for Edification and Conſolation: But ſo far as they had peculiar reſtrictions and appropriations to times, places, perſons, or other Circumſtances, ſo far they were diſſolved and expired at the death of Jeſus Chriſt.

But this may ſuffice in the General for an Introduction to the opening of theſe two Covenants: viz. 1. Of the Covenant with David and his Seed. 2. *Of the Covenant with the Captive-*Jews in Babylon.

Theſe things I ſhall expedite with all poſſible brevity and perſpicuity: that ſo this Volume may not ſwell too big, and that I may haſten to the Explication of the NEW-COVENANT, the laſt and Compleateſt Expreſſure of all Gods Covenants of Faith from the beginning to the end of the world.

APHORISM I.

1. The Author, and Nature, of the Covenant with DAVID.

THE COVENANT which God made with DAVID and his SEED, was a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ promised.

For clearing of this Aphorism, three things are especially to be explained; 1. Who this DAVID was, with whom this Covenant was made. 2. That God made a Covenant with this DAVID and his SEED. 3. That the Covenant made by God with DAVID and his Seed, was a Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ Promised.

1. Who this DAVID was, with whom this Covenant was made: Here I shall briefly describe him by, 1. His Name, 2. Descent, 3. Qualifications, 4. Offices Regal and Prophetical, 5. Renowned Acts, 6. Failings or Miscarriages, 7. Pœnitential Recoveries, 8. Afflictions, and 9 Death.

1. His name is thought to be at first imposed by Gods special Providence, as by the signification and event thereof may be collected. דוד DAVID an Hebrew Name, derived from דוד DOD. Beloved. Whence DAVID signifies BELOVED. He was so beloved of God, that God counted him, (t) A man after his own Heart. God calls him; (u) My Chosen, My Servant, My King, My First-born higher then the Kings of the Earth. He is stiled (x) The man who was raised upon High, The Anointed of the God of Jacob, and The sweet Psalmist of Israel.

2. His Descent or Pedigree, was, Immediately (y) from Iesse, of the tribe of Iudah; Mediately from Abraham, in the fourteenth Generation. He was (z) Iesse's seventh and yongest son. He was born in Beth-lehem a Town in the tribe of Iudah within the Land of Canaan: Whereupon it is called (a) The City of David and the town of Bethlehem where David was. His birth (b) was in about the 2915 or 2917 year of the world and 366 years after Israels entring into Canaan. And being the yongest, and least esteemed of his brethren, he (c) was set to keep his fathers sheep, and follow the Ewes great with yong.

3. His Qualifications were eminent: whether Natural, Artificial or Spiritual. He was (d) Ruddy, and withal of a beautiful Countenance, and goodly to look to. —— (e) Cunning in Playing on the Harp, and a mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in Matters (or in Speech) and a comly person, and the LORD was with him. But above all, his spiritual Endowments and Qualifications excelled;

(d) 1 Sam. 19 12.

He was effectually acquainted with God in his (f) youth; He had much knowledge of Jesus Christs (g) Incarnation, of the fruit of his Loyns, Office, Prophetical, Priestly and Kingly, Sufferings and afflictions, Death, Burial, Resurrection Ascention into Heaven, and Session at Gods right hand in highest Majesty, till all his foes become his foot-stool; He had much sweet fellowship with the (h), Holy Ghost raysing up his spirit to such sweet Contemplations about spirituals, heavenly ejaculations, fervent Prayers, Seraphical Prayses, and ravished affections, towards the God and all his wayes: His (i) Faith was victorious over all worldly difficulties and oppositions; His (k) Love to his God was wholly transcendent, prizing nothing in earth, no not in Heaven like unto him alone; His (l) panting desires, thirstings and longings after him were restless and unsatisfied; His Zeal (m) to him, his House, to his word and Law, to his worship and Ordinances, to his Churches Prosperity, and to the whole welfare of true Religion, was most ardent and intensive; His affection to all Gods (n) people and sincere servants was very large and lively, In the Saints the excellent upon earth was all his delight; though he was a mighty King, yet was he a Companion of all them that feared the Lord and kept his statutes; His (o) obediential disposition was such towards God and all his commands, that God counted him a man after his own heart, who should fulfill all his will; His (p) integrity and uprightness such before the Lord, in the whole course of his life, that God gives this testimony of him, David did that, which was right in the eyes of the LORD, and turned not aside from any thing that he commanded him all the dayes of his life, save only in the matter of Uriah the Hittite, 1 Kings 15. 5. He was upright in his personal Domestical Ecclesiastical and Political capacity; He was a (q) sincere lover of his very enemies, though a (r) vehement hater of the Enemies of God; In a word, he was of an holy heavenly disposition in his whole Conversation, having Heaven in his heart, and his heart in Heaven.

4. His Offices, which God cast upon him, were two high Offices. 1. He was an holy Prophet in the Church, A Pen-man of most of those sweet heart-ravishing Psalms by the inscription of the Holy-Ghost. He said: (t) The Spirit of the LORD spake by me, and his word was in my tongue. He prophetically foretold many things very punctually touching Jesus Christ as hath been shewed. 2. He was a godly King in the Common-wealth. (u) Yet have I set (or Annointed my King upon my holy Hill of Sion. God annointed him King (x) by Samuel the Prophet, more privately in the presence of his father and brethren at Beth-lehem, when he was about twenty three years old:

old; and the Spirit of the LORD came upon David from that day forward. The (y) men of Judah upon the death of King Saul, came and anointed him King the second time over Judah in Hebron, when he was thirty years old: and he reigned over Judah seven years and six moneths. All the Elders of Israel (z) anointed him the third time King over all Israel in Hebron, over whom he reigned in Jerusalem thirty three years. In all, fourty years. David in this his Kingly Office was a singular Type of Christ: as after will appear.

5. His renowned Acts are most observable after his Royal Unction, when the Spirit of God came eminently upon him. I. From the first and more Private Annointing by Samuel: 1. He (a) appeased and repelled the evil Spirit from Saul. 2. He (b) slew Goliah of Gath, with a sling and a stone, so discomfiting the whole host of the Philistines. Whereupon (c) Jonathan's heart was knit to him, and he made a league with him. But (d) King Saul his father, though he advanced him, yet secretly hated him, because the Lord was with him, and because the woman of Israel sang of him; Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands. So that (e) Saul Persecuted the life of David, who was forced to fly and escape from him for his life 9, or 10 times. 3. He being (f) by singular Providence preserved from assisting the Philistines against Israel in the battel wherein Saul and Jonathan were slain) rescued Ziklag, the Captives and Spoil thereof from the Amalekites. 3. He (g) lamented for Israels overthrow, and for the death of Saul and Jonathan. II. After his second Annointing, He (h) prevailed against Abner's Opposition, who set up Ishbosheth Sauls Son King over Israel for two years. III. After his third Annointing, 1. He (i) took the strong hold of Sion from the Jebusites, and called it The City of David. 2. He (k) subdued the Philistines, and other Enemies. 3. He (l) brought up the Ark of God, first to the house of Obed-Edom, and afterwards into The City of David. 4. He (m) purposed to build God an House, acquainting Nathan the Prophet therewith: upon which God took Occasion to Reveal his Covenant to him and to his Seed by Nathan, telling him, That not he but his son should build the House of the LORD, yea that the LORD would build Davids House. 5. He (n) prepared abundantly all sorts of Materials for the Temple. 6. He (o) instructs Solomon about the Building. 7. He (p) commanded all the Princes of Israel to assist Solomon herein. 8. He (q) ordered all the sorts of officers for the House of the Lord. 9. He (r) gave Solomon the Pattern of the House, encouraging him to the work, and charging him sincerely to serve the Lord. 10. He (s) inviteth the Princes and People to offer willingly towards the building, greatly blessing God for their readiness and liberalness therein. 11. He (t) appointed Solomon his son to sit on his Throne after him.

6. Sundry his failings, and miscarriages are notwithstanding recorded corded very impartially, which were great blemishes to his renowned Acts, both Civil, Military and Sacred. As, 1. He (u) feigned himself mad before Achish King of Gath, changing his behaviour before him: being surprised with base slavish fears. 2. He (x) easily vowed the destruction of Nabals House, because of his churlish unkindness in denying some food to his souldiers. 3. He (y) distrusted Gods Providence and Promises touching the throne, even despairing of life, because of Sauls uncessant persecuting of him. And David said in his heart, I shall now perish one day by the hand of Saul. And elsewhere; (z) I said in my haste, All men are lyars. All, that have promised me the crown, are lyars, &c. 4. He (a) Lyed to Achish, pretending, that he and his men had made a rode against the South of Judah, &c. when they had been slaying the Amalekites, &c. 5. He (b) was too prone to go with Achish and the Philistines to Battel against K. Saul and Israel: in which battel Saul and Jonathan fell, and Israel was worsted. But God by special providence disengaged him. 6. He defiled (c) Bath-shebah, and murdered Uriah her Husband by the sword of the children of Ammon. By these two great sins, he gave great occasion to the enemies of the LORD to Blaspheme: and hereby also his uprightness was (d) most shaken, and his obedience most shattered. 7. He (e) was too indulgent to his son Absolom though a murderer of his brother Amnon, and a Traytor against his own father, David himself. 8. He (f) too hastily gave credit to Ziba's slander of Mephibosheth, giving Ziba half his land, but very injuriously. 9. He (g) hearkning too much to Satans provocation, caused Iacob to number the people, placeing too much carnal confidence in the arm of flesh: whereupon God broke the reed of carnal trust, slaying with the pestilence 70000. men. 10. Finally, He (h) was too fondly indulgent to Adonijah, for he had not displeased him at any time, in saying, why hast thou done so?

7. His Pœnitential Recoveries nevertheless out of these failings, yea out of the grossest miscarriages, are storyed. His failings are written for our Caution and Admonition, that we fall not: His Recoveries for our Instruction and Consolation, that if we fall, we may rise again. But, as Augustine hath well noted; (i) Many will fall with David, but they will not rise again with David; &c. He acknowledged his base fears, and errour in changing his behaviour before Achish, Psalm 34. Title and verse 4. He blessed God, blessed Abigail, Nabals wife, and blessed her advice, whereby he was kept from shedding of blood and avenging himself with his own hand 1 Sam. 25. 32, 33, 34. He acknowledged it was in his haste, that he said all men are lyars, questioning Gods Promises, Ps. 116. 11. He habitually hated and abhorred lying: resolving, that he that tel-

He lamented the worſting of Iſrael by the Philiſtines and the death of Saul and Jonathan mourning weeping and faſting, 2 Sam. 1. 11, 12, &c. He deeply repented of his murder and adultery, witneſſing the ſame to all Iſrael and all ſucceeding ages of the Church of God, by the 51 Pſalm, purpoſely penned upon that occaſion. His heart ſmote him for numbering the people, ſo that he acknowledged his ſin, begged pardon, accepted the puniſhment, and offered burnt offerings and Peace offerings, 2 Sam 24. 10, 17, 25. Thus David falling, is a caution againſt Relapſing: David riſing again, is a Pattern of Repenting.

8. His afflictions and chaſtiſements wherewith the Lord excerciſed him (notwithſtanding his Repentance) for his failings were very many. Beſides the perſecutions of Saul probably ordered to him upon ſome other account, He had many troubles, In his Family, in his Kingdom, and with forrein adverſaries of ſeveral ſorts. I. In his own family. 1. The ([k]) child begotten in adultery was ſmitten with Death. 2. Tamar ([l]) was inceſtuouſly forced and defiled by Amnon her brother. 3. Amnon ([m]) is bloodily murdered thereupon by the command of his brother Abſolom. 4. Abſolom([n]) treaſonably rebelled againſt his father David, ſeeking his Crown. Defiling his fathers Concubines. At which time, Achithophel fell from David to Abſolom. And Shimei reviled and curſed David: being forced to flee from Jeruſalem to eſcape the Conſpiracy. Upon which flight he penned the 3. Pſalm. 5. Adonijah alſo ([o]) mutually ſought his fathers Crown contrary to Davids appointment of it to Solomon. II. In his Kingdom and without, he was excerciſed with many troubles. As, 1. With ([p]) the Inſurrection of Sheba the ſon of Bichri, a wicked Benjamite. 2. With ([q]) the three years famine in the Land for Saul and his bloody houſe. 3. With ([r]) ſeveral battels againſt the Philiſtines and other enemies in one of which, Davids Life was in extream hazard. 4. With ([s]) three daies peſtilence for his numbering the people: by which ſtroke of God he loſt 70000 men, thus God breaking the Staff or Reed of his Carnal Confidence. By theſe and like afflictions his ſorrows grew ſo great, that ([t]) His life was ſpent with grief, his years with ſighing, his ſtrength failed, and his bones were conſumed. ([u]) The pangs of Death compaſſed him about, the floods of Belial (ungodly yokeleſs men) made him afraid, the lords of hell compaſſed him, the ſnares of Death prevented him. ([x]) His heart was ſore pained within him, and the terror of Death fell upon him: fearfulneſs and trembling came upon him, and horror over-whelmed him. But ([y]) what time he was afraid, he truſted in God; his ſhield about him his glory, and the uplifter of his head. In his ([z]) diſtreſs he called upon the Lord, and he delivered him from all his fears, drew him out of many waters, reſcued and freed him from all his enemies, and brought him forth into a large place. So that he loved the LORD his ſtrength moſt dearly; awakened up himſelf, his glory, his Pſaltery and harp, and

9. Finally, (a) When he had served the will of God in his generation, and the time of his departure approached, (b) In his last words he singularly comforted himself, by the Everlasting Covenant, ordered in all things and sure, which the Lord had made with him, although his house were not so with God. And after (c) he had settled his Kingdom in the hand of Solomon his son, and given him godly Instructions about his Conversation and the Structure of the Temple; (d) He fell asleep and was gathered to his fathers, dying in a good old age, full of Days, Riches and Honor.

This was that Renowned DAVID, with whom the Covenant was made.

II. That, God made a Covenant with this DAVID and his Seed: is evident divers ways. As,

1. By the (e) vision which Nathan the Prophet had from God, and imparted unto David, when he entertained that pious Resolution in his heart of building God an House, when the Lord had given him Rest from all his Enemies round about. In (f) which vision the Occasion and Substance of Gods Covenant with David and his Seed, touching the establishment of his Throne and Kingdom for ever, &c. is expressed: which elsewhere is stiled A COVENANT.

(g) Psal. 89. 3, 4, 28, 29. 34, &c.

2. By the Express Testimony of God himself, in the Recital, Exposition and Enlargement of his Covenant with David and his Seed. Saying; (g) I have made a COVENANT with my chosen: I have sworn unto David my servant. Thy Seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy Throne to all Generations, Selah. —— My mercy will I keep for him for ever: and my COVENANT shall stand fast with him. His Seed also will I make to endure for ever, &c. —— My COVENANT will I not break: nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips, &c. Where God cals his Promises to David, His Covenant, three several times, and those Promises, that Covenant, extended to David and to his Seed. And elsewhere further Reciting and explaining this Covenant, he said; (h) The LORD hath sworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it: of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy Throne. If thy children will keep my COVENANT and my Testimonie, that I shall teach them: their children also shall sit upon thy Throne for evermore.

(h) Psal. 132. 11, 12.

3. By Davids own acknowledgement in express terms; when in his last words he Comforted himself in Gods faithful Promises: Saying; (i) Although my House be not so with God; yet he hath made with me an everlasting COVENANT, ordered in all things, and sure: for (or, Therefore) this is all my Salvation, and all my desire, although he make it not to grow.

(i) 2 Sam. 23. 5.

By these three Particulars it is clear, That God made A Covenant with David and his Seed: and that God was the sole efficient Cause and Author of this Covenant.

III. That,

III. That, This Covenant made by God with David and his Seed, was a Covenant of Faith in JESUS CHRIST Promiſed. This Covenant, for the Nature and Kind of it, was not a Covenant of Works holding forth Righteouſneſs and life upon Condition of perfect and exact Doing: but A Covenant of Faith in Chriſt tendering Righteouſneſs and Life upon terms of ſincere Believing in Chriſt. And that Believing in Chriſt, As Promiſed, and to be Performed afterwards in fulneſs of time: Not as Performed, and Exhibited already. That this is the Nature and Kind of Gods Covenant with David and his Seed, may be thus evinced, viz.

1. Becauſe, David remained ſtill under the Duty, Obligation and Authority of the Sinai-Covenant, after this preſent Covenant was made with him, as well as before. I. Before this Covenant was made with David, he was under the Duty and Obligatin of the Sinai-Covenant. This is plain, 1. By David's (k) Enquiring of the LORD by the Levitical Ephod and Abiathar the Prieſt, and the LORD's Anſwer; 2. By his zeal and diligence in (l) bringing up the Ark of God (the chiefeſt of the Holy things in the Tabernacle) into its place prepared for it in the City of David; 3. By his (m) Offering of Levitical Sacrifices, viz. Burnt-offerings, and Peace-offerings, &c. 4. By his zealous (n) purpoſes for building an Houſe to the LORD, even an Habitation for him to put his Name there, as God had promiſed by Moſes. II. After God had made this Covenant with David, he was alſo under the Obligation and Authority of the Sinai-Covenant. For, 1. As ſoon as Nathan had revealed Gods Covenant to David and his houſe, David, (o) preſently went to the Tabernacle before the Ark to perform his Praiſe and Prayer before the Lord; 2. After his ſin in the Matter of Uriah the Hittite, (p) he went into the Levitical Houſe of the LORD and worſhipped; He begged pardon of his ſin in that phraſe, (q) Purge me with Hyſop and I ſhall be clean, waſh me and I ſhall be whiter then ſnow, alluding to the Ceremonial Purgations and waſhings; And he promiſed (r) Burnt-offerings, whole-burnt-offerings, and Bullocks to be offered on Gods Altar; 3. In his flight from Abſolom his ſon, David (ſ) had Zadock the Prieſt, and all the Levites with him bearing the Ark of the Covenant of God, &c. 4. When he had carnally numbered the people, truſting in the Arm of fleſh, whereupon the Lord ſlew in three days 70000 men with the Peſtilence, (t) he built an Altar, and offered Burnt-offerings and Peace-offerings, as the Lord commanded him, for the ſtaying of the plague; 5. Finally, (u) before his Death he made great Preparations for the building of the Temple, Received the Pattern of it from God, gave it to Solomon, Inſtructing and Encouraging him unto the work. III. Both Before and After this Covenant David was under the full Obligation and Authority of the Sinai-Covenant, becauſe the Sinai-Covenant remained in full force from the Giving of it at Mount Sinai, till the Death of Chriſt at Jeruſalem: As hath formerly been manifeſted. Now David both before and after this Covenant was made with him, remaining ſtill under the Duty and

Force of the Sinai-Covenant, This Covenant with David must needs be Symbolical to, and of like Nature with the Sinai-Covenant, viz. A Covenant of Faith in Christ Promised, and not as then Performed: for David could not at one and the same time be under the Duty and Obligation of two such opposite Covenants, as of Works and Faith.

2. Because, Jesus Christ, to be performed and exhibited long after the times of David; was one of the Great Covenant-blessings promised to David in this Covenant. The (x) Perpetuity of Davids Seed, and of his Kingdom to his Seed, having its fullest accomplishment in Jesus Christ and his everlasting Kingdom. And Jesus Christ was never Revealed or tendred in the Covenant of Works, wherein is no need of a Mediator, but only in the Covenant of Faith. And that Covenant of Faith, which Revealeth and Promiseth Christ as to be Performed afterwards, is properly to be referred to the (y) COVENANTS of PROMISE.

3. Because, David, even under this Covenant which God made with him, (z) Describes and sets forth the Righteousness of Faith without our own works of the Law, as Paul shews. Therefore this Covenant with David was a Covenant of Faith, not of Works: The righteousness of Faith without Works being the peculiar Terms, condition and tenor of the Covenant of Faith.

(z) Rom. 4. 1. to 9. & Psal. 32. 1, 2.

4. Because, David and his Seed (with whom this Covenant was made,) were (as (a) hath been shewed) special Types of Jesus Christ the true David and of his Seed, (b) principally intended in this Covenant. Consequently this Covenant was a Covenant of Faith in Christ promised, the very foundation of this Covenant.

1. Hence, The Authority of this Covenant with David was wholly Divine. An immediate (c) Vision from God to Nathan the Prophet, and by Nathan to David. Hence Nathan thus began the Narrative thereof to David; Thus saith the LORD: and went on therein with these words; Thus saith the LORD of Hosts, 2 Sam. 7. 5, 8. And therefore, All the Promises therein propounded were most Infallible, Sure, well-ordered, and Comfortable to David, as (d) himself testifies in his last words most emphatically. And all the Conditions required on the part of David and his Seed: were their unquestionable Duties towards God.

2, Hence, Gods Covenant with David, was his Gospel to David. For, this was a Covenant of Faith, preaching the glad-tidings of Life and Salvation by Jesus Christ to all that believe in him, and particularly to David and all his believing Seed: And this is pure Gospel. Oh how sweet was this Gospel-Covenant to blessed David, saying of it; (e) This is all my Salvation, and all my delight! As it was said of Jacob; (f) That his life was bound up in his son's life: so it might be much more said of David; That his Life, Salvation and delight was bound up in this Covenant, and in Jesus Christ his chief promised Seed that should sit upon his Throne for ever.

When

When therefore we read Gods Covenant with David, or the Explanation thereof, in Old or New Teſtament, we ſhould ſtill remember we are reading the Goſpel of God in Jeſus Chriſt: and that ſhould allure us to read on, and meditate therein with great delight.

3. Hence, Gods Covenant with David was one of the (g) Covenants of Promiſe. The Covenant of Faith (as (h) hath been already ſhewed) comprizeth in it, 1. The Covenants of Promiſe, in Chriſt Promiſed from the foundation of the world, and to be Performed in Humane fleſh in the fulneſs of time. 2. The Covenant of Performance, in Chriſt actually Performed and Manifeſted in the fleſh already. And this is only The New Covenant. Now this Covenant with David had reference to Chriſt that ſhould be performed in the fleſh afterwards, of the houſe and linage of David: and therefore it was not the Covenant of Performance, but only one of the Covenants of Promiſe; yet an Eminent Covenant of Promiſe, in ſome regards ſurpaſſing all that went before, as after will appear. Therefore David, his Houſe, and the whole Church of the Jews, had their Hopes and Expectations ſweetly raiſed towards Chriſt, and their longing deſires exceedingly inflamed and incited after Chriſt, by this Covenant. So that in King Solomons days, The Church thus expreſſed her panting deſires after Chriſts Incarnation, (i) Let him Kiſs me with the Kiſſes of his Mouth; for thy Love is better then wine. As if ſhe had ſaid; The Kiſſes of Chriſt in the Patriarchs mouths by their Doctrines of Chriſt, are ſweet to me: The Kiſſes of Chriſt in the Prophets mouths by their fuller Doctrines of Chriſt, are much ſweeter: But oh, the Kiſſes of Chriſts own mouth manifeſted in the fleſh, by his own Perſonal Doctrines and Conſolations, will be far ſweeteſt of all. Oh let him kiſs me with the kiſſes of his Mouth, his own Mouth. And again; (k) Oh that thou wert as my brother, that ſucked the breaſts of my mother; [that is, Oh that thou wert as mine own Natural brother in the fleſh! Oh that thou wert incarnate already! The words are a Periphraſis of a Natural brother:] When I ſhould find thee without, I would kiſs thee, yet I ſhould not be deſpiſed. I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mothers Houſe, who would inſtruct me: I would cauſe thee to drink of ſpiced wine, of the juyce of my Pomegranat. His left hand ſhould be under my head, and his right hand ſhould embrace me.

2. The Fœderate-Parties to this Covenant.

The Federates, or Parties to this Covenant were; On the one hand GOD, As the LORD of Hoasts, The God of Israel, The Rock of Israel, A father to David and his Seed, His God, and The Rock of his Salvation: On the other hand DAVID and his SEED; David, As One that was mighty, Gods cholen, Gods servant, Gods annoynted King, Gods First-born higher then the Kings of the Earth, Davids Seed, As Gods Son, and King for ever.

For Evidencing and Explaining of this Aphorism, Consider especially these two particulars. 1. That God, on the one hand, David and his Seed on the other, were Parties to this Covenant. 2. In what peculiar Notions, God, David and his Seed, were such Fœderate-Parties. Both which are briefly comprized in this Aphorism.

I. That GOD on the One hand, DAVID and his SEED on the other, were Parties to this Covenant, is evident sufficiently, 1. By Gods vision to Nathan, 2. By Gods own Testimony, and 3. By Davids acknowledgement, All opened in the former Aphorism.

II. In what Notions and Considerations, GOD, DAVID and his SEED were such Fœderate-Parties to this Covenant; I thus further explain.

First, GOD was the chief Fœderate-Party to and Author of this Covenant in these notions and respects especially, viz.

1. As The Lord of Hoasts. When God first revealed this Covenant to David by Nathan's vision, God commanded Nathan to speak unto David in this stile, (l) —— Thus shalt thou say unto my servant David, Thus saith the LORD of Hoasts, &c. God is LORD of Hoasts, Partly, Because All creatures in Heaven and Earth are his Hoasts or Armies, to execute his will at his Command. As Angels, Sun, Moon, and Stars, Fire, Hail, Snow, Wind, Dragons and all Deeps, Mountains, Trees, Beasts, creeping things, flying fowl, Kings of the Earth and all People. He is sole supream LORD and absolute Commander of them all. Partly, Because his Providence is eminently interessed in all Matters of war in the world. As, 1. In Raysing and stirring up war, Jer. 25. 29. Isai. 5. 26. & 7. 18. & 13. 4. Jer. 50. 25. 2. In giving Instruction and Encouragement to the Battell, 2 Sam. 22. 55. Psal. 144. 1. 3. In assisting his people in Battel by his presence and power, &c. Deut. 20. 4. Zech. 10. 5. Josh. 5. 13, &c. 4. In Prospering Armies with success, or dashing them with disappointment, Zach. 10. 3, 5. Eccles. 9. 11. Psal. 33. 17. Isai. 54. 17. Psal. 76. 5, 12. Isai. 19. 16. 5. he pleaſeth, Jer. 47. 6, 7. Hoſ. 11. 6. [6] In making wars to ceaſe when he liſteth, Pſal. 46. 9. Thus God had manifeſted himſelf ſingularly a (m) LORD of hoaſts to David, by his peculiar Providence to him in all his expeditions, having brought all his Enemies under his feet, and cut them off from before him. And in this Notion, As the LORD of Hoaſts, he revealed his Covenant to David, A man of war: intimating his Preſence, Providence, Power and Alſufficiency for David againſt all his Enemies for future, as for time paſt; So that no Enemies, nor Difficulties could hinder the accompliſhment of his Covenant to David and his Seed.

2. As the God of Iſrael, and the Rock of Iſrael. When David in his laſt words comforted himſelf with the Mention of Gods Covenant the ground of his faith and hope, he thus Prefaced to it; (n) The God of Iſrael ſaid, The Rock of Iſrael ſpake to me: that is, Iſrael's Covenant-God, who hath accepted them as his Peculiar-Treaſure, as his ſpecial-people, who dwelt in the midſt of them, & walkt amongſt them, and is nigh unto them in all things that they call upon him for, &c. This God of Iſrael became Davids Covenant-God, ſpake to him many things by Inſpiration, and this Covenant in viſion. 3. As A Father to David and his Seed. The Lord ſaid touching David; (q) I have found David my ſervant: —— He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my Father. This is ſpoken in reference to Gods Covenant with David there explained, yea this is one clauſe of the Covenant. Father, is a term of moſt loving, ſweet, comfortable and Familiar Relation. And (r) no Father in the world, is ſuch a Father: in whom alone all fatherly Perfections and Properties, are Al-ſufficient, Immutable, Eternal, Infinite. This heavenly Father, this matchleſs Father, became Davids Covenant-Father. How confidently, comfortably, prevailingly, might David look up by Faith and Prayer to this Father! The Lord alſo ſaid touching his Seed; (ſ) And when thy days be fulfilled, and thou ſhalt ſleep with thy Fathers, I will ſet up thy Seed after thee, which ſhall proceed out of thy bowels; —— I will be his Father. Davids Seed was 1. Mediate and leſs principal: as Solomon, and others of his Race. 2. Mediate and moſt Principal, as Chriſt Jeſus who according to the fleſh came from Davids loyns. God was a Covenant-Father to both theſe ſorts of Seeds: To his Immediate Seed, A Father by Adoption; To his Mediate Seed, Chriſt, A Father by peculiar Creation and Generation of his Humane Nature. Christ said (t) I go to my Father, and your Father: To my God, and your God.

Humane

4. As a God to David. (u) He shall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, My God: said the Lord, in his Recital of his Covenant with David. By this Covenant, God intended to enable David to plead his interest in God as his God. To have the Lord for our Covenant-God in Christ, and to be able in assurance of Faith to say, Thou art our God; is an high degree of Happiness: yea, this is the highest Covenant-blessing, as (x) hath been at large expounded.

5. As the Rock of David's Salvation. In the Lords recital of his Covenant with David, he represents himself to David in this Consideration; (y) He shall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, My God, and The Rock of my Salvation. Of what Salvation? Of all Salvation, Temporal, Spiritual, and Eternal. The whole stress of all his Salvation should rest and be founded on God alone, As the Rock thereof: And upon him Davids Salvation should be strong, sure, unshaken, and constant. Hence David, casting his Eye upon Gods Covenant with him, comforted himself against all the adversaries of his Family, saying; (z) Therefore this is all my Salvation, and all my desire, although he make it not to grow.

But of these things more hereafter, in Opening the Matter of this Covenant.

Secondly, DAVID and his SEED were the other Fœderate-Party to this Covenant: with whom God made this Covenant in these respects and Notions, viz.

1. With DAVID himself; 1. As one that was Mighty. (a) Then thou spakest in vision to thy Holy one (viz. to Nathan the Prophet, 2 Sam. 7. 4. to 18.) and saidst, I have laid help upon a mighty one. A Worthy, A Champion, viz. David, who was a mighty man of war, and (b) who helped Gods people Israel in fighting the Lords battels against their Enemies, with mighty Resolution and Mighty Success. In this Covenant also God promised to David; (c) His enemies will I clothe with shame, but upon himself shall his Crown flourish. 2. As Gods Elect or chosen one. (d) I have made a Covenant with my chosen. I have exalted one chosen out of the people. David was Electus chosen: Consequently Dilectus, beloved. As Christ is called, (e) Gods Elect in whom his Soul delighted: Matthew hath it; My servant whom I have chosen, my beloved in whom my soul is well-pleased. David was chosen of God, (f) To the inheritance incorruptible, undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for us: As also, (g) To the Throne of Israel. This later is here specially intended. As David was Chosen, He was designed to the Kingly Office. As he was A Mighty one, he was Qualified for that Office. 3. As Gods servant, (h) I have sworn unto David my servant, I have found David my servant, with whom my hand shall be established, &c. God Covenanted with David as his servant: yea by his Covenant he he encouraged and eſtabliſhed him in his ſervice. David is (i) often ſtiled Gods ſervant; And he was Gods Servant, Not only Generally as all are his ſervants, Pſal. 119. 91. Nor only ſpecially, as all true believers and godly perſons are his ſervants, improving his Talents to his glory. Math. 25. 14. &c. Luke 19. 13, &c. Rev. 22. 3. But alſo particularly by his peculiar office, in Church as a Prophet, in Commonwealth as a King, wherein he did ſingularly ſerve the Lord: and in which reſpect he is frequently ſtiled, The Servant of the Lord, as Pſal. 18. 1. & 78. 70, 71, 72. 2 Sam 7, 8, &c. And in this notion God had particular reſpect unto him in this Covenant 4. As Gods Annointed King. (k) I have found David my ſervant, with mine holy Oyl have I annointed him, with whom my hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed, &c. In this Covenant God had ſpecial reſpect to Davids Kingdom, to ſettle ſtabliſh and perpetuate it by his Covenant, as after will appear in the matter of this Covenant. 5. As Gods firſt-born, higher then the Kings of the earth. (l) Alſo I will make him my firſt-born, higher then the Kings of the Earth. My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my Covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him. The Chaldee adds; The firſt-born of the Kings of the houſe of Judah. Firſt-born, or Firſt-begotten. viz. The chief or principal King: as the following phraſe exegetically explaineth it. The firſt-born had a fourfold Prerogative: As, The (m) Prophecy, for inſtructing the Family; The (n) Prieſthood, for Sacrificing; The (o) Kingſhip, for Government, as chieftains and principal Rulers thereof; And the (p) double portion for bearing up their dignity, and encouraging them in all.

Now in all theſe Particulars Jeſus Chriſt is primarily intended and ſhadowed out. For, 1. Chriſt is a mighty one indeed, on whom our help and ſalvation is laid. (q) The mighty God: Having all power; able to ſave to the uttermoſt, &c. 2. Chriſt is (r) Gods choſen and beloved one above all other they being accepted of God only in the beloved. 3. Chriſt is Gods moſt eminent and faithful (ſ) ſervant in the great work and ſervice of ſinners Redemption, for Salvation of both Jews and Gentiles. 4. Chriſt is Gods (t) annointed King. Annointed, not with material Oyl from the Tabernacle, but with the Oyl of gladneſs above his fellows, even with the Spirit of God from heaven above meaſure. 5. Finally, Chriſt is Cods Firſt-born higher then the Kings of the Earth. For, Chriſt is (u) the Firſt-born of every Creature, —and the firſt-born of the Dead, that in all things he might have the preheminence. (x) the Prince of the Kings of the Earth. (y) Lord of Lords, and King of Kings. whom (z) all the Kings of the earth, and Angels of God in heaven, are to fear ſerve and worſhip. This Covenant therefore God made with David in Chriſt. Chriſt was the prime foundation and intention of it. Chriſt with David and his Seed was the other Fœderate party to it.

Inferences by way of Application.

1. Hence, Gods Condeſcenſion to David was wonderful, in becoming a Covenant-Party under ſuch Notions and Conſiderations, in this Covenant with David. God ſtooped to David exceedingly in making Covenant with him; and therein he dealt familiarly with him, as man with man, as a man with his familiar friend. For betwixt God and David was as great diſparity, as betwixt Light and Darkneſs Life and Deadneſs, The Creator and the Creature, Finite and Infinite. And yet God ſtooped and Condeſcended to David in this Covenant ſo much the more, that he would be A Covenant-Party herein with David, As The LORD of Hoaſts, As the God and Rock of Iſrael, As a Father to David and his Seed, As his God, And as the Rock of his Salvation. Well might David hereupon burſt out; (d) Who am I O LORD God, and what is mine Houſe, that thou haſt brought me Hitherto? [viz. that thou haſt brought me from the ſheepcote to the Throne and Scepter; haſt cut of all mine enemies; haſt made me a name like the name of the great men of the Earth; and haſt been with me whitherſoever I went; as 1 Chron. 17. 7, 8.] And yet this was a ſmall thing in thine eyes O God, for thou haſt alſo ſpoken of thy ſervants Houſe for a great while to come, and haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of high degree O LORD God. Or as the parallel place expreſſeth it; (e) and is this the Manner (or Law) of man O LORD God. Or as Junius reads it; And that after the manner of men, O LORD God. That is, (ſaith one; Thou dealeſt familiarly with me as a man dealeth with man.) Now in theſe former expreſſions David intimateth, That though Gods former kindneſſes were ſo admirable that he was aſtoniſhed at them, yet this familiar Covenant-kindneſs as it were ſtruck him dumb; (f) And what can David

(h) Chr. 17. v. 19, 20.

2. Hence, The Priviledge of David and his Seed was exceeding great; to be the other Covenant-party with God, and that under ſuch Notions and Conſiderations. In this Covenant God Deſcended and Condeſcended to David; but David & his Seed Aſcended towards God. God ſtooped below himſelf: but David is herein lifted up above himſelf. What? ſhall David, the yongeſt and moſt deſpiſed of Jeſſe's ſons, the late keeper of his fathers ſheep, ſhall he be particularly taken into a ſpecial Covenant with God? And this under ſuch advantagious and Comfortable Notions? As A mighty one; As Gods choſen: As Gods ſervant: As Gods Annointed King; As Gods Firſt-born higher then the Kings of the Earth? What manner of Priviledges are theſe: and how many Priviledges? Surely all the Notions under which the Lord became a Covenant-party with him and his Seed, and all the Notions under which he and his Seed became a Covenant-party with God, are ſo many eminent Priviledges and Covenant-advantages devolved upon David and his Seed.

3. Hence David and his Seed in this Covenant Typically Suſtained and repreſented the perſon of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Eſpecially David and his ſon Solomon were eminent Types of Chriſt, the (i) true David moſt entirely beloved of God, and the (k) true Solomon and Prince of Peace to his Church and people. They were the Types: Chriſt the Anty-Type. They were the Shadows Chriſt the Subſtance. All the Notions and Conſiderations under which David and his Seed, were Fœderate-Parties with God in this Covenant had a more ſpecial tendency to and accompliſhment in Jeſus Chriſt then either in David or in Solomon. But in what regards David and his Seed Solomon were ſuch Types of Chriſt ſhall more particularly be unfolded in the General Inferences from Conſideration of this whole Covenant.

3. The Impulsive Cause and Occasion of this Covenant.

The Impulsive Cause moving God to make this Covenant with David and his Seed was his rich grace and mercy in Jesus Christ; upon Occasion of Gods changing Israels Governors from Judges to Kings and of King Davids holy Purposes of building an house or Temple for the Lord his God at Jerusalem. In this Aphorism are two things chiefly to be opened and cleared; 1. The Impulsive Cause, 2. The Occasion of this Covenant. Of both briefly.

I. The Impulsive or Moving Cause, inclining the Lord to make this Covenant with David and his Seed, and therein to Condescend so familiarly unto them in such liberal and bountiful Promises, is twofold: 1. Inward, 2. Outward.

1. The Inward Moving Cause of this Covenant, Causa πεσηγουμένη was only Gods own rich Grace and Mercy. As appears, 1. By Davids thankful acknowledgements presently upon Gods revealing of this Covenant to David by Nathan, saying; (m) According to thine own heart (of thy meer grace, not of any merit of mine) hast thou done all these great things, (viz. These great things of this Covenant now revealed by Nathan,) to make thy servant know them. Or, as it is elsewhere; (n) According to thine own heart hast thou done all this greatness, in making known all these Greatnesses. That is, According to the meer good pleasure of thine own will, hast thou revealed this Covenant to me. Thou hast fetched all motives and impulsives from within thy self only, from thine own meer grace goodness and mercy. Hence Pet. Martyr; (o) According to thine heart] For God is so good, that he expects not our merits, but is moved by his own sole will and meer mercy. Therefore Paul to the Ephesians saith, God worketh all things according to the Counsel of his own will, Eph. 1. 11. 2. ſaid Mercy ſhall be built up for ever: thy faithfulneſs ſhalt thou eſtabliſh in the very heavens.

2. The Outward moving cauſe of this Covenant, the Cauſa προκαταρκτικη, was only Chriſt Jeſus the Meſſiah and his merit, in whom alone The Lord ſo accepted David as to make this excellent Covenant with him: not any thing at all in Davids Perſon or Family. Hence David, in his thankful return to God for this Covenant, Firſt devolves all Cauſality of it from himſelf, Then caſts it all upon the Meſſiah. He Acknowledgeth ſelf-denyingly that nothing in him could move or incline God to dignify him with ſuch favour. (r) Then went King David in, and ſate before the LORD, and he ſaid; who am I, O Lord GOD ? and what is my Houſe, that thou haſt brought me hitherto? As if he had ſaid O Lord, I am even aſtoniſhed at this tranſcendent Covenant-Mercy! for theres nothing in me nor in my houſe, that might in the leaſt meaſure incite thee thereunto. This was his great Humility, Self-denyal, Self-abhorrency before the Lord. Hee ſeems alſo on the other hand to attribute all to Chriſt (the Word and Servant of God) as the only Outward Impulſive Cauſe and Motive; (f) For thy WORD 's ſake and according to thine own heart, haſt thou done all theſe things, &c. which elſewhere is thus expreſſed; (t) O LORD for thy SERVANT 's ſake, and according to thine own heart haſt thou done all this greatneſs, in making known all theſe Greatneſſes. Both paſſages having peculiar and principal reference to this Covenant. What's this WORD of God? Who's this SERVANT? By word, Some (u) underſtand, The Truth and Promiſe of God. But how can that be? For what Word or Promiſe did God make to David of any ſuch Covenant Formerly? And by SERVANT, we cannot well underſtand (x) Nathan the Prophet, by whom God revealed this Covenant to David; for though he did Reveal it by Nathan, yet not for Nathan's ſake: Nor can we underſtand David himſelf. for David utterly diſclaims all his own worth, ſaying: who am I O Lord GOD ? and what is my houſe, that thou haſt brought me hitherto? Nor is it as much as if he had ſaid; For thy Promiſe ſake whioh thou haſt made to thy ſervant David, as (y) ſome think: for the former doubt ſtill occurrs; where did God make any ſuch Promiſe? Some, by WORD underſtand Gods decree, thus; (z) This admirable revelation of thy grace towards me and my poſterity is grounded upon nothing but only upon the Decree which thou haſt ſet down of thine own meer free will. But Word here cannot be expounded, Gods Decree: for that will not agree with the parallel word, Servant; for thy Servants ſake, that is, for thy Decrees ſake, were a harſh and unuſual expoſition. I therefore rather incline to their expoſition who (a) by WORD underſtand Chriſt, The eſſential word of God, Joh. 1. 1, 14 Rev. 19. 13. Chriſt alſo being called Gods Servant in regard of his office, Iſa. 42. 1. with Math 12. 18. graciouſly done all this greatneſs. Thou haſt inclined hereunto, according to the meer good pleaſure of thy will, within thy ſelf; for the Mediation and Merit of thy Chriſt without thy ſelf. And this interpretation (as ſome think) is yet further ſtrengthened by thoſe words; (b) And haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of high degree, O LORD God. What can David ſpeak more to thee for the Honor of thy ſervant: That (according to the eſtate of a man of high degree, or, of excellency,) may more rightly be referred to Chriſt, for he is truly the moſt excellent, and as Paul ſpeaks The ſecond Adam. So the ſenſe ſhall be, Thou giveſt me theſe things, not according to my merits and my vertues, but for Chriſt that high and excellent man. Thus (c) Pet. Martyr. And he further ſaith, Rabbi Solomo reads this ſentence by way of Interrogation, as a Sentence of Admiration, and as if David ſhould ſay thus; Is this the Condition of man, that thou ſhouldſt embrace him with ſuch love? And this well agrees if it be transferred to Chriſt in this manner; Is this my condition, that Chriſt ſhould be born of my ſtock, and I ſhould be the father of the ſon of God? And this agrees moſt fitly with that which follows: what can David ſpeak more to thee? &c. for as Paul ſaith, Sith God hath given us his ſon, how ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things? thus he.

(c) Pet. Mar. Comment. in 2 Sam. 7. 19, 20.

II. The occaſion of this Covenant, was, 1. More Mediate, 2. More Immediate.

1. More Mediate and remote, was Gods changing Iſraels Governors and chief Rulers from Judges to Kings. Judges were Governors more extraordinarily raiſed up by God, during Iſraels more unſetled Condition in Canaan: by whom God as their King ruled them. They were not ſo full of outward Majeſty as Kings: Nor did their Poſterity ſucceed them. In ſtead of theſe God ſet up Kings as more Ordinary fixed Rulers, fuller of awful Majeſty. The firſt King of Gods approbation, was David, (Saul being (d) given in anger and taken away in wrath) in (e) whoſe daies the Lord brought Iſrael to a more ſetled condition in Canaan: And God annexed the Regal Succeſſion peculiarly unto David and his Natural Seed, till Jeſus Chriſt the chief natural Seed of David, and chief King of Iſrael, ſhould come to Rule his Church for ever: in whoſe Kingdom, the whole Government of that people ſhould be ſwallowed up, and Davids throne perpetuated for evermore. God intending this Honour and happineſs peculiarly to David and his Houſe, Reveals this Covenant to David by Nathan, the chief new clauſe whereof ſuperadded to the Sinai-Covenant, was the Promiſe of the Meſſiah to deſcend of David according to the fleſh, and of the Kingdom to be perpetuated in him for evermore.

(d) Hoſ. 13. 11.
(e) 2 Chr. 23. 3.

2. More Immediate and near, was Davids holy Purpoſe to build an houſe or Temple for the Lord at Jeruſalem. This Purpoſe David probably entertained in his heart from conſideration of Gods Promiſe (f) by Moſes to Iſrael, that when they ſhould be poſſeſſed of Canaan and have Reſt from their Enemies round about, There ſhould be a place which

(f) Deut. 12. 5,6,9,10,11.

which the LORD their God ſhould chooſe out of all their Tribes to cauſe his Name to dwell there, &c. This his purpoſe (g) David imparted to Nathan the Prophet, (h) when the LORD had given him Reſt round about from all his Enemies. Nathan encouraged him, but God by viſion revealed to Nathan forbids David to build, upon divers grounds. Nevertheleſs God was ſo well-pleaſed with Davids holy intendments herein, That he Makes a ſpecial Covenant with David; therein aſſuring him, that He would build David an Houſe, Raiſe up his Seed after him (which ſhould build God an Houſe,) and would ſtabliſh his Throne for evermore. Which Promiſes had (i) their peculiar and principal accompliſhment in the Meſſiah Jeſus Chriſt the ſon of David. How acceptable to God, was Davids zeal for God! He purpoſed to build God an Houſe: God thereupon Promiſed to build him an Houſe: yea to ſet up his Seed upon his Throne after him for ever, which Seed ſhould be Chriſt eſpecially. Oh how (k) was David enlarged in thankfulneſs, and his Spirit rapt up with aſtoniſhing admiration hereupon: ſo that he wanted words to expreſs his thoughts! who would not be zealous for the Houſe, worſhip, Ordinances, and Church of God: which is ſo well-pleaſing to God and ſo abundantly rewarded?

Inferences, by way of Application.

1. Hence, Admire the Riches of Gods free-Grace in this Covenant-diſcovery to David. God made and revealed all theſe Covenant-Greatneſſes to David according to his own heart, according to the good-pleaſure of his own will. Nothing in David, nothing in his fathers houſe could incline or Move God hereunto. Herein God manifeſted to David both his Gratiam favoris, His Grace of free favour which he freely expreſſeth towards his Creature without any deſert of the creature; and Gratiam Commiſerationis, his Grace of free pity and Commiſeration, which he expreſſeth towards his ſinful Creature contrary to deſert. For, David had no merit, to deſerve any good from God: David had many ſins and frailties to deſerve all evil from him.

2. Hence, Jeſus Chriſt the eſſential word of God and the grand Servant of God in his Mediatory office, was not only one Primary Bleſſing Promiſed and a Principal end intended in this Covenant; but alſo the only outward Impulſive Cauſe inclining God thereunto. Chriſt was the Matter, end, and Foundation of this Covenant. Chriſt was the Center, the lines, and the Circumference of this Covenant. Jeſus Chriſt was the very life and Soul of this, as of all other Covenants of Faith: (l) The ſame yeſterday, and to day, and for ever. You cannot ſtudy this Covenant, but therein you ſhall learn Chriſt. He is the Jewel in this Cabinet: Oh, delight to open and look into this Cabinet, for the Jewels ſake laid up therein.

(l) Heb. 13. 8.

3. Hence, True Zeal to build God an Houſe is the ready way to engage the Lord to build our houſe. David had it in his heart, (and but in his heart) to build an Houſe for God; As yet not one one ſtone of the foundation was laid, nor any Materials at all prepared for the building: And yet God was ſo exceedingly pleaſed with his religious purpoſes of heart to build God an Houſe, That God preſently rewards this his zeal with a Covenant and rich promiſes to build David an Houſe, by raiſing up his Seed and ſtabliſhing his Throne for evermore. David but purpoſed to build Gods Houſe, and God promiſed to build Davids Houſe. Did his religious intent of building the Material Temple ſo pleaſe God? How much more will our religious intents endeavours and actings for building his Spiritual Temple the Church (one ſpecial Antitype of that Type) pleaſe God abundantly? We have in this land entertained purpoſes of building the ſpiritual houſe of God. Otherwiſe why did we in the daies of our diſtreſs ſo ([m]) ſolemnly Covenant with God, To endeavour in our places a through reformation in Doctrine worſhip Diſcipline and Government according to the word of God? And hath not God built our Houſe, ſince we Covenanted to build his Houſe? Hath he not ſubdued our enemies, and crowned us with peace by Sea and Land? From that day did not the Lord bleſs us? Oh then, why have we not purſued our pious purpoſes, and performed our Covenant, which remains ſtill upon Record in Heaven and earth againſt us? ſhall we ever loſe, by our zeal to the Houſe of God? Nay, ſince the Lord hath begun to build our Houſes, Have we not neglected to build Gods Houſe? have we not ſaid, ([n]) The time is not yet come, the time that the Houſe of the Lord ſhould be built? Have we not puld down Gods Houſe, and builded the devils Houſe, by Blaſphemies, Hereſies, Errours, Diviſions, Prophaneneſs, Confuſion, and a ſinful Toleration of evils intolerable? Thus did not David. Yea when God ſuffered him not to build the Temple, yet he prepared for it with all his might. So if we cannot build, as we deſire, yet where are our preparations?

4. The Substance, or Subject matter of this Covenant with DAVID.

THe Substance or Subject-Matter of Gods Covenant with DAVID and his SEED, consisted; I. On Gods part, In many eminent Mercies and Blessings Promised: viz. 1. Touching DAVID himself; (1) The subduing of all his Enemies, (2) Strengthning and establishing him, (3) Increase and enlargement of his glory, prosperity, power and dominion, (4) His sweet Covenant-relations to him, (5) Fulfilling of his daies, (6) Building him an house, especially by Raising up his Seed after him to sit upon his Throne for ever, and (7) Perpetuating this Covenant; 2. Touching his Seed; (1) The like Fatherly Relation to it, (2) The Honour to build God an House, (3) Establishment of his Seed in his Kingdome and Throne for ever, (4) And Constancy of Gods loving kindness and faithfulness thereunto but with exception of chastisements in case of miscarriages: 3. Touching Israel, the Subjects of David and his Seed; (1) Gods habitation in Sion for ever, (2) Their peaceable and secure establishment in Canaan, (3) And their singular Prosperity in Temporals and Spirituals. II. On the part of DAVID and his Seed, In the Covenant-Duties conditioned and restipulated, which are comprized in, 1. Their Keeping Gods Covenant and Testimony walking in his Commandments Statutes and Judgements; 2. Their being just, ruling in the fear of God.

The main Body and substance of Gods Covenant with David and his Seed, may be easily reduced to these particulars in this Aphorism. And these Mercies Promised on Gods part, with this Duty conditioned on the part of David and his Seed, are evidently the Subject-Matter of this Covenant: They being collected, 1. Partly, out of the (o) vision of Nathan wherein God first revealed this his Covenant to David; 2. Partly, (p) out of the recitals and expositions of this Covenant, especially in two eminent Psalms: 3. Partly, (q) out of Davids last words, wherein he comforts himself, against all the discomforts of his House, by this excellent Covenant which God had made with him. And this I shall yet further clear, by this brief ensuing Explanation of this Aphorism according to the several branches of it, in two Sections.

SECTION

Section I.

THE Covenant-Mercies or blessings herein graciously Promised on Gods part to David and his Seed, viz. 1. Some concerning David. 2. Some concerning Davids Seed. 3. Some concerning the Subjects of King David and his Seed.

First, The Covenant-Mercies or Blessings more specially concerning DAVID himself were these; viz.

1. Gods subduing of all his Enemies; clothing them with Shame and Confusion. This is one clause in Nathans vision, revealing this Covenant; (r) —— Moreover, I will subdue all thine enemies. This the explanatory recital of the Covenant confirms; (l) I have found David my servant, —— The enemy shall not exact upon him: nor the son of wickedness afflict him. And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him. And elsewhere; (t) His enemies will I cloath with Shame. And this is yet further ratified in Davids Prophecy or last words touching this Covenant; (u) but the sons of Belial shall be all of them as thorns thrust away, because they cannot be taken with hands. But the man that shall touch them must be fenced with iron, and the staff of a speare: and they shall be utterly burnt with fire in the place. Heb. in the Mansion. Here the enemies of the Kingdom of David and his Seed, are Described and Threatned. Described, by their dissoluteness; They are stiled, sons of (x) Belial: yokeless, prophane wretches. By their mischievousness; being compared to Thorns, that prick or wound those that touch them or have any thing to do with them, unless they be fenced with iron and speare against them. Threatned, Partly To be moved or thrust away as thorns, which are stubbed up by the roots because of the mischief they do grass or corn, &c. Partly, To be utterly burnt with fire in the Mansion or place of their abode. This promise of subduing all Davids Enemies had (y) reference, Immediately and literally to the Enemies of David and his Seed in the Kingdom of Israel: Mediately Typically and Spiritually to the enemies of Jesus Christ in the Kingdom of his Church, Satan Antichrist and all the yokeless wicked ones of the world, whose utter extirpation and Destruction is here foretold for the Comfort of Davids House.

This Mercy Promised was Performed and accomplished two wayes. 1. Literally and immediately to David himself. David (z) fought the battels of the LORD; And (a) he went on and grew great, and the LORD God of Hosts was with him: yea he was with him whithersoever he went and cut off all his enemies out of his sight, and made him a great name like unto the Name of the great men that are in the Earth. And David himself thankfully (b) confessed thus much in that triumphant Psalm penned to that purpose. viz. That he might triumph in Gods prayses who had trodden down all his enemies under his feet. To which Psalm this Title is prefixed; (c) and David spake unto the LORD

LORD the words of this Song, in the day that the LORD had delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul. And he ſaid; &c. Which Pſalm alſo may be very properly ſung by the Church and people of God, for his ſubduing the enemies of Chriſt and his Church: David herein being a ſpecial Type of Chriſt, and Davids enemies, of the enemies of Chriſt and his Church.

2. Spiritually, Myſtically and Mediately. This promiſe is, and ſhall be performed to Jeſus Chriſt the true David, typifyed by David. Chriſt, (1) Inchoately hath (d) Conquered Judged and Condemned all his and his Members ſpirtual enemies, as Sin, Death, Hell, Satan, Antichriſt, the world, &c. He hath already ſtabbed them to the heart: hath given them ſuch a death's wound as they ſhall never be able to recover. And he is riding on ſtill moſt victoriouſly Conquering and to Conquer. (2) Compleatly he will ſubdue them all, before, or at, his ſecond Coming. For he (e) ſits on Gods right hand and there muſt reign till all his foes become his footſtool. This (f) Stone cut out without hands ſhall break in pieces the whole image of Gold, Silver, Braſs, Iron and Clay, even all the grand Empires and Kingdoms of the world, that are enemies to the Kingdom of Chriſt. Great Babylon, Rome; (g) ſhall be utterly burnt with fire, and ſhall be found no more at all. The (h) Beaſt and falſe Prophet ſhall both of them be taken by him that ſits on the white horſe, and ſhall be caſt alive into a lake of fire burning with Brimſtone. (i) The laſt enemy Death ſhall be deſtroyed, when the Devil, and Death, and Hell, and all the wicked ſhall be caſt into the lake of fire.

2. Gods eſtabliſhing and ſtrengthening David in his Kingdom, that his foes might be brought under. (k) Then thou ſpakeſt in viſion to thine Holy one, —— I have found David my ſervant; with my Holy oyl have I anoninted him. With whom my hand ſhall be eſtabliſhed: mine arm alſo ſhall ſtrengthen him. The enemy ſhall not exact upon him, &c. As God was the Anointer of David, and ſo the Author of his Kingdom: So he Covenanted to be the ſtrengthener and keeper of him and his Kingdom againſt all adverſe Power. God (as (l) Calvin notes well) doth not forſake his works begun, but by a continual progreſs carries them on to their end and perfection. Except the Lord ſtrengthen and eſtabliſh: what King or Kingdom can be eſtabliſhed? and if he ſtrengthen and Stabliſh, who ſhall weaken or Aboliſh?

This promiſed eſtabliſhment and ſtrengthening had its accompliſhment alſo, 1. In David himſelf. For, after David had taken the ſtrong hold of Zion and had enjoyed ſo much peace as to build himſelf an houſe, (m) David perceived that the LORD had eſtabliſhed him King over Iſrael, and that he had exalted his Kingdom for his people Iſraels ſake. And after that (n) he twice conquered the Philiſtines and at laſt ſubdued them, as alſo Syria, Moab, Ammon, Ameleck, &c. ſo that David grew greater and greater, and got himſelf a mighty name. 2. In Jeſus Chriſt the primary Seed of David. 3. Gods Increaſing and Enlargement of Davids Glory Proſperity Power and Dominion. In the recital and explanation of this Covenant, God ſaid; (p) But my faithfulneſs and my mercy ſhall be with him; and in my name ſhall his Horn be exalted. I will ſet his hand alſo in the Sea: and his right hand in the Rivers. —— Alſo I will make him my Firſt-born, higher then the Kings of the earth. Here, beſides other bleſſings, theſe Royal favours are promiſed to David, viz. 1. Exalted Glory, In my name ſhall his Horn be exalted. Here and oft elſewhere the Horn of David (ſaith (q) Calvin) is taken for his Glory, Dignity, Power, &c. Therefore the ſenſe is, Through Gods goodneſs, the ſtate of his Kingdom ſhould be alwaies proſperous and flouriſhing: Its an elegant Metaphor from bruit-beaſts, whoſe ornament and power is in their Horns: thence tranſlated to ſignifie ſometimes (r) divine Glory and Power; ſometimes (ſ) Humane Royal glory and Power, as here. 2. Enlarged Dominion. The hand, the right-hand, whereby the ſword and ſcepter are held, and power is put forth, denotes dominion: His hand in the Sea and Rivers, imports the extent of his Dominion from the Sea to the Rivers. By Sea, here underſtand, the great Sea, viz. The Mediteranean Sea, which (t) was the border of the promiſed Land on the Weſt. By Rivers, (u) Calvin underſtands the River Euphrates, which was divided into many channels, and the neighbouring Rivers on the part of Syria. But forasmuch as God had mentioned ſundry Rivers as part of the borders of the promiſed land, viz. the great River Euphrates, Gen. 15. 18. Deut. 11. 24. The River Iordan, Numb. 34. 12, And the River of Egypt, Num. 34. 5. Ioſh. 15. 4. I ſee not any reaſon why any of them ſhould here be excluded, but that Davids dominion ſhould be extended to them all according to Gods Promiſes of Old to (x) Abraham, and to (y) Iſrael. The people by their many ſins had deprived themſelves of ſome part of their promiſed inheritance, and ſtraightned their borders: but now God aſſures them that under David and his Seed there ſhould be an enlargement of the borders according to the ancient promiſes. 3. Eminency of Soveraignty and Rule. That he ſhould be higher then the Kings of the earth; or, Kings of the Land. viz. Higher then all the Kings within the bounds of the promiſed land, which David ſhould ſubdue: And Higher in royal dignity, excellency, authority, proſperity, then all the neighbouring Kings round about him. And elſewhere God ſaith; (z) There (viz. in Zion) will I make the Horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine Anointed. His enemies will I clothe with ſhame: but upon himſelf ſhall his Crown flouriſh. This Pſalm alſo recites and explains Gods Covenant with David, and in theſe words God promiſed the Increaſe of Davids Glory, Proſperity and Dominion, Under three Meta- phors, viz. 1. Of an Horn budding. There will I make the Horn of David to bud. Horn, Sometimes denotes the Royal Glory and Power of David and his houſe, as was noted formerly. Sometimes the budding poſterity of David full of Honour and power: So Chriſt is called, (a) an Horn of Salvation in the Houſe of David. The budding of the horn of David, may denote, Partly, the ſmall and contemptible Original of Davids Kingdom. He being (b) taken out of a Mean Family, and from one of the meaneſt imployments, keeping of Sheep, to the greateſt dignity of feeding Jacob Gods people and Iſrael his Inheritance: from the Shepherds-crook and ſling, to the Scepter; from the Sheep-folds, to the Throne. So that the firſt budding of his Royalty was from a very ſmall and deſpiſed beginning. Partly, The wonderful reſtitutions of Davids ſhattered and decayed Kingdom, Rehoboams loſing ten tribes, the reſidue being oft times brought extream low by potent adverſaries, eſpecially when they were held Captive in Babylon 70. years. In ſuch caſes how was the Horn of David bruiſed and broken! whereupon Chriſt ſpringing of David is called, (c) A Rod (not out of the Tree, but) out of the Stem of Jeſs, and a Branch out of his Roots. And (d) The Man whoſe name is the BRANCH: alluding perhaps to this prophecy. But ſtill God did wonderfully preſerve his Kingdom from Rain, and made it often Bud again afreſh till Chriſt came. 2. Of a Lamp. I have ordained a Lamp for mine Annointed. Or, I have prepared a Candle, &c. This Metaphor of a Lamp or Candle, is uſed in Scripture to ſignifie many and ſeveral things: but all with alluſion to the light, comfort and benefit of a Lamp or Candle in darkneſs. As, Sometimes it ſignifies Mans Soul, Spirit or Minde, (e) which is the Candle of the LORD within a man; Sometimes The corporal eye, which is the (f) Candle of the Body: Sometimes, the word of God, which is (g) a Lamp to our feet, and light to our path; Sometimes, The lightſome and comfortable preſence and favour of God to Iſrael in deepeſt troubles, (h) Abraham had this repreſented to him in viſion of a ſmoaking furnace and burning Lamp; Sometimes The lightſome joy, comfort proſperity and bright ſhining Glory of a Kingdom or Royal Family, breaking forth in midſt of darkſom troubles and afflictions, and eſpecially reſplendent in a comfortable Succeſſion continued. Thus God ſaid touching Solomon; (i) And unto his ſon will I give one Tribe, that David my ſervant may have a light (or Candle) alway before me in Jeruſalem. And touching Abijam King of Judah, though wicked, God ſaid; (k) Nevertheleſs for Davids ſake did the LORD his God give a Lamp (or Candle) in Jeruſalem; to ſet up his ſon after him, and to eſtabliſh Jeruſalem. In this laſt ſenſe here underſtand this clauſe of the Covenant. Contrariwiſe the daſhing of wicked mens proſperity joy comfort glory &c. is often threatned under the metaphor of (l) putting out their Candle. 3. Of a flouriſhing crown but upon himſelf ſhall his Crown flouriſh. His crown and Kingdom ſhall be proſperous like a flouriſhing flouriſhing flower full of beauty and glory. Contrariwiſe the glorious beauty of the (m) Crown of Pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, is compared to a fading or withering flower.

This Promiſe had its accompliſhment, Much, in David, More in Solomon, moſt of all in Jeſus Chriſt, the chief Son of David. 1. In David. 1. For, God (n) preſerved David whitherſoever he went: and David by his victorious ſucceſſes got himſelf a Name. David alſo (o) ſmote Hadadezer King of Zobah, as he went to recover his border at the River Euphrates. Whether Hadadezer or David be underſtood here to go to recover his border at Euphrates, David by ſmiting Hadadezer enlarged his Dominion towards Euphrates, which was his promiſed border. And ſo God ſet his hand, or power in the Rivers. The (p) Moabites and Syrians and their Kings became ſervants to David and brought gifts: So David was higher then the Kings of the Earth or of the Land Davids Horn budded, from a Shepfold to a Royal Throne: and though ofttimes it ſeemed quite broken, and his light in Iſrael extinguiſhed, yet it again ſtill budded afreſh, and his (q) Candle was again lighted in Jeruſalem till the coming of the Meſſiah. 2. In Solomon his ſon. For, (r) He was ſtrengthned in his Kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him, and magnified him exceedingly. (ſ) He had riches wealth and honour, ſuch as none before or after him had the like: and he made ſilver and gold at Jeruſalem as plenteous as ſtones, &c. And (t) all the Kings of the Earth ſought the preſence of Solomon, to hear his wiſdom, &c. and they brought every man his preſent, veſſels of ſilver, and veſſels of gold, &c. a rate year by year, And (u) Solomon reigned over all Kingdoms from the River unto the land of the Philiſtimes, and unto the border of Egypt: they brought preſents and ſerved Solomon all the daies of his life, &c. 3. In Ieſus Chriſt this promiſe was moſt eminently accompliſhed. He was (x) raiſed up an Horn of Salvation for us in the Houſe of David. He is (y) a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of his people Iſrael. He (z) had the Throne of his father David to reign over the houſe of Jacob for ever; yea he had (a) given him the Heathen for his inheritance, and the uttermoſt parts of the earth for his poſſeſſion: All Nations being brought into ſubjection to him by the Scepter of his Spirit and Goſpel; and the Kingdoms of this world becoming our Lords and his Chriſts, who is therefore Lord of Lords, and King of Kings, and ſhall reign for evermore.

4. Gods ſweet Covenant-Relations to him. In the recital of this Covenant, God promiſed to David; (b) He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, My God, and the Rock of my Salvation: Alſo I will make him my firſt-born, higher then the Kings of the earth. In which words God aſſures David of three Excellent and moſt comfortable Relations betwixt himſelf and David, which David ſhould acknowledge, and upon all occaſions make uſe of (c) By Faith and Prayer, flying and cleaving ſtill to him as to 1. His Father, 2. His God, And 3. His Saviour. Oh how ſweetly might Davids Faith and Prayer, fix upon the

the Lord in all Temptations, Troubles, Diſcomforts, Straits, &c. who thus made himſelf David's by theſe endeared Relations! viz. God Covenanted to be,

(1) Davids Father. He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my Father. God here promiſed to be a Father to David, Not Generally, as he is Father of all his Creatures, father of lights, Jam. 1. 17. father of Spirits, Heb. 12. 9. Nor only Specially, as he is father of Rulers and Magiſtrates; I have ſaid ye are Gods: and all of you are children of the moſt high, Pſal. 82. 6. But more Peculiarly and Eminently, As he is father of his Adopted in Chriſt, Luke 11. 2. 2 Cor. 6. 18. Rom. 8. 15. And as he intended a peculiar dearneſs betwixt himſelf and David, as his Firſt-born, higher then the Kings of the Earth, as (d) Calvin well obſerves.

(d) Joan. Calvin. in Com. ad Pſal. 89. 27.

This Promiſe was Really performed to David himſelf; (e) when my Father and my Mother forſake me, then the LORD will take me up. Heb. will gather me. The LORD will not only be a Father, but both Father and Mother to David; yea more then both Father and Mother: They may forſake, but God will gather me, Theres more Fatherlineſs in t his Father, then in all the Fathers in the world. But this promiſe primarily intended, and had its fulleſt accompliſhment in the Anti-Type Jeſus Chriſt, who was indeed Gods Firſt-born higher then all Kings of the Earth, And therefore the Apoſtle (f) applies this Promiſe to Chriſt, and thereby proves him to be above all the Angels in Heaven.

(f) Heb. 1. 4, 5.

So then, The Lord Covenanted, That himſelf would be A Father to David: And that David ſhould be his Son, yea his Firſt-born, his choice ſon. What bleſsings doth this imply from God to David: And what Duties from David to God! 1. What bleſsings and mercies hence flowd from God to David, That God would be his Father! As, 1. Fatherly Procreation. A Father begets his childe of his own ſubſtance (g) Hearken to thy Father, that begat thee. This is the very foundation of Fatherhood. The Lord begat David, Partly by Regeneraation, as he (h) begets all his ſpiritual children by his ſpirit and word. Partly by Royal Unction whereby he begat him to the Throne. (i) Thou art my ſon this day have I begotten thee. By Regeneration, he begat him a Saint: By Unction, he begat him a King. 2. Fatherly Communication. A Father imparts and communicates himſelf peculiarly to his childe, his Nature, his Image, his Properties, his Perfections, &c. God this heavenly Father, Communicates to his children, and ſo to David, His Nature, and his Spirit. (1) His Nature. They (k) partake the Divine, or Godly Nature; and The (l) Image of God, in knowledge, righteouſneſs and true holineſs. (2) His (m) Spirit; Partly as a Spirit of Adoption, witneſſing their Son-ſhip, &c. Partly, as a Spirit of ſupplication, enabling them with groans unutterable to cry Abba Father, with child-like boldneſs and confidence. 3. hold hold relation to all the children of the houshold of God. They that have God their father, (n) are of Gods Family or Houshold; some of which Family are in Heaven, some on Earth, yet all but one and the same Family. Herein (o) Jesus Christ, the First-born, is their Elder brother, nor is he ashamed to call them brethren: and in him also his members are Holy brethren, an holy brotherhood. 4. Fatherly affections. As, Love. A father Naturally loves his children: and usually more then children love a Father. Love rather descends, then Ascends. Gods love to his children, is admirable, incomparable. (p) Behold, what manner of love the father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God.! John stands amazed at this Compassion. A fathers bowels melt upon his children, yea though unkind and unnatural: As (q) David's upon Absolom. but Gods fatherly Compassions to his children transcend; (r) Like as a Father pittieth his children, so the LORD pittieth them that fear him, &c. Hence God is represented like a tender father conflicting within himself about the chastisement of his Israel; (s) How shall I give thee up Ephraim? How shall I deliver thee, Israel: How shall I make thee as Admah? How shall I set thee as Zeboim? Mine heart is turned within me; My repentings are kindled together. I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee. 5. Fatherly Education. Natural Parents have a Natural instinct to bring up their children Naturally. Christian and Godly parents have supernatural principles inciting them to educate them Christianly. But Gods own fatherly education of his children is most Fatherly. For, (t) He feeds them with (t) Heavenly food, Hidden Mannah, The bread and water of life, making them live for evermore: even with Jesus Christ the true bread that came down from Heaven. (u) He clothes them (u) with the best robe; even with the Righteousness of Jesus Christ and the Sanctifying Graces of the Spirit, enabling them to put on the Lord Jesus Christ and the New Man. So that they become all glorious within, and their clothing of wrought Gold. (x) He instructs them in the best lessons, in the (x) deep things of God, Jesus Christ, and the Mysteries of Salvation: and this by his Spirit and Scriptures, able to make them wise unto Salvation, and to furnish them throughly unto every good work. (y) He also as a tender Father, (y) Corrects them discreetly and faithfully, (not as earthly parents for their own pleasure or passion, but for their profit, that they may be partakers of the peaceable fruit of righteousness, may know he loves them, and that they are not Bastards, but Sons. 6. Fatherly Protection. Fathers to their ability defend their children from Harms and Injuries. (z) They'l fight for their sons and their daughters, and their wives, —— as Nehemiah encouraged. But this Heavenly Father will be to his people and children (a) A wall of fire round about them, and their glory in the midst of them: yea as the Mountains round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people from hence henceforth and for ever. And he that toucheth them toucheth the apple of his eye, &c. 7. Fatherly Provision. The (b) children lay not up for the Parents, but the Parents for the children. This heavenly father makes the best Provision for his children, both here in this world, and hereafter in the world to come. (c) They are heirs of Earth and Heaven, of two whole worlds, All things are theirs: And eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, nor hath the heart of carnal man conceived what he hath prepared for them that love him. These, and like paternal favours God assured to David in this Covenant, whilst he promised to be a Father to him.

II. What Duties hence were to be returned from David to God: the Lord accepting him as his Son, his First-born: Mutual Relations, have in them Mutual Obligations. The Duties of a child to a Natural Father, much more to God the Heavenly Father, are such as these. As, 1. Conformity to the heavenly father. A child of God is to (d) be holy, as he is holy; merciful, as he is merciful; &c. 2. Love and childlike affection; Primarily to the Heavenly Father himself in Jesus Christ, (e) with all the heart, soul, minde and might. Secondarily, to all Gods children bearing the image of this heavenly Father (f) Every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him. viz. The heavenly childe, for the heavenly fathers sake. 3. Honouring of him. The childe (g) ought to honour his Father. Hence saith the LORD of hoasts; (h) A son honoureth his father and a servant his Master: If then I be a father, where is mine honour? &c. 4. Fearing him with filial reverence, not with slavish fear. (i) If ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every mans work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear. If you profess God to be your father, and pray to him as to your Father, fear him in your whole course of life. 5. Obeying of him. (k) As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance: — Jesus Christ (l) counted it his meat and drink to do the will of his father that sent him, and to finish his work, yea he became obedient to him to the Death even the death of the Cross: (m) laying down his life rather then laying aside his obedience. Herein all his members should follow him in like obedience. 6. Trusting in him, and depending upon him, as children upon a loving and faithful Father, for all necessary supplies, comforts, &c. (n) As Christ did in death. 7. Praying to him, as a childe to a Father. (o) By the Spirit of Adoption we cry, Abba, Father. Christ (p) prayed to him as to his father often: and Christ (q) hath taught us to pray to him as to our Father every day. Now as David was obliged to perform these and like filial Duties to God, as to his Father: so the Scriptures, and especially the Psalms abundantly testifie such his Performance.

God, &c. This is the higheſt mercy Promiſeable That the Lord would be (r) A God to David by Covenant: and conſequently, That David ſhould be one of his Covenant-People, is implyed. But of this ſupream ſweeteſt and moſt Comprehenſive Promiſe, hath been ſpoken heretofore abundantly, eſpecially in opening Gods Covenant with Abraham. Thus David experimentally had the Lord for his God: and gave up himſelf to God as one of his people.

(3) Davids Rock of Salvation. (f) He ſhall cry unto me, Thou art my Father, My God, and The Rock of my Salvation. How emphatically! Not only A Saviour, but My Saviour: Not only My Saviour, but My Salvation: Not only My Salvation, but The Rock of my Salvation. My ſtrong, My impregnable, My immovable, My everlaſting Salvation. Such a Salvation God here Covenants to be to David, even his All-ſufficient Saviour. God ſaves, or is A Saviour divers waies: and every way he became Davids Saviour. As, 1. By ſuſtaining and Preſerving by his Common Providence. Thus, he (t) ſaves Man and beaſt. Thus he is (u) the Saviour of all men. 2. By lending help and aſſiſtance. Save LORD, let the King hear us when we call, Pſal. 20. 9. 2 Kings 6. 27. Pſal. 118. 25. 3. By Delivering, (1) From Temporal evils, afflictions, enemies, &c. Pſal. 3. 7. & 7. 1. & 118. 14. (2) From ſpiritual evils, ſins, miſeries, &c. and from eternal Wrath, Death, Condemnation. So (x) God is the Saviour eſpecially of them that believe. And thus Salvation is often aſcribed to God, Tit. 3. 4. Jer. 17. 14. Ezek. 36. 29. Luke 1. 72. Heb. 5. 7. 2 Tim. 1. 8, 9. Now David being every of theſe waies ſaved by this Rock of his Salvation, as in his Pſalms is plentifully evident: David was obliged to demean himſelf towards God, as the ſaved of the Lord. Accordingly upon this ground David, 1. Loved (y) the Lord his Saviour exceedingly. 2. Prayſed God his Saviour with much enlarged thankfulneſs. (z) What ſhall I render unto the LORD for all his benefits towards me? I will take the Cup of Salvation, &c. — I will praiſe thee, for thou haſt heard me, and art become my Salvation. 3. Truſted (a) in the Lord the more Confidently for the future. 4. Devoted himſelf to the ſervice of the Lord his Saviour, the more chearfully (b) O LORD, truly I am thy ſervant, I am thy ſervant, and the ſon of thy handmaid: thou haſt looſed my bonds.

5. Gods fulfilling of Davids Daies. (c) And when thy daies be fulfilled that thou ſhalt ſleep with thy fathers. This hath in it an implicit Promiſe of long life to David: that his daies ſhould not untimely be cut off, but be fulfilled and come to Maturity. — Peter Martyr thus expounds it (d) Thou ſhalt not be taken away with a violent or immature Death, for thou ſhalt fulfil thy daies. All do fulfil their daies in regard of Gods Predeſtination in whatſoever age they dye. But they are ſaid to fulfil their daies, who live ſo long, till the Humour which they call radical be dryed up. Long life is oft-times promiſed as a great bleſſing to Gods People: As To (e) Abraham, To (f) Job, To (g) Iſrael, &c.

And long life becomes an eminent mercy to Gods people in divers regards. viz. 1. As Long life is a continual Teſtimony and evidence of Gods conſtant care and fatherly Providence over his people: Supplying them with all neceſſaries, preſerving and delivering them from many dangers and deaths, Ordering and over-ruling all things for Good, &c. 2. As long life (h) is the evident fruit and experimental performance of many ſweet Promiſes made to that effect. 3. As long life is the Godly mans longer Seed-time for Eternity. He hath the larger opportunity of Good, Prov. 16. 31. To advance Gods glory to advantage his own ſpiritual and eternal good; To promote the heavenly wel-fare of Gods people, or of neereſt Relations: There being (i) no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wiſdom in the grave 4 As long life affords a larger opportunity (k) of furthering and beholding the publike good and proſperity of the Church of God. Paul upon this account (l) was contented to live longer upon Earth: Though, in regard of his own peculiar perſonal Happineſs, he deſired to be diſſolved and be with Chriſt, which was far beſt of all.

6. Gods building David an Houſe, making it powerful and proſperous, eſpecially by raiſing up his Seed to ſit upon his Throne for ever. This is a grand and eminent Promiſe, much inſiſted upon by God in this Covenant. When David had it in his heart to build God an Houſe, God returned him this Covenant-Promiſe; (n) Alſo the LORD telleth thee, that he will make thee an Houſe. Which elſewhere is thus expreſſed (o) furthermore I tell thee, that the LORD will build thee an Houſe. As if God had ſaid, David wilt thou build me an Houſe? Nay rather, I will build thee an Houſe. If God that built the world, that (p) built all things, will build David an Houſe; then Davids Houſe ſhall be built Moſt 1. Skilfully, 2. Magnificently, 3. Strongly, 4. Durably. But if God build it not, All other building is to little purpoſe, (q) except the LORD build an houſe, they labour in vain that build it. Gods building of David an Houſe, did primarily imply Gods raiſing up of Davids ſeed from his own loyns to ſit upon his Throne and ſucced in his Kindom for ever. Poſterity are the Pillars of the Houſe or Family, when they fail the Houſe is ruined puld down and deſtroyed. By theſe the Glory Proſperity Power and Dominion of Davids Houſe was increaſed and continued. Therefore after God had Promiſed To build David an Houſe, he preſently by way of exegetical explanation adds; (r) *And it ſhall come to paſs, when thy days be expired, that thou muſt go to be with thy fathers, that I will raiſe up thy Seed after thee, which ſhall be of thy ſons, and I will eſtabliſh his Kingdom. ſtabliſh his Throne for ever. And elſewhere; (r) The LORD hath ſworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it. Of the fruit of thy body will I ſet upon thy Throne. And in another explanation of this Covenant; (t) I have made a Covenant with my choſen, I have ſworn unto David my ſervant: Thy Seed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy Throne all Generations. Selah. This building up of Davids Houſe, by Raiſing up unto David a Succeſſive Seed that ſhould ſit upon his Throne for ever, was an high and excellent mercy. Princes that dye childleſs know what a bleſſing poſterity is. Among the Romane Emperours, (as (u) Pet. Martyr notes) from Julius Cæſar to Antoninus none of them (except Veſpaſian) could leave a ſon behind them ſucceeding in the Empire. The Turk hath detained the Empire in one family above 250 years; but by Force, Violence, Tyranny, Patricide, Fratricide, &c. Yea in the Kingdom of Iſrael, the Kings over the ten Tribes were choſen from other, and other Tribes continued not in a Line of Natural ſucceſſion; their Houſe was not firmly built, nor their Throne eſtabliſhed. But here God aſſures David of a Natural lineal Succeſſion for ever.

This Covenanted bleſſing was Accompliſhed, 1. More Immediately and leſs principally, in Davids Ordinary Natural Seed. For, his Natural poſterity did in lawful Government ſit upon his Kingly Throne till the Babyloniſh Captivity, which was about 430. years: And afterwards the Jews had Princely Governors of Davids line, or at leaſt rightful heirs of the Govenment till Chriſt was born. 2. More Mediately and Principally this is fulfilled in Davids Extraordinary Natural Seed according to the fleſh, JESUS CHRIST; ——And this two waies. Partly, By Chriſts Propagation according to the fleſh from Davids loyns. Whence Paul ſaith; (x) Jeſus Chriſt our Lord was made of the Seed of David according to the fleſh. And Matthew ſtiles him; (y) Jeſus Chriſt the Son of David, the ſon of Abraham. And to put all out of Queſtion, (z) The Natural line of Chriſt is brought down by rule from David to the Virgin Mary, the real Mother of Chriſt: and the (a) Legal line of Chriſt is drawn down by Matthew from David to Joſeph, the ſuppoſed father of Chriſt. This was a great Honour and Favour to David to be the Grand-father of Jeſus Chriſt our Saviour. Partly, By Chriſts Royal Succeſſion of David in the throne, who (b) reigns over the Houſe of David, the Church of God, for ever and ever, of whoſe Dominion there ſhall be no end. His (c) Kingdom ſhall (as Daniel hath foretold) never be deſtroyed, nor left to other people, but it ſhall break in pieces and conſume all theſe four great Kingdoms, and it ſhall ſtand for ever. By the Glory of his Seed, and Perpetuity of this Kingdom, chiefly accompliſhed in Chriſt, David (d) in his laſt words Comforted himſelf againſt all the weakneſſes and diſcomforts of his Family, from the everlaſting Nature of his Covenant in Chriſt. Now theſe be the laſt words of David, &c. ——Let the Reader diligently obſerve Davids Laſt words. They are very Short, but Sweet: Few but Weighty. wherein wherein we may notably discover, How Gods Covenant of building David an House, chiefly intended Christ, and had its fullest accomplishment in him: Last words of Dying Saints, of Dying Prophets, use to be ponderous, Holy, Heavenly, Serious, and challenge special consideration.

Touching DAVID's LAST WORDS, Consider briefly 1. Their Nature, 2. Scope, and 3 Principal Branches. I. Their Nature. They are called, Davids last words; (e) Now these the Last words of David. viz. His last words, not touching Civils, but touching Spirituals. Or, His last words, because they contain that which David had in his Mouth to his last, and dying day. These last words are, for the General Nature of them, A Psalm: DAVID's, Last Psalm: Davids comfortable Covenant-Psalm. His Swan-like Song, Its made up of Prophecy, Doctrine, and Comfort: and therefore is a mixt Psalm: partly Prophetical, partly Doctrinal, partly Consolatory. Wherein David sweetly Comforts himself, by the Doctrine and Nature of Gods Covenant with him in Christ, which Prophetically promiseth Gods building of Davids house and Kingdom in Jesus Christ most gloriously and perpetually. II. Their Scope and Intent is; Prophetically to Promise and Declare, for Davids singular Consolation, The Righteousness, Holiness Glory Prosperity and Perpetuity of his House and Kingdom, in Jesus Christ his Seed, according to Gods Covenant; But the utter Confusion of all his Kingdom's Enemies. III. Their Principal parts to this end are; First, A Preface to this comfortable Covenant-Psalm, Describing; 1. The Instrumental cause of it David, (1) By his Natural descent; David the son of Jess said. (2) By his Royal Dignity; And the man who was raised up on high. (3) By his Divine Unction to his King-ship; The Anointed of the God of Jacob. (4) By his pleasantness and sweetness in the Psalms which he Penned and left upon record for Israel, for the Church of God; And the sweet Psalmist of Israel, said. Heb. And the pleasant one in the Psalms of Israel, said: verse 1. 2. The efficient cause, or Principal Author of it, God the Father Son and Holy Spirit, who seem to be set forth in three Expressions. (1) The Spirit of the LORD, not only inspired his heart with Matter, but also furnished his Tongue with words; The Spirit of the LORD spake by me, and his word was in my Tongue. verse 3. (2) The Father; The God of Israel said. He was Israel's primarily, By Covenant, By Profession, By worship, &c. (3) The son; The Rock of Israel spake to me, verse 3. That is the son Christ. For, (f) Israel drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them, and that Rock was CHRIST. Thus of the Preface. Secondly, The substance of this Sweet Covenant-Psalm, Prophetically Promising and delineateing Partly The Happiness of Davids House and Kingdom in Christ; Partly The Misery and Confusion of all his Kingdoms Enemies. 1. The Happiness of Davids House and Kingdom in Christ is Fœderally described and set forth many waies. As, (1) By the Righteousnes of the King that shall Rule therein; He that Ruleth over men must be just. Or, shall be just. The verb is omitted in the Hebrew: and therefore we may supply the imperfect Sentence with a word of Promise, as well as with a word of Command. If the words be taken as a Command, They impose a Duty upon David and on all his Royal posterity, To be just and righteous in their Government, that they might be fit Types of Christ: If as a word of Promise, they Prophetically disclose the (g) Righteousnes of Christ the primary Seed and son of David that should sit upon his Throne. (2) By the Holiness of him that should Rule in Davids Kingdom; Ruling in the fear of God, verse 3. These words, as a Command, require David and his Seed to Rule religiously, to make Holiness the basis of their Righteousnes; To take care of the Church and Spirituals, as well as of the Common-wealth and Civils: But, as Promise, they foretel the Holiness of Christs Dominion. Though David and his Ordinary Seed were many of them Righteous and Holy Rulers, yet both in their Holiness and Righteousnes there were many faylings: But Jesus Christ, Davids extraordinary Seed, (h) was a most Holy and Righteous Ruler in all exactness. He (i) was not only Holy and righteous in himself: but (k) is made of God to us Righteousnes Sanctification, &c. The LORD our Righteousnes. He not only commands, but makes, all his subjects to be righteous and fearers of the Lord. (3) By the Royal Glory and Prosperity of this just and Holy Ruler, Elegantly illustrated by two lively similitudes, viz. of cleerest Morning light; And he shall be as the Light of the Morning when the Sun ariseth, even a Morning without clouds. Of Grass growing and flourishing by vertue of Sun and Rain; As the tender grass springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain, verse 4. This clear morning light without clouds, Thus budding and flourishing, of Davids House and Kingdom, was not so verified and made good in David or his ordinary Posterity; His House was not so with God, In his Morning there were many clouds; To his budding and flourishing there were many stops and impediments: But it was abundantly accomplished in the Kingdom of Jesus Christ, Among the Jews, but especially among the Gentiles, in a visible or invisible manner. (4) By the Foundation of all this happiness of Davids House and Kingdom, viz. Gods Everlasting, Well-ordered and Sure Covenant with David, whereupon he abundantly supports and comforts himself in hope of Future Performance in Christ, Though the present Condition of his House came far short of these Promises: Although my House be not so with God, yet he hath made with me an Everlasting Covenant, Ordered in all things and sure: Therefore, this is all my Salvation, and all my Delight, although he make it not to grow, verse 5. Thus the Hebrew may well be translated, and so the sense is more full and clear. As if David had said; This Righteousnes, Holiness Royal Splendor and Prosperity promised to me and my Family mily are moſt ſweet and precious Mercies; but alas my houſe hitherto comes very ſhort in all theſe bleſſings, my houſe, and Kingdom are not ſo with God, they do not yet ſhine ſo clearly, not yet bud and grow ſo proſperouſly. Yet Gods Covenant with me touching all theſe and like Mercies is Sure, Ordered in all things, and everlaſting: Therefore what ever be the preſent infirm low mean afflicted cloudy Condition of my Houſe, I lay the whole ſtreſs of all my Salvation & delight upon this his Covenant and this is my great ſtay and comfort now in my old age when I am going to my grave: that according to this Covenant at laſt my Houſe ſhall be fully built and every way proſper and flouriſh in & through the promiſed Meſsiah Jeſus Chriſt that is to deſcend out of my loins according to the fleſh.

2. The Miſery and Confuſion of all his Kingdomes Enemies, thoſe ſons of Belial yokeleſs diſſolute ungodly perſons, thoſe intolerable miſchievous piercing and wounding thorns: they ſhall be thruſt away from hurting David, houſe and Kingdom, and quite Conſumed in their Place; But the ſons of Belial ſhall be All of them as thorns thruſt away, becauſe they cannot be taken with hands: but the man that ſhall touch them muſt be fenced with iron, and the ſtaff of a ſpear, and they ſhall be utterly burnt with fire in the ſame place. verſe 6, 7. wherein the enemies of his Kingdom are Deſcribed, and Threatned

(l) Deſcribed and Characterized, Partly By their yokeleſneſs, diſſoluteneſs and ungodlineſs, Sons of Belial: that will not ſubmit to the Laws of his, eſpecially of Chriſts Kingdom. Partly By their Perniciouſneſs and miſchievouſneſs, hence compared to Thorns, piercing wounding intractable thorns, that cannot be taken with hands without iron and ſtaff of a ſpear: Theſe enemies, litterally were the Ungodly and Pernicious enemies oppoſing the Kingdom of David and his ordinary Seed as Zenacherib, Nebuchadnezzar, &c. Myſtically, The ſpiritual enemies of Chriſts Kingdom, as Satan, Antichriſt, all cruel Perſecutors and all the wicked of the world. (2) Threatned, Partly To be thruſt away as Thorns: Partly, to be utterly burnt with fire in the ſame place. This was literally accompliſhed when the Enemies of Davids Kingdom were thruſt away from annoying his Kingdom and deſtroyed, as (l) God put his hook in the Noſe of Sennacherib and turned him away, yea deſtroyed 185000 of his Army about Jeruſalem; (m) deſtroyed Belſhazzar and the Babylonian Kingdom, giving it to the Perſians, &c. Spiritually this ſhall be fulfilled moſt Compleatly upon the Enemies of Chriſts Kingdom, Both in this world, when (n) Chriſt ſhall break in pieces all oppoſite Empires and Powers on Earth, the Gold, the Silver, The braſs, The iron and the clay, &c. ſhall (o) deſtroy the Great whore, The Beaſt, and Falſe Prophet, Gog, and Magog, &c. But eſpecially at the Day of judgement, when (p) the ſon of man ſhall ſend forth his Angels and they ſhall gather out of his Kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity: and ſhall caſt them into a furnace of fire. There ſhall be wayling and gnaſhing of Teeth. Then alſo he (q) ſhall ſeparate the Goats

Goats from the ſheep, and ſhall thruſt the Goats away from his preſence with that dreadful ſentence, Depart from me yee Curſed into Everlaſting fire prepared for the Devil and his Angels. —— And theſe ſhall go away into everlaſting puniſhment.

Thus, in this great promiſe of building David an Houſe, by raiſing up a Royal Seed to ſit upon his Throne for ever, God principally intended the building of Davids Houſe and Kingdom in Jeſus Chriſt for evermore, as theſe Laſt words of David rightly underſtood do notably declare, many paſſages therein being compleatly applicable to none but to Jeſus Chriſt alone.

7. Finally, The Perpetuity and Stability of Gods Covenant and Fœderal Mercy to David, This is the laſt Covenant Mercy, more ſpecially directed to David which I ſhall mention: the chief effect and accompliſhment whereof notwithſtanding was upon his Seed, eſpecially upon Chriſt. (r) My mercy will I keep for him for evermore: and my Covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him. His Seed alſo will I make for ever, and his Throne as the daies of Heaven. —— My loving kindneſs will I not utterly take from him, nor ſuffer my faithfulneſs to fail. My Covenant will I not break nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips. Once have I ſworn by mine Holineſs, that I will not lye unto David. O what variety, vehemency and Emphaticalneſs of Divine expreſſions are here, to aſcertain the Unalterableneſs and utter irrevocableneſs of Gods Covenant with David and his Seed! In which expreſſions God confirms the immovable Perpetuity of this Covenant with David, as of old he (t) had ſtabliſhed his Covenant with Abraham, by two immutable things by which it was impoſsible for God to lye, for the ſtrengthening of Davids Conſolation, viz. By his Promiſe, and By his Oath. 1. By his Promiſe, yea By his Promiſes; yea by an heap of Promiſes. Here are nine Promiſes: five whereof do evidently, and the other four conſequentially, confirm the unchangeableneſs of this Covenant, Gods ſingle word and Promiſe is unchangeably ſure: How ſure then his many Promiſes to the ſame purpoſe? If God promiſe his Covenants ſtability and perpetuity but once, theres ground enough of believing it: but if he promiſe the ſame thing often, if five times, if nine times, and all ſo pathetically, theres no place for doubting. 2. By his own ſacred Oath. Once have I ſworn by mine Holineſs, that I will not lye unto David. If yet Gods Promiſes make not the Covenant ſure enough, heres his Oath. And God having no greater to ſwear by, ſwears by himſelf, by his Holineſs, that he will not deceive David, or deal falſly with him in this Covenant. But why is it ſaid, Once have I ſworn? (u) Muis notes out of R. Ezra, that [Once] may here imply, As if God never ſware by his Holineſs but only at this time to David. But that's a groſs miſtake: (w) God elſewhere ſware by his Holineſs; Rather, Once, implies the ſufficiency, Peremptorineſs, Irrevocableneſs of Gods Oath. Once for all, immutably, irrevocably, unalterably, &c. as

This Promiſed Perpetuity of Gods Covenant with David, was made good and fulfilled: Partly, to Davids Poſterity, ſucceſſively raiſed up to ſit upon his Throne, for a long time together. Principally to Jeſus Chriſt, his primary Seed; to whom (a) the Lord God gave the Throne of his father David. And he ſhall reign over the Houſe of Jacob for ever, and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end. But remove Chriſt from Davids Houſe, where is the Eternity of his Kingdom, or of this Covenant? For Rehoboam, Davids ſecond ſucceſſor, of twelve Tribes loſt ten, retaining ſcarce one and an half. And that ſmall Remainder, how ſadly was it vexed torn and weakened with frequent wars and afflictions, till at laſt both King and People were moſt diſgracefully carried Captives to Babylon, there remaining 70 years together? Whereupon, probably Ethan laments thus; (b) Thou haſt made void the Covenant of thy ſervant (viz. of David,) Thou haſt profaned his Crown to the ground, &c. By Ezekiel alſo God thrice over threatens the overthrowing of King Zedekiah's Crown; (c) I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it ſhall be no more, until he come, whoſe right it is, and I will give it him. That is, The Kingdom of David over Judah ſhall be Eclipſed; for, after their return from Babylon it was low, mean, deſpicable aud full of Miſeries (as is clear by Ezra, Nehemiah, Eſther, the 11th of Daniel, the books of Maccabees, &c.) And it ſhall never be reſtored to its Native luſtre and glory till Jeſus Chriſt the Meſsiah come, to whom of right it belongs; He being Davids Succeſſor according to the fleſh, and conſtituted by God, the ſpiritual and eternal King of the Church.

Theſe are the Covenant-Mercies, which God on his Part promiſed, Touching David himſelf. Moſt of which are chiefly intended of Chriſt, and accompliſhed in Chriſt the true David, whoſe perſon David did Typically ſuſtain and ſhadow out in this Covenant, as in the (d) General Inferences will after appear.

(d) In this chap. Aph. 7. Inference 2.

Secondly, The Covenant-Mercies or Bleſsings more ſpecially concerning Davids SEED were chiefly theſe: viz. God Promiſed,

1. That, He would be a Father to the Seed of David, and he ſhould be his ſon. This ſweet Relation is once and again promiſed to Davids vids Seed in the vision of Nathan revealing this Covenant; (c) I will set up thy Seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels and I will establish his kindom. —— I will be his Father: and he shall be my Son How much Paternal Mercy this Relation imports from God to Davids Seed, and How much Filial Duty from Davids Seed reciprocally to God, may be easily collected from what hath been already said touching the like Fatherly Relation to David. There See.

(c) 2 Sam 7. 12,14. 1 Chr. 17. 11,13.

This Promise of Paternal Relation to Davids Seed was accomplished and fulfilled, 1. More Immediately and less principally upon Davids Ordinary Seed. As upon Solomon, David himself being witness; (f) And he said unto me, Solomon thy son he shall build my House and my Courts: for I have chosen him to be my son and I will be his Father. 2. More Mediately and Principally, upon Davids extraordinary Seed Jesus Christ. For the Apostle in his Epistle to the Hebrews testifies, that this is the more excellent name, then that of Angels, which Christ hath by inheritance obtained; (g) For unto which of the Angels said he at any time, Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee? And again I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a son? This last alledged Testimony, seems peculiarly to be taken from Gods Promise in this Covenant of this Paternal Relation both to David and to Solomon his son: both of them being counted Gods sons here, as they typically sustained the Person of Christ, who is the Son of Sons. Though the terms of this Testimony alledged seem more exactly to agree to this promise made to Davids Seed, Solomon. Besides, when the Angel Promised Christ to be born of the Virgin Mary, he said, (h) Thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and call his Name Jesus. He shall be Great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest, &c. And indeed Jesus Christ did most fully Receive all the Priviledges and Mercies of this Relation from his Father; and did most exactly return all the Duties of this Relation to his Father.

2. That, Davids Seed should build God an House. God (i) had told Israel by Moses in the wilderness, that when they should be possessed of Canaan, having rest from their enemies round about, That then there should be a place which the LORD should choose out of all their Tribes to put his name there and thither they should bring all that God Commanded them, &c. Hereupon, (k) when the LORD had given David rest round about from all his Enemies, David had it in his Heart, to build an house of Rest for the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD, and for the Foot-stool of our God, and had made ready for the building: But God said unto him, Thou shalt not build an house for my name, — Solomon thy Son he shall build my House and my Courts. — (l) He shall build me an House: and I will stablish his Throne for ever. This House was the fixed Temple at Jerusalem: Called, for the excellency and dignity of it; The Temple of the LORD, Jer. 7. 4. His Temple at Jerusalem, Psalm 68. 29. The House of the LORD, Neh. 6. 10. Now that God should choose from among all Israel only the Seed of David to build this Holy and Magnificent House to God, and assure David hereof by Covenant and Promise: this was an high Honour cast upon David and his Seed. Especially considering that this House was to be; 1. ſit on the Throne of Iſrael, as the LORD promiſed, and have built an houſe for the LORD God of Iſrael. 2. Spiritually and Anti-typically in Davids Mediate Seed Jeſus Chriſt, greater then Solomon. For he built, not the Material and Typical Temple, but the Spiritual and True Temple, the Church, (u) which is the Temple and houſe of the living God. This the Apoſtle ſhows evidently in his Epiſtle to the Hebrews ſaying; (x) Jeſus Chriſt was counted worthy of more glory then Moſes, inaſmuch as he who hath builded the Houſe, hath more Honour then the Houſe. —— And Moſes verily was faithful in all his Houſe as a ſervant, —— But Chriſt as a ſon over his own Houſe, whoſe Houſe are we if we hold faſt the Confidence and the rejoycing of the Hope firm unto the end. In which words theſe things are plain; 1. That believers are the Houſe of Chriſt, 2. That This Houſe of Chriſt is built by Chriſt: Chriſt is the chief Architect or builder of his Church, his Houſe. 3. That Chriſt hath more honour, in that he is builder of this Houſe, then Moſes himſelf, who was only a part of this Houſe a living ſtone in this building. Moſes built the Tabernacle; That was much Honour: King Solomon built the Material Temple at Jeruſalem; that was more Honour: but Jeſus Chriſt builds the Spiritual Temple, the Church of the faithful; this was moſt honour of all.

(u) Eph. 2. 20, 21, 22. 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5.
(x) Heb. 3. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

The Temple and Tabernacle were Types of the Church of God and of Particular Believers, who are therefore called the (y) Temples of God and of the Holy-Ghoſt frequently. Herein the Type and Antitype agree; 1. The Temple was a very magnificent Building, full of outward beauty and glory, eſpecially within the Temple, See 2 Chron. 3. & 4. throughout. Hence called (z) A Beautiful Houſe. And David ſaid; (a) The Houſe that is to be builded for the LORD, muſt be exceeding Magnifical, of fame and of Glory throughout all Countries. Thus, (b) the Kings daughter, the Church, is all glorious within, Her clothing is of wrought Gold. Her viſible beauty is great: her inviſible and inward glory is tranſcendent. 2. The Temple was the ſetled Houſe for (c) all Gods ſolemn and publique worſhip: There all the ſacrifices oblations and incenſe were to be offered to God, There God was ſolemnly Prayed to and Prayſed, There the word of God was preached, &c. So the Church of God is the (d) Spiritual Houſe wherein all Spiritual Sacrifices are offered unto God by his Royal Prieſthood and all the Ordinances of Chriſt publiquely managed for the perfecting of the Saints for the edifying of the body of Chriſt. 3. The Temple was the place of Gods ſpecial (e) preſence and reſidence among his people. There he dwelt, Symbollically, the Ark being a peculiar Symbol or Token of his preſence. So the Church of Chriſt and all the true members thereof, are an habitation of God by his Spirit, and of Chriſt through Faith. His Preſence, Reſidence and Abode is with them. (f) Know ye not, that ye are the Temple of God? and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (g) —— In whom all the building fitly framed, groweth unto an holy holy Temple in the Lord: In whom you also are builded together for an Habitation of God through the Spirit. (h) —— For, ye are the Temple of the living God, As God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and I will be their God and they shall be my people.

4. Hereupon the Temple of God was (i) Holy. Gods Solemn worship and presence there made it Holy. So the Church, this Spiritual Temple of God, is Holy. (k) If any man defile the Temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the Temple of God is Holy, which Temple ye are. (l) —— An holy Nation. The Church and people of God are Holy, (1) By Separation from the unholy corrupt mass of the world, 2 Cor. 6.16,17. (2) By Dedication to God and his holy service, 2 Cor. 8.5. (3) By Sanctification and inherent Holiness, 1 Cor. 6.11. 5. The Temple was made up of many sorts of choice and costly Materials, whereof some were taken from the land of Canaan, some from the Countries of the Gentiles, as from Tyre, Ophir, &c. So this Spiritual House and Temple is made up of many (m) sorts of lively stones, purchased by the invaluable price of Christs blood; Partly, taken out from among the Jews; Partly from among the Gentiles, all which are reconciled unto God in one body by the cross, and are made one household and Temple of God. 6. The Temple (n) had three principal partitions, viz. The Outward Court, for the People; The Sanctuary, for the Priests; and The Holy of Holies into which the High-Priest only entred once every year, and that not without blood of Sacrifices, so in this Spiritual Temple the Church, these are the three like Partitions, viz. The Outer Court, of the (o) visible Church; The Sanctuary, of the Church (p) invisible peculiar to the holy Priesthood, All true believers, militant here on Earth; And the Holy of Holies, (q) Heaven itself, wherein the Spirits of just men made perfect, are Triumphant in the presence of God and of the Lamb for evermore. Thus the Temple (as also the Tabernacle of old) was a Type of the Church of God, and of Believers them embers thereof.

Now, as The Temple which King Solomon built was a Type of the Church and people of God: So Solomon himself in building this material Temple was a special Type of Jesus Christ the only Master-builder of the Spiritual Temple of his Church, as hereafter in (r) The General Inferences shall further appear.

3. That, God would establish his Seed after him in his Kingdom and Throne for ever. This blessing is much insisted upon, and often promised in this Covenant and the Explanations thereof. 1. In this Covenant; (s) —I will raise up thy Seed after thee, which shall be of thy sons, and I will establish his Kingdom. He shall build me an House: and I will establish his Throne for ever. I will be his father: and he shall be my Son: and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee. (that is, I will not utterly take away the Kingdom from his House, as from Saul.) For I will settle him in mine House, and in my Kingdom for ever, and his Throne shall be eſtabliſhed for evermore. (t) —— Moreover I will eſtabliſh his Kingdom for ever: if he be conſtant, [Heb. Strong] to do my Commandments and my Judgements as at this day. 2. In the Explanations alſo of this Covenant; (u) I have made a Covenant with my choſen: I have ſworn unto David my ſervant. Thy Seed will I eſtabliſh for ever, and build up thy Throne to all Generations. Selah. (x) —— His ſeed alſo will I make to endure for ever, and his Throne as the daies of heaven. (y) —— His Seed ſhall endure for ever, and his Throne as the Sun before me. It ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever as the Moon, and as a faithful witneſs in Heaven. Selah. And elſewhere; (z) if thy children will keep my Covenant and my Teſtimony, that I ſhall teach them: their children alſo ſhall ſit upon thy Throne for evermore.

In theſe Teſtimonies note; 1. That this Bleſſing of his Seed's eſtabliſhed Throne and Kingdom for ever, is here frequently promiſed, viz. nine or ten times over: To ſhow, how certainly and fully this thing was determined of God. 2. That, theſe promiſes of this bleſſing are notably illuſtrated: Partly, from the Diſſimilitude or Diſparity of Gods dealing with King Saul that was before David. From him and his Seed the Kingdom was quite taken away: But God would not ſo take away his Mercy from David and his Seed for ever. Partly, from Similitudes of things Permanent and Perpetual: As, (1) Of Heaven itſelf. All earthly things are mutable, fading and vaniſhing: but Heaven abides ſtill the ſame. —— His Throne as the daies of Heaveen. (2) Of the Sun. —And his Throne as the Sun before me. The Sun is ſometimes beclouded, ſometimes eclipſed, every night ſets: but yet ſtill keeps his place and courſe in the Heavens: ſo though his Seeds Throne and Kingdom ſhould ſometimes be obſcured by the clouds and Eclipſes of great afflictions, and ſometimes the darkneſs thereof ſhould be ſo extream that the ſun thereof ſhould ſeem to ſet, yet ſhould it riſe again, ſhine forth again, and have ſtill a permanency notwithſtanding all ſeeming alterations. (3) Of the Moon. —— It (that is, Davids Seed, and his Throne) ſhall be eſtabliſhed for ever as the Moon, and as a faithful witneſs in Heaven. Selah. The Moon alſo is liable to be often beclouded and eclipſed, and every day ſets, and beſides this it is ſtill in a poſture of alteration waining or increaſing, it never appears to us twice together exactly with the ſame face: So though the Throne of Davids Seed ſhould be expoſed to increaſings, decreaſings and manifold alterations, yet the ſubſtance of it ſhall ſtill remain. The latter clauſe, As a faithful witneſs in Heaven, is by ſome made a fourth ſimilitude; and interpreted to be the Rain-bow, Gen. 9. 8, to 18. But by others Raſi and (a) it is referred to the Moon, or to both Sun and Moon; which though liable to the fore-mentioned alterations, yet ſhall be conſtant and faithful witneſſes of Gods Covenant with David, that as long as they ſhall endure, ſo long Davids kingdom ſhall endure in his Seed. (4) Of the day and night. This ſimilitude is added by the Prophet Jeremiah; (b) Thus ſaith the LORD

LORD, If you can break my Covenant of the Day, and my Covenant of the night; that there ſhould not be day and night in their ſeaſon: then may alſo my Covenant be broken with David my ſervant, that he ſhould not have a ſon to reign upon his Throne. 3. The Condition of all theſe Promiſes is expreſſed, which God expects from Davids Seed. viz. (c) If he be Conſtant to do my Commandments and my judgements, as at this day. And elſewhere; (d) If thy children will keep my Covenant and my Teſtimony that I ſhall teach them. This Condition is, Conſtant obedience to God, and Covenant-keeping with God.

(c) 1 Chro. 28 7.
(d) Pſal. 132. 12.

This Condition Davids Seed muſt perform to God, if they expected God ſhould perform his Promiſes unto them.

This Promiſed Mercy of the Perpetuity of Davids Seed and Kingdom, was performed, I. More Immediately and Literally to the Seed of David, from Solomon till the Babyloniſh Captivity, in the (e) Succeſſion of twenty Kings of Davids race that ſate upon his Throne in Jeruſalem. And after the Captivity in the ſucceſſion of Governors having the Principality and Supremacy of Rule, ſuch as Zerubbabel, &c. after the Kingdom was taken away. And after that, in the Supream Authority of their Great Council or Senate, As Pet. Martyr hath obſerved, (f) It is credible, that David perceived this Promiſe belonged to his poſterity, which ſhould not only have the Kingdom, but ſhould continue even till Chriſt. For it endured ſo long, Not alwaies in the Kingdom, but Partly in a Principality when the Kingdom was now taken away, Partly in the Senate. For thus it was by little and little diminiſhed even until Herod. For he wholly diſſipated and took away the Publick Council and Senatory Order. And thus the Prophecy of Jacob was accompliſhed, (g) The Scepter ſhall not depart from Judah, nor a law-giver from between his feet, till Shiloh come. So he. Its true the Sins of Davids Seed brought many Clouds and Eclipſes upon Davids houſe, as will appear in the next particular, but ſtill more or leſs God continued this promiſed Mercy to Davids Seed. II. More Mediately and Spiritually to Jeſus Chriſt, (h) of the Seed of David according to the fleſh, whoſe Spiritual and everlaſting Kingdom over the Church ſwallowed up the Earthly Kingdom of David. Of Chriſt, the Angel ſaid to the Virgin Mary his Mother; (i) The Lord God ſhall give unto him the Throne of his father David, And he ſhall reign over the Houſe of Jacob for ever, and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end.

4. Finally, That God would not utterly take away his Covenant-faithfulneſs and loving-kindneſs from his Seed, no not in caſe of their iniquity, but chaſtiſe their ſinful miſcarriages with the rod of men. God was ſo reſolved upon the perpetuity of Davids Seed and Kingdom, that he reſolved, their very ſins ſhould not diſanul his Covenant in this Particular, though they ſhould not eſcape without due chaſtiſement in Davids offending Seed. (k) I will be his father and he ſhall be my ſon: If he Commit iniquity, I will chaſten him with the rod of men, and with the ſtripes of the children of men. But my mercy ſhall not depart away away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I put away before thee. This is yet more fully expreſſed in the explanation of this Covenant; (l) If his children forſake my Law, and walk not in my judgements; if they break my ſtatutes and keep not my Commandments: Then will I viſit their tranſgreſſion with the Rod, and their iniquity with Stripes. Nevertheleſs, my loving-kindneſs will I not utterly take from him, nor ſuffer my faithfulneſs to fail. My Covenant will I not break nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips, &c. God will not break Covenant with Davids Seed; till firſt they break with him. Yea though they become unfaithful to him, yet will he remain faithful to them, for his Covenant-ſake with David: yet will he chaſtize them with the rod and ſtripes of men, for their iniquities. By [the rod of men, and ſtripes of the children of men] underſtand, Either the Inſtrumental means of Correcting them, which God will make uſe of: making Men a Rod and ſcourg to Davids Seed offending, as it often came to paſs. Or, The moderation lenity and gentleneſs of his fatherly chaſtiſements, Jer. 30. 10, 11. Iſa. 27. 7, 8, 9. & 28. 23. to the end.

In this branch of the Covenant, Note; How the iniquity of Davids Seed is, Preſuppoſed, Deſcribed, Threatned, and The threatning qualified. I. The iniquity of Davids Seed is preſuppoſed by God, as poſſible. (m) If he commit iniquity. This paſſage in Samuel ſeems peculiarly to be intended of Solomon that ſhould build Gods Houſe: but the Pſalm ſhows it is alſo to be extended indefinitely to any of Davids ſeed. (n) If his children forſake my Law. II. This iniquity is deſcribed and characterized; More Generally, by forſaking Gods Law. More Specially, 1. By not walking in Gods Judgements, viz. His Judicial Laws; 2. By breaking his ſtatutes: viz. His Ceremonial Laws; 3. By not keeping his Commandments: viz. His Moral Laws. If they ſhould tranſgreſs any ſort of Gods Laws, This would be their Iniquity in the ſight of God. III. This iniquity is Threatned to be viſited with the Rod and ſtripes of men. If Davids Seed wil ſin, even Davids Seed ſhall ſmart. Gods Covenant with them, exempts them not frem afflictions in caſe of iniquity, but rather aſſures them of afflictions to their Tranſgreſſions. This clauſe ſeems to have the Nature both of a Threatning, and of a Promiſe. Of A Threatning: In regard of ſin, in order to its deſtruction. Of a Promiſe: In regard of the Sinners, in order to Reformation and Salvation. It is a great diſcovery of Gods (o) Fatherly Affection and Fidelity to his children, that he will chaſtize them for their ſins, and not ſuffer them to Dye under theſe diſeaſes without Remedy. If ſinners ſcape without chaſtiſements, its a dangerous ſign they are Baſtards, not children. Now the Lord viſits the iniquity and tranſgreſſion of his Covenant-people with the Rod and ſtripes of chaſtiſement, for their manifold advantage. As, 1. To awaken them to a true ſenſe of their iniquities, by diſcovering and aggravating their ſins, unto them. (p) And if they be bound in fetters; and be holden in cords of affliction:

fliction; Then he sheweth them their work, and their transgressions that they have exceeded. The bitterness of affliction convinceth of the greater bitterness of Corruption the Cause thereof. Some writings may be best read at the fire, and some in the water: so the blurs of sin are best discovered in the fire and water of distresses. The furnace and fining-pot discovers how much dross is mixed with the Gold, And blots run most abroad in wet paper: so the dross and blots of sin are best discovered in the fining-pot and wet-paper of tribulation. 2. To humble them for their iniquities discovered. God aims at his peoples (q) humiliation for sin, when he visits them with Castigation upon that account. The fire melts the very stones into fluid mettal: so afflictions the most stony Heart. Manasses (r) himself, that Monster for wickedness, when the King of Assyria took him among the Thorns, and bound him with fetters, and carryed him to Babylon, and when he was in affliction; He besought the LORD his God, and humbled himself greatly. The Lord loves our tears and sorrows, rather then our sins: yea and those sorrows most, that are for sin. 3. To provoke them unto prayer and supplication to that God that visits them with Castigation, (s) If I shut up heaven that there be no Rain or if I command the locusts to drown the land, or if I send pestilence among my people: If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face, &c. So that, this God intends and expects when his people are chastised, that they come down upon their knees and cry to him for favour. Manasses himself (t) falls to praying, when God had brought him into chains; when he was in affliction he besought the LORD his God, —— and prayed unto him, & he was entreated of him. The Rod makes us find prayer: And prayer makes us finde God. This effect affliction usually hath upon Gods people, it stirs up the spirit of Prayer; (u) LORD in trouble have they visited thee, They poured out a Prayer (Heb. A secret-speech) when thy chastening was upon them. And, as the musical instrument maks the sweetest Melody when you strike the strings, and not till then: so our hearts make no such spiritual Melody to God in supplications, till he smite our heart-strings with his Castigations. David prayed most fervently, when afflictions lay upon him most heavily. As in the Spring the birds tune most sweetly, when it rains most sadly. 4. To instruct them unto repentance, and purge them from their iniquities. (x) If they be bound in fetters, and held in cords of Affliction, He openeth their ear to discipline, and Commandeth that they return from iniquity Repentance and Reformation is the grand lesson which God would have his children learn by the Rod. (y) —By this shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruit to take away his sin. David acknowledgeth; (z) Before I was afflicted I went astray: but now have I kept thy word. Ephraim thus bemoaned himself (a) Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised as a Bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: Turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the LORD my God. Surely Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was inſtructed, I ſmote upon my thigh: I was aſhamed, yea even confounded, becauſe I did bear the reproach of my youth. Afflictions are Gods Jordan, to heal our ſpiritual Leproſy. They are his fullers ſope to waſh out our ſpots and ſtains of ſin. They are his fan; to blow away our chaff. They are his fining-pot and furnace to burn up our droſs out of us. A gracious heart ſhall loſe nothing but his droſs and rubbiſh in his afflictions. 5. To preſerve them from like ſinning for time to come. Afflictions are not only Reſtaurative from ſin paſt; but alſo Preſervatives againſt ſin to come. They are like Sea-marks to warn them continually againſt ſuch miſchiefs. They are as A wall or an hedge of thorns to keep his flock from ſtraying and wandring in the by paths of iniquity: As Hoſea makes the alluſion; (b) Therefore behold, I will hedge up thy way with Thorns, and wall a wall, that ſhe ſhall not finde her paths. Afflictions are to ſin, as the Banks or Sea-walls to the Sea, Reſtraints and Preventions of their overflowing. By all this its apparent, that this clauſe in Davids Covenant of Chaſtiſing the iniquity of his Seed with the Rod and Stripes, was a Covenant-favour to David and his Seed: and deſervedly to be reckoned up among the reſt of his Covenant-mercies. Gods fatherly Rod preſerves his children from ſpiritual ruine. IV. This threatned chaſtiſement is notwithſtanding ſweetly allayed and mitigated with that ſweet Promiſe of Gods Covenant-faithfulneſs, and not taking his Mercy and loving-kindneſs utterly from his Seed in reference to the Kingdom, as he took it from Saul.

(b) Hoſ. 2. 6.

This Promiſed Bleſſing had its Accompliſhment. I. Upon Davids Ordinary Seed and poſterity: eſpecially two waies. 1. The Conditioned chaſtiſements in caſe of the iniquity of his Seed (which were threatned and Promiſed) were often actually inflicted upon his Seed for their tranſgreſſions, and ſometimes very Sadly. As, (1) Upon Solomon, (c) himſelf, for his Paganiſh Idolatries, wherewith he gratified all his ſtrange wives. Whereupon, God threatned to Rend all the Kingdom ſave one Tribe, out of his ſons hand and to give it to Jeroboam the ſervant of Solomon; Alſo God ſtirred up Adverſaries againſt Solomon, As Hadad the Edomite and Rezon the ſon of Eliadah. (2) Upon Rehoboham ſon of Solomon. For, (d) Upon his Tyrannical Anſwer to Jeroboam and Iſrael God rent ten Tribes from him, and gave them to Jeroboam. And afterwards (e) upon his forſaking of the Lord when he had ſtrengthened the Kingdom of Judah, the Lord forſook him and gave Jeruſalem ſo far into the hand of Shiſhack King Egypt, that he took away all the Treaſures of the Houſe of the LORD and of the Kings Houſe; as alſo the Shields of Gold which King Solomon had made. And the People of Judah, were Shiſhacks ſervants for a time. (3) Upon Aſa. For, (f) he relying upon the help of Benhadad King of Syria againſt Baaſha King of Iſrael, rather then upon the Lord, was thenceforth afflicted with wars. And at laſt being diſeaſed in his feet, he ſought not to the Lord but but to the Phyſicians and dyed of his diſeaſe. (4) Upon Jeh-ſhaphat. For, (g) he helping wicked Ahab who ſold himſelf to work wickedneſs, Jehu, the Seer ſaid to him; (g) ſhouldſt thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the LORD? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the LORD. And afterwards, (h) joyning himſelf with Ahaziah King of Iſrael who did very wickedly to make ſhips to go to Tarſhiſh; The LORD broke his ſhips that they were not able to go thither. (5) Upon Jehoram ſon of Jehoſhaphat. For, he ſlew his brethren with the ſword, and walked in the waies of Ahab, having his daughter to wife; (i) Therefore God ſtirred up the Philiſtines and Arabians that they brake into the Kings houſe, and carryed away his wives, ſons and all his ſubſtance. And at laſt God ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe, and after two years his bowels fell out, ſo he dyed of ſore diſeaſes. (6) Upon Ahaziah ſon of Jehoram King of Judah. For, He (k) walking in the wicked waies of the Houſe of Ahab after his Mothers Counſel, and joyning in war with Jehoram ſon of Ahab againſt Hazael King of Syria; was ſlain by Jehu, as he was executing judgement upon the Houſe of Ahab. (7) Upon Joaſh ſon of Ahaziah. For, (l) when Jehoiadah the godly Prieſt his guardian, was dead, He with Judah and Jeruſalem forſook the Lord, and ſerved groves and idols: and ſtoned Zechariah ſon of Jehoiada for reproving their wickedneſs. Therefore the Syrians came with a ſmall company, and deſtroyed a very great hoſt, and all the Princes of the people, and ſent their ſpoil to Damaſcus, and left Joaſh in great diſeaſes who afterwards was ſlain in his bed by his own ſervants, for the blood of Zechariah. (8) Upon Amaziah ſon of Joaſh: For, (m) He having Conquered the Edomites, ſet up their Idols to be his Gods, and threatned to ſmite the Prophet that reproved him. God gave him and his Army into the hand of Joaſh King of Iſrael and his Army, who brake down 400 Cubits of the wall of Jeruſalem, Took all the Gold and Silver, and all the veſſels in the Houſe of God with Obed Edom, and the treaſures of the Kings Houſe. (9) Upon Uzziah ſon of Amaziah. For, (n) when he was ſtrong, his heart was ſtrong, his heart was lifted up to his Deſtruction. He invaded the Prieſts office, and went into the Temple to burn Incenſe: therefore the Lord preſently ſmote him with Leproſy, ſo that he was cut off from the Houſe of the Lord, remaining a Leper till the day of his Death. (10) Upon Ahaz. For, (o) He was very wicked: ſerved Baalim, burnt Incenſe in the valley of the ſon of Himnom, burnt his children in the fire after the Heatheniſh abominations, Sacrificed and burnt Incenſe in High-places on Hills and under every green Tree. Therefore God delivered him and his people into the hands of the King of Syria, and of the King of Iſrael, So that in one day Pekah ſlew 120000 valiant men, and Iſrael carryed away Captive, women ſons and daughters 200000, beſides all the Spoil. The Edomites alſo and the Philiſtines brought Judah low for their ſins. And yet this Ahaz in the day of his distress trespassed more against the Lord. (11) Upon Hezekiah. For, (p) After his Recovery from his Mortal sickness, His heart was lifted up, and he rendered not again unto the Lord according to the benefit done unto him: therefore there was wrath upon Judah and Jerusalem, (12) Upon Manasseh son of Hezekiah. For, (q) he was a Monster for all manner of idolatry and wickedness. Wherefore the LORD brought upon them the Captains of the hoast of the King of Assyria, which took Manasseh among the thorns, and bound him with fetters and carryed him to Babylon. (13) Upon Josiah. For, He (r) fighting with Pharaoh Necho in the valley of Megiddo, contrary to the words of Necho from the mouth of God, was slain by the Archers, to the extream grief of all Iudah and Ierusalem. And (s) for a season the Kingdom of Iudah was in some thraldom under Necho. (14) Upon Iehoiakim. He (t) wrought evil in the sight of the Lord. Therefore Nebuchadnezzar came up, bound him in fetters, carryed him to Babylon with vessels of the House of the Lord. (15) Upon Iehoiakim. He did that which was evil also in the sight of the Lord. So that Nebuchadnezzar sent and brought him to Babylon with the goodly vessels of the House of the Lord, and made his brother Zedekiah King over Iudah, &c. (16) Upon Zedekiah. For, (x) he did evil in the sight of the Lord, humbled not himself before Jeremiah the Prophet speaking from the mouth of the LORD, Brake his Oath and Covenant with Nebuchadnezzar, The Priests and People grew notoriously wicked, defiled the Temple, and despised all Gods Messages for their Reformation. Therefore God sent upon them the King of the Caldees who destroyed Temple, City and People, Carrying the residue of them shamefully Captives into Babylon, where they remained seventy years together as people buried in their Graves. Thus God visited the iniquity of Davids Seed with the Rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men. And so the clause of the Covenant touching their Castigation for their transgressions was abundantly performed. 2. The promised Qualification and Mitigation of this Chastisement was also accomplished as truly: In that God, in midst of all his judgements upon them for their sins, yet still reserved the Kingdom of Iudah to Davids Seed, and raised him up a Seed as a Lamp or a Light to sit upon the Throne in Jerusalem, as the (y) story divers times observes, and the Series thereof doth plainly evidence. Yea and under and after the Captivity (z) till the coming of Christ God raised up Governors and Rulers of Davids race over Iudah and Jerusalem, either Single Persons, as Zerubbabel, &c. Or Societies as the Synedrion (wherein they of the Tribe of Iudah had greatest share) in which was the supream power more or less till the Destruction of Ierusalem after Jesus Christ, or at least till Christs Incarnation. Thus, the Scepter did not depart from Judah, nor a Law-giver from between his feet, till Shiloh came; till Jesus Christ the Prosperour or Saviour, of Iudah's Race, came. This point is well cleared by divers of our Modern Writers

Writers, to the diligent peruſal of whoſe elaborate determinations therein I refer the learned Reader, for brevity ſake; viz. Andr. Rivet. in Geneſ. 49. Excercitat. 178. and 179. And after him, Frider. Spanhem. in Dub. Evangel. Part. 2. Dub. xviii. And after them both, The late large Lond. Annot. on Geneſ. 49. 10. Who (although they have ſome difference in their Explanations of this point, yet) give great light thereunto.

Thus this Promiſed mercy had its accompliſhment upon Davids ordinary Seed. II. Upon Davids Extraordinary Seed, Jeſus CHRIST, it was accompliſhed alſo two waies, viz. 1. The Chaſtiſement threatned in caſe of the iniquity of Davids Seed, was deeply inflicted upon Jeſus Chriſt. For (b) He bore our ſins upon his own body on the Tree; (c) He was made ſin for us, who knew no ſin; (d) God laid upon him, (or made meet on him) the iniquities of us all, Even of all the Elect from the beginning to the end of the world. So that, by imputation, Jeſus Chriſt became one of the greateſt ſinners that ever was in the world. Hereupon Conſequently God viſited our iniquities upon him with the Rod and ſtripes of men: (e) He was wounded for our tranſgreſsions; he was bruiſed for our iniquities, the chaſtiſement of our Peace was upon him, and by his ſtripes we are healed, &c. He was chaſtiſed for our ſins: that had none of his own to be chaſtiſed for. Whence Auguſtin pathetically; (f) O wonderful condition of the Cenſure! O ineffable diſpoſal of the Myſterie! The unjuſt ſins, and the juſt is puniſhed: the guilty doth the fault, and the guiltleſs is beaten: the impious offends, and the pious is condemned: what the evil deſerves, the good endures: what the ſervat perpetrates, the Maſter paies: what man commits, God undergoes, &c. 2. The Qualification alſo of this threatning was made good upon Chriſt. For in his deepeſt ſufferings and humiliation God did not take away his mercy and loving-kindneſs from him, nor ſuffer his faithfulneſs to fail. God did not forſake him, though upon the Croſs, when he ſeemed moſt to forſake him; For, Then God was (g) his God & Father, Then by divine power (h) he converted the thief moſt miraculouſly; Then (i) he commended his ſpirit into his Fathers hands, & that day went to Paradiſe: Then (k) heaven and earth did homage to him, The Sun withdrawing his light, The veil of the Temple tearing, The earth-quaking, The Rocks rending, The Graves opening, The Dead riſing. Yea when he was in Grave, in his loweſt degree of humiliation; (l) God did not leave his Soul in Hell, nor ſuffer his holy one to ſee corruption, but ſhewed him the path of life, and after ſet him at his own right hand, to reign for ever and for ever.

Theſe are the Covenant-Mercies promiſed more ſpecially to Davids Seed, having their Primary accompliſhment in Jeſus Chriſt his Primary Seed.

Seed, were especially these; viz. Gods Habitation in Sion for ever. 2. Their Peaceable and Secure establishment in Canaan. 3. Their singular Prosperity both in Temporals and Spirituals. The second flows from the first, as a proper fruit and effect thereof: The third results from both the former, as a Consequent thereof: So The first is the Root and foundation of them all.

1. Gods Habitation in Sion for ever. This is plain in that Exposition of Gods Covenant with David; (m) If thy children will keep my Covenant and my Testimony, that I shall teach them, their children also shall sit upon thy throne for evermore. For the LORD hath chosen Sion: he hath desired it for his habitation. This is my Rest for ever: Here will I dwell, for I have desired it. This Promise is very Emphatical: and yet sufficiently obscure. For the clearing whereof, these Particulars are a little to be explained. viz. 1. The connexion of this Promise with that before? 2. What place is intended by Zion? 3. How God did dwell in Sion? 4. Why God would dwell there? 5. In what sense God said of Sion, This is my Rest for ever, having long since removed his Resting place and Habitation thence, for the sins of the Jews?

(m) Psa. 132. 11, 12, 13, 14.

(1) The Connexion of this Promise with the Promise foregoing, is in the word כי Ci, (n) For; or Because. So that in this Promise God gives a Reason of the perpetuity of Davids Throne and Kingdom to his seed: Because God himself had chosen Zion for his own perpetual Rest, where he would cloth his Priests with Salvation. Upon which Calvin hath a good note; (o) This Connexion (saith he) is to be noted: because the stability of that Kingdom was no where else to be sought but in Christ: but the Kingdom of Christ is inseparable from his Priesthood. Hence we see why he mentions Zion chosen: because God ordains nothing touching the Kingdom separately, but brings in the Sanctuary also, that it might be a true image of the Mediator that was to come, who after the Order of Melchizedek, was not only a King, but also a Priest. Whence, the state of the Kingdom and Tabernacle were individed. So He.

(2) The place here intended by Zion, was; 1. Literally that double-topped-Hill in Ierusalem, whereof, the one Top was called, Sion; the other Moriah, (p) whereon Solomon built the Temple, whereon also (q) Abraham had of old offered up Isaac in a figure. Of Sion it cannot precisely be understood, the Holy place of the Habitacles of the most High, being built, not upon Sion, but upon Mount Moriah: (r) The City of David the Royal Seat being built on Mount Sion, which was on the North-side of Moriah. Therefore under the term Sion we must understand Moriah also; as (s) Muis hath here well observed. 2. Mystically and Spiritually, The Church of God, Typified and notably shadowed out by Mount Sion, and the Temple there. To this effect, the Church of God is often in the Prophets called Sion. Thus that prophecy of Christ must be understood; (t) yet have I set my King upon mine Holy Hill of Zion; that is, in the Church. And in the New Testament Mount Sion is put for the

the Church also; (u) But ye are come unto Mount Sion, &c. (x) And I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the Mount Sion, and with him 144000. having his Fathers name written on their foreheads.

(3) In Sion God did Promise to dwell in a Peculiar sort, so as he would dwell no where else. The LORD loved the gates of Sion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob, Psal. 87. 1, 2. and 76. 1, 2. For clearing this note, That Gods Presence and Habitation is, I. General, every where. Psal. 139. 7. &c 1. By Immensity of his Essence, Jer. 23. 24. 2. By Extent of his Power and Dominion, Iob 42. 21. Psal. 135. 6. 3. By Efficacy of his Providence, Jer. 23. 24. Acts 17. 28. II. Special, in some special places. So God is and dwells, 1. Gloriously in Heaven, Mat. 6. 9. 2. Graciously in Sion, in his Church. And this (1) By peculiarity of his fatherly Providence, Isa. 63. 9. (2) By visible Symbols signs or Tokens of his Presence. As, by his fiery and cloudy Pillar, Tabernacle and Ark he dwelt in his Church in the wilderness: By his Temple and Ark and other Levitical Ordinances he dwelt on Mount Sion, on Mount Moriah at Ierusalem, and in his Jewish Church: And By his New-Testament-Ordinances he dwels now in all the Churches of the Gentiles, which are the Spiritual Sion. (3) By inhabitation of his Spirit and efficacy of his Grace. So he dwelt and dwells in the true Invisible Church among both Jews and Gentiles, and in the hearts of all true believers, 1 Cor. 3. 16, 17. Eph. 2. ult and 3. 17. 3. Wrathfully, By acts of wrath, justice and indignation God dwells even in midst of his enemies, Psal. 110. 2.

So that God Promised to dwell in the Literal and Spiritual Sion the Church Graciously, all those fore-mentioned wayes. And this was a very High and Eminent Mercy. For, where God pitcheth such his Special and Gracious Habitation, there these sweet Priviledges attend and ensue upon his Presence and Residence. viz. 1. Enjoyment of the Special Tokens of his Presence and Residence. While God dwelt in midst of Israel, they still had the Signs and Tokens of his inhabitation continued to them; As, His Pillar of Cloud and Fire, His Tabernacle, Ark of His presence, Temple, &c. And while God dwells in any Church, he continues his (y) Oracles and Ordinances as signs of his Presence there. Now such tokens of his Presence are great Priviledges. 2. Mutual nearness betwixt God and that people. They that dwell together are near to one another. God is near to them, and not afar off, Deut 4. 7. And they are a people near to God; Psal. 148. 14. They (z) who sometimes were afar off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ. 3. Peculiar Manifestation of God and Christ to them, so as not to the world, Joh. 14. 21, 22, 23. They that dwell together, are more intimately and familiarly acquainted one with another. 4. Reciprocal Love and dearness betwixt God and them, Christ and them. (a) He that loveth me (said Christ) shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest

Exod. 21. 6. with Levit. 25. 13, 28, 40, 41. In this later ſenſe we muſt needs underſtand this phraſe here, though Sion ſhould have been Gods Reſt till the worlds End: for then at leaſt it ſhould have determined. But it was determined ſooner: Even at the great Jubile of Jubile's when Chriſt came, and (g) the worſhip of God ſhould no more be affixed to any particular place, but be managed any where purely and ſpiritually. II. The Bleſsings of this Covenant were Promiſed, (h) Some of them Abſolutely; As (h) the Raiſing up of Chriſt of the Seed of David, And the Perpetuity of his Kingdom, &c. which, notwithſtanding all intervening failings in David himſelf or in his poſterity, were exactly in their ſeaſon performed. (i) Some of them Conditionally; As (i) A Suceſſion of Rulers in Iſrael of Davids Race continually, upon Condition of their Obedience, Covenant-keeping, &c. (k) Gods preſence and reſidence in the Temple for ever, upon the ſame Condition. And therefore he afterwards adds; (l) But if ye turn away and forſake my Statutes and my Commandments which I have ſet before you, and ſhall go and ſerve other Gods and worſhip them: Then will I pluck them up by the Roots out of my Land which I have given them: And this Houſe which I have ſanctified for my Name, will I caſt out of my ſight, and will make it to be a Proverb and a by-word amongſt all Nations. And this houſe which is high, ſhall be an aſtoniſhment to every one that paſſeth by it; ſo that he ſhall ſay, why hath the LORD done thus unto this Land, and unto this Houſe? And it ſhall be anſwered, Becauſe they forſook the LORD God of their Fathers, which brought them forth out of the Land of Egypt, and laid hold on other Gods, and worſhipped them, and ſerved them therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them. So that Iſrael failing in the condition of this Promiſe, The promiſed bleſſing failed, God removed his preſence from them: and yet his promiſe was fully performed. III. The ſins which provoked God to forſake his Habitation, to take away his Preſence and the tokens of his Preſence from his people the Jews, and ſo conſequently from any other people, are eſpecially theſe; 1. Anſw. True; But here (ſaith Kimchi) God promiſeth more plentiful influences of Heaven, and more ample bleſſings, both in regard of the fruitfulneſs of the fields and firmneſs of the Kingdom, then formerly. So that the words are to be taken comparatively: not abſolutely. Beſides, till Davids daies Canaan was not in the compleat poſſeſſion of Iſrael; for till then the Jebuſites poſſeſſed the Fort or Caſtle of of Sion, (o) which David took, and called it the City of David: but afterwards they ſhould have the compleat poſſeſſion of it. 2. To plant Iſrael, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and move no more. This Metaphor of planting them, imports their firm and ſecure ſettlement in Canaan. (p) What is planted (ſaith P. Martyr) is not eaſily plucked up by the Roots. This planting was alſo (q) formerly promiſed by Moſes. Trees planted dwell in their own place, and are not ſoon moved thence: they alone poſſeſs the ground wherein they are planted, other trees grow not on their roots: Iſrael in Egypt (r) were in a ſtrange Land, none of their own; and in the wilderneſs they were in their pilgrimage, not in their heritage; and in Canaan it ſelf they were ſcarce yet throughly rooted, being often diſturbed with many ſorts of Enemies: but they ſhould now take deeper roots, and move no more. Object. But how did they move no more, when after this the ten Tribes were carried away Captive into Aſſyria, and the Tribes of Judah and Benjamin were oft-times grievouſly ſhaken by ſundry enemies, and at laſt ſhamefully carried Captive into Babylon for 70. years together? Anſw. Two things may be replyed to this Objection. viz. (t) This phraſe (of their moving no more) may be taken Conditionally. They ſhould move no more out of Canaan, upon Condition they kept Gods Covenant, obeyed his Commandments, and avoided God-provoking ſins, in Canaan: Temporal mercies are ſtill promiſed upon ſuch Conditions, expreſſed or implyed: As 1 Sam. 2. 30. Ier. 10. 9, 10. They therefore performing the Conditions of this Promiſe, were not removed out of their Land, as in the daies of their godly Kings, Aſa, Jehoſaphat, Hezekiah, Ioſiah, &c. is evident. But when they failed in theſe Conditions, themſelves evacuated and voided the Promiſes of God, and were removed out of their Land, yea (f) plucked up by the Roots, as God had threatned, the ten Tribes being carried away captive into Aſſyria, and Iudah afterwards carried away into Babylon. (z) The phraſe being taken Abſolutely and ſimply, as without Condition, ſo this Promiſe was fulfilled; Literally, in the Daies of David and Solomon, the two chief Royal Types of Chriſt; For, in their Daies Iſrael moved no more out of Canaan their inheritance: Myſtically, This Promiſe had and hath its chief accompliſhment in the everlaſting Kingdom of Jeſus Chriſt, (t) who ſhall raign upon the Throne of his father David over the Houſe of Jacob for ever, and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end, it ſhall never be deſtroyed, removed or ſhaken. Whereupon the Apoſtle ſtiles it, βασιλειαν ἀσαλευτον, (u) An unſhaken Kingdom, An unmoved Kingdom. The word properly ſignifies, A freedom from ſuch motion as is in the Sea. The Sea is reſtleſs, alwaies in motion, by ebbings and flowings, or by ſtormy winds and Tempeſts. But Chriſts Kingdom ſhall never be moved from within it ſelf, or from without it ſelf: (x) till Chriſt, having deſtroyed all his enemies, and put down all Rule, and all Authority and power, ſhall ſurrender up his Mediatory Kingdom to the Father, not in regard of the Subſtance, but the Circumſtance and Manner of the Adminiſtration thereof, that God may be all in all. 3. Finally, (y) That the children of wickedneſs ſhould not afflict them (or waſte them) any more, as before-time, (or from the beginning) and as ſince the time of the Judges. By [children of wickedneſs] underſtand the Paganiſh Idolaters and Perſecutors, who lived without God in the world, in all wickedneſs, as Egyptians, Idumeans, Philiſtines, Amalekites, &c. Theſe ſhould no more afflict and waſte them in their Perſons and States, as formerly from the beginning. viz. As Egyptians afflicted them in Egypt, As the Amalekites, Edomites, Amorites, Moabites, &c. afflicted them in their journey towards Canaan, As the Canaanites, Philiſtines, and other enemies waſted them in time of the Judges, and under the reign of King Saul. God had now given reſt to David from all his enemies, and in Compariſon of former times, his ſubjects Iſrael ſhould not be under any more ſuch afflictions. Iſrael henceforth ſhould have his Quietus eſt, &c. This Promiſe muſt be underſtood, (1) Not Simply but Comparatively. In Compariſon of former afflictions by the wicked, they ſhould not afterwards be afflicted by them. (2) Not Abſolutely, but Conditionally: upon Condition of Iſraels keeping Covenant with God. Otherwiſe, God would chaſtiſe them with the rods of men, as afterwards upon the ſins of Kings and people it fell out, as I have already abundantly manifeſted. In all temporal Promiſes God ſtill reſerves this latitude to himſelf, to ſhorten or remove promiſed Mercies, and to chaſtiſe his people with Contrary judgements in caſe of their miſcarriages.

3. Where God ſaid of Sion; (z) I will abundantly bleſs her Proviſion: I will ſatisfie her poor with bread. By Proviſion and Bread, underſtand a confluence of all neceſſary Temporals good for Sion. She ſhould have them not only with Gods leave, but with his love; not only by his permiſſion, but by his benediction; ſhe ſhall have Proviſion: God will bleſs her Proviſion: God will bleſs her abundantly. This is one happy fruit and effect of Gods Habitation in Sion. (a) Godlineſs hath the Promiſe of the life that now is. Yea the Poor in Sion, the meaneſt members of the Church have part in this Promiſe: God will ſufficiently provide for them, and their comfortable ſubſiſtence, he will ſatisfie her poor with bread. This is a ſweet promiſe, for Sion's poor to Reſt upon. II. Iſraels proſperity in Spirituals. In the ſame Explanation of this Covenant God Promiſed, (b) I will alſo cloth her Prieſts with Salvation: and her Saints ſhall ſhout aloud for joy. The Bleſſings here Promiſed, are alſo mentioned by Solomon in his Prayer at the Dedication of the Temple; (c) Now therefore ariſe O LORD God

God into thy Resting place, Thou and the Ark of thy Strength: Let thy Priests O LORD God, be cloathed with Salvation, and let thy Saints rejoyce in Goodness. In this Promise are Mercies, 1. More Peculiar to the Priests. I will cloath her Priests with Salvation. In the former Pecitory part of this Psalm the words are (d) Let thy Priests be cloathed with Righteousness: and let thy gracious Saints shout aloud. Interpreters here somewhat differ about the sense. By [Salvation] here (e) Calvin understands only Gods Protection, under which Gods Priests should be safe and happy. And by [righteousness] Gods Righteousness: that is, the fruit of Gods righteousness, in defending protecting and taking care of his Priests. (f) Him. de Mais interprets this [their Cloathing with Salvation] of Gods open and visible help and Salvation to Sions Priests, as evident to all as the Garments wherewhith they are cloathed. Or rather as if God had said; I will wholly encompass Sions Priests with salvation, as with a garment, and I will never forsake them. But in the former verse he understands by Righteousness The Priests constant righteousness, as evident to all, as their very Garments wherewith they were cloathed. (g) Lavater thinks here is an Allusion to the Priests Garments which shadowed out many vertues, that they should be evidently cloathed and adorned with true virtues and holiness of life. But none of these satisfie: nor (in my judgement) do they fully reach the sense and intent of the holy Ghost herein. The phrase [of cloathing Sion's Priests with Salvation] is comprehensive and seems to me to import these three things viz. (1) The safe Conservation and Continuation of the Publique Ministery in Sion. Her Priests should not be destroyed, nor driven into corners: but Sion should still see her teachers before her eyes. (2) The eminent decking and adorning of Sions Priests with the Spiritual Ornaments of Righteousness and Salvation which should be as visible and evident in their Functions and Conversations: as their Priestly robes (types of such spiritual ornaments) were eminent and visible in their Ministrations. (3) The efficacy and prevalent success of the Ministry of Sions Priests, upon the people for Salvation and righteousness: Their Ministration should be salvifical to the Church and people, full of saving efficacy. The word Salvation is in Scripture used in such latitude and variety of acceptations, as it may easily comprize all this. And the Sense of words or phrases in Scripture are not to be restrained without just and apparent necessity. That learned and judicious writer (h) Mr. John Ball expounds them much to this effect. 2. More

(h) That the Priests should be cloathed with Salvation, &c. that is, The Ministration of the Priests should be profitable and saving to the people, which should be an ornament to them, as a Garment of Honour: and the people should sing cheerfully. The Salvation of the person only is not here meant, but the Conservation of the Ministery. As if it should be said. I will cause that the Ministery of the Priests be safe, that it shall not be troubled with ungodly men, nor defiled with the filth of Errour: and that it shall be effectual in the minds of the godly, and many by the blessing of this Ministry may obtain eternal Happiness. It may also be applyed to the private Salvation of the Priests, because they should be defended and protected from above, and adorned with blessings of all Kinds. *Mr. John Ball in his Treat. of the Covenant. Common to all the Holy people and Saints in Zion. And her Saints shall shout aloud for joy, Psal. 132. 16. This Eminent joy of Sions Saints, seem to have reference, To the Lords peculiar affection to, and Habitation in Sion, To Gods blessing of Sion, with a Confluence of outward accomplishments, And to his clothing of Sions Priests with Salvation: These fore-promised Mercies shall be singular Matter of Sion's Saints rejoycing, yea of their triumphant shouting for Gladness, Psal. 132. 13, 14, 15, 16. For what greater cause can there be of rejoycing to Gods Saints, Then to enjoy their God resident in the midst of them, and with God a confluence of Temporal and Spiritual blessings in his saving Ordinances?

These now are the Covenant-Blessings or Mercies which on Gods part, were promised to King David and his Seed in this Covenant.

Section II.

II. The Covenant-Duties Conditioned, Required and Re-stipulated on the part of David and his Seed in this Covenant, may be reduced chiefly to these two heads, viz. 1. Their Keeping Gods Covenant and Testimony, walking in his Commandments, Statutes and Judgements. 2. Their being Just in their Kingdom, Ruling in the fear of God. That they were to perform, as Good men: This, as Good Kings and Rulers over men. That, was Common to them with all Israel. This, was Peculiar to the House of David in Israel.

I. Their Keeping of Gods Covenant and Testimony, &c. As God would keep Covenant with David and his Seed: So they must keep Covenant with him. He will not be Fœderally bound, and they set at liberty. As he performs Covenant-Mercy: So they must perform Covenant-Duty. This Condition on their part is notably expressed in divers Recitals and Expositions of this Covenant. As; (i) The LORD hath sworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it; of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy Throne. If thy children will keep my Covenant and my Testimony that I shall teach them: their children also shall sit upon thy Throne for evermore. But contrariwise he adds elsewhere; (k) If his children forsake my Law, and walk not in my judgements; If they break (Heb. profane) my Statutes, and keep not my Commandments: Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes. Nevertheless my loving-kindness will I not utterly take from him: nor suffer my faithfulness to fail, &c. Here's Gods Law, as the Genus or General; and in his Judgements, Statutes, and Commandments, viz. Judicial, Ceremonial and Moral Laws, as the Species, or Specials: The breach or violation of any of these by Davids Seed is Threatned to be visited with Gods Rod and Stripes, Consequently the Observance of them all is required from them. And David, having reference to this Covenant, particularly ly applies this Condition to his Son Solomon, in his speech to the solemn Assembly of Israel: (l) And he said unto me, Solomon thy son, he shall build my House and my Courts: for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be his Father. Moreover I will establish his Kingdom for ever, if he be constant (Heb. strong) to do my Commandments and my Judgements, as at this day. And hereupon (m) David presently applies this by way of Exhortation; First to all Israel, inciting them To keep and seek for all the Commandments of the LORD their God, that they might possess Canaan and leave it for an inheritance to their children for ever: Then to his son Solomon, injoyning him, To know the God of his Father, to seek him, and to serve him with a perfect heart and a willing minde, That thus, both Davids Seed, and the Subjects of David and his Seed, might perform the Conditions of this Covenant with God.

From all these passages, we may thus determine and conclude touching the Covenant-Duties and Conditions imposed upon David and his Seed: viz.

More Generally, That the Covenant-Duties and Conditions required of David and his Seed in this Covenant, are the same with those imposed upon Israel and their Posterity in the Sinai Covenant. For, 1. God, in imposing these Conditions upon David and his Seed, plainly hath reference to the Duties of the Sinai-Covenant; As the (n) phrases of keeping his Covenant and Testimony, Of Doing his Commandments and his Iugements, viz. his Iudicial Ceremonial and Moral Laws (the body of the Sinai-Covenant,) do abundantly evidence. 2. This Covenant with David did not void or annul the Sinai-Covenant or the Duties thereof: it continued in force till the death of Jesus Christ, when it had its general accomplishment. David therefore and all his Seed remained still under the Obligation and duties of the Old Testament or Sinai Covenant. This Covenant with David was not Destructive, but Cumulative, to that with Israel. Look (o) back therefore upon the Covenant-Duties of the Sinai-Covenant, and the explications of them: and there you shall also, as in a glass, behold the Covenant-Duties of this Covenant at large unfolded.

These Covenant-Relations have in them both a Dignity from God, and a Duty to God. The (p) Duties thereof have been formerly laid open, both in this, and in the Sinai Covenant. How can any persons keep Gods Covenant faithfully and acceptably, till themselves first become Gods Covenant-people effectually? They must first have Covenant-principles and abilities: before they can truly put forth those Abilities in Covenant-performances.

3. Their keeping Covenant by true Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, the great Mercy and Myſterie promiſed both in this, and the Sinai-Covenant. That Chriſt was revealed, and Faith in Chriſt required and conditioned, in the Sinai-Covenant, I (q) have abundantly proved. That Jeſus Chriſt was alſo revealed and chiefly intended in this Covenant, I have in this Chapter evinced. Compare alſo, Luke 1. 31, 32, 33, Acts 2. 29, 30, 31, &c. Heb. 1. 5. with the tenour of this Covenant. Therefore true Faith in this Chriſt, is neceſſary to the keeping of this Covenant: For, 1. Without true Faith Chriſt herein revealed could not be apprehended by David or his Seed. 2. And without true Faith, neither their perſons nor performances could be accepted. For, (r) without Faith it is impoſſible to pleaſe God.

God himſelf, confirms the ſame in his anſwer then returned to King Solomons Prayer; (u) And the LORD ſaid unto him, I have heard thy Prayer and thy ſupplication that thou haſt made before me: —— And if thou wilt walk before me as David thy Father walked, in integrity of heart and in uprightneſs, to do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my ſtatutes and my judgements: Then I will eſtabliſh the Throne of thy Kingdom upon Iſrael for ever, as I promiſed to David thy Father, ſaying, There ſhall not fail thee a man upon the Throne of Iſrael. &c.

These

These were the Covenant-Duties and Conditions imposed here upon David and his Seed, which did in Common belong to Davids House and to all the house of Israel. The Covenant-Duties, more peculiar and appropriate to David and his House follow.

II. Their being just in their Dominion and royal Government, Ruling also piously and religiously. This is laid down notably in Davids last words, (y) He that Ruleth over men must be just, Ruling in the Fear of God, In the Hebrew phrase (which studies brevity) the sentence is imperfect, some word or words being omitted which should perfect the sence. The words are exactly thus to be translated; A Ruler over-earthly-man just, Ruling the fear of God. And they may be interpreted two waies, viz. 1. Mandatorily, as requiring a Covenant-Duty from David and his Seed: Thus; A Ruler over-earthly-man must be just, Ruling in the fear of God. Or thus: Be thou a Just Ruler over-earthly-man, ruling in the fear of God. So it is a command or Divine injunction to David and his Royal Seed, To Rule Righteously, and Religiously, 2. Promissorily, as a foretelling the Covenant-Dignity and excellency of Christ and his Kingdom, that was to come of David according to the flesh: Thus; The Ruler over-earthly-man, shall be just, Ruling in the fear of God. That is, the Messiah that shall descend of David shall be a just Ruler, &c. In my judgement, these words are here so laid down on purpose by the Holy-Ghost, that they may be taken in full latitude, both as Commanding a Duty from David and his Seed, as Types of Christ; and as Promising an excellency in Christ the Anti-type of David. Christ, should succeed David as a King, Psal. 2. 7, 8, 9. & 110. 2. & 72. 1, 8, 9, 10, 11. Zech. 9. 9, 10. Hos. 3. 5. And Christ should Reign and Rule in his Kingdom most Righteously, and Religiously. See Psalm 45. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. & 72. 1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 12, 13, 14. Isai. 11. 1. to 10. Ier. 23. 5, 6. Zech. 9. 9, 10. He is the true MelchiZedech, or King of Righteousness, Heb. 7. 1, 2, 3, &c. But here I shall consider the words only in the First Notion, as Commanding a Covenant Duty from David and his Seed, because I am speaking of them as imposing a Covenant-Duty upon them, in reference to the Throne and Kingdom which by Covenant, God setled upon David and his Seed.

1. David and his Seed must Rule over Israel, Righteously. (z) A Ruler (or He that Ruleth over-earthly-man must be just. The Ruler, here spoken off, is the Royal or Kingly-Ruler, who in his Dominions is (a) Supream; The Supream Ruler, or Governor of a People, or stiled by some other Denomination: viz. David and his Seed. The Subjects here particularly intended by men or Earthly-man were Israel, which was the Common-wealth of God, of his peculiar Institution. And they were at that time the only Church of God on Earth. The Qualification of this Ruler, and of his Rule, is Righteousness, and Religiousness. First of his Justice or Righteousness. David and every Now this Actual Execution or Exerciſe of their juſt Rule, hath in it a twofold Act: viz. Protection and Gubernation.

I. Protection. The Supreme Ruler or Governor ought to improve his his utmoſt Authority and Power, for the Protecting, Preſerving and Defending of his Subjects and Common-wealth in Safety, Peace and Proſperity (b) Behold a King ſhall raign in righteouſneſs, and Princes ſhall rule in judgement. And a man (viz. ſuch a King or Princes,) ſhall be as an Hiding-place from the winds: And a Covert from the Tempeſt; As Rivers of water in a dry place; As the ſhadow of a great Rock in a weary Land. This King is very generally interpreted to be King Hezekiah, yet as a Type of Jeſus Chriſt: Theſe Princes, the Princes of Hezekiah, as Shebna, &c. imployed under him in the Government: His Protection of his ſubjects from all ſorts of evils and injuries is elegantly deſcribed by four notable Metaphors or Similitudes. Such Protection is Due from all Supreme Rulers to their Subjects. And this eſpecially againſt three ſorts of evils. viz. 1. Againſt all Enemies Forrein or Domeſtick; from without, or from within the Common-wealth: that they may be powerfully reſiſted, prevented and ſuppreſſed, and the ſubjects defended. 2. Againſt all injuries, wrongs, oppreſſion, violence, &c. that the ſubjects, (eſpecially the poor, the friendleſs, the widow, and the fatherleſs, (c) which of all other are moſt expoſed to injuries and oppreſſions without Remedy,) may be defended, reſcued, and relieved, Pſal. 82. 3, 4. Iſa. 1. 17. and this by a righteous current and courſe of Judgement. 3. Againſt publike wants and neceſsities, prejudicial and deſtructive to their Common-wealths publike welfare and proſperity. As want of bread in a time of famine, want of trade with Forrein Nations, without which they cannot well ſubſiſt within their own territories, &c. Rulers muſt be like Rivers of water in a dry place, as well as an Hiding-place from wind and Covert, from Tempeſt, Iſa. 33. 1, 2.

(b) Iſa. 32. 1, 2.

(c) Iob 24. 3, 4, 9, 10.

II. Gubernation, or Actual Governing. The ſupreme Ruler ought to exerciſe his Power and Authority in the upright Guiding and Governing of all his ſubjects according to Mercy and Judgement, as the Cauſe ſhall require, for their good and benefit, Rom. 13. 3, 4. 1 Tim. 2. 2. This Actual Governing hath in it two principal branches. 1. Direction of the ſubjects in all good waies of Righteouſneſs, by making, enacting and publiſhing righteous good and equal Laws for the Common-wealth, ſubſervient, not oppoſite, to true Religion. Eſtabliſh Judgement in the Gate, Amos 5. 15. ſuch the good Decrees even of Pagan Rulers ſometimes, as of Cyrus, Ezra. 1. 1, &c. Darius, Ezr. 6. 1, 2, 3, &c. Dan. 6. 25, 26, 27. Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. 3. 29. Oppoſite thereunto are, The Decreeing of unrighteous Decrees, Iſa. 10. 1, 2, 3. The framing miſchief by a Law, Pſal. 94. 20. The Statutes of Omri, Mich. 6. 16. Ungodly, unrighteous, enſnaring and bloody Decrees, Eſth. 3. 8, to the end; Dan. 3. 10, &c. and 6. 7, &c. 2. Remuneration, by compenſating the Subjects Obſervation or violation of ſuch Directions or Laws, according to the right Rules of Diſtributive and Emendative Iuſtice. This Remuneration ought to have reſpect, (1) To all well-doers and Good ſubjects. That they may be praiſed for, countenanced and encouraged in their well-doing and in all vertuous waies, Rom. 13. 3, 4. Such Government makes the righteous flouriſh, Pſal. 72. 7. (z) To all evil-doers and wicked Subjects. That, by juſt execution of vengeance and wrath upon them for their evil-doing, Rom. 13. 4. They may be put to exemplary ſhame before others, Judg. 18. 7. May be terrified for, and reſtrained from evil-doing. Hence Rulers are called, Poſſeſſors, or Heirs of reſtraint, Judg. 18. 7. Or, if the Cauſe ſo require, may be cut off and deſtroyed out of the Common-wealth by Baniſhment, Ezra 7. 26. Or Death, Pſal. 101. 8. That all Iſrael may hear and fear, and do no more ſo wickedly, Deut. 13. 11. and 17. 13. and 21. 21. Thus he that Ruleth over man, muſt be Juſt, In Perſon, and In office.

(d) 2 Sam. 23. 3. 2. David and his Seed muſt Rule over Iſrael Religiouſly as well as Righteouſly, (d) Ruling in the Fear of God. They muſt not Gallio-like, caſt off all care of the affairs of God and Religion, but rather make theſe things their primary ſcope and intendment, and all Politicals ſubordinate and ſubſervient thereunto.

The fear of God is uſed in Scripture in various Acceptations. Eſpecially, as to our preſent purpoſe, it denotes; 1. The Object Feared, viz. God himſelf. Bring preſents to the FEAR, Pſal. 76. 11. So God is ſtiled, The FEAR of Iſaac, Gen. 31. 42, 53. 2. The Rule or Law preſcribing and directing in the true Fear of God, Pſal. 19. 9. 3. The whole Courſe and way of Gods true Religion and Service, Eccleſ. 12. 13. Job 1. 9. Act. 9. 31. In this ſenſe it is uſed very frequently. And theſe are the proper fruits, effects and acts of the true Fear of God implanted in man. 4. The Inward Habit or Principle of Gods Fear ingraven upon the Sanctified heart, whereby the heart is inclined and diſpoſed to have an awful reverential reſpect to God, to his whole will and all his waies: to forbear what he forbids, to perform what he preſcribes, &c.

(e) Ier. 32. 40. (e) I will put my fear in their hearts, that they ſhall not depart from me. 5. The Affection of Fear in the heart, whereby a man is diſpoſed to be afraid of Gods dreadful or terrible manifeſtation of his Majeſty and Greatneſs. As Moſes at Mount Sinai ſaid;

(f) Heb. 12. 20, 21. (f) I exceedingly fear and quake, ſo terrible was the ſight. Moſt of theſe acceptations, eſpecially the four firſt, are of uſe here.

To Rule in the Fear of God therefore doth principally comprize in it theſe things: viz. I. To have the Heart and Spirit graciouſly and effectually principled with the Fear of God, whereby Rulers are inclined to have an awful eye and reſpect to God, his will, and waies in all their Government, and this with a good conſcience, Gen. 42. 18. This Fear makes the Perſons of Rulers religious, and conſequently their Government religious, 2 Chron. 17. 3, 4, 5, 6. 2 Chron. 34. 3, &c. II. To Manage the whole Rule and Government according to the word of God, the Rule and meaſure of Gods Fear: not according to carnal Rules of Policy inconſiſtent with Gods

Gods word. Hence God appointed all the Kings of Israel to have a Copy of Gods Law by them, to read therein continually, that they might manage their Government in Gods Fear accordingly, Deut. 17. 18, 19, 20. III. To make it the Primary Scope, intent and End of all their Ruling, to advance the Glory of God, and of Jesus Christ, to advantage the Spiritual welfare of his Church, and to further every way the Prosperity of the Gospel and true Religion, Rom. 13. 3, 4. Isa. 60. 10, 16. 1 Tim. 2. 2. The Centuriators observe well (f) Seeing Magistrates are in Holy Scriptures called Gods, their first and chiefest care of all should be, in such sort to serve God, as that his Kingdom may appear, Grow and be Preserved in their Dominions. Common-wealths are for the Church, not the Church for Common-wealths: they are but Hospitia Ecclesiæ, the Churches Inns. Rulers are for God: not God for Rulers. Rulers usually prosper no longer in their Civils, then they take care for the prosperity of Religion and Spirituals. I remember not that any Kings in Israel or Judah are commended by God in Scripture for ruling righteously, but only those who ruled Religiously. Their chief zeal and all their prime endeavours should run out this way: as Jehoshaphats (h) heart was lifted up in the waies of the LORD. Oh! How many waies may, yea ought, the supreme Ruler to improve his Authority for advancing the Interest of God, of Jesus Christ, of his Church, of his Gospel, and of Christian Religion, by Ruling in the fear of God, As a Nursing Father of the Church! Isa. 49. 23. As, 1. By encouraging and countenancing the publike use of all Gods Ordinances and publike exercise of all Duties of Religion within his Dominions, 2 Chron. 15. 9, to 16. and 20. 7, 8, 9. and 29, 30, 31, 34, and 35. Chapters. Deut. 17. 18, 19, 20. 2. By removing all external Impediments to true Religion in Doctrine, worship, Discipline, &c. as Heresie, Idolatry, Prophanness, Persecution, &c. Deut. 13. 1, to 6. Zech. 13. 3. 1 Kings 15. 14. with 2 Chro. 19. 17. 1 Kings 22. 44. 2 Kings 12. 3. 2 Chron. 15. 8, 16. and 17. 3, 4, 6, to 10. 2 Kings 23. 8, 13, 19, 20, 24, 25. 3. By Reforming the Church, when the Truth, worship or Ordinances of Jesus Christ are contemned, corrupted, polluted, &c. Exod. 32. Josh. 24. 2 Chron. 15. and 17. 2 Kings 18. and 23. as did Zerubbabel and Nehemiah in their daies. 4. By calling together Councils and Synods to consult and conclude according to the Word, how the Church should be reformed, and all the Affairs of Religion duely managed, 1 Chron. 13. 1, 2. 1 Chron. 23. 1, 2. 1 Kings 8. 1. 2 Chron. 29. 4. 2 Kings 23. 1, 2. Rom. 13. 1, 2, 3. 1 Tim. 2. 2. which persons so convocated must be such as the Scriptures allow to consult and conclude in like cases. 5. By strengthening the Laws and Ordinances of God and Jesus Christ with his Civil Sanction, commanding them under Civil penalties to be duely observed, 2 Chron. 34. 33. Nehem. 12. 13, &c. Dan. 3. 28, 29. and 6. 26, 27. As Hezekiah took care that Priests, (g) Cum Magistratus in Sacris literis Dii nominantur, prima & potissima ipsorum cura esse Debet, tali pacto Deo servire, ut regnum ejus in imperiis suis innotescat, crescat, conservetur. Cent. Magd. in Præfat. Cant. 7.

(h) 2 Chron. 17. 6.

Levites and People ſhould reſpectively perform their Duties, 2 Chron. 29. 5, 24. and 30. 1. 6. By furniſhing and ſupplying the Church of Chriſt with all Outward Neceſſaries and helps to the greater Proſperity of Religion: as convenient Places for publike worſhip, Honourable Maintenance for the Miniſters of the Goſpel, &c. 1 Chron. 22. 2 Chron. 3. 1, &c. and 34. 1 Tim. 5. 17, 18. 1 Cor. 9. 6, to 15. with 2 Chron. 31. 4. to 9. 7. Finally, By puniſhing offendors, as well againſt the Firſt, as againſt the Second Table, with Civil Mulcts or Penalties, that the Sacred Ordinances and waies of God may be vindicated from Contempt and Prophanation, Deut. 13. 1, to 61. Zech. 13. 3. Deut. 21. 18, 19, 20, 21. Gen. 9. 6. with Numb. 35. 30, 31, 32, 33, 34. and Deut. 10. 11, 12, 13. Levit. 20. 11, 12, 14, 17, 19, to 25. Exod. 22. 1, to 15. Deut. 19. 16, &c.

Now David and his Seed were to Rule over Iſrael Righteouſly and Religiouſly, as hath been deſcribed, for theſe Reaſons eſpecially. 1. Becauſe, David and his Seed, in their Rule over Iſrael, were (i) Gods Kings, Deputies, and Vice-gerents, over Gods peculiar Common-wealth. 2. Becauſe the Righteous and Religious Rule of Supreme Governors or Rulers is moſt pleaſing to God. How exceedingly hath God commended the pious and religious Government of David, Aſa, Jehoſhaphat, Hezekiah, Joſiah, &c. but condemned the contrary wicked reign of others! And how abundantly hath the Lord teſtified his approbation of righteous Judgement, Iſa. 1. 17, 18, 19, 20. Jer. 5. 1. Hence Solomon ſaid, (k) To do Juſtice and Judgement, is more acceptable to the LORD then Sacrifice. 3. Becauſe David and his Seed in their Religious and Righteous Ruling (l) were to be ſpecial and Eminent Types of Jeſus Chriſt the moſt Godly and Righteous Ruler in his Spiritual Kingdom.

This Covenant-Duty of Ruling Iſrael Righteouſly and Religiouſly, was performed, I. By David himſelf, (m) who fed Iſrael according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the ſkilfulneſs of his hands. He Ruled them Religiouſly. This was his Primary Deſign and ſcope in his Government to advance Gods true Religion. Hence, 1. He was moſt zealouſly affected to the Ark of Gods Covenant, the Eminent token of Gods preſence, to prepare a place for it, and to bring it and ſettle it in his place, Pſal. 132. 1, to 11. 1 Chron. 15, throughout, and 16. throughout, 2. He appointed certain Levites and Prieſts to Miniſter before the Ark continually, and delivered into the hand of Aſaph on that day an excellent Pſalm wherewith to thank the LORD, 1 Chron. 16. 4, to the end. 3. He had it in his heart to build a Reſting-place for the Ark, a Temple for the Lord: with which the Lord was ſo pleaſed, that thereupon he revealed this Covenant by Nathan to David, 1 Chron. 17. 1, &c. although he would not ſuffer David to build the Houſe. 4. He notwithſtanding ſo ſet his heart to the Houſe and worſhip of his God, that he prepared abundantly for the building of the Temple, 1 Chron. 22. 5. He appointed the Courſes and Diviſions of the Levites, of the Prieſts, of the Singers, and of the Porters, for the ſervice of God in the Temple when it ſhould be built, 1 Chron. chap. 23. 24, 25, 26. 6. He inſtructed and encouraged Solomon to the building of the Temple, giving him the Pattern thereof which he had from the Lord, 1 Chron. 28. 7. And Finally, He by his own example notably excited the Princes of Iſrael to offer liberally towards the building of Gods Houſe: bleſsing God that had inclined him and them to offer ſo willingly, and praying for Solomon that he might be upright and perfect, and that he might build the Houſe for which David had prepared, 1 Chron. 29. throughout. Thus David Ruled Religiouſly. He ruled alſo the people Iſrael, Righteouſly. Pſal. 101. throughout.

King Solomon, He ruled Religiouſly: For, 1. He builded the Temple on Mount Moriah at Ieruſalem, moſt magnifically according to the Pattern given him, 2 Chron. 3. 1, &c. and 4. chap. throughout. 2. He moſt ſolemnly dedicated the Temple builded, with Praiſes, Prayers and Sacrifices before all Iſrael: The Lord moſt graciouſly anſwering his Prayers, and accepting his Sacrifices, 2 Chron. chap. 5, 6, 7. throughout. He Ruled alſo Righteouſly. For, 1. He (n) cauſed Adonijah to be put to Death, Abiather the Prieſt to be depoſed and turned out of the Prieſthood, and Ioab to be ſlain at the Horns of the Altar, for their Combination in Sedition and Treaſon againſt the Crown, and other offences. 2. He (o) confined Shimei for curſing and reviling his Father King David, and afterwards put him to death being found without the bounds of his Confinement. 3. He (p) wiſely, as well as juſtly, decided the Controverſie betwixt the two Harlots about the living child; and gave it to the right Mother.

III. By Ieſus Chriſt eſpecially, the Conditioned Duties of this Covenant had their fulleſt and exacteſt accompliſhment. David and his Seed, even the moſt religious and righteous of them had their failings and miſcarriages, as their Hiſtories abundantly declare. But Ieſus Chriſt the Primary Seed of David, fully kept Gods Covenant and all his charge, walked moſt Religiouſly and Righteouſly in his Spiritual Kingdom over the Houſe of Iacob: As the Prophets under the Old Teſtament Promiſed, and the Apoſtles with other Holy Penmen of the New Teſtament declare to be Performed by him.

This Aphoriſm, touching the Matter and Subſtance of this Covenant, I cloſe up briefly with theſe enſuing Inferences.

Inferences.

I. Hence, The Goodneſs and bounty of God was ſingularly diſcovered and Teſtified in this Covenant to David and his Seed. What variety and and excellency of Covenant-Mercies and Bleſſings are herein Aſſured to David, to his Seed, and to their Subjects with reſpect unto them. 1. Gods ſubduing of all his enemies; 2. His Strengthening and Eſtabliſhing him; 3. His Enlargement of his Glory and Dominion; 4. Gods ſweet Covenant-Relations to him; 5. His fulfilling of his daies; 6. Gods building him an Houſe, by perpetuating and enthroning of his Seed for ever; 7. Gods Fatherly Relation unto his Seed; 8 The Honour caſt upon his Seed to build God an Houſe, 9. Gods Eſtabliſhment of his Seed in his Kingdom for ever; 10. Gods conſtancy of loving-kindneſs and faithfulneſs to his Seed, yet with chaſtiſements for their Miſcarriages; 11. Gods Habitation in Sion for ever; 12. Iſraels ſecure eſtabliſhment in Canaan thereupon, and 13. Their ſingular Proſperity both in Temporals and Spirituals. Theſe, theſe are the Covenant-Mercies promiſed to David and his Seed in this Covenant. Any one, even the leaſt of theſe, was a great fruit and evidence of Gods bounty to them: How much more this whole Bundle and Heap of Bleſsings together.

Hereupon, when Nathan firſt revealed this Covenant from God to David, how was David affected and tranſported with joy and admiration of Gods Goodneſs and his Grace! He preſently went, and ſate before the LORD, and ſaid, (q) Who am I O Lord GOD? and what is my Houſe, that thou haſt brought me Hitherto? And this was yet a ſmall thing in thy ſight O Lord GOD: but thou haſt ſpoken alſo of thy ſervants Houſe for a great while to come. And is this the manner of man, O Lord GOD? And what can David ſay more unto thee! For thou Lord GOD knoweſt thy ſervant. For thy Words ſake, and according to thine own heart haſt thou done all theſe great things, to make thy ſervant know them, &c, Oh, how pathetically zealouſly and thankfully doth David herein expreſs himſelf to God for all his Covenant-goodneſs! with what raiſed, raviſhed, and aſtoniſhed affections! More particularly, In this his Addreſs to God, note; I. His Praiſe. He Praiſeth God for his Goodneſs, Partly to himſelf: And this 1. For time paſt. That God had brought him hitherto; to ſuch victories, to ſuch Preferment, to ſuch a Throne and Kingdom. and this notwithſtanding the Extream unworthineſs both of David and his Houſe, 2 Sam. 7. 18. 2. For time preſent and to come, That God had ſuperadded this excellent Covenant over and above all former favours (as if they had been ſmall matters,) therein aſſuring David of the Happineſs of his Houſe for all time to come. This is amplified, (1) By the ſuper-abounding bountifulneſs of God therein. (2) By the familiarity of Gods dealing with David in ſuch a Covenant-way. ver. 19. (3) By the unutterableneſs of this Mercy, ſilencing David himſelf. ver. 20. (4) By the Moving Cauſes inclining God both to do theſe Great-things for David, and to make them known in this ſort to David: viz. His Word Chriſt, and His own heart, his meer Grace and good-pleaſure of his will, ver. 21. (5) By his thankful acknowledgeacknowledgment of Gods matchleſs greatneſs, ver. 22. Partly, to his people Iſrael, In Redeeming them out of Egypt, and making them his people, ver. 23, 24. II. His Prayer. He prayes, That God would perform all his Covenanted Goodneſs to him, and to his Houſe for ever, ver. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29. Thus David admired and extolled the rich bounty and goodneſs of the Lord to him and his Seed in this Covenant.

II. Hence, The Priviledges of David and his Seed were greatly heightned and advanced by this Covenant. By the Sinai-Covenant or Old-Teſtament, The People of Iſrael, and with them David and his Houſe, were Eminently priviledged above all the People and Nations of the world: as the (r) Scriptures often teſtifie. But by this preſent Covenant David and his Houſe were peculiarly Priviledged above all the Houſe of Iſrael it ſelf. To them it was peculiarly Directed; Upon them it was peculiarly fulfilled; and in reference unto them ſome Promiſes therein are extended to Iſrael their Subjects. In this regard, Iſrael was as the Jewel of God, his (ſ) Segullah: David and his Seed, were as the Orient-ſparks and precious Garniſh of this Jewel: And Chriſt the Primary Seed of David, was the great and peerleſs Gemm in that Garniſh.

(r) Deut. 4. 7, 8, 13. Pſal. 147. 19, 20. Rom. 3. 1, 2. & 9. 4, 5. Epheſ. 2. 12.

(ſ) Exo. 19. 5.

III. Hence, As by this Covenant God ſettled and eſtabliſhed Royal favours and dignities upon David and his Seed: So by this Covenanted, he expected and required Royal Returns of Duty and Homage to himſelf from David and his Seed. God hereby made them great Kings over men: but yet they muſt ſtill remain Subjects to himſelf the King of Kings. They ſhall Rule over men: but ſo, as God will ſtill Rule over them; They muſt remain ſtill Subject to his Covenant-Commandements, Statutes and Judgements. They muſt ſo Rule: as yet to be Ruled. They muſt ſo be Kings: as yet to remain Subjects. They muſt ſo be in Authority: as yet to be under Authority. When this Loyalty and Covenant-Duty to God was forgotten by David or any of his Seed, how ſadly and ſeverely did God chaſtiſe thoſe miſcarriages?

IIII. Hence, The Nature of this Covenant with David and his Seed was partly Abſolute and partly Conditional. Abſolute (t) in regard of the Perpetuity of the Covenant, The perpetuity of his Seed upon his Throne, and ſome other Promiſes as having only their full accompliſhment in Jeſus Chriſt. But Conditional (u) in regard of other Promiſes more immediately applicable to Davids ordinary Seed: which were to be performed, if they kept Gods Covenant and Commandements. Therefore hence it came to paſs, that David and his Seed ſundry waies failing in their Covenant-Duty, God chaſtized them ſeverely, and ecclipſed the glory of their Kingdom often and ſometimes extreamly, as in a caſe of the 10. Tribes revolt, and Judah's captivity in Babylon, which ſeemed to be a ſad (x) violation of Gods Covenant. But the Lord was ſtill righteous and faithful in his Promiſes of abſolute nature. The ſubſtance of the the Covenant remained ſtill inviolable, till at laſt it had its entire accompliſhment in Jeſus Chriſt. In what ſenſe we are to underſtand Covenant-Conditions, and how ſuch Conditions are no way inconſiſtent with Gods free-grace, hath been (y) elſewhere already expounded.

(y) Book II. Chap. 2. Aphoriſm 2. Sect. 5. Corollary 4. throughout.

V. Hence, The grand and moſt obſervable Occurrents under this Covenant with David, were, Gods Eſtabliſhing and Continuing of the Royal Government over Iſrael, His appropriating of the Throne to David's Seed of whom Chriſt ſhould deſcend according to the fleſh, The Glory of that Kingdom in the daies of Solomon, and The moſt magnifical building of the Temple by Solomon at Jeruſalem, on Mount Moriah.

VI. Hence, The fidelity of God to David and his Seed according to this Covenant was very conſpicuous. For, How notably did God, (as hath been ſhewed) perform all Covenanted-bleſſings, either upon David or his Ordinary Seed, or his extraordinary Seed Chriſt, or upon the ſubjects of his Kingdom. Not one Promiſe failed, or fell to the ground.

VII. Hence, The Primary ſcope and intent of this Covenant was to Reveal Jeſus Chriſt as the chief Seed of David, and the Perpetuity of his Kingdom over the Church of God for evermore. This is the Sea, whither all the ſtreams of the Covenant flow: This is the Center where all the Promiſe-lines of the Covenant meet. Chriſt is the marrow and ſoul of this, as of all their Covenants of Faith. Thoſe that do not intentively fix their eye upon Chriſt in this Covenant, they utterly miſs the ſcope, and miſtake the myſterie of this Covenant.

Thus of the Subject, Matter or Subſtance of this Covenant, viz. The Covenant-Mercies Promiſed on the part of God, and The Covenant-Duties re-promiſed on the part of David and his Seed.

APHORISM V.

5. The Form of this Covenant with David and his Seed.

THE Form of Gods Covenant with David and his Seed, was either, Inward and Eſſential, in the mutual obligation betwixt the Federates: Or Outward and Accidental, in the Manifeſtation, Confirmation and Adminiſtration of this Covenant. This Aphoriſm I briefly thus Explain.

I. The more Inward Eſſential and Conſtitutive Form of this Covenant with David conſiſted in the reciprocal Covenant-Obligation betwixt the Fœderates; viz. Betwixt God on the one hand, by his Promiſes of ſundry Fœderal Mercies, and David and his Seed on the other hand, by their Re-ſtipulating of divers Covenant-Duties. Which Mercies Promiſed, and Duties re-promiſed, have been at large unfolded in the laſt fore-going Aphoriſm. Without ſuch reciprocal Covenant-Obligation, plainly expreſſed, or at leaſt neceſſarily implyed, there can be properly no Covenant. This is that which makes the Specifical Difference betwixt Covenants and bare naked Promiſes. The Obligation of a bare Promiſe is Single and Perſonal, but the Obligation of a Covenant is double and reciprocal.

II. The more Outward and Accidental Form of this Covenant, Conſiſted in the (1) Manifeſtation, (2) Confirmation, and (3) Adminiſtration thereof.

1. The Manifeſtation of this Covenant to David from God was not Immediate, but Mediate. God (z) Revealed it to the Prophet Nathan by viſion, which viſion is there at large recorded: And Nathan accordingly declared it unto David, upon Occaſion of Davids purpoſe to build God an Houſe. According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak unto David —— Then thou ſpakeſt in viſion to thine Holy-one, &c. A Viſion, or Sight, is often mentioned in Scripture, It is of ſeveral ſorts. viz. I. An afflicting viſion: One ſort of Jobs Afflictions; (a) Thou ſcareſt me with Dreams, and terrifieſt me with night-viſions. Not here meant. II. An Inſtructing, Conſolatory, or Prophetical viſion. This was one of Gods waies whereby he was wont both before and ſince Chriſt to Reveal unto men things Secret or Future, affecting their Senſes and Intellectuals with certain Outward objects and ſenſible Species to that end. And ſuch viſions are uſually repreſented to men in a Trance, Rapture, Deep ſleep, &c. they uſually fall down upon their faces to the ground, as ſtupid, ſenſleſs, and Dead men. So, (b) A Trance, or Deep ſleep fell upon Abraham; Daniel (c) was afraid, and fell fell on his face, and was in a deep ſleep with his face towards the ground: Ezekiel fell on his face: Ezek. 1. 28. and 3. 23. and 43. 3. and 44. 4. Thus, (d) Peter fell into a Trance, when he had that viſion of a ſheet from heaven, teaching him to go and preach to the Gentiles. Iohn was (e) raviſht in Spirit, when he Received his Revelation from Chriſt, who when he ſaw him fell at his feet, as dead. Such this Viſion of Nathan here, wherein God revealed to him this Covenant. In this ſenſe viſion is taken, 1. Properly, for the Act of Seeing that which God thus Reveals; or Gods way of viſional Manifeſtation of his will, Pſal. 89. 19. 2. Metonymically for the Inſtruction, Prophecy, or Myſterie thus Revealed and ſeen. Iſa. 1. 1. 2 Chron. 32. 32. 2 Sam. 7. 17. 3. Synechdochically, for all manner of waies whereby God makes known his will; as 1 Sam. 3. 1. Lam. 2. 9. 2 King. 17. 3. Ioel 2. 28. with Act. 2. 17. 4. Catachreſtically, or abuſively for falſe and counterfeit pretences of viſions. Zach. 13. 4. viſion of falſhood. Ier. 14. 14. viſion of vanity. Ezek. 12. 24. and 13. 6, 7. viſion of their own heart. Ier. 23. 16. 2. The Confirmation of this Covenant by God to David and his Seed, was various; Eſpecially fourfold, viz. By Ratifying Promiſes: By Gods Sacred Oath; By explanatory Repetitions thereof; and By actual accompliſhments thereof in part.

(1) By Ratifying Promiſes. Some Promiſes, appertaining to this Covenant, lead peculiarly to aſſure David of the Infallibility and Perpetuity of this Covenant: which may therefore be juſtly ſtiled, Ratifying Promiſes. They are comprized in Pſal. 89. 28, 29, 33, 34, 35. and have been formerly opened in the ſeventh Promiſed Mercy to David. Thus God adds Promiſe to Promiſe: and binds one Promiſe with another.

(2) By Gods Sacred Oath. Gods Promiſe and Oath are (g) two immutable things in which it is impoſſible for God to lye; and (h) God willing more abundantly to ſhew to David and his Seed, the immutability of his Counſel, he confirmed this Covenant by theſe two, that David and his Seed might have ſtrong Conſolation thereby. I have ſworn to David my ſervant, Once have I ſworn by mine Holineſs, that I will not lye unto David. The LORD hath ſworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it. But of this Oath I have ſpoken in the former Apheriſm.

(3) By Explanatory Repetitions of this Covenant. God cauſed this Covenant not only to be twice (k) recorded in Terms at large: but alſo divers times Recites and explains the ſame in other (l) Scri-

As alſo in thoſe Scriptures that teſtifie, How God, in caſe of the miſcarriages of ſome of Davids Seed, did not utterly deſtroy his Kingdom, nor root out his Seed, but ſtill reſerved a Light for David of his Seed in Iſrael, according to his Covenant. ptures ptures both of Old and New Teſtament; eſpecially in thoſe three obſervable places, which are a threefold Commentary upon this Covenant; viz. Pſal. 89. throughout. Pſal. 132. 11. to the end. and 2 Sam. 23. 1, to 8. Now in all ſuch places as either Cite, Recite, or Expound this Covenant; it is notably confirmed and ſtabliſhed. The Covenant is doubled, trebled, &c. for the greater certainty and unqueſtionable ſtability. Theſe Scriptures have been opened in the matter of this Covenant. Aphoriſm 4.

(4) Finally, by Gods actual accompliſhments of the Promiſes of this Covenant by degrees. Some were fulfilled in Davids daies: as Gods ſubduing all his enemies, ſtrengthening and ſtabliſhing him, His enlarging his Glory and Dominion, His ſweet Covenant-Relation, Fulfilling of his daies, Building up his Houſe after him in raiſing up his Seed. Some were fulfilled in the daies of his Seed: as, Gods Fatherly Relation to his S[illegible] The building God an Houſe, Eſtabliſhment of his Seed upo[illegible] Throne, Conſtancy of his faithfulneſs to them, &c. All which I have (m) formerly unfolded. Now all theſe Gradual accompliſhments of this Covenant upon David and his Seed, were as ſo many infallible ſeals to the Truth and faithfulneſs thereof, and as ſo many Earneſts, handſels and firſt-fruits, aſſuring the like performances of all Promiſes for the future, till they all ſhould have their grand and higheſt accompliſhment in IESUS CHRIST the chief Son and Seed of DAVID.

(m) In Aphoriſm 4. of this Chap. Sect. 1.

3. The Adminiſtration of this Covenant with David and his Seed, was in effect the ſame with that of the Sinai-Covenant (which remained in force till the Death of Ieſus Chriſt:) viz. 1. By the Levitical Prieſthood as the fixed and ſtanding Miniſtry of the Old-Teſtament. 2. By the Levitical Sacrifices and all other the Ceremonial and Typical Ordinances of God. 3. By the Typical and worldly Sanctuary; As alſo, 4. By the Ordinary Covenant-tokens, Circumciſion and the Paſſ-over, Inſtituted under Gods Covenant with Abraham, but continued under the Sinai Covenant even til the Death of Jeſus Chriſt. Notwithſtanding in ſome reſpects this Adminiſtration admitted of ſome Perfective Alterations under this Covenant with David. For, 1. The publike place of Gods ſolemn worſhip, which was formerly an Ambulatory and moving Tabernacle, during Iſraels moving and unſettled Condition, was now a fixed and moſt magnifical Temple at Jeruſalem, ſuitable to the fixed Condition of Iſrael now peaceably poſſeſſing their promiſed Reſt. 2. The Prieſts, Levites, Singers and Porters, even all the Levitical Miniſtry, were more compleatly ſettled in their fixed Courſes of Miniſtration. 3. The Promiſes of this Covenant run in a more Royal ſtrain, touching the Kingdom and Kingly Seed of David: having more peculiar tendency to Jeſus Chriſt the Son of David, that ſhould be Lord of Lords and King of Kings. 4. The Political Government of the Common-wealth of Iſrael, was now changed from that by Judges, to that by Kings.

Inferences.

1. Hence, When David or his Seed failed in their Covenant-Duty towards God, they ſinned againſt the very Conſtitutive Form and Eſſence of this Covenant, viz. the Mutual obligation betwixt God and them. And offending againſt the very life and being of the Covenant, it was juſt with God to chaſtiſe them, and cut them ſhort in ſuch Covenant bleſsings as were only Conditional.

2. Hence, The unqueſtionable Divine Authority of this Covenant is Evident. For, It was firſt Revealed by (n) Divine viſion unto Nathan the Prophet, and by him to David: And afterwards confirmed by God in ſ[illegible] paſſages of Scripture, as hath been ſhewed. So that [illegible] the Faith, Hope and Comfort of David might ſecurely reſt and repoſe themſelves upon the Promiſes of this Covenant, as upon an authentique Divine foundation.

(n) 2 Sam. 7. 4, to 18. Pſal. 89. 19.

(o) 2 Sam. 23. 4, 5.

3. Hence, The immutability of Gods Counſel touching the Everlaſting Kingdom of Davids Seed (that abſolute Promiſe of this Covenant, as relating to Chriſt) was clearly demonſtrated. In that he (p) ſtabliſhed this Covenant by thoſe two Immutable things, his Promiſes and Oath, in which it was impoſsible for God to lye, or fail. Hereupon David and his Seed might have ſtrong Conſolation, eſpecially in reference to the Meſsiah Promiſed.

(p) Pſal. 89. 33, to 38. & 132. 11. & 89. 35. with Heb. 6. 16, 17, 18.

4. Hence, The Fidelity of God to David and his Seed in this Covenant, was very Conſpicuous. The gradual accompliſhments of the Promiſes thereof being daily diſcovered upon David and his Seed in their ſucceſſive Generations.

APHORISM

APHORISM VI.

6. The End or Scope of Gods Covenant with David.

THE End, or intended Scope, of God in this Covenant was; Immediately, Some more peculiar Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt: Mediately, The furtherance of the Happineſs of David, of his Seed, and of their Subiects in Chriſt; As alſo the ſingular Advancement of the Glory of God.

This Aphoriſm I thus briefly explain;

1. The Immediate End or Scope herein intended was, A more peculiar Revealing of Jeſus Chriſt. In all the fore-going Covenant-Expreſſures, The Revealing of Jeſus Chriſt ſtill more and more was Immediately intended: So in this. A more Peculiar Revelation of Chriſt in this Covenant, then in any of the former, was intended in two reſpects: viz. In regard of his Deſcent, and In regard of his Office. 1. In regard of his Deſcent. In the Covenant with Adam, Chriſts Deſcent is revealed moſt Generally, That he ſhould be the Seed of the woman. In the following Covenants his Deſcent is ſtill more and more Particularly Revealed. As that he ſhould be, The Seed of Noah, in Noah's Covenant; The Seed of Abraham, in Abraham's Covenant; The Seed of Iſrael, in the Sinai-Covenant. But in this Covenant with David, Chriſts Deſcent is yet more peculiarly Revealed, and appropriated to one family of Iſrael; viz. To the Houſe of David. That Chriſt ſhould deſcend of David, and be the Seed of David. There being ſundry Promiſes made in this Covenant, which (as hath been abundantly ſhewed in the fourth Aphoriſm) can have their proper and plenary accompliſhment in none but only in Jeſus Chriſt. So that the time of Chriſt is now more peculiarly limited, reſtrained, reduced and appropriated, then ever formerly: viz. to the Houſe or Family of David. 2. In regard of his office. In this Covenant there is a more peculiar diſplay of Chriſts office, then in the former. Chriſts office was deſcribed in former Covenants variouſly. viz. More Generally, under the three firſt Covenants; As, a bruiſer of the Serpents head, under Adam's Covenant: As a Saviour of an Elect Seed and remnant, in Noahs Covenant: As A Bleſſer of all the Kindreds of the Earth, in Abraham's Covenant. More Specially and Particularly, under the Sinai-Covenant; As A Prophet like unto Moſes, to be hearkened to in all things; And As A Prieſt like Aaron, Chriſts Prieſthood being many waies typified in Aarons Prieſthood, Prieſthood, as formerly it was ſhadowed out in Abraham's Covenant alſo by Melchizedeck's more excellent Prieſthood. And now under this Covenant; As (q) An Everlaſting King that ſhould ſit upon the Throne of his Father David, and Rule the Houſe of Iacob, the Church, for evermore. I grant this Kingly office of Chriſt was ſomewhat dimly and briefly pointed at in Abraham's time, under that Covenant's diſpenſation to Abraham in the Type (r) of Melchizedeck King of Salem: firſt being, by interpretation King of Righteouſneſs; and after that alſo King of Salem, which is, King of peace. But the Everlaſting Kingdom of Davids Seed, Chriſt, is the very Burden and main buſineſs of this Covenant with David, which is inſiſted upon again and again.

(q) 2 Sam. 7. 12, 13, 14. Pſal. 89. 36, 37. & 132. 11. with Luk. 1. 31, 32, 33. Heb. 1. 4, 5. Act. 2. 30, 31. 32, &c.

(r) Heb. 7. 1, 2, 3, &c.

2. The Mediate End or Scope herein intended, is twofold; Subordinate, and Ultimate. 1. Subordinate, To further the Happineſs of David, of his Seed, and of his Subjects in Chriſt. The three ſorts of Covenant-bleſſings, Promiſed to David, His Seed and Subjects, as hath been evidenced, Eminently tend to advance their Happineſs, and that in Chriſt, in whom moſt of them had their chief accompliſhment. Judiciouſly Conſider thoſe Covenanted Mercies: and therein you may palpably read Gods intention of furthering their Happineſs in Chriſt. 2. Ultimate, To advance ſingularly the Glory of God. God intends primarily his own glory in all his Acts: and conſequently in all his Covenant-diſcoveries. In this Covenant, the glory of God is variouſly intended. As, (1) The glory of his Free-grace and Rich Mercy in Jeſus Chriſt. (f) Mercy ſhall be built up —— (t) For his WORD's ſake, (viz. his Eſſential Word Chriſt, called in the parallel place, His ſervant) and according to his own heart, God revealed this Covenant. (2) The Glory of his bounty. In promiſing ſuch plenty of great bleſsings; called, (u) Greatneſſes. David was aſtoniſhed thereat, 1 Chron. 17. 16, &c. (3) The glory of his Iuſtice and ſeverity againſt ſin. That he (x) would viſit the iniquities even of Davids Seed, with Rod and ſtripes. (4) The Glory of his Truth and faithfulneſs. That (y) his Covenant ſhould not be broken, nor his loving kindneſs ſhould utterly be taken from him, nor his faithfulneſs fail, &c. Nay, their ſins ſhould not diſanull his Covenant. (5) The Glory of his Holineſs. In impoſing ſuch Covenant-Duties of Holineſs, and Righteouſneſs upon David and his Seed. (6) The Glory of his Power. In perpetuating the Seed and Throne of David againſt all evils and enemies for evermore.

(x) Pſal. 89. 30, 31, 32.

(y) Pſal. 89. 2, 3. 30, to 38.

Inferences.

1. Hence, As Chriſt in regard of his Deſcent and Royal office was more peculiarly Revealed in this Covenant: ſo David had anſwerably a more peculiar knowledge of Ieſus Chriſt by this, then by former Covenants. And this was a fundamental additional to Davids happineſs, (z) To know Ieſus Chriſt, is life Eternal, in the foundation and inchoation thereof.

(z) Joh. 17. 3.

thereof. David and his Seed had missed the End of this Covenant, if therein they had not eyed Christ.

2. Hence. How great Cause had David to place (a) all his Salvation and delight upon this Covenant. the Happiness of him, his Seed, and Subjects being so eminently intended and provided for in this Covenant, in Christ.

(a) 2 Sam. 23. 5.

3. Hence, No wonder that David so thankfully (b) magnified and glorified God, for Revealing this Covenant, in which God so exceedingly manifested the riches of his Glory towards David and his Seed.

(b) 1 Chron. 17. & 2 Sam. 7.

Thus of the End of this Covenant.

Aphorism VII.

7ly. General Inferences from the whole of this Covenant with David.

THE mysterie of Gods Covenant with David (notably Amplifying the Sinai-Covenant) being thus at large unfolded and described, according to 1. The Author and Nature of it. 2. The Fœderate Parties of it. 3. The Impulsive Cause and Occasion. 4. The Substance, or Subject-Matter. 5. The Form. 6. And the End thereof. It now remains, that I should close up this whole Discourse with some General Corollaries or Inferences clearly resulting from the whole: and I shall comprize them all in this concluding Aphorism. viz.

From this whole Discourse about Gods Covenant with David and his Seed, we may plainly see, 1. That this Covenant was a very Princely and Royal Covenant. 2. That David and his Seed, especially Solomon, were eminent Types of Jesus Christ: 3. What the Properties of this Covenant are: 4. What Agreement and Disagreement this Covenant hath with or from all foregoing Covenants: 5. And, That so much of Christ was revealed to David and his Seed in this Covenant, that he and Solomon knew and spake much of Christ in their writings.

I.

First, Hence its plain, That Gods Covenant with David and his Seed was a very Princely and Royal Covenant. For the chief stream of Covenant-Mercies herein promised did run in the

the Royal channel, and singularly tended to advance the Royal Dignity and Authority of David and his Seed in Israel, especially the Spiritual and Everlasting Kingdom of JESUS CHRIST, the Primary Seed of David, in and over the Church. In their Temporal Kingdom over the literal Israel, was shadowed out Christs Spiritual and Everlasting Kingdom over the Spiritual Israel of God. Under the Sinai-Covenant, Christs Propheſie was shadowed out by Moſes Propheſie; and Christs Prieſthood by the Levitical Prieſthood: But under this Enlargement and Amplification of the Sinai-Covenant, Christs Kingdom was repreſented in the Type of Davids Kingdom. Under this Covenant only the Kingly Government over Israel, was ſettled and flouriſhed: And under this Covenant chiefly the Spiritual Kingdom of Chriſt was typified and adumbrated.

How wiſely hath God contrived to Reveal Chriſts Perſon and Office in his Covenant-Expreſſures! 1. His Perſon, To be God and Man, by his Covenant with Adam: (1) Man, as the Seed of the woman; (2) God, as the bruiſer of the Serpents head, which meer man could never have done. 2. His Office, (1) In General, To be a Saviour of Gods Elect Remnant and Family from the midſt of the periſhing world, in his Covenant with Noah: And to be a Bleſſer of all the Families of the Earth in his Covenant with Abraham. (2) But his Mediatory office in Particular, viz. His Propheſie under the Type of Moſes, and Prieſthood under the Type of Aaron, were ſet forth in the Sinai-Covenant with Iſrael; His Kingſhip and Royalty under the Type of David and his Seed in this Covenant with David. Davids Covenant may therefore be deſervedly ſtiled, The Royal Covenant. This is an excellent Covenant-Myſterie.

II.

Secondly, Hence its evident, That King David, and his Royal Seed, eſpecially Solomon, were eminent Types of Jeſus Chriſt. Theſe Kings, were notable Types of this King of Kings: Their Kingdom, of his Kingdom; Their Subjects, of his Subjects. View a little the Correſpondency betwixt the Types, and Anti-Type. 1. In David. 2. In Solomon.

DAVID was ſo eminent a Type of Chriſt, and eſpecially in reference to his Kingdom, that after Davids deceaſe, Chriſt is oft-times promiſed to be the King and Ruler of his Church, under the very name of David: (c) Afterward ſhall the children of Iſrael return, and ſeek the LORD their God, and David their King.—(d) They ſhall ſerve the LORD their God, and David their King, whom I will raiſe up unto them. (e) —— And I will ſet up one Shepherd over them, and he ſhall feed them, my ſervant David: he ſhall feed them, and he ſhall be their Shepherd. And I the LORD will be their God, and my ſervant David a Prince among them (f) —— And David my ſervant ſhall be King over them, and they all ſhall have one Shepherd, &c. —— And

And my ſervant David ſhall be their Prince for ever. In theſe and like Promiſes of Chriſt, Chriſt is called David, becauſe he is Gods true DAVID indeed, typified by King David of old. And the whole ſeries of this Covenant implies thus much.

Now DAVID was a Type of Chriſt. In regard of his 1. Perſon. 2. Office. 3. Condition. 4. Acts done, or effects wrought by him.

1. In his Perſon; David was a type of Chriſt three waies: For, 1. He was (not without ſpecial Providence) called (g) DAVID which in Hebrew is the ſame with דוד DOD Beloved; Beloved, of God, A man after his own heart. Chriſt alſo is called DAVID, Jer. 30. 9. Hoſ. 3. 5. Ezek. 34. 23, 24. and 37. 24, 25. being his Beloved Son, Mat. 3. 17. The Beloved, Eph. 1. 6. The Son of his love, Col. 1. 13. ſo, both of them are, David's: Both Beloved. 2. Both of them Sons of Jeſs. David, 2 Sam. 23. 1, 2. Chriſt (h) a Rod out of the ſtem of Jeſs, and a branch out of his roots. Both of them (i) out of dry and deſpiſed roots: low and obſcure Parentage. 3. Both of them Sons of God; yea Gods First-born. David, Pſal. 89. 26, 27. Chriſt, Heb. 1. 1, 6. Math. 1. 25. Chriſt is ſo Gods First begotten, that he is his only begotten Son, John 1. 14. and 3. 16. David ſo by ſupernatural Adoption: Chriſt ſo, by eternal Generation, according to his Divine Perſon, Pſal. 2. 7. John 1. 1. by extraordinary conception by the Holy-Ghoſt, according to his Humane Nature Luke 1. 34, 35, 36.

II. In his office. For David was;

1. A Prophet, Acts 2. 30. He Penned by the inſpiration of Gods Spirit, that ſweet part of Holy Scripture, the Pſalms, for the greateſt part of them at leaſt. Hence ſtiled, (k) the ſweet Pſalmiſt of Iſrael. So Chriſt is the Great Prophet, Acts 7. 37. and 3. 32. Luke 24. 19. David did but Pen the Scripture: but Chriſt indited it by his Spirit, 2 Tim. 3 16. 2 Pet. 1. 21. Hence the Scripture is called (l) the word of Chriſt.

(k) 2 Sam. 23. 1, 2.

2. A Prieſt. David was a Prieſt ſomewhat extraordinarily, (m) in his building an Altar in the threſhing flore of Araunah the Jebuſite, a Gentile, (the place (n) where Iſaac was offered in a Figure, and where afterwards Solomon built the Temple, 1 Chron. 3. 1. both Types of Chriſt,) and in his offering a Sacrifice there for the Land to ſtay the plague of peſtilence; which God accepted, and the plague was ſtayed: So Jeſus Chriſt was our (o) great and moſt extraordinary High-Prieſt, who upon the Altar of his God-head offered himſelf a Sacrifice at Jeruſalem for the ſins of Jews and Gentiles that Gods wrath might be ſtayed: which Sacrifice was moſt acceptable as an odour of a ſweet ſmell to God, Heb. 10. 5 to 19. Eph. 5. 2.

3. A King. This was David's Primary and Ordinary office, wherein he was a moſt ſingular Type of Chriſt, the King of Kings. For,

(1) Both of them were Kings, Mat. 1. 6. John 18. 37.

(2) Both of them were Kings of Iſrael, 2 Sam. 6. 20. Pſalm 78. 70, 71. John 1. 49. and 12, 13.

(3) Both of them Meſsiahs, that is, Annointed, yea both the Annointed of God unto their Kingly Office, hence called, Gods Kings, Pſal. 2. 2, 6. and 18. 15. David annointed with material Oyl by Samuel, 1 Sam. 16. 13. Chriſt annointed with Immaterial Oyl, the Oyl of gladneſs above all his fellows, Pſal. 45. 7. God having annointed him with the Holy-Ghoſt and with power, Act. 10. 38.

(4) Both of them furniſhed with the Spirit of God for their Royal Government, upon their annointing David, 1 Sam. 16. 13. Chriſt Act. 10. 38. Mat. 3. 16.

III. In his Condition and State. Herein David notably typified Chriſt: See the Agreement herein betwixt David the Type, and Chriſt the Anti-type.

1. Both of them were born of obſcure and mean parents in Bethlehem, Joh. 7. 42. Mat. 2. 5, 6.

2. Both of them were advanced from a low and deſpicable ſtate to their Royal dignity. David, a caula ad aulam, from a mean family to the Kingdom, 2 Sam. 7. 18. and 23. 1, 2. from the Shepherds ſtaff to the Scepter, Pſal. 78. 70, 71. 1 Sam. 16. 11, 12. So Chriſt from a mean Parentage to Kingly Dignity, born King of the Jews; from the Manger to the Throne, Iſa. 53. 2. Luk. 2. 4, 5, 6, 7. Mat. 2. 2.

3. Both of them met with grievous Oppoſition when once it was known that they were ordained and appointed of God for the Kingdom. David was ſo perſecuted by King Saul, that he fled to heatheniſh Nations, 2 Sam. 21. 40. & 22. 3. & 27. 2. Chriſt as ſoon as it was noiſed that he was born King of the Jews, was cruelly perſecuted by King Herod, ſo that (p) he fled to the Heathen Country Egypt.

4. Both of them having obtained the Kingdom, were deeply afflicted by variety of Adverſaries, Pſal. 2. 1, 2, &c. Act. 4. 24, 25, 26, 27, 28. For, 1. David, was oppugned by the Philiſtines, 2 Sam. 5. 17. & 8. 1, 2, 3, 5. & 10. 6. exiled from his Kingdom by Abſolom, 2 Sam. 15. 12, 14. Pſal. 3. 1. betrayed by Achitophel his familiar Counſellor, 2 Sam. 16. 21. & 17. 1. curſed by Shemei, 2 Sam. 16. 5, 6, 7. Forſaken and mortally purſued by his own people, 2 Sam. 18. 6. and had as it were gall and vinegar given him to drink, Pſal. 69. 21. 2. Chriſt in like manner, was rejected of his own, John 1. 11. & 9. 21. Traduced with horrid and blaſphemous reproaches, Mat. 10. 25. & 12. 24. Joh 9. 24. Betrayed by Judas one of his own familiar Diſciples, Pſal. 14. 10. & 55. 14. Ioh. 13. 18. Caſt out of his Vineyard & Kingdom by the Scribes, Prieſts and Elders, Pſal. 118. 22. Mat. 21. 42, 43. Perſecuted by the Jews his own people, even to the death upon the Croſs, Iohn 19. 15. Act. 2. 23, 36. and 3. 13, 14. and Delivered to Death at laſt by Pilate, &c. Pſal. 2. 1, 2. Act. 4. 24, 25, 26, 27. Having Gall and Vinegar given him to drink, Pſal. 69. 22. Mat. 27. 34. Iohn 19. 28, 29.

5. Both of them at laſt were Exalted to an high and glorious ſtate. David after all his afflictions retained his Kingdom in peace and honor, nour, having rest from his enemies round about, 2 Sam. 7. 1. and 22. 31. 1 King. 1. 17. and at last was full of daies, riches, and honour, 1 Chron. 29. 28. So Christ after all his Conflicts and Sufferings, having conquered his enemies on every side, and led captivity Captive, entred into his heavenly glory, Rom. 8. 3. Col. 2. 14, 15. Heb. 2. 9, 14, 15. Phil. 1. 8, &c. Luk. 24. 26.

6. Both of them had their Kingdom enlarged even over strangers. David became Head of the Heathens about him, so that strangers unknown served him, and he was higher then the Kings of the Earth, Psal. 18. 44. and 89. 27. Christ also became Head not only of Iews but of Gentiles also; having all power over them, being Lord of Lords, and King of Kings, Eph. 2. 12. Psal. 2. 8. Mat. 28. 18, 19. Rev. 19. 16.

7. Both of them had an Everlasting Kingdom stablished upon them. David in some respects only, Psal. 89. 3, 4, 36, 37. Christ absolutely, Psal. 45. 6. Isa. 9. 6, 7. Dan. 2. 44.

IIII. Finally, In his Acts or Works done by him. Herein also David notably resembled and typified Jesus Christ, sundry waies. For,

1. Both of them Believed and Hoped in God, rolling themselves upon him by Faith and Prayer in their Distresses, David, Psal. 3. 4, 7. and 22. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, &c. and 17. 6, 13. So also Christ, Psal. 22. 17, 2. Ioh. 11. 42. Mat. 27. 46. Heb. 5. 7.

2. Both of them walked holily and religiously before God. David, though he had many frailties, yet walked sincerely, Psal. 18. 21, 22. 1 King. 15. 5. But Christ walked without all spot of sin, Isa. 53. 9. Heb. 7. 26.

3. Both of them were zealous for God, for his worship, Laws and Ordinances. David, Psal. 119. 72, 103. and 84. 11. and 122. 1. and 69. 10. and 101. 7, 8. Much more Christ, Ioh. 4. 34. Mat. 6. 42. Psal. 69. 10. Ioh. 2. 15, 17.

4. Both of them were universally obedient to God their heavenly Father. David obeyed him sincerely, 1 King. 9. 4. Act. 13. 22. 1 King. 15. 3, 5. But Christ obeyed him exactly in all things, doing alwaies those things that pleased him, yea he was obedient to the Death, even the cursed, and shameful, and painful Death of the Cross, Iohn 8. 29. Phil. 2. 8.

5. Both of them walked very wisely and prudently. David was wise in matters, 1 Sam. 16. 18. and behaved himself wisely in all his waies, 1 Sam. 18. 14. Christ had in him all treasures of wisdom and knowledge, Col. 2. 2, 3. Isa. 11. 1, 2. made men astonished at his understanding and answers, Luk. 2. 47. by his Word and Spirit makes wise unto Salvation, 2 Tim. 3. 15, 16. Col. 3. 16. 1 Cor. 2. 9, 10, &c.

6. Both of them excelled in fortitude and valour; 1. In Conquering and subduing their enemies. David subdued Goliah of Gath, 1 Sam. 17. slew Philistines and others, so that they sung of him, David hath ſlain his ten thouſands, 1 Sam. 18. 10. But Chriſt ſubdued greater Enemies, ſpiritual Enemies, Sin, Satan, the world, &c. Rom. 8. 3. Ioh. 16. 11. Col. 2. 14, 15. Heb. 2. 14, 15. John 16. ult. Pſal. 110. 1, 2. 2. In Protecting and defending their Subjects. David, Pſal. 101. 4, 5, 6, 8. Chriſt, Iſa. 11. 4. he protected his Saints and ſubjects againſt Sauls (q) perſecution.

(q) Act. 9, throughout.

7. Both of them Ruled and Governed righteouſly in the fear of God. David, 2 Sam. 23. 3. Pſalm 101. throughout. Yet with ſome intermixture of failings. Chriſt without all failings and miſcarriages, Iſa. 11. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, &c. Pſalm 45. 7, &c.

8. Finally, Both of them were loving and tender to their Parents. David in his trouble requeſts the King of Moab, that his Father and Mother might dwell by him, 1 Sam. 22. 3. Chriſt upon the Croſs commends his Mother to the care of John his beloved Diſciple, Ioh. 19. 26, 27.

In theſe and many like reſpects David was an eminent Type of Chriſt.

SOLOMON the immediate Seed of David was alſo a notable Type of Ieſus Chriſt, who was greater then Solomon, Mat. 12. 42. Luk. 11. 31. And this in his Perſon, Office, State and Acts.

I. In His Perſon. For 1. Both of them were ſons of David by Nature. Solomon in an ordinary way of Generation, Matth. 1. 6. Chriſt in an extraordinary way of Propagation, Mat. 1. 1. with Luk. 1. 32, 35. 2. Both of them, Beloved of God. Solomon named Iedid-jah, that is, Beloved-of-the-LORD, and this by Gods appointment, 2 Sam. 12. 24, 25. Chriſt, called Gods beloved Son in whom he was well-pleaſed, Mat. 3. 17. and the ſon of his Love, Col. 1. 13. 3. Both of them Sons of God, 2 Sam. 7. 14. with Heb. 1. 5.

(r) Prov. 1. 1. Eccleſ. 1. 1. Song. 1. 1.

II. In his Office. For,

1. Both of them were Prophets. 1. Solomon was, A Preacher in Ieruſalem, Eccl. 1. 1, 12. And (r) an Holy Penman of thoſe three eminent Books of Scripture, Proverbs, Eccleſiaſtes, and Song of Songs. Thus he was a Prophet. 2. But Chriſt a greater Prophet, That Prophet, Joh. 6. 14. Act. 3. 23. The Spirit of Prophecy is from him, Rev. 19. 10. Eph. 4 11. He alſo was Preacher in Ieruſalem, John 18. 19, 20, 21. And he indited all the Holy Scriptures, Col. 3. 16. by his Spirit, 2 Pet. 1. 20, 21.

(s) שלם Pax, proſperitas, &c.

2. Both of them were Kings. viz. 1. Both Kings of Iſrael, Prov. 1. 1. John 1. 49. and 12. 13. 2. Both Kings in Ieruſalem, Eccleſ. 1. 1. Luk. 19. 37, 38. Mat. 21. 5, 9. 3. Both Kings of Peace. Solomon, that is, (s) Peaceable, Proſperous, &c. his very name had peace ingraven upon it by God himſelf, 1 Chron. 22. 9. He was a man of reſt: God gave him reſt from all his enemies round about: And by this means Iſrael and Judah dwelt peaceably without fear under their Vine and Fig-tree; yea God gave peace and quietneſs to Iſrael in his daies, 1 Chron. 22. 9. 1 King. 4. 25. But Ieſus

Chriſt

Christ procures his subjects an inward, spiritual, heavenly, everlasting Peace with God passing all understanding, Rom. 5. 1. Iohn 14. 27. and 16. 33. Phil. 4. 7. So that he is our peace, Eph. 2. 14. The Prince of Peace, Isa. 9. 6. His Scepter is the Gospel of Peace, Psal. 110. 2. Isa. 2. 3. Eph. 6. 15. His Kingdom consists in righteousness and peace, Rom. 14. 17. His subjects are subjects of Peace, Luke 1. 79. His birth and coming into the world was with a Song of Peace by the Angels, Luke 2. 14. And his Death and going out of the world was with a Blessing of peace left with his Disciples, Iohn 16. 33. and 14. 27. He (t) makes the Wolf dwell with the Lamb; The Leopard lie down with the Kid; The Calf, the young Lyon, and the Fatling together, that a little child may lead them; The Cow and the Bear to feed, and their young ones to lie down together; The sucking child to play on the Hole of the Asp: and the weaned child to put his hand on the Cokatrice Den. 4. Both Kings of incomparable wisdom, 1 Kings 3. 9, 12. Col. 2. 2, 3. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Isa. 9. 6.

(t) Isa. 11. 6, 7, 8, 9.

III. In his State and Condition. For,

1. Both of them were exceeding Rich. Solomon (u) made Silver and Gold at Jerusalem as plenteous as stones, and the Cedar-trees as the Sycomore trees that are in the vale for abundance. But Christ the true Solomon, is infinitely higher. He is heir of all things, Heb. 1. 2. hath unsearchable Riches, Ephes. 3. 8. All that the Father hath, is his, Iohn 16. 15. His riches are Spiritual and Heavenly, far transcending all Solomons outward wealth: Riches of Righteousness and pardons, Rom. 1. 17. 1 Iohn 1. 7. and 2. 1, 2. Riches of Grace, Ioh. 1. 14, 16. Riches of Truth, Iohn 1. 14. Riches of life, Iohn 15. 10. All fulness, Col. 1. 17.

(u) Chron. 2. 1. 15. and 9. 22.

(x) 1 King. 5. 13.

2. Both of them full of Princely Glory and Royalty. Solomon (x) surpassed in Princely glory all that were before and after him, 2 Chron. 9. throughout, and Eccles. 2. throughout. The daughters of Sion admire his Crown and Royalty, Cant. 3. 11. and the Queen of Sheba was so astonished at it that there was no more spirit in her, 2 Chro. 9. 3, 4. Yet Solomon in all his Royalty and Glory was not cloathed like one of the Lilies, Mat. 6. 29. But Christ is the brightness of his Fathers Glory, and the express image of his Person, Heb. 1. 3. having not one, but many Crowns upon his head, and the Armies of Heaven following him upon white Horses, and on his thigh and vesture a Name written, King of Kings and Lord of Lords, Rev. 19. 12, 16.

3. Both of them of great and large Dominion, not only over Jews, but also over Gentiles. That of the Psalmist concerns them both, but especially is true of Christ in whom it is primarily accomplished, Psalm 72. 8, 9, 10, 11. See also 2 Chron. 9. 24, 28. Mat. 28. 18, 19.

(y) 2 Sam. 18.

IV. In his Acts, Solomon was a singular Type of Iesus Christ. For, (z) 1 Chron. 22.

1. Both of them were Builders of the House and Temple of God. Solomon built the Material and dead Temple at Jerusalem of materials fetched from both the Holy Land and Foreign Nations, and that very very magnifically. See 2 Chron. chap. 2, and 3, and 4. throughout. After which, he solemnly dedicated it by Prayer and Sacrifices, 2 Chron. chap. 5, and 6. And set in order the service of the Temple, 2 Chron. 8. 14, 15, 16. But Jesus Christ builds the Mystical, Spiritual and living Temple, the House and Church of God, of people both from among Jews and Gentiles, Heb. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, &c. Ephes. 2. 13, to the end: He also consecrated and solemnly dedicated his Spiritual Temple, both by Prayer, John 17. throughout, and by the Sacrifice of himself, John 17. 19. Heb. 10. 14. And set in Order most faithfully all the worship, Ordinances and Officers of his House, Heb. 3. 1, 2, &c. Acts 1. 2, 3. Mat. 28. 18, 19, 20. and 26. 26, to 31. and 18. 15, to 21. 1 Cor. 5. throughout. 2 Cor. 2. 6, &c. Ephes. 4. 8, to 17.

2. Both of them Ruled righteously, Psalm 72. 1. to 8, 12, 13, 14. As Solomon in punishing offendors after Davids death, 1 King. 2. throughout. and in giving the child to the right mother, 1 Kings 3. 16, to the end. But Christ is the Lord our Righteousness, Ier. 33. 15, 16. He rules so righteously, that he makes all his subjects righteous, 1 Cor. 1. 30.

3. Both of them enriched their subjects abundantly. Solomon enriched his subjects with outward temporal wealth, 2 Chron. 1. 15. But Jesus Christ enricheth his subjects both with outward and inward, temporal, spiritual and eternal wealth. He alone gives the true and chief Riches, 2 Cor. 8, 9. 1 Cor. 1. 5. Ephes. 1. 3. 1 Cor. 2. 9, 10. 1 Tim. 4. 8. 1 Cor. 3. 20, 21, 22. Christ is heir of all things, Heb. 1. 2. and all true believers are heirs, co-heirs with Christ, Rom. 8. 15, 16, 17. Thus Jesus Christ is The DAVID, and The SOLOMON.

III.

Thirdly, Hence we may clearly take notice, what the Properties of this Covenant are. It is, 1. Gratuitous; 2. Evangelical; 3. Mixt; 4. Ordered in all things; 5. Sure and faithful; 6. Everlasting; 7. And comfortable. Of these briefly.

1. Gratuitous. Of meer free grace to David and his Seed. And that, not only ex gratia favoris, from the grace of free favour, for so Gods Covenant and promise to, and blessings upon man in innocency, were all of Grace, undeserved by man from his maker; But also ex gratia Commiserationis, from his Grace of Commiseration, whereby he in bowels of Compassion heaps Good upon his sinful Creatures, deserving all contrary Evil. Thus, of free favour without any desert of David, yea of free Commiseration contrary to his desert, this Covenant was made with David. Hence David, wholly excluding himself and his House from being any Motive ground or Cause of this Covenant; (y) who am I, and what is my House, &c. ascribes all to Gods meer grace, as the inward Impulsive Cause;

(y) 2 Sam. 7. 18, 19, 20.

(z) 1 Chron. 17. 19. with 2 Sam. 7. 21.

Cause; and to Jesus Christ the Essential Word and servant of God, as the Outward Impulsive Cause thereof. (z) For thy Word's sake, for thy servants sake, and according to thine own heart, hast thou done all this Greatness, in making known all these Greatnesses.

(z) 1 Chron. 17. 19. with 2 Sam. 7. 21.

II. Evangelical. This is a pure Evangelical Covenant: Meer Gospel. For, 1. This Covenant is an Additional Enlargement to the Sinai-Covenant, which is purely Evangelical, as hath been proved, in Chap. 4. 2. The Moving Cause of this Covenant was the meer Commiserating Grace of God in Jesus Christ. And all Covenants which have their Original in such Grace, are purely Evangelical. 3. The foundation of this Covenant is Evangelical. viz. Jesus Christ (a) the Word, and servant of God. 4. The Matter and Substance of this Covenant is wholly Evangelical: viz. Covenant-Mercies in Christ promised on Gods part, and Covenant-Duties in Christ re-promised on Davids part. This (b) hath at large been unfolded. 5. The Scope and intended End of this Covenant was Evangelical also: viz. The further Revealing of Jesus Christ more peculiarly, for advancing the true Happiness of David and his Seed. Thus, Gods Covenant with David, was Gods Gospel preached to David and his Seed: setting forth the sweet tidings of their Restitution from the Kingdom of Sin, Satan and Death by the prevailing and everlasting Kingdom of Iesus Christ, shadowed out in the Kingdom of David and his Seed.

(a) 2 Sam. 7. 21. 1 Chron. 17. 19.

(b) In this 5. Chap. Aphor. 4

III. Mixt. This Covenant was a mixt Covenant. How? 1. Not only Mixt of Covenant-blessings promised by God, and Covenant-Duties re-promised by David: as all Covenants are proportionably in reference to the Fœderates. 2 But Mixt and made up of Promises, and Threats. Many eminent blessings are Promised to Covenant-keepers; And on the other hand, sundry (c) chastisements by stripes and rods of men, are threatned in case of Iniquities and sinful miscarriages against the Covenant. 3. And mixt also even in regard of Covenant-blessings themselves, some of them being Absolutely promised, and which should notwithstanding the very sins of Davids Seed be certainly and infallibly performed, as the Descent of Christ of David and his Seed according to the flesh. And the Everlasting Kingdom and Throne of Christ, &c. Some of them being only promised Conditionally, upon Condition of their Covenant-keeping with God, &c. As, (d) the sitting of his Seed upon his Throne for ever; His (e) making Sion his Habitation and Rest for ever, &c. The Condition is as the Sinew of the Promise. They failing in the Condition, cut asunder the sinews of all such Conditional Promises, and (if I may so speak) disoblige God.

IV. Ordered in all things. This Property David notes in his last words, saying, (f) yet he hath made with me an Everlasting Covenant, (f) 2 Sam. 23. 5.

nant, Ordered in all things. That is, Orderly disposed, orderly set, prepared, settled, &c. as the Hebrew word properly implies. Of this (g) I have spoken Generally, in opening the properties of the Covenant of faith in General: Most of the particulars there are applicable to this Covenant in Particular. There see. This Covenant is Ordered in all things in divers respects. For, (i) The (h) Occasion of this Royal Covenant touching Gods building David an House, was when Israels Governors were now changed from Judges into Kings, and Gods first King, David, had it in his heart to build God an House.

(g) Book II. Chap. 2. Aph. 1. Sect. 5

(h) 2 Sam. 7. 1, 2, &c.

2. The Fœderates, (i) God, on the One hand, David and his Seed, Especially Christ on the other hand. 3. The Impulsive causes, (k) not any at all from David or his House: but, Inwardly Gods own heart and good-pleasure; Outwardly Christ the Lords Word and servant. 4. The blessings promised, were Orderly directed, First, to David himself. Then, to his Seed Ordinary and extraordinary, And lastly to his and his Seeds subjects; and in like sort Orderly, performed, First to David, then to his ordinary Seed and Subjects, lastly and chiefly to Christ and his Kingdom. 5. The Conditions required, are also orderly annexed to the Compleating of this Covenant-constitution. 6. The Form and Dispensation of it is so ordered, that it is subordinate to and comprized under the Sinai-Covenant-Administration: and yet the great Mysterie of Christ and his Kingly Office is displayed with a clearer Revelation. 7. The Scope of it also, Immediate and Remote, Subordinate and Ultimate, as hath been explained, is all well Ordered. Thus this whole Covenant hath an Excellent Order, Disposal, Preparation, Symmetry and Proportion throughout.

V. Sure and Faithful. This David also acknowledged, (l) —— A Covenant Ordered in all things, and Sure. The Hebrew שמור Shemureh, properly signifies, Kept Observed, Performed, and that, with care, solicitude and diligence. God made it every way Sure to David and his Seed; As, 1. By (m) his Name JEHOVAH, denoting Gods giving Subsistence actually to his Covenant and Promises. 2. By his immutable Promises whereupon this Covenant is established. Yea by Promises of special Ratification annexed, Psal. 89, 33, &c. 3. By the sacred inviolable Oath of God, of which he will not repent, and from which he will not turn. This is often mentioned, Psal. 89. 2, 3, 35. and 132. 11. Acts 2. 30. 4. By frequent recitals, allegations, expositions, enlargements of this Covenant in other Scriptures. See 2 Sam. 7. 1 Chron. 17. 2 Sam. 23. 1, to 10. Psal. 89. throughout. Psal. 132. throughout, Jer 33. 20, 21. Luke 1. 32, 33. Acts 2. 30, 31. 5. By gradual accomplishments thereof from time to time. 6. By Ascertaining and Ensuring Illustrations. That this Covenant shall be as inviolable, Sure and Unalterable, as The Heavens themselves, Psal. 89. 2, 29. As the Moon, Psal. 89. 37. As the Sun, Psal. 89. 36. As the Course of Day and Night, Jer 33. 20, 21. Yea, As God himself, Psal. 89. 35.

(m) 2 Sam. 7. 5, 8. 1 Chr. 17. 4 7. 10. with Exodus 6. 3.

VI. Everlasting

VI. Everlasting. This Property also David expresseth; (n) Although my House be not so with God, yet he hath made with me an Everlasting Covenant. But of this enough hath been spoken formerly in Opening the Matter of this Covenant, in the second and third Covenant-Mercies promised to Davids Seed. There see. And in the first Mercy to Davids Subjects. (n) 2 Sam. 23.5.

VII. Finally, This Covenant with David was a Comfortable Covenant. This Property necessarily results from all the former. For, In that this Covenant was Gratuitous, depending meerly upon God, Evangelical, Mixt, having Promises absolute as well as conditional, Ordered in all things, Sure, and Everlasting; In all these regards it was exceeding Comfortable. And upon these Considerations (o) David in his last words notably raised up his Consolations upon this Covenant, placing all his Salvation, and all his delight thereupon, although at present his house was not so with God as the Covenant promised. And this Covenant was his comfort to his last breath, to his dying day. Oh! the Covenant and Promises of God in Jesus Christ are the safest, surest, sweetest, and most immovable Comforts of Believers both in life and death. Let our last words, and last thoughts be all fixed upon Gods Covenant, as Davids were. (o) 2 Sam. 23.4, 5.

IV.

Fourthly, Hence see, what Agreement and Disagreement this Covenant with David hath, with, or from all former Covenants. For, This Covenant being an additional Covenant, annexed to, and comprized in the Sinai-Covenant, and in some respects expounding and enlarging the same, hath a sweet Agreement with the Sinai-Covenant, and very little difference from it: And consequently, As the Sinai-Covenant, so this Covenant Agrees with, or from the former Covenants.

I. It Agrees with the Sinai-Covenant, and so with former Covenants,

1. In the kind or sort of Covenant. This, as all the former being Covenants of Faith, not of Works; and Covenants of Promise, not of Performance.

2. In the Efficient and Impulsive cause. God being the Author of all: Gods meer Grace being the Inward impulsive, Christs Merit the Outward impulsive cause of them all.

3. In the general Consideration of the Fœderates. The LORD God being the one Party promising: Jesus Christ and his spiritual Seed being the other Party Restipulating in all.

4. In the general Summ and Substance of the Covenants. The Recovery and Happiness of lapsed and lost sinners by Christ being the Mercy promised: True fruitfull obediential Faith in Christ being the Duty Restipulated in all. All other Covenant-Mercies and Duties may be reduced to these two.

5. In the mysterie of sinners Justification revealed in them all: which is by Faith in Christ alone. David under this Covenant thus (p) describes it.

(p) Psal. 32. 1, 2. with Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8.

6. In the common Foundation and Establishment of the Covenants. They all being founded upon Jesus Christ alone, and the inviolable Promises of God in him.

7. In the general sameness of End. The revealing of Jesus Christ, in order to lapsed sinners Recovery and Happiness, and Gods glory, being the intendment of them all.

II. It Disagrees from the former Covenants, in such sort and accidental respects as the Sinai-Covenant (comprizing this Covenant) differs from them. Which differences of the Sinai-Covenant from them (q) have been already explained.

(q) In Book III. chap. 4. Aph. 7. Corol. 5.

And it somewhat disagrees from the very Sinai-Covenant it self. As,

1. In the peculiar Notion of the Fœderates: For, In that, God Covenanted, as JEHOVAH, Their Covenant-God, Redeemer, Law-giver, and Husband: In this, God Covenanted as, The LORD of Hoasts, The God and Rock of Israel, A Father to David and his Seed, The God of David, And Rock of his Salvation. Again, In that, Israel Restipulated, as Abrahams Covenant-Seed, The Lords Redeemed, His Espoused people, His Heirs under age, and as his own Common-wealth and National Church in the Wilderness: But in this, David himself Restipulated; As, A mighty one, Gods chosen, Gods servant, Gods anointed King, and Gods First-born, higher then the Kings of the Earth. And Davids Seed Restipulated, As, Gods Son, and Gods King for evermore.

2. In the Individual Mercies Promised, and Duties Restipulated. As may easily be discerned by making a Parallel betwixt them. But especially, the Mercies promised in this Covenant have their chief tendency to the advancement and establishment of the Kingly power and glory of David, of his Seed, and chiefly of Jesus Christ for evermore: And the Duties herein more peculiarly restipulated were the Religious and Righteous Rule of David, his Seed, and of Jesus Christ the primary Seed of David.

3. In the peculiar manner of Manifestation and Confirmation. That (r) was manifested to all Israel immediatly by God, in most dreadful sort, at Mount Sinai, God speaking to them out of the midst of the fire with a great voice: This to David Mediatly by the Prophet Nathan, according to the vision which he had from God. That being (s) solemnly confirmed by Sacrifices at the skirt of Mount Sinai: This by Gods sacred and immutable (t) Oath especially.

(r) Exod. 20. 1, &c. Deut. 5. 1, &c.

(t) Psal. 89. 3 35. & 132. 11.

4. In the peculiarity of Ends. That tending to reveal Jesus Christ the Mediator of the Covenant, Partly as a Prophet, under the Type of Moses; Partly and principally as a Priest, under the Types of the Leviticall Priesthood, and the whole Leviticall service of God. But this chiefly ayming to set Christ forth as a King under the Type of of David and his Royal Seed) that ſhould Rule over the Houſe of Iacob the Church for evermore.

V.

Fifthly and laſtly, Hence it is evident, That in this Covenant much of Chriſt was revealed to David and his Seed: yea ſo much, that both David and Solomon knew and ſpake much of Chriſt in their ſacred writings. Take a brief taſt hereof:

DAVID knew and propheſied much of JESUS CHRIST. viz. Of his 1. Perſon. 2. Office. 3. States. 4. Effects of his Offices.

Theſe things ſpake DAVID of CHRIST, having an eminent Prophetical knowledge of him, and that particularly by means of this excellent Covenant with him, Acts 2. 29, 30, 31. So that that in Davids writings much of Christ is revealed: and out of them an excellent GOSPEL may be extracted.

SOLOMON also the immediate Seed and Son of David, Knew much, and Propheſied much of JESUS CHRIST in his writings which he penned by Inſpiration of the Holy Ghoſt. As,

1 Of his Godhead. That he is the Everlaſting Wiſdom of God, that makes wiſe to ſalvation, &c. Prov. 8. throughout.

5 Of his Calling and Converſion of the little Siſter of the Gentiles; that ſhe ſhould be in his eyes as one that finds favour: and therefore, As on a wall, he would build upon her a Palace of Silver; And as a Door, he would encloſe her with boards of Cedar. That is, In Spirituals ſhe ſhould be precious, fragrant and acceptable to God, and durable, as Silver, or Cedar of which the Temple was builded, Cant. 8. 8, 9, 10.

6. Finally, Of Chriſts haſtening to Compleat his Churches ſweeteſt Glory with himſelf in Heaven, She longing for his ſecond coming, Make haſte my beloved, and be thou like to a Roe, or to a young Hart upon the Mountains of Spices, Cant. 8. 14.

Hitherto of Gods Royal Covenant with DAVID and his SEED.

CHAP. VI.

Of the Discovery, Nature and Administration of Gods Covenants of Promise, in the sixth and last noted Period of time, viz. From the Babylonish-captivity, till the Death of the Blessed Messiah JESUS CHRIST.

The Preface to this Covenants Explanation, viz. Of this Covenants, 1. Duration. 2. Difference from Davids. 3 And Order of handling it.

1. THE sixth and last observable Period of time, wherein God renewed with divers sweet spiritual Enlargements, the COVENANT of FAITH in CHRIST PROMISED for sinners Restauration and Salvation, (which is the last of the (a) COVENANTS of PROMISE) was, From the Babylonish Captivity, till the death, and cutting off of the Messiah, our Lord and only Saviour JESUS CHRIST. This is Evident chiefly upon two Considerations, viz. 1. The first Manifestation, and 2. The expiration of this Covenant, as to that which was vanishing therein. I. This Covenant was first and most especially Revealed to three holy Prophets from the Lord, and by them to the Jews. viz. 1. To the Prophet (b) Isaiah long before the Captivity of the Jews in Babylon came to pass, yet with reference to that Captivity, See Isa. 42. 6, &c. & 49. 8, &c. Also 54. 9, 10. & 59. 21. with 61 8, &c. & 55. 3, 4. & 56. 3. to 9. In which passages express mention is made of this Covenant. He foretold the Captivity: and also foretold this Comfortable Covenant to the Captives. 2. To (c) Ezekiel in the twelfth year of their Captivity, for the support and Comfort of Gods Captives. This Covenant prepared them for the Captivity, and supported them under it. In Ezekiel this Covenant is laid down most pathetically and sweetly. 3. To the Prophet (d) Jeremiah in the eighteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar, and tenth year of Zedekiah, when the King of Babylons Army besieged Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the Prophet was shut up in the Court of the Prison, in the King of Judah's house. Now this was in the eighteenth year of the Captivity, or thereabouts. For clearing this, note, that Judah and Jerusalem were Captivated by the Babylonians four several times, viz. (1) In the (e) third year of Jehojakim, King of Judah; which was parallel to Nebuchadnezzar's first year. (2) In the seventh year of Nebuchadnezzar, Jer. 52 28. and in the eighth year of Nebuchadnezzar, 2 Kings 24. 12. That is, in the latter end of his his ſeventh, and beginning of his eighth year. At this time he carryed to Babylon ten thouſand Captives, 2 Kings 24. 12, 13, 14. Of which number three thouſand twenty and three were Jews properly ſo called, of the Tribe of Iudah, Jer. 52. 28. the remainder were of the Tribe of Benjamin: and thus that two-fold difference about the Computation in Ieremiah and the Kings is eaſily reconciled: Now under this Captivity, in the twelfth year, God revealed this Covenant to (f) Ezekiel. (3) In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, when he (g) carryed Captive from Jeruſalem eight hundred thirty and two perſons. At this time this Covenant of God with the Captives was revealed to (h) Ieremiah, which ſeems formerly to be revealed to Ezekiel. (4) In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadnezzar, when (i) Nebuzaradan carryed Captive ſeven hundred forty and five Jews. Thus this Covenant was revealed firſt to Iſaiah, then to Ezekiel, then to Ieremiah, and to all before and under the Babyloniſh Captivity: So that it was A Covenant to the Captivity, Or, The uncaptivating Covenant. This was the Seaſon of this Covenants Commencing. II. This Covenant-Diſpenſation expired not till the (k) death of Jeſus Chriſt, which put a period both to this, and the Sinai-Covenant together, in regard of that which was waxing old, and vaniſhing therein. So that the Interval, or ſpace of time allotted to this Covenant of God with the Captives in Babylon, was above the whole ſeventy years of their Captivity: And after that (l) the ſeventy weeks of years revealed to Daniel, till Meſſiah ſhould be cut off; which ſeem to begin when the ſeventy years Captivity ended, Dan. 9. 25.

2. By this Covenant-Expreſſure, the Sinai-Covenant (remaining ſtill in force) was eminently enlarged, as well as by Gods former Covenant with David. This hath been (m) formerly cleared. And therefore this Covenant ran parallel with the Sinai-Covenant, from the Captivity till the death of Chriſt: when they (n) both, according to what was vaniſhing in them, expired together; the NEW-COVENANT obtaining and commencing inſtead of the old. Both theſe Covenants, viz. with David and the Jews, were Additional Explanations and Enlargements of the Sinai-Covenant, but differently. 1. That was peculiarly directed to Davids Family: This, To the whole people of the Jews. 2. That, To Davids Family in Proſperity: This, To the Jews in great Adverſity. 3. That, when the Civil Rulers were changed from Judges to Kings: This, when they were changed from Kings to Governours. 4. That, Eſtabliſhing the Kingdom of David and his Seed for ever, eſpecially in the everlaſting Kingdom of Jeſus Chriſt. This, Aſſuring the Jews of their Reſtauration from Babyloniſh Captivity into their own Land, eſpecially that Jeſus Chriſt the true David might be a Prince over them. 5. That, was more peculiarly a Royal Covenant: This, more ſpecially an uncaptivating Covenant. 6. That Covenant brought forth the magnifical and glorious Temple of Solomon: This Covenant, the the (o) more glorious Temple of Zerubbabel, into which Jesus Christ himself came in Person, who is the desire of all Nations. 7. By that Covenant God Promised to raise up Christ of the Seed of David to sit upon his Throne: By this Covenant God not only Promised, but also Performed and exhibited Jesus Christ the chief Seed of David, sitting upon his Throne for evermore. Thus both these Covenants agree in substance with the Sinai-Covenant; both of them confirm, explain and enlarge the Sinai-Covenant, but in a different way: And both of them tender Christ to the Jews, That Promising him at a great distance; but this bringing Christ into the world as it were in its Arms, who is (p) the Salvation of God, the Light of the Gentiles, and the Glory of the People Israel.

(p) Luke 2. 30, 31, 32.

This Covenant is represented in many Heavenly and Spiritual Promises in the MESSIAH approaching; and particularly (q) defines the time of the Messiah's being cut off, but not for himself; which no former Covenant had done. This Covenant Performs Christ, which foregoing Covenants only Promised. This Covenant revealed him to the very (r) bodily eyes of Gods People, whom all former Covenants revealed only to the Spiritual eye of their Faith. This Covenant peculiarly sets forth (s) The LORD, whom they sought, even the Messenger of the Covenant, whom they delighted in, coming to his Temple. Now therefore raise we up our Contemplations and attentions to a further height of Spirituality and attentiveness, and let our hearts soar aloft to an higher pitch of enflamed spirituall heavenly Desires, Joyes and Affections towards CHRIST: in the consideration of this Covenant. Let our spirits rise, as the Covenant Riseth.

APHORISM I.

1. The Author, Occasion, Impulsive Cause, Fœderates and Nature of this Covenant.

UPon Occasion of Gods own Peoples sad Captivity in Babylon, the Lord graciously renewed his Covenant with them, even his Covenant of Faith in the Promised MESSIAH. In this Aphorism are comprized, 1. The Author of this Covenant; God. 2. The Occasion of it; His peoples sad Captivity in Babylon. 3. The Impulsive Cause of it; Meer grace in Jesus Christ. 4. The Fœderates; God, and the afflicted Captives.

Captives. 5. The Nature of it; A Covenant of Faith, and a Covenant of Promiſe, in Chriſt promiſed. For brevity ſake I couch all theſe Particulars in this one ſhort Aphoriſm, and Explain them as followeth, viz.

I. The Author of this Covenant, was the LORD God. This is plain. For, 1. God revealed and foretold by his Prophet Iſaiah, That he would make ſuch a Covenant with his People, that ſhould be Captives in Babylon, long before the Captivity came to paſs. This is very obſervable in the fourth and laſt part of his Propheſie which is Promiſſory, from Chap. 40. 1, &c. to the end of his Book, which is eſpecially directed to his People, with reference to their Captivity in Babylon, which ſhould certainly come to paſs. Moſt, if not all his Sermons after that, obſervably inſiſting upon Their Babyloniſh Captivity, their Comforts under it, their certain Deliverance out of t, and the happy Reſtauration of their Chucrh and Common wealth, their Temple, City Jeruſalem, &c. when they ſhould be brought again into their own Land: And under this Type leading them on further, to the great ſpiritual Deliverance of Gods People out of the wofull and more then Babyloniſh bondage under Sin, Satan, Wrath, &c. by the Meſsiah; as alſo to the advancement and enlargement of his ſpiritual Kingdom, by ſubduing and bringing in ſuch as had been enemies and aliens thereunto, even the Gentiles. Now in this Evangelical part of his Propheſie, Iſaiah makes often mention of Gods Covenant, with a ſpeciall tendency to their Conſolation againſt their future Captivity. As, (ᵗ) Of his Covenant, (ᵗ) upon which all that ſhould lay hold, ſhould have an everlaſting name that ſhould not be cut off, ſhould be brought to Gods holy mountain, &c. (ᵘ) Of the (ᵘ) Covenant of his Peace, more immovable then the very Hils and Mountains. (ˣ) Of his (ˣ) Everlaſting Covenant with them, in Chriſt the Redeemer, the Sure Mercies of David, &c. (ʸ) Of the Meſſiah himſelf, as (ʸ) a Covenant of the People. Chriſt is ſo called by a Metonymie, becauſe he is the Foundation, chief Matter, and an eminent End or ſcope of Gods Covenant with them. Thus ſaith the LORD, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of Salvation have I helped thee: and I will preſerve thee, and give thee for a COVENANT of the People, to eſtabliſh the Earth, to cauſe to inherit the deſolate heritages; That thou maiſt ſay to the priſoners, go forth; To them that are in darkneſs, ſhew your ſelves, &c. Diligently conſult thoſe places here noted in the Margin. Thus Iſaiah ſpake of this Covenant aforehand, and treaſured it up in ſtore againſt the time of their Captivity. 2. God revealed this Covenant to his Prophet Ezekiel; (ᶻ) Thus ſaith the Lord GOD——I will ſet up one Shepherd over them, and he ſhall feed them, even my ſervant David: He ſhall feed them, and he ſhall be their Shepherd. And I the LORD will be their God, and my ſervant David a Prince among them, I the LORD have ſpoken it. And I will make with them a COVENANT of Peace, &c. His Covenant-Promiſes are alſo ſweetly laid down, in Chap. 36. 22. &c. And afterwards (a) God having brought him in the Spirit into the valley full of bones, repreſenting the dead and hopeleſs Condition of the Captives in Babylon, among many other ſweet expreſſions, hath theſe words; Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold I will take the children of Iſrael from among the Heathen whither they be gone, &c. —— *Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it ſhall be an Everlaſting Covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will ſet my Sanctuary in the midſt of them for evermore. God revealed this Covenant alſo to (b) Jeremiah in the Court of the Priſon, in the eighteenth year of the Captivity, when Jeruſalem was beſieged. Thus ſaith the LORD, the God of Iſrael, concerning this City —— Behold I will gather them out of all Countries —— And they ſhall be my People, and I will be their God. And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them. And I will make an Everlaſting Covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they ſhall not depart from me, &c.

(a) Ezek 37. 1. 21. to the end of the Ch.

(b) Jer 32. 1, 2, 3, 36. to the end.

There are ſundry other paſſages in the Prophets ſetting forth the excellent bleſſings promiſed in this Covenant: but this Covenant is moſt eminently and peculiarly deſcribed by Iſaiah, Ezekiel and Jeremiah in the places fore-alledged, and unto theſe I ſhall have ſpeciall reference in opening the Matter of this Covenant. Thus the LORD God was ſole Author and Efficient Cauſe of this Covenant: The Prophets, Iſaiah, Ezekiel and Jeremiah, the inſtrumental Revealers and publiſhers thereof to them of the Captivity.

II. The Occaſion of this Covenant, was the ſad Captivity of Gods People of Judah and Jeruſalem, in Babylon. For clearing of this I ſhall briefly open theſe particulars, viz. 1. What Babylon this was wherein they were Captivated. 2. When, and how long they were Captivated there. 3. What were the Cauſes why God left them to be ſo Captivated. 4. That whilſt they were under this Captivity, God took occaſion to Reveal to them this Covenant: And why?

1. What Babylon this was wherein they were Captivated? Anſw. The Scripture mentions a two-fold Babylon, ſome think a three-fold Babylon, viz. I. Proper Babylon, or Litteral Babylon. Anciently called Babel, that is, Confuſion comes: or, Confuſion in it. So (c) called from from the event, viz. The confuſion of Languages, in the firſt building thereof. This was a very ancient City in Aſſyria, or rather in Chaldea, built by Nimrod the great Hunter before the LORD; ſo called, Not from his hunting of wilde beaſts, But from his hunting of men by tyrannie, oppreſſion, perſecution, cruelty, and that openly, audaciouſly, impudently, without any fear of the Lord &c.(d) Nimrod mighty in Hunting before the LORD: and the (e) beginning of his Kingdom was Babylon. This City and Tower was begun to be built in (f) a Plain in the Land of Shinar, that is, That-which-ſcattered-out-of-it, viz. the Inhabitants thereof upon the confuſion of Languages. This Shinar was alſo called (g) Chaldea; and Babylon, by the Chaldee Paraphraſt; and was the Land of Nimrod, Mic. 5. 6. Targum Hieruſalem calleth it Foytus. But it is uſually called Shinar, Gen. 11. 2, 9. and 14. 1. Iſa. 11. 11. Dan. 1. 2. And it is ſpecially noted for the Habitation and Receptacle of wickedneſs, Zach. 5. 11. Nebuchadnezzar (h) bragged of his building of Babylon: but he was rather the repairer and enlarger, then the firſt builder or founder thereof. This ſeems to have been the Metropolis and chief Royal City and Seat of the Babylonian Empire, compared in Nebuchadnezzars Dream to the head of Gold. To this Babylon Judah and Jeruſalem were carryed Captive for ſeventy years. And after Chriſt in this Babylon in Aſia was the Head of the diſperſion of the Jews which were Chriſtianized, among whom eſpecially (k) Peter (as Miniſter of the Circumciſion) dwelt; and from which place he wrote his Epiſtle. II. Myſtical Babylon, that is, Rome, the Seat of Antichriſt, the great Whore, Rev. 14. 8. and 16. 19. and 18. 2, 10, 21. It is called Babylon, from the great ſimilitude and reſemblance betwixt Rome and the Chaldean Babylon. This both (l) Tertullian, (m) Hierome, and (n) Auguſtine acknowledge. So that Auguſtine cals Babylon, The firſt Rome: and Rome, The ſecond Babylon. Yea ſome of the Papiſts acknowledge that Babylon mentioned in Peters Epiſtle to be Rome, that thereby they may prove Peter to have been at Rome. Sure they are in great ſtraits for Arguments, when they are forced to confeſs Rome to be Babylon. However they groſſly miſtake that paſſage in Peter, which imports the Chaldean, not the Romane Babylon: The Babylon where the Chriſtian Jews of the diſperſion had their primary reſidence. III. An Ægyptian Babylon is mentioned by ſome, builded (as is thought) by ſuch as fled out of the ancient Chaldean Babylon, whereupon it was called Babylon: but now Cayer. Of this Cayer, or Cayrus Hiſtorians and Prophane writers make mention. Some interpret that of Peter, 1 Pet. 5. 12, 13. to intend this Babylon. But as groundleſly as the Papiſts interpret it of the Romane Babylon. Here underſtand not the Romane, or Ægyptian, but the Chaldean Babylon: this was the (o) Lady of Kingdoms; The Hammer of the whole Earth, Jer. 51. 25. Hither the People of Judah and Jeruſalem were carryed into Captivity.

2. When, and how long they were Captivated there? Anſw. 1. The Time when they were carryed Captives into Babylon, was fourfold, viz. In the firſt, ſeventh, eighteenth, and three and twentieth years of Nebuchadnezzar, as I have formerly (p) manifeſted. 2. Their Continuance under this Babyloniſh Captivity was, from their firſt Captivity, till their delivery thence by Cyrus the Perſian, ſeventy years. For, (1) This Captivity was at firſt threatned to continue ſo long, and no longer, Ier. 25. 11, 12. and 29. 10. herewith compare Dan. 9. 2. (2) Their Captivity inflicted, did alſo (q) continue ſeventy years, from their firſt going into Captivity, Zach. 1. 12. So long the Land was to enjoy her Sabbaths. So long the Jews were as People buried in their (r) graves, and their deliverance thence as hopeleſs to humane apprehenſions, as the Raiſing of dead and dry bones out of their graves.

3. What were the Cauſes, why the Lord left his People of Iudah and Ieruſalem to be thus ſadly and tediouſly Captivated in Babylon? Anſw. The Cauſes, why God left them to this Captivity, were of two ſorts, viz. I. Moving and Provoking Cauſes were his Peoples many and great ſins provoking the Lord to this dreadfull Indignation. But theſe eſpecially, viz. 1. Their inveterate and long continued wickedneſs from Generation to Generation, Ier. 32. 28, 29, 30, 31. 2. The general wickedneſs of all ſorts and degrees amongſt them, both Kings, Prophets, Prieſts, and People, Ier. 32. 28, 29, 32. 2 Chron 36. 11. to 22. Dan. 9. 11. 3. Their contemptuous ſlighting of Gods Word, mocking and miſuſing Gods Meſſengers, till there was no remedy, 2 Chron. 36. 15, 16. 5. The many horrid and prodigious ſins of King Manaſſes, once a very monſter for wickedneſs, 2 Kings 24. 2, 3, 4. 6. Peculiarly the great abundance of innocent blood which Manaſſes ſhed in Jeruſalem: For he filled Ieruſalem with innocent blood, which the LORD would not pardon, 2 Kings 24. 4. 7. But eſpecially, their deſperate God-provoking ſin of Idolatry, Ier. 25. 6. to 13. and 32. 28, 29, 34, 35. Ezek. 36. 17, 18, 19. Theſe were ſome of their ſpecial ſins for which God ſent them away into Babylons Captivity. And for theſe and many other our abominations here in England, it were juſt with God to deliver us into Captivity under the myſtical Romiſh Babylon, which the Romiſh Emiſſaries have long endeavoured, and at this day are in great hopes to accompliſh through the extremity of our preſent ſpirituall Apoſtacies, Diſtractions and Confuſions. Quod omen avertat Deus in ſæcula ſæculorum. II. Final. The Final Cauſe or End which God propounded in ſending his People into Chaldea, was their good, Jer. 24. 5. Their Spiritual and Eternal good eſpecially. That they might be (s) purged from their Idols and other abominations, be reduced to true (t) Repentance and Reformation, for their Salvation.

vation. God is ſo good, that he will not bring evill of affliction upon his people but for their Good. Their Captivity in Babylon, and their being buried in their Graves there; ſhall be for their Spiritual Good, as well as their Deliverance thence, and the opening of their Graves and bringing them out of their Graves there. Thus as God afflicts in Severity, ſo he afflicts of fidelity: He remembers Mercy in midſt of Judgement, Pſal. 119. 75.

4. That, whileſt they were under this Captivity, God took Occaſion to reveal to them this Covenant, and why God took ſuch an Occaſion of Revealing it? This Particular hath two branches.

The former, That God took Occaſion to reveal this Covenant to his People being under Babyloniſh Captivity: is evident, by what (u) hath been formerly noted. For, 1. This Covenant was made known to (x) Ezekiel the Prophet for them, in the twelfth year of their Captivity, or thereabouts. 2. And it was again Revealed to (a) Jeremiah the Prophet, in or about the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, which was alſo the eighteenteh year of their Captivity. The Promiſes which God made to them at both theſe times, are expreſly called A COVENANT, Ezek. 34. 14, 15. & 37. 26, 27. Jer. 32. 37, 38, 39, 40, 41.

The latter, Why God took Occaſion of Revealing this Covenant to them, Even under this Sad Captivity? may be thus alſo briefly Reſolved. The Lord did this;

(1) That his Covenant might make the deeper impreſſion upon them, in that their deepeſt affliction. That they might more tractably ſet their hearts, To believe his Covenant-Promiſes, and Perform their Covenant-Duties. The ear and heart that were cloſe ſhut againſt God and his will in Proſperity, are oftimes wide opened in adverſity. Manaſſeh himſelf when bound with fetters and carried to Babylon, (b) In his affliction beſought the LORD his God, and humbled himſelf greatly before the God of his fathers, and prayed unto him, &c. Before this, as the tenth verſe notes, Manaſſeh and his people would not hearken to God: but now he hearkens and wonderfully reforms according to Gods Covenant. So true is that of Elihu; (c) If they be bound in fetters, and holden in Cords of affliction: then he ſheweth them their work and their tranſgreſſions that they have exceeded. He openeth alſo their ear to diſcipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity. No Covenant-Diſpenſation ſo throughly (d) Cured Gods people of Judah and Benjamin of their Idolatry, of their ſtony-hardneſs of heart, and other evils; as did this Covenant-diſpenſation under their Captivity. And (e) after their return from Babylon, what an excellent Covenant did they renew moſt ſolemnly with God!

(2) That, The Lord might the more indear himſelf and his Covevenant-Mercies unto them. The Lord and his Covenant-Mercy ſhould be alwayes ſweet and precious to poor ſinners: but when Sinners are under diſtreſs for their ſins, then they are wont to be double dear and precious. God loves to have himſelf and his Mercies cies highly eſteemed and dearly affected: and therefore ſometimes he involves his people in Miſeries, that thence they may learn the due eſtimate of his Mercies. Mercy is alwayes ſweet: but Mercy in midſt of miſery is double ſweet. Light is alwayes pleaſant: but light ſhining out in darkneſs is double pleaſant. Life is alwayes delightful: but (f) Life in the ſhadow of Death, life out of the grave, is double delightful. God and his Covenant-Mercies are alwayes precious: but God offering himſelf to be their God, and his Mercies to be their Mercies, and both by Covenant, and this in Babylon, in Captivity, in their Graves, oh how incomparably precious!

(f) Rediiſſe à morte ad vitam, vitæ gratiam duplicat.

(3) To declare hereby his All-ſufficiency, Goodneſs and Fidelity to his people in their extremities. 1. His all-ſufficiency; In that he could bring them out of Babylon into their own land, againſt all ſeeming improbabilities and impoſſibilities. Though they were (g) as dead and dry bones, though buried in their Graves, &c. yet God could open their Graves, and bring them out of their Graves. He could give them a Reſurrection in Babylon. 2. His Goodneſs and faithfulneſs; In that he (h) would deliver them, as he eaſily could deliver them. And accordingly when the time came, he did deliver them, and bring them out of their Graves according to his Promiſes, beyond their Expectation, and to their great Admiration. They ſaid, (i) Our bones are dryed, and our Hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts: But God ſaid; Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cauſe you to come up out of your Graves, and bring you into the land of Iſrael. Whereupon when this great work was done, the Captives could ſcarce believe it to be done: but thought they had been in a deluding dream; (k) When the LORD turned again the Captivity of Sion: we were like them that dream, &c.

(4) To demonſtrate hereby more clearly his tender Compaſſions to his diſtreſſed people, not for any their deſerts, but meerly for his own holy name ſake. As for them, They tranſgreſſed exceedingly againſt God before their Captivity: and they prophaned Gods name before the Heathen under their Captivity. Therefore God prefixeth this Preface to his Covenant-promiſes, ſaying; (l) But I had pitty for mine holy name, which the houſe of Iſrael had prophaned among the heathen, whither they went. Therefore ſay to the Houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I do not this for your ſakes, oh houſe of Iſrael, but for mine holy name ſake, &c. So that God had compaſſion upon them, becauſe he would have compaſſion upon them. And the riches of theſe his Compaſſions are notably diſplayed in this Covenant.

(5) To ſupport and Comfort them under ſo great and long afflictions, leſt they ſhould faint under them, and be ſwallowed up of deſpair. They had at this time very diſconſolate and deſpairing thoughts of their Captivity. They ſaid (m) Our bones are dryed, and our hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts: But God replyes comfortably; O my people, I will open your Graves, and cauſe you to come up out of your Graves.

Graves. —— And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your Graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your Graves: Oh how welcome are Gods Consolations to his afflicted! As the shadow against the Heat: As the shelter against the storm: As the seasonable showers to the parched ground. How sweet was it, when, in reference to this Captivity, (n) the LORD answered with good words and Comfortable words!

(n) Zech. 1. 12, 13, &c.

(6) That God might assure his people by this Covenant, That though God had deeply afflicted, yet he not utterly rejected the two families which he had chosen, as their enemies imagined. This the Prophet Jeremiah intimates to have been one reason of Gods declaring the Promises of this Covenant unto his Captive people: (o) Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two Families which the LORD hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? Thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a Nation before them. Thus saith the LORD, if my Covenant be not with Day and Night, and if I have not appointed the Ordinances of Heaven and Earth: Then will I cast away the Seed of Jacob, and David my servant, so that I will not take any of his Seed to be Rulers over the Seed of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob: for I will cause their Captivity to return, and have mercy on them. That is, Though God had cast the two chosen Families into Captivity: yet he had not utterly cast them away from himself. They should be his as certainly and immovably according to his Covenant, Jacobs Family as his Kingdom, and Davids Family and Seed as his Rulers in this Kingdom; as the Revelation of Day and Night, and Courses of Sun Moon and Stars were constant and immovable according to his Covenant: For their Captivity should return. This I take to be the evident intent of the words. For by [The two Families which the LORD hath chosen] I see no just cause why we should understand (p) The Families of David and Aaron, the Kingly and Priestly Family, as some from vers. 17, 18. Nor, The Families of Judah and Benjamin, as others from Ier. 32. 44. Nor The Families of Judah and Israel, as most from Ier. 33. 14. But rather, The Families of Jacob and David, which are here expressed in this very context it self, vers. 26. That, as Gods Church and Kingdom, This, as his Rulers in and over them, especially Christ therein. And this interpretation, as it is most apposite and fit: so it is most full and comprehensive.

(o) Ier. 33. 23, 24, 25, 26.

(p) As in Larg: Lond. Annot. on this place, is noted to be the sence of Interpreters.

(7) To assure the Captives, That this their great Captivity, whatever sad aspect it might have at present, should not destroy or make void Gods former Covenant with David, touching the perpetual kingdom of his Seed, especially in JESUS CHRIST that branch of righteousness that should grow up unto David. The (q) Prophet therefore expressing many Promises to the Captives touching their return out of Captivity, &c. intermingles this Promise, of the righteous Kingdome of Christ the cheif Seed of David over Judah and Ierusalem forevermore. See the words they are very pathetical. But thus much of the Occasion of this Covenant.

(q) Ier. 33. 1, to 23. especially note vers. 15, 16, 17, 20, 21, 22.

III. The

III. The Impulſive or Moving Cauſe of this Covenant, was; Gods meer Grace in Jeſus Chriſt, not any thing in the Captivated People. All Motives in the People are excluded, when God laies down his Covenant-Promiſes; (r) Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I do not this for your ſakes, O houſe of Iſrael. —— Not for your ſakes do I this, ſaith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: Be aſhamed and confounded for your own wayes, O houſe of Iſrael. There was then no Impulſive on their part moving God to make this Covenant with them: All the Impulſives were on Gods part. viz.

(r) Ezek. 36. 22. — 32.

1. The Inward Impulſive or Moving Cauſe in God was his Meer-Grace to them in reference to his own holy name. (s) But I had pitty for mine holy name, —— I do not this for your ſakes, O houſe of Iſrael, but for mine holy names ſake. This hath reference to the mercies promiſed in this Covenant. People in diſtreſs, are the proper object of Divine pitty.

(s) Ezek. 36. 21, 22.

2. The Outward Impulſive or Moving Cauſe of this Covenant, was Jeſus Chriſt (t) The branch of righteouſneſs that ſhould grow up unto David, to execute judgement, and righteouſneſs in the Land; that true David that ſhould raign over Iſrael and Judah as their King for ever; In whoſe Dayes Judah ſhall be ſaved, and Jeruſalem ſhall dwell ſafely, This being the name wherewith he ſhall be called, The LORD our Righteouſneſs. In this Jeſus Chriſt all the Promiſes of this Covenant are evidently made: and he is laid as the Baſe and Foundation of this Covenant throughout, as in opening the Matter of this Covenant will further appear. By vertue of his (u) blood of the Covenant they were brought out of this Babyloniſh pit wherein was no water.

(u) Zech. 9. 11.

IV. The Fœderates, or Parties to this Covenant, were God on the one hand: His Captive-People in Chriſt, on the other.

1. God, as he was the ſole Author of this Covenant, ſo was he the chief Fœderate party to this Covenant. See Ier. 32. 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, &c. Ezek. 34. 24, 25. and 37. 26, 27, 28. God was the chief Fœderate party to this Covenant in this Notion and Conſideration, viz. 1. As the Lord GOD, Heb. The Lord IEHOVAH. Thus ſaith the Lord IEHOVAH —— Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it ſhall be an Everlaſting Covenant with them, &c. Ezek. 37. 19, 26. and 34. 20, 24, 25. Now what Gods Covenanting as IEHOVAH implies: hath been formerly (x) opened in the Sinai-Covenant. 2. As the LORD, the God of Iſrael. (y) And now therefore thus ſaith the LORD, the God of Iſrael —— And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them, &c. And what this imports, that the Lord makes a Covenant as The God of Iſrael; hath alſo been already (z) expounded in opening the Covenant with David. There ſee. 3. As their Redeemer; that would gather them out of all Countries whither they were driven and and diſperſed, Jer. 32. 37, 40. And that would open their graves, and bring them out of their graves wherein they ſeemed to be buryed as dead, dry and hopeleſs, and bring them into their own Land, Ezek. 37. 11, 12, 13, 14. ——— 26. And how God Covenanteth as a Redeemer, (a) hath been opened in the unfolding of the Sinai-Covenant. So that as to theſe Particulars there now needs no further Explication.

(a) Book III. Ch. 4. Aph. 3.

2. The Captives of Judah and Jeruſalem under the power of the King of Babylon, were, in Chriſt, the other Party to this Covenant. For it was made with them (as hath been evidenced) during the time of their Captivity. And they were Fœderates with God in this Notion, viz. As his people in Captivity in Heathen Countries, that ſhould be thence Redeemed by the Lord, Ezek. 37. 21. to the end of the Chapter, Ier. 32. 36, 37, 40. Gods Sinai-Covenant was made with Iſrael already Redeemed from Ægypts bondage: This Covenant was made with them of Judah and Jeruſalem, afterwards to be Redeemed from Babylons bondage. The Subſtance of what was ſpoken there, is applicable here alſo.

V. The Nature of this Covenant of God with his Afflicted Captives, is this: viz. 1. It is a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt. 2. It is a Covenant of Promiſe in reference to Chriſt promiſed, and not as yet actually performed when this Covenant was revealed.

1. This Covenant was a Covenant of Faith in CHRIST: and not a Covenant of Works. For,

(1) This Covenant was homogeneal, and of like Nature, to the Sinai-Covenant, being annexed as a ſweet Additional Enlargement thereunto, and Explanation thereof, as (b) hath been intimated. Under this Covenant, The ſecond Temple at Jeruſalem was built by Zerubbabel, Zech 4. 9. Ezek. 6. 14, 15. The Levitical Prieſthood was continued even till the death of Chriſt. The Ceremonial and Typical Worſhip at Jeruſalem was in exerciſe till his dayes. Chriſt himſelf was made under the Law, in this, as in other regards, Gal. 4. 4, 5. Being Circumciſed the eighth day, Luke 2. 21. And Preſented to the Lord at Jeruſalem, Luke 2. 22, 23, 24. Going up to Jeruſalem at the appointed Feaſts: as is noted by Iohn in his (c) Evangelical Hiſtory. And keeping the Ordinance of the Paſsover in his Seaſon, till himſelf, as our true Paſsover, was ſacrificed for us, Mat. 26. 20, &c. 1 Cor. 5. 7. This Covenant therefore being of like Nature with the Sinai-Covenant; And the Sinai-Covenant ſtill remaining in force and uſe, even after the Revealing of this Covenant, till the Death of Jeſus Chriſt: It muſt needs be concluded, That this was a Covenant of Faith, as the Sinai-Covenant (d) hath been proved to be.

2. The Bleſſings Promiſed in this Covenant-Diſpenſation, were, not the Bleſſings of the Covenant of Works, but the peculiar bleſſings of the Covenant of Faith. As, 1. Sprinkling clean water upon them, Ezek. 36. 25. 2. Cleanſing them from all their filthineſs, iniquities and Idols, Ezek. 36. 25, 33. 3. One-neſs of heart and way to fear God for ever, Jer. 32. 39. 4. Newneſs of heart and ſpirit, Ezek. 36. 26. 5. Gods putting his Spirit within them, Ezek. 36. 27. 6. Gods planting his fear in their hearts, that they ſhall not depart from him, Ier. 32. 40. 7. Making a (e) Covenant of Peace and Reconcilement with them, Ezek. 37. 26. with divers others which hereafter ſhall be explained in unfolding the Subject-Matter of this Covenant. And conſequently theſe pure Evangelical bleſſings promiſed in this Covenant, plainly conclude it to be a pure Evangelical Covenant of Faith.

(e) Iſa. 54. 10.

(3) The Duties conditioned and reſtipulated in this Covenant, are meer Goſpel-Duties peculiar to the Covenant of Faith. As, 1. True Faith in Chriſt the promiſed Meſſiah, Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3, 4. and 53. 1, 2, 3, 11. Now the (f) Promiſſory part of this Propheſie of Iſaiah, from Chap. 39. to the end of the Book, doth principally and ſpecially inſiſt upon Promiſes of Reſtoring the Church of the Jews from the miſery that ſhould befall them under the Babyloniſh Captivity: and of Compleating the Churches deliverance and glory at laſt by Chriſt himſelf, adding the Gentiles to the Church: And this neceſſarily implies Faith touching theſe Promiſes. 2. The life of the Juſt by Faith; peculiarly directed to theſe Babyloniſh Captives, Hab. 2. 3, 4. 3. Repentance from former Idolatries and iniquities, Iſa. 55. 6, 7. Ier. 24. 7. Ezek. 36. 31, 32. 4. Obedient walking in Gods Judgements, and obſerving his Statutes and doing them: under David their King, viz. Sincere Obedience from faith in and under Chriſt their true David, Ezek. 37. 24, 25. 5. Perſeverance and conſtancie in Covenant with God through ſtrength of implanted and infuſed Grace, Jer. 32. 40. Therefore, as theſe Covenant-Duties are meerly Evangelical: So this Covenant is meerly Evangelical, A Covenant of Faith and not of Works.

(f) This I have evidently demonſtrated in my Key of the Bible, on Iſaiah. §. IV. p. 421, &c. Lond. 1649.

(4) Jeſus Chriſt the Sole foundation and Mediator of the Covenant of Faith in all ages, is notably revealed and declared in this Covenant to be the (g) foundation and Mediator thereof; in and through whom God will confer his Covenant-bleſſings upon his people, and they ſhall perform their Covenant-Duties to their God. Now Chriſt is foundation and Mediator of no other Covenant but of the Covenant of Faith, viz. Of the Covenants of Promiſe more Typically and obſcurely; Of the New-Covenant more clearly and truly.

(g) Iſa. 55. 3, 4, with Acts 13. 34. Iſa. 59. 20, 21. Jer 23. 5, 6, 7, 8. Ezek. 34. 23, 23, 24, 25. & 37. 24, 25, 26 27. Ezek. 9. 11.

Thus, this Covenant was plainly a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt.

2. This Covenant was alſo (h) A Covenant of Promiſe, having reference to Chriſt promiſed, and not as yet exhibited and performed. For therein Chriſt is promiſed to be raiſed up afterwards, Iſa. 55. 3, 4. and 59. 20, 21. Ezek. 34. 23, 24, 25. & 37. 24, 25, 26. And is not repreſented as come already, or actually raiſed up already. Notwithſtanding,

(h) Eph. 2. 12.

withstanding, towards (l) the expiration and closing up of this and the Sinai-Covenants-Administration, JESUS CHRIST was miraculously conceived and born of a Virgin, and in Humane Nature actually Manifested unto Israel, as the Salvation of God, the Light of the Gentiles, and the Glory of his people Israel. So that, As it was the Priviledge of just and devout Simeon, (k) To have it revealed to him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lords CHRIST; who, coming by the Spirit into the Temple, when the Parents brought in the Child JESUS, to do for him after the custome of the Law, took him up in his Arms, and blessed God with heavenly ravishment of Spirit: So it was the high Priviledge of this Covenant-Administration, that it should not see Death and be dissolved, before it had seen the Lords CHRIST, and triumphantly exalted God with this blessed Babe Jesus Christ, The Incarnate-God, in its Arms.

(l) Dan. 9. 24, 25, 26, 27. Math. 3. 1, &c. & 4. 2, 3, 5, 6. with Luke 1. 31, 32, 33, 34, 35. & 2. 1. to 41.
(k) Luke 2. 25, 26, 27, 28, &c.

Thus this Covenant was, A Covenant of Faith in Christ, And one of the Covenants of Promise in Christ promised for time to come. This is the Nature of this Covenant.

Inferences, resulting from this Aphorism thus unfolded, are divers, viz.

1. Hence, This Covenant is Divine, Gratuitous, Faithfull, and Holy. 1. Divine, not Humane. For, (l) God himself was the sole Author, Contriver and Revealer of it. God alone made it: and God alone made it Good. In this regard, God peculiarly appropriates this Covenant to himself, as His Covenant: saying; — (m) Neither shall the Covenant of my Peace be removed, saith the LORD, that hath mercy on thee. And elsewhere, (n) As for me, this is my Covenant with them, saith the LORD, &c. This Covenant therefore is unquestionably of Divine Authority and excellency. 2. Gratuitous, and of Gods meer free Grace. Yea therefore Gratuitous: because Divine. For all Gods Covenants with his Creatures, are his gratuitous condescensions to his Creatures. The Covenant of Works even in innocency was meerly Gratuitous, viz. Ex gracia favoris, from his grace of free favour. And every dispensation of the Covenant of Faith since the Fall was meerly Gratuitous, viz. not only ex gracia favoris, from his grace of favour undeserved, but also ex gracia commiserationis, from his grace of commiseration to sinfull Creatures that had deserved the contrary. And such is this Covenant. God made it with them, of his own meer grace in Christ, not for any Motive in or from them. (o) But I had pitty for mine holy name,—. Therefore say unto the House of Israel, Thus saith the LORD God, I do not this for your sakes, O House of Israel, but for mine holy names sake,———. Not for your sakes do I this, saith the LORD JEHOVAH, be it known unto you: Be ashamed and confounded for your own wayes O house of Israel. 3. Faithfull. Its Gods Covenant, All the Promises of Mercy therein are his:

(l) Isa. 49. 8. & 54. 10. & 55. 5. & 59. 21. Jer. 32. 40. Ezek. 34. 25. & 37. 26.
(m) Isa. 54. 10.
(n) Isa 59. 21.
(o) Ezek. 36. 21, 22, 32.

Therefore moſt accurately, faithfull and ſure. For, God that promiſeth (p) cannot lie, nor deceive. Yea, Gods Promiſe and Oath are thoſe (q) two immutable things, wherein it is impoſsible for God to lie. And this Covenant is eſtabliſhed upon both theſe: not only upon his Promiſes, but alſo upon his inviolable Oath, Iſa. 54. 9, 10. How ſecurely then might Gods afflicted Captives devolve themſelves upon this faithfull Covenant in all their extremities! Oh they too much diſhonoured God, and forget this his faithfull Covenant, when they ſpake ſo deſpairingly; (r) Our bones are dryed, and our Hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts. But what ſaid the LORD? Behold, O my People, I will open your Graves (viz. your Babyloniſh Graves) and cauſe you to come up out of your Graves, and bring you into the Land of Iſrael. He would open their Graves, and raiſe up their dead and dry bones, rather then his faithfull Covenant ſhould fail, and not be performed. 4. Holy. It is Gods Covenant: therefore Holy. In what ſenſe Gods Covenant and Promiſe is holy, I have (f) formerly explained. There ſee. Oh what enlarged Praiſes were due from the Captive Jews to this bleſſed God, for ſo Divine, Gentuitous, Faithfull and Holy a Covenant with them in their abject ſtate and low Condition!

2. Hence, How great was the Condeſcenſion of the Creator, How high the Exaltation of the Creature; when the God of heaven, and his Captives in Babylon became Confederates in one Covenant! The people of the Jews were very low in Condition, when God revealed to them this Covenant-Diſpenſation. Their (t) Diadem was removed; Their (u) holy and beautiful Houſe, the Temple, deſtroyed; Their (x) publike worſhip and ſolemn Feaſts overthrown; Their (y) King Prieſts and People of all ſorts ſlain or carried into Captivity, out of their own Land of Canaan, into a forraign and pagan Country, with greateſt reproach; They were wholly covered with ſhame and Confuſion in Babylon, (z) as dead and dry bones buried in their Graves. And will the moſt high God, poſſeſſour of Heaven and Earth caſt an eye upon ſuch dry bones, and deſpiſed Captives? yes then, even then, he looks upon them; He ſmiles upon them with ſweeteſt aſpects of grace; he ſtoops to them, he condeſcends to them ſo low; and he makes them aſcend towards him ſo high; as to bring them into this bleſſed Covenant with himſelf, and to embrace theſe dry bones in his deareſt arms of Love. And all this, (a) though they ſo hainouſly provoked him before their Captivity, and ſo prophaned his name before the heathen under their Captivity. Oh! who can ſufficiently admire ſuch Condeſcenſion of God, ſuch Exaltation of his people? The diſtance betwixt them was infinite: yet they are brought neer together in this Covenant of Peace.

And this is Gods uſual Covenant-Seaſon with his People; when they are very mean and low. As with David; when he cryed out; (b) who am I, and what mine Houſe? &c. With Iſrael when they they (c) were loathſome and in their blood. With Abraham himſelf when he (d) was in Chaldea in and ungodly an Idolatrous Family. With Noah, (e) when the Earth was filled with violence, and wickedneſs abounding round about him, provoked God to ſweep the whole world away with a dreadful deluge. Yea with Adam himſelf, (f) when by his fall he had newly ruined himſelf and all his Poſterity, without any viſible poſſibility of relief or remedy. Oh! who would not love this God of love, that makes his Creatures low eſtate, his very time of Covenant-love?

3. Hence, JESUS CHRIST, and the Goſpel of ſinners Salvation through faith in him, was preached to the Jews in their Captivity. For, This, being a Covenant of Faith in Chriſt, it repreſented and tendered Chriſt, and the Goſpel in him, unto the Captives to whom it was revealed. Every diſpenſation of the Covenant of Faith ſince the fall, preached Chriſt and the Goſpel in him: but the Later diſpenſations do this ſtill much more clearly and fully then the former, and this laſt moſt fully and clearly of all, as hereafter will appear. And indeed Jeſus Chriſt, and the Goſpel, are ſo preached in the Covenant of Faith and promiſes dependant thereupon, that they are preached and revealed in them only.

4. Hence, God neither forſakes nor forgets his Covenant-people in their deepeſt diſtreſſes. How low were the Jews brought in this Captivity, as low as even (g) Death and the Grave to viſible appearance! hence, they deſpairingly ſighed out; Our bones are dry, our hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts: and Captive Sion, moſt diſconſolately lamented; (h) The LORD hath forſaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me. But what ſaith the Anſwer of God to Sion? Can a woman forget her ſucking childe, from having compaſſion on the ſon of her womb? yea they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, thy walls are continually before me, &c. Oh, how pathetically! how ſweetly! Here the Lord Promiſeth not to forget Sion, viz. His Captive-people that once belonged to Sion. This promiſe is Amplified, 1. By an Emphatical Illuſtration. Gods Compaſsionate remembring of Sion, far tranſcends the moſt compaſsionate remembrance of the tendereſt mother to her deareſt ſucking babe. This is laid down, (i) Interrogatively. Can a woman (the more affectionate ſex) forget her ſucking childe, from having compaſsion on the ſon of her womb? (can a woman, can a mother ſo forget, as not to Compaſſionate, A childe, which ſhe natually inclines to pitty; A ſucking childe, which ſhe uſually more tenders then elder children; Her ſucking childe, which together with the milk from the breſt, draws love from her heart; Her ſucking childe of her own womb, which her bowels more yearn upon, then upon any ſucking Nurſe-childe of another; And this, the ſon of her womb, which the mother uſually embraceth with warmer affections then the daughter of her womb:

(g) Ezek. 37. 1. to 15.
(h) Iſa. 49. 13. to 18.

Can

Can a woman, a mother forget her pitty to ſuch a babe? how unuſual!) (2) Affirmatively. Yea they may forget. Its poſſible a woman may be ſo unwomanly, yea a mother ſo unmotherly in ſome extremities, as to forget and be hard-hearted to the fruit of their own wombs. Extremity of hunger overmaſtered natural affection: The (i) pittiful women did boil and eat their own children in the Siege of Samaria and Jeruſalem. (3) Negatively. Yet will I not forget thee. God will be more conſtantly, unmovably, unchangeably mindful of Sion, and compaſſionate to Sion. God will be more Motherly to his Captives, then any mother to her male ſucking babe. 2. By a convincing Argumentation. (1) Partly, From his engraving of them upon the palms of his hands, viz. Their portraiture, their memorial was like a Signet graven upon his hand: God will as ſoon blot out of mind and forget his own hands, as his Sion. (2) Partly, From his placing their wals ſtill in his ſight. Their ruined wals of Jeruſalem were ſtill before him, As to their (k) Commiſeration, as to their (l) Reparation. Or, Their intended Wals of their (m) New City, JHOVAH SHAMMAH, or of the (n) New-Ieruſalem, are ſtill in my thoughts as to the happy Model of them, which I intend in after time.

Thus God (o) remembers and pitties his afflicted, in their low eſtate, becauſe his loving kindneſs is for evermore. Yea if there be any condition wherein God expreſſeth more tender yearning bowels to his people, then other, it is in their (p) afflictions.

5. Hence, In greateſt extremities of Tribulation, Gods Covenant of Faith in Chriſt yields ſweeteſt Conſolation. This is evident here, by the Courſe which God took for Comforting and ſupporting his afflicted and diſconſolate Captives in Babylon: viz. By revealing to them his Covenant of Faith in Jeſus Chriſt, by his Prophets. This he peculiarly propounds, as his great Antidote againſt all their Afflictions and Miſeries in Babylon, and againſt all their diffidence, deſpondencies and deſpair. This Covenant, full of Good works and comfortable words, was propounded as their chief Cordial. This held up their heads and hearts above waters. This opened a door of hope for them, even in the valley of Achor. This Covenant even revived them in their very Graves. And no wonder: For, (1) This Covenant (q) aſſured them of their return from Babylon to Sion, from Captivity to liberty: and under that as a Type, of the everlaſting Redemption of Gods Elect by Chriſt, out of their Spiritual bondage under Sin, and Satan. (2) This Covenant (r) aſſured them of the rebuilding of Ieruſalem and the Temple, with greater glory then formerly: and therein Typically of the building of his New City, and New Spiritual Temple, of both Jews and Gentiles, with ſurpaſſing Spiritual glory. (3) This Covenant aſſured them of (ſ) Pardon and cleanſing, Of Juſtification and Sanctification from all their Idols and former uncleanneſſes: (4) This Covenant aſſured them of a rich (t) Confluence of choiſeſt Spiritual bleſſings, from the ſaving Influence ence of his holy Spirit. (5.) This Covenant assured them, That (u) DAVID, viz. Jesus CHRIST the true David of God, should be their Prince and King for evermore. (6) This Covenant assured them, (x) That the LORD would be their God, and they should be his People, and that his Tabernacle should be with them, yea he would set his Sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. God filled this Covenant with these choisest comforts; Made up this Composition with these precious Cordials: That this Covenant made with them might be fuller of Comfort to them, then all Babylon's bondage of disconsolation.

(u) Ezek. 37. 24, 25.

When therefore we shall fall into extremity of tribulation: let us chiefly have recourse to this blessed fountain of Consolation, Gods Covenant of Faith in Jesus Christ, especially to the New Covenant. 1. Herein are most suitable Comforts against all sorts of distresses. 2. Herein are most sufficient Comforts against all degrees of distresses. 3. Herein Our Comforts are laid upon the surest rock and most impregnable foundation, viz. upon Free-grace, Faith, Divine Truth, The Spirit of Grace, Jesus Christ, and on God himself, who is over all blessed for ever, Amen. 4. Herein are compendiously comprized and concentered all the Comforts of the Bible, far surpassing all the Comforts and discomforts of the world. Run hither therefore O all ye afflicted, tempest-tossed Souls, lay your mouth of Faith to the Covenants brests, then suck and be satisfied with its blessed Consolations.

6. Hence, Though Gods people by their sins turn their Mercies into Miseries: yet God alone of his wisdom and goodness turns those Miseries into Mercies. The sins of these Jews turned their Mercies into Miseries, viz. Their glory into shame, Their Prosperity into Penury. Their liberty into Captivity, Their Sion into Babylon, &c. (y) A fruitfull land turneth he into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwel therein. Oh what havock was made of Canaan, Jerusalem, Temple, of all their precious and pleasant things, yea of all sexes and degrees amongst them, through their iniquities! But it is only the infinite wisdom and goodness of God, that according to this his Covenant, turns their Miseries again into Mercies, their Water into Wine, their darkness into light, their Bondage into Liberty, their Babylon into Sion. They could destroy their Temple and holy City, God alone could cause them both to be rebuilt: They could cast themselves out of Canaan, God alone brings them back again into Canaan: They could bring themselves into Babylonish bondage and Graves, God alone can break their bonds and bring them out of their Graves: &c. How oft would Gods people undo themselves, if God himself did not prevent them! And how long should they remain undone, if God himself did not restore them! From our selves is our judgement: From our God is our Salvation.

(y) Psal. 107. 34.

7. Hence, Gods Covenant with his Captive-Jews, so far as it is a Covenant of Faith, without peculiar restriction to the Jews, is applicable and and useful unto the people of God now under the New-Testament. The Faithful in all after-ages have this advantage of all that went before them, that they may extract much Spiritual advantage to themselves, not onely from Gods present Covenant-dispensation to them, but from all that went before. And we under the New Testament have in this regard advantages surpassing all other ages. We may improve to our selves all the Mysteries of the New Testament fully: and all the Benefits, Comforts, Promises and Mysteries of the (z) Covenants of Promise from Adam to this day, so far as they are of common Concernment to the Faithful, and not particularly restrained to such persons or times alone. Let us therefore accordingly Consider them wisely, apply them believingly, improve them advantageously. The Covenants of Promise, were the New-Covenant veyled and in its Minority: The New-Covenant, is the Covenants of Promise revealed in their Maturity.

APHORISM II.

2. The Subject-Matter or Substance of Gods Covenant with the Captive Jews.

The Subject-Matter or Substance of Gods Covenant with his Captive-people in Babylon, consisted, I. In many excellent-Covenant-Mercies or Blessings Promised to them, on Gods part; As, 1. His raising up of CHRIST to them. 2. Redeeming and Returning them from Babylonish Captivity into their own land. 3. Cleansing them from all their Spiritual defilements. 4. Putting his Spirit within them, for New-framing and spiritualizing their heart. 5. His presence in his Sanctuary and Tabernacle among them by his Spirit and Word for ever. 6. The greatest Covenant-Relation betwixt him and them, That he would be their God, and they should be his People. 7. The Mutual Covenant-Constancy betwixt God and them in this Everlasting Covenant: He would not turn from them, and they should not depart from him. II. In sundry Covenant-Duties required and restipulated from them to God, on their part. As, 1. Faith in the Messiah promised. 2. Repentance from all their former iniquities. 3. True Obedience unto God. 4. Becoming Gods Covenant-people. 5. Enquiring of God, for doing all his promised Mercies to them.

To these Particulars especially, we may refer and reduce the chief chief Substance and Subject-Matter of this Covenant: whether Mercies Promised, or Duties restipulated. And, here it is very observable; That, as this Covenant with the Captive-Jews was the last of all the COVENANTS of PROMISE, immediatly preceding the NEW COVENANT, and at last exhibiting the MESSIAH to the world, according to the tenure of all foregoing Covenants: So it was the neareſt and moſt like to the New Covenant of all other, in 1. Spiritualneſs, 2. Clearneſs, and 3. Fulneſs. And therefore now we are come to the very borders and ſuburbs of the New-Covenant; Now Chriſt is near at hand indeed: and therefore now let our thoughts be proportionably elevated to ſuitable ſpiritualneſs of Contemplation. The Matter of this Covenant I ſhall unfold in two diſtinct Sections.

SECTION I.

1. The Subject-Matter of this Covenant, on Gods part.

I. THE Subject-Matter or Subſtance of this Covenant on Gods part, Conſiſted in many excellent Covenant-Mercies promiſed therein to his afflicted Captives. Gods Promiſes and promiſed Mercies under this Covenant-Diſpenſation are exceeding abundant: But I ſhall only inſiſt upon ſuch promiſed Bleſſings as are laid down in Iſaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel, where mention is made of this Covenant, or where there is a more evident and eminent tendency thereunto. All which may be comprized in thoſe ſeven particulars in the Aphoriſm: which I explain briefly as followeth.

1. His raiſing up the MESSIAH, Viz. JESUS CHRIST unto them. This is a Primary and Fundamentall Mercy, a Fountain-Mercy whence the reſt ſpring: and therefore deſervedly challengeth the firſt place and Conſideration. Now the Meſſiah is promiſed to them, under a manifold notion and Capacity, Viz.

1. As their Covenant-Redeemer, that ſhould deliver them both from their Corporal bondage in Babylon, and from their Spiritual bondage under Sin, Death, Sathan, &c. Typified by that Babyloniſh bondage. (a) Thus ſaith the LORD, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of Salvation have I helped thee; and I will preſerve thee, and give thee for a COVENANT OF THE PEOPLE, to eſtabliſh the Earth, to cauſe to inherit the deſolate heritages; That thou maiſt ſay to the Priſoners, go forth: To them that are in darkneſs, Shew your ſelves: They ſhall feed in the wayes, and their paſtures ſhall be in all high places. They ſhall not hunger nor thirſt, neither ſhall the heat nor Sun ſmite them: For, he that hath mercy on them ſhall lead them, even by the ſprings of water ſhall he guide them. And I will make all my Mountains away, and my high-wayes shall be exalted. Behold, these shall come from far: and lo these from the North, and from the West, and these from the Land of Sinim. Sing O Heavens, and be joyful O Earth, and break forth into singing oh Mountains: for God hath comforted his People, and will have mercy upon his afflicted. But Sion said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me. Can a woman forget her sucking childe, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, thy wals are continually before me. Thy children shall make haste: Thy destroyers, and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

In this sweet Paragraph, for the clearing of it briefly, Note these particulars. viz. I. Gods acceptance of Christ, and assistance to Christ, in his Mediatory office. In an acceptable time, &c. ver. 8. II. Gods promise of Christ as a Covenant to his Captives, and afflicted in Babylon, and under them to all his spiritual Captives; And I will give thee for a COVENANT of the People, ver. 8. Christ is not Properly, but Figuratively, and by a manifold Metonymie, a Covenant of the People. viz Partly, As he is a foundation of the Covenant, in whom (b) all the Promises are made, and made good, being Yea and Amen in him. Partly, as he is the Peculiar Mediator of the Covenant of Faith, in all ages: Of the Covenants of Promise, veyled under Types; Of the New-Covenant, Revealed in Truth of his Humanity. Partly, As he is a very Considerable part of the Matter of the Covenant promised. Partly, as he is one special end and scope of the Covenant, every Covenant tending more and more clearly to reveal him. III. Gods end and intent in this his promising of Christ as a Covenant, viz. The Restauration of his people from (c) Corporal Captivity in Babylon, and from (d) Spiritual Captivity under Sin, &c. Christ must effect and bring to pass both these; what ever be the Instruments, he alone is Author of both. 1. Christ should restore their land, and re-invest them in their desolate heritages, ver. 8. 2. Christ should send both his Corporal and Spiritual Captives out of their darksome bondage, ver. 9. 3. Christ should supply them with all Necessaries in the way from Babylon to Sion, from Sin to Glory: As Food, against hunger; Water, against thirst; Shelter, against scorching heat of the Sun: As sometimes he dealt with Israel going from Egypt to Canaan, through the wilderness. 4. Christ should facilitate and level their way for them, depressing Mountains, elevating vallies. All impediments and difficulties he should remove, ver. 11. 5. Christ should fetch his Exiles and Captives from places most remote; both far remote from Canaan, and from one another; viz. (e) From far,] that is, From the Persian land, Eastward, as some: From the North,] that is, from Babylon: from the West,] that is, from the Philistines land, See Isa. 9. 12. Or, from the Western transmarine Islands, as Macedonia, Candia, Cyprus, &c.

And here Christ is offered as an all-sufficient supply and support of them both. (h) In him, God will make with them an everlasting Covenant: even the Sure mercies of David. As if he had said; though Davids Seed Royal seem to fail and be cut off by your Babylonish Captivity, and though this Covenant-Mercy which I have (i) Covenanted with David touching the perpetual Throne and Kingdom of his Seed, seem to be made void: yet know ye that in Christ it shall certainly and infallibly be performed, He chiefly is the Sure Mercies of David, the Sure foundation, Root and Mercy of Mercies promised to David, and he shall be performed and made good to them.

This interpretation helps us also well to understand the Apostles Argumentation from this Scripture. For, Hence he proves Christs Resurrection from the dead: saying, (k) And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure Mercies of David. The Argument is by a Consequence to this effect; (l) God promised or Covenanted to give them the Sure mercies of David, viz. Especially his everlasting Kingdom, chiefly to be accomplished in Christ, the chief Seed of David: Consequently Christ could not be swallowed up by Death, But must needs Rise again. For, should Christ be swallowed up by Death, Davids Kingdom and Christs Kingdom too, had been utterly swallowed up. Thus it is a very cogent Argument.

Further, I offer this consideration upon this promise of Christ here. Christ seems therein to be promised as a compleat Mediator, by whom their ſoul ſhould live; if they would come to him believe and delight in him, ver. 1, 2, 3. And the three great branches of his Mediatory office are, not obſcurely, inſinuated. viz. 1. His Prieſthood, and the eternity thereof. In that he was, the ſure Mercies of David. Who, though he dyed, and was buryed to make ſatisfaction for our ſins, one Act or Part of his Prieſthood; yet ſhould he riſe again and aſcend to make conſtant Interceſſion for us, which is the other great act of his Prieſthood. 2. His Prophecy. In that he is promiſed as A witneſs to the people, viz. (m) A witneſs, Teſtifier, or Teacher of Gods will touching Sinners Salvation. Whereupon he is called, (n) Amen, the true and faithful witneſs. As alſo, (o) A witneſs or teſtifier of the truth of Gods Promiſes, which are all Yea, and Amen, in him, and in him alone. 3. His King-ſhip. In that he is promiſed, as a Leader and Commander to the people. A Leader, as the word is ſometimes tranſlated, 2 Chron. 32. 21. Or, a Ruler: as 1 Chron. 9. 20. & 11. 2. Or, a Prince, as, Ezek. 28. 2. 3. As a Branch of righteouſneſs growing up to David, and as a plant of Renown raiſed up unto them. Ezekiel revealing many Promiſes for the Comfort of the Babyloniſh Captives, ſaid; (p) And I will make with them a Covenant of Peace, and I will cauſe the evil beaſts to ceaſe out of the land, &c. — And I will raiſe up for them a plant of Renown, &c. who this plant of Renown was, Jeremy ſets forth, in ſome ſuch like Promiſes directed to the ſaid Captives. (q) In thoſe dayes, and at that time, will I cauſe the BRANCH of RIGHTEOUSNESS to grow up unto David, *and he ſhall execute Judgement and Righteouſneſs in the Land. In this Promiſe of Chriſt note four things eſpecially. viz. 1. The time of the Promiſe; In thoſe dayes, and at that time. Which daies? What time? viz. In the daies and time when God ſhould cauſe his peoples Captivity to return, and bring them from Babylon. The (r) Context before and after plainly point out this time. So that this Promiſe hath ſpecial reference to Gods Covenant with his Captives, and that in Performance of his (ſ) Covenant with David. 2. The Deſcription of the Perſon of Chriſt Promiſed; The Branch of Righteouſneſs growing up to David. He is called; (t) The (t) BRANCH; Metaphorically, in regard of his reſemblance of a Branch according to his Humane Nature, ſprouting or budding out of a ſtock or Root. And in alluſion to theſe Scriptures; from צמח Netzer, a Branch, it is thought by ſome that Chriſt is elſewhere called, (u) a Nazarene.

And

And he came and dwelt in a City called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene. Not that he was a Nazarite by Vow, as the Antitype of (x) Samson: Nor that he was so called from the City Nazareth, where he was educated; for where do the Prophets intimate this his denomination from that City? But from (y) allusion to the word נצר Netzer, A Branch, which name is often given to Christ by the Prophets. (z) The Branch growing up to David. Because he should bud, sprout and spring from Davids root or stock according to the flesh, Isa. 11. 1. (3) The Branch of Righteousness, viz. Formally, as being most Righteous in himself, the very Righteousness of God, Isa. 53. 9, 11. Heb. 4. 15. and 7. 26. Psal. 45. 7. Materially, as being made of God the very Substance and Matter of our Righteousness, imputed to us through Faith, 1 Cor. 1. 30. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Ier. 23. 5, 6. And Efficiently, as being the Author of Righteousness to his, both in Justifying and Sanctifying them, Isa. 53. 11. 1 Cor. 1. 30. And also in Acting and Executing Righteousness for them in the Land, Ier. 33. 15. As the true Melchizedeck, or King of Righteousness in and over the Church, Heb. 7. 2. Isa. 11. 4, 5. Rev. 19. 11. From all this, Christ may well be called A plant of Renown. 3. The Office of Christ thus described. Execution of Judgement and Righteousness in the Land. 4. The Effect of this Office of Christ. Partly, The Salvation and Secure Condition of Iudah and Ieruſalem, viz. Of the Church shadowed out by Iudah and Ieruſalem. Partly, His Communication of his Righteousness to Ieruſalem, to his Church so effectually, that she may glory in that very name of Christ; (z) And this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The LORD our righteousness. This name is formerly ascribed to Christ himself, where mention is made of Gods bringing them out of the North Country, viz. Babylon, a greater deliverance then that of old from Ægypt: But here its attributed to the Church. Calvin hath a good note hereupon; (a) Before, the Prophet testified, that Christ was the true IEHOVAH whence our Righteousness flows: now he declares the Church so truly to perceive the same, that she may glory in the very Name. In the former place is put, The Fountain and Cause of Righteousness: in this latter, the Effect of Righteousness.

And I will make with them a Covenant of Peace, and will cauſe the Evil beaſts to ceaſe out of the Land: and they ſhall dwell ſafely in the wilderneſs, and ſleep in the woods*, &c. And elſwhere this is one clauſe in his Covenant with his Captives, and one of their Covenant-Mercies after their Return from Babylon; (c) And David my ſervant ſhall be King over them: and they all ſhall have one ſhepheard, — And my ſervant David ſhal be their Prince for ever. Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it ſhall be an Everlaſting Covenant with them, &c. Jeremiah alſo upon like occaſion Teſtifieth, (d) Thus ſaith the LORD, David ſhall never want a man to ſit upon the Throne of the Houſe of Iſrael. —— If you can break my Covenant of the Day, and my Covenant of the Night, and that there ſhould not be day and night in their Seaſon: Then may alſo my covenant be broken with DAVID my ſervant, that he ſhould not have a ſon to reign upon his Throne. —— Thus ſaith the LORD, If my Covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth: Then will I caſt away the ſeed of Jacob, and David my ſervant, ſo that I will not take any of his Seed to be Rulers over the Seed of Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob: for I will cauſe their Captivity to Return, and have mercy on them.

(d) Jer. 33. 17, 20, 21, 22, 25, 26.

In theſe Paragraphs note, 1. That God hath reference therein to his Covenant with his Captives: Stiling it a Covenant of Peace. Partly, becauſe it Reveals Peace and Reconcilement betwixt God and them; Partly, becauſe it aſſures of (e) Peace and proſperity on every ſide after their Return from Babylon; And alſo An Everlaſting Covenant, that is, Everlaſting Abſolutely, in reſpect of Chriſt the true David, Everlaſting Reſpectively, viz. Long-laſting in reſpect of Davids ordinary Seed that ſhould Rule over the houſe of Jacob. 2. That one bleſſing of this Covenant ſhould be, A Continued Succeſſion of Davids Seed to feed and Govern Iſrael: yea DAVID himſelf (not the Typical David, dead long before, but the true DAVID Jeſus Chriſt) ſhould be their ſhepheard, Prince and King for ever, and he alone. 3. That, this conſtant Succeſſion of Davids ſeed upon his Throne, Covenanted to David, ſhould be as inviolable as the Covenanted Courſe and Revolution of Day and Night in their Seaſon. 4. That, In order to the performance of this Mercy, God would cauſe their Captivity to Return. For in that ſad and long Captivity, Gods Covenant with David lay as Dead, and Davids Seed as buried and cut off: but God would deliver them thence, and revive them out of their Graves.

II. His Redeeming them out of Babylon's Captivity, and bringing them into their own land. As he had promiſed them the Redeemer: ſo he Promiſeth them Redemption by him. This Mercy is much inſiſted upon in this Covenant. By Iſaiah; Teſtifying that (f) Chriſt ſhould therefore Redeem them: as I have noted.

By Ezekiel: As, ——(g) Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, behold I will take the children of Iſrael from among the Heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every ſide, and will bring them into their own land. —— Moreover I will make a Covenant of peace with them, it ſhall be an Everlaſting Covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, &c. And elſewhere (h) —— For I will take you from among the Heathen, and gather you out of all Countries, and will bring you into your own land. And again, (i) Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold I, even I will both ſearch my Sheep, and ſeek them out. As a Shepheard ſeeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his ſheep that are ſcattered: ſo will I ſeek out my ſheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been ſcattered in the cloudy and dark day. And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the Countries: and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the Mountains of Iſrael by the Rivers, and in all the inhabited places in the country. I will feed them in a good paſture, and upon the high Mountains of Iſrael ſhall their Fold be: there they ſhall lie in a good fold, and in a fat paſture ſhall they feed upon the Mountains of Iſrael. I will feed my flock, and cauſe them to lie down, ſaith the Lord GOD, I will ſeek that which was loſt, and bring again that which was driven away, and will binde up that which was broken, and will ſtrengthen that which was ſick; &c. —— And I will ſet up one ſhepheard over them, and he ſhall feed them, Even my ſervant DAVID; he ſhall feed them, and he ſhall be their Shepheard. And I the LORD will be their God, and my ſervant David a Prince among them. I the LORD have ſpoken it. And I will make with them a Covenant of Peace, and will cauſe the evil beaſts to ceaſe out of the land: and they ſhall dwell ſafely in the wilderneſs, and ſleep in the woods, &c. Here, under the Metaphor of a good Shepheard ſeeking and reſtoring his flock that was diſperſed and driven away and torn by wild-beaſts, and bringing them again into their own Folds and paſtures, God ſets forth his ſeeking of his diſperſed, captivated and diſtreſſed people, ſcattered and torn by thoſe wild-beaſts, the Chaldeans, and his bringing them from Babylon and all places of their diſperſion into the land of Iſrael. By Jeremiah alſo this bleſſing is promiſed, (k) Thus ſaith the LORD the God of Iſrael, —— Behold, I will gather them out of all Countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cauſe them to dwel ſafely. —— And I will make an everlaſting Covenant with them, —— And fields ſhall be bought in this land, whereof ye ſay, It is deſolate without man or beaſt, it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans; Men ſhall buy fields for money, and ſubſcribe evidences and Seal them, and take witneſſes in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jeruſalem, and in the Cities of Judah, and in the Cities of the Mountains, and in the Cities of the Valley, and in the Cities of the ſouth: for I will cauſe their Captivity to return, ſaith the LORD. And elſe where under the Type of good figs, he foretels their return from Captivity;

Now because this blessing of their Redemption and return from Babylon into their own land, is so often repeated and urged in this Covenant, that the drooping and broken spirits of the Captives might be raised up and comforted, after their long heavy and wasting Captivity; It may be very useful to consider a little, these few things for the further illustrating of this great Covenant-Redemption promised; viz. 1. The variety of Promised Mercies appertaining to this Eminent Mercy. 2. The Emphatical Arguments whereby God labours to perswade his Captives of their Return. 3. The accomplishment of this Mercy in its Season. 4. The Spiritual Mysterie of this their Redemption from Babylonish bondage, typifying the spiritual Redemption of Gods Elect from the greater bondage of Sin, Death, Satan, &c.

First, The Mercies Promised, with Relation and Subordination to their Redemption and Return from Babylon, were very many. Take a taste of a few. The Lord Promised,

1. To remove such Impediments out of the way as might hinder their Return from Babylon. As, 1. Their bruitish Babylonian Oppressours, that like evil beasts did drive and keep them out of their Land. (o) And I will make with them a Covenant of Peace, and will cause the evil beasts (the cruel Chaldeans) to cease out of the Land, and they shall dwell safely in the Wilderness, and sleep in the Woods. 2. Their strong bondage which they were under in Babylon; (p) —— And they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them. 3. The deadness and hopelessness of their Condition in Babylon, they being as helpless and hopeless as dead dry bones, yea as the dead in their graves. Whereupon they despaired of deliverance, saying; (q) Our bones are dryed, and our hope is lost, we are cut off for our parts. But God assures them that even this, that they were as dry bones or dead bodies laid low and fast in their Babylonish graves, should not at all hinder their Return from Babylon. And this he doth, Partly, by a (r) vision of dry bones clothed with sinews, flesh and skin, and reviving, represented to Ezekiel. Partly, by Exekiels explaining and applying this vision to the Captives, at Gods appointment, (s) Then he said unto me, Son of

of man, Theſe bones are the whole houſe of Iſrael: Behold they ſay, Our bones are dryed, and our hope is loſt, we are cut off for our parts. Therefore propheſie and ſay unto them, thus ſaith the Lord GOD; Behold O my people, I will open your Graves, and cauſe you to come up out of your Graves, and bring you into the land of Iſrael. And ye ſhall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your Graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your Graves, And ſhall put my Spirit in you, and ye ſhall live, and I ſhall place you in your own land: Then ſhall ye know, that I the LORD have ſpoken it, and performed it, ſaith the LORD. All this was fulfilled when (c) Cyrus by his Decree delivered the Jews from Babylon.

(c) Ezr. 1. 1, 2, &c.

2. To plant them firmly in their own land, and to rejoyce in doing them good moſt affectionately and entirely. (u) And I will make an Everlaſting Covenant with them, —— yea I will rejoyce over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land aſſuredly (Heb. in Truth, or in firm-ſtability) *with my whole heart, and with my whole Soul. (u) Ier. 32. 40, 41, 42, 43, 44.

3. To make them dwell ſafely and ſecurely in their own land. (x) Behold I will gather them out of all Countries whither I have driven them; —— And I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cauſe them to dwell ſafely (y) And I will make with them a Covenant of Peace, and will cauſe the Evil beaſts to ceaſe out of the land, and they ſhall dwell ſafely in the wilderneſs, and ſleep in the woods. —— And they ſhall be ſafe in their land. —— And they ſhall no more be a prey to the Heathen, neither ſhall the beaſts of the land devour them; but they ſhall dwell ſafely, and none ſhall make them afraid.

4. To unite them into one Nation and Kingdom in their land after their Return. This is ſet forth, 1. Parabolically, under the (z) Parable of two ſticks, viz. The ſtick of Joſeph, and the ſtick of Judah, both joyned together and becoming one in the Prophets hands. 2. Plainly, by the Lords (a) explaining the meaning of this Parable, viz. That theſe two ſticks ſhould be one in Gods hand. And yet more clearly; (b) Thus ſaith the LORD, behold I will take the children of Iſrael from among the Heathen whither they be gone, and gather them on every ſide, and bring them into their own land. And I will make them one Nation in the land upon the Mountains of Iſrael, and one King ſhall be King to them all: And they ſhall be no more two Nations, neither ſhall they be divided into two Kingdoms any more at all. Neither ſhall they defile themſelves any more with their Idols, nor with their deteſtable things, —— And DAVID my ſervant ſhall be King over them: And they all ſhall have one ſhepherd, &c.

Theſe ([d]) two ſticks of Judah and Iſrael joyned together, and becoming one in the Prophets hands, ſhadowed out the two Scepters or Kingdoms of Judah and Iſrael, which ſhould after their Return from Captivity become One Nation and one Kingdom in Gods hand; (viz. by Gods mighty Power,) And this under one ſhepheard and one King, Jeſus Chriſt the true DAVID. And to this End, Their Idolatry (which at firſt divided them into two Kingdoms, through Gods juſt judgement) ſhould now wholly be removed away from them. For clearing this great bleſſing of the Union of theſe two Kingdoms, Conſider briefly, 1. A Narrative of their Diviſion 2. The Accompliſhment of this Union.

(d) Ezek 37. 17, 18, 19.

Iſrael weary of their Government by Judges, deſired a King. God ([e]) gave them their firſt King Saul, in his anger, and took him away in his wrath: Thus chaſtizing their inordinate Deſire. After him God made David King; and by Covenant eſtabliſhed the Kingdom upon him and his Seed for ever: Abſolutely upon his Extraordinary ſeed Jeſus Chriſt; Conditionally upon his Ordinary Seed, if they ſhould keep his Covenant and Teſtimonies. Solomon, Davids immediate Seed, forſaking God and his Covenant by Idolatry, through the Enticements of his many ſtrange wives: God forſook him, And rayſed up Adverſaries againſt him, one whereof was his own ſervant Jeroboam the Son of Nebat. And when Solomon was Dead, The Kingdom which was United and One, as the Nation one under David and Solomon, was Divided into two in the days of Reboboam, Jereboam obtaining 10. tribes of the 12. This Diviſion occaſioned conſtant Enmity betwixt Judah and Iſrael: Eſpecially by reaſon of their different Religions. For Jeroboam fearing the ten tribes would revolt from him to their ancient Crown of Davids houſe, by going to worſhip God at Jeruſalem, in Carnal policy erected an idolatrous falſe worſhip in the to Calves at Dan and Bethel, which turned to the Ruine of his Houſe, and of the Houſe of Iſrael cleaving to his Idolatry: So that at laſt they were carried Captive into Aſyria by Salmanaſar, taking Samaria, and Killing Hoſhea their laſt King, and diſperſing moſt of Iſrael into Media, Perſia and other Countreyes. Now in this Covenant God Promiſes to Unite this Divided Nation and Kingdom into one, under one King David, and to take away all their Idolatry, which was the foundation of their former Diviſion. So that thereby, The Miſeries of their Divided ſtate ſhould be removed; and the ancient happineſs of their United ſtate, as in the time of David and Solomon, ſhould be reſtored.

(e) Hoſ. 13. 11.

This

This Covenanted Union of theſe two ſticks, theſe two Kingdoms into One, hath a twofold Accompliſhment; Literal, and Myſtical. I. Literally this was fulfilled, when Judah was returned from their Captivity in Babylon after ſeventy years, upon Cyrus his Decree after he had taken Babylon. At which time many of Judah returned into Canaan, rebuilt Jeruſalem and the Temple, &c. but ſome of them (Types of Carnal men preferring Earth before Heaven, Temporals before Spirituals) ſtaid behind. And its very probable that about the ſame time many of the diſperſed of Iſrael came back from Media, Perſia and other places of diſperſion (through the indulgence of Cyrus and Darius) and joyned themſelves to them of Judah under the Government of Zerubbabel, and other Rulers of Davids Race. But theſe Rulers were not called Kings as formerly: leſt the Monarchs, from whom they had received ſo great favours, and to whom as their Lords they paid Tributes, 1. Ezdr. ch. 9. ſhould be offended. Thus they, according to the Letter of this Covenant, became One Nation and One Kingdom under David, under the Seed of David, Types of Chriſt: nor were they divided into two Kingdoms as formerly any more. II. Myſtically and Typically this Union of theſe two Kingdoms hath its accompliſhment, 1. Partly, In the Uniting of the Gentiles (Typed by the Kingdom of the ten tribes diſperſed into Paganiſh Countries) to the Church of the Jews under One ſhepheard Jeſus Chriſt, by his Death (f) breaking down the middle wall of Partition, and deſtroying the Enmity betwixt them, viz. The Ceremonial worſhip, that law of Commandments contained in Ordinances, for to make in himſelf of twain (viz. of Jews and Gentiles) one new man, ſo making peace, &c. And thus that of our Saviour was fulfilled; (g) As the Father knoweth me, even ſo know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the ſheep. (viz. of the Jews) And other ſheep (viz. of the Gentiles) I have, which are not of this Fold: Them alſo I muſt bring, and they ſhall hear my voice; and there ſhall be one Fold, and one Shepheard, viz. of both Jews and Gentiles, incorparated into one Church. 2. Partly, In the gathering together, Uniting and Perfecting all the Elect in one Myſtical body of Chriſt: when (h) they all ſhall come in the Unity of the Faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a Perfect man, unto the Meaſure of the Stature of the fulneſs of Chriſt. 3. Partly, In the day of Judgement, when (i) Chriſt ſhall gather Corporally all his Elect from the four winds, whether dead or living; and ſhall ſet them, both in Soul and body, as his ſheep, at his right-hand, pronouncing the final bleſſed Sentence upon them, and ſhall accordingly afterwards take them all up into his heavenly kingdom with himſelf to be ever with the Lord.

5. To multiply them in the land of Canaan, wherein he would place them. (k) Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, it ſhall be an everlaſting Covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them. Multiplying of man-kinde (l) was one of the firſt bleſſings conferred by God upon mankinde: and its the ſtrength and glory of a Nation to grow and multiply. But this bleſſing and glory is then doubled and heightned, when by the Multiplying of a Nation the Church is alſo multiplyed, as in this caſe, this whole Nation being Gods Church. This Promiſe was fulfilled upon them according to the Letter; as appears, if the (m) Small number that returned out of Babylon, viz. 42360. and Servants, 7337. be compared with their great number afterwards, and particularly when the Romans deſtroyed Ieruſalem. For Ieruſalem was beſieged by Titus, when the people from all parts were come thither at a ſolemn Feaſt, and were ſhut up in Ieruſalem as in a priſon: And the (n) Centuriators note out of Egeſippus, that of Citizens and others, from other parts come thither, there were ſlain during the ſix moneths ſiege 1000000. viz. Ten hundred thouſand; And out of Ioſephus, That of Captives which were taken and carried in Triumph, or Caſt to the beaſts, or put to puniſhments, through all the Cities in the way that Titus went, there were 97000, viz. Ninety ſeven thouſand. And leſt theſe numbers ſhould be thought incredible, or impoſſible, Ioſephus reports, (o) That there were numbred at one Paſſover in Ieruſalem (beſides leprous and unclean perſons which might not eat the Paſſover) 2070000, viz. Two millions and ſeventy thouſand. So wonderfully did God multiply this people.

6. To bleſs and crown them with a Confluence of Proſperity and Glory, both Temporal and Spiritual.

(1) With Temporal proſperity and matter of joy on every ſide. To this effect the Lord ſaid; (p) And I will make with them a Covenant of Peace, — And I will make them and the places round about my hill, a Bleſſing; and I will cauſe the ſhower to come down in his Seaſon; There ſhall be ſhowers of Bleſſing. And the Tree of the Field ſhall yield her fruit, and the Earth ſhall yield her encreaſe, and they ſhall be ſafe in their land, and ſhall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hands of them that ſerved themſelves of them. And they ſhall no more be a prey to the Heathen, neither ſhall the beaſts of the land devour them: but they ſhall dwell ſafely, and none ſhall make them afraid. And I will raiſe up for them a plant of Renown, (So that, in Chriſt, this plant of Renown, all theſe outward bleſſings are promiſed them; in (q) whom all earthly bleſſings are added to believers) and they ſhall be no more conſumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the ſhame of the Heathen any more. Thus ſhall they know that I the LORD their God am with them; and that they, even the Houſe of Iſrael, are my people, ſaith the Lord GOD. And afterwards he adds; (r) —— And I will call for the corn (Corn and all bleſſings are at Gods call and Command) and will increaſe it, and lay no famine upon you. And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increaſe of the field, that ye ſhall receive no more reproach of famine among the Heathen. By the Prophet (ſ) Iſaiah alſo God promiſeth in Chriſt to theſe Captives after their return many Temporal Mercies intermixed among Spirituals. Thus ſaith the* LORD, Again there ſhall be heard in this place (which ye ſay are deſolate without man and without beaſt, even in the Cities of Judah and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, that are deſolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beaſt,) The voice of joy, and the voice of Gladneſs, The voice of the Bridegroom, and the voice of the Bride, The voice of them that ſhall ſay, Praiſe the LORD of hoaſts, for the LORD is good, for his mercy endureth for ever, And of them that ſhall bring the ſacrifice of Praiſe into the houſe of the LORD; For I will cauſe to return the Captivity of the land, as at the firſt, ſaith the LORD, &c.

(2) With Spiritual Proſperity and Glory. Therefore, the LORD (u) ſpeaking Comfortably to his Captives that had been for a while as a woman forſaken and grieved in ſpirit, and as a wife of youth refuſed, tels her he had forſaken her for a ſmall moment, and hid his face from her in a little wrath, but with everlaſting kindneſs he would have mercy upon her, and gather her. And the mountains and hils ſhould ſooner be removed out of their places, then his Covenant of peace with them ſhould be removed. And further he adds; (x) Oh, thou afflicted, toſſed with Tempeſt and not comforted, Behold I will lay thy ſtones with fair Colours, and lay thy foundations with Saphires, And I will make thy windows of Agates, and thy Gates of Carbuncles, And all thy borders of pleaſant ſtones. And all thy children ſhall be taught of the LORD, and great ſhall be the Peace of thy children. In which words note, I. His Churches miſery under Captivity. But how was this fulfilled, when Titus at laſt, after Chriſts Death, deſtroyed Jeruſalem and the Temple, and carried the people out of Canaan into forraign Countries, as I have formerly ſhewed? Anſw. This promiſe hath a twofold accompliſhment; viz. 1. Literal. So the Jews dwelt in their own land under David their Prince for ever; That is, for a long time, (as the Heb. phraſe, (c) for ever is ſometimes uſed,) even ſo long as the Seed of David Governed there, which was till the dayes of Chriſt. Yea ſo long as Chriſt himſelf the true DAVID lived, and many years after. 2. Myſtical. So all the true people of God, (typed by the Jews) dwell in the Church Militant or Triumphant, (typed by Canaan) under the Spiritual Kingdom of Jeſus Chriſt the true DAVID for evermore.

Theſe, and like Mercies were promiſed, as depending upon, and ſubſervient to this great Mercy of the Jews Return from Babylon into their own land of Canaan.

Secondly, The Arguments whereby God endeavours to perſwade his Captives of the certainty of their Return from Babylon, were Many, and thoſe very Emphatically urged. Their Condition in in Babylon was ſo low, All Waies and Means of their Deliverance thence ſo unlikely, And their ſpirits ſo overwhelmed with diſcomfort and deſpair; that they needed many Arguments, many cordials, to raiſe them up to believe ſo improbable Promiſes, and ſuch an impoſſible Deliverance. Therefore God ſtrengthens this Promiſe with many Reaſons or Arguments. Take a taſte or a few.

God endeavours to perſwade and aſſure them of their Return from Babylon;

1. From the Gratuitouſneſs and freeneſs of Gods Redeeming his people; without money, Iſa. 52. 1. to 7. & 48. 9. to 16.

2. From the mutual intereſt, love and dearneſs betwixt God and his people He being theirs and they his: therefore he will deliver them, Iſaiah 43. 1, 2, 3, 4. & 48. 14, 15. & 49. 13. to 18.

3. From Gods inviolable Conſtancy and Faithfulneſs in his Covenant and Promiſes to his people. His Covenant with David touching the perpetual Rule of his Seed, ſhall be as ſure as the Covenant of day and night: therefore their captivity ſhould return. And the viſion of their Return, at the appointed time ſhould ſpeak and not lye, Jer. 33. 19. to the end. Hab. 2. 1, 2, 3, 4. Jer. 33. 14.

4. From Gods removal of the grand Impediment of their Deliverance, viz. Their ſins, which he would freely and fully pardon, Iſa. 44. 21, 22, 23, &c. All the chains, fetters, and dungeons in Babylon could not hold Gods people ſo faſt in their bondage, as their ſins.

5. From Gods Omnipotency and matchleſs excellencies; ſhewing that he is every way able and al-ſufficient againſt all difficulties, to redeem his people and ruine their enemies, Iſa. 40. 9. to the end. & 52. 9, 10. Ezek. 37. 1. to 15. And therefore he Names Cyrus long aforehand, who ſhould be his Inſtrument in their deliverance, and for rebuilding Ieruſalem and the Temple: before whom all difficulties ſhould be removed, Iſaiah 44. 24. to the end. with Chap. 45. 1. to 14.

6. From Gods ſpecial preſence with his afflicted Captives in all their afflictions and extremities of diſtreſſes, Iſa. 43. 2, 5, 6. And Gods preſence is an excellent foundation of his peoples preſervation and ſpeedy relief, Pſal. 46. 5.

7. From Gods tender and vigilant Providence over them Continually. He ſtill bears and carries them as in his arms, from the womb to their hoary hairs: and therefore will carry and deliver them, Iſa. 46. 3, 4. And when they go forth, God will be both their Van-guard, and Rere ward, Iſa. 52. 11, 12.

8. From their former experiences of Gods redeeming and delivering them, eſpecially Egypts bondage of old, Iſa. 43. 2, 3, 4. & 52. 4, 5.

9. From their conformity to the Meſſiah Jeſus Chriſt himſelf in this their Affliction and Reſtauration out of it. Foraſmuch as Chriſt himſelf, ſhould firſt be deeply humbled, and then highly exalted alted and magnified. And therefore they should patiently wait till their Deliverance should approach, Isa. 52. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. with Chap. 53. throughout.

10. From Gods singular intent and aym of glorifying himself, and of sanctifying himself before the Heathen, by their Deliverance out of Babylon: that this might be to him a Name of Joy, a praise and an Honour before all the Nations of the Earth, which should hear all the good that he should do unto them, &c. Jer. 33. 6. to 15. Ezek. 36. 21. to 25.

By these, and divers such like Arguments, most emphatically urged, the LORD endeavours to comfort his afflicted Captives, and raise up their Hope, Expectation and Assurance of their seasonable Redemption, out of Babylon. Consult the words of the Lord in those Scriptures, alleadged only, for brevity sake.

Thirdly, This great Mercy, the Redemption of Gods Captive people from Babylon, was exactly accomplished in its season. For clearing this, Note;

(d) Jer. 25. 8. to 15. & 29. 10, &c. (e) 2 Chron. 36. 20, 21.

1. That the Captivity of the Jews in Babylon was to last just (d) 70. years, according as God foretold them by his Prophet Ieremiah. During all which time the land enjoyed her (e) Sabbaths. These 70. years were to continue till the expiration of the Babylonian, and inchoation of the Persian Kingdom, 2 Chron. 36. 20, 21. So that the Destruction of the Babylonish Kingdom, and the Redemption of the Jews out of Babylon were contemporany.

(f) Dan. 9. 1. to the end of the Chapter. See Broughton's consent of Script. in Preface. And Sacred Chronol. by R. D. pag. 64.

2. That, At the end of the Iews 70. years Captivity in Babylon, the Prophet Daniel in Babylon, in subserviency to Gods Promises, (f) set himself by Fasting and Prayer most earnestly to intreat the Lord for their Restauration. His Prayer is heard: And, beyond his prayer, a further Mysterie is revealed to him, viz. That from the going forth of the Commandment to restore and build Ierusalem, untill the Messiah, should be 70. weeks of years, and then the Messiah should be cut off. So that when the 70. years of their Captivity should end, the 70. weeks should begin. Both these fell out in the first year of Darius his raign over Babylon. And in the second year of Darius (after the Jews had received some degree of their deliverance) (g) The Angel of the LORD (viz. the Angel of the Covenant, Jesus Christ our Mediator, interceding with his Father for the accomplishment of this their Deliverance begun) said; O LORD of hoasts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Ierusalem, and on the Cities of Iudah, against which thou hast had indignation this threescore and ten years?

(g) Zech. 1. 7. 12, &c.

3. That, when the 70. years Captivity were now expired, the singular (h) providence of God so ordered things, That Babylon was taken by Darius the Mede, and Cyrus the Persian, and so the Babylonian Kingdom was given to the Persians. Daniel (i) briefly toucheth this History: others explain it to this effect, viz. 1. The 70. years Captivity were now expired. 2. At this very time (Gods vigilant providence so ordering and over-ruling all affairs) Darius and Cyrus had besieged

Babylon

Babylon now a good while together: wherein, as is reported, Corn enough was laid up for ten years. 3. During their Siege againſt Babylon, Belſhazzar King of Babylon made a great Feaſt to a thouſand of his Lords, and drank wine before the thouſand, Dan. 5. 1, 2, &c. Thus God infatuated him to his deſtruction: that in the midſt of his danger he ſhould be ſo ſecure and licentious, when he had need to have been taking care of his beſieged City, eſpecially Cyrus being ſo potent and active an adverſary. At this Feaſt, God miraculouſly ſent an hand, writing Belſhazzar his doom on the wall over againſt the Candleſtick, Mene, Mene, Tekel, Peres. That he was weighed in the ballances and found too light, and his Kingdom ſhould be given to the Medes and Perſians: for expounding whereof Daniel was clothed in Scarlet, having a Chain of Gold put about his neck. 4. On that very night, when they were drowned in wine, ſleep and ſecurity, Babylon was taken by Darius and Cyrus, and King Belſhazzar ſlain. It is noted out of Hiſtorians, Xenophon and others, (k) That Gobria and Gabatha betrayed the City to Cyrus by way of revenge againſt Belſhazzar, who had ignominiouſly gelded one of them, and ſlain the ſon of the other. And that Cyrus with his Army having many ſluces and trenches, ſuddenly on that night turned the River Euphrates into thoſe ſluces, and ſo entred the City, and poſſeſſed the Kingdom of Babylon for his own. 5. In the (l) very firſt year of Darius and Cyrus, Proclamation is made by Cyrus to all the Captive Jews in Babylon, that they ſhould be ſet at liberty to go build Jeruſalem and the Temple, and he reſtored to them the veſſels of the Temple. And accordingly (m) many thouſand Jews went up to Jeruſalem, and (though in troublous times) builded, proſpered in, and compleated their work. Thus their Deliverance from Babylon was brought about moſt wonderfully and unexpectedly. Inſomuch that the very Captives themſelves releaſed, were amazed at it, and as people in a Dream, rather then in a real deliverance. (n) When the LORD turned again the Captivity of Sion, we were like them that dream. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ſinging: Then ſaid they among the Heathen, The LORD hath done great things for them. The LORD hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.

Fourthly, This wonderfull Redemption of the Captive Jews from Babylon had a ſpiritual myſterie in it, ſhadowing out the greateſt and Spiritual Redemption of Gods Elect from the bondage of Sin, Satan, Death, Hell, &c. into which they were implunged by the Fall of the firſt Adam, and out of which they ſhould be Reſtored by Jeſus Chriſt the laſt Adam. For evincing of this, ponder diligently theſe few enſuing Conſiderations, viz.

1. That, The Promiſes of God touching his Peoples Deliverance from Babylons Captivity, are joyntly propoſed and intermixed with his Promiſes of Reſtoring his Elect from ſpiritual Captivity. As Iſa. 49. throughout. Dan. 9. 2, &c. 24, &c. Which notably inſinuates thus much to us; That in their Redemption from Babylons thraldom, God typed out their Redemption from ſpiritual thraldom: and in that, they were eſpecially to lift up their eyes to this.

2. That, It is the primary Scope and intention of the Prophet Iſaiah, in the fourth Part of his Propheſie, which is promiſſory, viz. from Chap. 40. 1. to the end of the Book, To comfort his ſpiritual Captives under Sin, Satan, Death, &c. with promiſes of their Deliverance by Chriſt; all along under-laying as a foundation, handſel and ſhadow thereof, the Reſtauration of his Captives from the bondage of Babylon. And therefore, 1. He aſſures the Jews of their Deliverance by Cyrus (named about 200. years aforehand) out of their ſad Babyloniſh Captivity threatned: as alſo of Babylons utter Deſtruction, Compare Iſa. 39. with Chap. 40. to Chap. 49. 2. He carries and raiſes them hereupon to behold and expect a far greater deliverance by Jeſus Chriſt the Meſſiah, from ſpiritual Captivity under Sin, Satan, Wrath, &c. which ſhould be as the high accompliſhment, perfection and glory of their Return from Babylon to Sion, eſpecially when Chriſt the bleſſed Redeemer ſhould ſubdue and annex the Gentiles far and near unto his Church, that Mother-Church of the Iews, Iſa. 49. to the end of his Propheſie.

And this will more fully appear; Partly, By a diligent and judicious conſidering of the whole Series, Order, Connexion, and Intent of the Propheſie, from Chap. 40. to the end of the Book: as I have (o) elſewhere clearly unfolded the ſame. Partly, By the Concurrent judgement and interpretation of the godly learned, familiarly acquainted with the Scriptures, as Calvin, &c. Eſpecially by thoſe Accurate and Elaborate (p) Annotations, or Large Commentary upon Iſaiah, digeſted into the Large Lond. Annotations upon the whole Bible.

(p) Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, ſaith your God.] In the foregoing Chapter, was an hint given of the Babylonian Captivity. And by the ſubject-matter of the enſuing Prophecies, it may appear, how fitly the ſtory therein Related, was here inſerted. For, the ſubſequent Sermons are generally moſt, if not all of them, concerning that their Captivity, their delivery out of it, and the Reſtitution of their State and Church in after-times: but ſo, that they reſt not in that, but reach ſtill farther, unto the Spiritual Delivery of Gods people, from the far more direful thraldom under Sin, and Satan, by the Meſſias therein Typifyed, The advancement of his Kingdom and Enlargement thereof, by the ſubduing and bringing in of thoſe Nations, that had formerly been enemies thereunto. Annotat. on Iſaiah 40. 1.

Liſten O Iſles, unto me; and hearken O people, from far.] The Prophecy delivered and Recorded in this Chapter, runneth on in the ſame ſtrain with the former, Relating the Reſtauration and Enlargement of Gods Church, conſiſting both of Jews and Gentiles, under a Type of the Jews Releaſment from the Babylonian deportation, and the re-eſtabliſhment of them in their former eſtate, with much honour and increaſe, by acceſſion of other Nations unto them, both effected by the mighty power of the Lord Jeſus, the Meſſias. Annot. on Iſaiah 49. 1.

3. That, The Lord comforts his Captives in Babylon, by their (q) conformity to the Meſſiah, the Lords Servant, both in their deep Affliction in it, and enſuing Reſtauration out of it: Foraſmuch as even Chriſt him-himself should first be deeply Afflicted and Abased, before he should be highly advanced and exalted.

4. That, Unto Gods Covenant of Promises for Return of his people the Jews from Babylonish Captivity, there are (t) immediately annexed Precious Promises of the Messiah, for effecting and full compleating thereof. And therefore after the Lord had largely expressed his Covenant touching their Return from Babylon, Ier. 32. 26. to the end of the Chapter, and 33. 1. to 15. He presently adds; (t) In those dayes, and at that time (viz. Even in the dayes and time of this Covenant with the Captives, and before the expiration thereof) will I cause the branch of Righteousness to grow up unto David, and he shall execute judgement and righteousness in the land. In those dayes shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely, and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The LORD our righteousness. For thus saith the LORD, David shall never want a Man to sit upon the throne of the House of Israel, &c. In which expressions, The Restauration of Israel, both from the Babylonish, and Spiritual Captivity, is ascribed to Christ, as to be accomplished by him fully and finally. And elsewhere Scriptures testifie; That, As (t) Christ Redeems from Spiritual Captivity by his Death and blood: So the same Jesus Christ tels the Church, that by the blood of her Covenant (viz. by his own blood typfied in the blood of Sacrifices used in confirming his Covenant, as Exod. 24. 5, 6, 7, 8. which is Gods Covenant, as Author of it, Her Covenant, as the Fœderate party in it with God) he had sent forth her Prisoners out of the uncomfortable Babylonish pit (u) —— As for them also, by the blood of thy Covenant, I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

5. That, God promiseth to his divided and dispersed people, (x) that, when their Dispersion should be gathered from Babylon and other Countries into their own land, they should be United into one Nation and one Kingdom in their own land, under one King, even David (viz. Jesus Christ the true DAVID) their King for ever. Literally, they were thus united, at their Return, under Zerubbabel, a son of David, and Type of Christ: Spiritually, they were thus United under Christ himself; as hath been formerly explained. That being a Type and shadow of This.

6. That, Israels Redemption of old from Ægyptian bondage, was a plain Type of the Elects Redemption by Christ from spiritual bondage, (y) as the Mysterie or Sacrament of the Passover then, and upon occasion of that deliverance, celebrated, doth unquestionably evince: Proportionably, yea and much more, this (z) greater Redemption of the Iews from Babylonian bondage (in comparison whereof that deliverance from Ægypt should, as it were, be forgotten) was a Type also of the Elects Restauration by Christ from spiritual Captivity. And therefore it is very observable, that when the Lord had (a) promised, To gather his dispersed Flock out of all Countries, and to raise up to David a righteous Branch for saving Judah and Jerusalem, even THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUS-

TOUSNESS: He preſently adds; (b) Therefore behold the dayes come ſaith the LORD, that they ſhall no more ſay, The LORD liveth which brought up the children of Iſrael out of the Land of Ægypt; But, The LORD liveth which brought up, and which led the Seed of the Houſe of Iſrael out of the North-Country, and from all Countries whither I had driven them, and they ſhall dwell in their own Land. By which he gives us to underſtand: 1. That the ſame LORD, viz. The Lord Jeſus Chriſt brought Iſrael out of Ægypt, and out of Babylon, into Canaan, whatever the Inſtruments were. 2. That, The Deliverance from Babylon ſhould ſo far ſurpaſs that from Ægypt, that the tranſcendent greatneſs of that, ſhould Eclipſe, and as it were obliterate the memory of this. 3. That conſequently, As Canaan whither they were to be brought, was a Type of Heaven, the eternal Reſt: So, both Ægypt and Babylon, whence they were delivered, were Types of their ſpiritual bondage and miſery under Sin, Satan, Death, &c. And their Redemption from Babylon was a Type of their Spiritual Redemption by Chriſt, as well as their Redemption from Ægypt, and in ſome regards a more eminent Type.

7. Finally, That there is a notable Analogy, or proportion betwixt the Jews deliverance out of the Babyloniſh Captivity, and the Elects deliverance from their Spiritual Captivity. For, 1. The term whence the Jews were delivered, viz. Babylon, was a place of (c) wickedneſs, and a place of extream miſery and wretcedneſs to the Captives. There they were ſadly oppreſſed for ſeventy years together, as ſlaves and vaſſals to the Pagans; There they were in as helpleſs and hopeleſs a condition, in reference to their deliverance, (d) as dead bodies and dry bones in a Grave. So the term from which the Elect were delivered by Chriſt, is a ſtate of ſin, and a ſtate of Miſery, under Curſe, Wrath, Death, Satan, &c. They (e) being dead in treſpaſſes and Sins, under the power of Satan, and children of wrath, even as others. 2. The Jews deliverance from Babylon, was (f) a Reviving of their dead bones, an opening of their Graves, and a bringing them as it were out of their Graves in Babylon. So the Elects deliverance from their Spiritual bondage, is their Spiritual Reviving and Reſurrection. (g) God who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in ſins, hath quickned us together with Chriſt, —— and hath raiſed us up together. And elſewhere, (h) If ye then be riſen with Chriſt, ſeek thoſe things which are above. 3. The Iews were delivered from Babaylon by Cyrus when the appointed time of ſeventy years was fully come: So the Elect were redeemed and delivered from their ſpiritual bondage in (i) the fulneſs of time by Jeſus Chriſt when the ſeventy weeks of years were come. 4. The Iews were ſo delivered from Babylon, as that they were (k) cleanſed from their idols, deteſtable things and tranſgreſſions. And the Elect are ſo delivered from their ſpiritual thraldom, that they are (l) waſhed, ſanctified, juſtified in the Name of the Lord Ieſus, and by the Spirit of our God. 5. The Iews delivered

Thus of Gods Promise to Redeem the Iews out of Babylon, and to Return them into their own land of Canaan.

III. Gods cleansing of his People the Jews, when Redeemed out of Babylon from all their Spiritual Defilements: from all their Idols, from all their detestable things, and from all their Transgressions. To this effect, the Prophet Ezekiel (p) laying down the Substance of this Covenant to the Captives, and having promised, First, Their Return from Captivity: Secondly The union and oneness of their Nation under one King in their own Land: Thirdly he adds, as a third Covenant-blessing, the Cleansing, Expiation and Pardon of their Transgressions, saying; (q) Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their Idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their Transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them; so shall they be my people, and I will be their God. —— Moreover I will make a Covenant of Peace with them, &c. And in the former Chapter, reciting the Promised blessings of this Covenant, he promiseth this mercy of their Spiritual cleansing three severall times, as (r) Lavater observes, for the greater certainty that all sins shall be remitted to the penitent. God speaks it once, twice, thrice: because he was peremptorily resolved and determined to confer this blessing upon them. (s) Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your Idols will I cleanse you (t) —I will also save you from all your uncleannesses, &c. (u) —Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the Cities, &c. By Ieremiah also the Lord said; (x) And I will cause the Captivity of Judah, and the Captivity of Israel to return, and will build them as at the first. And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me, and I will Pardon all their iniquities whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me. Calvin (y) thinks these two phrases, I will cleanse them, and I will Pardon, do signifie one and the same thing: because the Heb. טהר Tahar, here rendered cleanse, properly signifies, To expiate. And therefore cleansing here denotes not Regeneration, or Sanctification. And he further notes, That

That the Prophet, by changing the number, Iniquity, to Iniquities, ſhews the Company and variety of their wickedneſſes: As if he had ſaid, there was a manifold Heap of their wickedneſſes, ſtanding in need of Gods ſingular mercies.

In theſe ſweet and Comfortable Promiſes of their Cleanſing, Compared together, theſe things are very obſervable, viz.

1. How the grievouſneſs and ſinfulneſs of their Sins and Idolatries are deſcribed. For, The Expreſſions are very Emphatical: by which God would Convince them and Shame them. As, 1. Idols, גלולים Gillulim, Properly, Dunghils, Dungheaps, &c. Ezek. 37. 23. and 36. 25. Its derived from גלל Galal, To roul away, tumble, &c. Thence גלל Galal ſignifieth dung or Excrement: becauſe it is rolled out, and carried out of ſight; or becauſe that which is rolled therein is defiled. Hence its uſed to ſignifie Idols, as being Dunghil-gods, Dungheaps, vile excrements and ſtinking filth. 2. Deteſtable-things. Heb. שקוציהם Shikkutſim, which properly ſignifies Execrable, accurſed, loathſome, abominable things, Ezek. 37. 23. ſuch abominable things as a man ſhuts his Eyes, or ſtops his Noſe againſt. 3. Tranſgreſſions. Heb. פשעים Peſhagnim, properly, Defections, Rebellions, Prevarications, Ezek. 37. 23. 4. Filthineſſes, Uncleanneſſes, Pollutions, or Defilements, &c. טמאותם Tumothim, properly, Defiling-Filthineſſes, Ezek. 36. 25, 29. It imports not only ſome one, but their manifold pollutions, and ſpirituall filthineſſes, whereby themſelves and their wayes were ſo defiled, that they ſtood in need of Gods cleanſing. 5. Iniquities. Heb. עוותים Gnavonothim, properly it ſignifies Perverſneſſes, Perverſe-iniquities, crookedneſſes, &c. Ezek. 36. 33. A thing is crooked, and warped awry, when it will not be brought to agree with that which is ſtraight, but warps and ſtarts from it. Such were their thoughts, words and wayes, in reference to the ſtraight-rule of Gods will in his Word. This ſame word alſo (z) Jeremiah uſeth twice in the fore-cited promiſe, viz. Once in the Singular number, and after in the Plural. As intimating that they were guilty not only of one ſin, or one ſort of ſins: but of an Heap of ſins and crooked carriages againſt God, as I formerly noted out of Calvin. Thus by all theſe aggravating expreſſions God endeavours to humble and ſhame them for the hainouſneſs of their iniquities. God humbles ſinners firſt under the true ſenſe of their ſinfulneſſes: before he lift them up with the pardon of their ſins.

(z) Jer. 33. 8.

2. How exceeding graciouſly the Healing and removing of all their ſinfulneſſes is by the Lord promiſed. This is laid down alſo in variety of Expreſſions. As, 1. That he will ſprinkle clean water upon them, and they ſhall be clean, Ezek. 36. 25. Sin had made them foul and filthy: God would ſprinkle clean water upon them, to purge and waſh off their filthineſſes. In this phraſe is a plain Alluſion to the Levitical (a) Sprinklings, Waſhings and Purifications, purging away the Ceremonial Uncleanneſs; without which cleanſings, the unclean could could not be admitted into the Camp or Congregation. All wh ch were evident Types of the blood of Jesus Christ that blood of sprinkling speaking better things then the blood of Abel, purging the Conscience from dead works, to serve the living God, Heb. 9. 13, 14. and 12. 24. Christs blood is this clean water sprinkled by faith upon the soul, that Fountain opened for sin and for uncleanness, Zech. 13. 1. Psal. 51. 2, 7. 2. That he will cleanse them, Ezek. 37. 23. will cleanse them from all their iniquity, Jer. 33. 7, 8. Yea, from all their iniquities, Ezek. 36. 33. Yea he will cleanse them from all their filthinesses, and from all their Idols, Ezek. 36. 25. This shews Gods determinate resolvedness thus to cleanse them by the blood of Jesus Christ from all their sinfull defilements fully and compleatly, that they might be pure and spotless. Heres the Freeness, Fulness, and Resoluteness of this Mercy intimated. 3. That he will pardon (Heb. (b) will Spare, Remit, be propitious to) all their iniquities whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against him, Jer. 33. 8. This free and full Pardon of iniquities, oh how sweet a Priviledge and Consolation is it to the Sinner! Herein (c) David placeth a mans Blessedness. 4. That They shall not any more defile themselves with their Idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions, Ezek. 37. 23. This hath reference to Gods cleansing them by Regeneration and Sanctification, from the power and stain of sin, especially of Idolatry, set forth here in three words, idols, Detestable-things, Transgressions. Though formerly they were extreamly addicted to Idolatry, yet after their Return from Captivity, they should be throughly reformed from that sin, They should be given to Idolatry no more. 5. That he will save them from all their uncleannesses, Ezek. 36. 29. Yea, That he will save them out of all their dwelling-places wherein they have sinned, Ezek. 37. 23. That is, (1) He will save them from their sins, both from the Guilt, and from the Power and Pollution thereof. He will Justifie, and Sanctifie them: especially from their Idolatries. (2) He will save them also from the Punishment of their sins, out of all their dwelling-places, whether Babylon, Ægypt, or elsewhere, in which they are Captives, (d) wherein they have willingly, or compulsorily been partakers in Paganish Idolatries.

3. How these Promises were performed and made good to the Captive Jews. These Promises had their Accomplishment, 1. Upon the Elect Jews which were carried Captive. When they were effectually Called, Converted, Sanctified and Justified: Then, clean water was poured upon them: Then, they were fully cleansed from all their defilements and Idolatries, &c. And analogically upon all the Elect in after-ages. 2. Upon the whole body of the Captives in some sense. Forasmuch as they were fully divorced, and throughly reformed from all their Idolatries, Detestable things, and Prevarications, after their Return from Babylon. Before that time, they and their Fathers were extreamly prone to Idolatry, and ready ready to run into it upon all occaſions, and could not be divorced from it. The (e) family of Terah, Abrahams father, beyond the flood, worſhipped other Gods in Chaldea before Abram was called into Canaan. The (f) family of Iacob, whilſt with Laban, and afterwards, tainted with Idolatry. The (g) Iſraelites ſerved ſtrange Gods in Ægypt, even the Idols of the Ægyptians. When they were newly brought out of Ægypt, and had ſolemnly Covenanted with God againſt Idolatry, while Moſes was in the Mount with God, (h) they Idolatrouſly treſpaſſed in the Golden calf which Aaron Made: ſitting down to eat and drink, and riſing up to play. When they came into the land of Moab in Shittim, (i) they went to the Sacrifices of the Moabitiſh Gods, and did eat, and bowed down to their Gods: ſo that 24000. of them thereupon dyed of the plague, and by the hand of Juſtice. In the daies of the Judges (k) they ſerved the Gods of the Heathens, Baalim and the groves, and Aſhtaroth, and the Gods of Syria, of Zidon, of Moab, of Ammon, and of the Philiſtines. In the dayes of the Kings: Solomon encouraged, and ſhared in the Idolatry of all his ſtrange wives, 1 Kings 11. 6. 7, 8. Ieroboam ſet up the Idolatrous Calves in Dan and Bethel, whereby he made Iſrael to ſin, 1 Kings 12. 28. to the end. And what ſhall I ſay? Time would fail me to tell of their Idolatry, (l) in the dayes of Ahab, Iehu, Heſhea, Manaſſes, Amon, and of others till the very Babyloniſh Captivity. Yea, (m) they were very Idolatrous even under their Captivity. But now after they were brought out of Babyloniſh Captivity, how did God wean them from their idolatry, deteſtable things and prevaracations! I read not, that I remember, of any their idolatries afterwards, They after that defiled themſelves with their idols no more. Yea I read in other writings, that after this the Jews extremly abhorred Idols, and Idolatry. Dion Caſſius reports, (n) That at that time when Jeruſalem was taken by Pompey, there was no image found in the Temple: and that the Iews did account their God to be ineffable and inviſible. Yea they ſo far loathed Idols and Idolatry; (o) that when ſome raſh young men, called Doritæ, had in a ſhew of Religion, put Cæſars Statue in one of the Jews Synagogues, Petronius (then Claudius Cæſar's Legate) writes ſharply to the Dorienſian Magiſtrates to ſend them to him to give an account of their fact, whereby they had profaned the Synagogue of the Iews, by bringing in Cæſars Statue, which their Religion did not allow of, whereby the piety of the Iews was offended, &c. as Ioſephus recites the ſtory. And the (p) Centuriators declare; That, Herod Aſcalonita being made King in Iudæa by Auguſtus Cæſar, placed with great coſt A Golden Eagle over the gates of the Temple, for the Honour of Cæſar. But forty young Scholars of eminent Families, and their two Maſters Iudas and Matthias, in their pious Zeal being grieved at ſuch profanation of the Temple, demoliſhed by force the ſaid Structure at bright Noon-day. Thus this Promiſe in this Covenant, of Healing the Iews idolatry was performed moſt eminently.

I V. Gods Putting his Spirit within them, for new-framing and Spiritualizing their Heart. God promiseth his Spirit to them: and the blessed Influences of his Spirit upon them. His Promises to this purpose were very sweet, Evanglical and Spiritual (q) —— A new heart also will I give you, and a new Spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the Stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my Statutes, and ye shall keep my judgements and do them. (r) —— And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new Spirit within you: And I will take the Stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh: That they may walk in my Statutes, and keep mine Ordinances and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God. (s) —— And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart. (t) —— And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them. And I will make an Everlasting Covenant with them, &c. And the Prophet Isaiah, promising to the exiled and Captivated Jews deliverance from Babylon, especially under that from spiritual bondage by Jesus Christ the Redeemer, assures them of their Constant enjoyment of his Spirit and Word for their Constant direction and consolation, saying; (u) And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD: As for me, this is my Covenant with them, saith the LORD: My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put into thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy Seed, nor out of the mouth of thy Seeds Seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever. The Spirit, with these effects, fruits and influences of the Spirit of God, are promised and covenanted to be performed to the Captive Jews after their Return from Babylon. Let us view them a little, 1. More Generally. 2. More Particularly.

More Generally, Here God promiseth his own Spirit to his Captive people, after their Return from Babylon, Ezek. 36. 27. Isa. 59. 20, 21. Here divers Queries must be resolved for Explanation sake. As, I. What is meant by the LORD's Spirit here promised? Answ. The word [Spirit] is used in a manifold sense in Scripture, as it is attributed to God. Here it is attributed to God; I will put my Spirit within you, &c. This word Spirit is attributed to God, Essentially, and Personally. 1. Essentially. So God is a Spirit, John 4. 24. An eternal Spirit, Heb. 9. 14. Christ is said to be Justified in the Spirit, i. e. In the Godhead, here opposed to his flesh, 1 Tim. 3. 16. Thus it is not to be understood here. 2. Personally, To the third person in Trinity peculiarly, viz. The Holy Ghost. To him this Name Spirit is given, Properly, and Improperly. (1) Properly, as denoting the third Personal Subsistence in the Godhead, (x) proceeding from the Father and the Son, and equal in Eſſence or Subſtance to them both, Luke 1. 68, 70. compared with 2 Pet. 1. 21. Acts 5. 3, 4. Nor is it here uſed in this ſenſe. (z) Improperly, and Metonymically, for the Effects, Fruits, Works, Gifts, Endowments, &c. of the Holy Spirit, whether Ordinary or Extraordinary, whether more Common, or more Special and peculiar to the Elect. Thus Chriſt is ſaid to be annointed with the Holy Ghoſt, Acts 10. 38. God gave not the Spirit to him by meaſure, John 3. 34. John was filled with the Holy Ghoſt, Luke 1. 15. Steven full of the Holy Ghoſt, Acts 7. 55. Be filled with the Spirit, Epheſ. 5. 18. Senſual, having not the Spirit, Jude 19. —Give the Spirit to them that ask him, Luke 11. 13. with Mat. 7. 11. If the Spirit of God dwel in you, Rom. 8. 9. Now we have received not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, 1 Cor. 2. 12. In this ſenſe it is moſt frequently uſed in the Scripture. And in this notion the Spirit is promiſed here: that is, The Effects, Gifts, Fruits, Influences, &c. of the Spirit of God. II. Was not the Spirit, in this ſenſe, beſtowed upon the Jews, till after their Return from Babylon? Anſw. The (y) Socinians hold, That there were two promiſes, viz. of Eternal life, and of the Holy Ghoſt, peculiar to the New Teſtament, never promiſed under the Old Teſtament: Such excellent Promiſes being deferred till Chriſt himſelf came. And therefore according to their Opinion, The Holy Ghoſt, being not ſo much as promiſed, was not given till after Chriſts coming. But this Socinian Errour I (z) have formerly refelled in opening the Sinai-Covenant: and it is ſo groſs, I need not now add much more. Thus in brief reſolve; The Holy Ghoſt, taken Metonymically for the Fruits and Effects of the Holy Ghoſt, Ordinary, or Extraordinary, was promiſed and given before the Death of Jeſus Chriſt, yea and before the Jews Return from the Babyloniſh Captivity. 1. The Extraordinary Gifts and Effects of the Spirit were promiſed and given; To Moſes and the ſeventy Elders of Iſrael, Numb. 11. 17, 25, 26, 29. To Elijah and Eliſha, 2 Kings 2. 9, 15. To the Prophets, Neh. 9. 30. Zech. 7. 12. and 2 Pet. 1, 21. To David propheſying of Chriſt, and calling him Lord, Pſal. 110. 1. with Mat. 22. 43. To John the Baptiſt, having the Spirit and power of Elijah, Luke 1. 17. moſt impudently ſlander Gods people before Chriſt, and beſie the diſpenſations of Gods Grace, when they aſſert the Holy Spirit was not promiſed till the coming of Chriſt. The Elect in all Ages had their Meaſure of the Spirit of God; but before Chriſt the Spirit was given very ſparingly, after Chriſt very plentifully and bountifully. And uſually God diſpenſed his Spirit ſtill more and more largely and liberally, according as he more and more enlarged his Covenant-Expreſſures in Jeſus Chriſt. Theſe Captive-Jews had the Spirit of God, before, and under their Captivity: but God promiſeth a more plenary endowment of them therewith, after their Return from Babylon, Ezek. 36. 27.

More Particularly, Here God promiſeth many precious Influences and effects of the Spirit unto his Captives after their Return, which are laid down in theſe ſweet promiſes forementioned. As, 1. Newneſs of Heart and Spirit. 2. An Heart knowing the LORD. 3. Fleſhineſs of Heart, inſtead of Stoninеſs. 4. Penitentialneſs of Heart. 5. Oneneſs of Heart and way. 6. The Conſtant Fear of God. 7. Obedientialneſs towards God. Theſe are the bleſſed fruits of Gods Spirit which ſhould be put within them. Here is a ſweet Garden and Paradiſe of Spiritual delights. Here let us dwell a while, and ſolace our ſelves abundantly.

I. Newneſs of Heart and Spirit. This is an Eminent Effect of Gods Spirit promiſed to the Captive Jews, after they ſhould be cleanſed from their Spiritual defilements (a) —— A new Heart alſo will I give you, and a new Spirit will I put within you. That Paragraph in Chap. 36. ver. 21. to the end, hath Evident reference to this Covenant with the Captive Jews, if compared with Jer. 32. and Ezek. 37. the Promiſes running in the ſame ſtrain, and the Performances thereof appropriated to the Jews Return from Babylon, in all theſe places. In theſe words the Lord Promiſeth them a new ſpiritual Frame and Conſtitution of Soul: Their old frame was ſo wholly corrupt und naught, that no leſs then a new frame would ſerve turn.

(a) Ezek. 36. 25, 26. & 11. 19.

For unfolding of this, let theſe Queſtions be briefly diſcuſſed and determined, viz. 1. What is meant here by Heart and Spirit? 2. What is meant by A New Heart and Spirit: and wherein the New Heart and New Spirit conſiſt? 3. Whether God alone give this New heart, and put this New Spirit into his people? 4. Why God gives them a new Heart and Spirit? 5. How this New heart and New Spirit which God gives may be known and diſcovered?

Queſt. 1. What is here meant by Heart and Spirit?

Anſw. Theſe two words, [Heart, and Spirit,] when they are mentioned diſtinctly and ſeperately one from the other, are both of them of very various acceptations in Scripture, which we need not here ſo much as to point at. But when they are mentioned joyntly and applyed to man, (b) as they are divers times in this Prophet, then (as Calvin hath well noted) they are put for Mans whole Soul and all the Faculties thereof, viz. (c) The Spirit, for the more sublime, high and Spiritfull part of the Soul, The Mind and understanding, which is endowed with Reason and Judgement; This is the upper Story, or Tower of the Soul: The Heart, being the Seat of the affections is put for the Inferiour parts or faculties of the Soul, the Will and Affections, whereby a man doth will or nill, Elect or Reject, according to the proposal of the Understanding. By Spirit, therefore I understand here all the Upper Faculties, the Intellectuals, chiefly seated in the Head: By Heart, all the lower Faculties of the will and Affections, chiefly seated in the Heart. By both Heart and Spirit, The whole Soul Rational, with all its Faculties and Powers.

(c) Sicuti per nomen Cordis intelligit affectus, ita etiam per Spiritum mentem ipsam, & omnes cogitationes designat. Spiritus hominis sæpe capitur pro tota anima, & tunc comprehendit etiam omnes affectus. Sed ubi hæc duo simul junguntur, Cor & Spiritus, Cor vocatur Sedes omnium affectuum, denique est ipsa voluntas hominis: Spiritus autem est facultas intelligendi. Scimus enim duas esse præcipuas animæ Dotes, prior est quod Ratione polleat, Deinde, quod prædita sit Judicio & Electione. —— Sed hoc principium tenendum est Animam hominis excellere primum intelligentia vel Ratione, Deinde Judicio, unde pendet electio & voluntas. Joh. Calvin. Prælect. in Ezek. 11. 19.

Quest. 2. What is meant by a New Heart and Spirit: and wherein the New Heart and Spirit Consist?

Answ. For clearing this Question I shall shew; First, what the word, New, imports. Then what the Newness of the Spirit and Heart implies.

First, A thing is stiled New in Scripture, in divers regards. As, 1. When it is fresh, or lately done, or lately begun, its New. So its opposed to that which is stale and old. Thus; (d) Old things are passed away, behold all things are become new. (e) —— The name above every name in heaven and earth, which Christ hath obtained by his passion, is called his New Name. (f) —— The Lords Mercies and Compassions are New every morning. In this sence New is used most properly and frequently. 2. When it is another thing, or at least divers from the former. Another in Substance, or Divers in Circumstance or Accidents, Then its called New. As, (g) New Tongues, viz. other tongues then the mother tongue, or then were formerly used. (h) A new King, viz. ἕτερος, Another King, as the LXX. render it. (i) A new Commandment, to love one another. This Commandment Iohn calls both an Old Commandment and a New, 1. Iohn 2. 7, 8. and 2 Iohn 5. This is an Old Commandment for the Substance of it, and was enjoyned from the beginning. But in regard of some Accidents and Circumstances of it, Christ hath made it a new Commandment: viz. Partly, In propounding a New pattern of brotherly love. He saith not only, Love thy neighbour as thy self: But, love one another as I have loved you, Iohn 13. 34. Partly, by writing this Commandment in New Tables of Mind and Heart: not as formerly in old Tables of stone, Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10. with 2 Cor. 3. 3. Partly, by his new reviving and vehement pressing of this Commandment, as if it were a New Commandment: New laws and and Statutes being more vehemently and forcibly urged, then old Laws that are wearing away. This Commandment is ſtill to continue, and never to be antiquated as to the uſe and exerciſe of it. Thus Chriſt ſaith, (k) I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine untill that day when I drink it New with you in my Fathers Kingdom, viz. Till I drink other manner of wine with you in heavenly glory, the wine of refreſhing endleſs joyes and raviſhing delights, See Luke 22. 29, 30. Pſal. 16. 11. Revel. 3. 21. 3. When it is ſtrange, unuſual, unheard of, extraordinary, &c. then a thing is called New. As, Pauls preaching Chriſt Jeſus and the Reſurrection to the Athenians, is called, (l) New Doctrine. (m) —The LORD hath created a New thing in the Earth, a woman ſhall Compaſs a man. Thus the people wondering at the ſtrangeneſs and unuſualneſs of Chriſts Doctrine, ſaid; (n) what thing is this? what new Doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean ſpirits, and they obey him. 4. When a thing is not common, vulgar, &c. but ſingular, eminent, excellent, then its called New. As, A New ſong, Pſal. 96. 1. and 98. 1. The Churches New name, Iſai. 62. 2. The faithful's New name, Rev. 2. 17. Chriſts new name, Rev. 3. 12. 5. When a thing is ſtill to continue freſh in force, without waxing old or vaniſhing away, it is called New. As the New Covenant, oppoſed to the old, wearing away, Heb. 8. 8, 13. This New-Covenant diſpenſation being to continue in force to the end of the world. Theſe are the chief acceptations of the word New in Scripture. Moſt of which may have fit place here.

Secondly, Newneſs of Heart and Spirit, may be conſidered two waies. 1. More generally conſidered, it hath ſome anſwerableneſs in it to all theſe acceptations of New. For, 1. It is a freſh and late effect upon the ſoul, in reference to the old man of Corruption, which was therein before. 2. It is a quite other and different frame of Spirit and Heart, then ever was therein formerly. Not Sinful, but Holy: Not Natural, but Supernatural: Not contrary, but conform to God, &c. 3. It is a Strange and extraordinary work upon the Heart and Spirit. As Strange, as the (o) quickning and raiſing up of the dead; As a (p) Regeneration, or being born again a ſecond time; or as a (q) New Creation it ſelf, which is Gods making ſomething out of nothing. So ſtrange and wonderful, That carnal men wonder at it; (r) They think it ſtrange that ye run not with them to the ſame exceſs of riot: That Nicodemus, a Teacher in Iſrael wondred at it; (s) How can theſe things be! &c. That thoſe who are thus Renewed, even wonder at themſelves; (t) being called out of darkneſs into his marvellous light. 4. It is not a Vulgar communion or mean work, but a Rare, ſingular and moſt eminent Effect upon the Heart and Spirit. So Rare, and ſingular, That very few obtain it, eſpecially (u) of the wiſe, mighty and noble of the world: That they whoſe beauty and Spirits are made new, are by Gods eminent Grace and power advanced from a moſt baſe, to a moſt excellent Con-

Condition above all other people in the world, Tit. 3. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. Eph. 2. 1. to 14, &c. Act. 26. 18. 1 Pet. 2. 9, 10. 5. Finally, This Newness of Heart and Spirit is such, as shall never wax old and vanish away: but shall still be fresh and new, continually increasing more and more in lustre vigour and strength till it come to full Perfection. 1. Pet. 1. 22, 23. 2 Pet. 1. 5. to 12. 1 John 3. 9. Eph. 4. 11, 12, 13. Phil. 3. 13, 14, 15. Thus this Newness of Heart and Spirit, is; 1 A fresh or late work in regard of the former old man with his deeds, old sins. 2. Another and quite different work in the soul, from what was there before. 3. A strange and marvellous work; both in it self, to the renewed, and to others. 4 A Rare and singular endowment, conferred but upon a very few. 5. As also a lasting and continuing effect, not waxing old, but still remaining new, yea being more and more renewed day by day. This is the Newness of heart and spirit more Generally considered. II. More Particularly, This Newness of heart and spirit is the (x) New Creation or new supernatural frame of the (y) whole soul heart and spirit (z) in part, wrought by (a) the Holy Ghost, (b) According to the Image of God. The Nature of it, is A New Creation or New supernatural frame. The subject of this newness is, The whole soul. The degree of it is imperfect: but in part. The Author of it, is the Holy-Ghost. The Pattern according to which this great newwork is fashioned, is the Image of God. So that if this Newness of heart and spirit be duly considered, it Implies these things especially, viz. 1. That New Qualities, Accidents or Endowments are put into the Soul and Faculties thereof: Not a New Substance of Soul. The Natural Essence or Substance of the Soul is not destroyed, but still remains; yet its disvested of the old, and invested with New Qualifications and Properties, See 1 Thes. 5. 23. Rom. 12. 2. Ephes. 4. 22, 23, 24. Grace doth not destroy and ruin Nature, but only Refine and reform it. The Understanding still remains; but becomes Renewed understanding: The Will remains; but becomes Renewed Will, &c. The New Moon is one and the same in Substance with the Old, but it hath a new and increasing endowment of light from the Sun which it had lost: So the New Heart and new Spirit is one and the same in Substance with the old, but it hath obtained new endowments from the Sun of Righteousness, Jesus Christ. 2. That, These New Qualities or Endowments upon the New Heart and Spirit, are not Natural or Acquired: but meerly Supernatural and Spiritual. Not (c) Natural; arising from any Natural principle or ability of Natural light of mind, or Freedom of will, &c. Nor (d) Acquired; by any Works of Righteousness which carnal Man can do. For without Christ and supernatural grace he can do nothing. But meerly supernatural and gratuitous; by the saving operation of the Holy Ghost, who worketh in us both to will and to do of his good pleasure, Tit. 3. 4, 5, 6. Ephes. 2. 8. Rom. 9. 15, 16. Phil. 2. 13. Naturally, the Soul can understand: but its only supernaturally, that it can understand God; and the things of God savingly. Naturally, the Soul can word, (h) If any man be in Christ he is a New Creature (an Entire New Creature all over:) Old things are past away, behold all things are become New. And all things are of God, &c. Therefore (i) as corruption, by reason of its general extensiveness over the whole man, is called The Old man: So the image of God and these new Endowments, by reason of their general diffusion throughout, are stiled, The New man. This the Apostle also insinuates in his Prayer for the Thessalonians, (k) —— And the very God of peace sanctifie you wholly; (Gr. ὁλοτελεῖς wholly perfect:) and let your whole Spirit (Gr. ὁλόκληρον ὑμῶν τὸ πνεῦμα your whole, Entire, or Compleat spirit) Soul, and Body, be preserved blameless unto the Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. Hypocrites and Castawayes may have some new endowments in some faculties, but not throughout: Their Mind may be illuminated, their Conscience Covinced, &c. but their heart, and will not softned, &c. 5. That, Though these new supernatural Principles and Qualities are implanted in the whole Soul and every part thereof, yet are they not gradually Compleat, but incompleat in every part: As an infant hath all the parts of a man, but none of them gradually perfect, (l) we know in part, &c. but when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away. Paul himself said; (m) —— Not as though I had already attained, or were already perfect, &c. Perfection of Sincerity, and Perfection of Parts, The Saints enjoy in this world, Job. 1. 1. Phil. 3. 12. —— 14. But Perfection of Degrees is reserved for the world to come. There, (n) the spirits of just men are made Perfect. They that talk of their gruadual and compleat Perfection in this life, are in a dream or fond delusion. 6. Finally, Though these New Endowments of the New Heart and Spirit be gradually imperfect and incompleat, yet are they growing and increasing daily towards perfection. (o) Our inward man is renewed day by day. (p) —— your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth. Living trees grow and increase, when dead trunks decay and rot. (q) From Christ the whole body [of his Church] fitly joyned together, and compacted by that which every joynt supplyeth, according to the Effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in love.

In these things especially the Nature of the new Heart and Spirit Consists.

Quest. 3. Whether God alone give this New heart, and put this New Spirit into his people? The Reason of this Question is this; Though here God Promise to do this great work himself, (r) A new heart also will I give you, and a new Spirit will I put within you: yet, Elsewhere God saith; (s) Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed, and make you a new heart, and a new New Spirit, for why will ye die, O house of Israel? In these words God seems to devolve this work of making a New heart and a new Spirit upon the people themselves. If they could not do it, this Exhortation were in vain.

This Queſtion (did I intend a Polemical diſcourſe) would preſently lead us into thoſe three great Controverſies(t) about 1. Univerſal ſufficient Grace, 2. Liberty or Freedom of Will, and 3. The Manner of a ſinners Converſion unto God, which have a neer alliance to, and mutual dependance upon one another; and which are corruptly held and maintained againſt the Truth, by Pelagians, Papiſts, Arminians, Socinians, and the preſent diſguiſed Spawn of all theſe, the Quakers. But becauſe I chiefly intend Poſitively to Aſſert Doctrinal Truths, and Practically to inſtruct in anſwerable Duties, I purpoſely wave polemical diſſertations: and therefore to this preſent Queſtion, I briefly offer theſe few things, viz.

First, That a meer Carnal, unregenerate Perſon cannot at all make to himſelf, or furniſh himſef with a New heart or a New Spirit, ſuch as is here intended. By reaſon of his extream 1. Impotency, 2. Pravity, and 3. Enmity thereunto.

(1) Becauſe of his extream Impotency and weakneſs to this and all ſuch ſpiritual Actions. For, The Carnal man, 1. Is meer (u) Darkneſs, and receiveth not the things of God: they are fooliſhneſs to him, neither can he know them, becauſe they are ſpiritually diſcerned. 2. Is meer hardneſs; a very (x) ſtone, wholly unable to break, melt or move it ſelf. 3. Is wholly fully enthralled under the abſolute Dominion of Sin and Satan. So Captivated under ſin, That he is (y) in the gall of bitterneſs and bond of iniquity; That ſin fully (z) reigns over him, obeying it in the luſts thereof, and yielding his members weapons of unrighteouſneſs unto ſin; That he can do nothing but ſin, His (a) Prayer is abomination, his very eating, drinking, Plowing, &c. is ſin. He is ſtill fulfilling the wils of the fleſh, Eph. 2. 2, 3. So Captivated under Satan, That he (b) is his Prince and God, ruling in him as in a child of diſobedience; That Satan (c) caries him Captive (Gr. takes him alive) at his will; That he is (d) of his Father the Devil, and the works of his father he will do. 4. Is wholly dead in ſins and treſpaſſes. Eph. 2. 1, 5. no more able to revive himſelf ſpiritually, then a dead man can Quicken himſelf in, and raiſe himſelf out of the Grave Naturally. 5. Is wholly (e) without ſtrength in ſpirituals. Cannot of himſelf believe in Chriſt and come to him, Eph. 2. 8. John 6. 44. Cannot of himſelf think any thing as of himſelf, 2 Cor 3. 5. without Chriſt can do nothing. John 15. 5.

(2) Becauſe of Carnal mans extream Pravity and Corruptneſs, wholly depriving him of all Habits, Principles, Seeds, Diſpoſitions, and Inclinations to all true Spiritual good, eſpecially to this Newneſs of Heart and Spirit 1. Not only mans Actions and words, but his very (f) thoughts of heart: Not only his thoughts, but his Purpoſes, Deſires, Imaginations of his thoughts, Not only ſome; but all and every imagination of his thoughts; Are Evil, Only Evil, and Continually Evil. The whole unregenerate man, is wholly and onely Fleſh. (g) That which is born of the fleſh, is fleſh: and nothing elſe. Every like begets his like.

(f) Gen 6. 5.

(g) John 3. 6.

Both ([h]) Jews and Gentiles are proved by the Apostle to be universally and wholly under Sin. So that they have not the least, Propensity or velleity towards this New heart and New spirit. 2. Yea they are ([i]) wilfully set upon Evil, against Good.

(3) Because of Carnal mans utter Antipathy, and Enmity against God and all his Laws and wayes. The Carnal ([k]) mind (φρονημα σαρκος The mind or wisdom of the flesh, viz. The highest excellency of the Carnal Spirit) is Enmity (not only an Enemy, in the Concrete, but very Enmity it self in the Abstract) against God: for it is not subject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be. A carnal man is wholly flesh, Iohn 3. 6. and the ([l]) flesh only lusteth against the Spirit. He hates God, Rom. 1. 30. Hates the very Godly for Gods image in them, 1 John 3. 12, &c. Hates Instruction and Reformation, Prov. 1. 25, 29. Psal 50. 17. He is as extreamly and irreconcilably opposite to this New heart and Spirit, as Fire to Water, Light to Darkness, Life to Death, Heaven to Hell.

Secondly, That this blessed work of a New heart and New Spirit is the proper peculiar, and only work of God in Man. This is plainly evident. For,

(1) The Lord God alone ([m]) hath an Absolute Freedom and Power, much more then a Potter of the same lump of Clay, to make one vessel to honour, another to dishonour. So that ([n]) it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy. ——Therefore he hath mercy, on whom he will have mercy: and whom he will, he hardeneth. If God soften, man cannot harden: if God harden, man cannot soften.

(2) This effect of a new Heart and new spirit in man is so peculiarly appropriated to God alone, that man is wholly excluded from any Efficiency or Causality therein. Scriptures speak fully to this purpose. ([o]) Of his own will begat he us with the word of Truth. ([p]) —— Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of Regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; ([q]) —To them that believe on his name: which were born, not of bloods, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. Thus that eminent Grace of Faith in Christ, an eminent ingredient in the New heart and spirit, is appropriated to God, as cause thereof; ([r]) By Grace are ye saved, through Faith, and that not of your selves, it is the gift of God. To this effect our Saviour speaks plainly; ([s]) No man can come to me, except my Father which hath sent me draw him.

(3) The Nature of this New heart and new spirit is so great, sublime and difficult, that it utterly transcends all ability and activity of carnal men to produce it, and can only be effected by the Omnipotent God. For, it is stiled, 1. Regeneration, ([t]) or being born from above. Man cannot Generate himself naturally: Much less, Regenerate himself supernaturally. This is ([u]) Gods proper work. 2. Transplanting ([x]) out of the natural wilde Olive tree, and ingraffing contrary to nature into a good Olive tree. Out of the first Adam, into the second Adam. Can the the Cions tranſplant, or ingraff it ſelf? The Jews indeed (y) brake themſelves off from Chriſt by unbelief: but its God alone thats able to graff them in again. 3. Quickening (z) and Raiſing up from the very dead. Can the dead bodies revive or raiſe themſelves from their graves? No more can dead Souls quicken or raiſe themſelves from ſin. Its only (a) God that raiſeth the dead by his own power. 4. New-Creation. (b) If any man be in Chriſt he is a New creature, Gr. A new Creation. To create properly is to produce ſomething out of nothing: and thats (c) Gods ſole Prerogative. David caſts this only upon God, (d) Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right ſpirit within me.

(4) The experimental acknowledgement of thoſe (or of others in their behalf) that through grace were partakers of a new heart and new ſpirit, teſtifies that it is only from God, and not at all from themſelves. As, of Ephraim (e) Converted by God, and Repenting; of Paul, (f) called by the rich mercy and exceeding abundant grace of our Lord, acknowledging his own utter inſufficiency, and that his ſufficiency was of God: Of Paul and Titus, (g) and other believers, ſaved, not by works of righteouſneſs which they had done, but according to his mercy, by the waſhing of Regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghoſt; Of the (h) Epheſians, quickened and ſaved by Gods meer grace, rich mercy, &c. as Gods workmanſhip created in Chriſt unto good works; Of the (i) ſcattered ſtrangers, the believing Jews, begotten again by God, according to his abundant mercy, unto a lively hope, Called by the Holy God out of darkneſs into his marvellous light.

5. Finally, Gods Exhortations in his word to people, to believe, to repent, to turn themſelves, to make themſelves a New heart and a New ſpirit, to work out their own ſalvation with fear and trembling, &c. are uſually allayed and qualified in the ſame places or in ſome other Scriptures, with certain Cautions, Corrections, Reſtrictions and Interpretations, giving them to underſtand, that though God require ſuch things from them, yet they are utterly beyond their ability to effect them as of themſelves, being the Proper and Peculiar work of God himſelf alone. Thus, (k) It is Gods Command, that we believe on the name of his ſon Jeſus Chriſt. But yet elſewhere it is ſignified, (l) That faith is not of our ſelves, it is the gift of God; and that no man can come unto Chriſt, except the Father draw him. Again, the Lord requireth; (m) Repent, and turn your ſelves from all your tranſgreſſions, So iniquity ſhall not be your ruine; Caſt away from you all your tranſgreſſions, whereby ye have tranſgreſſed; ——— For I have no pleaſure in the death of him that dyeth, ſaith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn your ſelves, and live ye. And yet elſewhere Repentance and Converſion (n) are declared to be the meer gifts of Gods grace: And Ephraim acknowledgeth; (o) Thou haſt chaſtized me, and I was chaſtized, as a Bullock unaccuſtomed to the yoke: Turn thou me and I ſhall be turned, for thou art the LORD my God. Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after I was inſtructed, I ſmote upon my thigh; &c. So they in the Lamentations pray; (p) Turn thou thou us unto thee O LORD, and we ſhall be turned. Moreover, Iſrael is exhorted; (q) Circumciſe therefore the foreskin of your heart, and be no more ſtiffnecked. Yet elſewhere, leſt they ſhould aſſume any ſuch ability to themſelves, God promiſeth to do this work for them; (r) And the LORD thy God will circumciſe thine heart, and the Heart of thy Seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſoul, that thou maiſt live. Furthermore the Philippians are exhorted; (ſ) work out your own ſalvation with fear and trembling: But there alſo they are preſently inſtructed; For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleaſure. In a word, God ſaith by Ezekiel to his people: (t) Make you a new Heart and a new Spirit: yet leſt they ſhould imagine this was within their own power, by the ſame Ezekiel he promiſeth; (u) A new Heart alſo will I give you, and a new ſpirit will I put within you.

Thirdly, That though a meer carnal man cannot at all furniſh himſelf with, or make to himſelf, a new Heart and a new Spirit, but only God can do it, whoſe peculiar work it is: yet it is not in vain, that God exhorts carnal men to make them a New Heart, and Spirit, &c. as Ezek. 18. 30, 31, 32. For ſuch Exhortations and Commands are divers ways uſeful and advantagious. As, 1. To convince carnal man of the extremity of his preſent ſinfulneſs, and corrupt frame of Heart. The old Heart and Spirit are ſo bad, that no leſs then a new Heart and Spirit, a New frame, a New Creation, will ſerve turn to cure it. 2. To inform Carnal man, wherein the cure of his Old ſinful heart and ſpirit will chiefly Conſiſt. viz. In an abſolute and total new frame of Heart and Spirit. 3. To aſſure Carnal man of the utter neceſſity of this New Heart and New Spirit unto Salvation. Without this there being nothing to be expected but Death, Ezek. 18. 30, 31, 32. Though therefore carnal man cannot renew his own Heart and Spirit, repent, &c. Yet Gods Exhortations, Commands and Threats to this effect are thus of great Conſequence. 4. To be a means of a new Heart and Spirit to carnal man. For, oftimes God commands man to do that which is indeed beyond his ability, that by that command (accompanyed with the efficacy of his Spirit) he may enable him to perform what is commanded, for the glory of his own Name. It was not in vain for God in creating to Command light, &c. (x) Let there be light: when by that effectual Command he made light to be. It was but a word, and a work. It was not in vain for Jeſus Chriſt to Command Lazarus, four dayes dead and buried, bound hand and foot with grave clothes, (y) Lazarus come forth: when that Command by the efficacy of the divine power brought him forth of his grave. It was not in vain for Peter and John to bid the Cripple, (z) Riſe up and walk; or for Ananias to ſay to Saul, (a) Brother Saul receive thy ſight, &c. when by ſuch words Limbs were reſtored to the Lame, and Eyes to the Blind. In like ſort, Sometimes God Commanding men to Repent, to turn themſelves from their iniquities, to make themſelves a New heart, and a new new ſpirit, &c. makes his Commands effectual inſtrumental means to work in them the Repentance and Renovation required. 5. Finally, To leave carnal men without excuſe before the tribunal of God, if after ſuch Commands of Repentance, &c. they perſiſt ſtill in carnality and impenitency, not throughly performing in order to Gods Command, what they can do. For hereupon they ſhall be at laſt condemned, not only or chiefly for their weakneſs, that they cannot; but for their wickedneſs and wilfulneſs, that they will not do what God requires. To which effect ſaid Auguſtine appoſitely; (b) God doth not Command impoſsibilities, but by Commanding he admoniſheth, both to do what thou art able, and to ask what thou art not able to do Queſt. 4. Why the Lord promiſeth and gives a new heart and new ſpirit to his profeſſed People?

Anſw. The LORD promiſeth and beſtoweth A New Heart and Spirit upon his profeſſed people, ſuch as belong to his Election, for theſe Reaſons, viz.

(1) Becauſe the purpoſe of God according to Election muſt ſtand inviolable. All Gods viſible and profeſſed people are not within the Election: Some are, and in due time they muſt be called and Renewed, that they may be juſtified and glorified, according to that chain of the Cauſes of Salvation, in Rom. 8. 29, 30.

(2) Becauſe, of his own meer Kindneſs, Pitty and Mercy towards them, not any their deſert or goodneſs at all, Ezek. 36. 21, &c. 31, 32. Notable is that of Paul to this effect in Tit. 3. 3. to 8.

(3) Becauſe, without this Newneſs of Heart and Spirit, theres no eſcaping of Death, or obtaining of juſtification and life eternal, Ezek. 18. 30, 31, 32. Heb. 12. 14. Renovation and Regeneration are the very high way to Juſtification and eternal Salvation, Rom. 8. 29, 30. Tit. 3. 5, 6, 7.

(4) That, From this New frame of Heart and Spirit they might be enabled and inclined, To walk in Gods Statutes, and keep his Ordinances, and do them, as becomes Gods Covenant-people, Ezek. 11. 19, 20. & 36. 26, 27. See alſo Eph. 2. 10.

Queſt. 5. How may this New Heart and Spirit which God gives, be evidenced and diſcovered to them that have it?

Anſw. This New Heart and Spirit may be evidenced to them that have it, according to that which hath been already laid down: and that many waies. As,

(1) By the Original fountain whence the New Heart and Spirit doth Spring, viz. Not from any thing in impotent carnal man, but only from the Omnipotent God. If it be his peculiar work, its right work, Ezek. 36. 26. Tit. 3. 5, 6, 7. Carnal man may make in himſelf many Alterations, eſpecially if helped by Common grace and gifts; but can never reach to this Heart-Renovation ſavingly.

(2) By that New Operation of God upon the heart and ſpirit to make them new. This is not an ordinary and common, but an extraordinary ry and ſpecial work of his ſaving Grace. His New, his excellent work indeed, Epheſ. 2. 10. Called in the Scriptures, 1 Regeneration: 2 Tranſplanting out of the Olive tree wild by Nature, and ingraffing contrary to Nature in the good Olive tree: 3 Quickening and Raiſing from the dead: And 4 New-Creation. If therefore the heart and ſpirit be thus (c) Regenerated, (d) Tranſplanted, Ingraffed, (e) Quickened, Rayſed, (f) New Created: Queſtionleſs this is indeed the new heart and new ſpirit of Gods own framing.

(3) By the new ſupernatural Qualities and Endowments upon the heart and ſpirit: This Newneſs of heart and ſpirit conſiſts not in the Newneſs of their Eſſence or Subſtance, but of their Qualities, Endowments, &c. And thoſe Qualities not Natural, or Acquired: but ſupernaturall, and ſpiritually infuſed, Ioh. 1. 12, 13. 2 Cor. 3. 5. Epheſ. 2. 8. Iohn 6. 44. Gen. 6 5. Rom. 8. 7, 8. Iohn 15. 5. Tit. 3. 5, 6, 7, 8. (4) By the Image of God, conſiſting in knowledge, righteouſneſs and true holineſs, which comprizeth in it the Subſtance of theſe ſupernatural Qualities and Endowments. This (g) newneſs of heart and ſpirit being nothing elſe but the new man put on, which is created according to this image of God.

(5) By the univerſal extenſiveneſs of theſe new ſupernatural Qualities and Endowments unto the whole heart and ſpirit, and to all the principles, faculties and affections there. Not only ſome things, but all things become new when the ſpirit and heart are made new. See formerly in Queſt. 2. Every part is in ſome meaſure Renewed, though none compleatly.

(6) By the continual growth of the new man in all theſe new ſupernatural Qualities and Endowments, till they come gradually to their compleat perfection, 2 Cor. 4. 16. 2 Theſ. 1. 3. 2 Pet. 3. 18.

(7) Finally, By the new (h) Acts, Works, Converſation and courſe of life, reſulting as fruits and effects from this new heart and ſpirit. New Principles and Habits muſt needs produce new Acts; and new cauſes new effects: Even an Holy, Heavenly, Gracious, Conſcientious Newneſs of life. They therefore that are not divorced from their old, ſinfull, corrupt, ungodly, unrighteous and intemperate Converſation, do thereby declare themſelves to be meer ſtrangers to this new heart and ſpirit here promiſed.

Thus of this firſt Effect and Influence of Gods Spirit promiſed, Newneſs of Heart and Spirit.

2. An Heart knowing the LORD, Or, An Heart to know God, that he is the LORD. This a ſecond Influence or Effect of Gods Spirit promiſed in this Covenant. (i) Thus ſaith the LORD, the God of Iſrael, like theſe good figs, ſo will I acknowledge them that are carried away Captive of Judah, whom I have ſent out of this place into the Land of the Chaldeans for their good. For I will ſet mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this Land, and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart. In these words two sorts of blessings are Promised, viz. First, Temporals. As, 1. Gods acknowledging and setting his eyes upon his Captives for good. 2. Returning them into Canaan. 3. Setting or Stablishing them there ver. 5, 6. Secondly, Spirituals. As, 1. An Understanding Heart. 2. A Dear Covenant-Relation to God. 3. A Sincere and Entire Conversion unto God, ver. 7. This last of Returning to the LORD with their whole heart, gives us to understand, that these Spirituals of Knowledge and Covenant Relation here promised, are Saving blessings tending indeed to their Everlasting Happiness.

and

Here only I shall speak to the First; And I will give them an Heart to know me, That I am LORD, ver. 7 wherein note, 1. The Author; 2. The Nature of this Spiritual Influence.

(1) The Author of this Spiritual Influence or Effect, is only God. I will give them an Heart to know me Not themselves, nor any others but only I my self will give them this heart. This implies divers things, As, 1. That (k) naturally they wanted this Knowing and understanding heart: were blind in discerning Spirituals, in knowing God savingly, this is one sad fruit of Mans first Fall. 2. That this Knowing heart cannot be supplied to them by any, but by God himself. I will give them an heart, &c. Now God gives such a Knowing heart; Partly By the Ministration (l) of his Word and Gospel, by the light whereof God and the things of God are Revealed and Manifested to the Soul. Partly by the Operation of his Spirit, 1. Taking the (m) veyl of Ignorance and Unbelief from off the heart. And 2. shining into the heart with such supernatural (n) Illumination, as savingly gives the light of the Knowledge of God, and of the things of God, in the face of Jesus Christ.

(2) The Nature of this Spiritual Influence or Fruit of Gods Spirit; An heart to know me, that I am JEHOVAH. Herein consider, The Habit, The Act flowing from that Habit, and The Object of that Act. 1. The Habit or Principle; An Heart. Heart in Scripture is variously taken. (o) Sometimes For the Intellective Part only; The Understanding, Mind, Judgement, Conscience, &c. (o) Yet the LORD hath not given you an heart to perceive, nor eyes to see, and ears to hear unto this day. And; (p) —— If our heart condemn us, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things, &c. (2) Sometimes for the Affective part only; The Will and Affections. As, (q) I will put my Laws into their mind, and write them in their heart. —— (r) whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed Adultery with her already in his heart. (s) —— Sorrow hath filled your heart. — your heart shall rejoyce. (3) Sometimes for both the Intellective and Affective Part, even for the whole Soul. (t) —— when thou shalt Enlarge my heart. (u) — with my whole heart. This is often used. Now here, [I will give them an heart,] hath refereference not only to the Intellective, but alſo to the Affective part of the Soul. And implies, Not barely and nakedly the whole Heart, Underſtanding, Will and Affections, theſe they had Naturally: But ſuch an Underſtanding, ſuch a Will and Affections, ſo Principled, ſo Qualified, ſo Sanctified, ſo Habituated and furniſhed, as to know me, that I am JEHOVAH; theſe they have only ſupernaturally. This the Habit, or Habitual ability Promiſed. 2. The Act, which ſhould particularly reſult from this Habit; To know God. Knowledge is twofold, viz. (1) Of ſimple Intelligence; meerly Intellective, ſpeculative, or imaginative. This is either Natural, Rom. 1. 19, 20, 21. Or Supernatural in Chriſt, 2 Cor. 4 6. (2) Of Approbation alſo; when we ſo know as to approve, affect, love, deſire, eſteem, delight in, &c. Here may be implyed both: As it is very uſuall with the Heb. phraſe, according to that known Maxim; Verba ſenſus & Intellectus includunt voluntatem & affectus. They ſhall ſo know and underſtand God, as to acknowledge, accept, own, love, deſire, delight and acquieſce in God, as the only true God, and their only God in Chriſt, &c. This Knowledge is a notable Inlet and foundation to (x) Faith, (y) Confidence, (z) Repentance, (a) Holy Obedience, and (b) Eternal life. And therefore it is a great and moſt deſirable bleſſing. 3. The Object of this Act, or this Knowledge, is God, that he is JEHOVAH. God is the Supream and moſt perfect Object Knowable, infinitely tranſcending the reach and capacity of all created Underſtandings. God can perfectly be known by none, but himſelf. The Creature may (c) in Chriſt ſupernaturally know God unto ſalvation and life eternal ſufficiently: And the more the Creature doth ſo know God, the more it attains to be like unto God. To know God, that he is JEHOVAH, implies (according to the ſignification of the word JEHOVAH (d) formerly explained) (1) A God having eternal independant unchangable Being in and of himſelf, Rev. 1. 8. (2) A God giving Being to all things that are, that have Being, Iſa. 44. 24, 25. Amos 5. 8. Rom. 11. ult. Acts 17. 28. (3) A God that gives Being and actual ſubſiſtence to his Decrees, Words, Covenants and Promiſes in Chriſt, Exod. 6. 3. A God (e) that Choſe Abraham, and entred into Covenant with him and his Seed, to give them Canaan, Renewed this my Covenant to Iſaac, Jacob, and at Mount Sinai to the Seed of Iſrael, and afterwards gave them the Promiſed Land in my Truth and Faithfulneſs. In ſumm, They ſhall know me, that I am the only true God, and the God of their Fathers, and of them: and Conſequently how hainouſly they have offended in departing from me their only true God, and bringing themſelves into Babylonian Bondage, that ſo they may ſincerely and throughly Repent, and return to me as their God, with their whole Heart. For (as (f) Calvin here well obſerves) then the Sinner hath the Gate of Repentance opened to him, when he begins truly to know God, and look up to him and his Tribunal, &c. Ier. 24. 5, 6, 7.

Now

Now this true saving Supernatural Knowledge of God and his wayes, hath these special Properties, whereby it may be discovered, viz. It is, 1. Experimental, Phil. 1. 9. Heb. 5. 14. Ps. 34. 8. 1 Pet. 2. 3. 2. By these Characters a man may discern whether his Knowledge of God, and the things of God, be true saving Knowledge or no. All which Particulars I do but here point at, because (g) elsewhere I have more largely explained them. Thither I refer the Reader for his fuller satisfaction.

Thus of the second fruit of the Spirit here promised, viz. An Heart knowing God, that he is IEHOVAH.

3. Fleshiness or Tenderness of Heart, instead of Stoniness of Heart. This is a third excellent fruit or Influence of the Spirit Promised to these Captive Jews, after their Return from Babylon. (h) A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: And I will take away the Stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And elsewhere, (i) And I will take the Stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh: That they may walk in my Statutes, and keep mine Ordinances, and do them: And they shall be my people, and I will be their God. This is a very sweet blessing, and precious Promise. Touching which note, 1. The Connexion that it hath with the former Promise and blessing of a New heart and spirit, Ezek. 36. 26. Whence its evident; That as the New heart and new spirit are the fruit of Gods Spirit: So this heart of flesh, is a result of this new heart, is one of those gracious Qualifications, Dispositions, Endowments, &c. of this new heart and new spirit. Fleshiness of heart, is one excellent ingredient in that newness of heart. But both, the fruits of the Spirit of God. 2. The Description of the Blessing, or fruit of the Spirit here Promised; (1) Partly, By the Author or Efficient thereof, God and his free Grace; And I will take away —— and I will give, &c. Its God alone that must do all, in this Matter. They could do nothing. God the sole Agent: They meerly Passive in this first infusion of Holy Habits and Principles into the Soul. And thus it is also with all Carnall men in the first work of Renovation upon them, they are meer Patients: but afterwards, Acti agunt, being acted by God, they act together with God. (2) Partly, By the the twofold Act of Grace which God would put forth upon them; Firſt, Removing, or Taking away the Stony heart out of their fleſh. Fleſh, in this phraſe denotes their Body, unto which Heart or Soul is here Oppoſed. stony heart, (Heb. לב האבן Leb Heeben, An heart of Stone) denotes Their Naturall, Habituall and compleat Stoneneſs of heart. Their heart is not only Stony, but Stoneneſs: not only a ſtony heart, but an heart of ſtone; A meer ſtone; An heart conſtituted, compacted, and made up of nothing but Stone. He ſaith not, An Heart of Clay; That, though very hard, may be ſoftened with water: Nor an heart of Braſs, Iron, Steel, &c. which though extream obdurate, and intractable, may be made malleable, yea may be melted with fire, to take any Form from the Hammer, and to run into any Mould: But an heart of Stone, wherein (as (k) Zanchy hath well obſerved) there is, No ſoftneſs nor diſpoſition thereunto, it will break, rather then bend; No Moyſture, that can be preſſed out of it, no life at all: but only Hardneſs, Dryneſs, Deadneſs. Gods taking-away or removing this Stony heart, is Emphaticall. God ſaith not, I will Heal it, or I will transform it, or I will ſoften it, &c. But I will take-away their Heart of Stone. Its ſo extreamly hard, and paſt mending, that it muſt be aboliſhed, taken away, &c. and a whole new frame of heart erected and ſubſtituted in its place. There is nothing in our Nature hath any affinity with the Divine Nature: So that Old things muſt wholly paſs away, and all things become new, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Secondly, Giving them an Heart of Fleſh. Fleſh, here is oppoſed to Stone, and denotes Softneſs, Tenderneſs, Tractableneſs, &c. of Heart and Soul to God in Spirituals. But yet this is Gods meer gift; I will give them an Heart of Fleſh. This is Gods ſecond Act of Grace. (3.) Partly, By the End and Scope intended by God in this his double Act of Grace upon them; That they might walk in his Statutes, and keep his Ordinances, and do them. Formerly, their hearts were ſo Stony, that they were wholly Rebellious, Contumacious and Refractory againſt him, and all his Ordinances, &c. Contemning, Prophaning, Polluting, Violating them, &c. But now their hearts ſhould be ſo Fleſhy, Tender, &c. That their Courſe and Converſation ſhould be quite altered, and become moſt Obedientiall and Conform to the Statutes and Ordinances of God, they ſhould be capable of any Divine Impreſſion.

(k) Cor hominis non renati vocatur Lapideum, Ezek 11. & 36. Non [illegible] reum, qui [illegible] 1. At lapis nullam habet mollitiem, neque ad mollitiem aptitudinem, ut ſcilicet adjutus igne molleſcere malleoque flecti poſſit, permanens lapis: Sic Cor noſtrum nulla ratione ductile aut flexibile eſt ad recti obedientiam, idecque opus eſt ut totum Cor auferatur, & aliud in ejus locum reponatur. 2. Thus

Thus we have the meaning of the Holy Ghoſt in this Promiſe more Generally. But, Becauſe the Heart of Stone was not only the malady of the Carnal Jews, but is the univerſal diſeaſe of all Carnal men ſince the Fall; And becauſe, the Heart of Fleſh, is a ſupernatural Remedy and mercy, as Neceſſary to us, as to the Jews; And becauſe, the Heart of Stone cannot be removed, nor the Heart of Fleſh conferred by any, but only by God alone, &c. Therefore let us look a little more inwardly and accurately into theſe things, and diſcuſs theſe few Queſtions, viz. 1. What the Heart of Stone is? 2. What the Heart of Fleſh is? 3. Whether none beſides God alone can take away the Heart of Stone, and give the Heart of Fleſh? 4. How God takes away the Heart of Stone, and gives the Heart of Fleſh? 5. How a man may know, whether this Heart of Stone be removed, and the Heart of Fleſh beſtowed upon him?

Queſt. 1. What the Heart of Stone is?

Anſw. The Heart of Stone, is Such an Heart, Spirit or Soul as is moſt like a Stone. A Metaphorical Expreſſion: yet very Emphatical: Its more to ſay, An Heart of Stone: Then, A Stony Heart. An Heart of Stone implies, The whole heart to be a meer Stone, having nothing elſe in it but Stoneneſs, A meer Stony Compoſition. Such the Hearts of all men by Nature: Such the Hearts of theſe Jews, meer Stones. More Particularly thus take the Reſemblance.

(1) A Stone is inanimate, dead, without life, and incapable of life; yea, even the moſt choice precious Stones are dead things: So the Heart of ſtone is a ([l]) dead Heart, as dead as a very ſtone unto all Spirituals. Can act and move therein of it ſelf no more then a very ſtone, There's ſome deadneſs, dulneſs, &c. remaining in the moſt lively hearts of the Saints, Hence David ſo often prayes for ([m]) Quickning: but the Carnal heart is wholly dead in ſin, there's not any the leaſt principle of Spiritual life there.

(2) A Stone is exceeding Cold; Dead and Cold: So an Heart of ſtone is by nature quite cold in reference to Spirituals, hath no warmth, heat or Sanctuary-fire of true Love, Zeal, Fervency, &c. towards God, Chriſt, and Religion; or at moſt hath but a Counterfeit hypocritical ([n]) Lukewarmneſs, which is nauſeous to God. Irreligion is ſtone-cold: True Religion is fervent, hot as fire: Hypocriſie is Lukewarm, nor hot nor cold.

(3) A Stone is Droſſy, Lumpiſh, Heavy; naturally only deſcends downward, never aſcends upward, Lapis eſt terra Condenſata, A ſtone is Condenſed Earth, and Earth the groſſeſt, courſeſt, droſſyeſt, heavyeſt of all the four Elements: So an heart of Stone is a ([o]) lumpiſh, heavy, droſſy heart that by Nature ([p]) never tends upwards, but only downwards, viz. from God, from Chriſt, from Religion, from all Spirituals, To Satan, Sin and all Wickedneſs; Or if ever this heart of ſtone tend upwards towards God, &c. that is not from any true inward principle, but ([q]) meerly from ſome owtward force or violence of fear, reſtraining Grace, &c. and therefore when ſuch force

(4) A Stone is very Obdurate and hard; it is Condenſed Earth, and the more Condenſe any Body is, the harder it is: So the heart of Stone is an obdurate hard heart. It hath in it, not an Iron-hardneſs, or Steel-hardneſs, or Mettle-hardneſs: but a Stone-hardneſs, a Flinty Adamantine hardneſs. In regard of this Hardneſs in a ſpeciall manner the Carnal heart is here called An heart of ſtone: Let us enquire therefore a little further into the Nature of this Hardneſs of heart. Hardneſs of Heart Generally implyeth the hearts confirmedneſs, contumacy, rebellion, ſtubbornneſs, ſtiffneſs, ſettledneſs, &c. in any ſinfull evill. This hardneſs of heart is oppoſed, Sometimes to Faith; As Acts 19. 9. Heb. 3. 12, 13. And ſo its the hearts hardneſs in unbelief. Sometimes to underſtanding, judgement, wiſdom, &c. As Mark 6. 51, 52. and 8. 17. to 22. And ſo it is hardneſs in ignorance, inapprehenſiveneſs, dulneſs, &c. Sometimes to Repentance; As Rom. 2. 5. So it is the hearts hardneſs in impenitency. Sometimes to Obedience; As Exod. 8. 15, 32. and often. Pſal. 95. 8. So its the hearts hardneſs in Diſobedience. Sometimes to Humility; As Dan. 5. 20. So its the hearts hardneſs in Pride. Sometimes to the fear of God, and the whole way of Gods Service, &c. As Iſa. 63. 17. So it implies the hearts hardneſs in any fearleſs, godleſs, irreligious courſes, &c. But ſtil hardneſs of heart imports the hearts obſtirmation in ſome ſin or other. Hardneſs of Heart is either Reigning or not Reigning: That, in the Unregenerate; This, in the Regenerate. I. Hardneſs of heart reigning in the Unregenerate, is chiefly threefold, viz. Natural, Acquired, Judicial. 1. Natural Hardneſs of Heart, is that wherein (r) every man is naturally involved during the time of his Carnal Ignorance, Unbelief, Impenitency, Diſobedience, &c. The heart of all men, as of the Carnal Jews, is (ſ) naturally a very heart of ſtone till Chriſt ſupernaturally vouchſafe his ſoftning Grace. This Malady of the ſtone in the Heart is Hereditary to all the meer poſterity of Adam. 2. Acquired or Contracted Hardneſs of Heart, is that ſinful improvement and increaſe of Natural Hardneſs, ſo that it becomes more fixed, rooted, Habitual and Predominant over the ſoul. This Hardneſs gradually, and deceitfully, and inſenſibly ſteals upon the Heart. Nemo repente fit peßimus: None becomes worſt at firſt daſh. (t) ——— Leſt any of you be hardned through the deceitfulneſs of Sin. James excellently diſcovers the deceit of ſin ceeping by little and little upon the Soul, till it be hardned in it, and ruined by it. (u) Every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own luſt, and Enticed: Then, when luſt hath Concieved, it bringeth forth ſin: and Sin, when it is finiſhed, bringeth forth Death. Here are theſe degrees of ſins deceit in order to hardning therein, viz. (1) Luſt within; the foment of Sin, and Fewel of Temptation. (2) Withdrawing, or (x) Drawing away, by that luſt; viz. from God and Goodneſs. (3) Entiſement, (y) Allurement,
